HELP JUNIOR HERD GO TO COLORADO SPRINGS

Hawkeye Lodge Drum and Bugle Corps, sometimes known as the Junior Herd, is appealing to the public for funds to take a group of 61 boys and girls to Colorado Springs, to take part in the annual competitive Drill before the Midwest Association of Elks, I.B.P.O.E. of W. Winners will receive the Ham Jenkins trophy. The appeal is made to the public to help defray expenses of travel, registration, housing and food accommodations at the convention. In picture above the drill team is marching in the 1958 American Legion Convention parade in Des Moines.

Less than 17 of children's parents are members of the Hawkeye Lodge No. 160, and Rose Temple No. 33, sponsors of the Junior Herd (one of the classiest drill teams in the state and midwest). This effort serves to give youngsters something to do and this keeps them off the streets and avoids juvenile delinquency.

Anyone wishing to send donations make checks payable to Junior Herd and mail them to Mrs. Bernice Carter, 911 16th st. James Rhodes is chairman of the ways and means committee, since its origin.

Lauds Kennedy Appointment Of Howard U Dean of Law To U.S. Civil Rights Group

New York—The NAACP has congratulated President John F. Kennedy on the appointment of two law school deans to be members of the Civil Rights Commission. The appointees are Dean Erwin Griswold of Harvard Law School and Dean Spottswood Robinson of Howard Law School.

The Association also expressed its satisfaction with the report of Administration support "for a bill removing (the) limit on life of the Commission." In a wire to President Kennedy, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary said: "Commission has afforded a vehicle through which members of varying backgrounds could examine the civil rights field and pool their wisdom in corrective recommendations."

"It has provided, too, a means by which information in the field has been furnished the American people by an official government agency, giving it a stamp not available to private groups."

'Ride-In' Arrests Spark March on Mississippi Bias

Jackson, Miss. — The NAACP's "Operation Mississippi" rolled into high gear here this week as a capacity crowd, attending a protest mass meeting in the Masonic Temple heard a call for "more and varied jobs for Negroes."

The speaker was Medgar Evers, NAACP field secretary for Mississippi. The gathering (April 20th) was in protest of the arrest of four NAACP college students for staging the state's first ride-in demonstration against segregation on public buses, April 19th.

Employment

Evers called for employment of Negroes by local factories such as Vickers and General Electric, which don't have a single Negro employee. He also called for employment of Negroes in all Mississippi plants holding government contracts, thereby obeying President Kennedy's executive order on employment. In addition, Evers asked that Negroes be hired on Jackson's police force; that Negroes be hired by the local internal revenue bureau; and that Negro office workers be hired in the local VA hospital.

Public Facilities

Evers told the cheering crowd that the time has come for unrestricted use of public facilities, such as parks and libraries, by Negro Mississippians. He added that the time has also come for removal of humiliating segregation signs in train depots, and the end of segregated seating on buses.

The four students, out on $500 bond and charged with "breach of the peace," attended the meeting. Their hearing was held Friday in the same municipal court where nine Tougaloo College NAACP youths were tried March 29. It was during this session that German police dogs were used to rout peaceful Negro citizens awaiting the results of the trial across the street from the courthouse.

Report Some Skeptics Among Enthusiastic UNCF Contributors

Joseph Wimberly, co-chairman of the United Negro College Fund campaign in Iowa reports the enthusiasm and efforts of representatives in the state is quite high.

However, he says, "there are some who fear UNCF is perpetuating segregation."

Ebony Article

"For those skeptics," Mr. Wimberly said, "read the May issue of Ebony magazine and the article, 'Men of Morehouse.' This Georgia college has enrolled its first white student and has outranked, like other UNCF supported schools, many white colleges in the south in superior equipment and training."

Morehouse

"Morehouse has produced such leaders as Dr. Martin Luther King, Dr. Mordecai Johnson, scientists, editors and leaders in all fields of endeavors, continued Wimberly. "West Virginia State college has hundreds of white students enrolled; as Dr. T. Winston Cole, president of Wiley college, Texas, pointed out

Estranged Wife Charged With Murder Intent As Hearing Set for Monday

A Des Moines man remained in critical condition Tuesday after undergoing surgery for a gunshot wound in the stomach at Broadlawns Polk County hospital.

Court Backs Will Leaving $250,000 to Negro Groups

San Francisco, Cal. — The San Francisco Foundation for Aged Colored People and the Booker T. Washington Community Service Center have just received word of a court decision that they are eligible to receive $250,000 from the will of Martin J. Heller.

Heller, a native of San Francisco, died in 1953, leaving an estate of nearly $3,000,000 from his mining interests in Peru. Half of the estate was bequeathed to the University of California School of Engineering, and the remainder was to be divided equally among organizations for the relief of Jewish refugees, the blind, the San Francisco Home for the Aged, the Jewish Home for the Aged, and an agency for the benefit of aged colored people in the Bay Area, with the provision that if any of these grants should prove impossible to carry out, the funds would be divided proportionately among the other beneficiaries.

