On Sunday, October 8, a special tribute was held in his honor by 800 friends at a brunch at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, New York City. Expected to speak were Governor Nelson Rockefeller, Mayor Robert Wagner, and other notables.

CORE Protests Kansas School Segregation

Kansas City, Kan.—Kansas City CORE and the Northwest District Citizens Committee are picketing the Kansas City, Kansas school board to protest discriminatory school districting.

The CORE group asserts that school "boundaries have been shifted to coincide with the movement of Negro neighborhoods. Special permits are available for students to attend schools out of their assigned districts but these have been used to keep Negro schools exclusively Negro and Negro attendance of integrated schools very small."

Well-Attended Meet Convened in Keokuk

Los Angeles Police Called Next Worst to Birmingham

Los Angeles — Police in Los Angeles were called "next to those in Birmingham, Alabama" in their treatment of Negro citizens by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, in a speech at a civil rights rally here Sunday (Oct. 1).

The NAACP chief said he was "appalled" at recurring reports of beatings, shootings, and cold-blooded killings by Los Angeles police officers.

Judge and Jury

"The Negro citizens have great difficulty in getting at this evil because the system in Los Angeles makes the Chief of Police almost completely independent of the Mayor or of any other elected official," the NAACP speaker declared.

"This system allows the Police Department to be the judge and jury of its own personnel without having to pay any attention to the public.

Halted by Police

"A familiar story is that of law-abiding Negro citizens coming home at normal hours and being halted by police squad cars and made to stand against the wall with hands raised until such questions as the police choose to ask are answered. These events have occurred without any crime having been reported in the neighborhood."

The Los Angeles NAACP is at work on the problem through an active policy brutality committee, according to Edward Warren, branch president.

Hollywood—Under the guidance of Arnold L. Jones, Hair Weev, the patented new hair discovery, is gaining wide spread popularity as a beneficial aid for women. The service is also used by men to a lesser degree.

Human Hair

Hair Weev is a method and apparatus by which strands of human hair are matched with the growing hair in color and texture and applied next to the scalp for either length or thickness. Once the hair is applied by Jones, a woman may shampoo, comb, brush, press, curl or dye her hair just as she might her own. Unlike old fashioned attachments, the new hair does not slip or slide and is undetectable. Real human hair imported from Oriental and European countries is used by Jones in the method. He stresses the importance of using only human hair in all cases.

Nu Hair of California, home based in Los Angeles and headed by Jones, operates a training program for licensed beauticians who come from all parts of the Country to take the $350 five day course.

Members Accuse Pastor Of Conspiracy to Control $40,000 in Cash, Property

Sioux City, Ia.—A church dispute that has been waging "hot and fast" the past year between two factions in the membership body was taken into court here Oct. 4.

Defendants in the case are the Mt. Olive Baptist church, its pastor, the Rev. William Phillips, Allen Robinson, chairman of Trustee board, Ganaway, treasurer of special building fund and John Doe. They are to show cause Monday at 9 a.m. why an injunction should not be issued against them. They will appear before Honorable Ralph W. Cray, judge of the Fourth Judicial District in Sioux City.

Conspiracy

In the petition for a writ of injunction seven members charged that the Rev. Phillips and other members "fraudulently entered into a confederation and conspiracy by which the entire management and control of the church property and its funds, at total value of $40,000, would pass over to and come under the complete control and direction of Rev. Phillips."

Expelled Members

The members further charge that "by illegal actions and procedures contrary to Hiscox's Standard Manual for Baptist Churches, the Rev. Phillips brought about the expulsion of certain members so that he would be able to use church funds for his own personal gratification."

The members charge that the Rev. Phillips personally sought "purchase of a parsonage in an outlying area which will be located five miles across town from the new church building when completed. The present church property has been purchased by the city for the Floyd River project and cash will be paid for the sale. They further charge that the Rev. Phillips bought new furniture for the parsonage and had bills of sale made out to himself.

Plaintiffs

Plaintiffs in the case are Robert Brown, Timothy Jackson, A. C. Evans, C. W. Tillman, Eddie Jones, Elder Owens and Dollie Jones, all of Sioux City. Mrs. Jones is still a member of the church. The others were "expelled by the pastor," on Sept. 24. Owens had been a member 40 years.

