Waterloo Man Faces Murder Charge

Jethro Spates Says It Was Accidental

WATERLOO, IOWA—Authorities here charged Jethro Spates with murder Wednesday, but the 46-year-old Waterloo man continued to cling to his story that he accidentally shot Silas Nunn.

Municipal Judge Ben Howrey set Spates' bond at $25,000 and scheduled arraignment on the open murder charge on next Monday.

Spates admits that it was a bullet or bullets from his lever-action rifle which killed the 40-year-old Nunn. But he said the weapon discharged into Nunn's midsection as he, Spates, unloaded it.

Police

Assistant County Attorney John Beekman said stories gathered by police from other persons in the house at 215 N. Barclay St. at the time of the shooting there indicated that it was not accidental.

Nunn, of 605 Gable St., died in St. Francis Hospital about an hour after the shooting, which occurred shortly before 11 a. m. Tuesday.

Spates, who lives at the N. Barclay St. home of Mattie Lancaster said he and Nunn met in a private home earlier in the day, and had been drinking together before the shooting.

"Nunn had been wanting to buy that gun from me," said Spates. "He kept at me again in the morning until I took him home. I was going to show him how it worked. It went off while I was unloading it."

"I wasn't mad at nobody," said Spates. "He was my drinking buddy."

Weapon

The weapon involved was a .32-40 rifle used mostly for deer hunting. Spates said he bought the rifle without knowing it was illegal to shoot deer with rifles in Iowa.

Authorities will challenge Spates' SEE PAGE TWO

President Progresses in Anti-Bias Drive; 8 of Biggest U.S. Corporations Sign 'Pledge'

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Relentlessly, using his executive powers, President Kennedy has permitted no letup on his drive against discrimination.

The first real fruit of his efforts paid off Wednesday when eight of the nation's biggest corporations marched into the White House and signed their names to eight documents . . . called plans of progress. Each pledged one company to a campaign against racial discrimination in hiring, training, promotion and working conditions for its employees.

Other Areas

The use of the executive order by President Kennedy has also been felt in other areas—the justice department, recreation, jobs, housing for Negro diplomats, interstate travel, appointments of Negroes to top federal jobs, agriculture, and the formation of the president's committee on equal employment.

On the debit side is the fact that the President has not asked Congress to pass civil rights legislation and that the life of the U. S. Civil Rights Commission has not been extended.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Monday, President Kennedy named John B. Duncan, 51, a Negro veteran of government service, to be a member of the District of Columbia board of commissioners, which administers municipal affairs in Washington, C. D.

Northwestern Changes First Two Letters on Phones to Numericals

The Northwestern Bell Telephone Company today announced a program that will ultimately change the first two letters of each telephone number to its numerical equivalent. Thus a number as CH 4-6161 would become 244-6161. The change is expected to take place over a number of years, with the all-numeral numbers to be used for new telephones connected, or when other changes are made that would affect the directory listing of any customer, M. W. Sandvig, District manager said.

No Change

Using all numerals will involve no change in dialing among telephones here, since the numerals 2 and 4

Nation's Longest Sit-in Drive Ends Victoriously

Oklahoma City, Okla.—John A. Brown's, the largest department store here, ended segregation this week, thus bringing to a victorious close the nation's longest single sit-in campaign.

Successful NAACP youth thereby ended bias in the lunch room, soda fountains and rest rooms of the giant store which covers a block and a half. The NAACP youth group started its drive to integrate the store through a series of conferences in May of 1957. Just organized, it had 14 members at the time.

Began in 1958

When talks failed, the NAACP youth began active sit-ins in August of 1958 and continued, without letup. The council's membership jumped to 3,000.

It was not unusual for as many as 1,500 youngsters to be involved in sit-ins and picket lines throughout the city when many stores were being picketed. The NAACP youth

U.S. Files First Votes Suits in Mississippi

Charges Two Counties Allow 25 of 13,000 Registered--to Vote

Washington, D. C.—The Department of Justice charged today that Negroes have been deprived of their voting rights in two Mississippi counties and asked that federal court injunctions be issued banning alleged discrimination in voting registration.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said that the two counties are Clarke and Forrest. The registrars of the counties and the State of Mississippi were named as defendants in the suits filed in the United States District Court for the Southern District of Mississippi.

