Washington, D. C.—The Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., on the final day of its 15th Anniversary conclave at the Sheraton-Park hotel here this week, asked President Kennedy and congressional leaders to extend the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights for a period of at least five years, it was announced today by H. Carl Moultrie I, National Executive Secretary of the fraternity.

The 871 delegates at the convention represent some 22,000 college men and graduates throughout the United States.

Conspired to Set Fire, Force Passengers Off in Freedom Riders Incident

Washington, D. C.—Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy today announced that nine men have been indicted on charges of burning an interstate bus near Anniston, Alabama last May 14.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have arrested seven of the men, another is already in jail on burglary charges, and the ninth is hospitalized, Kennedy said.

The two-count indictment against them was returned sealed Thursday, by a federal grand jury in Birmingham. It charged that the nine fire-bombed the bus "with a reckless disregard" for the lives of its passengers.

These included seven "Freedom Riders," traveling through the South to test segregation practices at bus terminals.

Names

The indictment named the following, all of the Anniston area, as defendants: Kenneth L. Adams, 41; William Oswald Chappell, 39; Jerome Byron Couch, 25; Roger Dale Couch, 19; Jerry Ronald Eason, 22; Frank B. Johnson, 42; Cecil Lamar Lewallen, 22; Frank J. Tolbert, 54; and Jerry Zenith Willingham, 21. Eason, Johnson and the younger Couch are the three arrested earlier.

Llyods Appeals to W.D.M. City Council For Rezoning Area

Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Lloyd, 913 Maple street in West Des Moines, contemplated their dilemma brought on by construction of an auto repair shop, the east wall of which will rise less than three feet from their line.

The Lloyds, who have lived at their home for 25 years, said it was the first time they and neighbors knew the area had been zoned light industrial.

The Lloyds and neighboring friends appeared at the council meeting in West Des Moines on Wednesday, Aug. 30, to request the council to consider the problem. The Council expresses sympathy with the Lloyds, but pointed out that since the building contractor had met all building ordinances, nothing could be done to stop the construction of the repair shop. The council referred the problem to the plan and zoning commission, and will take action after the commission's recommendations.

We may have to put up a fence to keep him (the builder) off our property. I don't feel they should trample all over our property," said Mrs. Lloyd. "Before deciding whether to let them come on my land to build the garage, we are going to wait and see what the city council can do."

Negro Press Ads Under One Firm in History Making Merger

Chicago, Ill.—Last week a plan for the merger of Negro press advertising under one firm was completed. The firm will be known as Consolidated Publishers, Inc., making it possible for advertisers to reach the entire Negro Press with one ad and one billing.

Four men who played leading roles in the history-making merger were Dr. C. B. Powell, editor and publisher of the New York Amsterdam News, who was named president of the firm; John Sengstacke, publisher of the Chicago Defender, named vice-president; Howard H. Murphy, secretary of the Afro-American Newspapers, who is treasurer; and Thomas W. Young, president of the Norfolk Journal and Guide, who was elected secretary.

Sengstacke conceived the idea of the merger and engineered it in his Chicago offices.

Couch were arrested May 22 on a commissioner's complaint charging them with participating in the bombing and burning of the bus. They were each freed on $5,000 bond.

Charges

Kennedy said the first count of the indictment charged the nine men with conspiring from May 5 to damage and set fire to the bus and force white and Negro passengers to get off. The second count charged the nine with carrying out the conspiracy by breaking windows in the bus and tossing "an explosive and other destructive substance" inside, shortly after it left Anniston.

The bus was enroute to Birmingham from Atlanta. Anniston, a city of approximately 31,000 is about 60 miles east of Birmingham. The incident occurred about four miles west of Anniston.

Bus Gutted

The bus carried 17 passengers, including the seven Freedom Riders. After the bombing, all 17 were examined for smoke inhalation and burns at a local hospital. The bus was gutted.

Maximum penalty for conviction on the conspiracy count is five years in prison and $10,000. Maximum on the bombing count is 20 years and $10,000. The seven arrested persons are being arraigned as soon as possible in Anniston today, before U. S. Commissioner Ruby Price Robinson.

