The suit resulted from the Jan. 31 collision between a car owned by Waters and driven by his daughter, Kayla, 17, and an auto owned by Mrs. Johnson and driven by her husband on Highway 141 near Granger.

Court Case Involving Sale of Property by Winick Bros. Settled

A case involving the heirs of the late Nathan Wolfskill and Winnick brothers has been settled in District Judge Robert D. Jackson's court.

The suit was brought against Mose and Sam Winick of Winick Brothers stores by administrators of the Wolfskill estate in behalf of the daughter of the deceased, Mrs. Louise Thompson of Kansas City, Mo. The suit contested the sale of property, owned by Wolfskill at 9th and Center Street, to the Winick brothers.

Suggested Settlement

Early in the trial Atty. James B. Morris, Jr., representing Estes and Son Funeral Home, a claimant against the estate, suggested that the matter be settled by agreement. Winick's attorneys, Lappen and Kramer concurred.

The settlement, approved by the court, was that Winick brothers would receive $1,670 and be divested of all title to the real estate.

Rev. Mrs. Roberson to Realize Life Dream; Will Conduct a 17-Day Tour of Holy Land

"It's the dream of a lifetime come true," that's the grateful, happy reaction of the Rev. Mrs. Orzealya Roberson to a 17-day tour she will conduct of five countries, climaxing in the Holy Land next Easter.

The itinerary, which departs New York City Mar. 14, 1961, will include Egypt, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Israel. It will terminate with the arrival back in New York on Mar. 30.

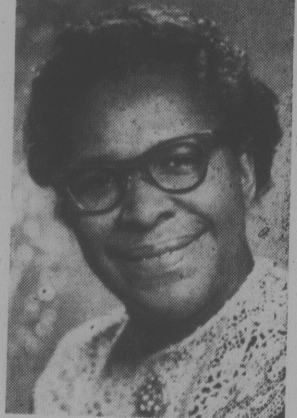

Resulted From TV

According to Mrs. Roberson, who is executive director of the Prisoners Rehabilitation, Inc., which celebrated its sixth year last October with a day-long workshop, the whole idea of the tour resulted from a conversation with Don Soliday TV show when she appeared on his show, the day before the workshop.

Wanted to Go

"I have always wanted to go abroad and during a commercial Mr.

Soliday, a well-known travel writer himself, we talked casually of various travels. I happened to mention that I have always wanted to go to

MRS. ROBBERSON

Europe and especially to the Holy Lands.

"I remember he just smiled and remarked that it was possible for me to realize my dream. A month later, out of the blue, I received a call from Mr. Soliday who asked me to bring along a representative from Maupintown, Inc., Mr. Allen Citron of Lawrence, Kans.

Time Payment Plan

"When they entered, Mr. Citron said, 'I want to interest you in a trip abroad. I could hardly believe my ears but I quickly told them that any trip for me would have to be under $1,000 and a chance for time-payment plan.

"Two weeks later Mr. Citron called me and said, Mrs. Roberson your dream can come true. I almost fainted . . . for a moment I could say nothing . . ."

15 Minimum

Mrs. Roberson explained that a minimum of 15 will comprise the tour, and revealed that eight persons from Des Moines already have expressed plans to go with her, and two of those have paid their down payment.

In addition a meeting concerning the 17-day tour will be held Jan. 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Roberta Frazier, of 1328 Creston Ave., at which Mr. Citron will speak.

In Fayette County, Tenn.: Cites 10 Cases of Reprisals By Landowners, Merchants

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. department of justice asked for a court injunction to halt economic reprisals it said are being taken against 400 Negroes in Fayette County, Tenn., because they registered and voted in the November election.

Attorney General William P. Rogers announced the request for an injunction was filed in U. S. district court in Memphis. The complaint listed 10 examples of reprisals. Among other things, eviction of Negro tenant farmers is charged.

Named as defendants were 45 landowners, 24 merchants, and one bank which the complaint said had intimidated, coerced, and exercised economic discrimination against Negroes.

Rogers said that the Fayette County landowners waited until the tenants harvested their crops before ordering them to vacate premises.

Charges

Among the charges in the complaint were: Termination of leases or sharecrop arrangements; termination of employment of Negroes; refusals to sell necessities to them. Refusals to extend credit or lend them money; refusals to renew insurance policies; circulating lists of Negro registrants to help merchants penalize them.