Attorney

The plaintiffs have retained Henry T. McKnight, Des Moines attorney, to represent them in their legal battle.

McKNIGHT

McKnight is a former Sioux City attorney and goes into this case with a record of never having lost a case in church litigation. This will be his eighth case.

Rev. Phillips has been pastor of Mt. Olive Baptist church for four years and came there from East St. Louis, Ill.

McKnight explained "since Baptist churches have no source of appeal, like bishops in Methodist churches, their only recourse is the courts, if they have been wronged."

Jack Greenberg Named to Replace Marshall As Chief Legal Counsel of NAACP

New York City—The Board of Directors of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc. announced that Jack Greenberg has been elected to succeed Thurgood Marshall as General Counsel.

Succeeds Marshall

The Board, at a dinner meeting, accepted the resignation of Marshall, who had been Director-Counsel since 1950, and has for twenty-five years been associated with the legal work of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Greenberg, 37, was Marshall's principal assistant, and Assistant Counsel of the Fund since 1949.

Mr. Marshall has been nominated by President Kennedy for a federal judgeship on the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. For a quarter of a century he has been in the forefront of the fight for civil rights.

Native New Yorker

Greenberg is a native New Yorker, a graduate of Columbia College and the Columbia University Law School, who has devoted all but one year of his professional legal career to the work of the Fund. During his twelve years on the Fund staff, he has worked on virtually every major civil rights case in which it has participated.

Marshall, a Negro who had been the NAACP's chief counsel for more than 20 years, said when asked about Greenberg's appointment:

"As those who are fighting discrimination, we cannot afford to practice it."

First Case

Greenberg helped to prepare the Legal Defense Fund brief in the School Segregation Cases of 1954 and 1955, and argued in those cases before the Supreme Court. He will argue the defense of Negro students convicted in sit-in demonstrations in Baton Rouge, La., before the Supreme Court on Oct. 18, 1961, the first sit-in case which the Supreme Court will hear.

He is married to the former Sema Ann Tanzer of Wilmington, Del. The Greenbergs, who live in Great Neck, L. I., are the parents of four children.

Golfer Charles Sifford

Los Angeles—Negro golf champion Charley Sifford has signed to play in the $20,000 Ontario Open golf tournament at Whispering Lakes Golf Course Oct. 11-15. The tournament is the newest on the PGA circuit. Sifford will also play in the third annual $20,000 Orange County Open golf tournament at the Mesa Verde County Club Oct. 15-22. He finished second at Orange County last year.

Dutch Representatives Seek Clemency for Preston Cobb

Atlanta — Two distinguished Hollanders are here to observe the hearing on the motion for a new trial for 15-year-old Preston Cobb. The hearing was scheduled for Friday, Oct. 6, at Milledgeville, Ga.

Convicted of slaying Frank Coleman Dumas, Sr., 70-year-old white farmer, young Cobb was sentenced to be executed on September 22. Upon request of the boy's mother, Mrs. Leatha Cobb of Monicello, the NAACP retained Donald L. Hollowell, Atlanta attorney, to defend Preston Cobb in further legal proceedings. A motion for a new trial, filed by Mr. Hollowell on Sept. 22, secured a stay of the execution order.

Organized Committee

News of the conviction and death sentence aroused citizens of The Netherlands who organized a Preston Cobb Committee and secured nearly 2,000,000 signatures to a petition asking clemency for the youth. The committee, headed by J. van der Mollen of Amsterdam, designated two representatives to come to this country.

Representing the Dutch committee on his mission are Mrs. F. T. Diemer-Lindeboom, member of the Municipal Board of Rotterdam and a former member of The Netherlands delegation to the United Nations, and Judge B. W. van Houten, vice-president of the Court of Arnhem. They arrived in New York City on the night of October 2.

Not Law Critics

"We come here," Judge Van Houten explained in New York, "not as critics of American law, but as people with a real concern about the death penalty for a mere lad. Our concern has nothing to do with Preston Cobb's race; it would be the same if he were white, or Asian. It is the death penalty for a child that gravely concerns us and the nearly 2,000,000 Dutch men, women and children we represent."

Want Facts

"What we want to do," Mrs. Diemer-Lindeboom said, "is to get all the facts in the case and to find out if there is some way by which this boy will have the opportunity to escape the death penalty. We want to help him, if we can, to have a chance to rehabilitate himself."

