Federal Judge Orders Both Sides to Stop in 'Freedom Rides', Threatens Jail Terms

Montgomery, Ala. — In a sweeping order Friday a federal judge threatened to jail both white and Negro leaders in the current "freedom rider" testing of racial laws involving interstate travel and facilities.

No Bus-Violence

U.S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson, Jr., ordered four "freedom riders" organizations to stop their tests pending a hearing Monday, June 12. At the same time he issued sweeping orders against no-bus violence against Montgomery police, the Ku Klux Klan and four individuals.

The order which applied to "freedom riders" and their leaders also applied to "all persons acting in concert with them" and all but "bonafide" passengers. Judge Johnson's second order was a temporary injunction to compel Montgomery police to protect freedom riders in the future.

Under Order

The freedom-ride sponsors put under temporary court order are the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE), the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the Student Non-Violent Movement of Nashville, Tenn., and the Montgomery County Jail Association, an organization formed by 11 integrationists after they were arrested at a white bus station lunch counter last week.

Also included in the order, at the request of attorneys for the police department, are: The Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., of Atlanta, the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth of Birmingham, the Rev. Wyatt Lee Walker of Atlanta and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy and the Rev. Solomon S. Seay, sr., both of Montgomery.

Jail Threat

Even as the judge spoke, two groups were enroute from Alabama to Jackson, Miss., in a promised continuation of their segregation challenge.

Judge Johnson stated "If there are any such incidents as this (mob violence) again, I am going to put some Klansmen, some city officials, some city policemen and some Negro preachers in the federal penitentiary."

Ran Behind Backing Auto; Mother, Children Injured in Marshalltown Crash

It was another tragic weekend in Iowa as car accidents continued to take their tolls of human lives. Two separate accidents took the life of a child in the driveway of her parents home and four Des Moines residents were hurt in a two-car crash at Marshalltown, Ia. Both occurred Saturday only hours apart.

Tot Killed

A Des Moines man, who was cited for bravery for his part in the rescue of a small boy from the Des Moines River a year ago, was a witness as his small daughter was injured when she ran behind a moving car in the family driveway.

Ran Into Path

He is Louis Cortez Riffe, of 821 25th st. His two-year-old girl, Francine Rife, ran behind the family car, which was parked in the double driveway shared by Gilbert Charles Woods, 31, of 823 25th st., and into the path of the car which was being backed out of the driveway by Woods. The accident occurred Saturday morning.

The victim was taken to Iowa Methodist hospital with what her parents believed to be a severe eye laceration. She died later Saturday night of head injuries.

Child Warned

According to police reports Woods said he saw the girl behind the Rife car as he started his own auto. The girl had been told to go to the driver's side of the Rife car and get in. Instead, she ran behind both cars and was struck by the Woods car as it was backing out.

Funeral services for the child were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at Burns Methodist church with the Rev. A. W. Fox officiating. Burial was in Glendale cemetery.

Survivors

Surviving besides the parents are a sister, Theresa Lynn; a brother, Charles; grandparents, Mrs. Jesse Dixon, Des Moines and Mr. and

Four Hurt

Marshalltown, Ia. — Four members of a Des Moines family were injured in a two-car crash near here Saturday afternoon while they were enroute to Waterloo for a wedding.

Mrs. Kenneth Brewer, 31, of 1345 E. 17th Court in Des Moines suffered fractures of one leg at the knee and ankle when the car her husband was driving collided with another auto driven by Miss Elene Sanders of Marshalltown. Brewer, 38, traffic manager of KRNT and KRNT-TV, escaped injury. Three of their four children sustained injuries.

Children Hurt

Hurt in the accident were Carlotta, 10, who suffered a broken collar bone, gashed jaw and an injured arm; Kenneth II, 8, suffered leg injuries; Daryl, 6, was treated for a cut hand and Jeffrey, 3, was unhurt. Four passengers in the car driven by Miss Sanders also escaped injuries.

