THE CASE OF THE MISSING PLANE:

Baptists Elect Dr. Jackson in Monitored Ballot

Minister Dies After Pushing Incident on Convention Platform

Kansas City, Mo.—The National Baptist convention marred by a platform pushing incident of supporters of two differing factions, resulting in the death of a Detroit minister, Friday elected Dr. Rev. J. H. Jackson of Chicago, Ill., as president of the 250,000 member religious organization in a Jackson County circuit court monitored balloting.

Pledged Support

After the final balloting which tabulated Rev. Mr. Jackson had won by a vote of 2,732 to 1,519, his defeated opponent, Rev. Dr. Gardner Taylor of New York City, immediately pledged support, saying:

"The supreme court of the National Baptist convention has spoken. Let us all close our ranks behind the leadership of Dr. Jackson. I will fall in behind Dr. Jackson."

The apparent unity of accord differed vastly from that of two days before, when on Wednesday a platform brawl ended with several delegates injured and the Rev. A. G. Wright of Detroit, suffering a fatal injury when he fell or was pushed off the platform, in a melee touched off by a dispute over the presidency of the convention.

Fisticuffs Started

The fisticuffs started after Rev. J. H. Jackson attempted to call the convention into session amid storms of protest from Rev. G. H. Taylor's supporters. Rev. Jackson was under court order at the time, not to open the convention. He immediately proceeded to have recommendations read from the executive committee. These recommendations included one that reinstated Rev. Jackson for another year as head of the organization. After the recommendations were read, here was a motion put before the house that they be accepted and it was seconded. The convention chairman asked all in favor of accepting the recommendations as read please stand. The Merle F. McCurdy, 45-year-old Cleveland, Ohio, lawyer, was named by President John F. Kennedy last week as United States Attorney for Northern Ohio. McCurdy becomes the second Negro in history to be appointed U. S. Attorney. President Kennedy named the first, Cecil Poole of San Francisco, two months ago. McCurdy must be confirmed by the U. S. Senate.

Free-for-all

Convention delegates supporting Taylor had not yet been registered prior to the session, as only Jackson supporters and new delegates had been certified. When the gavel sounded for the opening of the convention sessions Wednesday Dr. Jackson was presiding.

About this time Rev. Taylor came to the convention hall from the front and proceeded to ascend the steps to the platform, but he was hit by a platform guest and fell back into the arms of ministers following him. This is when the free-for-all broke out. City police had to be called to quiet the disturbance and they threatened to break up the convention unless the delegates conducted themselves more orderly.

The Rev. Dr. D. A. Holmes of Kansas City was appointed court monitor and was assisted by Leona Pouncey, Taylor-group attorney; Lewis W. Clymer, counsel for Jackson supporters and Benjamin Mays. Pink ballots were used for Dr. Jackson and blue ballots for Dr. Taylor.

Civil Rights Commission Report on U.S. Integration

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. Commission on Civil Rights today submitted a report to the President and Congress which documents racial denials of the right to vote and recommends remedial legislation and executive action.

The report, entitled "The Right to Vote" is the first of a series of five volumes prepared by the Commission on five areas of civil rights: discrimination in voting, education, employment, housing, and administration of justice.

100 Counties

Finding evidence of discrimination in some 100 counties in eight Southern States, the Commission urged Congress to enact legislation barring States from denying the franchise except on the basis of reasonable age or residence requirements, legal confinement at the time of registration or election or conviction of a felony. This and another recommendation for legislation which would make a sixth grade education sufficient proof of literacy, are designed to deal with the use of "educational" or "interpretation" tests as devices for disqualifying Negro applicants.

Special Study

A special study of the status of civil rights in 17 rural counties in the South where Negroes constitute a majority of the population but none or very few vote, and four other similar counties where Negroes vote in larger numbers.

The results of hearings and investigations in 11 parishes in Louisiana where the Commission found that a variety of techniques were used to deprive Negroes of the right to register and vote.