1st in Mississippi

"These are first cases brought in Mississippi seeking the fair, equal and non-discriminatory registration of voters," Kennedy said.

"Our investigations have disclosed a clear-cut pattern of discrimination. We have made the basic facts of our investigations available to the State and local officials concerned and have attempted to prevail upon them to remedy the situation themselves.

Not Rectified

"These suits are filed then because the situation has not been rectified nor are there assurances that it ever will be rectified by local action.

"Negroes in these two counties still are being deprived of the right to vote—the fundamental right of all American citizens. It is our responsibility under the law to guarantee that right and we will meet that responsibility in these counties and elsewhere."

In the Clarke County case, filed in Meridian, the Department charged that Negroes have not been permitted to register and that no Negroes are registered, Kennedy said. The registrar named as a defendant is A. L. Ramsey of Quitman.

25 Registered

The action against Forrest County, filed in Hattiesburg, charged that Negro residents have been delayed, discouraged or refused in their attempts to register. The registrar named as a defendant is Theron C. Lynd, Forrest.

A majority of the 22,431 eligible white citizens in Forrest County are registered to vote, but only 25 of the 7,495 Negroes are registered, Mr. Kennedy said.

In Clarke County a substantial majority of 6,072 white persons of voting age are registered, but none of 2,988 Negro residents are registered, Mr. Kennedy said.

Charges

In the Forrest County case, the defendants are charged with:

- Applying different and more stringent standards to Negro applicants . . . than to white applicants;
- Refusing to register Negroes with qualifications similar to those of whites who have been registered;
- Arbitrarily denying Negroes the chance to register;
- Unreasonably delaying registration of Negro applicants.

Defendants in the Clarke County case arbitrarily denied Negroes the opportunity to register and refused to register Negroes even though they "possess the same qualifications as white applicants . . . who were registered," the complaint asserted.

Both cases charged violations of the Civil Rights Acts of 1957 and 1960.

Reeves No Longer on White House Staff

Washington, D. C.—Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Thursday that Frank Reeves, who failed to get Senate confirmation as District of Columbia commissioner last week, is no longer on the White House staff as special assistant to the President.

Reeves, a Democratic committeeman for the district, Senate hearings last week indicated that he had been tardy in paying taxes, and the nomination was withdrawn.

Salinger said Reeves indicated he would resign as a member of the White staff at the time he agreed to accept the district commission.

story that he wasn't mad at nobody." They said others in Mrs. Lancaster's house at the time of the shooting said Spates shot Nunn in anger.

Spencer

Percy Spencer, 45, of 233 Quincy St., was in the front room with Spates and Nunn when the shooting occurred.

Spencer said he did not actually see the shooting, but looked in time to see Nunn fall to the floor.

Spencer told officers Spates was angry at Nunn because Nunn tried to stop Spates from leaving the house with the rifle.

Police Chief Harry Krieg said Spencer indicated that Spates came home with Nunn, "mad at somebody," and that Nunn was shot as he attempted to prevent Spates from leaving the home with the loaded rifle to look for the other party.

Spates told Spencer and Nunn that he had been "wronged," Krieg said. Spates said "I was pretty drunk."

Wife

Spates' estranged wife and five children live at 220 Sumner St.

He was held for several hours by authorities in March, 1960, after shooting Mrs. Lancaster, of the Barclay St. address, who he described at that time as his common-law wife.

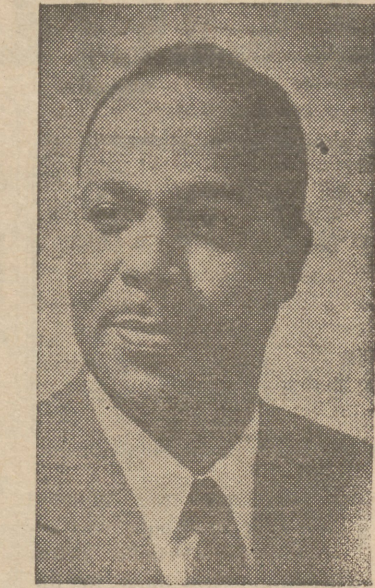

Mrs. Lancaster was not hurt seriously in that incident, and Spates was released after authorities decided the shooting was accidental.