As a member of The Netherlands delegation to the United Nations, Mrs. Diemer-Lindeboom helped frame the child welfare aspects of the Declaration of Human Rights. In Holland, they pointed out, the death penalty, except for military courts, has not been imposed for more than a century.

INTEGRATE ATLANTA LUNCH COUNTERS

Atlanta—Negroes quietly integrated lunch counters and restaurants in 13 variety and chain stores last Friday to fulfill a seven-month-old desegregation agreement. The integration was carried out by pre-arranged plan shortly after most of the noon lunch hour traffic had left the eating places. The Negroes, mostly college students, took seats at counters, in booths and at tables. They were served by white waitresses in most cases. There was no disturbance, although some white customers did leave at several of the stores.

MATHIS TO APPEAR ON SULLIVAN SHOW

New York, N. Y.—Johnny Mathis, who has not appeared on television in this country since Sept. 1960, has signed for an Ed Sullivan Show appearance on Sunday, Nov. 26. Mathis is among those performers who believes in rarely appearing on TV, because he believes that frequent exposure in that medium would adversely affect the box-office for his "live" appearances.

Urges U.S. Government Ban Bias in Housing Loans

Rights Commissioners Says Urban Renewal Cases Should Be Firm

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. Commission on Civil Rights today called for the issuance of an executive order to insure for all Americans equal access to the benefits of Federal housing programs and equal treatment from Federally supervised mortgage lending institutions.

This recommendation is contained in a Report on equal opportunity in housing, the third of the Commission's five-volume 1961 Report to the President and Congress. Prior volumes dealt with Voting and Education. The Commission will shortly issue the remainder of its Report, covering Employment, and the Administration of Justice.

Mortgages

To effectuate the proposal for an executive order, the Commission also recommended:

1. That the President direct that the Federal Housing Administration, Veterans Administration and Federal National Mortgage Association take steps to assure nondiscrimination by builders, banks and brokers who participate in Government programs, and that he designate open occupancy housing for FNMA special assistance.

2. That the President or Congress take steps to require nondiscrimination by all financial institutions engaged in the mortgage loan business that are supervised by a Federal agency (Federal Home Loan Bank Board, Comptroller of the Currency, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System).

The three recommendations add up to a sweeping proposal to halt discrimination in most "conventionally financed" housing as well as public housing, urban renewal, housing for the elderly and homes built with the aid of FHA mortgage insurance, VA loan guarantees, and FNMA secondary market purchases and sales.

Housing Bias

The Commission found widespread denials of equal opportunity in housing.

ing on racial grounds. Noting that the housing and home finance industries rely heavily on Federal Contributions, the Commission pointed out that "Federal resources are utilized to accentuate the denial" and that no Federal agency "has attempted to exert more than a semblance of its authority to secure equal access of the housing benefits it administers." The Commission suggested that its recommendations for an executive order might be implemented through inserting a nondiscrimination provision in written agreements, and by requiring that lending institutions adopt nondiscrimination policies as a condition for dealing with FHA, VA or FNMA. But it did not attempt to spell out procedures or sanctions in detail.

Urban Renewal

The Commission also unanimously recommended that: Communities receiving Federal urban renewal assistance be required to assure adequate relocation in decent, safe, and sanitary housing for people displaced by slum clearance;

That the President direct the Urban Renewal Administration to require that contracts entered into between local public authorities and redevelopers contain a provision assuring access to reuse housing to all applicants regardless of race, creed, or color.

That Congress require, in the administration of the Interstate Highway Program, that States assure decent, safe, and sanitary housing for persons displaced by highway clearance.

Information

That the President direct all Federal agencies concerned with housing and with home mortgage credit to develop procedures for obtaining information on the availability of home mortgage credit to nonwhites and other minority groups, and the extent to which they participate in the benefits of the housing programs administered by these agencies.

Members of the Commission are: Robert Storey, Robert S. Rankin, Dr. John A. Hannah, Reverend Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., Dean Erwin N. Griswold, and Dean Spottswood W. Robinson III, Berl I. Bernhard is Staff Director of the Commission.