To D.M. Hospital

Mrs. Brewer was taken to Evangelical Hospital here and then transferred to Mercy hospital in Des Moines.

Miss Sanders told highway patrolmen she had stopped before entering the highway and started forward when it appeared that the right-of-way was clear. The Brewer car veered into a highway marker post and then into the ditch.

Mrs. Forest Williams, East Moline, Ill.; and great-grandparents, Mrs. Baker Dixon, Los Angeles, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Mack Carson, Des Moines.

Musicians Donate Talent in Jam Session Sunday, June 11 To Help Junior Herd Trip

Iowans will get a chance to help a group of deserving youths, and at the same time enjoy four hours of music and a floor show presented by Des Moines' top musicians, who will donate their efforts free of charge.

The event will be the Junior Herd benefit dance jam session sponsored by Hawkeye Lodge No. 160 and Rose Temple No. 33 on Sunday, June 11 from 6 to 10 p.m. at the Brotherhood, Inc., 13th and Center. The Brotherhood and Sisterhood will also donate the hall free.

$1.00 Donations

For a donation of $1.00 (one dollar) patrons will be helping to send members of the Drum and Bugle Corp and majorettes (known as the Junior Herd of Elks) to the Midwestern States Association of Elks, I.B.P.O.E. of W., which meets in Colorado Springs, Colo., later this month. The drill team is one of the classic in the midwest and has won several honors in Elks convention competition.

Musicians

In addition they will hear such top local performers as Milton Madison, Speck Redd, Rose Marie and Al Hill, on the piano; Eddie Eugene, Buck Perry, Norman Perry and Bobby Parker, on the drums; Orville Cox, Al Roland, Francis Bates and Seymour Gray, on the bass; Rufus Spates, Walter Ackins, Chuck Watkins, Howard Gray, Norman "Fat Daddy" Johnson and Cornelious Mathews, on the saxophone; and vocalists Eddie Eugene, Rose Marie and the Blazers. Rudy will be featured on the guitar.

During the floor show, the Blazers, Rose Marie and Eddie Eugene will perform.

