Marshall Nomination Hailed
As Tribute to Brilliant Legal Performance in Civil Rights

New York—The nomination of Thurgood Marshall to be a judge of the United States Second Circuit Court of Appeals was hailed here this week by his longtime associate in the fight for freedom, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, as "a highly significant and well merited appointment."

Tribute

The appointment, Wilkins said, "is a tribute to Mr. Marshall's brilliant performance as the nation's foremost civil rights lawyer. It is also an indication that leadership in the 'Dramatized for the nation and the high public office.'"

The veteran civil rights attorney, Wilkins asserted, "carries to his new position extraordinary experience in the Federal courts, a wealth of knowledge of Federal procedures, and a breadth of understanding rare even among the country's most outstanding and successful lawyers. This understanding will help to make him a good judge for all Americans of whatever race or station."

Good Wishes

"He carries, also, the good wishes of his legion of friends and admirers, including 20,000,000 Negro Americans whose aspirations for first class citizenship he voiced so eloquently in his pleadings and victories at the bar."

"Those of us who have been privileged to work with him for more than two decades in the struggle for human rights and dignity will miss his dedication, his wise counsel and his unflinching devotion and courage. Our loss is the nation's gain in which all of us have a share."

No Little Rock

Police Commissioner Claude Armoud who said 200 patrolmen had been assigned indefinitely to 12-hour-a-day duty at or around the school, stated, "There have been no incidents."

ICC Anti-Jim Crow Ruling
Culminates 15-Year Drive

New York—The Interstate Commerce Commission's ruling banning racial segregation on interstate buses and in terminals used by these buses culminates a 15-year drive to get rid of Jim Crow travel.

A series of NAACP-sponsored law suits and complaints filed with the ICC laid the legal basis of the ruling requested by Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy on May 29 after the Freedom Riders last spring focused international attention anew on the continuing Jim Crow practices in Alabama and Mississippi bus terminals.

Santa Monica, Cal.—Twin girls were born to Mr. and Mrs. Nat (King) Cole in a hospital here Sept. 26. The daughters, named Casey and Timolin, weighed 5 pounds 14 ounces and 5 pounds 7 ounces, respectively. The singer and his wife have three other children, Carol 16, Natalie, 11 and Nat Kelly, 2.

Montgomery, Ala.—The state Supreme court Friday refused to overrule the disorderly conduct convictions of the integrationist leader, Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, and 11 other Negroes for sit-in attempts in Birmingham. The court offered no explanation for its action.

St. Louis, Mo.—Chester E. Stovall was arrested in July as a "Freedom director of welfare becoming the first of his race to hold a top administrative position in city government."

Jackson, Miss.—Daniel R. Burkholder, 29, a Chicago white man, was arrested in July as a "Freedom Rider," faces trial in court for eating at a Negro restaurant last week. Police said the cafe manager had asked Burkholder to leave but he refused to do so until he was served.

Newark, N. J.—Huldah Clark, 14-year-old daughter of a Newark laborer, William Clark, arrived in the Soviet Union last week to continue her education there and was quoted as saying, "Negroes do not have much chance for a decent education in the United States."

Chicago, Ill.—The Sivant corporation, a new and growing force in the Chicago mortgage market, has scored a signal breakthrough in obtaining commitments for mortgage funds for the Negro home buyer. Dempsey J. Travis, president, has secured commitments of between 7 to 10 million dollars from some of the nation's largest insurance companies to finance the purchase of homes buyers.

Travel Freely

The ICC order was hailed by NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins as a "gratifying amplification of the ICC ruling handed down in 1955 in response to a petition filed by the NAACP," he said, "that American citizens may now travel freely among their states without being penalized and persecuted because of their color. It means that there will be no East of West Berlins in our country."

Wilkins said the Freedom Riders hit interstate buses from using world the continued segregation in Alabama and Mississippi and thus compelled swift action by the ICC.

Tuskegee Dean Named Special Consultant
To Secretary of Agriculture Freeman

Washington, D. C.—Dean Lawrence A. Potts of Tuskegee's school of agriculture was named Wednesday as a special consultant to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

In announcing the appointment, the Secretary said Dean Potts will advise him on methods of more effectively implementing the Department's policy of equal employment opportunities. This will include, the Secretary pointed out, the development of a more intensive recruitment program among students and graduates of the land-grant colleges.

Visiting Colleges

Continuing, Secretary Freeman said, Dean Potts will be visiting these colleges from time to time to help them keep their curricula in line with the personnel demands of the Department.