The Commission declared that malapportionment of State and Congressional election districts throughout the United States dilutes the right to vote and, by operating to the disadvantage of minority groups in urban areas, intensifies the effects of racial disfranchisement. It recommended that a Federal law be passed to require that voting districts be substantially equal in population.

In its study of rural counties, the Commission found that "a depend-

Thomas graduated with honors from Wesleyan university in Middletown, Conn., where he took his pre-law studies. At East high he starred in football and basketball and in 1958 was sent to Europe to the Y.M.C.A. conference for that summer. He graduated at the head of his high school class.

ent economic position appears to be one of the most significant factors that inhibits Negroes from registering counties.

In Louisiana, the Commission found that the Association of Citizens Councils of Louisiana and the state legislature exerted pressure against Negro electors and that the legislature actively encouraged registrars to use a variety of devices to thwart Negro applicants. Economic reprisals in Fayette and Haywood Counties, Tennessee; discriminatory purges of Negroes from the registration rolls in three Louisiana parishes; and restrictive voter qualification laws in Mississippi and Louisiana were also noted.

Other Commission recommendations included proposals that Congress amend the Civil Rights Act to prohibit arbitrary as well as discriminatory denials of the right to vote, and that the Bureau of the Census compile voting statistics in every State by race, color and national origin of the registrants.

Each Claims Ownership Thompson Says Has Proof 'That Plane is Mine'

A Des Moines man, who rebuilds planes as a hobby and who entered into an "gentlemen's agreement" with another plane enthusiast, termed a criminal charge brought against him as "some sort of joke" by his former "partner."

Fred B. Thompson, 40, of 837 S.E. 27th street, who was arrested Friday night and charged with larceny in connection with the reported disappearance of an airplane frame and wings last Thursday morning, said, "I don't know why the criminal charge was brought against me unless it is Sneddens' idea of a joke."

Had Partner

He was referring to his former "partner," Joseph D. Sneddens, of 908 S.E. Leland avenue, who reported the disappearance of the plane parts, claiming that he had been working on the plane for two years and hoped to fly it this fall. "The plane is mine," said Thompson in a telephone interview. "I have pictures and proof of ownership. I have spent time, labor and money on it. He (Sneddens) was the one who went out and took it apart after I had completed it."

"I have rebuilt planes for several Des Moines policemen and one of them told me the condition of my plane. That's how I found out what he had done."

Thompson said he first met Sneddens three years ago when the public first learned of his (Thompson's) plane hobby. "He begged me to teach him about planes and finally I consented. 'I had not done it before; it was my mistake,'" continued Thompson, who says he has been rebuilding planes for 25 years as a hobby. "I have five planes of my own. There are a number of people in the neighborhood who have seen me fly them."

Police Report

According to police records the frame and wings of the plane were on the C. H. Fickus farm, north of Adelphi, where the crate had been stored. The motor and fuselage were still at the farm.

Long, Polk County Deputy Sheriff, said he received a phone call Friday that led him to a private, rented garage at 1424 Sixth ave., where the plane frame and wings were found. Long said he arrested Thompson there at about 9 p.m.

Thompson pleaded innocent when arraigned before Justice of the Peace Al Hoard and was released on $2,500 bond pending a preliminary hearing before Hoard.

Hails Non-Violent Dallas, Atlanta School Integration

New York—The peaceful desegregation of public schools in two major southern cities—Atlanta and Dallas—was hailed this week by NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins as "an indication that the more stable elements in southern communities have decided to take control of the situation."

Wilkins also paid tribute to "the vital but little publicized role of the NAACP branches in these cities in effecting the change-over from segregated systems of public education."

