Job Bias Charged Against 5 Plants, U.S. Shipyards

Washington—The United States Naval Shipyard at Charleston, S. C., and five private industrial plants in four states are charged with discrimination against Negro workers in complaints filed with the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Complaints

The complaints filed here by the Association's labor secretary, Herbert Hill, on July 27, names, in addition to the Naval Shipyard, the General Electric Company's plant at Dover, Ohio; the Shell Oil Company refinery at Wood River, Ill.; the Joseph Schlitz Brewery at Tampa, Fla.; and two South Carolina companies—the Walterboro Dress Manufacturing Company at Walterboro and Youngsweat, Inc., at Smoak.

Immediate Actions

Hill called upon the President's Committee to take immediate action to eliminate "a blatant discriminatory employment practice at the Charleston Naval Shipyard." Negro shipyard workers, he charged, are not mentioned for appointment to rights and are victims of improper job classification. Some Negroes classified as helpers, he asserted, have actually been doing the work of skilled mechanics.

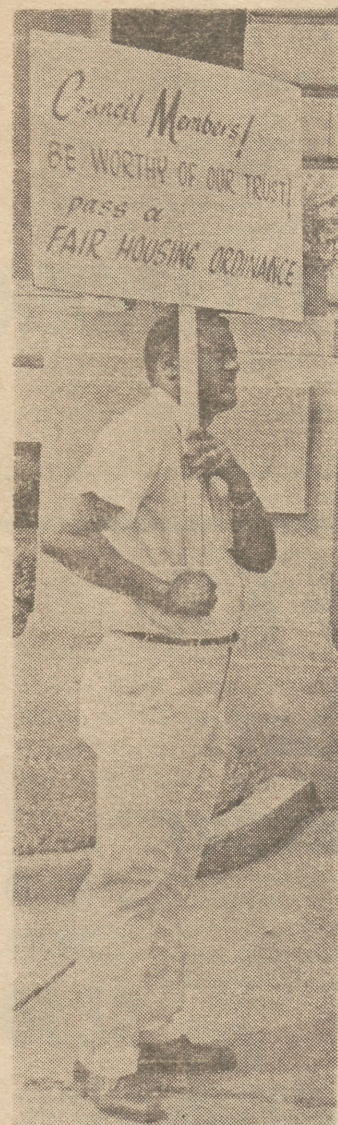

No Negro Workers

The General Electric's Dover plant, the complaint alleges, has consistently refused to employ Negro workers who have frequently applied for jobs in various classifications. The Association has previously filed complaints with the President's Committee charging Westinghouse, Western Electric and other major producers of electrical equipment with discrimination in employment.

No State Law

Last week Iowa Atty. Gen. Evan L. Hultman, ruled that no Iowa city could legally pass "an ordinance relating to matters of discrimination in the sale, rental, leasing or financing of private property without enabling legislation."

Williams said Monday that his organization contended the council should pass such an ordinance without a state enabling act. The drive for adoption of the fair housing ordinance was spearheaded by the Des

In Prince Edward County This Fall After Hearing Arguments, Testimonies

Richmond, Va.—Despite uncontested testimony and evidence that the Prince Edward County public school system was abolished for the sole purpose of circumventing court-decreed desegregation, United States District Judge Oren R. Lewis has made it clear that he will not now order the reopening of public schools in that Southside Virginia county.

Virginia Constitution

Judge Lewis indicated his position near the end of the three-and-a-half day trial which closed in the Federal District Court here on July 27. He reached this conclusion, he said, in the absence of the demonstrated Federal constitutional requirement that local and state governments maintain a system of free public schools. The question as to whether the Virginia constitution requires the maintenance of public schools is one to be determined by state courts he asserted.

NAACP Agreement

NAACP attorneys Robert L. Carter of New York City and S. W. Tucker of Richmond and Emporia, Va., contended in their arguments that the issue before the court was not the constitutional responsibility to maintain public schools but rather the constitutional prohibition against official local or state action to thwart a federal court order or to deprive Negroes of their constitutional rights. Mr. Carter cited five cases in which courts have banned such intervention.

Closed Two Years

Arrayed against the NAACP attorneys who represented the Prince Edward County Negro children and their parents was a tatter of six lawyers defending the local school board, the county Board of Supervisors, and the State of Virginia. The public schools in the county have been closed since the end of the 1958-59 school year. "Private" schools, sponsored by the Prince Edward School Foundation, have afforded education for the county's 1500 white school-age children. The 1700 colored children, save for some 200 fortunate enough to secure admission to schools out of the county, have been without formal education for the past two years.

