C., and did editorial work on the Crisis magazine. She also was the author of several poems and wrote mostly about the middle class Negro and his frustrations and aspirations.

GOVERNOR GETS FIRST NAACP MEMBERSHIP

The 1961 campaign opened Thursday evening with 400 memberships reported.

SIGNS PROCLAMATION FOR NAACP

Looking over a proclamation, commemorating the 1954 Supreme court desegregation decision, signed by Mayor Reinhold Carlson (center) are Atty. James B. Morris, Jr., (left) president of the Des Moines chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Atty. Robert Wright, 1961 membership chairman for the branch.

U.S. Supreme Court Voids Louisiana Segregation Laws

New Orleans, La.—Two state laws aimed at halting desegregation of schools in Louisiana were voided by a three-judge federal court Thursday, May 4.

One prohibited a parent from giving or accepting anything of value as an inducement for sending a child to a school operated in violation of any law of the state. The other prohibited doing anything to a child, parent, teacher or other school employee to influence that person to violate any law of the state. Both statutes granted immunity from prosecution and promised monetary rewards to informers.

The court said the two measures were "designed to subvert the effective desegregation of the New Orleans schools and thwart the implementation of the orders of this court looking to that end."

NEWSPAPER HONORS VETERAN EMPLOYEE

Norfolk, Va.—Southall Bass III, photographer and engraver at The Guide Publishing company, Inc., and Alberto C. Carter, linotype operator, were honored with a plaque and a purse recently in recognition of 25 years of continuous service with the company. The presentation was made by P. B. Young, publisher of the Journal and Guide, following a congratulatory statement by Thomas W. Young, president and general manager of the company.

Law Student Wins Highest Honor in N. C. Named Chief-Editor

Chapel Hill, N. C.—Julius LeVonne Chambers, 24-year-old student achieved the highest honor at the University of North Carolina law school when he was named editor-in-chief of the North Carolina Law Review. It is believed to be the first time a Negro has won such an honor in the south at a predominantly white college or university.

Top in Class

Chambers, one of four Negroes in the 314-student-law school, is top man scholastically in his class of 100 with an "A" average. Scholastic standing, writing ability and achievement on the Law Review staff in the first two years of law school are criteria for selection of an editor-in-chief.

Earned It

Dean Henry Brandis, Jr., "I have had my statement prepared for a long while. It is just three words—He earned it."

NEWS In A Nutshell

Atlanta—Two Negro employees of the Atlanta Transit system have been selected to train as bus and trolley drivers.

New Orleans—An investigation started several weeks ago by Clarence "Chink" Henry, president of Local 1419 of the International Longshoremen's Association, into the finances of the union has resulted in the suspension of James M. Severan, secretary-treasurer. The 3,500-man Local 1419 is the South's largest all-Negro union.

London, England—Currently on tour of Russia, baritone singer Paul Robeson recently suffered an illness brought on by exhaustion and was confined to a Moscow hospital, the Movement for Colonial Freedom announced here.

Washington, D. C.—When newsmen tried to uncover the reason for the recent and startling firing of Theodore Brown, assistant of the AFL-CIO Civil Rights department, one high official said, "He (Brown) was not fired on racial grounds. He knows very well why he was fired."

San Antonio, Tex.—Death struck an elderly couple here last week just 63 minutes apart. Both the victims, Arthur Payne, 65, and his wife, Mrs. Elsie Payne, 61, succumbed to heart conditions.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Douglas W. Johnson, who found $240,000 on a street and returned it, said last week he was thrilled his son received a petition of goodwill from students at Fairview school in Boulder, Colo.

Baltimore—Robert Watts, a native Baltimorean, was one of 15 lawyers appointed an associate judge in the new Municipal court by Gov. Tawes last week. A former Traffic court magistrate was appointed to a two-year term at a salary of $15,000 a year.

Reading, Penn.—The Pennsylvania Junior Chamber of Commerce elected a Negro auto repairman as its new president. He is William D. Johnson of Stroudsburg, the first Negro chosen for the top post.

Washington, D. C.—The White House News Photographers association last week admitted its first Negro member by a vote of 60 to 8. He is Maurice Sorrell, photographer of the Afro-American newspapers.

Omaha, Nebr.—Although they are supposed to live within 10 or 20 minutes of Offutt Air Force base, Negro airmen and officers must live at a distance of 45 minutes to one hour because private housing developments both for rent and purchase, are not being available to Negroes in Omaha, according to the Omaha Urban League.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—Willie Grayson, 26, was charged with rape in the first degree in connection with the alleged attack on his 9-year-old daughter.