Supplies

Refusals to deal with merchants and others accused of selling to Negro registrants; prevailing upon suppliers of merchants to refuse to deal with them if they sold to Negro merchants. Inducing suppliers of Negro merchants not to supply them with goods and services.

UNCF's Important Role in United States Education Depicted by Ebony Magazine

New York—What is the future of America's private Negro colleges and what role will they play in the "swiftly developing drama of U.S. education?" These questions are answered in a comprehensive article on the United Negro College Fund in the December issue of Ebony magazine.

The magazine quotes Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, president of the College Fund and president, Morehouse College (Atlanta), on the questions. Dr. Mays said:

Challenge

"The nature of the challenge we face—dramatized by the visit of Mr. Khrushchev and the Russian moon rockets—demands that we make greater efforts in education. Well-established in their towns, all across the South, these (UNCF) colleges are as much a part of America as Casey Stengel, William and Mary, gasoline or the pigeons in Central Park. They have been the bridge

On Saturday, the News "outdid itself" again when in the page one five star final that "wraps around" the earlier blue streak edition the entire contents were devoted to the classic football game. For the Home

To Lubricate a Lock
IF A LOCK becomes stiff and hard to operate, a temporary cure is available in any home in the form of a soft lead pencil. Simply rub the key until it is heavily coated with the graphite, and then turn it in the lock a few times. This treatment should make the lock work like new. Of course, you can use powdered graphite, which is available in most hardware stores. This lubricant is blown into the lock through the keyhole by squeezing the tube. TREE CUSTOMS

The Christmas tree custom was started in the United States by Hessian soldiers fighting with the British Army in 1776. German immigrants who later came to this country continued the custom as they had done in the "old country." Christmas trees were in general use in America by the mid-eighteenth century. The first White House lawn Christmas tree appeared in 1923, placed there by daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Merry Christmas

The 1960 Christmas Seals couldn't be more enchanting. Their young carol singers with glowing lanterns are bound to add extra Christmas cheer when you put them on letters, cards and packages. And the appearance of the Seals each year assures you that your tuberculosis association continues to fight TB for you in your community.

Work-All Year

Your Christmas Seal dollars work for you all through the year. In case-finding efforts, in the education of professional people specializing in TB, in the provision of needed funds—Christmas Seals are at work.

General Health

Christmas Seals work all the time to improve the general health of the community. They help to pay for research into better methods of prevention, diagnosis and treatment. Christmas Seals are behind unremitting efforts to find and close the gaps in TB control.

When you support Christmas Seals, you invest in your own good health as well as the health of your community.

Your TB association wishes you a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Healthy New Year.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn.

Snack Tray For The Holiday Season

For refreshments that will net you a bright star as a holiday hostess, feature a colorful Edam cheese decorated with star-shaped cutouts and filled with a tangy, beer-flavored spread.

Serve it at planned parties or to drop-in guests with crisp melba toast, salty nuts, pimiento-stuffed olives and a beverage that's equally festive—perhaps beer in crystal-clear mugs that are given a holiday look by tying a tiny bell with bright ribbon to the handle of each mug.

EDAM CHEESE SPREAD

1 Edam cheese (3 to 3½ pounds)
¾ cup beer

1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Few drops Tabasco
Paprika

Make star cutouts by cutting into red wax coating and peeling it off to let the color of the cheese show. Hollow out cheese from center leaving a 1-inch shell. Let scooped out cheese soften at room temperature. Using an electric mixer, mix cheese until smooth and fluffy. Gradually add beer, continuing to mix until blended. Mix in seasonings. Heap spread into cheese shell. Sprinkle top with paprika. There will be enough cheese spread for a refill.

Lassie's Pal Gets TB Demonstration

Lassie, star of television, looks on as TV pal Jon Provost gets a demonstration of the tuberculin test to determine if the TB germ is present in his system. Demonstrating the test is Dr. Hyman W. Gerson (right) Chief Physician, Chest Service, Los Angeles, (Calif.) County Hospital. Looking on at left is Dr. Floyd M. Feldmann, Director of Research, National Tuberculosis Association. Christmas Seals aid in discovering new cases of TB.

CHRISTMAS IN BRAZIL

Christmas comes to Brazil in mid-summer and is associated with picnics, fireworks displays, fiestas, and other outdoor events. The religious observance however, is quite similar to ours, with home and church decorations centered around a "presepio"—a representation in miniature of the holy nativity of Christ. A procession of priests, in full ecclesiastical regalia, lead the way to the cathedrals for midnight mass.