Witnesses

The NAACP lawyers called more than a score of witnesses and filed with the court 26 documents as exhibits in support of their charge that

NAACP Urges ICC to Act On Robt. Kennedy' Proposal

New York—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has urged the Interstate Commerce Commission to adopt and issue the regulations governing non-discrimination in interstate travel proposed by Attorney General Robert Kennedy.

In a letter to the ICC, July 19, 1961, Robert L. Carter, NAACP general counsel, calls upon the federal agency to "promulgate rules and regulations to insure the right of interstate passengers to use the facilities of carriers, subject to the jurisdiction of the ICC, without discrimination based upon race and color."

Legal Case

This right, the letter points out, has been firmly "established since 1955 when the Commission decided NAACP v. St. Louis & San Francisco Ry. Co. and Keys v. Carolina Coach Company." Another NAACP case, Boynton v. Virginia, "would seem to require all such restaurants to adopt a policy of equal treatment," the letter asserts.

Segregated Cars

Nevertheless, Mr. Carter told the

While there was some disagreement as to the seriousness of the surgery, it was noted that her doctor has ordered the operation and that she may have to cancel future summer bookings, including a major appearance at Ravinia Park here. One local columnist speculated that "The Divine One" will not return to the footlights until some time in November. She is booked for the Empire Room of the Palmer House hotel in November.

Miss Vaughn and singer-playwright Oscar Brown Jr. have been packing 'em at the Roberts club.

U.S. Justice Dept. Asks Court to Restore 4,800 Voters in La.

Washington, D. C.—The Citizens' Council of Ouachita Parish, Louisiana and the parish voting registrar July 10 were charged by the Department of Justice with unlawfully purging nearly 4,800 Negroes from the parish (county) voter registration rolls.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said a complaint filed in United States District Court in Monroe, La. asked the court to restore the Negroes to the rolls. The complaint also requested that other qualified Negro applicants be registered.

Charges

The complaint charged that: The Citizens' Council combined with Registrar Mae Lucky to remove more than 2,700 names unlawfully in March and April, 1956; —From early 1956 until the present, Mrs. Lucky has unlawfully eliminated the names of additional voters. Mr. Kennedy said the Department estimates this total at about 2,000.

—Mrs. Lucky has applied different standards to Negro registration applicants making it harder for them to register than for whites.

These actions violate the Civil Rights acts of 1957 and 1960, the complaint said, by depriving citizens of their right to vote because of race or color.

Defendants

Nineteen members and five representatives of the Citizens' Council also were named as defendants. The State of Louisiana also was named as a defendant because registrars are state agents.

Although approximately 5,500 of the parish's 16,377 eligible Negroes were registered in January, 1956, the complaint said, only 725 were registered last April 30. Through the period the number of whites registered remained constant — about 24,000, out of 40,185 eligible.

Deliver Telephone Directories Now

Delivery of new telephone directories began on Wednesday, July 26 and were completed on Saturday, July 29.

Directories were delivered by Directory Delivery Associates, Inc. of St. Louis, Mo., a firm specializing in this kind of service. For Des Moines and nearby places, about 150 local people were employed.

The introductory pages have been rearranged and instructions to customers of each exchange have been placed at the beginning of listings for the community involved.

9 More Towns

The new directory contains listing sections for nine additional towns—De Soto, Dexter, Lacona, Liberty Center, Linden, Milo, Monroe, Reasnor and Redfield. The 31 sections contain listings for 54 communities with 165,000 telephones.

The directory cover is a four-color montage of Des Moines by commercial artist Milton Wolski. It conveys the unity of the complex parts of community functions of Des Moines. Insignia or pictures suggest the wide range of community organizations which work to build and to unite the city.

President's Job Committee Speeds Up Action on Charges

Washington, D. C.—With adoption of rules and regulations under which it will operate, the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity last week moved ahead toward full operation of its antidiscrimination program.

Following the second meeting of the Committee in mid-July, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, vice chairman of the Committee which is headed by Vice President Lyndon Johnson, reported that the Committee has received 190 complaints of discrimination because of race, creed, color or national origin in government contract work and 359 complaints in government employment. With completion of the rules and regulations, processing of these complaints will be speeded up, he explained.