She was in the courtroom with Spates Wednesday.

Welcomed After 40 Day Stay in Prison

New York City—Hundreds of CORE members met CORE National Director James Farmer at Idlewild airport upon his return from serving 40 days in Mississippi jails.

The enthusiastic group sang "We Shall Overcome" in the TWA Terminal as they awaited Farmer's return. Farmer told the group that "The human spirit rejects brutality. Attempts of prison officials to dehumanize the Freedom Riders failed completely."

FARMER

Farmer was released on $500 appeal bond posted by CORE. Under Mississippi law all appeals must be made within 40 days and no person may appeal while remaining in jail. Farmer was in the first group of 27 Freedom Riders who traveled by bus from Montgomery to Jackson. All are now out on appeal.

196 Freedom Riders have been arrested in Jackson so far. Of these, 25 have been Mississippians.

PARENTS SHOULD WAIT

AWHILE BEFORE INTERFERING

Tommy Drake, age 5, and his friend Steve ran out in the yard to play, and Tommy's little sister Mary ran after them. Tommy and Steve got to the swing first, and since there were only two swings, Mary was soon crying loudly for a turn.

When the boys ignored her, Mary went inside to get her mother to help. Mrs. Drake usually insisted that Tommy give Mary a turn, but it did seem lately that interference in the children's relationship was only making Tommy meaner to his sister. Also, Mary seemed always to be crying for help.

Different Approach

Mrs. Drake decided to try a different approach. "Now, Mary, the boys just got on the swing. Maybe it would be better if you let them play without you for a while. No, I'm not going to make Tommy get off."

Mary started to cry even louder and went back outside. In a little while her brother got off the swing and offered to give Mary a push. As Mrs. Drake watched from the win-

Washington—When schools reopen in nearby Montgomery County, Va., segregation will be a matter of history.

The county's last three Jim Crow schools—Rock Terrace, Sandy Springs and Taylor elementary schools—where only Negroes were enrolled this year, will reopen in the fall as desegregated facilities. Montgomery, in September, will become the first Washington suburb to complete desegregation of its schools.

4,000 To Be Admitted

With total desegregation in Montgomery, the number of Negro students expected to be enrolled in desegregated classes throughout the area will soar to above 4,000, an increase of about 40 per cent over last year. Montgomery has 3300 Negro pupils.

Rock Terrace and Sandy Spring will no longer be used for regular instruction but will house classes for retarded and handicapped youngsters. Taylor will reopen as a desegregated elementary school.

council launched a "withholding of patronage campaign" against Brown's in September of 1960.

Although it got off to a slow start, an estimated 78 per cent of the Negro population was participating when the store's owner, Frank Wade, capitulated on June 23. All told, 117 stores have been integrated throughout the city by NAACP youth since inception of the sit-ins in 1958.

served with the Air Force in the North African and Mediterranean Theaters.

dow, it seemed to her that she had never seen Tommy be so loving.

Interference

Parents naturally do not like to have a younger child mistreated by an older one. In some situations we might have to protect the weaker. But too often our interference only aggravates the older child's hostility toward the younger one.

If we can avoid interfering we will often be surprised at how well children can solve their own disputes. In this case, Tommy's sympathy for his sister was aroused when he realized that no one else was going to help her. If his mother had interfered, not only would Mary not have needed him, but she would have seemed his enemy in the struggle for their mother's affection and approval.

When possible, it's better for adults to wait awhile before interfering.

Marines Summer Recruiting Program

The Marine Corps Mid-Western Recruiting Area announced its special summer recruiting program will remain in effect again this year. Once again young men and women who desire to enlist in the Marines but want to take advantage of the summer vacation months can join now and not be assigned to active duty up to 120 days after enlistment. Those entering the Corps this month, for example, will not have to leave for basic training until September or October, whichever they choose.

