Begins Restoring Frederick Douglass Home

Washington, D.C.—The National Association of Colored Women's Clubs this week began restoring the former home of Frederick Douglass in the Anacostia section of Washington, D. C. The home shown in the background is operated jointly by NACWC and the Frederick Douglass Historical and Memorial Association. Earlier this year NACWC embarked on a drive to raise $50,000 to restore the home of the famous abolitionist.

The drive for funds will continue throughout the year. Shown together as they view restoration blueprints are (l to r) Mrs. Gladys Parham, home caretaker; Mrs. Elizabeth Clark, acting chairman of the Home

Trustee Board; Julian Cook, restoration planning consultant; Dr. Rosa L. Gragg of Detroit, NACWC president; Lewis Johnson, contractor; Miss Lucy Brown, chairman of Douglass Home Committee, D. C. Federation, NACWC; and Miss Isadora Letcher, chairman, NACWC Headquarters Board.

Shirley Verrett-Carter To Open Season for D.M. Symphony Orch.

Shirley Verrett-Carter, who has been described by some music critics as a "second Marian Anderson," will appear in the opening concert of the Des Moines Symphony orchestra on Sunday, Nov. 12 at 4 p.m. at North high school. Miss Carter replaces Hilde Gueden, Viennese soprano, who is ill, and has cancelled her fall appearances.

Good News

Underscored as "good news" since her debut at Town Hall in 1958, Miss Carter has been chosen as soloist by Leopold Stokowski when he recently returned as guest conductor of the Philadelphia orchestra, receiving international recognition.

This year the National Federation of Music clubs awarded her first prize in its national competition as the outstanding young musician of the country. She has triumphed at both the Lewishon Stadium in New York and at the Hollywood Bowl in Los Angeles.

Season's Tickets

Season's memberships (four: concerts, with guest artists) are $4.00 for the Des Moines Symphony concerts and may be obtained at the door on the day of the concert, or from any workers who are canvassing the city for memberships during the drive, Oct. 30-Nov. 12.

The Fighting Fund for Freedom committee of the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will continue with its annual special effort to secure funds for the legal defense work.

Christmas Seals

The Christmas seals for 1961 are also here. The chairman, Mrs. Georgine C. Morris, can supply all. Mrs. Guy E. Greene is co-chairman and can supply all board members with seals. These seals contributions go into the Four F treasury.

The biggest financial effort towards the Four F. treasury will be the annual benefit dance to be given

NEWS In A Nutshell

Fort Worth, Tex.—An out-of-court settlement of the estate of Fort Worth Millionaire Oilman C. J. Wrightsman, who left more than $50,000 to his Negro gardener and his nurse, was approved last week, which gave the gardener $20,000.

London, England—Hecklers shouting "keep Britain white" tried to break up a London meeting addressed by Dr. Martin Luther King who told the group, "Segregation is still the Negro's burden and America's shame."

Metropolis, Ill.—The women who had just returned from church and were chatting over a box of popcorn, were killed last week by a 71-year-old retired restaurant operator who later killed himself. No motive was uncovered for the shooting, committed by Odes Renfro.

Birmingham, Ala.—After hearing testimony from Negro and white witnesses that the city facilities are "customarily" segregated, Judge H. Hobard Grooms last week ordered desegregation of all Birmingham parks, swimming pools and other recreation facilities.

Detroit, Mich.—Judge Carol C. Rushion last week issued a temporary injunction banning the harassment of a Negro family living in an all-white neighborhood. Maurice Lamar and his wife, Delores, charged the members of the Puritan Park Civic Association picketed their home and threw rocks and paint at it "to deny them the peaceful use and enjoyment of their home."

Los Angeles, Calif.—A dozen Negro pickets formed a picket line around the Greyhound Bus depot in protest against its biased hiring policy.

New Haven, Conn.—A new page was written into the history of a 93-year-old Greek-letter fraternity last week when Yale university's Delta Psi fraternity announced that it has accepted a Negro and 24 other pledges for initiation. The Negro is famed track star, Wendell A. Mottley.

San Antonio, Tex.—"It's in the bank now," was the comment of an elderly couple, who recently rose from the depths of despair to a floating after they found their life savings of $6,140 which they thought had been stolen. Aaron Moreland, 77 and his wife, 72, came down to earth and did what they should have done long time ago—deposit the money in a bank.