33 Adjusted

To date 33 complaints in contract employment have been adjusted satisfactorily, and four have been dismissed on grounds of no discrimination. In government employment, 16 of the complaints have been settled.

Under the newly-adopted rules and regulations, contracting agencies will have 30 days in which to investigate and report on complaints, a procedure expected to speed up action on all cases.

Definite Actions

Secretary Goldberg emphasized

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The local and state agencies had taken a series of actions "for the sole purpose of circumventing and frustrating the enforcement of the order of this court requiring the racial desegregation of the public schools of Prince Edward County, in violation of the rights of these plaintiffs and the class they represent . . ."

School Funds Cut Off

The witnesses and the documents disclosed the following steps official. Taken to circumvent the court's desegregation order: The abolition of the public school system in the county; The refusal of the Board of Supervisors to levy any taxes for school purposes; The establishment by the Board of Supervisors of $100 tuition grants to pupils attending "private" segregated schools in the county; The utilization of state tuition grants of $125 for elementary and $150 for high school students; The granting of tax credits up to 25 per cent of their personal property and real estate taxes to persons making contributions to "private" schools in the county; and the inclusion of teachers employed by the "private" Prince Edward School Foundation in the state teachers retirement fund.

Tax Credits

The tax credits, the tuition grants and the inclusion of the Foundation school teachers in the public school teachers retirement fund all subverted the Foundation's claim to be a "private" educational institution, the NAACP attorneys asserted. They asked the court to enjoin the use of such funds to support the Foundation schools.

URGES ICC

ICC, the NAACP has continued to receive complaints "that some railroad carriers were still assigning Negro passengers to segregated cars throughout the South and, for example, that the Illinois Central Railroad was still directing Negroes to segregated cars at Chicago, the point of origin, for trips into the South."

Other Complaints

"We have also received complaints of persons being threatened and subjected to violence for attempting to exercise their right to use interstate motor bus facilities without discrimination in many areas in the South, particularly on trips that traversed Mississippi."

It is the view of the NAACP, the Association's general counsel said, "that by promulgating the rules and regulations as suggested by the Department of Justice that the Commission will make unmistakably clear to all carriers and their employees that they are under a duty and an obligation to enforce a policy of non-discrimination in the use of their facilities."

Carter indicated a desire to present oral argument before the Commission in support of the Attorney General's proposals.

(1) Stuff turkey and neck cavity.
(2) Place turkey, breast up, in a pre-heated 325°F. oven.
(3) Garnish roasted turkey with frosted grapes, and serve.

Oyster-Rice Turkey Stuffing Is Elegant

This Oyster-Rice Stuffing is a "must" for that turkey (or chicken) you're planning to roast. It's easy to make because there's very little chopping to do and no bread crumbs to bother with.

INGREDIENTS:
1 cup uncooked white rice
2 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup chopped celery
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1/2 pint oysters
1/4 cup water or turkey broth

METHOD: Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice is cooking, melt the butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add the onion and celery. Cover and cook over a medium heat until tender, stirring occasionally. Stir in the black pepper. Add the onion and celery to the rice mixture. Add the oysters and water or broth and mix gently.