Chambers said, "I think that is an indication that the people of the state—the people of the university—have arrived at a point where they accept an individual not on the basis of race alone, but on the basis of his ability to do a particular job."

Three Buddies Injured In Collision With Truck Near Base in Kentucky

Funeral services were held here Tuesday for an army paratrooper from Des Moines who was killed in an automobile crash near his base last week.

The victim was Army Sp4c Phillip M. Carter, 21. He was fatally injured when the car he was driving collided with a truck near Ft. Campbell, Ky., as Carter and three other companions were returning to their base. The others were hospitalized.

Carter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Carter, 1637 Maple st.

He entered the army 3½ years ago and was in the 101st airborne division and had been stationed at Campbell, 18 months.

Survivors

Born in Kansas City, Mo., Carter moved here 14 years ago and attended East high here. He was a member of St. John's Baptist Church. Last rites were held at St. John's Tuesday at 1 p.m. with Rev. Joseph Gaines officiating. Burial was in Laurel Hill cemetery.

Surviving besides his parents are seven brothers, Kenneth in Korea, and Clarence of Los Angeles, and George, Jr., Richard, Darrell, Larry and Ronald, all of Des Moines and a sister, Mrs. Emma Jean Cavil of Des Moines.

To Observe 7th Anniversary Of Supreme Court Decision With Statehouse Program

Rev. Leonard Tinker will give the invocation; a statement of purpose by Rev. Burnette, Jr.; and a proclamation on behalf of the city will be read by Mayor Reinhold Carlson.

The committee working with Rev. Burnette, Jr., is Mrs. Guy E. Greene, Martin Pardekooper, Jr., James Harris, A. P. Trotter and James Morris, Jr.

Voted Out of Fraternity on SUI Campus

Less than two months after he was unanimously voted into a white fraternity on the campus of the State University of Iowa, Andrew J. Hankins was voted out. The move, believed to come from pressure from other chapters and the national officers of Delta Chi, came last week, has precipitated a full scale investigation by the student council to examine membership policies.

Hankins, a freshman from Waukegan, Ill., lives at Hillcrest dormitory, is a B-plus student majoring in pre-medicine and was a guard on the freshman basketball team.

EARNINGS INCREASE

Washington—A Labor Department survey of non-white workers in the United States, of whom 95 per cent are Negroes, shows the average earnings of non-white males are 58 per cent of those of white workers. This compares with 41 per cent 20 years ago.

Praises Youth for Desegregation Role in South

Cites Non-Emotional Sit-in Demonstrations, And Economic Boycotts

"There are behind the scenes efforts on the part of interested citizens, both white and Negro, to work out the integration problem in most Southern cities," stated Dr. I. Gregory Newton, N. C., national president of Omega Psi Phi fraternity.

He made the statement Saturday at a press luncheon at Hotel Fort Des Moines, headquarters of the 8th district meeting here over the weekend.

NEWTON

Without Emotion

"This is being done because many feel the need for agreement and understanding without emotion," he continued. "There's integration in many southern cities but it is not known publicly, just by word of mouth."

Dr. Newton also noted that the "sit-in" movement of which North Carolina State college (where he is a political science professor) was the second to participate in, is "just as effective" as the economic boycott.

Dr. Newton especially commended the sit-inners for their lack of "emotional demonstrations." "When the southerner cannot refute you with facts he turns to emotionalism."

Praises Kennedy

He also praised President Kennedy for "placing qualified persons—not qualified Negroes in high federal posts."

In his speech before the convention Sunday afternoon Dr. Newton emphasized the new role of the youth in reshaping the social patterns of the world.

Rocking Boats

"Youth is rocking the boats all over the world. Their stamina penetrates from the Declaration of Independence to the United Nations," he declared.

"They shall conquer with the help of the law, government, religion, and those elders who also covet freedom and cherish progress."

HEALTH FOR ALL

Manana!

It's the thing you're going to fix tomorrow that's most likely to get you today. According to the National Safety Council, more than a third of all accidental deaths occur in the home. It doesn't take any fancy figuring to see that many of these deaths and untold numbers of injuries, could be prevented if people would make necessary repairs today, not manana.