In addition, Dan Potts will assist in the development of procedures by which the services of the Department may contribute more significantly to the economic advance of the nation's 285,000 colored farmers.

NAACP branches have been urged to increase their memberships and funds in multiples of 30 "as a tribute to Wilkins' years of devoted service and leadership in our organization," Miss Lucille Black, membership secretary, said in announcing the campaign. After 100 Years 13 Negroes
Integrate Memphis Schools

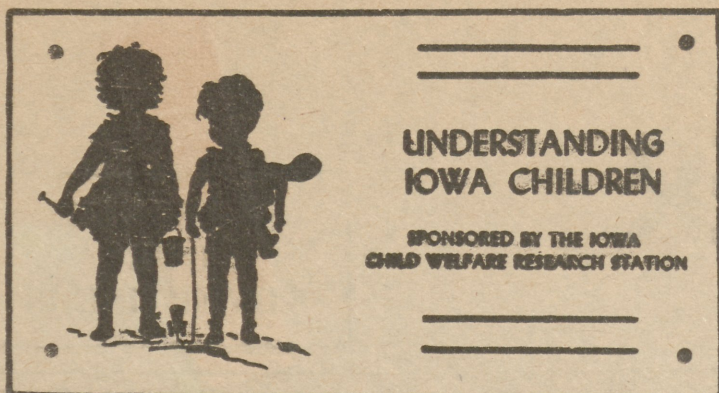

Memphis, Tenn.—One hundred years of iron clad segregation was broken here Tuesday as Memphis became the second Deep South city within a month to desegregate its public schools. An equally iron-clad secret as to the actual date of desegregation here imposed by the local school board, was disclosed when 13 first graders integrated four public schools here.

Police Power

There was an equally imposing show of police power, but there was no incident. A handful of mothers came intermittently to take their children out of school, remarking, "We will either transfer or move out of the city."

However, the Memphis school board said the date for application for transfers to other schools had passed and that no transfers to other schools had passed and that no transfers because of desegregation would be granted.

CHILDREN NEED

RESPONSIBILITY GRADUALLY

"Isn't it terrible the way these teen-age kids behave when they get behind a steering wheel?"

"Why do their parents let them run wild?"

"If they can't be more responsible, they shouldn't be allowed to drive."

Many persons feel the type of concern indicated by remarks such as the above. Many adolescents don't seem ready to accept the kind of responsibility necessary for reasonable safety, so perhaps some emergency measures are needed. But at the same time we don't recognize often enough that possibly our own treatment of our children in their earlier years has prevented them from being as grown-up as they could be in their middle and late teens.

Preparation

Preparation for acceptance of responsibility in adolescence must begin in early childhood. Young children need very definite limits, which they cannot set for themselves. With each year of growth, the child is ready to accept more responsibility for his own behavior. He has an ever-increasing ability to learn through experience and to begin to set some limits for himself.

In the early years, parents should look for years in which each child is ready to take more responsibility, and gradually allow him the freedom to make his own decisions. We need to recognize that our child is probably ready to choose his playmates at around the age of five. At two, this freedom would have meant little to him.

Keeping Too Close

Too often we don't take advantage of our children's growing maturity. We keep them too close and dependent on us. We dictate.

The reckless young driver is often trying to prove that he is important and independent. He wouldn't need to prove this by careless driving if he had gained a feeling of personal worth in earlier and more gradual stages.

EBONY EDITORIAL GIVES RULES ON 'CARE AND TREATMENT OF WHITE FOLK'

What happens when Negroes find themselves on the "giving" instead of the receiving end of racial experiences—such as when a white person is hired by an all-Negro firm, a white family lives in an all-Negro neighborhood or when a white friend is guest at a predominantly Negro gathering?

In October EBONY's photo-editorial, "The Care and Treatment of White Folk," EBONY says the treatment in some of these instances is often a "frustrating experience" to well-meaning whites.

Freezing

The editorial cites examples of the "freezing" a white girl received from other employees of a Negro firm, the ejecting of a white family. The ICC handed down a ruling on Sept. 22 requiring all interstate buses, as of Nov. 1, 1961, to display conspicuously signs reading:

"Seating aboard this vehicle is without regard to race, color, creed, or national origin, by order of the Interstate Commerce Commission."