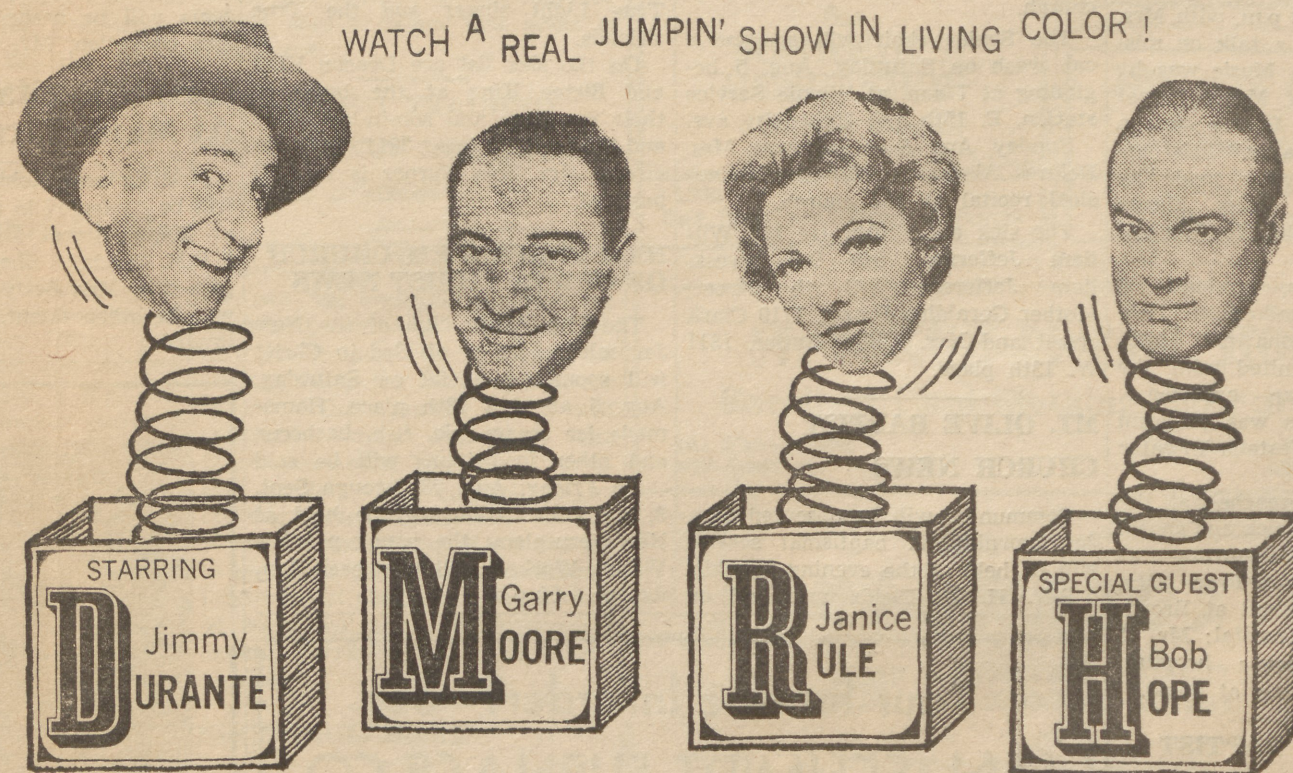

This stuffing may be prepared ahead of time so long as the liquid is not mixed with the dry ingredients until the turkey is to be stuffed and cooked. The turkey should be stuffed just before it is placed in the oven. It should not be stuffed and refrigerated. Extra stuffing may be baked in a separate pan or made into dressing balls. Allow 1/4 cup of stuffing for each pound of poultry, dressed weight, or 1 cup for each pound ready-to-cook weight. This recipe makes 4 1/2 cups of stuffing.

How to Bake the Turkey: Remove pin feathers from turkey and singe if necessary. Remove any bits of lung, kidney, etc., remaining in turkey. Wash and rinse inside and outside with cold water. Wipe dry. Rub cavity lightly with salt. Put enough stuffing into the neck to leave the lid on 10 minutes. Fasten the neck skin back with a skewer. Stuff cavity well—but do not pack stuffing tightly as it expands during roasting. Shape wings ("akimbo" style) bringing wing tips on to the back. Place skewers across stuffing opening of turkey and lace shut with cord. Tie legs to tail. Grease skin thoroughly with fat. Place the turkey, breast down, on a rack in a shallow pan. If the bird is very large and difficult to turn, place breast up and leave in this position throughout the roasting. Lay fat-moistened cheese cloth over the turkey. Place in pre-heated 325°F. oven. Do not cover with a lid. Do not add any water. As cloth dries out, moisten with fat from the bottom of the pan. Roast until done, following the timetable below. Garnish turkey with frosted grapes made by dipping grapes first in beaten egg white, then in granulated sugar.

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by William P. Hawkinson, SUI Assistant Professor

HELPING THE SHY CHILD

"My child is shy. What can I do to help him?" Many parents ask this question.

There is no single answer, but much research has been done on the causes of shyness.

Such research has found that an important factor in a child's development centers around the attitudes of his parents. Our personal opinions as to what we want our child to be can be a very powerful determinant of the type of person he will turn out to be.

Try Too Hard

But we often try too hard to direct our children. This constant pushing may have a negative effect. Unrealistic goals can be frustrating for a child and he may react by withdrawing within himself.

Relations with brothers and sisters can also have a lasting effect on the shy child. If the others are aggressive and monopolize the parent's attention, the less aggressive child can suffer.