LEARNING THE TRUE MEANING OF CHRISTMAS

Ten-year-old Sue was writing her Christmas list. "I'm making a picture for Mommy, a key case for Daddy, and a boat for Sammy. What can I send Mary?"

She looked up at her mother. "Mommy, why do we celebrate Christmas? I mean I know that it is Christ's birthday, but why do we give presents and have a tree and stuff?"

No Easy Answer

Sue's mother replied slowly, after a pause, "That's not an easy question to answer, Sue; because there are many reasons why we celebrate as we do at Christmas. People from many different countries brought their customs with them when they came to America, so our Christmas combines customs from these many lands."

No matter what their religious affiliation, Christians agree that we have Christmas in order to remember Christ's birth. And, in remembering Christ, we can try to carry out His ideals of kindness, love, and giving to others. Christmas is a very special time, in that people all over the world are remembering Christ. Celebrations may differ, but the central theme is the same.

Spirit of Giving

What are some ways in which parents can help to keep alive the spirit of giving in the midst of our commercial pressure to spend money at Christmas? How can children learn that it is "more blessed to give than to receive?"

Children can participate in giving at Christmas by making gifts and cards for members of their own family. Even a very young child can make some contribution. This can be a time for sending small remembrances to friends and neighbors, baking cookies, or making cards for the teachers at school and at Sunday School.

Learn to Receive

And, too, it is a time for children to learn to receive gifts in ways that bless the giver. One grandmother suggests that when the tree is being enjoyed and gifts distributed, that the children be allowed to distribute first the gifts they have made. This way gifts are opened while the excitement is high, and the children can feel the appreciation of those for whom the gifts have been made.

We don't need to "put Christ back into Christmas." We need only remember that He has always been there, if we only seek to find Him.

More Time

With only one child to care for, parents can share with him events too expensive or troublesome for the large family. More time and energy are available for cooperative play, for attention to the interests and activities of an only child, and for attention in general. More money can be used to develop any special skills an only child might have. Parents can capitalize on a more contented atmosphere, unbroken by stress and strain of larger families.

Pitfalls

But pitfalls also wait for parents of an only child. Such a child finds himself in a world lacking some important things which help in the development of a well-adjusted adult: the support which children can give to one another, and the world of make-believe through play with brothers and sisters. The only child faces the possibility of becoming spoiled from being the center of attention. A feeling of loneliness may cause him to demand more attention, since this is his measuring stick for love.

Playmates

Playmates will help fill his needs. Neighborhood clubs and groups, camps, and nursery school will help a child learn to give and take, settle arguments, and grow socially. Responsibilities as a family member will give him self-respect, confidence and security. The only child needs to be directed, but such direction can be given in a way that leaves no doubt in his mind that he is loved.

New Do-It-Yourself Idea

MAKING YOUR OWN scatter rug in any color, size or shape you wish out of squares of washable undyed carpeting is latest idea to emerge from do-it-yourself movement. Black and white checker-board rug in photo was made from 12-inch squares of undyed nylon-viscose carpeting. All-fabric dye was used to dye black squares, while snowy whiteness of alternating squares was attained by simply washing the undyed material. Since the dyes come in 50 colors, any combination of hues may be obtained.

Directions for making a rug of either checker-board or alternate diamond design have been announced by Tintex Home Economics Bureau. After cutting undyed washable carpeting into foot or yard squares, place half the total into the washing machine and fill with hottest water available. While washer is filling, pour all-fabric dye into quart of hot tap water and stir with wooden spoon until dissolved. Empty dye solution into machine and let it run through regular cycles. Repeat process with balance of squares for second color, first cleaning machine with rinse of water and soap.

After squares have dried, lay them out on reverse side and press strips of hot-iron tape along dividing lines, as shown above. When turned over, you'll have a new rug that meets your own decorating needs perfectly.

If you plan to wash the rug later, apply liquid latex along the borders prior to taping, suggests the Tintex bureau. This will enable you to remove the tape easily and provide skid-proofing while rug is on floor.