Hard Work

"The pioneer role the NAACP played in establishing the illegality of racial segregation in public education is well known," he asserted. "However, the painstaking, unglamorous hard work done by the Atlanta and Dallas branches in rallying support for desegregation, in explaining the terms of the desegregation plans to parents, and in persuading applicants to apply for transfers to formerly all-white schools has been quietly performed with little public notice. But without it, the plan in both cities may well have failed for want of applicants for transfers."

Willing to Risk

It now appears, the NAACP leader pointed out, "that no major city in the South is willing to risk the experiences of Little Rock and New Orleans. The responsible business elements in southern cities have at last realized the damage desegregation violence inflicts upon the prestige and economy of their cities. They seem determined to keep the local hoodlum elements under control."

No Violence

Further, he observed, not only has desegregation in 1961 been achieved without violence in a score of southern cities, but much of it has been the result of volunteer action without the necessity of specific court orders. In at least 14 communities, local school boards voluntarily initiated desegregation programs.

Token Integration

While pleased with the peaceful aspect of 1961 desegregation, and with the breakthrough against long tradition, Wilkins noted, the NAACP is "far from satisfied with the continued token quantity of desegregation. We will not be satisfied as long as the vast majority of school children of both races continues to attend segregated schools. Token integration is not enough for us; for white children, or for the country."

Typing, Des Moines Public Schools, 1800 Grand Avenue, Des Moines 14, Iowa. Materials will then be sent to them.

"Our work project was the building a lorry (truck) part," said Thomas. "We had to fell trees, clear the areas, mainly construction work. The girls did the same work. We were lucky in that our accommodations were a little above the average for those who participated in the program."

Better Accommodations

Oyster-Rice Turkey Stuffing Is Elegant

This Oyster-Rice Stuffing is a "must" for that turkey (or chicken) you're planning to roast. It's easy to make because there's very little chopping to do and no bread crumbs to bother with.

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 1/2 cups uncooked white rice
- 2 cups water
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- 1/2 pint oysters
- 1/4 cup water or turkey broth

METHOD: Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice is cooking, melt the butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add the onion and celery. Cover and cook over a medium heat until tender, stirring occasionally. Stir in the black pepper. Add the onion and celery to the rice mixture. Add the oysters and water or broth and mix gently.

This stuffing may be prepared ahead of time so long as the liquid is not mixed with the dry ingredients until the turkey is to be stuffed and cooked. The turkey should be stuffed just before it is placed in the oven. It should not be stuffed and refrigerated. Extra stuffing may be baked in a separate pan or made into dressing balls. Allow 1/2 cup of stuffing for each pound of poultry, dressed weight, or 1 cup for each pound ready-to-cook weight. This recipe makes 4 1/2 cups of stuffing.

How to Bake the Turkey: Remove pin feathers from turkey and singe if necessary. Remove any bits of lung, kidney, etc., remaining in turkey. Wash and rinse inside and outside with cold water. Wipe dry. Rub cavity lightly with salt. Put enough stuffing into the neck of the turkey to fill it out nicely. Fasten the neck skin back with a skewer. Stuff cavity well—but do not pack stuffing tightly as it expands during roasting. Shape wings ("akimbo" style) bringing wing tips on to the back. Place skewers across stuffing opening of turkey and lace shut with cord. Tie legs to tail. Grease skin thoroughly with fat. Place the turkey, breast down, on a rack in a shallow pan. If the bird is very large and difficult to turn, place breast up and leave in this position throughout the roasting. Lay fat-soaked cheese cloth over the turkey. Place in pre-heated 325°F oven. Do not cover with a lid. Do not add any water. As cloth dries out, moisten with fat from the bottom of the pan. Roast until done, following the timetable below. Garnish turkey with frosted grapes made by dipping grapes first in beaten egg white, then in granulated sugar.

No Dallying In Dallas

Dallas, Texas - A sixteen-month program conducted by white and Negro leaders of Texas' second largest city has resulted in the integration of 40 restaurants and cafeterias. The program has been working for the establishment of a climate of opinion directed toward the acceptance of Federal law. Community leaders, realizing that a school desegregation ruling was inevitable, undertook to prepare the citizens of Dallas for the change.