Missouri, Mont.—Howard I. Jacobsen, 61, and his wife, Emilie M. Jacobsen, 59, married 40 years, have long been known as a devoted, home-loving couple and both were employed by the Northern Pacific railroad—he as baggage master, his wife as clerk-stenographer. One morning last week Mrs. Jacobsen returned home from work, feeling ill. She was worse when her husband arrived home. He phoned for a doctor, stepped from his wife's room and collapsed at the door. Seeing his plight, she gasped suddenly—AND BEFORE AN AMBULANCE COULD ARRIVE BOTH WERE DEAD!

CARDINAL CUSHING, NEW LIFE MEMBER OF NAACP

Boston—A Prince of the Roman Catholic Church—His Eminence, Richard Cardinal Cushing—has enrolled in the NAACP Honor Guard of Americans by purchasing a $500 life membership in the nation's oldest and most experienced civil rights organization.

Eminent Leader Was Life Long Champion of Equal Rights for Minority Race

New York, N. Y.—One of America's most eminent civil rights leaders died here Sunday after a long illness. He was Dr. Channing H. Tobias, 79, militant but moderate anti-segregationist, and president emeritus of the board of directors of the National Association For the Advancement of Colored People.

Born in Augusta, Ga., Feb. 1, 1882, Dr. Tobias, son of Fair J. and Clara Belle (Robinson) Tobias, grew up and was educated in the South before moving to New York City in 1911 to become ultimately one of the nation's leading spokesmen for the rights of Negro citizens.

YMCA

The major part of his career was devoted to the Young Men's Christian Association which he served from 1911 to 1946, first as student secretary of the International Committee and later as senior secretary for work among Negroes. In 1946 he became the first Negro director of the Phelps-Stokes Fund, a foundation devoted to the improvement of educational opportunities for Negroes. He retired from this position in 1953.

Volunteered

Dr. Tobias served his country and his race in many voluntary capacities. Elected to the Board of Directors of the NAACP in 1943 he was chosen chairman of the Board in 1953 succeeding the late Dr. Louis T. Wright, noted surgeon. At the Association's annual conference in St. Louis in 1953 he called for an all-out drive to end segregation and other forms of racial discrimination by January 1, 1963, the centennial of Lincoln's Emancipation Proclamation.

NAACP

Responding to this call, the NAACP launched its Fight for Freedom campaign, adopting the slogan, "Free by '63." Together with the late Walter White, then NAACP executive secretary, he organized a Freedom Fulfillment Conference in Washington on March 10, 1954, at which time the 10-year Fight for Freedom campaign was formally launched with President Dwight D. Eisenhower as the principal speaker.

The campaign called for a fund of $1,000,000 a year for a 10-year period to eradicate the legal roots of racial discrimination.

Hearing Set Nov. 20 For 2 Women Accused Of Carrying Pistols

Hearing has been set in Municipal court for Nov. 20 for two Des Moines women who face charges of carrying concealed weapons in connection with an incident outside the 790 Vets club Saturday night.

They were identified as Mrs. Effie Walker, 22, who gave her address as 1048 18th street and Mrs. Ruth Carter, 19, who gave her address as 925 18th street. Police said both were carrying pistols in their purses. Both pleaded innocent when arraigned on the charges and were released on $500 bond pending the hearing.

Minor Wound

Also arrested were James Carter, 18, who suffered a minor gunshot wound in the right arm, and Jesse Walker, 24. Carter pleaded guilty to a charge of intoxication and paid a $10 fine. Walker was sentenced to a 30-day jail term after he pleaded guilty to a charge of discharging firearms within the city limits.

Argument

The arrests grew out of an argument between the couples in front of the 790 Vets club, 790 12th street late Saturday night. Police said the two couples refused to press charges against each other.

WIN DES MOINES CITY COUNCIL SEATS

In the lightest city election in six years, Harry J. Bradley, Jr., Charles elected to the three city council seats F. Iles and George A. Harper were here Tuesday. Leading the field was Bradley with 2,719 votes. Iles had 24,931 and Harper, 21,392.

Iles, former mayor, was elected to his third four-year term and was the only incumbent of the present council seeking re-election. Composing the new city council in addition to these three, will be Jens Grothe and William C. Leachman. Unofficial total vote cast was 38,970, far short of the 1957 record of 48,134 or the 40,889 cast two years ago.

house in the state capital, Iowa clubwomen are also contributing generously to the Frederick Douglass home fund.

Mrs. Goletha Trotter, immediate past president of the Iowa Association of Club Women, was appointed state chairman for the fund by Dr. Rosa L. Gragg, Washington, D. C., president of NACWC, when she met with the Iowa club women during a visit in Des Moines last May.