Louise Wheeler Is City Council Candidate

Mrs. Louise L. Wheeler, 52, a housewife, announces her candidacy for the city council primary election. Mrs. Wheeler, says, "I am proud and glad to be an American, I try to live by the Golden Rule, and I believe in the equality of man regardless of color, creed or race."

Annexation

"I do not believe that Des Moines should spend money on projects like the Bartholomew plan until the needs of the majority are taken care of. For instance, doing something to help the transportation problems of the people who do not have cars or the ability to drive."

Family

She has lived in southeast Des Moines nearly 20 years and is a member of Indianola Heights Christian Church and its Christian Women's Fellowship. New York — NAACP branches have been called upon to press for full implementation of the Interstate Commerce Commission's new ruling banning racial segregation on interstate buses and in terminals.

Local Units

In a memorandum dispatched this week to all local units of the Association, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins called for educational programs to inform all travelers about the ICC regulations, inspection of buses and terminals to see if the orders have been publicly posted as required, insistence by passengers on the right to use facilities on a non-segregated basis, and reports to the national, regional or state offices of the NAACP of any infractions of the ICC's ruling.

Texas National Guard Accepts First Negro

Dallas—The NAACP regional office here has been informed that the 49th Armored Division, a Texas National Guard unit, has begun token desegregation. It had been lily-white previously.

Clarence A. Laws, the Association's southwest regional secretary, said here this week that "in response to letters to Major General Harley B. West, commander of the 49th Armored Division, we have been informed that that organization has been desegregated."

Eligible

General West further informed him that "Negro veterans are eligible to enlist subject to the requirements applicable to all other enlistees," Laws said.

The NAACP representative revealed that the first and only Negro known to have ever been admitted to the Texas National Guard was enlisted in one of the tank companies of the divisions about six weeks ago.

But, "more Negroes are likely to be assigned when the unit is placed on active duty Oct. 15," Mr. Laws added. He based this assumption on information contained in a letter from the office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense in Washington, D. C., dated Sept. 22nd.

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by William P. Hawkinson, SUI Assistant Professor

HELPING THE RETARDED CHILD

It is the goal of all parents to have their children become independent and self-reliant. But Bruce would never reach this goal—he was a retarded child. His parents had to accept the fact that they would always be responsible for his care and the planning for his future.

Acute Problems

In school, Bruce was faced with acute problems. In class work, games and all other activities, he was slowly becoming aware that he was lacking in some way. Bruce's parents tried to help as much as possible but finally turned to a doctor for expert advice.

Environment

The parents were aware of the disadvantages of Bruce's environment and with the help of their doctor decided to look around for a school that specialized in teaching retarded children. They had two choices, a state school or a private school. Since the private schools in their state were superior to those supported by the state and since they had adequate financial resources, they chose a good private school for Bruce.

Emotions

Our emotions as parents sometimes have to be secondary when considering what is best for our child. The decision made by Bruce's parents was not an easy one. They loved Bruce and felt he would miss this affection, thereby adding to his handicap. But they found that the school they had selected was staffed with intelligent, considerate people who were aware of this problem and gave Bruce kind and thoughtful attention.

The parents are encouraged to visit Bruce as much as possible, and twice

Simple Cake with Penuche Sauce

by Jane Ashley

Whether you bake your own sponge or angel food cake, use a mix, or buy the cake at the corner store, you'll like this Penuche Sauce to make the dessert your own. It's simple enough for the children after school, yet glamorous enough to serve at a card party or other grown-up affair.

This Three-Way Penuche Sauce is versatile, too. Add confectioners' sugar and you'll have a frosting for a butter or chiffon cake, or a full pound of confectioners' sugar for a smooth creamy fudge.

THREE-WAY PENUCHE SAUCE

3 tablespoons margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup dark Karo Syrup
2 tablespoons light cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix margarine, brown sugar, salt and Corn Syrup together in a saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil 3 to 4 minutes over low heat, stirring frequently. Stir in cream and let mixture come to a boil again. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Serve warm over ice cream or plain cake. Makes 1 cup sauce.

Frosting: Follow recipe for sauce as directed above. Gradually add 3 to 3 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar to the hot sauce, mixing until well blended, smooth and of spreading consistency. Makes sufficient frosting to cover top and sides of 9 x 13-inch cake.