Schools

During the past year, segregation was ended on transit lines, at the State Fair Grounds and in many hotels. Leaflets and posters have been distributed warning of the danger of interracial violence. Business officials have been made aware of the fact that Little Rock lost fifteen major industries because of its tragic integration experience. On Sept. 6, Dallas starts to desegregate its public schools. The community is confident that it will not become another Little Rock or New Orleans.

BURLINGTON

By Freddie Starting
601 South 6th Street

Vacation season is over and Burlington has been blessed with the return of many of its former residents who visited with relatives and friends. Among them were the Rev. Harold L. Ashby and family from Xenia, Ohio; the Rev. William A. Smith and sons from St. Petersburg, Fla.; Mrs. Hazel Drew from California, Miss Jacqueline Ashby, from Kansas City; Mrs. George Thompson from Chicago, Ill. Visiting in California were the late Nelson family and Mrs. Gladys White and Mrs. Birdie White motored to New York City to visit her daughters. The youngsters of St. John's A.M.E. Church were privileged to vacation at Camp Baber in Cassopolis, Mich., a Methodist supported resort. Our Municipal Court Bailiff, Mr. Cecil Rideout is proud that Judge

James A. Parsons, recently appointed the first Negro District Federal Judge (Illinois) is his uncle. Mr. Rideout's mother (deceased) was a Parsons before her marriage.

Congratulations to Miss Charlene Smith upon her recent employment as secretary to one of our leading lawyers in the city. In the position she joins the other qualified Negro women who are employed in clerical work. Mrs. Charlotte Buckner, Mrs. Yvonne Wilson, Mrs. Juanita Newman and Mrs. Benny Humphrey.

Mrs. Gladys White has been instrumental in reactivating the NAACP Youth Council here and they were greatly inspired by a visit from Miss Joyce Hughes, Field Secretary of the Youth and College Division, who addressed them in August. The members of the adult branch and Youth Council plan to attend the State Convention in Keokuk, Oct. 7th and 8th.

Mrs. Mary Frances Dillard and Mrs. Norma Ashby attended the National Baptist Convention in Kansas City. They are both officers in the State Association.

Rev. Marshal Smith, Jr. and Rev. E. L. Dillard, pastors of St. John's A.M.E. and Union Baptist Churches respectively, are successfully holding joint Sunday evening services for the purpose of greater fellowship between the denominations. We are looking forward to interesting programs with the fall season.

Cheese Souffle With Corn Flake Topping

*Gather your family around the table and then bring this Cheese Souffle with Corn Flakes Topping directly from the oven to the table. The crisp corn flakes add an unusual texture to the cheese souffle. Serve the souffle with individual tossed vegetable salads, bread muffins, grape jelly, milk to drink and fresh fruit for dessert.

Cereal Festivals were celebrated in mid-April about 500 B.C. by the Romans to solicit protection for growing grains. The modern version of this celebration is the Spring Cereal and Milk Festival sponsored by the breakfast cereal and dairy industries to promote the first value of cereal and milk. Cereal and milk complement each other in both food value and appetite appeal. Besides providing calcium (cereal) and milk also contribute other important minerals (phosphorus and iron); B vitamins (thiamine, niacin, and riboflavin), top-quality protein and use of cereals and milk in main dishes provides an easy way to encourage adults, and children too, to get their daily share of this nutritious team.

MUFFIN-SIZE PIZZAS A POPULAR SNACK

This quick version of the popular Italian pizza calls for a halved English muffin as the base and a broiled topping of cheese, tomatoes and zesty seasonings. With tall glasses of beer, they're ideal afternoon or evening refreshments.

Guests will find these miniature pizzas an intriguing and welcome change from the usual cheese and cracker tray—and hostesses will find them easy to make. When company is expected, they can be prepared in advance and tucked into the refrigerator until time to broil.