The Commission order also pro-order of the Interstate Commerce Commission, "any terminal facilities which are so operated, arranged, or main-from a Negro-owned apartment building and the tongue lashing well-meaning but uninformed white persons received in the home of a Negro friend as instances where "the Negro may have forgotten how to treat others" in his own fight for better treatment.

Distrust

Says EBONY, distrust of white motives, envy of white opportunities and resentment of the kind of treatment he receives in the land of his birth, explains in part why the Negro behaves as he does, but it does not justify his behavior.

Intelligence

EBONY concludes: "The Negro should talk, write and protest by every fair means at his command, but do so with intelligence and dignity. Proud of what sit-inners and freedom riders are accomplishing with their kind of resistance, why should any Negro stoop to the tactics of his enemies? By lumping all white people into one prejudiced heap and blaming the good for the misdeeds of the evil, he will alienate the friends he now has and frighten those who would help him toward the goal he seeks."

Who Needs It?—A Viennese doctor has invented a scientific drinking machine. Alcohol goes into a funnel in its top, causing scattered light bulbs to brighten and twinkle. After a few drinks, the lights go out. No information available as to whether the machine sings "Sweet Adeline" before it passes out.

After the Bender—Report of an experiment says that within an hour or two of injection with a thyroid hormone, an "out-cold" drunk can walk a straight line and has no alcohol odor on his breath. Sorry, not available to the public as yet.

Shark Bait—According to Dr. Leonard Schultz, curator of fishes at Smithsonian Institution, marked contrast between skin color and swim suit color attracts a shark. Light skinned people wearing black or dark swimsuits have been attacked most frequently. Most shark attacks occur between 8 a.m. and 7 p.m. in water warmer than 65 degrees, within 150 feet of shore and in the upper five feet of surface waters.

Fallout Shelters

Oh, Good Grief!—Model fallout shelter exhibited at an AMA convention included an inlaid hopscotch game to help the time pass, a 40 year calendar to keep track of the years going by and a map, perhaps to help the occupants find out where they are after all that time spent playing hopscotch.

NAACP Asks President To End Housing Bias

Detroit—The NAACP again called for "immediate executive action by President Kennedy, prohibiting discrimination in all federally assisted housing," here this week.

Jack E. Wood, the Association's special assistant for housing, added that Presidential action is necessary "if urban renewal and the new federal housing programs for the moderate income family are to succeed."

Spot Survey

Wood's remarks, made on Station CKLW-TV here, Sept. 28, came at the conclusion of a spot survey of a dozen cities and housing problems across the nation.

Kennedy's firm campaign promise to take executive action in the area of housing, "must be kept now if these programs are to survive," Mr. Wood said.

In a 61-page memorandum submitted to the White House on August 29, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins and Arnold Aronson, chairman and secretary, respectively, of the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, urged action by the President to halt the spread of racial ghettos.

Memo

The memorandum pointed out that:

*More than 80 per cent of all public housing projects are segregated in some manner.

*Federal housing agencies still help finance exclusive all-white suburban communities.

*Less than two per cent of the homes insured by federal agencies are open to Negroes.

*Urban renewal has become synonymous with Negro removal since Negroes are frequently forced out and not allowed to re-enter reconstructed neighborhoods.

A Room for Two Children
When two youngsters occupy the same room, ordinarily they have little privacy. However, by using a bit of imagination and ingenuity, the fix-it-them-selves family can create a room that has two of everything, plus built-in privacy.

First, the room is divided by means of an extra-wide divider desk and closets. This way, there'll be a separate study and clothes storage area for each child. The separation of the space is completed by a sliding door.

Other features may include a radiator enclosure, fluorescent lighting, spacious drawers in the desks and an attractive soffit. Use of Masonite hardboards for the closet walls, desks, soffit and as underlayment for the flexible floor covering makes such a room improvement both economical and easy. A large variety of hardboards for these purposes are available at lumber yards.

Hardboards made by Masonite Corporation, the pioneer producer, are made by exploding clean wood chips in huge guns and then compressing the fibers into thin, strong panels under extreme heat and pressure. Being all wood, these panels may be worked and finished like wood.

For a free plan detailing how to create a youth room for two, write the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting plan No. AE-265.

Screen for Nursery

A FOLDING screen is mighty handy to have in the nursery, where it can be used to keep drafts off the crib and as a shield against light, noise and activity.

Like the one in the illustration, the screen may be made in the home workshop and neatly decorated by means of decalcomanias or stencils. Panels without the nursery characters may be finished with blackboard slating material, so the pre-school child will have a place to draw.