To Receive Honorary Law Degree at Howard

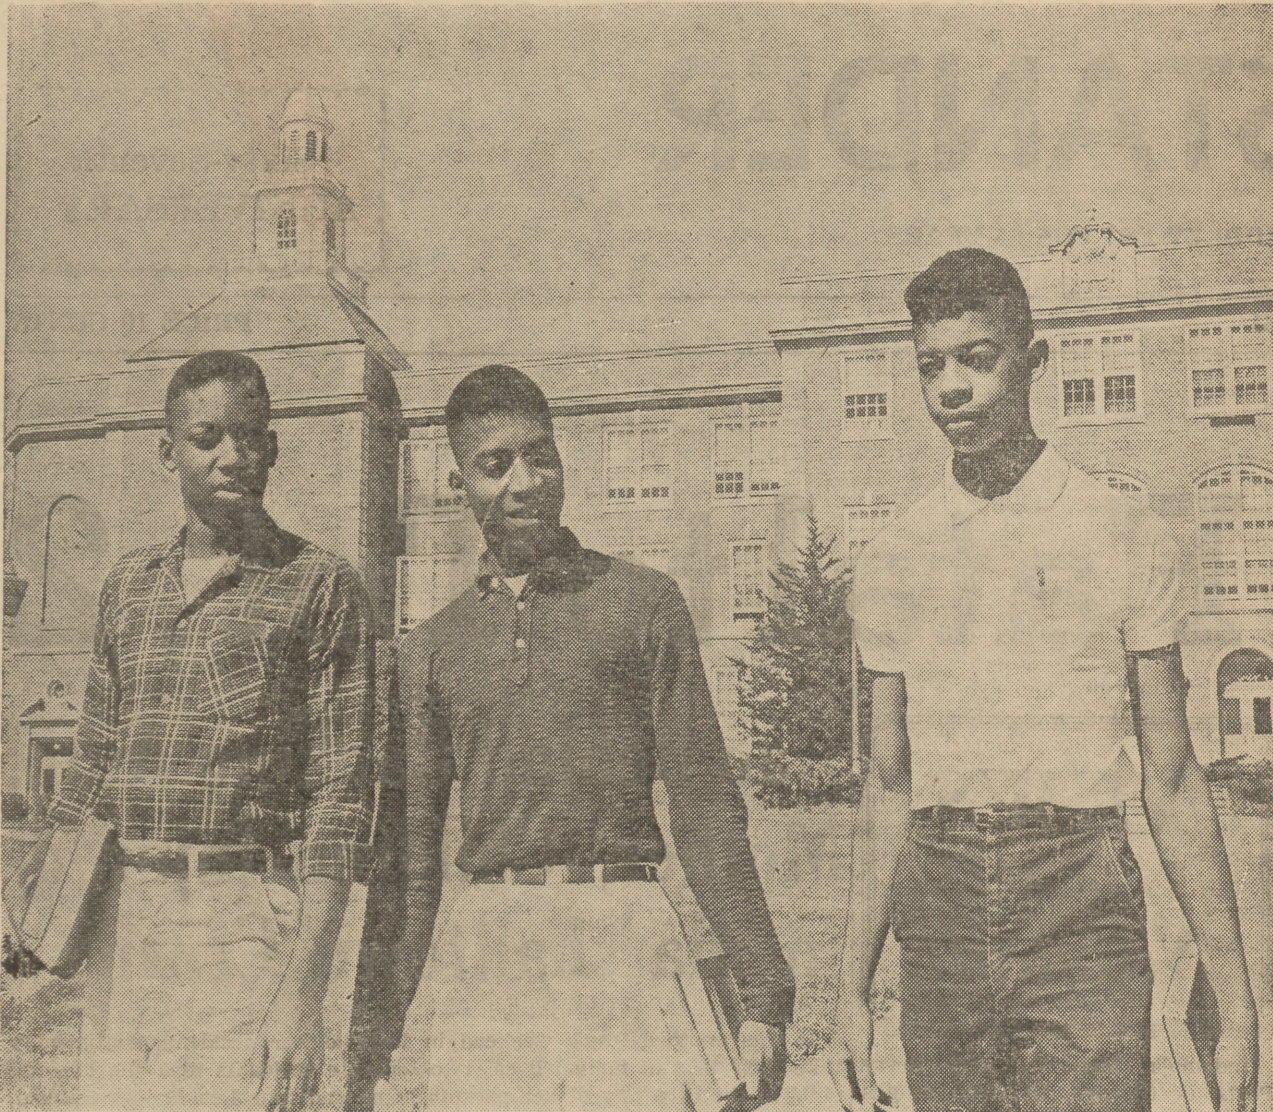

Washington, D.C. — Robert C. Weaver, administrator of the U. S. Housing Finance agency, will have an honorary degree, doctors of laws conferred upon him at the 93rd commencement program at Howard University, here Friday morning.

Some 700 seniors will receive their degrees and hear Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson bring the major address.

THE 'EYES' HAVE IT

Though the "eyes" have it this year, mascara beaded lashes are never smart. Before mascara dries on your lashes, hold a folded Kleenex tissue beneath the eyes near lashes and blink a few times. Surplus mascara will be whisked off.

AU REVOIR

By Staff Writer

Au Revoir!
O' glorious school days of old—
New pages of life I must unfold—
Fond memories of you I shall ever carry
As future's ominous tenacles I parry—
Au Revoir!
Ole golden school days.

II

Fun and thrills you've supplied galore—
Knowledge, confidence and curiosity you bestowed—
Prepared ye me for life's toils ahead—
Resolutely I stand, brave and unafraid—
Au Revoir!
Kind and benevolent school days.

III

Bitter-sweet tears I shed for thee O' wonderful school days.
Sweet-happy tears for the grand days with you—
Bitter-sad and sombre tears 'Cause we are parting—you see.
Au Revoir!
O' memorable school days.