Fudge: Follow recipe for sauce as directed. Gradually add 1 pound sifted confectioners' sugar to the hot sauce and blend until smooth. Turn into greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan. Chill until firm. Cut into squares. Makes 1 1/2 pounds fudge.

PAULINE B. HUMPHREY, Manager

Every now and then we come across a week in which it seems that every possible minute is taken up with some commitment or other. It is so crowded, it almost overwhelms one. We all have such weeks or days. We all get through them somehow. Usually when we look back we really how easy we got through them and wonder what all the hue and cry of "How will I get through this?" which preceded our getting through them, was all about. After a time if we are those who learn from some of our mountains of experiences, we learn to say to ourselves and act on that belief, we will get through. That is when we get through far easier than expected; we think this is mainly because we have eliminated all the energy sapping worries and needless procrastination, and dug in and got the jobs finished. We put our shoulders to the wheel, accepted what help might have been offered or asked for, and carried through.

With all that long procrastinating introduction to this week's column we would like to get down to some specifics. We would like to recount for you some of the week's activities of yours truly. The first three days naturally are compactly devoted to getting on the news ends of the Bystander, we hope, for your enjoyment. However, on Tuesday, when we completed most of our typing assignments we had to go to Nash school for the October P.T.A. meeting, of which we are serving as social chairman this year. We were assisted by first grade mothers' hostesses, Mmes. Leonard Wade, R. W. Farris, and C. Hannah.

Wednesday we read proofs and attended makeup for the Bystander and went down to check page proof Thursday morning as usual before the paper went to press. In between we had to make our house to house calls for United Campaign, of which Mrs. Doris White is captain in our area this year.

On Friday it will be Fun Night at Nash school, and as social chairman we are in charge of the Snack Bar. In our P.T.A. we are ably assisted by our nice co-chairman, Mrs. John Searcy. So if you are in the Nash school area, and would like some diversion besides the usual TV fare, come on out to Nash school. We are sure you will enjoy it.

Last weekend we got a card from Miss Charlene Wharton, director of Willie House, who was attending the week-long session on urban renewal at Hull House in Chicago, Ill. She wrote that the sessions were both "Stimulating and the people interesting," with a mixture of all nationalities in the Hull House neighborhood.

She called us upon her return to Des Moines earlier this week and promised a report on the urban renewal discussions for Bystander readers.

We also had a letter from another reader. She wrote, "I am a regular reader of the Bystander. My home is in Waterloo, Ia., but at the present I am visiting relatives here in Detroit, Mich.

"I like writing prose and poetry. So I decided maybe if I sent one or two of mine into you it may be published in one of the issues. The two I am sending are "Thank You God," and "Heaven Help Our Soldier Boys."

The writer of the letter and the foregoing submitted verse is Barbara Jean Garrison. Her first entry goes:

"I thank you God, for all you've gone,
I thank you God, for you're the mighty one.

I thank you, thank you God,
I really thank you; thank you God.
You put us here, on this earth
And made the land just what it's worth;

I thank you, thank you God
I really thank you, thank you God.
You placed me here,
And brought my family near.
For this I thank you, thank you God.

I thank you God, for all you've done,
I thank you God, for you're the mighty one.

I thank you, thank you God
I really thank you, thank you God.

POLICE DEPARTMENT
MOVES UP A NOTCH

Beginning last month, the Des Moines police force has included a Negro who has reached the rank of sergeant.

For a number of years, Negro officers—some with college training—have passed the promotion examination, but none has been appointed due to the odd custom, secretly executed, that they must be left in the lower ranks on the force.

However, during the upheaval growing out of the discharges of some officers for misconduct and the apparent laxity of the civil service commission, complaints which Negroes have made over the years, but disregarded, got attention. Its too bad that it took something of this kind to get results.

The Bystander has criticized the commission, the police department and the council because it knew that unethical practices have been going on. It is equally pleased to commend this recent departure from what has been an unfair practice.

After all, civil service commissions are designed to provide impartial tests for applicants who meet the test. This has not been the case heretofore. It is hoped that this will not be a token move to silence anybody but proof that everyone who qualifies will be rewarded for what he makes.