Snack-Time Pizzas
(Makes 8)
4 English muffins
Butter or olive oil
2 fresh tomatoes, chopped
1/4 green pepper, chopped
1/2 medium onion, chopped
Cheddar cheese, cut in pieces
Anchovy fillets (optional)
Mushroom slices (optional)
Cayenne pepper

Tear muffins into halves with two forks. Brush lightly with butter or olive oil; toast until lightly browned. Mix together tomatoes, green pepper and onion; spread on muffins. Top with cheese and anchovies or mushroom slices. Sprinkle lightly with cayenne pepper. Place under broiler until cheese is melted. Serve piping hot with plenty of beer and paper napkins.

Evaluating Summer Camps

Every year between six and eight million youngsters in our nation attend summer camps. Should you be the parents of one of them, you may be in a better position to help him make a camp selection next summer if you try to answer the following questions.

"Just what did my youngster get from camp that he could not have gotten at home?"

consider the most important camping experiences for the children?"

"What are some of the basic differences in the ways in which various camps are organized and run?"

"What factors should I take into account in trying to decide whether one camp or another is best suited to what I hope my youngster will get from this summer experience?"

Pamphlet

At the present, most communities have no center or service which can help parents find answers to such questions before a decision about a camp for their son or daughter is reached.

The Public Affairs Pamphlet No. 231 entitled "How to Choose a Camp for Your Child," by Ernest Osborne, was designed as a service to parents to help answer these and many other important questions about summer camps. This pamphlet can be obtained by mailing 25 cents to Public Affairs Committee, Inc., 22 East 38th Street, New York 16, N. Y. Or you may be able to borrow the pamphlet from your local library.

Game for Young or Old

IT'S FUN for youngsters and grown-ups alike—the tumble-bug game. For the bugs, get some capsules from your druggist. Drop a ball bearing into each, close the capsule and mark it with a colored tape, so that each player will know his own bug. The only other equipment needed for the game is a playing board. Cut a piece of Preswood about one foot square and nail it to a block of one-inch lumber four inches wide and as long as the playing board, to form a ramp. You'll need to plane the block of wood to the proper angle to make the Preswood fit evenly.

Up to four players can participate with a board the size of the one described. Each player holds his capsule in an upright position at the top edge of the playing board. At the signal to 'go,' the bugs are released to tumble and over and down the ramp. The one reaching bottom first is the winner.

September's unusual summery weather of the past week soon turned into rainy, cloud covered days just as various PTA organizations ing and voting." But, in voting as well as non-voting counties, all public schools are segregated; public libraries provide inferior or no service at all for Negroes; State employment services subsidized by Federal funds offer only unskilled jobs to Negroes; transportation terminals and facilities are segregated; Negroes do not serve on juries; Armed Forces Reserve and National Guard units exclude Negroes; and recreational facilities at some Federal dams and lakes are for whites only.

Finding that unequal conditions existed to some extent in all counties, the Commission said "it cannot be concluded that the free exercise of the right to vote... necessarily results in quick tangible gains in other areas." The Commission recommended Federal and State action to reduce economic deprivations in around the cities were preparing to get their initial meetings and programs into orbit. In addition more parents than ever before had to get their college bound sons and daughters off, which is quite a busy time in itself.

A letter arrived at our desk this week from our longtime Keokuk news columnist, Mrs. Lorenzo Clark, in which she notified the Bystander that she and her son will give up their physical services for the paper but will continue their support. Her letter read:

"As Monty has so many school activities such as band, football, etc., that he participates in, I believe he is doing the paper an injustice by giving poor service. So as of this writing he wishes to thank all his past patrons and hope they will continue to take the Bystander from his successors, who are Leon and Stanley Johnson, Their Mother, Mrs. Thelma Johnson, will take over the correspondence."