Materials for this simple device may be obtained in any lumber yard—1 by 2-inch lumber for the framing and crossbars, Masonite

Tempered Duolux, a durable hardboard that's smooth on both sides, and the hardware. The panels, after being cut to size, are inserted in grooves which have been cut in the framing with a power saw.

The stick-on pictures are available at paint and hardware stores, which are sources also for stencils used in hand-painted work. Major paint companies make slate surfacing material, which simply is brushed on the Masonite Duolux with a brush after the panel has been prepared with two coats of clear sealer.

Your photo dealer will be glad to explain anything you don't understand about your camera's operation.

Cameras Respond to Good Treatment

TODAY'S column is one of advice—to new camera owners. But one we feel will also be of value to owners of not-so-new cameras.

When you look that new camera out of the box, there was an instruction book with it, we're sure. It tells you in detail how to operate your camera—and under varying circumstances. It's designed to help you get the best possible pictures. But, of course, it can't do a thing for you if you don't read it carefully. Do that before you take your first pictures. They'll be better pictures. Knowing how your camera operates—and what its limitations are—is a good way to avoid disappointment.

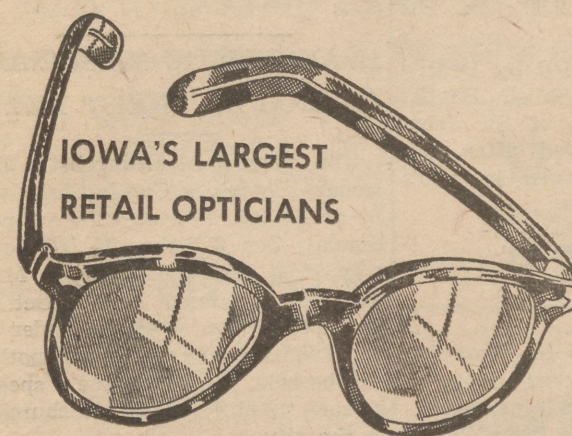

Since all new cameras are carefully inspected before packing, yours should work fine. However, if it is the exception to the rule and shows any inclination to stick, don't force it. Take it to your photo dealer, find out what is wrong and the proper remedy.

from someone who understands the mechanism involved.

These days cameras travel far and wide. Inevitably, they are going to suffer a certain number of bumps and shocks. On the whole they are rugged, and will take an amazing amount of punishment. However, it seems foolish to risk damaging a camera when a field case will protect it and are so low in price.

When traveling by car, you face the unfortunate problem of the most convenient places for carrying camera being the very places that aren't good for it—the glove compartment and the back window ledge. In both spots you find heat and dust, the worst enemies of cameras and film. You don't want to pack it away in a suitcase. So, the best idea is to put the camera in a field case and keep it on the seat beside you—ready for picture taking at all times.

To Straighten Records

SINCE warped phonograph records are useless in that condition, Popular Mechanics offers a suggestion for straightening them. Simply immerse the record in hot water, 140 to 160 degrees, in a cake pan or similar shallow, flat-bottom container.

Over the record invert a dinner plate of a diameter permitting its edge to contact only the edge of the record. In other words, don't let the plate touch the grooves of the record.

Place a one-pound weight on the plate, leaving the record under pressure until the water has cooled to room temperature.

OVEN FRIED CHICKEN A LA CREOLE

A LA CREOLE
Buttered Spinach
Mexican Corn
Hot Biscuits
Fruit Compote Cookies

INGREDIENTS:

1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/3 cup all-purpose flour
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon poultry seasoning
1/4 teaspoon black pepper
1 ready-to-cook young chicken,
2 1/2 to 3 1/2 pounds, cut up.
1 cup uncooked white rice
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon black pepper
3 cups hot chicken broth made by cooking backs and neck
in water
2 large tomatoes, cut into wedges

METHOD: Light the oven and set at 400°F. Place the butter or margarine in a large all metal skillet, baking pan or baking-serving dish about 12"x9"x2". Place this in the oven until the butter or margarine melts. While the butter or margarine is melting, wash the chicken in cold water. Pat dry. Put the flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, paprika, poultry seasoning and 1/4 teaspoon black pepper in a paper bag. Add one piece of chicken at a time. Shake bag to thoroughly coat each piece of chicken with the flour mixture. Place the chicken in the hot melted butter or margarine, skin side down. Bake, uncovered, 25 minutes at 400°F.