Hazards

It's a rare home that doesn't have at least one hazard which should be fixed right now—Carpeting which has come untacked; torn stair covering; blown-out light bulb; oil-soaked rags; penny in the fuse box instead of a fuse; wiring with worn insulation; light switch that doesn't work; open paint cans; piles of newspapers in the basement; no light over the cellar steps; open can of kerosene; and take a look around and winish the list yourself.

This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn.

How to Sharpen Shears

A SIMPLE method of sharpening an old pair of scissors is illustrated. Drive a 6-penny nail into a wall, as shown. Draw the jaws of the scissors their full length over the nail, as though you were cutting it. A moderate, even pressure is required during the several strokes needed to put an edge on the blades. Cutting into a piece of sandpaper or emery paper is another commonly used method of sharpening a shears.

REVERSE CONVICTION OF ALABAMA PREACHER

Washington—The Supreme Court Monday reversed the manslaughter conviction of an Alabama Negro minister, Lewis Lloyd Anderson, because Negroes are excluded from juries in the county where he was tried. Anderson was sentenced in Dallas county to a 10-year jail sentence for first degree manslaughter after his car struck and killed a pedestrian on Jan. 20, 1959. The high court reversed the conviction without opinion. It cited three cases as precedents however, in which the court found that the systematic exclusion of ?? ?? ??

21 Students Back

From Trip to D.C.

Davenport, Ia.—Mrs. Jessie H. Roby, teacher at Grant school, Rock Island, Ill., and 21 of her fourth and fifth grade pupils are back in class after a four-day trip to Washington, D. C. by bus.

In the nation's capitol the children saw most of the tourist attractions, including the White House, the Capitol, the Supreme Court building, Lincoln Memorial, Washington Monument, The Archives, National Art Gallery, Library of Congress, Jefferson Memorial and the grave of the Unknown soldier at Arlington cemetery.

The group stayed in the Ebbitt hotel in downtown Washington along with four of the nine adults who accompanied them.

The group took a trip on foot through the downtown section of the city, and walked down the 881 steps of the Washington monument after taking the elevator up.
The group also saw many other sights. The weather was fine and the children had a pleasant time seeing first hand many of the places and historical documents they had read about in their social studies class.

To make the trip possible Mrs. Roby and her pupils sold 1,440 tins of candy. They are very grateful to Mrs. Cecile Cooper and Mrs. Arinilda Johnson, Davenport; Mrs. John

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by William P. Hawkinson, SUI Assistant Professor

SPECIAL FOR CHILD

"My seven-year-old daughter, Susan, shares a room with her older sister Mary, who is twelve. Susan puts up a big fuss each night because she must go to bed earlier than anyone else. What can I do with her to get her over this fussiness and help her understand that she needs her sleep?" This question was asked by a distressed mother recently.

Explanation

Small children do not realize when they are fatigued, and explaining to a child the need of rest for his growth and development gives the child some understanding. Also, the child may be disturbed by other activities which are going on in the home while he is supposed to be sleeping. Making sure that the other members of the household are engaged in fairly quiet activities should give the child a better atmosphere in which to sleep.

Distractions

When his daytime toys are in the room with him, he may want to stay up play with them. Remove any distracting things in the room which would not be conducive to sleep.

Presenting something special at bedtime such as a story which the child will anxiously look forward to each night may turn his thoughts in the right direction and give him the idea that bedtime is something special.

Allowing older children to share the room with a younger child often presents difficulties. However, it will aid the problem if the older child goes to bed with a minimum amount of noise so as not to disturb the younger child.

Bounty For 'The Bride'

HAPPY THE BRIDE THE SUN SHINES ON—and to improve an old adage—happier still the bride who brings sunshine into her first and all-important attempts at meal planning.

Sugar Information, Inc. has developed a delicious Sunburst Cake recipe that's simple to make and as tasty as anything one could ask for. Although June has always been associated with weddings, it's also the time we celebrate National Dairy Month. So, in honor of the occasion we've topped this cake with ice cream.

Ideal to serve at showers and parties as well as after a light summer snack, the Sunburst Cake, topped with a generous scoop of his favorite ice cream, is sure to make as big a hit with the man in your life on his fifth anniversary as it will the first time it is served to him.

SUNBURST CAKE

1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
3 egg yolks, beaten until very thick
2 cups sifted cake flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1/4 cup orange juice rind of 1 orange

Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy; add egg yolks and blend thoroughly.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt.

Add flour mixture alternately with milk to butter and sugar. Beat well.

Stir in orange juice and rind.

Pour into greased and floured 8x8x2 pan.