Will Contested

The grant for the benefit of aged Negroes was contested by the University of California and the Jewish Home for the Aged on the ground that no qualified agency existed in the Bay Area, and a ruling to that effect was requested from the New York Surrogate Court. Through cooperation between the Attorney General of New York, California's Attorney General (at that time Edmund G. Brown, now Governor) and Stanley Mosk, now Attorney General, the Booker T. Washington Center and the Foundation for Aged Colored People were informed of this development, and appeared in court to oppose the University's request.

On Wednesday of last week, the request was denied by Surrogate

Insomniacs, Attention!

A hungry animal leaves his lair and seeks food. If you're sleepless, it may be a good idea to leave your bed and seek the refrigerator. Skip the lobster salad and heavy pie, though. Try milk and crackers.

Hunger is only one of the discomforts that can keep you awake. Cold is another. It's just about impossible to fall asleep if your feet are cold. Warm them up with wool socks, a hot water bottle, or heating pad turned to its lowest point.

If you're excessively tired at bedtime, read for an hour or so, or take a warm bath. Your mind may be worn out, while you feel physically restless. In that case, take a walk around a couple of blocks.

One of the chief causes of insomnia is worry about not being able to sleep. Stop punching your pillow out of shape. Read for a while or listen to some favorite music. Don't worry because you're awake or you'll never get to sleep.

Ventilation

Make sure your bed is comfortable, with no squealing springs. You will probably want a window open for ventilation. However, if an open window lets in loud street noises, better do without the ventilation. You'll get some air, anyway. Few windows fit that snugly.

The drug short-cut to sleep is seldom justified. Never use sleeping pills unless a doctor prescribes them for you. Even so, be careful. Accidental overdose is quite common.

Somehow, spring never seems really like spring until I can bring a bouquet of one or more blooms of flowers into the house. Monday I was able to do just that as six of my prize tulips, all scarlet red burst open as if by inner combustion. Later, if the weather man will kindly cooperate and string a few sunshiny, warm days together a beautiful array of dark purple, pink, white, yellow, orange, dark red and two tone tulips in parrots and Darwins will burst forth.

When you read the paragraph in last week's issue about the new brides with the same last name, appearing in the paper, you probably thought we should go hunting for our brain matter. Well, unforeseen circumstances prevented the coincidence. Mrs. Milton Young appeared last week and Mrs. James Young is in this issue.

Residents are looking forward to spring and summer vacation and are busy making plans for the long-awaited trips. Some youngsters are also looking forward to a visit with "Grandpa and Grandma," when they can lay aside their books for the summer months. Among these anticipating youngsters are our own who are looking to a trip to the farm in Missouri.

Overheard on a Des Moines street, a lady chided another who had spent the winter in warmer climates on the West coast: "Looks, like you came back a month too soon."

April is also the month when mothers go to various schools and sign up their kindergarten bound youngsters for classes next fall. We picked up a little history on kindergarten. Both the name and the basic philosophy trace back to Pestalozzi and Froebel. The first kindergarten in the United States, taught in German, was established in Wisconsin in 1836—the first English-speaking one, in Boston five years later. In the 1870's Susan Blow instituted the first public kindergarten to become a continuous part of a public school system in St. Louis, Mo. From these early beginnings the kindergarten movement has grown until now it serves more than 2 million children.

ALL OUT FOR DRAKE
RELAY CLASSICS

Des Moines is host to the Drake Relays this week. Long a popular athletic classic, this year will bring a host of outstanding athletes who won fame in their schools, athletic associations and the Olympics.

The competition provided in these events has done much for athletics, much for fine relationships with competing schools and the students who have taken part; as a result some former stars return year after year for the occasion.

Clean sport hurts nobody, and that goes for students in the schools. Properly handled, and the Drake officials do an excellent job, the youngster gains confidence, discipline—and a better appreciation for his competitors.

The city is fortunate to have such an annual event as just another good reason why Des Moines is a good place to be.

WHERE WE STAND ON CUBA?

Even though the American people are giving away billions of dollars in foreign aid—to help other countries—it seems to be losing friends. Who ever thought that a Cuban dictator could thumb his nose at America and get away with it? Castro did. Who ever thought a foreign nation would land war supplies in this hemisphere, with or without our knowledge, and get away with it? Russia has. Who ever thought America would be a part of an unsuccessful uprising in another country and get kicked in the face? Well, it happened in Cuba last week.

Speaking of America's dilemma, Richard Wilson head of the Register and Tribune bureau in Washington, said in a Sunday dispatch:

"It is recognized by Kennedy administration officials that American prestige has suffered a severe blow. Cuba shows how difficult it is any longer for the U. S. to intervene.

"There are recognized to be social revolutionary forces at work in Latin American countries, and U. S. sympathizers with a good deal of it.

"But Russia has made herself an ally of the social revolutionary force, whereas the United States has, in the past, been aligned with forces that can be called reactionary, imperialist exploiters."

Frankly, the situation is puzzling. In fact the administration seems to be puzzled and rightly so, for the forces of evil-communist—seem to be gaining ground all the time.

For one reason or another, the young people don't seem to be satisfied with the way things are run both here and abroad.