RIGHTS COMMISSION
PROVING ITS VALUE

When the Civil Rights Commission was created by Congress, many people felt that it was just another plan to do nothing about civil rights. There was some basis for this view. And even though a few commissions have been appointed by presidents—their status was created by executive order—none has been created by Congress and thus their authority was limited.

However, when Congress passed the law authorizing the appointment of a Civil Rights Commission, President Eisenhower spent a lot of time securing able qualified people to serve. He came up with a group of able men from North and South, Negro and white, who are dedicated to do a good job. And in spite of a minority report on occasions, essentially the group has done a splendid job.

Hearings touching voting rights and adequate housing have been held in several cities, North and South. In each instance facts were unearthed to prove what the NAACP and other groups have said over the years—that there is widespread discrimination and in many instances total exclusion of Negroes from exercising their rights.

These facts have been assembled in excellent fashion and on two occasions presented to Congress as a guide to our need for legislation to correct these evils.

The executive department, under President Eisenhower and Kennedy, has gone about the task of cleaning up the undesirable conditions found to exist in several states.

Of course, some resisted the Commission coming into their communities knowing full well that unfavorable conditions would be found. But those in charge went ahead following the law and doing their job in a businesslike manner. And by so doing the members have won the respect and praise of some who in the beginning were suspicious and hostile.

Much progress continues to be made in the fight to eliminate racial discrimination because tools have been provided to help do the job.

BAD START FOR HAWKEYES

When a fellow is seated on top of the pile, it offers an opportunity for all below him to strive to take his place. That was the situation with the Iowa University football team as the season began.

During its first two games, that flash, speed and precision of 1960 have not been displayed and thus it has not been an easy job to stay undefeated. Surely the excessive penalties which the team drew last Saturday indicated that he boys just have not jelled.

But slow starts often bring on good overall seasons. The Hawks will come through with more hard work with the material they have even though some are on the injured list.

STUDENTS PICKET
GOVERNORS' MEETING

Nashville—A bi-racial group of 16 college students carrying anti-segregation placards picketed headquarters of the Southern Governor's conference here last week. Some of the governors at the conference advocate and support mob violence, according to John Lewis, spokesman for the group. Lewis specifically mentioned Gov. John Patterson of Alabama.

Inspired Calif. Sparks Offensive Thriller;
Iowa Escapes By Skin of Teeth, 35-34

By Staff Writer

Los Angeles, Calif. . . . The Trojans of Southern California really weren't Trojans at all here Saturday. They had, to Iowa's dismay, literally turned into Big Bad Wolves as they huffed and puffed themselves into a potent offense and blew the Hawks Ivory Castle of National ranking to smithereens; but in the final analysis let them escape by the hair of their "chinny-chin chin", 35-34.

In this offensive thriller, California was out to annihilate mighty Iowa and practically got the job done. The Hawks were wounded but they weren't dead. The Californians tried a two point conversion in the waning seconds of the contest that half-back Sammie Harris and Tackle Al Hinton combined to break up and save the game.

No Defense

The Hawkeyes were very much alive offensively. It was their defense they went "caplunk". They just could not savvy the inspired Trojan offense that matched them touchdown for touchdown.

Joe Williams

Joe Williams, fullback turned half-back, put Iowa out front by three touchdowns and in this feat tied the all time Iowa record for scoring touchdowns. He ran 20-yards for the first tally on a screen pass from quarterback Wilburn Hollis after a fake field goal. He scored the second on a 41-yard aerial from Hollis and the third on a four yard run around the right end.

Trojans Retaliate

It seemed at this point that Iowa was on its merry way but here the Trojans turned Wolves. Aided by Iowa's many back-field-in-motion penalties that nullified long gains, the Trojans-Wolves began to find gapping holes in the Hawks defense and behind the quarter backing of Bill Nelson, half back Willie Brown and full-back Ben Wilson, et al, the Californians almost matched Iowa point for point. Iowa was always ahead. They led at first 21-0, then 21-14 at the half.

Second Half

Then in the third quarter it was as close as 21-20, later 28-20 then they sported a 35-20 lead. All the while the California crowd

Cyclones Stave Off
Oklahoma, 21-15 with Three Quick TDs

By Staff Writer

Norman, Okla.—The Iowa State Cyclones struck quick as a flash here Saturday and in the first quarter scored three quick touchdowns over fumbling Oklahoma and in the end fought them off, to win, a 21-15 upset victory.