U.S. Civil Rights Commission Extended

Washington, D. C.—On the even of its adjournment last week the U.S. senate voted to extend the life of the U.S. Civil Rights commission to two years, making its new expiration date in 1963.

Many supporters of civil rights and the commission had hoped the commission would be made permanent, but as time passed had feared that the group would be allowed to expire altogether.

The extension of the Civil Rights commission had been the legislative actions on civil rights asked of the Congress by President Kennedy this year. Any other advance by the present administration on the civil rights field has been accomplished by executive action.

GUESS THE "MARGINAL YEAR"

Chris was a boy whose age was on the dividing line between childhood and early adolescence. Can you guess his age?

Chris was very fond of and loyal to his home. At this age his mother held a special position of prestige. Chris found great interest in family activities. He was constantly looking forward to the family's vacation or weekend of camping.

Numerous Friends

Friends were numerous and an important part of his life. He was very fond of these friends and found great satisfaction in telling you their names, ages, parents' names, etc.

Chris loved to memorize and enjoyed school. Running, jumping or any kind of physical activity interested him. Play was paramount in his life. Secret clubs were formed but never seemed to last for very long. His outlook on the world and himself was one of contentment.

Book

Obscene or profane words were sometimes used, and in most cases he did not know their meaning. He disliked any kind of water and would rather die than take a bath. His fear of dogs and the dark seemed to diminish. He experienced fits of anger but felt he was too old to cry. Have you guessed Chris's age? He was ten. If you are interested in material on children from the ages of ten to sixteen, the book "Youth—The Years from Ten to Sixteen," by Arnold Gesell, et al. is a good reference.

Sesame Puffs Go With Frozen Fruit Salad

Fragrant, warm Sesame Puffs with margarine give appeal to frozen fruit salad.

A frozen fruit salad is at its cool best when a hot bread is served with it.

Bread and margarine are an excellent foundation for summer eating. One leading nutritionist says that menus planned around bread and spread, citrus and milk are tops nutritionally. And, says he, the idea that bread and margarine are fattening is old hat. It might have been true in the days when bread was not enriched and when margarine did not contain vitamin A. But nowadays, with their fine food values, these basic foods ought to be included in every meal, even in the diets of those seeking to lose weight.

To go with a frozen fruit salad and to make the menu a complete meal, it would be hard to find a bread more delicious than Sesame Puffs. They are easy to make and they keep well for several days. Any left over can easily be reheated in the top of a double boiler, or foil-wrapped in the oven.

Sesame Puffs are made from a yeast-leavened batter. It need not be kneaded, only stirred and perhaps beaten a bit to make it extra good. Since the batter contains milk and eggs along with margarine and enriched flour, the puffs are practically a meal in themselves. To make them extra easy to mix, the recipe calls for dry milk. This means there is no bothersome scalding of milk and that extra pan to wash.

If any of the men in the family belong to the "no salad for me" brigade, these cloud-light hot little rolls may help them change their minds.

SESAME PUFFS

(about 30 3/4-inch puffs)

1 1/2 cup warm water
1 package yeast
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt

3/4 cups sifted flour

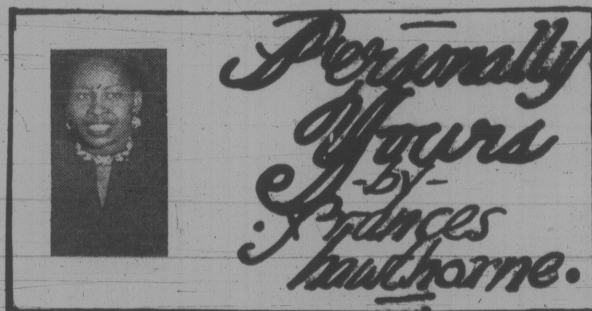

4 tablespoons dry milk solids

1/2 cup melted margarine

1 egg

1/2 cup sesame seeds

Measure warm water (100°F.) into 8-quart bowl, or into large bowl of electric mixer. Sprinkle yeast over water and let stand 5 minutes. Add sugar, salt, 3 cups flour and dry milk solids. Mix smooth. Stir in melted and cooled margarine. Add eggs and beat until smooth and shiny. Add remaining flour and mix well. (Batter should look glossy.) Cover and set in warm place to rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Stir down and drop by tablespoonfuls into well-margarined muffin pans. Fill each muffin cup half full. Sprinkle a teaspoon of sesame seed over batter in each cup. Let rise until doubled (about 45 minutes). Bake in moderately hot oven (400°F.) 20 to 25 minutes, until golden brown. Remove from pans at once. Serve warm or cold with margarine.