More Pay

This program can provide more pay and better promotion advantages once the enlistee goes on active duty. In the case of males, it helps to fulfill part of their military obligation. These benefits are provided while "at home" on standby orders.

Further information on the summer enlistment program and others offered by the Marine Corps, may be obtained at the Marine Corps recruiting station, Old Federal Building, Des Moines.

Transportation

The year 1960 saw school integration come to the Deep South and the U.S. Supreme Court extend its ban on discrimination in transportation by requiring that Negroes be served in restaurants at interstate bus terminals operated as an integral part of the transportation system.

The High Court also ruled on the Tuskegee, Ala., "gerrymander" case. The decision entitled Negroes to a hearing "to prove their claim that the gerrymander constitutes invalid racial discrimination."

Forerunner

However, the report predicts that this case may be a "forerunner in the contest between urban and rural dwellers for a more equitable alignment of political power."

It points out that NAACP membership went up 13 per cent during the year to 388,347, highest in recent years. And, for the third straight year, income exceeded the $1,000,000 mark, with a substantial portion coming from the $500,000 life membership program.

It was an ideal weekend—just made to order especially for those who love the out-of-doors and especially love to entertain in the summer open. This past weekend was generous with mellow sunshine and gentle cool winds that bend the branches of trees over head and made the green grass gleam and the summer flowers stand proudly in their colorful mantles.

For yours truly it was a very busy weekend. It began Friday morning with an early morning dash to our favorite beautician, Mrs. Edith Spates, who had one eye on beautifying her customers hair and the other on a week's vacation at a resort in Michigan, where she, her husband and daughter, will be vacationing next week.

We literally dashed back home, prepared breakfast for our late arising husband, prepared his lunch for work, then fixed a couple of sandwiches for our three youngsters, before we were to leave for Willkie House where our oldest daughter, Venita, had been invited to take part in the day campers birthday celebration.

While there we were seated next to a very talkative young lass, Julie Wilcots, who told us that she had skinned her forehead and nose very badly falling down the stairs the week before, while walking in her mother's high heel shoes.

Across from us was an equally talkative young lad named Kim Baker who expressed a lively interest in our 11 month old daughter, Valerie, and during the course of our conversation told us very straight faced that he had a six month old sister who could walk. After later thoughts and questions from us, he admitted she was 18 months old.

Four young members (10 and 11 year-olds) of Mrs. Irving Clark's group, all girls baked the cupcakes for the celebrating as a part of their day's projects. Mrs. Clark and her Demon baseball player-husband celebrated their first wedding anniversary just last month.

We had planned to devote a lot of space to the remaining day camp counselors but will have to beg off until next week to do them ample justice, and also to be fair for other events which also took place the same weekend.

Saturday dawned with us baking a cake in preparation for our daughter's birthday celebration at home. We then dashed down to the Bystander office, returned home and then prepared to go to the reception at the W. L. Oliver home, 5795 N.W. 73rd place. It proved to be the most elaborate and lavish social event that Des Moines residents have seen locally. Out-of-town guests were almost as numerous as local personages.

We had heard many raves of the beautiful Oliver home and in our first visit there, we quickly discerned that the raves had not done the picture book home justice.

The next day, Sunday came alive with equal gentle temperatures as the day before. Early in the afternoon we let our daughter play hostess to neighborhood friends at her birthday celebration. She had been dying to open gifts her father had gotten her and to show off the pink merry-go-round cake we had decorated the evening before.

Then later we went out to the garden party and fashion show at the home of Mrs. A. A. Alexander, 2200 Chautauqua parkway, which in beautiful settings, is unrivaled in Des Moines.

Thanks to the generosity of two friends, Mrs. Catherine Atkinson and Mrs. Leola Hubbard, we were able to make both events in comfort and without delay.

JUSTICE DEPARTMENT
ASSUMING ITS RIGHTFUL ROLE

The NAACP has filed suit in Jackson, Mississippi asking for a halt in the arrest of anti-segregationists—jailing freedom riders for breach of the peace, before a three man federal court.