Bake in pre-heated (350° F.) oven for 55 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

May skimming blithely along with no abundance of summery sunshine. If the month has been slow on the uptake of nature's abundance of warmth, it has been crowded with events and activities. After receiving acceleration from April's annual Drake Relays, May shifted into high gear. More national known figures have been here than we ordinarily get in a whole year.

In the sports world there was Wilma Rudolph, John Thomas and Ralph Boston; this past weekend there was the national president of Omega Psi Phi at a regional meeting; also, Miss Mary Wood returning to her hometown to be acclaimed by her alma mater, Drake University and community leaders and citizens; later this month the national president of the National Association of Colored Women's clubs will be women's day guest speaker at St. Paul.

Another national figure in town over the weekend was Miss Nurcella Washington, hair artist and demonstrator for Helene Curtis. She lives in Chicago, but will operate from her home base of New York City for the company.

We dropped by Crescent Beauty school for an interview with what we thought would be a demonstrator from Detroit. We soon learned another lady had replaced her. When we came face to face, we both almost exclaimed simultaneously, "I've met you before." We had met Miss Washington last fall when she was demonstrating a competitors product at the school.

Back to the national celebrities, Phi chapter of Delta Sigma Theta sorority is literally have a field day. Last week they shared "sisterly-ownership" of Miss Mary Wood, Buffalo, N. Y., director of the YWCA there. Miss Wood is a charter member of Phi chapter, along with Mrs. Adah Johnson, chapter president and Mrs. Helen D. Wimberly, Polk County probation officer.

The week previously, Wilma Rudolph, in Des Moines for the Drake Relays, was honored by Phi chapter as a member of the Pyramid club of Tennessee chapter of Delta. Miss Rudolph was going through her "Hell Week," so called because its the last and most "trying" week of her pledge period prior to full sisterhood in Delta.

At a press luncheon at Hotel Fort Des Moines, Omega delegates were recounting for yours truly and other members of the press, well known figures who are members of the fraternity. Among celebrities they named Robert C. Weaver, new housing chief; former federal judge of the Virgin Islands, William Hastie and Howard C. Woods, St. Louis Argus executive editor.

When we learned that Mrs. Rosa Wilson, a member of Parliamentary Law and Culture club, had won first prize for the most unique and colorful table at the first annual community potluck, we naturally wanted to have her give us a description of her winning table. Mrs. Wilson's centerpiece was of blue and gold flowers with a contrast in color of a rare flower, "Bird of Paradise" which drew many comment from those who attended. At the base small kneeling angels surrounded a miniature white Bible.

Mrs. Wilson's table was beautifully appointed with her own pink rambler rose china dinner set with matching gilt-edged glasses. All was placed on her own lace table cloth. Mrs. Wilson recalled having a few anxious moments before the event got underway Saturday evening. Her centerpiece, which had been ordered for arrival after 5 p.m. was brought earlier and left at a local drugstore because the center was not open then. Mrs. Wilson had to walk up and down asking neighbors about it and shortly before it was time for the judges to begin their duties about 7 p.m., she finally located the flowers at the drugstore. Little did she know then that she would take first place honors. She had ten guests at her table, each bringing a dish, as was the plan for the whole affair.

TOKEN COMPLIANCE
NO LONGER TENABLE

More and more, people in high places are taking a realistic view of protests against racial discrimination. In recent weeks, the NAACP has lodged stiff protests of racial discrimination against the Glen Martin Aircraft Corporation of Marietta, Georgia. The association charged that complete segregation existed in all facilities, that apprenticeships were not available; that higher paying jobs were unavailable.

At a meeting of the President's committee on contract compliance, Vice President Johnson, the chairman, announced last week that Glen Martin had complied with the non-discrimination order. However, the NAACP says this is an error and only token compliance has been made.

The NAACP further protested to the committee that southern textile operators had refused to bid on government work because the contracts contained the nondiscrimination clauses.

The Glen Martin Corporation has a billion dollar contract with the government to build jets. And there is no reason why they should be allowed to ignore one clause in their contract any more than others.

The southern textile industry has long excluded Negroes from their factories even though they, too, have been earning large sums by doing work for the government.

These fellows don't propose to comply with nondiscrimination provisions of government contracts if they can help it. Thus, somebody, and the NAACP does a good job at it, must help keep a check to see that they keep their agreements.

WE MUST LEARN
SOMEDAY

Last March the Delta Chi fraternity at Iowa University accepted Andrew J. Hankins, a pre-medical student, by unanimous vote as a member. This month, this same man was voted out of the chapter due to pressure from the national body and graduate members. It is apparent that some members had a change of heart.