Arrange rice, green pepper and onion under the chicken, turning the chicken so the skin side is up. Sprinkle the rice with the 1 1/2 teaspoons salt and 1/4 teaspoon black pepper. Slowly pour the hot chicken broth over the rice. Make certain all the rice is under the broth. Arrange the tomato wedges over the chicken and rice.

Return to the 400°F. oven and bake, uncovered, 45 minutes or until the rice is tender. If the mixture becomes too dry, add a small amount of chicken broth or water.

If desired, serve from the dish in which the chicken-rice bakes. This recipe makes 6 servings.

*Personally Yours
by Frances Hawthorne.*

While listening to the long range weather forecast and mentally shaking hands with premature winter, we were very pleased to hear that an unusual mild and perfect Indian summer month is seen by the guys who man the weather stations. So with that in mind this will be a good time to catch up on the odd jobs around the house that you want done before the shorter days begin. Some residents are painting or trimming woodwork and furniture, so they will have something different to feast their eyes on indoors while the winter winds and snows howl outside your snug windows.

Others are planning and refurbishing perennial flowers and shrubbery with an eye to the beauty of next spring's gardens and floral beds. This is an ideal time to plant rose bushes, hyacinths, tulips and other perennials best planted this time of year for greatest returns in beauty and lush growth next spring.

This also is a wonderful time to take part in some outdoor sports and keep that desired weight or add on or take off a few pounds. There is nothing better than a long Sunday drive in the country to see nature's beautiful array of autumnal hues mantled trees and shrubs.

If you don't particularly like to participate in outdoor sports why not join the thousands of others in outdoor arenas to see a rugged game of football. You would be surprised how much you will enjoy it.

Perhaps, best of all is the probable opportunity for fall cookouts and garden and lawn parties and picnics. All to get the good fresh air invigorating exercise.

Among the hundreds of block captains for United Campaign this month is Mrs. Doris White of 1221 12th street who has as her co-captain Mrs. Catherine Thompson of 1168 11th street.

We had a phone conversation with Helen Marie Bolden the journalism freshman student at Drake University and she was enthusiastic at a chance to write campus news for the Bystander.

She hails from Somerville, Tenn., the famed Tent City that is so familiar to local readers and others around the nation. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luine Bolden.

She plans to major in journalism, because she has "always wanted to and likes writing," and will minor in foreign languages. She won a gold trophy as Tennessee's outstanding home economics student and was valedictorian of her class last Spring. She has traveled quite a bit, as far north as Canada and east as Delaware, but this is her first time in Iowa.

Before graduation from high school she made up her mind she would like to attend school out of the south, although in her words, "There are some very good schools down there." She wrote to Drake asking about their programs and liked what she read about the school. They advised her if she passed a series of tests she would be eligible for admission to the school. She did and she began her studies there last month.

Between Miss Bolden and Miss Joyce Banks, a junior from Council Bluffs, Ia., who is well known to Des Moines residents, especially Deltas, we should get quite a steady flow of campus news from Drake.

We would like to begin a new series, called "Student of the Week," which will be similar to the old "Youth of the Week" series of several years ago. This series will include students from both the junior and senior high schools in Des Moines, but students from other schools in Iowa will be eligible. A picture will be mandatory for each series. So if you know or have some candidates for the series, please give us a call anytime.

Other requirements will be scholarship, average or above, participation in school activities, clubs or in organizations. Our emphasis is on the school angle of the likely candidate.

WILL REPUBLICANS LEARN FROM EXPERIENCE?

The Republican National Committee, in an effort to profit by the defeat in 1960, has begun to prepare for the 1962 campaign. They plan to woo minorities in big cities; they are attempting to strengthen their forces in the South.

Republicans lost the national election in 1960 because they misjudged the South in the light of the fact that Kennedy, a Catholic headed the ticket. It is apparent that their reasoning was that deep-seated religious prejudice in that section outweighed loyalty to the Democratic party. The plan backfired. It fooled Vice President Nixon, who should have known better, and raised the suspicions of many who knew that his record on civil rights had been superior to that of President Kennedy.

In previous attempts to carry the South, those in charge of the program have thrown the Negro vote away in return for promises of support which were never fulfilled. Either the National committee or the campaign committee absolutely soft-pedaled any effort to win the Negro vote in 1960. In fact the leadership conducted the poorest campaign among Negroes since 1928.