Parental care is also important. A child should be made to feel that he is wanted; an early attachment to a parent is necessary for full emotional development. When parents do not provide this relationship, the child may attach himself to a teacher or to some other adult.

Buffer

The parent must act as a buffer against the outside world in early years. If the child is thrown into a highly competitive situation, he may withdraw unless his preparation to meet the situation has been gradual.

Physical deficiencies sometimes cause shyness. In these instances shyness in perhaps a kind of safeguard from the child's point of view.

But in spite of the problems which can arise in children's emotional development, many parents are able to place emphasis in child-rearing practices in such a way that their child will be neither overly aggressive nor overly shy.

To Start a Hot Day Right—

Eat a Cool Refreshing Breakfast

A cool, refreshing breakfast can do so much to lift the spirits of your family at the start of another hot, summer day. Serve them fresh fruit atop crisp shredded wheat with chilled milk and just see if they do not feel better and work better, especially in the late morning hours.

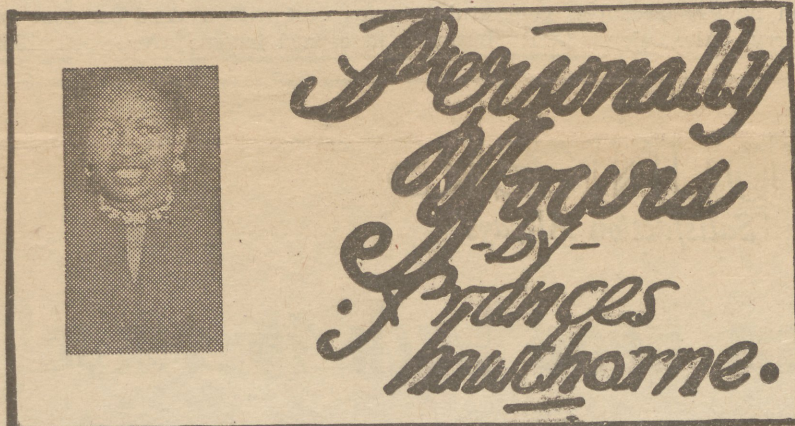

Is it really worth while to take ten minutes of your time each day to ensure that your family has an adequate morning meal? Research at a leading Midwestern university on the importance of breakfast has demonstrated that the physical and mental well-being of the subjects improved if they ate an adequate morning meal. In just ten minutes you can prepare a basic breakfast of fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter. This is a basic breakfast pattern recommended by leading doctors and dietitians to provide an adequate morning meal.

In hot weather, it is especially important to think up ways to make the morning meal as cool and attractive as possible. The many fresh fruits, varieties of ready-to-eat breakfast cereals and breadstuffs available on today's market make variety easy. Have you given any thought to your table setting? Are you using cool-looking place mats, such as straw, bamboo, or pastel plastic? Do you always serve breakfast in the kitchen or dining room? What about serving breakfast on the porch or patio? Sometimes setting breakfast on a tray adds interest and variety. Then each one in the family can carry his tray to the coolest spot possible.

A little extra care and planning to make the morning meal as cool, attractive, and refreshing as possible will pay large dividends if it encourages the family to start the day right—by eating breakfast. A cereal and milk breakfast is a light, modern, nutritious breakfast that can be served with a minimum of effort yet provides the family with an adequate morning meal.

With summer's end kaleidoscoping to its inevitable but wistful destination, we cannot help but wish that it could be delayed a couple of months longer. There is always too much to do and the enjoyment of the beautiful verdant surroundings brings a lethargic demeanor on us all, and consequently tasks that are crying for completion, inevitably are put off until later dates. Then as far as relaxation and enjoyment of the summer months, somehow we say "for sure this summer we are going to do this or that," or try something new," and that too gets delayed. Well it's still all in the enjoyment of summer . . .

EMPLOYMENT, OUR URGENT NEED

Why a human rights commission in Iowa when most people think—with-out investigating—that there is no race problem here. And while conditions are far better than in most communities, there is lots to be done all around us.

While housing upresents a problem in all communities, considerable improvement has been made. And as various groups continue to convince more people that decent housing for Negroes is desirable, the public generally must operate on that basis.

Undoubtedly, the most difficult problem facing Negroes is lack of employment and underemployment. The human rights commission appointed prior to the one named by Gov. Erbe did nothing about it. The present one should.