IV

O' beautiful school days I hold thee in great affection—
For molding me gently steadfastly—
In the right direction.
Au Revoir!
Matronly and omniscient school days.

V

I thank thee once—
I thank thee twice—
I thank thee thrice!!!
Au Revoir!!!
O' Blessed school days.

Des Moines Goodwill Industries Among Top Ten In Country

Non-profit Goodwill Industries of Des Moines, Inc., was listed first among top ten Goodwill organizations for April, it was reported yesterday by George G. West, president of the rehabilitation agency's board of directors. The rating is based on the percentage of earned income gain over the same period last year, West said, and is compiled by the Goodwill national office in Washington.

Second Time

The area United Campaign affiliate showed a gain of 114.3 per cent over April, 1960. Port Huron, Mich., was second with an 80.6 per cent gain. New Haven, Conn., placed third with 60 per cent.

West pointed out that this is the second time this year the Des Moines Goodwill Industries has been listed on the top ten honor roll. In February, Des Moines was in seventh place, reporting an earned income gain of 33.7 per cent.

Flag Day, June 14

June 14, officially designated as Flag Day, marks the 184th anniversary of the establishment of the Stars and Stripes as our National flag.

Written by William P. Hawkinson, SUI Assistant Professor

PARENTS' FEELING AFFECT THEIR CHILDREN'S BEHAVIOR

In a group of parents recently one young mother expressed concern about the sleeping habits of her seven-month-old son, Jimmy.

"I've done everything to make him comfortable and the doctor says nothing is wrong," she said. "But he hasn't slept through the night for weeks, and neither have I." She went on to say that she felt like smacking Jimmy sometime when she had to get up in the middle of the night.

Crying Short While

One father suggested that if Jimmy were not ill perhaps it would be wise to let him cry a few times. Another mother remarked that crying a long time can be an exhausting experience for both parents and child. She felt that perhaps it would help Jimmy and his mother if she decided to let him cry only 10 or 15 minutes before trying to comfort him.

Finding Ways

That father of several children agreed and pointed out that the important thing was to find ways to help a parent feel better about his child. "I think," he said, "that anybody would be angry and tense after a few weeks of constantly interrupted sleep. But all the same," he added, "even if you don't smack your Jimmy, you can't help handling him so that he knows you're angry and uncertain."

More Relaxed

Another group member agreed and added, "If you let him cry for a few minutes before going in, you might even feel a little sorry for him, too. I think that if you can be even a little more relaxed with him, it might help him feel more like sleeping."

As the discussion continued the group members agreed that even if some babies seem naturally to cry more than others, the way we as parents feel about our children affects the way they behave. The group agreed that we can help ourselves and our children if we can frankly admit our negative feelings for our children and try to find ways to help ourselves feel more "positive" toward them.

BORDEN'S
MILK AND ICE CREAM
'Very Big on Flavor'

*Personally Yours
by Frances Hawthorne.*

This is the week when thousands of youth, reaching their first big milestone in their young life, march proudly down the aisle with the watchful and equally proud eyes of parents and relatives upon them as they go to receive that piece of parchment which officially testifies that they have completed the required studies for graduating from high school. And duplicating that same walk among the hall marks of ivy-clustered colleges, is a big brother, sister, parent or friend who had gone a little further along the road of academic achievement. It is a day like no other, bringing with it unmatched pride and satisfaction.

It is always interesting to note the sidelights of graduating classes and this year they are quite interesting. For instance the young men outnumber the young ladies almost two to one in Des Moines high school cap and gown group. There are 22 girls and 40 boys, with 11 of the 25 graduates at East are girls; four of the 12 grads at Tech are girls and only seven of the 21 graduates at North are girls. There was one boy and one girl at Valley and of course two boys at Dowling.