"Dennis Herrmann, Des Moines junior, said "someone felt Andy wouldn't fit in with the rest of the members of the chapter."

Ralph E. Prusok, the university's advisor to fraternities, said, "The local chapters here have done a marvelous job of trying to bring about change.

"At national conventions, the southern chapters have a big vote."

Prusok said some Delta Chi members sought advice from him and other university officials before pledging Hankins. Prusok said some of the "practical problems" were pointed out to the students.

The problems mentioned included possible difficulties in "exchange dances" with sororities and possible discrimination policies in hotels or ballrooms where fraternity functions might be held," Prusok said.

These young men will be our leaders tomorrow. Evidently, they nor the advisor watch the newspapers and see what is going on in the changing world even in social affairs.

Prior to the Eisenhower administration, Negro diplomats were not entertained socially at the White House. Wonder if they saw the newspaper picture appearing in the Register, showing Mrs. Eisenhower descending the steps on the arm of an African diplomat with the President looking on?

Did they see in the Des Moines Register a picture of the Duke of Kent dancing with the wife of Sierra Leon's minister of finance, Mrs. M. S. Mastapa or Potamic Party Line appearing in the magazine section of the Sunday Register and notice foreign black diplomats participating in the social festivities just as other guests?

Or do they realize that Georgia born Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Texas born Lyndon Johnson fraternize socially with black people from Africa. As youngsters, these things did not happen but things have changed.

All of these are social affairs given by the diplomatic corps and high state officials. Naturally they invite and treat the darker people the same as the whites.

Of course, nobody must dance with another person without his consent. But when one is in a position requiring it, people arise to the occasion. So these young fellows might as well begin now to get accustomed to courtesies which they now shy of, but must accept if they reach places of high standing in the government.

We were among those present at the Iowa-Varsity alumni football game last week. We would have to say that the oldtimers came to town for the game and stayed around until the end.

The score 21-20 with the old grads winning was just about the difference in the teams. This Iowa outfit is going to be pretty tough next fall if they can come up with a few capable reserves in the key spots such as tackle and fullback and if they can get the ineligible back.

Varsity

Just about all the varsity offense consisted of Hollis, and the big fellow was good. His receivers couldn't hang onto his passes, and after Em Tunnel, who was playing for Iowa when the varsity members were in the second grade, or kindergarten, took over the defense for the alumni, passes were hard to complete.

Frank Gilliam was a good end for the grads and the fans waited in vain for Willie Fleming to get off one of his long runs. The longest run was by Hollis who scored twice for the varsity. Larry Ferguson who was in the press box, might have made a difference in the Iowa offense. But come what may the Hawks will be tough next year if a lot of ifs are taken care of.

Baseball

Looked over the statistics on the major leagues last weekend and in just about everything most of the first ten leaders are Negroes. By the time you read this things may have changed but right now at this writing the boys are out in front.

Novel Table for Cottage
Folds Against Wall

A COMPACT, out-of-the-way table and benches suitable for a camp cottage will be a pleasure to build and a delight to the family because of its novelty.

The table top, when folded up, serves as a door for the wall cabinet. Because it will wear long and is easy to keep clean, Masonite 1/4" Tempered Presdwood is used to surface the lumber framing of the table top. The same material covers the planks serving as benches.

The cupboard is built of 1-inch lumber framing, covered with Tempered Presdwood. Shelves are similarly constructed.

Note the hinges which permit the table and benches to be pushed out of the way, against the wall, to which they are fastened with hooks.

Panels of Presdwood can be used effectively in other ways at the summer cottage—to cover unsightly interior walls, for converting a large room into smaller ones, corner closets, floors, fish cleaning and bait cutting boards, sunshades at the beach, or resurfacing old picnic tables.

WILLIE MAYS CITED AS 'GREATEST'
PLAYER IN SPORTS MAGAZINE

New York — "Willie Mays has brought a breath-taking excitement to baseball, set off by his unique abundant skills; but along with the fun and glory, he's had problems."

With these words, Arnold Hano begins a long and interesting article on the famous ball player in the current issue of Sport, popular monthly magazine. The article is titled "The Willie Mays Decade."

Biggest Star

On the last day of February of this year, Hano recalls, Mays' 10th year as a major-league player, he was "clearly the biggest star in baseball." Only 20 years old when he joined the Giants team, Willie's "talents have been consistently splattered over his full decade."