The Cyclones fought hard to stave off the onrushing Sooners who had as their companion, an 80-degree heat. Their rewards for winning were many. They are still undefeated after three games, two of them in conference play, therefore, they are co-owners of the top spot in the league.

Going into last year's game with Oklahoma, Iowa had lost 29 straight to the Sooners. Saturday's victory marked the first time in history that they have licked the one-time formidable football wizards of the Big Eight Conference, twice in a row. State scored 21 points in 13 minutes of the first quarter. Dave Hoppman sailed over from the Sooner 1 and fleet Ozzie Clay scooted over from the eight. Two minutes later Clay sprinted, ducked and dodged for 29 yards in two tries for the other score.

was yelling beat Iowa . . . Beat Iowa!!! Seemingly spurred on by these exclamations the Trojans with the help of Iowa miscues, passed (one a 71 yarder) and ran to pay dirt till they breathed down Iowa necks, to smell the sweet scent of victory. But this, the Hawks, decrepit and enervated, refused to let them have. This, they kept for themselves thanks to their steadfastness. And to their lucky stars.

The Hawks engage in a Big Ten tussle Saturday at home against Indiana. So it is beginning to be time for the Hawks to put their best foot forward, straighten out the kinks, get in gear and get going or suffer the consequences.

Stars Hollis and Larry Ferguson are expected to be out with injuries for Saturday's game.

Long Range Running
Wins for Drake Over
Troublesome SCI

By Staff Writer

The Drake Bulldogs freed themselves of the three year shackles of domination by State College boys of Cedar Falls and awakened from their first half lethargy and barked and bit their way to a 21-6 victory.

Accustomed to the dominance by the Panthers the Bulldogs fought a defensive battle in the first half, ending with State College leading 6-0.

Second Half

In the second half, the Bulldogs caught fire that was hot and of long duration. LeRoy Chandler and Art

Well, sir, it has been a number of years since your illustrious scribbler sat on the edge of his seat at any sort of athletic event. In fact, we had begun to think that we had lost our zest for the game. But, last Saturday we really were sitting up-right on the very edge of our chair as Iowa's Hawks and U.S.C. battled to that wellknown one point margin.

It was a great game for Iowa to hang onto, but on what we saw Saturday, Iowa was really not the number one team at least on that day.

Fired Up

Sure, the Trojans were fired up, and we always contend that football is 50 per cent spirit. Then the penalties came at the wrong time. But with all that Iowa didn't do things in a number one way. Their blocking wasn't co-ordinated so the man could really get away. They had almost no real threat down the middle to open up the wings where their speed could be used. The gains that did come up the middle were nearly all individual efforts.

Iowa Defense

Then the Iowa defense was vulnerable up the middle as it was the week before against California, but the California team didn't get the ball enough to do much about it. But on the whole we would say that unless the Hawks come up with a lot more than they showed Saturday, they could lose at least two conference games and maybe Notre Dame.

Iowa State

Iowa State caught Oklahoma after the Sooners had made their supreme effort against Notre Dame and the Cyclones. Clay hit early to put his team out in points and that was the ball game. If the State Boys get by Kansas they could take it all in the Big Eight. Everyone who sees Ozzie Clay says he is an exact duplicate of Ozzie Simmons who played at Iowa in the middle 30s. We will probably get to see him pretty quick.

Drake

Drake had a good game. That Drake-Iowa State College game is always a good one no matter who wins. Could be that the Bulldogs are headed for their best season in recent years. Hope they are.

Nichols were playing a double safety. Chandler caught a punt on the 50-yard line, stepped a couple of yards, cut loose to the right, veered to the left and sailed for pay dirt. Nichols scored two for Drake. Nichols, playing cagey, jogged along chasing a bouncing punt on the Drake 20, then suddenly shifted into high gear, startling would-be Panther tacklers sailed 80 yards for the score. Nichols earlier had run around end for seven yards for another T.D.

The victory was Drake's 15th against 8 losses with one tie with the State College of Iowa, which until this year was known as Iowa State Teachers College.

GOOD MORNING?

