NEWS In A Nutshell

Detroit, Mich. — Of the 30,000 Chrysler workers laid off, it was estimated last week, that a majority of these were Negroes, most of whom having 20 or more years of seniority.

Accra, Ghana.—Two dynamite explosions touched off by President Kwame Nkrumah's political opponents rocked Accra five days before Queen Elizabeth I and Prince Phillip paid a state visit to the foreign British colony. One explosion blasted the shoes off of a life size bronze statue of Nkrumah in the front gardens of the Parliament building, shifted the figure off its four foot high foundation and blew out windows in Parliament.

Philadelphia, Pa. — The Philadelphia hotels last week instructed managers and others involved in hiring to consider applicants for all jobs regardless of race, color, religion or national origin.

Biloxi, Miss.—Biloxi got its first Negro policemen last week. They are Florian Tichell and Bernard Seymour.

Austin, Tex.—The University of Texas student body last week took a major step in the direction of complete integration when it elected Gwen Jordan, 22-year-old Negro coed from Houston, to the student assembly and approved integration of varsity athletics.

Peoria, Ill.—Joe McChrister, who began work as a member of Local 1883 of the Carpenters union, earning $4.05 an hour, last week became the first of his race to join a skilled building trade union in this city.

Washington, D. C.—A 48-year-old civic leader and career postal employee last week was named as employee relations assistant in the Bureau of the Personnel of the Post Office department.

Chicago — Judge George B. A. Coker, high justice of the High Court in Lagos, Nigeria, last week was greeting and escorted through the U.S. Courthouse here by U.S. District Court Judge James B. Parsons.

New Orleans, La.—The widow of a groom who was burned to death in a fire at a local racing stables last year has filed suit in Federal District court against Fair Grounds corporation asking $200,000 in damages on behalf of herself and her minor child. Mrs. Helen K. Sameda Coustaut, presently a citizen of New York, asked the damages in connection with the death Nov. 6, 1960, of her late husband, Emile J. Coustaut, Jr.

Chicago—To help lessen the nation's critical shortage of Negro physicians and surgeons, the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation has made a grant totaling $70,000 for a medical scholarship program for Negroes. Of this amount $60,000 is for four-year medical school scholarships for qualified Negro college students.

Miss Price suffering from a virus infection, could not continue her leading role in Puccini's opera which opened last week. Miss Kirsten, called at home, hurried to the Met and took over the role in the middle of the second act, finishing the performance.

Calls for Vigorous Drive To Oust Discrimination by Negro Trade Unionists

Chicago, Ill.—A. Phillip Randolph, for years a prominent, militant Negro leader who has long championed the rights of his Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, assailed the racial policies of labor unions in the United States.

In a speech here Saturday before the second annual Negro American Labor Council, which he also heads, Randolph accused the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations of "moral paralysis, pessimism, defeatism, and cynicism" in its racial policies.

Done Nothing

The charges were Randolph's answer to a subcommittee report issued last month by the A.F.L.-C.I.O. in which it dismissed Randolph's complaints that it had done nothing about ending discriminatory practices by its own affiliates.

Randolph called for a more vigorous drive against discrimination by Negro trade unionists and sympathetic white persons.

Urged Delegate

Randolph also urged the delegates to attend the National American Labor Congress which convenes in

RANDOLPH

Miami, Fla., next month and carry their grievances there enmassed.

NAACP Backs Up Randolph In Chicago Labor Confab

Chicago, Ill.—AFL-CIO President George Meany knows that "anti-Negro bias is found in large sections of organized labor," said NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter this week.

Here to address the second annual convention of the Negro American Labor Council on Nov. 10, Mr. Carter added that the AFL-CIO executive council, which joined Mr. Meany in censuring A. Phillip Randolph, is also aware of union racism.

Randolph, president of the NALC, is the only Negro AFL-CIO vice president. He was recently censured by the union's hierarchy for charging the AFL-CIO with not ridding itself of racial discrimination.

Irony

"It is ironic," Carter said, "that, a few days after labor's public chastisement of Mr. Randolph, the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, should publish a report which documents Mr. Randolph's indictment."