Charity begins at home but should not stay there; clean your own house first and then suggest that others do likewise. These truths apply well in the state government for there are many departments which hire no Negroes; others token employment. The commission might well make a survey of just what is being done and then proceed to correct some of the glaring inequalities which they are bound to find.

The Des Moines commission has found this same situation within the city government. This has been difficult to correct partly because department heads have tended to resist it; partly because the city council has not given the strong moral backing which the head of any institution must give if those down the line are to understand that this is their policy and must be carried out.

Then, too, there is the matter of apprenticeship in industry and labor. Few places have given the run around more than they with the result that there are less than a dozen Negro youngsters securing apprenticeship training in the state. And of course, with no apprentices, there will be no journeymen.

The setup of the commission may not enable it to go very far in these matters but the situation can be brought out in the open—and this generally helps.

GOOD COMMITTEE TO SUPPORT HOUSING VOTE

A group of citizens has formed a committee to work for the approval by the votes of public housing in Des Moines. The legislature passed an enabling act last spring but the voters of a city must authorize its acceptance by a vote of 60% of the ballots cast.

The personnel of the committee is well distributed among all groups. Fortunately business is taking an active part as indicated by the names of some of the leading citizens of the community.

The job will not be easy for a powerful interest, led by the real estate board and apartment house owners, will present formidable opposition.

And this opposition is the same group which has consistently retarded the growth of Des Moines by clinging to worn out theories which progressive towns have long since discarded.

The measure should be approved so as to enable the urban renewal board to proceed with its work which includes the obligation to see that people who are forced to move will not be required to live in sub-standard houses.

BACK AMERICA
AS USUAL

As might have been expected, Khrushchev is proving a hard fellow to deal with over the Berlin situation. And so much so that President Kennedy is calling for a partial mobilization of the armed forces to show that America proposes to protect its rights in Berlin at all costs.

Republicans as well as Democrats are backing the President's program. The people will make whatever sacrifices this situation demands just as has been the case in the past.

SOUTH CAROLINA PARKS

New York—Racial segregation of state parks and beaches in South Carolina was legally challenged by NAACP Legal Defense Fund attorneys last week. A federal district court suit, filed in Charleston, S. C., July 7, asks the court to rule segregation of all twenty-three parks and beaches in South Carolina unconstitutional under the equal protection and due process clauses of the Fourteenth Amendment. South Carolina maintains eighteen state parks for whites only, and five parks for Negroes only, all regulated by the State Commission of Forestry under state law.

Made our annual trip to the Iowa Open Tennis Meet in Cedar Rapids last weekend. Guess we looked so busy trying to pull Mrs. Esther Myers through a couple of close matches that we didn't have to do much else.

Mrs. Myers was called the surprise of the meet although we can't see why. She was seeded number two and in our opinion would have made news if she hadn't reached the finals. But you know how folks figure.

Women's Finals

The women's final was a tough match with youth and the sun having a little too much of a handicap for Esther. Ormilla Bell played a couple of matches and teamed up with Mrs. Meyers to reach the semi-finals of the women's double. Miss Bell still has not made up her mind as to whether she wants to pay the price of tournament tennis. Better hurry up Ormilla. You are losing precious time sitting on the fence. And you do have the potential.

Enjoyable Visit

But we enjoyed our visit. It is always good to get out among people you don't see very often. We have never had so many inquiries about a meet than we did about the Des Moines Open. Seemed as if the thing arrived all at once. But maybe the early date of the Hawkeye Open helped us. If questions mean anything we should have a record number of entries at Birdland next week end. Gene Nadig will be trying to retire the Everett Maye raveling trophy and just might make it. The guy is really at his best on the Good Park courts. Looks as if we may have a record number of senior players along with the youngster. But whatever happens we shall see you out there.

Post Office Team

The Post Office team won the class B softball title and now will be gunning for a place at Boone in the final seven of the state meet. We stayed away because we have always seemed to jinx the boys. Went up to Boone one year and John Bright struck out a bushel basket full of batters but his team lost 1-0. We figure it was because we were there and probably put the curse on the Hotshots. Good Luck boys.

testified despite the bribe was on a charge against Cheatom of assaulting Noble with intent to commit murder. Noble was shot in the back twice at 12th and Center street.