In addition there were two sets of twins (sister-brother each) at East High. James and Janet Anderson you will see on the high school page. There also were Gene and Jane Cochrane, children of Mrs. Mattie Cochrane of 1412 2nd St. Place. At North two brothers were in the graduating class, Gary and Vernon Johnson, sons of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson of 3838 40th st.

There was at least one honor graduate from the three Des Moines schools, East, North and Tech. One, whose picture is not published on the high school page is Donna Marie Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Griffith, 1268 Stewart St. Also, Marilyn F. Folsom, 1149 Ascension st., Tech graduate.

Jacqueline Canafax, who graduated with honors at Tech, had the special honor of seeing her father, Rev. W. J. Canafax, participate in her school's baccalaureate services Sunday afternoon. He gave the invocation and benediction.

In the August classes there is indication that there will be only one graduate from the local high school. He is Michael Dett Wilcoits, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wilcoits of 1104 17th St.

Two out-of-town graduates submitted their pictures and writeups for the high school page. One, Natalie Boldridge, is a sister of a 1960 graduate from the same place, Algona high. Another is the daughter of a former Des Moines resident, Ernestine Shackelford. Both her grandparents are residents of Des Moines.

While talking to Mrs. Rose Johnson of 1194 14th place last week just before she left for the Iowa Association of Club Women convention in Davenport, Ia., she told us of two graduates at Drake and one at Still College of Osteopathic Medicine and Surgery. One of the Drake graduates is her sister, Mrs. Mary Bannon, a teacher in Marshalltown, who has been attending the Drake community college for the past several years. She had come regularly to Saturday morning classes here.

When we arrived home from a meeting at the Bystander Monday morning we found a beautiful postal card from Miss Charlene Wharton of Willkie House, addressed from Chicago, Ill., with the penned note, "Greetings from the big city. This is my headquarters for the time—it's lovely; relaxing. Met a girl from Chile in South America and we've had a wonderful time."

Then when we stepped inside the house there was a message from my husband, "Miss Wharton wants you to call her." For a moment quite understandably we were a little taken aback.

Earlier this week the school children were quite excited. All of the classes were going on individual picnics. There were three different picnics to prepare for at our house. Think our youngest school-ager was the most excited. This was her first picnic. She and classmates along with teacher, Mrs. Drey, went to Goode park.

By the time you read this we will be on last minute packing and preparation for our vacation. The whole family is going down to my mother, Mrs. Pauline Watson and sisters and brothers in Eolia, Mo., for a nice visit. We will not be in for phone calls but the young ladies at the office will be glad to take care of all your news and questions when you call.

We plan to be gone two weeks and will be back on Monday, June 26. During the week of June 19 through June 24 my husband who has so ably taken charge of the news and makeup in emergencies, will again be in charge of that department. We feel a little guilty about encroaching upon him, especially since he just recently finished redecoration and paint jobs on all the bedrooms, kitchen and eating porch, (which he now refers to the Haitian Hideaway), because of the bamboo theme,) and bathroom. The rooms are lovely indeed, a testimonial to his natural ability, patience, hard work and willingness to do it himself. It will be a joy to return to them.

Congratulations to the Bystander on its Anniversary

SIXTY-SEVEN YEARS OF SERVICE

The Bystander is observing its 67th Anniversary this week. This is a long period of service by any institution. During that time many Negro newspapers have started and died; many other weekly class papers in Des Moines have also.

Newspapers have expanded in many ways during the past 67 years. Other means of news dissemination have come on the scene which have provided competition for the advertising dollar.

Radio and television are not substitutes for newspapers but additions to the news disseminating field. There are less newspapers today than were published ten years ago. Some of the older Negro newspapers have not been able to survive the stiff competition which even the daily papers give them or the high cost of operation which seems to grow by the day.

Newspapers have a tremendous influence in a community and on the constituency they serve. And while many people dam them for this and that, these same people would be lost without them.