Iowa Clubwomen plan to purchase a clubhouse in the next fiscal year for use of responsible men, women and the youth in the state.

Philadelphia, Pa.—More than 400 Elks from near and far assembled in the Grand Lodge Hqs., last week to pay homage to the newly elected Grand Secretary of the IBPOEW., Joseph F. Simmons of Norfolk, Va.

HOBSON REYNOLDS

The reception was designed to introduce Mr. Simmons to the Elks of Eastern District of the Order. Simmons was appointed, last June, to the office by Hobson R. Reynolds, grand exalted ruler of the Elks, and was elected to a full term of the office at the Grand Lodge convention in New York City.

He has served the Grand Lodge for 13 years. Currently, Simmons is chairman of the Voter Registration Committee of the Norfolk Branch of the NAACP. He was for two years director of the NAACP's Virginia State Political Action Committee.

Adams, Corresponding Secretary of the Baptist Foreign Mission Bureau, U.S.A., and the Reverend Andrew J. Hargrett of Chicago, Ill., representing Education. No speaker's appearance is to be construed as an endorsement of this movement, the chairman explained.

Colored Farmers in South Down by Nearly 200,000

Agricultural census data indicate that the number of colored farmers in the South declined by nearly 200,000 between 1954 and 1959. The principal drop is thought to have been in the number of tenants and sharecroppers. In 1954, there were 465,385 colored farmers in the 17 States of the Southern region—from Delaware around to Texas and Oklahoma. By 1959, the number had

U.S. Supreme Court to Hear Arguments on Lifting Ban On Civil Rights Lawyers

Washington—In a crucial test case, the outcome of which could determine the future of civil rights litigation in the South, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will ask the Supreme Court of the United States to strike down a Virginia statute which penalizes lawyers retained by the NAACP in school desegregation and other civil rights suits.

13th Appearance

Argument on the case, known as NAACP v. Frederick T. Gray, Attorney General of the Commonwealth of Virginia, was heard by the Supreme Court on Wednesday, Nov. 8. The Association's general counsel, Robert L. Carter, who will argue the NAACP case, will be making his thirteenth appearance before the high court.

Challenged

The statute which is being challenged by the NAACP subjects lawyers in NAACP-sponsored civil rights cases to disbarment. It is one of a pocket of seven restrictive anti-NAACP laws passed by the General Assembly of Virginia in a special session during the summer of 1956.

If Validated

If validated by the Supreme Court, the statute "will affect the whole civil rights effort because it bans group sponsorship of civil rights litigation and would thus deprive the Negro of one of the most effective weapons used to combat racial discrimination," according to NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins.

Heavy Cost

Citing the heavy cost of school desegregation cases — $10,000 to $15,000 for each suit—the NAACP leader said few, if any, of the litigations could afford to finance their own suits.

Already under their statute, disbarment proceedings have been instituted against one of Virginia's outstanding NAACP lawyers—S. W. Tucker of Emporia and Richmond.

Information

Chief Johnson will be glad to furnish information on any of the many enlisted programs, which include training for men in the following fields: Radarman, Gunner's Mate, Electronics Technician, Storekeeper, Photographers Mate, and many others. The Recruiting Station is located in the Old Federal Building, 5th and Court Streets, Des Moines, Iowa. Office hours are from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday and from 8:00 a.m. to 12 noon on Saturday.

Tobias was never rash. After the Supreme Court ruling of May 17, 1954, declaring racial segregation in public education unconstitutional, he sent a message to an NAACP south-wide conference in Atlanta, May 21-22, urging "that calm reasonableness prevail, that the difficulties of adjustment be realized, and that, without any sacrifice of basic principles, the spirit of give and take characterize the discussions. Let it not be said of us that we took advantage of a sweeping victory to drive hard bargains or impose unnecessary hardships upon those responsible for working out the details of adjustment."

Served Nation

He served his nation with equal devotion. He was a member of various governmental committees, commissions and delegations. He was an alternate U. S. delegate to the Sixth General Assembly of the United Nations in Paris, November, 1951 to February 1952. When chided by a communist delegate for his support of American policy in the face of racism at home, Dr. Tobias promptly silenced his critic by pointing out that Negroes in America are free to fight for their rights which was more than could be said of the oppressed peoples under Soviet domination.

Other Services

Other capacities in which he served his country and city were as a member of the National Advisory Committee on Selective Service, World War II; the Joint Army and dropped to 273,137. Sharpest drops took place in Arkansas, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North Carolina, South Carolina, and Texas. In most of these States the decline was close to 50 percent or more.