Thus, it is clear that winning back minorities in large strategic cities requires an intelligent approach to work among Negroes. And its candidates must be willing to accord them a bigger share in the good things which come with victory.

CHILDREN MUST NOT SUFFER FROM MISDEEDS OF PARENTS

The Iowa Board of Social Welfare has called for a review of ADC cases. Alarmed at the rapid increase in the number of cases, county workers are asked to review every case within 90 days, visiting the recipients personally as required by law so as to determine whether the money they receive is being spent wisely.

Chairman Putney, in his announcement of the investigation, cited the case of one family where the mother, grandmother and great grandmother were receiving ADC amounting to a succession of family participation in the program. (This has not been unusual in direct relief cases.)

Of course, while unfortunate as are many cases presented by the recipients, it does not disqualify a mother from qualifying under the program. After all, these funds are set up for the benefit of the dependent child and not the delinquent mother.

Admittedly there are all kinds of abuses of the program; some mothers are not making good use of the funds; some women deliberately allow themselves to become pregnant in order to collect ADC funds; some women are "helping" their men with these funds. All of this is disgusting but again this is not the fault of the child.

Many of those who abuse the program quit work making ADC their only income. And here again the program is designed to enable a mother to stay home and care for her dependent children and to provide better supervision and protection for them. While it is well to make periodic examinations to see that these funds are being spent as intended, they must not attempt to penalize children for the misdeeds of their parents.

Maybe, the law can be tightened up which will require a better job from the mothers or some method of fixing responsibility on the fathers and see that they carry their share of the problem which they help bring about.

EVEN STARS ARE HUMAN

Last week, United Campaign was fortunate to have Vaughn Monroe, famous band leader, as a star attraction to its fund raising drive. It was an excellent public relations move. Dr. Brothers, noted psychiatrist, was here for the same purpose and made a fine contribution.

The public relations committee invited the news media in for an informal social hour and press conference with Monroe. The editor of the Bystander was in attendance. And after meeting and visiting with him it is easy to see the why of his success for he does his job and acts just like common folks—an attitude the public seldom thinks prevails among people who have reached the top.

After all these stars are just people like Jim and Jane we know. The trouble is the average fellow never gets close enough to them to find that out.

The Rains Came But Iowa Rolls On; Whizzes Pass Stubborn Calif., 28-7

DO WE HAVE A KHRUSHCHEV IN DES MOINES?

The city council at its meeting Monday named a housing action committee of 14 to carry out the mandate of the voters registered on September 25 with reference to low rent housing.

Three names, originally suggested by the mayor were excluded because they were objectionable to Councilman Leachman and finally approved only after it was agreed that they would not be entitled to vote.

What has happened to the council? Does one man rule it? Do we have a Khrushchev here in Des Moines? Maybe, the idea is not bad in reverse. The committee will do nothing anyway and it may just as well take all the responsibility.

This reasoning is based on the fact that they have had a chance to solve the problem for 20 years but have not moved with any success, yet. So why expect it now?

Yes, we were among the 56,000 fans who watched Iowa beat California and got wet and cold in the process. We are sure by now that just about every follower of football knows what happened and how Iowa scored. Hollis' passing was a bit off target but there wasn't anything wrong with his running. Six Negroes in the starting lineup must set some sort of a record for the Hawkeyes and not once did we hear a complaint about it around us.

If you were an Iowa fan it was a great game but we sat there and wondered what would happen if the Hawks made as many fumbles against a top flight opponent like Ohio State as they made against Cal. Can you imagine giving the ball three times to Purdue, Michigan or Ohio State?

Not to mention Minnesota, and Winning?

But it was the first game and we are sure the boys will improve as they go along. The poker sessions were much more interesting than the ball games. Hecklers, who took over and played a hand or two, children with crossed fingers and wishes of good luck for our opponents made this one of our toughest and do you know we didn't even get our go money.

Plan for a Playhouse

A WELL-STYLED playhouse, built in sections and put together on the site, can be dismantled and brought inside until the next outdoors season.

How to build such a playhouse is explained and illustrated by Popular Mechanics in its June, 1956, issue. The walls and roof are made of pre-assembled panel units consisting of a lumber framework that is covered with Masonite 2/16" Tempered Presdwood.

Advantages of the Tempered Presdwood are its splinter-free qualities which safeguard youngsters, its durability in all kinds of weather, its easy paintability and its economy.