They push their dope in all free lands,
To taint my son, your daughter
Enslaving children of the free,
Preparing for our slaughter.
Our children of today will rule
This coming generation.
Shall we forever play the fool,
Or fight for our salvation?
While evil thrives and men condone,
Destruction gives no warning.
And while it feeds on mens' desire,
There'll be no good, good morning!

DISASTER

Somewhere a sleeping menace

wakes
With ergs of reckless strength,
And slyly—without warning—
It flings its' monstrous length.
Age-old marks are sundered,
And mans' work overthrown—
There builds a quickened tempo,
A fearsome overtone . . . as the
Wrath of all the elements,
Blend in a death-filled moan.
All wild things tremble in the night,
And man-things quail in fear
The vortex of the holocaust,
Spews out—and death is near.
The winds, the rains, the thunder-
bolts,
Wild floods are rising, faster, faster,

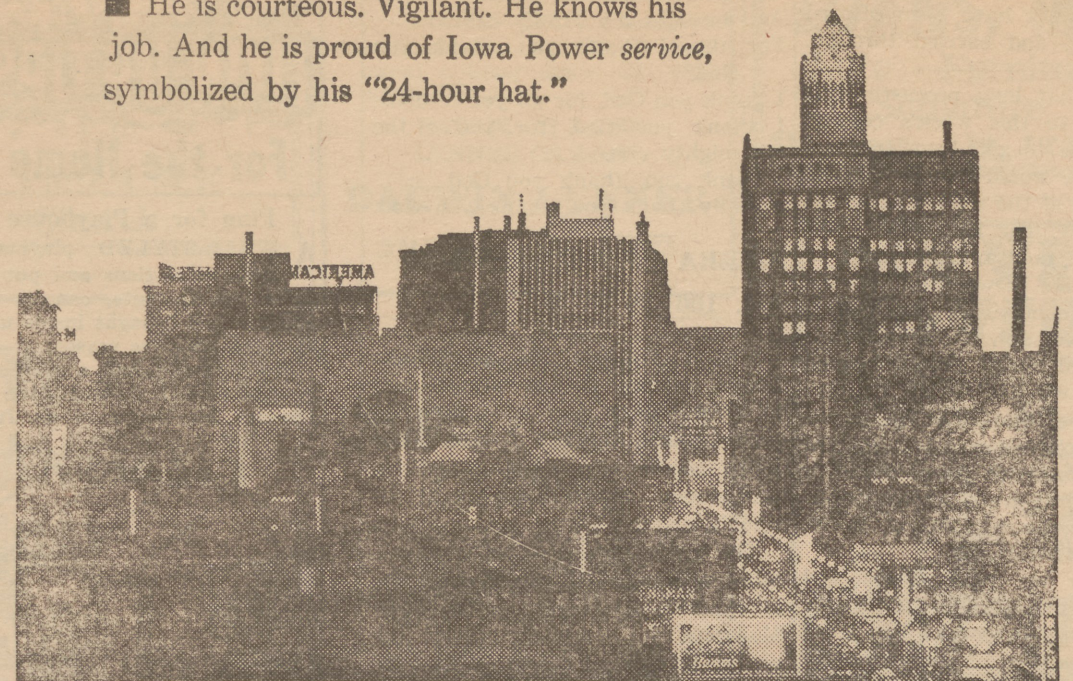

Destruction, chaos, spoilage, woe,
The loss, the pain, disaster!

Thoughts for Today

Everyone has a mass of bad work in him which he will have to work off and get rid of before he can do better—and indeed, the more lasting of a man's ultimate good work, the more sure he is to pass through a time, and perhaps a very long one, in which there seems very little hope for him at all. We must all sow our spiritual wild oats.—Samuel Butler.

Day and night, while towns and cities work and slumber, their protectors are quietly on guard. ■ A police car glides silently through the streets, its occupants ever watchful. Firemen at their stations are ready to swing into action in seconds upon signal. And at work centers throughout 24 Iowa counties served by Iowa Power, men wearing "24-hour hats" are on the alert, too . . . right around the clock. ■ Detecting the slightest threat of service interruption, they rush to forestall it before it can cause you any inconvenience. Receiving your call for special service, the man in "the 24-hour hat" comes promptly to help. ■ He is courteous. Vigilant. He knows his job. And he is proud of Iowa Power service, symbolized by his "24-hour hat."