Student of the Week

This is the third in a series of articles on young ladies and gentlemen who are attending the junior and senior high schools in Des Moines and other Iowa cities. This series is intended to give praise and example of the many thousands of youths who are preparing themselves educationally to take over the reins of tomorrow's world. This series also hopes to give publicity to the good in our youth which is in the majority.

Our candidate this week is a charming young miss who mixes brains and a pleasing personality. She is Mary Alice Hunter, a senior at North high school who will graduate at mid year.

Sunday evening she had the "thrill of her life," when she was crowned queen of the "Cosmetiste benefit dance and revue," at the Mainliner ballroom. She had won out over six other contestants who were sponsored by local beauty shops in Iowa.

Parents Sponsor

"I never dreamed I would win," she enthused. She was sponsored by her parents who operate Sharp's Beauty and Barber shops at 1719 Crocker street.

Mary Alice who is interested in science, would like to enter the field of medical technology and will enter Drake university in January and Morgan State in Virginia next September.

At North she is a member of the F.T.A., and works as office assistant. She also participates in intramural sports—basketball, which she likes very much, and golf. In addition she is a member of the girl's basketball team at Willkie House. Her hobbies are playing basketball and roller skating.

MARY ALICE HUNTER

Honor Roll

For the past three years she has been on the honor roll beginning at Callanan junior high. At Maple Street Baptist church she is a member of the Usher board. She is a member of La Crema Belles, a division of the Iowa Association of Colored Girls, federated clubs.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sharp and has one sister and three brothers.

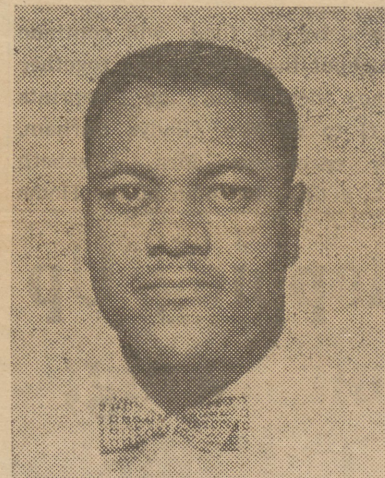

Services Held for Mrs. Josephine Riley

Services for Mrs. Josephine Riley, 61, of 830 14th street, were held at 1 p.m. Tuesday at L. Fowler and Son Funeral home with burial in Glendale cemetery. She was dead on arrival at Broadlawn Polk County hospital Friday. She had been ill for some time.

Mrs. Riley had lived in Marshalltown most of her life until moving to Des Moines 11 months ago. She was a member of the Second Baptist church in Marshalltown.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Ruth Hutchison of Des Moines; a son Vernon Spencer of Sacramento, Calif.; a sister, Mrs. Olive Loggins of Des Moines; a brother, David Williams of Marshalltown and six grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

HEALTH FOR ALL

No time to Complain

The TB patient who leaves the hospital against medical advice is one of the great problems in TB eradication today. The sick person gets sicker and meanwhile spreads his germs to other people.

But it isn't easy to stay put in the TB hospital. Compared to the length of hospital stay for other illnesses, the time in the hospital for the TB patient is a long one—often months. In spite of everything the hospital can provide to help the time pass, the minutes go by very slowly. The TB patient has too much time to think and the weight of his illness tends to make him brood.

anxiety from his family will be mulled over and exaggerated out of all proportion. Lack of any news may have the same effect. Something is wrong. The family isn't getting along without me. The bills aren't being paid. The children aren't getting proper care. I'd better get out of here and go home to take care of things.

Importance

It is vital for all members of the family of a tuberculosis patient to understand their importance to his cure. Community agencies can help them through their financial and other domestic difficulties. The family can keep the patient up to date on family news that will not

HELPING CHILDREN LEARN GOOD MANNERS

Many parents come to grief over manners because they expect children to be as courteous as grown persons are. Children are not "little men" and "women," but individuals growing into adulthood gradually and learning slowly the amenities of social communication.

One mother said recently, "I was certainly surprised the other day when Mrs. Smith (a neighbor) said: 'Your Jim was so polite and used such good manners the other evening when he was here for supper that I wished I could be as sure my boy would do as well when invited out. How do you do it?'"

Magic Formula

Jim's mother had no magic formula, but after a little thought, she said, "My husband and I have tried to be as courteous to our children as we are to grownups. We early decided we would say 'Thank you' to them whenever it seemed natural. And we do try to be courteous in the 'give and take' of family life. When we get tired, cross words can slip out. We long ago decided that at times an apology to a child for a mistake is just as desirable and necessary as to an older person. Children are quick to forgive and to understand."