It's true of the middle class, especially those who help vote the so-called stand-patters in office but detest their conduct of affairs. It's true of college students who may turn out to be fertile timber for the communists while working in the Peace Corps.

Consequently, Castro is more popular with the masses in Cuba than our intelligence forces realized. They refused to rise up against him and join rebel forces last week.

So we lost in Cuba partly because we were unprepared to do a good job and failed to recognize the military strength of and the loyalty of Cubans for Castro.

Integration In Sports Pays Off

Norfolk, Va.—Reginald Young, 16, was inserted into the line-up of the Maury High school baseball team in a game against Norfolk Catholic here last Thursday and became the first Negro to participate in a varsity interscholastic athletic event in the history of Virginia.

With Young in the lineup and fielding flawlessly, Maury overcame an early 8-2 deficit to defeat Norfolk Catholic, 10-9.

Trumpeter Miles Davis
Named Tops in Fashion

New York, N. Y.—Famed Negro trumpet player Miles Davis has been named fashion personality of the Month of May by Gentlemen's Quarterly, fashion magazine for men.

The magazine, which monthly honors outstanding fashion individuals, features Davis in its May issue wearing his own individually-styled jacket construction. "There is no seam at the shoulder or back," says the magazine, "rather the shoulder, sleeve and body of the coat are cut in one piece and there are only two seams, under the sleeves and down the jacket sides. There is no padding in the shoulders.

Slate Star Studded 52nd Drake Relays

This Weekend; Expect
Many Broken Records

By Staff Writer

A star studded track and field agenda is scheduled for the 51st annual Drake Relays here Friday and Saturday. And from the report of tickets sales a record crowd will view the champions and aspiring champions of the cinder paths and field events.

Heading the list of track greats who will perform are Olympic champions from Tennessee A & I, Miss Wilma Rudolph, world's speediest woman, and Ralph Boston, broad jump king who will challenge Jesse Owen's record set at Drake a generation ago. Also, John Thomas, high jumping prince who is expected to set a record of 7-feet-plus on the field and show the mid west in person how it is done. He hails from Boston University.

Despite the star studded list, many Bulldog fans will come to see the show in person because of the almost unbelievable improvement of the Drake mile relay with anchorman Charlie Durant, who takes much of the credit for the team's recent relay victories and strong showings, and his teammate, Len Hutchison, swing man for the team.

Participants

Schools from Kansas, Texas, Tennessee, Michigan, Iowa, Illinois, Oklahoma, Oregon, Missouri, and other states have entered performers in various events. In addition some of the top high schools in the state will participate in the high school division, including Des Moines Tech's fleet mile relay team featuring the Flying Taylor cousins.

Is there anybody around who doesn't know what is going on in Des Moines this weekend. Of all the years we have seen the Drake Relays, perhaps our best memory was about a lucky picture that the late Bill Ashby got in the '30s. A Negro won the race in what was a stunning upset and Bill was just about the only photographer who got just the right shot because he focused on the Negro. Well, the bidding began for our shot. Just about everybody wanted it. One said we didn't know what we were doing and he could get what he wanted from the Register. But they told him frankly we had the best shot for his paper. The guy began to think and it dawned upon him that he would have to do some explaining when

"Consistently declared the most popular trumpeter of our day, Miles Davis is perhaps also the best dressed man in the jazz world," says Gentlemen's Quarterly.

just about every Negro paper of any importance but his had a picture of the featured race.

Cuss Words

There was a party that night and the stubborn reporter asked a friend of ours to talk business with the Ashby brothers about the picture. Well, yours truly, promptly tacked on an extra ten spot to the price arguing that we wanted the picture. And we didn't care if we didn't sell it to him. The victim hit the ceiling and let loose a stream of profanity that would have put a mule driver to shame. We waited until he had cooled off and Bill said, "Now, my friend, each cuss word is going to cost you ten bucks so have yourself a ball. You count 'em, Al-len."

Persuasion

After a near fit of apoplexy, and some persuading Bill dropped his price a little and the guy got the shot for forty bucks over the original cost. We agreed to charge him only for the really bad cuss words because if we had stuck to our guns we would have been in the paper business in competition with Mr. Morris, our boss.

Bill was quite a guy and a handy man with a camera. We wander around out there now, camera in hand, and we can't help but think of Brother Bill who ought to be there. But, if he showed up, you haven't seen any running out there yet.

SOVERIGN POWER

The sovereign power—the power of kings,

Is made up of a blend of things
The bearing of king who rules
And knowledge of his working tools
To reign a full and fruitful life,
Maintain the peace and quell all strife,

Requires top traits of character;
And to that fact all will concur.
The power of will, to hold a throne,
That force of strength to stand alone.

Full knowledge of so many lines
Perspicacity to read the signs
The charity to meet real need,

Quick justice in each word and deed,
Diplomacy beyond all norm
The grace and poise that will conform.

A tempered love for all that's good,
Magnetic speech that's understood.
The rights of man, a constant care,
Respect for God, each act with prayer.

Forever faithful, through each hour,
These are some needs of sovereign power.

we must break away from the herd.

The management has taken this step reluctantly but with the increased cost of production, it is necessary if the paper is to stay in business.