The justice department has entitled the case as a "friend of the court" contending that the nine Mississippi laws calling for racial segregation of travelers are clearly unconstitutional.

This suit constitutes one among the broad attacks on racial inequality and fortunately it has the backing of the federal government on its side.

It has always seemed ridiculous that people who violated federal laws in crime and property rights have been prosecuted while those who violate the federal laws involving human rights must be prosecuted by individuals.

Of course, while the 14th amendment was designed to protect the rights of citizens—Negro in particular at the time of its passage—Congress has not carried out its responsibility of passing laws to carry out its provisions. This is one reason why the continued appeal or civil rights legislation by Congress.

Soon after passage of and ratification of the 14th amendment, Congress enacted several statutes to protect the rights of the Negro but most of them were thrown out by the U. S. Supreme Court. The south denouncing them as force bills, raised such a howl about them that those which survived the onslaught of the Supreme Court or ex-slave holders were so void of effectiveness that they have meant nothing.

Thus all the gains Negroes have made in recent years by way of the Supreme Court have been financed by the NAACP and individual suits to test these gains in local communities likewise. It has been a heavy expense most people do not realize.

Now that the justice department is entering these cases, the force of the federal government will be on the side actively of those seeking to assert their constitutional rights.

THINGS HAVE CHANGED;
MEN MUST CHANGE

Accosted by one of Des Moines highly respected lawyers, he asked the name of the prominent Negro leader who took a divergent view from that of Booker T. Washington as how best the Negro should go about making progress. Of course that person is Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois.

Dr. Washington urged Negroes to get land and education as the solution without making a fight for his civil rights which, of course, includes voting. Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois said that while land and education were alright, that without his civil rights the Negro could not progress as a full American citizen.

This lawyer wished to know which is correct. The answer was "they go hand and hand". But what this lawyer had in mind was, and it later developed, was what my views were on the "freedom riders." The answer was "I am a hundred per cent for it." He said while this might be fine, he was sorry that such a program goes on now which seems to divide the people in America when the threat from without is great.

After all, what the freedom riders want is for the people where they travel to obey the law. Once that is done, there will be no need for freedom riders—no division of citizens as he deplored so much.

Well, he finally said, the push is just too fast. But he was reminded that like a lot of us he has not kept pace with the movement for freedom for all men in the world. And as some have sat idly by and gloried in the tranquility of things other people have passed them by leaving them dreaming of what and how "we did forty years ago."

America is living in a new day in race relations. Negroes have found out what their rights are, feel the responsibility of maintaining those rights as against outsiders and intend to enjoy them for himself now. And fortunately there are a lot of white people who subscribe to this view and are willing to help fight some of these battles. The older people did it in a quiet way. These youngsters say we want rights now for ourselves as well for our children and children's children.

This very fine highly respected lawyer has not kept pace with the movement for freedom among his brethren in America and thus is in the position of a conservative—standpatter.

One doesn't have to read short stories or watch television shows to seem some interesting sights or hear about them. For instance this is the first year we can recall when the Hotentots weren't in the city soft ball meet. They lost their league championship on one of the few occasions that has happened so they get into the softball meet as the post office team and might win it.

Then there was the Hilltop tennis meet against Ames last Sunday. Armilla Bell and Phyllis Sharp, played boys and we wish we could say they won, but they didn't. The men lost every match but Esther Myers and Evanette Mays save the Hilltoppers from a shut out.

Taylor Boys

And we have been hearing that the Taylor boys, Norm and Jim, along with Dennis Obregon are going to Tennessee State. Wonder how the Corinthia boys made out in their meet? Haven't heard their usual noisy manager say a word.

Chauncey Jones holds the turkey billiard championship at Wells. But, by the time you read this will probably have lost it.

All those things are happening right here at home. And there are a whole host of kids doing all right in the Little League teams. Looks as if our Demons are going to have to hustle to stay in the league, let alone win a game or two.

Boxing

The National Boxing Association does some funny things. Such as naming the number one challenger for the light heavyweight crown the guy who was beaten by Archie Moore in that veteran's last outing. And in the meantime Harold Johnson, the champ wants a crack at Patterson. We just can't get used to this idea of making and unmaking champions from office desks.