Modern Parents

Sidonie Gruenberg says in "The Encyclopedia of Child Care and Guidance," published by Doubleday and Co.: "As many modern parents have discovered, it is possible to help children behave politely without making a fuss over formal manners. For one thing, parents have come to realize that the spirit is more important than the correct form. They know that if a child says, "Oh boy, Granny, this is nifty!" it is not important for him to say, "Thank you very much." In fact, they prefer a genuine expression of appreciation to empty politeness."

We also had an interesting interview with a visitor to the clinic from Omaha, Neb.—Mr. Voyal Watson, who just recently returned from a year in the Hawaiian Islands. He operates beauty salon in Omaha. Describing himself as "an eligible bachelor with a modern five-room apartment," Mr. Watson, boasts that he has visited all of the 50 states of the nation.

He also pointed out that in Hawaii, he ran across the same sentiment of natives who looked upon their own hair as a form of beautification and were reluctant to change. He operated a beauty salon there and before going there operated a similar establishment in Alaska where he spent four and one-half years.

"Hawaii is just heaven—the most beautiful place I have ever seen," he said. "My first winter in Alaska was pretty rough, but after that it wasn't so bad, in fact not as bad as back here in the States."

While in Alaska, Mr. Watson finished a course in tailoring at the University of Alaska. Before going to Alaska he spent six years in Stockton, Calif., and prior to that, operated a private beauty school for six years in Omaha, graduating 187 students without failure in state exams.

When he left Des Moines Monday afternoon he took along as house guest, Mr. Legins, whom he met for the first time at the National Beauty Culturist League convention in Chicago, Ill., last August.

It was like old home week for beauticians in Iowa at Crescent Beauty school last weekend when the 10th annual Educational clinic sponsored by Cosmetiste Clubs No. 1 and 2 were held there.

Despite a small sad note in its beginning, the two-day session was a success as attested to by the facial and verbal expressions of both visitors and hosts, alike. Mrs. Geneva Harper, president of Cosmetiste Club No. 2 in Waterloo, Ia., had no sooner arrived in Des Moines than she received an urgent phone call from her home, saying one of her daughters had had an accident. She immediately set out on her return trip home.

We had some very good interviews with guest artists, demonstrators and visiting beauticians at the clinic Monday morning. We were particularly interested in some information we garnered from Mr. Floyd Legins Apex company beauty consultant from Baltimore, Md. He informed us that his company had blazed the trail in Africa, where he said many of the African women of "higher culture" have embraced the ideas of beauty schools and improvement whole heartedly.

"However, there are some African women who look upon their own natural hair as a form of beautification, and are hostile to the idea and presence of beauty schools," he admitted.

"There are two beauty schools in Africa, one in Ghana, operated by a lady from Ghana and another in Johannesburg, South Africa operated by an American. There are also many Africans in the United States attending beauty schools; we have two in our Washington, D. C. school. We are the only Negro company with products in London and Africa," he noted.

Mr. Legins, who travels extensively in his position, will make a return trip to Johannesburg in three weeks where he will promote his company's newest product, "Natural Perm," a chemical relaxer. After 30 days he expects to return to New York City for a two-day clinic there.

When questioned why he chose cosmetology as a profession, Mr. Legins said, "I was a poor kid; I wanted a profession because I knew my size would not be conducive to physical labor, so I made a $29.95 deposit on a $195 beauty course (Apex company) and got my start. He later proved so promising that the company took him out of the school and put him on the road as a student demonstrator.

Since his stature has loomed to king-size in the field, where he has garnered just about every outstanding award, offered. He speaks equally as proud of his wife, Shirley, who is a buyer at John Wanamaker's in Philadelphia, Pa. Mr. Legins reported "no children yet, but we are hoping."

Mrs. Claire Johnson, Clairor technician from Chicago, Ill., demonstrated her company's newest products, Condition and Clair-Fil. She noted her company's newest shade, "flaxen blonde." She was making her first trip to Des Moines and while here also cornered Mrs. Pauline Humphrey, president of the co-host clubs, Cosmetiste No. 1, and owner-manager of the Crescent Beauty school, and gave her a tint, "red ginger with a touch of silver."

Mrs. Johnson has been demonstrating for Clairor five years and is a graduate of the American Beauty school in her hometown, Chicago. In private life she is the wife of Mr. E. Edwin Johnson, an IBM programmer and mother of a 20-year-old son.