Well, it is that time again . . . good old Golden school days, although in Des Moines and in some other midwestern states, they did not begin so golden, weatherwise. To our memory it was just about the chilliest labor day holiday weekend, which began in the high 90 degrees, that we can recall. However, the brilliantly and colorfully clad school children trekking back to school desks they only left a mere 90 days ago made up for the lack in temperatures.

And of course with the oncoming school days it is also back to "school" for many mothers, especially those who give of their time and energy to the Parents-Teachers associations around the nation.

At Nash school last Tuesday the executive committee held a meeting to complete or formulate plans for the coming school session. About half the board attended with Mrs. J. Sheldon, president, in charge. Among others attending were Mmes. William Rollinson, Woodrow Lewis and Peter Hawthorne, Jr. Among others on the board, who did not attend the initial meeting, are Mmes. Rufus Spates, Cecil Brewton, and William Pickett.

We learned of something rather unusual that occurred here about a month ago. Mrs. Bernice Richmond, 1232 13th street, who is nearing 60 years-old, gave a party for all youngsters in her neighborhood within a two block radius.

Since she has no phone, she walked from house to house telling parents to send their children to her home. Boys and girls from pre-school to early teens were invited. Mrs. Richmond held the party in her back yard, which she had decorated with colorful balloons, and streamers. For refreshments she had plenty of ice cream, punch made from fruit juices (not kool aid) and dozens of cookies.

The party lasted from 1 to 5 p.m. and all youngsters had a wonderful time. To make it more unusual, Mrs. Richmond has no children of her own. She also has been giving such parties every summer for youngsters in her neighborhood. Mrs. Richmond recently moved to her present neighborhood. She formerly lived in another neighborhood on the same street, but it was taken by the freeway. The party was Aug. 11.

Many of you have told us how you enjoyed my husband's writing when he took over the column and other news writing assignments during emergencies or when I went on vacation. Thought you might like to know that he is now writing his own column for the union newspaper (Forty-Four News) for postal employees which has a circulation of over 1,000 union members plus their families. He has chosen the heading, "Scoop-Do" (the roving reporter). Some of you whose family members might be employed at the postoffice, might want to watch for it coming out in the September issue.

Among the familiar faces back on the Des Moines scene after a few weeks of vacationing in other cities and states, is that of Miss Charlene Wharton, executive director of Willkie House. While away, she sent us several postcards, one from Denver and other from California. The one from Denver depicted the world's highest bridge, the Royal Gorge suspension bridge at Canon City, Colo., and was sent because she thought our sons might like to add the picture to their history geographical collection.

Pineapple Prune Bread is Versatile

An "Extra" that fits into every eating occasion. Fruit bread sandwiches are always welcome lunch box fare—and a perfect partner for a luncheon fruit plate. The bread should be sliced thin, of course, and requires only the simplest of fillings such as a bland cream cheese.

A new approach to the fruit bread category is demonstrated in the recipe suggested here. Crushed pineapple, chopped prunes and walnuts combine to make a deliciously different and taste-appealing bread.

Here's the easy technique for making Pineapple Prune Bread—good to the last morsel!

PINEAPPLE PRUNE BREAD

1 cup boiling water
1 cup uncooked, dried prunes, pitted and chopped
2 teaspoons soda
1 cup pineapple tidbits
1 cup syrup from pineapple and water

2 tablespoons salad oil

1 cup sugar

1 egg

1 teaspoon vanilla

4 cups flour

2 teaspoons baking powder

1 teaspoon salt

1 cup chopped walnuts or pecans

Pour boiling water over chopped uncooked prunes, add soda. Drain pineapple tidbits thoroughly and add enough water to syrup to make 1 cup; pour over prunes. Allow to stand while mixing batter.