CHRISTMAS MUSIC

Many are aware that the famous hymn "Silent Night" was written by Joseph Mohr, a German priest, but the origin of some of our other Christmas music is not so well remembered. "O Come All Ye Faithful" is a Portuguese hymn written in the thirteenth century. "Hark the Herald Angels Sing," and "Joy To The World" were written by Englishmen, Charles Wesley and Isaac Watts, respectively.

CHRISTMAS QUESTION

For some reason, most of us have come to look upon the first day of the year as the ideal time for examination of conscience and for the setting up of a new set of "ideals." Would not Christmas be a much better time? What better time than question of ourselves: "What am I

Christmas for all of us to ask this contributing to my fellow man; to Christianity; and to the world in which I live?"

CHURCH OF GOD IN CHRIST ENDORSES STRUGGLE FOR FREEDOM AND RIGHTS

Memphis, Tenn.—The Church of God in Christ, an international christian organization of churches, at its 53rd Annual Holy Convocation on Nov. 25 through Dec. 10, Memphis, Tenn., went on record strongly endorsing the struggle for freedom and equal rights for men everywhere.

Particular stress, in the resolution adopted, is placed on the technique of Non-Violent Movements as a christian instrument for achieving civil rights goal. Approval, therefore, was given by the church to the current wave of sit-in demonstrations as an effective means for pointing out political and social injustice and to underscore the stigma which the practice of Jim crowism and racial discrimination leaves on American Democracy.

The General Assembly of the Church of God in Christ has always been a racially integrated body of believers in Jesus Christ. The founders of the Church of God in Christ were men and women of all races.

OLD CUSTOM

The custom of having friends and relatives over for egg nog during the holiday season is traced to the English practices of "wassailing." In Elizabethan times, no celebration was complete without the wassail bowl, brimming with pungent ale.

Christmas Confections That Sparkle With Flavor

AT THIS TIME OF YEAR, candy becomes more popular than ever—to give as a Christmas gift or serve in your home during the holiday season. That's why this economical new 15-minute recipe for Orange-Nut Fruit-Jells candy will receive such wide appeal. Your friends will delight in its tangy flavor, and it's a real treat you can provide after a very short time in the kitchen.

ORANGE-NUT FRUIT-JELLS CANDY

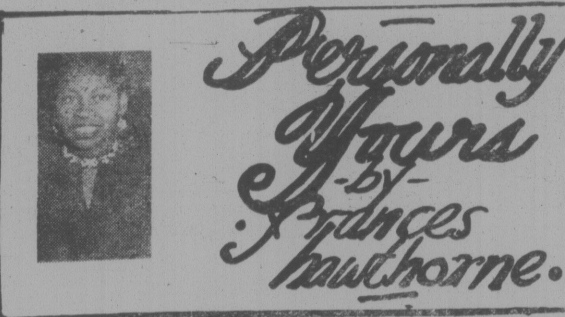

Yield: about 5 dozen candies (1 1/4 lbs.)

1 bottle Certo liquid fruit pectin 1 cup light corn syrup
1/2 teaspoon soda 1 1/2 teaspoons orange extract
1 cup sugar 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Pour Certo into 2-quart saucepan. Stir in soda. (Pectin will foam as soda is added.) Mix sugar and corn syrup in another saucepan. Place both saucepans over highest heat. Cook both mixtures, stirring alternately, until foam has disappeared from pectin mixture and sugar mixture is boiling rapidly. (This takes about 3 to 5 minutes.)

Pour pectin mixture in a slow steady stream into boiling sugar mixture, stirring constantly. Boil and stir 1 minute longer. Remove from heat. Stir in orange rind, extract and chopped walnuts. Pour immediately into 8x8-inch pan. (Or use 8-inch pie pan or round layer pan, or 9 1/2 x 5 1/4 or 10x6-inch loaf pan.) Let stand at room temperature until mixture is firm and cool (about 3 hours). Cut into 3/4-inch squares and roll in confectioners' sugar.

Note: If gumdrops are to be stored or packaged, let stand overnight at room temperature before storing, to prevent weeping.

Personally Yours by Frances Hawthorne.

Christmas 1960... may you and yours enjoy it to the fullest. It is sad but true, but a shocking tragedy, like the terrible air crashes last weekend in New York City and in Berlin, Germany, sobs our thoughts and make us utter silent thanks and cherish our family and loved ones a little more. Somehow what we had taken for granted is not taken for granted anymore. And though our happiness is boundless, we think compassionately of those stricken so suddenly by overwhelming tragedy.