No Excuse

Referring to the bribe, Judge Moore said, "... there is not the slightest excuse for that. You can't blame excitement or momentary loss of good judgment. It had to be deliberate."

For the shooting Cheatom also was sentenced to a year in the penitentiary on a charge of assault with intent to inflict great bodily injury. The two sentences are to be served concurrently.

UNCF GRANT

New York—An initial gift to the United Negro College Fund was made this week by Max C. Fleischmann Foundation of Nevada, according to Harold H. Helm, board chairman of the Chemical Bank New York Trust Co., and member of the College Fund's Foundations Gifts Committee. The grant, to aid the current operating expenses of the Fund's 32 member colleges, was in the amount of $10,000.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Put Them Away

Time was when household cleaners came in such ugly bottles and smelled so awful they were kept carefully out of sight. Now many of them are all dolled up, pretty to look at, pleasant to smell. So they're out on display in the kitchen, a danger to inquisitive young children.

Kitchen

Though practically every room in the house has its hazards for youngsters, the kitchen is beginning to take the lead. Detergents, bleaches, waxes, insecticides,—children have been known to drink them all. Most of the youngsters who swallow the poisonous stuff are three years old or younger, but the four and five year olds get their share, too.

Best of all is to keep all household preparations out of children's reach. If the young ones get to the stuff anyway, make for the nearest doctor or hospital emergency room.

Induce Vomiting

You can try to induce vomiting yourself, but this should never be done if the child has drunk kerosene or anything corrosive. Since you can't always tell what's in whatever the child drank, you'd better let the doctor or hospital take care of it. Make a note of the brand name or, better yet, take the container with you.

No matter how pretty he contains or how pleasant the contents smell, a household bleach or cleanser can still be highly poisonous. Don't leave it around.—Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn.

Ashe Continues
His Winning
Ways at Tennis

Charlottesville, Va.—Arthur Ashe after winning the Eastern Clay Courts Men's Singles championships, hopped a plane and flew out to Omaha, Nebraska, where he continued his winning streak out-lasting the third seeded Cliff Burholz of St. Louis, 9-11: 6-4: 7-5: 6-4 in a two hour struggle. Ashe, the No. 12 ranked junior, teamed with Jim Parker of Vreue Colur, Mo., to win the junior doubles from Jay Ly-saught of Oklahoma City, and Bob Kerna of Chickasha, Okla., 6-1: 6-2. Ashe reached the semi-finals by turning on a brilliant rally and thus came out from behind. He lost the first 2-6 but won the next two sets 6-0: 6-2. He beat Bill Brown from Omaha to reach the finals.

Olympic Champ Wins
First Pro Boxing Bout

Detroit—Wilbert McClure, Olympic middleweight champion from Toledo, Ohio, gained a unanimous, but close, decision in his pro debut last week against Detroit's Jonathan Washington.

McClure, a recent University of Toledo graduate, floored Washington in the second round of the four-round bout and fought superbly, defensively, in the fourth.

"I didn't know," McClure said after the bout, "that those preliminary boxers were so tough. This was a hard fight and I am happy to get through it. Washington didn't hurt me, but I hit him some real solid shots and he didn't even blink. I wish him the best of luck."

New England Champ

Cambridge, Mass.—Loretta Smith, 16, a senior at the Cambridge High and Latin school, is now the New England champion in the 220-yard dash, following her victory at Needham, Mass. Regarded by sports observers as potential material for the 1964 Olympics, Loretta is captain of the Red Diamond track team, which holds membership in the New England Association of the Amateur Athletic Union.

You may build, produce, invent, convince, may heal or teach or preach;
May unfurl from fame's fair summit triumph's banner bright and free;
May strike off a nation's shackles, be as great as great can be;
Clothe the naked, feed the hungry, succor many a needy brother;
But the greatest thing you ever do will not surprise your mother.
You may make your former neighbors at your triumphs stand aghast:

You may make your name resound in every marital trumpet blast;
You may make the wondering people of the world shout your praise, While the men of deepest learning view you with a wondering gaze. Those who once knew you thought of you about as any other, But no matter what the rest may think, you can't surprise your mother.
When she held you to her bosom, when you played about her knee, She was dreaming triumphs for you, each as great as great could be; She had known, through all your childhood, all the world may ever know;
From her lips your crowning deed will but evoke, "I told you so." She had marked you, ere she bore you, as the greatest of your time, So you can't surprise your mother, no matter how you climb.—