Mrs. Fannie Smith demonstrator of Hair Strate company, Detroit, Mich., and we were meeting as "old friends" as we met for the first time last year. Her company has headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind., and boasts as its newest product, Pastel Princess, a permanent for tinted, bleached and dyed hair. She also noted another new product, Pree-Gel, a protein hair conditioner that can be used as a filler on hair. Mrs. Smith is in her second year as traveling demonstrator for Hair Strate in the Midwest territory.

From Des Moines Mrs. Smith will go to Kansas City, Mo., for a week-long clinic and then back to Detroit, where she conducts weekly clinic. She arrived in Des Moines last Thursday and was a guest at the

HAWKEYE LOSSES SHOW
LACK OF COACHING

When the football season opened this fall, Iowa University was rated the No. 1 team in the nation. True, it carried over from the 1960-61 season an especially fast backfield conducive to the intricate precision system which former head football coach, Forest Evashevski, developed.

Unfortunately, injuries struck early and two of the top players, Hollis and Ferguson, have been sidelined.

Playing the precision system requires careful timing. The team did a great job executing it last year but this year has been penalized all out of reason for back field in motion and illegal procedure. Some of these penalties have contributed directly to the possible loss of games. And yet these are violations of fundamentals of football.

It's pretty easy to criticize a fellow who is losing even though he won the day before. Football success seems to go in cycles. Iowa, at times this year, seems on the losing side.

However, it is apparent that more careful attention to the fundamentals of the game by the coaches will put Iowa on the winning side again.

NEW CITY COUNCIL HAS PROBLEMS

The voters of Des Moines elected three new members to the city council at an election spiced with but few issues which get people out to the polls. Less than half the voters went to the polls thus indicating very little interest in choosing people who will help run the city for four years.

All members of the council live in the west part of the city. And while each in his campaign said he would represent all the people, it is ridiculous to assume that people on the south, east and north side can have confidence that this is true.

This situation comes about as a result of the commission form of government whereby all members of the council are elected at large. The system is not conducive to good government no more than if all members of congress were elected from a state at large.

The present council has gone through some rather tough stinky times. It has not provided good leadership conducive to industrial growth which a city needs to move forward and induce others to come in, to encourage youngsters who grow up to stay here.

It is hoped that the new faces will bring a boost to getting some pep in a body which has been dragging its feet.

USE SENSE IN

CLEARING OUT PLANTS

Urban renewal programs generally sweep everything clean often tearing out properties that should be left standing. In some instances, business institutions, which have been in operation in a location, are forced to move.

Some of these problems face Des Moines and most unfortunately so. Some of these institutions forced to move are discontinuing business, some are moving to other towns or consolidating with branches elsewhere.

Des Moines cannot afford to lose a single industry for jobs are too scarce already. And unless work is provided for those who remain here, it slows the growth of the city.

There is always a way of doing things so as to cause the least irritation and yet get the desired results. Des Moines cannot afford to chase any industries away.

LOOK OUT

PHEASANTS SATURDAY

Saturday, November 11, is the opening day of the 1961 pheasant hunting season. Most hunters remember November 11, 1941 on which began a series of storms and freezes which not only dented the hunting but also destroyed a lot of pheasants.

There seems to be much disagreement over the pheasant population, the conservation commission declaring that the supply is excellent; some farmers in northern Iowa disagreeing.

Undoubtedly, the pheasant population in northern Iowa has lagged because nothing is being done by the commission to provide cover—while farmers are clearing every spot on their farms leaving no place for them to hide.

But the season is on and it only remains for hunters and farmers to try to maintain good relations which already prevail in most instances.

Pheasant Prospects Good

Iowa's pheasant season starts at 9:00 a.m., Nov. 11 with State Commission officials reporting good populations. Commission biologists

Lady Victory Spurns Iowa Again
Ohio Wins 'Lady's' Affections, 29-13

By Staff Writer

Columbus, Ohio—Somedays it just doesn't pay to get out of bed. This is the apparent philosophy that encompasses the Hawkeyes after suffering a 29-13 thrashing at the hands of the powerful Buckeyes of Ohio State.

The potency and effectiveness of the Hawks lucrative offense failed to attract Lady Victory this time, this friendly, smiling Lady who has embraced them many times before. Instead the Iowans were hugged securely in the damaging claws of their own inopportune mistakes. Mistakes the Ohioans capitalized on.

Unpredictable

Of course, at best, victory is an illusive, flirtatious and unpredictable creature; and no matter how one jures her she still may take the side of the opposition.