Among our holiday greetings from friends and relatives we received one from our newspaper colleague, Miss Marie Ross, with a long note attached. We wish to share it with you as we know many of you too are interested in what she has been doing since her late summer visits in Des Moines. She wrote:

"Here it is Christmas again and the end of another year! Makes me wonder what I have been doing with my time during the past twelve months, 366 days, 8,784 hours, and 524,880 minutes of this year!

"All I can say is that I have been busy. It would be a shame to tell you what I have been busy doing—after office hours—since I returned from my vacation in September. Somewhere along the road back home—maybe while in Flora Mae Danforth's recreation room in Denver, Colo., or while viewing the remodeling you and Peter were doing in your basement for the Little Hawthornes—or while touring the fabulous Oliver home on N.W. 73rd place—I was 'bitten' by the 'building bug.'"

"I got busy, as soon as my mother left for Washington, converting half of our screened in long back porch on the north end, I ordered concrete blocks, cement mix, laid the blocks, following 'do-it-yourself' instructions in library books; put in windows, made a door for the winter porch and got it closed up."

"When my mother returned two months later, she hardly believed I did it! But some of my neighbors verified the fact as they could see me working, much of the time at night. My mother said I could go out for construction jobs now! But, you (or I) could get no one at a price to do the work; and, too, all of the construction people I knew were busy in the political campaigns."

"While I interviewed some for political posts they were seeking, I also asked them about construction problems—how to break a concrete block in half without smashing it, now I can break a block just as easy as breaking a peanut in sections!"

"I tried some glass cutting to fit some small places, but that did not last long. I smashed the glass so fast and cut up the ends of my fingers. I had a difficult time in typewriting my news stories several days, so I went to the glass company with strips of cardboards cut to fit the windows. I managed to get the glass in with tacks and putty."

"I'm still working (inside) on the porch which I'm hoping will be in a presentable appearance for the arrival of Santa Claus!"

"Well, a Merry Christmas to you and yours, and to all my friends in Des Moines."

Our family joyous anticipation in the days preceding Christmas day were somewhat dampened last Friday when our eldest son, Victor, was taken to Iowa Lutheran hospital with an infected knee, resulted from a seemingly minor but painful fall several weeks ago. The doctor promised him he would be out in time for "Santa Claus" and that has sustained him, but at the same time, it has been a little difficult for him since the pediatric ward was overflowing and there was no available bed for him, so he was placed in the isolation ward on the second floor with adults. In addition he has not been allowed to get out of bed.

He quickly won and held the admiration of his nurses for his steady demeanor, even though he keeps them busy. Because of his great interest for reading, he has been able to pass much of the dragging time, although it keeps his father busy bringing books.

An unpleasant incident happened to the Orbie Boggs of 1316 10th street several weeks ago that threatened to blight their holiday cheer. One day when Mrs. (Muriel) Boggs left the Bystander office she decided to spend an hour Christmas shopping. Afterwards she went to the parking lot at 2nd and Grand to get her car, but when she looked for it, it was no where to be seen. She called her husband who works at the telephone building, to see if he had come and picked it up. He said no, and they both returned to the parking lot to look again.

They notified the police. A week later police found it out on E. 24th street, rather dented and dirty, but otherwise O.K., indicating someone had decided to go joy-riding. In between when the Boggs were careless, they went to and from work with the help of neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. John Singleton of 1320 10th street.

New baby in the family? You'll want to get pictures. But don't get taken in by offers of "free" pictures, contests or model-agency promotions. They seem to be cheap ways to get photos; they usually aren't.

For satisfaction: —Patronize an established local photographer, or a legitimate traveling photographer who can give you references. Ask him for names of satisfied parents.

—Ask to see the license for transient salesmen, if your town or state requires one.

—Call the nearest Better Business Bureau or your local Chamber of Commerce if you have any doubts.

—Don't sign any paper unless you understand it thoroughly. You may find later that you signed a long-term contract or that you ordered an overpriced frame.

If you have questions about your family finances write to me in care of your editor. No letter can be answered directly or returned; however, as many questions as possible will be covered in future columns.

"Gingerbread Men On The March"

The spicy aroma which fills the house at holiday time when gingerbread cookies are being baked is a signal for the gathering of the small fry and their friends. Our recipe, enriched with nutritious instant Starlac nonfat dry milk, is guaranteed to draw adult friends, too.