If this doesn't make sense, try writing a column and driving a car at the same time and you will feel sorry for yours truly.

HEALTH FOR ALL

A Little At a Time

Your skin can get older than you are. Those who get a gorgeous suntan year after year, do so at the expense of skin that may get wrinkled, dry and discolored before its time. That's what too much sun can do to you.

Aside from the fun and relaxation of it, nothing about tanning in the sun is especially good for you. However, people will continue to seek a sun-bronzed skin so—

Remember sunburn is a true burn that can really make you suffer.

Don't spend more than twenty minutes in the sun the first time out.

Seven-digit numbers of all numerals, rather than the first two letters of a name and five numerals, have been adopted in more than forty Iowa cities and towns during the past two years—among them Council Bluffs, Davenport, Dubuque and Iowa City.

Introducing the all-numeral numbers as new telephones are installed, and changing present ones only as changes are made in customers' services will provide the advantages of the better number system without inconvenience to any customer, Sandvig added. The company also will change any customer's number to all numerals at any time he requests it, Sandvig said.

Connecticut Golf Club
Bar Negro Golfers

New Britain, Conn.—Two tan golfers, Charles Michner and Manuel Andrews, will have to wait until next fall in their bid for membership in the lilywhite Stanley Golf Club, a private organization using city facilities here.

A drive to admit them failed last week when the organization voted 27-20 to admit the duo, thus failing to provide the necessary two thirds majority for admittance. Another session of the club will not be held until the fall.

... Increase your sunning time gradually.

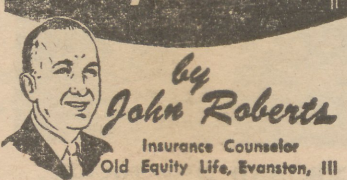

... Use a suntan lotion or cream while you are getting your tan. Put on more lotion or cream whenever you come out of the water and renew it every two hours.

... Don't be fooled by a cloudy sky. The burning sun rays come right through.

... the sun is strongest for about two hours before and after noon.

... You get more burn at the beach than in the country because sunlight reflects from water and sand. But you can still get a burn midst the greenery, so better observe that twenty minute limit first time out, wherever you are.—Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn.

Service is as important as the product you buy.

Save money by making sure... before you buy... that reliable repair service is available locally.

Six rules of buying a product that will need maintenance or repair:

1. Expect good sales service. If you don't get it you're likely to have trouble when you need repairs.
2. A guarantee is only as good as the organization behind it. Read it carefully.
3. Think of the product in terms of need for maintenance and availability of parts and service.
4. A good product name is essential but not enough if facilities for service are lacking.
5. Utility companies may be able to tell you where to obtain good service.
6. A dealer with adequate service facilities may have to charge a slightly higher price for the product.

You save in the long run with those who have facilities for good service.

PAUL REVERE AND THE FREEDOM RIDERS

By S. Ralph Harlow

Listen my children and you shall hear

Of the Freedom Riders and Paul Revere;

How he said to Saint Peter,

"Get me a steed, for Liberty's once again in need

Of a ride through the night

To sound the alarm,

"Ere my country suffer from grievous harm.

No Red Coats threaten on Lexington Green,

And Concord's Bridge is safe and serene;

But more than taxes on tea protests,

Americans robbed of their rightful quests,

Of Justice and Freedom which cannot be bought,

The very rights for which we fought."

So over the Greyhound's racing wheels,

Is heard the clatter of horse's heels,

A cry in the night, "Awake! Awake!

Once more our liberties are at stake."

But Paul Revere, as his steed he goads,

Is puzzled by what he sees on the roads.

"These Freedom Riders are all unarmed,

Yet, like the Patriots, stand their ground.

Instead of the Red Coat's musket fire,

There's a burning bus

And a mob's fierce ire;

Contempt for values for which men died,

When first I went on my midnight ride."

He bows his head, "O cruel fate,

To see my country in such a state.

I rode for Justice and Liberty,

That men might everywhere be free;

America wake, I sound the alarm,

For Profiles of Courage in city or farm."