5 Times

In all of baseball, the writer states, only two players ever hit as many as 25 home runs and stole 25 bases in the same season. Ken Williams did it once, but Willie Mays did it five times running before his 30th birthday. And not only that, he hit 30 home runs and stole 30 bases in the same season.

Unconscious

In one of his spectacular plays, Willie knocked himself unconscious catching a fly, but held the ball so that it did not touch the ground, Hano recounts. Other spectacular plays and outstanding records of the player are cited and the author also goes into Mays' interesting human qualities that have made him an endeared member of his team.

"The 'little boy' in Willie set an earlier generation of Giants reeling with laughter and spirit," he writes. "The combination of humor and seriousness that he now imparts keeps today's Giants on their toes."

Childhood

Born in Fairfield, Ala., in 1931, the son of a poor steel-mill hand, Willie was battling flies and catching them himself when he was six years old. The story is told that his father, who was a ball player of sorts in his day, rolled to his son across the floor his first ball when he was 14 months old, and that when his father tired of the game, Willie cried for more.

Performance

His steals, his hits, his catches; his laughter, his worries and his triumphs are told with great affection in a 10-page article in the well-known magazine. Willie Mays has become an institution, not only in the world of sports, but in the life of the country, in the opinion of the writer.

Mays appeared on the Ed Sullivan TV show last Sunday and received a tremendous ovation.

FROM RAGS TO RICHES AND BACK TO RAGS IS FIGHTER'S STORY

New York—Although he earned $1,500,000 by fighting from 1940 to 1959, he is now broke. This is the admission of former heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles in a story in the June issue of Climax, a monthly magazine.

Charles tells an interesting and forthright story of his rise from poverty and anonymity up the ladder to wealth and fame, and his descent from the top rung back to the bottom.

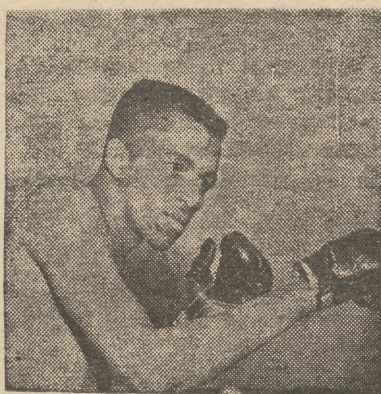

Debt-Ridden

All he has left now is his house in Cincinnati, which is debt-ridden by taxes, and a couple of part-time jobs which bring him in a mere subsistence income. Not only that, he cannot afford a telephone or a car.

"My old friends don't come around any more," laments the ex-champion, "and those who lived off me aren't doing so good these days either."

Named Outstanding
Boxer in Central Ia.

Lightweight champion Lawrence Boone was named the outstanding boxer of the Central Iowa Golden Gloves here last week, by unanimous choice.

BOONE

The first of a series of clinics will be held at the Jewish community Center May 14 to encourage amateur boxing, according to tournament director, Dave Nemo.

Boone, long has been respected as one of the classiest boxers locally, winning over opponents regularly.

122 Fights

The fortune that he earned from 122 professional fights during the nine-year period was not squandered in riotous or immoral living, the former fighter explains: he never kept women, smoked or drank liquor; he never had "more than one car at a time;" he was a church-going man.

Spendthrift

One notes in the Charles' story, however, a spendthrift pattern similar to that of some other get-rich-quick sportsmen: he loved good clothes, having had as many as ninety expensive suits at one time and paying $65 a pair for his shoes. He gave away from $150 to $200 a day to his street-corner friends.

Charles' distate for fighting, his family life and other details of his rise and fall in the fight world are laid bare by the ex-champion, who now wonders "if it was worth it."

The celestial music from the stars
List to the angel choir singing their Hallelujahs to the host up there on high.

Let your heart thrill to the singing
Strings, the joyful sound of heavenly harps.

Know ye all people that the voice of The soul, speaks of the eternal beauty

In the living trees the flowing waters.

Hear the harmonies in the oceans depths.

Awake, and live in rhythm to the Monotone of the cosmos, feel the beat of the

Rhapsodies of the galaxies, lend me

Thine ears O' man, that you may hear

Open the doors of thy mind, and listen

To the symphonies of the constellations.

Hear and feel the vibrant ecstasy of All who have gone on to swell the chorus

Of the emancipated. Yea, O' man, list
Ye and hear the heavenly voice, that Lovely one, the voice of the soul.