Combine salad oil, sugar and egg thoroughly. Stir in vanilla. Sift flour, measure and sift again, with baking powder and salt. Add to creamed mixture alternately with liquid from prunes and pineapple.

Then add prunes, pineapple tidbits and nuts. Spoon into two 5 x 9-inch loaf pans and bake in a slow oven (300 degrees) for one hour. Makes 2 loaves.

GRAND JURY SAYS
RECORDS DESTROYED

Last week, the Bystander carried an editorial criticizing the city council for its inaction and stumbling policy generally and also with particular reference to the status or non status of the Negro in city government.

The day following, the Polk County grand jury, which has been investigating irregularities in city government, issued its report. In most cases, the report dealt in general terms but when one understands that a veritable gestapo prevailed making it impossible for that body to get unbiased testimony from witnesses, it is easy to understand why definite instances and figures could not be pinpointed. But it indicated very clearly that conditions were most unsatisfactory.

During the course of this inquiry, several persons offered testimony showing that Negroes had been discriminated against in the hiring of personnel. And they did so because their complaints had been made to the city council but nothing was done about them.

Obviously, this is one of the most serious indictments against the municipal government for not only has discrimination been practiced—and it is a part of the city records—but the report said evidence had been destroyed.

Ward healer politicians could have done no worse. Such things are the most dispicable heads of government can carry on.

In many instances, the council was criticized for its failure to give the manager a free hand in the administration of the affairs of the city government. Of course, one of the talking points of backers of the city manager plan is the independence of a manager from interference in the administration of the affairs of the city.

True, the council is the legislative or policy making body and the manager the executive. And while these two divisions of government are separate and distinct, with certain checks and balances, the legislative branch has a responsibility to keep an eye on the executive and correct abuses where they occur. No manager should be so powerful as to ignore the body which creates his position and does things which in his opinion are correct, but in the final analysis are not for the best interest of all concerned.

Will the present city council carry out the recommendations contained in the grand jury report or must new blood be added at the election this fall? This, the voters will determine. However, this report contains some pretty serious charges which cannot be ignored.

ATLANTA SHOWS THE CORRECT WAY

In years gone by, as mob violence raised its ugly head in the South, law enforcement officers and prominent civilians blamed it on the few rabble-rousers who took the law in their own hands and burned and lynched as they chose. This same plea has been carried over into the fight on integration of public schools and the total disobedience to the supreme court decision of 1954 on the subject.

This line of reasoning has gotten Little Rock, Ark. and some other communities in bad repute for not only does this violence involve the question of integration of the schools but also whether a community is one of law and order.

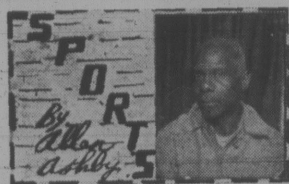

Last week, Atlanta, Ga. began desegregation of its public schools and the change over took place without racial violence. And this peaceful change was accomplished because reasonable citizens of the South were determined that their community should be run by decent people rather than the rabble which heretofore had been given a free hand or were winked at by officials in many places.

Atlanta citizens were led by Mayor Hartsfield who believes in his protestations of fair play, practices it and draws on the best in his community to help get the job done. Few public men in the South have been so bold in the effort to build good race relations in his community and at the same time receive the endorsement of the votes of his community for twenty five years. Of Atlanta's successful integration he said "We are proud of Atlanta. We hope the whole world will witness a proud southern city obeying the law of the land."

Certainly this is the crux of Atlanta's success. It was the crux of the elimination of discrimination in public places in Iowa. And this comes when men make up their minds that they won't submit to injustices and those in authority, have the courage to stand up for law and order.

The citizens of Atlanta and Mayor

Hartsfield deserve great credit for showing other communities that the job can be done if its people have the courage to stand up for the right.