The Bystander is indeed sorry to lose the service of the Clark family, but do feel we will get the same first class support and services from Mrs. Johnson, and her sons, whom we welcome to the fold.

We had a call from Mrs. Bertha Wolder, 1144 18th street, who wanted to correct an error in fact about the Three Purpose club. She reminded us there were four surviving charter members of the club. They are Mmes. Marie Murray of Los Angeles, Calif., Geraldine Burk, of Berkeley, Gladys Walton, Boston, Mass., and Julia Proctor, 1111 11th street.

Mrs. E. P. Jackson, of 1155 Enos street, who underwent surgery earlier this past summer, returned to her job as practical nurse, this week, following her doctor's O.K. Mrs. Jackson says she is feeling much better but will have to forego night duty in order to safe guard her health.

Tuned into a local television station Sunday afternoon and saw a young lady performing, one of the few Negroes, we have seen on Bill Riley's Talent Hunt for the Iowa State Fair. The young lady was Miss Jean M. Johnson, a junior at Coe college in Cedar Rapids. Her vocal rendition of "Trees," was presented with talent and poise. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Johnson, 2407 Garfield avenue.

However, we missed the television appearance of another Des Moines product, James Thomas, on a sports newscast earlier in the week. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Thomas, 1704 Walker street. See a separate story about his experiences in Africa this summer.

When we call to check whether her daughter was returning to college for our "College feature" this week, Mrs. John E. Johnson, told us that she had spent the Labor Day weekend in Kansas City, Kansas, and visited with Marie Ross and her mother, Mrs. Marie Dave. She said Marie was well, and inquired about all her old friends in Des Moines and sent greetings to same.

We would like to express our appreciation to various church and club reporters and individuals for not phoning news to us direct before 8:30 a.m. That gives us a chance to get our three youngsters off to school before we settle down to work. We also are very pleased that more and more people are calling in or writing in news to the Bystander. However, there are still some who expect us to know every thing that is going on without being told anything about. No newspaper, daily, weekly, or monthly can do that. Someone has to let them know. So thank you for letting us know.

SENATOR GOLDWATER
IS LEVELING OFF

Few people in the audience at Veterans Auditorium who listened to the address of Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, could feel other than that the things he said were essentially for the best interest of all citizens of his country. Seldom has a more pleasing polished politician appeared here and it must be said that even though the chairman of the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee couched his speech in general terms, his remarks hit the spot.

He chided those who sought division in segments of the American population, saying "We hear talk of German-Americans, Italian-Americans, Catholic-Americans, Negro-Americans, Jewish-Americans. I suggest that this has got to stop. The only outcome of such tactics is the destruction of our country."

"We have to treat all peoples as Americans; we should not try to separate them one by one."

Delivered in broad terms, what Senator Goldwater says is true and yet when one attempts to analyze just how his views are to be implemented, there he parts company.

The senator says all men are born free and equal and are entitled to grow and prosper in proportion to their ability to work and learn. "Nobody will disagree with this and yet he has supported those who would deny this privilege to the Negro. He says we need no new laws, that if the fundamental law of the country, the constitution, is observed there would be less strife and more progress. But the Senator gets in deep water when he attempts to explain what the law is."

Branded a leader in the conservative wing of the Republican party, the senator helps to balance the extreme left wing group and, in the end, we make progress in between the two.

MORE EDUCATION;
HARDER WORK

This is the season of the year when schools open their doors from the kindergarten up. It so happens that this, 1961, is a most challenging year for more and more the education requirements for all segments of the American life get stringent.

More students are in school than ever before; more opportunities to attend school are available; wider areas of employment; both at home and abroad, are available.

Almost daily, news comes that some student has won a scholarship or other honors. Grants and loans are available to help worthy students finish the courses of their choice—so there is no sensible reason why a youngster should not do the things in the schools for which he feels fitted.