The Hawks got all the edge in statistics and yet lost the game. Obviously Lady Victory has no love for mistakes. Perhaps this is why she deserted Iowa this time. Still Iowa gained 374 total yards to Ohio's 288, had 21 first downs to Ohio 17, and etc. But lost.

First Miscue

Iowa's first miscue came early. After winning the toss and proceeding from their own habitat into Ohio territory with a sharp running and passing attack when quarterback Matt Szykowny handed off to halfback Sammie Harris on a sweep around left. Harris was on the move when an Ohio lineman grabbed Harris' carrying arm and the ball popped loose in the air. An alert Buckeye end, Tom Perdue, grabbed the ball in the air and sailed unmolested into the Iowa end zone (55 yards away).

up in the air and was plucked off. As far as stopping Ohio's Bob Ferguson the Iowa team didn't stop him last year. They ought to be glad when that guy leaves.

We can't understand the frequent offside penalties the Hawks receive. One of them probably cost them a score when it was only six to nothing. Some people say lack of timing. But this should not have been after four or five games. One fellow says he thought it was because the officials had been warned ahead of time about Iowa's back field in motion and was alert to Iowa any time they moved before the ball.

Hawks Unperturbed

Unperturbed the Hawks took the kickoff and marched steadfastly to the Ohio four-yard line but a 15-yard penalty set them back. A long run back by Szykowny set them up for a fake field goal that evolved into a pass from Szykowny to end Bill Whisler that escaped the end's stretching fingertips. At this point it didn't look too bad. Ohio was only leading 6-0.

Roared Back

But later it was to be 12-0 on an intercepted pass at half time. After a little rest and a pep talk at half time the Hawks roared back with brilliant runs by Harris and fullback Bill Perkins and the Szykowny-Felton Rogers passing combination and minus fumbles and interception scored on a keeper by Szykowny. Iowa was back in the game at this point. But moments later a Buckeye pass caught the Hawks napping and ending in a 63-yard touchdown. Another interception was responsible for the Ohioans fourth touchdown. The Buckeyes also had a 23-yard field goal in their scoring repertoire.

John Calhoun, third string quarterback engine red Iowa to its second T. D. with only twelve seconds remaining in the game.

Next Week

Next week at home the Iowans must contend with the on-rushing Minnesota Gophers. To the Hawks the Gophers are just like a delectable attribute the increased pheasant crop to near-ideal hatching and rearing conditions in the spring and summer.

The season, Nov. 11-Dec. 15, 1961, marks the 36th year in which Iowans have lawfully hunted pheasant. The original open season was in 1925 when a hunter had three half days in which to bag three cocks in 13 counties.

The situation has now progressed until every county in the state is open except Davis, Des Moines, Henry, Jefferson, Lee, Van Buren and Wapello, all in the extreme southeast. Bag limit this season is three cock birds; possession limit, six cock birds.

Iowa State Loses
To Boston College

By Staff Writer

Boston, Mass.—That the football game isn't over until the final gun is a lesson pounded home to Iowa State University by Boston College here Saturday as the Eagles scored two last quarter touchdowns to defeat the Cyclones 14-10.

Harry Crump

The Cyclones had put together a touchdown, and a field goal when the heavier Boston College team decided they wanted to win. Utilizing the talents of a 215-pound fullback Harry Crump the Eagles marched 80 yards for their first tally and minutes later scored the winning one on a five yard plunge by Crump. In the waning minutes they rendered invalid a gallant Iowa State try. Iowa State is now 7-3 for the season.

Down in Texas—
Drake Loses 28-21

Denton, Texas—Instilled in the belief that Texans do things in a big way, left halfback Bobby Smith scored all four touchdowns for North Texas State and licked the Drake Bulldogs 28-21.

The Drake aggregation played it hard and tough but could not quite overcome the likes of sophomore Smith. It was an up-hill battle for the Bulldogs who were down by two TDs early in the second period. In the third period Drake tied the score at 14-14.

And again a 21-21. However Smith took charge again for North Texas, picking up 16 yards on his first carry and nine and topped these runs with a 29-yard touchdown sprint leaving would be tacklers sprawled behind him.

Article in Harper's
On Howard University

New York—"Howard University is not only a college but a cause. On its campus is focused the American Negro's twentieth-century battle for emancipation. The sounds of this battle, audible around he world, make Howard a symbol to peoples, particularly in Africa, who are fighting for human equality."