Yes, whether on Greyhound or steed of black,

For Riders Freedom shall never lack:

So once again America stirs

At the hoof's of a horse o'er the bus wheels' whirs.

Again the Clarion call rings out,

"Rise, put the forces of sin to route."

For men will suffer as they did then,

On Lexington Green or at Concord, when,

Around the world a challenge was heard,

As Humanity waits for America's word.

not finish among the leaders.

Past Top Form

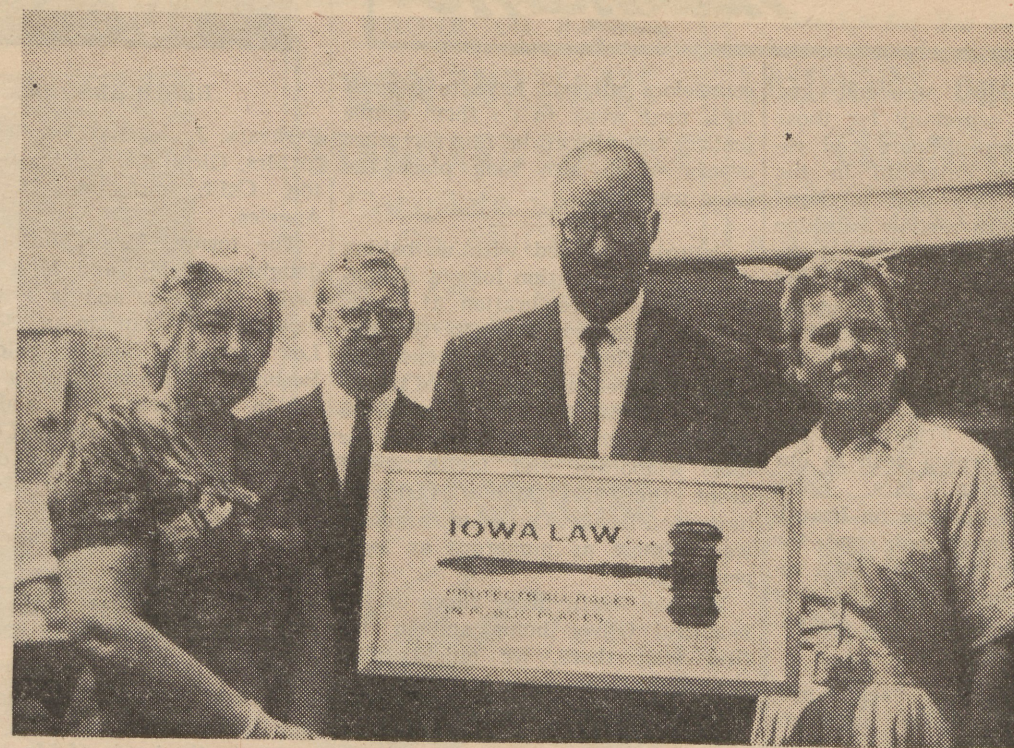

Last Saturday Sifford showed signs of regaining his past top form when he was mentioned among the leaders with a total of 145 points as the second round of play ended. However, he was 10 points behind Palmer, the leader, who posted a 135 points total.

It was one of the few times in recent months that Sifford, of Los Angeles, has failed to finish in the money in a major golf tournament.

BILLBOARDS FIGHT DISCRIMINATION

Mrs. L. H. Rockey Tom Stoner Edward Shelton Mrs. Fred Pigott

The Stoner-McCray System here has joined the fight against racial discrimination by contributing several free billboards in the Des Moines area carrying a human rights message. In all, 60 billboards have been contributed throughout Iowa by the Iowa Outdoor Advertising Association.

The campaign was created by Mr. Thomas Stoner of Des Moines in cooperation with the Iowa Conference on Human Rights. The billboards carry a picture of a judge's gavel and the words "Iowa law protects all races in public places." The group pictured above is displaying a small model of the billboard.

Mr. Shelton, Mrs. Rockey and Mrs. Pigott are members of the Conference on Human Rights. Tom Stoner is president of Stoner-McCray System in Des Moines, and state public service chairman of the Iowa Outdoor Advertising Association.