Frankly, our Iowa youngsters are not winning enough of these honors. Here, the elementary schools are second to none, are free and provide the basic education needed for college and technical schools. Just where does the trouble lie?

Undoubtedly, the parents are generally at fault. They permit the youngsters to do what they choose rather than what they think best for them. There is too much of a disposition to do just enough to get by rather than to head the class.

The limit to which youngsters may aspire are extremely high these days and the extent to which they achieve it depends upon their ability and willingness to work hard and not to just be an average fellow.

Considerable controversy goes on as to the value of athletics in schools, the emphasis placed in football in particular. Some complain that too much time is taken away from studies and that some go to school to compete in athletics only.

With this, of course, we do not agree.

Students are not permitted to compete in interscholastic sports unless their grades are up to standard. (Iowa University has lost some excellent men because of low grades.) And in view of the fact that some youngsters make athletics their job—and they pay well—for several years after graduation, there is no reason to deny them the opportunity to perfect their athletic ability in school.

However, it is well to warn high school youngsters that they will not be permitted to compete in college athletics with poor grades.

Gene Baker's Success as Manager of Batavia Club Thrills Pittsburgh Pirate Organization

Batavia, N. Y.—Gene Baker is a big name in the Pittsburgh Pirates organization today.

The 36-year-old former infielder became the first to integrate the manager-ranks of organized baseball a little over two months ago, when the Pirates appointed him as pilot of the Batavia farm club in the New York-Pennsylvania League.

Baker's success has been phenomenal. And the front office of the world champions at Pittsburgh is jubilant.

"We are elated over Gene's good work," declared Bob Clements, Bu-canier-scout in charge of the New York area. "Mr. Brown (owner Joe L. Brown) was with me in Jamestown (N.Y.) when the team played there last week. And he was greatly pleased with the team's progress under Baker."

Since Gene took over on June 18, the local club has climbed from seventh place to second in the standings. In that ten-week span, Batavia has played at an impressive .583 clip, winning 42 and losing 30.

Though six games behind leading Geneva, the young Bucs are firmly entrenched in second place with a two-and-a-half-game edge on third-place Erie.

"Naturally, I'm happy about it," Baker told the writer Friday. "But the praise shouldn't go to me alone. The team did it."

"We started hitting and he pitching firmed up for us. Art Blunt, an outfielder, and Bobby Sanches, our second baseman, began swinging the bat pretty good. And Steve Glass and Gary Aldrich picked up their good pitching groove. We just started climbing, and that's that."

Glass, who fanned 20 batters in winning his 15th game last week, boasts a 15-6 mark. Aldrich is 11-6 on the year.

"Oh, yes," Baker added, "I shouldn't omit a couple of new kids we brought up from the rookie league. Butch Land, a shortstop who has fitted in admirably on defense, and Bob Slezak, a hard-throwing young right-hander, has been a big help."

While he was sent to Batavia and told he could manage from the bench, so as to give full time to strategy, Gene has been playing third base regularly for over a month.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Ups and Downs

Sometimes it seems as though there's always something to spoil a vacation trip. But one thing that's preventable these days is motion sickness.

Anybody who's been seasick, carsick or airsick knows how miserable motion sickness can make you. You're not afraid you'll die of it. You usually fear you won't die but will have to live through it.

The symptoms are dizziness, nausea and vomiting and they don't let up until you're on firm ground again. The misery comes from the effect of up and down motion on the balancing mechanism of the middle ear. For that reason, anyone subject to motion sickness will be more comfortable in the front seat of a car, or the middle of a plane or ship, where the motion is less.

In addition to position, there are drugs which can help prevent motion sickness or stop it once it's started. Some can be bought over the counter, but it is smartest to get a doctor's advice about what to buy. Some of the drugs have to be taken frequently. With others, a single dose suffices for 24 hours. And some make you drowsy, which can be dangerous if you happen to be driving. A doctor will know which is the best and safest to take.