A perfect accompaniment is a glass of liquefied instant nonfat dry milk which contains these important milk nutrients—protein, calcium and riboflavin. Instant Starlac nonfat dry milk mixes instantly even in ice water. It is most economical. The family-size economy package makes 12 quarts of nonfat milk for as little as seven cents a quart.

Gingerbread Men

(Makes 2 dozen 6 1/2 inch cookies)

7 cups sifted flour
1/2 cup (1 envelope) instant Starlac nonfat dry milk powder
2 teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon each allspice, powdered ginger, powdered cloves, cinnamon

1/4 cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
1 1/4 cups molasses
1/2 cup water

Sift together flour, instant Starlac nonfat dry milk powder, baking soda, salt and spices. Cream together shortening and brown sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in molasses; stir in water. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture; blend well. Chill mixture about 1 hour or until easy to handle. Roll out on lightly floured board to 1/2 inch thickness. Cut out gingerbread men with cookie cutter or pattern. Carefully transfer cookies with a wide spatula, to a lightly-greased baking sheet. Use raisins, bits of cherries or gumdrops to make eyes, nose, mouth and buttons. Bake in a moderate oven (350° F.) 15 to 18 minutes or until firm to the touch. Cool slightly; remove from baking sheet. Cool thoroughly. If desired, cookies may be decorated with colored frosting.

GIVE TOY BOX

The do-it-yourselfer who is handy with hammer and saw can come up with a good, personalized gift for his favorite youngster—a box to hold all the toys he will receive from others. Both the child and the parents will appreciate a toy chest large enough to hold the Christmas collection. For those not so handy with hammer and saw, an unpainted chest can be purchased inexpensively; a couple of coats of enamel will make it bright and the name stenciled on the front adds that "personal" touch.

ABOUT HOLLY

Superstitious Britons considered it unlucky to bring holly into the house before Christmas Eve. Even today, the superstition persists that if the leaves of holly brought into a home at Christmas are smooth (rather than rough) the wife will "rule" the household during the following year.

DOUTFUL GENUINE
CABINET OFFER

When President-elect Kennedy announced a yardstick for cabinet posts in his administration, he would require brilliant, progressive, aggressive young men. Except for secretary of commerce, he gave a point (he is 68 years old) because Gov. Hodges was an early supporter and undoubtedly helped much to hold the South in line.

During the campaign, there had been some hint that a Negro would be included in the cabinet should the Republican ticket win. And while little had been said on the subject by the Democrats, the call by the Kennedy's in behalf of Dr. King led many to prefer Kennedy over Nixon; to believe that the Democrats would measure up on this issue.

However, in making the choice of a Negro, President-elect Kennedy deserted his high standards announced for the selection of cabinet members. Mr. Kennedy offered the post of postmaster general to Rep. Dawson of Chicago. Mr. Kennedy reported that Mr. Dawson turned the job down because he could do more for the Democratic party by remaining in Congress.

This was an unfortunate selection. It squared with none of the high standards set by President-elect Kennedy. Rep. Dawson could not stand the searching lights which surely would be thrown on him with a discussion of his qualifications during hearings and debates on his confirmation.

He is not among the hundreds of smart capable men in the Negro race; he is an old man with old ideas. So, undoubtedly he would be of more value to Democratic party as a member of Congress rather than as postmaster general.

It is unfortunate that Mr. Kennedy selected a Negro who could not afford to accept the post. It is unfortunate that he did not offer the post to some Negro who would be a credit to the post. It is hoped that Mr. Kennedy did not do this for an out. But since no other person was asked, it does not look good, at least, so far.

UNWORTHY LOOSE TALK IS UNFAIR

In an interview with George Mills, Register staff writer, Representative Ben Jensen of Exira is reported to have said somebody "has made a fortune selling memberships in the NAACP; that the South has built schools for Negroes better than I attended."

The last statement is partially true. These better schools were not built during the time that Jensen went to school, (he was born in 1892) but beginning in the early forties as the South saw integration on the way and its leaders were relying on the old separate but equal doctrine announced by the U. S. Supreme Court in 1897.

His accusation that someone has made a fortune selling memberships is untrue and we challenge him to prove the assertion. This loose, untrue statement is disgraceful, unfair, and abuse of the immunity cloak which members of Congress enjoy.