The Bystander has been in the forefront of Negro's struggle to improve his lot. It has insisted that he be dealt with as and given the privileges of a first class citizen. It has not hesitated to challenge those who opposed or favored those who approved its position. It has insisted equally on the Negro's responsibilities to his community, state and nation as a good citizen ready and willing to do his share in war and in peace; it has insisted that Negro youngsters stay in school and prepare themselves for the terrific competition and new avenues of life that arise daily; they must not be contented with crumbs from the table for they get less and less proportionately day by day.

Frankly the Bystander has not grown as it's publisher would like to have had it due to some causes beyond its control. Few establishments in Des Moines spend a fair share of their advertising dollar with the Bystander; chain stores, operating everything from out of town headquarters, do absolutely nothing; excessive church begging and program ads are given as excuse why Negro newspapers are not used.

All these years have not been easy. But there is much satisfaction in the accomplishment of some of the things we have fought for: better jobs, better education, more complete enjoyment of civil right. This has been possible because a good many friends, poor and rich, white and black, see the value of the Bystander and give it their support.

For all this, we are thankful and fully appreciate the support that has come over the years.

SENATORIAL COURTESY IS DANGEROUS

Recently, Congress authorized the appointment of 72 additional U. S. Judges. This will also entail the appointment of additional Circuit Judges.

Judge J. Skelly Wright, of Louisiana, presided over the hearings involving the battle between the state legislature, state officers and local volving the battle between the state school boards challenging school in- and firm refusing to allow petty subterfuge to thwart the law or court decisions.

Judge Wright is in line for appointment to the fifth circuit court of appeals. Senator Long has announced that he would oppose the nomination on the ground that Judge Wright is personally objectionable to him. The senator comes up for reelection next year and he feels that should Judge Wright be appointed and confirmed it would militate against his chances.

Senators maintain a tacit understanding that they will not support a nominee from a state who is personally objectionable to a senator from that state. Senatorial courtesy, as they call it, has wrecked many a person.

However, in this instance, and should the situation arise, it would be an act of downright cowardice and an injustice to oppose a judge because he followed the law. It would penalize a fearless judge who does his duty in the face of mob hysteria. A vote for him would be far more sound than against in order to maintain senatorial courtesy. To defeat him would put fear in the hearts of other judges seeking promotions.

Some of our friends in the senate have cast a few pretty shoddy votes during this session of Congress. So it is difficult to predict whether or not a majority will throw civil rights to the wind and vote senatorial courtesy.

COMPLIMENTS WHERE THEY ARE EARNED

The Bystander has always insisted that if the head of an institution takes the right attitude on the race questions, those below him would follow. This is equally true of heads of state, county, and city departments.

It is also true that an employee can find a way to include Negroes in his force and that as Negroes retire from jobs they can find means of having a Negro succeed them.

Recently, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell retired as clerk in the parks department. The superintendent Joe Turner insisted that the place be filled by a Negro. It was and the retiring employee was kept on to train the new one. This was good sense on each side for only working together can a more liberal number of Negro employees hold better jobs in government and industry.

Both Joe Turner and Mrs. Mitchell are to be congratulated for doing their job well. Certainly, the Bystander does, for it does not hesitate to criticize those whom it feels do a bad job and commend those who do a good job.

Norman Taylor has been invited to run in the Golden Gate Relays in California. As we get it he has to pay his way out there and Bill Taylor says he will get the kid out there if he has to carry him piggyback. We can't recall another local athlete who ran in this meet.

Johnny Estes

Frank Massey gave us an article from a recent issue of the Cedar Rapids Gazette and we thought you would be interested in it, so we are running the whole thing from the column (Red Peppers) by Gus Schrader.

You Iowa football fans who can hark back to the 1947 season will remember a promising sophomore quarterback named Johnny Estes, an all-stater from Des Moines North high.

If you do remember Johnny, you also will recall why he never got to play his junior and senior seasons with the Hawkeyes. He was playing basketball in Des Moines in the summer of 1948 on a playground when he fell and suffered a severe injury to his spinal cord.