Sat in on the pro-football game between the Chicago Bears and the Minneapolis Vikings at Cedar Rapids, last Saturday. It wasn't much of a game until those Negro backs of the Bears started receiving Willie Gallimore, Roosevelt Taylor, and Charles Bivens, all scored from way out. J. C. Carolina showed why he rates as one of the National football league best defensive backs. The Vikings had only Mel Triplett carrying the football for them and as you know fullbacks don't make too much ground through those big pro lines. But it was an interesting game and we wonder why those things don't take in Des Moines.

We had a nice weekend with the exception of our poker playing friends. Seems that they imported a heckler to help them and were very reluctant to give up that expensive money. In fact they didn't give up very much. But we had fun.

Tennis

In the final meet of the year in these parts, Esther Myers, was probably the happiest woman player in Iowa Monday night. For she finally caught up with Karen Moser, the Waterloo girl, who had beaten her three times this year.

Miss Moser's court manners towards Mrs. Myers weren't too gracious as we recall and we were glad to hear that the young lady from Waterloo had finally been corralled. One would have to say Esther had a very successful tennis season and now she heads into another winter of teaching the game to those who want to learn it.

Heard there was going to be a Bill Ashby trophy as a traveling trophy for the Hilltop Tennis meet next year. Hope we heard right.

Baseball

The Los Angeles Dodgers, our choice for the National race, had better get to getting. Time is running out and they haven't gained on Cincinnati. Detroit has not quite beat the Yankees. Think what that race might have been without the Detroit threat.

Yes, every family not only needs its own cinematographer, but every member of the family ought to be one. It is an impressive title, but really just means one who takes pictures with a movie camera.

Bob Boozer Inks

Chicago—A Chicago baseball group, known as the St. Louis Browns Fan club of Chicago, is reported working to get Leroy (Satchel) Paige in baseball's Hall of Fame.

A unique group, the club holds weekly luncheon meetings at a northside address, and last week hosted a one time member of the Browns team. He is Bill McAllister, a catcher with the Old Browns back in 1913.

The activities of the fan club was reported by sports writer David Condon of the Chicago Tribune in one of his daily "Wake of the News" columns.

Letters from Our Readers

A bit of prose... a line or two of poetry... a letter now and then

DEAR EDITOR:

I have read your editorial pertaining to white people patronizing places operated by Negroes. Being of the white race, may I put in my two cents worth, please?

I agree with your editorial. Many white people like to patronize night clubs and other businesses owned by Negroes in Negro districts. I have visited friends and attended night clubs, black and tan, and others; in those cities I found the people sons as they roll around. Here are a few suggestions that might make hunting more pleasant:

1. Be familiar with the common-sense rules of gun safety.
2. Consider yourself a guest of the landowner on whose land you hunt, seek his permission and so conduct yourself that you will be welcome in the future.

3. Do not be a litter bug. Empty cigarette packs, lunch or snack wrappings, hayfever hankies will soon make every field resemble a dump. What's more, the game will be harder to spot because a blowing piece of paper frightens them almost as much as the sight of a human being.

4. Take a rod and light tackle along. Fishing is fine in the fall.

5. Always carry your hunting license with you.

To Our Readers

News from out-of-town correspondents should reach the Bystander no later than Wednesday morning. If you can possibly get your news in earlier the staff would greatly appreciate it.

nice, polite and friendly.

If more white people would patronize these places, it might help to dispel some strange notions that hate-mongers have implanted in their minds. People should realize the world is peopled by a cosmopolitan nation, a world where existence is not contained solely in one corner of one people, one nation.

Yet, they band together like sheep, adhere to stupid conventions like a leech in their own little world, never seeking companionship outside the little circle of their own race. For the white populace in general has little or no contact with people of other racial groups; of course, there are exceptions.

They never get to know race and color are names only and not barriers to friendship and to understanding.

DRIFTING

DRIFTING with the flotsam
The world has cast aside,
No will to buck the current—
Or fight against the tide.

A wish-bone for a back-bone
Will never gain the top.
The guy that skims the cream off
Starts out and doesn't stop.

He doesn't stop to fiddle
Nor to waste the precious hours.