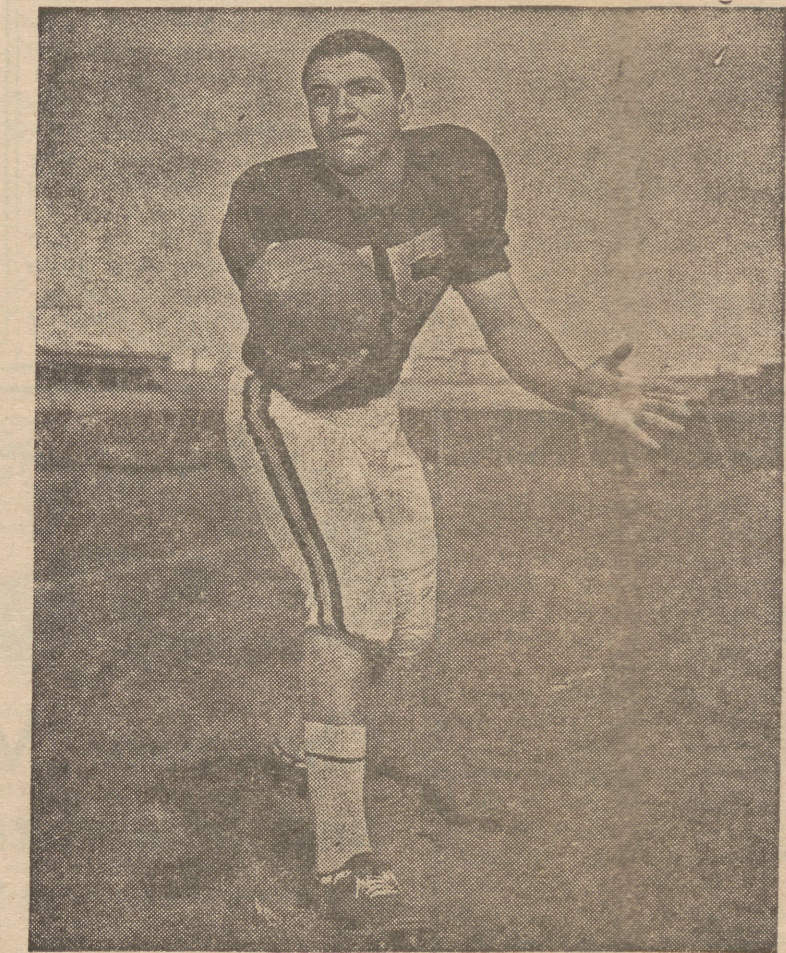

History

So says Milton Viorst in an article on Howard—its history, its present and its future—that appears in the November issue of Harper's Magazine.

According to Mr. Viorst, Southern legislators are trying their best to see that Howard receives more federal funds. They are doing this because they know that if the Negro university loses its accredited status, more Negroes would be pounding on the doors of white institutions, trying to gain admittance.

morsel of goodies just waiting to be eaten. But we will wait to see who is going to devour whom. We all will be watching at Iowa City or on TV.

QUARTERBACKS UNBEATEN MINNESOTA

Sandy Stephens, who has quarterbacked his teammates to an unbeaten 4-0 Big Ten conference record, will lead the Minnesota Gophers against the Iowa Hawkeyes, who suffered their second loss in a row last Saturday at the hands of Ohio State.

In a surprising upset the Gophers toppled a staunch previously unbeaten Michigan State from the No. 1 ranking in the nation. Stephens sparked the Minnesota squad to its 13-0 win.

Each week end gets a little longer for the Hawks. The breaks they got last year have come back to haunt them and are doing a good job. But one must remember that no team can lose two potential all American and all conference players and not be hurt. Taking nothing away from Matt Szykowny, he doesn't present the running threat that Hollis does; and with Ferguson out also there lies the difference between an unbeaten season and the one Iowa has now.

First

About Saturday's game we thought that if Iowa scored first they might win. And they might have scored first but for that fumble that

Minnesota

Well its Minnesota this week and the Hawks want this one badly. Some people are referring to the Gophers as the Black Hawks. Were not it for those four Negroes on the team they would be in a bad fix.

Drake

Drake and Iowa State lost tough ones and really deserves a better fate. The Bulldogs went under against North Texas and the Cyclones bowed to a heavy Boston College club.

High Schools

Well its over and we are glad. North played one of their better games to get a win over Dowling. East High School finished the season with a down field slide that looked like one or two things: injuries to key men and discension among the players. Tech did about as well as could be expected with their rebuilt lines. Watch the Lincoln kids go next year.