A detailed diagram showing how to build this playhouse may be seen in the magazine, or you may obtain a free copy by writing the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2087, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., and requesting Plan No. AE-313.

By Staff Writer

Iowa City, Iowa—The California Bears came to town Saturday to play Iowa's highly vaunted Hawkeyes some football and brought with them torrents of rain and stubborn defensive temperament, but nevertheless quarterback Wilburn Hollis and company, undaunted by these inequities, slam-banged the Californians into 28-7 submission before a record first game, rain-soaked crowd of 55,000.

Behind mighty Hollis (whose running agility and power seem to say "move over little dog a big dog's moving in") the Iowans rolled up a yardage total of 381 yards; 124 of which was netted by the quarterback himself.

Assets

The assets entailed in this initial victory by the Hawks served to prove somewhat their claim to fame as potential National champs (the win placed them in first in the polls 109 points ahead of second place Mississippi) and possible Big Ten Kings; as well as a warm up for the hotness of things to come.

Debit

On the debit side Iowa lost All-America halfback Larry Ferguson who injured a ligament in his left knee on the wet turf on his third run of the game and will thus be out of action for two-three weeks. And then again Iowa still has those heart-crucial points in the game. There were seven fumbles in Saturday's contest. This was due, however, in part to the wet weather that is not entirely conducive to the Hawks' type of razzle-dazzle offensive and in part is contributed to their playing their first game. And, too, Iowa's passing game isn't clicking.

Hollis scored the first two touchdowns of the game as he combined city it kept on raining. East High ran into a tough West Waterloo team but might have won if they could have hung onto the ball at the right time. Larry Welch continued to be a standout but the guy needs help.

Tech was soundly trounced by Roosevelt. Come to think of it they never have beaten the Riders in football. Seems as if they just can't play their regular game against end boys.

North racked up number 2 by crushing Chariton Saturday night. Bob White, Ron Jackson and company are a fast bunch of boys but we still would have some bigger guys in defense. The fellows are willing and great tryers, but are just too short for good defense against tall receivers. Maybe, they will score so many points themselves that what the other team does won't matter.

Baseball

World Series anyone? Who doesn't know about that 61st homer? Hope the Reds win but our money is on the Yankees. Chet Brevier is in town looking great and still scouting for the Pirates.

Cincinnati Reds, Yankees Square Off In World Series

New York—The Cincinnati Reds who won their first pennant in 19 years, and the New York Yankees, veteran post-season baseball participants, were scheduled to square off in the first game of the World Series in Yankee Stadium here yesterday.

Slated to pitch the opener for New York was southpaw Whitey Ford (25-4) and carrying the mound duties for the National League pennant winners was Jim O'Toole, Red mound ace with 19 wins and 9 losses. Frank Robinson, the Red's single man power plant was to be shifted to left field for the first two games in New York, and after moving back to Cincinnati, Saturday will move back to his regular post, in right field.

Elston Howard for the Yankees, and Veda Pinson, of the Reds will be other Negroes who will perform in the World Series. Most fans' attention will be on the now famed Roger Maris who bested the late Babe Ruth's record of 60 home runs in a single season. Maris' feat however will not be recorded historically as breaking Ruth's record since it was not performed in a regulation 154-game season.

Mickey Mantle, the other part of the M-Team underwent minor surgery and was not expected to make the opener. He hit 56 home runs for the Yankees.

The speed of a jet and power of a bull-dozer on a 22-yarder and tallied again on a two-yard scoot around end.

The Californians were not to be denied and with the aid of Godess Luck grabbed a loose ball in the end zone for their lone tally as the half ended at 14-7 Iowa.

Second Half

The second half was less exciting than the first and there was no scoring in the third quarter. The game and this point seemed that it might end with a tighter score but in the fourth quarter halfback Paul Krause, Ferguson's replacement, jaunted on a 30-yard run for a T.D. Then, rugged tough half back Lonnie Rogers, scored from the four. Sure-footed quarterback Matt Szykowny missed nary a PAT.

Iowa tangles with some more Californians Saturday at Los Angeles when they contest the Southern California Trojans in a nationally televised event. They are eight point favorites.

Jealousy will get you nowhere in this rugged deal called life. When you hold it and you feed it it will kill you like a knife ! ! ! ! Many evils fatten on it . . . sweethearts, lovers, go astray. Wreckage, heartbreak, thrive upon it, and the innocent suffer and pay . . . Jealousy destroys an empire—millions maimed and millions dead.