Ben Jensen has been in Congress long enough to absorb some knowledge of government. What reputation he has built was done by opposing rather than advancing laws. Of course, there are those who approve his opposition to civil rights just as there are those who think well of his position on other things. But it is doubtful that a majority of those who voted for him subscribe to his views on civil rights. This never has been an issue in his campaigns.

WHY SO MANY APPEALS FOR CHARITY?

Prior to 1932, we had no large combined community chest, no complete set ups of state and county welfare agencies, no aid to dependent children. We did have the Red Cross and child welfare departments of service organizations.

But with the advent of the new social agencies, it was assumed that the needy and hungry people of America would be pretty well cared for. In fact, this was the view up until a few years ago.

And while there are many people out of work (the situation in Des Moines is not bad) there never were so many appeals for donations to feed the hungry, to buy Christmas cheer, to buy Christmas seals and other fund raising gimmicks. The collectors announce thousands are needy, thousands on the relief rolls.

As one walks down town and listens to the appeals for help, he wonders if care packages are not in order here, rather than sent abroad. Or is the large amount of money spent by community chests, welfare organizations, aid to dependent children, etc. accomplishing the job those programs are designed to do.

The world is catching up with the United States in just about everything, including sports. The Italians walloped our Davis cup tennis team and that just about completed the race.

Back about 1928 or '29 a fellow we knew went around town talking at several race relations meetings. His theme was just about always the same. If United States was to keep her lead in world affairs, the people must learn to use everyone with talent, and must look everywhere for talent, regardless of race, or nationality. We don't know how much of an impression the guy made on his lectures then, but as we sit here now we can see what a whiz of a prophet he was in sports.

Baseball

If Negroes had not cracked the major league barrier, the Japanese and Central Americans would be beating our best teams. Not, as they do once in a while, anyhow. You recall how important our Negroes were to our Olympic track teams. And very few basketball teams have become national champs without some Negroes.

Football is getting so that in order to have a top team you must have some Negro players. The students at Mississippi were right when they argued that they were the number one white school.

Best Players

Now all these things aren't coming up because of Negroes, but because some of the best players happen to be Negroes and they got a chance to prove they were good.

If the Davis cup group had seen fit to include Negroes in their program they might have come up with a winner before now. Not because the boys were Negroes or that they were any better players, but because the tennis group would have had a larger field to pick from, thus giving them a better chance to locate talent. One could do better with 1100 players than with 1000 because out of that last 100 might come what he wants, but if that last 100 is left out well you can see what that would do to the odds.

Negro Institutions

Of course, total integration in all sports would eventually kill a lot of fine Negro institutions, like the American Tennis association just as baseball integration killed Negro baseball. So we have to decide what we want in all sports and while we are deciding, the rest of the world won't wait.

It is probably that way in other phases of life also.

TIME TO REFLECT

In the midst of it all, with once-ornate decorations reduced to floor litter, with toys scattered all about the house, in the tumult and the din of it all, there should be one moment for quiet meditation, for reflection, and for thanksgiving; not for the gifts, nor the well-wishes of the givers; but instead for another Christmas—lest we forget the real purpose of it all.

Merry Christmas

to You and Yours... and a
Happy, Prosperous New Year

Baylor and Chamberlain Run Nip-
And-Tuck In NBA Scoring Race

New York City—Both Elgin Baylor, of Los Angeles and Wilt Chamberlain, of Philadelphia, played four games, and the Laker sensation yielded a little ground to the runner-up Warrior in the National Basketball Association scoring race.

Baylor had 849 points to Chamberlain's 833. At their present rate, both men will break Chamberlain's record established last season for a full campaign's play.

The additional four games added to the NBA schedule, coupled with their current average per game for each of the two leaders, indicate that both men will smash the mark by next March.

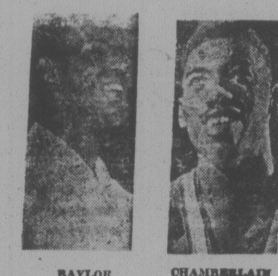

Chamberlain was shooting at a 37.9 clip per game in 22 games, while Baylor's average was 35.4 in 24 games. Oscar Robertson held into third place with 704 points in 25 games for a 28.2 average.

Other top scorers include Willie Naulls, New York Knicks, 554 in 23 games for 24.1, and Hal Greer, Syracuse, 380 in 18 games for 21.