Hovers Near Death

It was one of those freak accidents, but it almost ended Johnny's life as well as his sports career. After hovering near death, he recovered but was not able to continue at the university. Everyone figured he would have to forget about football forever.

Recently some of us were talking about former Iowa athletes, and someone asked what Johnny Estes is doing now. We wrote him in Des Moines and this week received a cheering reply from him.

Photostator

"My condition has been the same for the last few years," Johnny wrote. "I have 75% function on my right side and 50% on my left side. The best of all about my accident is that I don't have braces or pain."

"I am working for the Secretary of State, Melvin D. Synhorst, as a photostat operator, and for my father, John M. Estes, sr., as a mortician for the Estes & Son Funeral home."

Des Moines Girl Stars at Simpson Track Meet; Dreams of Performing with Wilma Rudolph

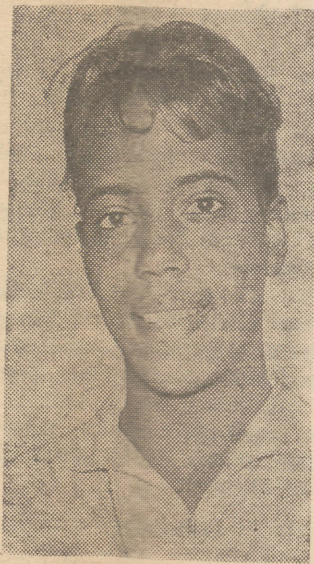

Indianola, Ia.—A Des Moines girl was the star of the show here in the first women events at the Iowa Amateur Athletic Union track meet held at Simpson college on Memorial day.

She is Mary Dixon, 15-year-old ninth grader from Washington Irving Junior High, who stands 5 feet 5 inches and weighs 123 pounds. She won a 50-yard dash preliminary in 6.2 seconds; took the final in :06.4 then speeded to a 100-yard dash victory in :12.

The pretty young miss has only been running about two months, since she heard that girls were needed to run against Wilma Rudolph, Olympic great from Tennessee State who performed in the Drake relays.

Miss Dixon, who practices alone by running around old Tech High field as long as she can, has a dream and ambition of attending Miss Rudolph's school and competing in the Olympics. Naturally, she dreams of perhaps competing against her idol.

She is the youngest of five girls

Students Raise Fund For Stricken Janitor

Miami.—Most of the children of Palmetto Elementary school knew him only as Nat, the janitor.

Nat washed blackboards, swept floors and always seemed to have time to look after "his" children.

On March 19, Nat his real name is Nathaniel Major—had a stroke. His left side was paralyzed and the doctor ordered him to bed. His sick leave ran out and now there is no pay check.

That's the reason the children held "Nat's Week." They took dimes and quarters to school. Some of their parents and teachers gave dollars.

Last week was Nat's birthday, so Mrs. Mildred A. Evans, the principal, took him get-well and birthday cards from the pupils—and $868.85 deposited to his account in the credit union.

Letter to Editor

The foregoing letter from a Bystander reader commending the "freedom riders" but admonishing against forgetting the "old folks" who laid the foundation, is being dedicated to the June graduates of 1961. Let's they forget their heritage and ancestors (who did so much to make the present-day possible) and will go on to make tomorrow even better for those who will follow them. To the graduates, best wishes for success.—The Bystander Staff.

Lynchings

In the 90's lynching was running riot. In one year (1894?) the average was one Negro lynched every 36 hours. (Negro Year Book) In spite of all this the 'old folks' pushed their children a few notches higher. They washed, ironed, scrubbed, worked in the fields, did anything they could to earn a few dollars to send their children to school.

Every generation was shoved a little ahead of the 'old folks'. Wouldn't you say they had courage, and determination?

Thurgood Marshalls

In due time the Thurgood Marshalls came on the scene. The story from there on is well known. By all means let us encourage and commend the young people in every worthy endeavor. But let us not ignore or downgrade those who 'bore the burden and heat of the day' in order to make the 1961 achievements possible.