"Organized labor cannot expect the allegiance or support of Negroes unless it decides to move with vigor to eliminate racism from its own ranks."

"And organized labor cannot hope to survive without the support and allegiance of Negroes," Mr. Carter asserted.

He added that Randolph speaks for Negro America, and that Negroes want him to "continue as their leader and spokesman in this crucial struggle . . . Mr. Meany to the contrary notwithstanding."

Mrs. Gwendolyn Fowler Explains Ancient Oriental Art Over 400 Years Old for Club

Ottumwa, Ia.—Mrs. Gwendolyn Fowler of Des Moines presented "Arts of the Far East," in a program sponsored by the Atelier Guild in an art exhibit at the YWCA Saturday afternoon, Oct. 28.

Mrs. Fowler is a chemist in the Department of Agriculture office in the statehouse at Des Moines. She was previously employed with the International Corporation Administration foreign aid department for four and one-half years in Saigon, Viet Nam. While there she collected art objects from Indonesia, Japan, Thailand, Viet Nam and China.

Japanese Prints

Mrs. Fowler described the processes used in making the art objects she brought. Some Japanese prints were included. In these, she said, each color and design is carved on separate wood blocks, then printed on rice paper. The value of these is determined by the amount of designs and colors and one print may require as many as 75 or 80 wood blocks.

Vietnamese Oils

She had some Vietnamese oil paintings which she said showed the influence of French painters during their colonization. These were painted on wood rather than canvas, due to the climate causing deterioration of the canvas.

Indonesian Painting

She included some Indonesian paintings of tempura on rice paper; some religious and folklore rice paper "rubblings," from Siam and some Chinese Ming scrolls with each color and design hand-embroidered on silk. In these, the stitching can be seen only with a magnifying glass. She estimated the age of the scroll at around 400 years.

Chinese Scrolls

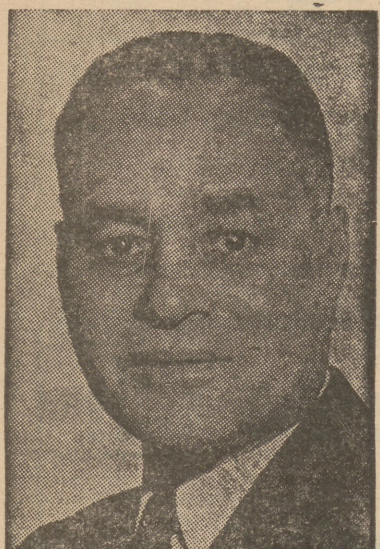

The Chinese scrolls pictured were made earlier than the Ming dynasty and present-day Chinese can't read them. They show scenes of China, many with the wall of China included. These, she said, are printed on rice paper by carving the design on marble, then covering the slab with heavy ink. She stressed the importance of printing these without smearing any ink, which she said, is a very difficult process.

pointments of deputies to fill out his unofficial U.N. cabinet.

Thant, since 1957 Burma's ambassador to the United Nations, was elected to serve out the unexpired term of the late Dag Hammarskjöld upon the unanimous vote of both the Security Council and the General Assembly Friday, Nov. 3.

He immediately named Dr. Ralph J. Bunche of the United States and Georgy Petrovitch Arkadev of Russia as two of his principal advisers. He said he intends to "invite a limited number of persons who are at present under secretaries, or to be appointed as under secretaries" to take similar posts.

Peace Corps Exams In City Nov. 28-29

The Peace Corps examinations will be held in Des Moines, Iowa on Nov. 28-29, in Room 407 in the Federal Office Building, 5th and Court Streets, at 8:30 a.m. promptly. Acting Postmaster John P. McNerney was informed today.

Peace Corps posters, giving this information, will be displayed in the local post office on the bulletin boards.

NAACP Legal Defense Takes Over Court Cases of Jackson Freedom Riders

The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund will assume the legal defense of Freedom Riders who were arrested in Jackson, Miss., it was announced Nov. 2.

Legal Defense Fund attorneys agreed to come into the Jackson cases after negotiation with James Farmer, National Director and Carl Rachlin, General Counsel of the Congress of Racial Equality, which sponsored the Freedom Riders.

Legal Costs

Jack Greenberg, the Fund's General Counsel, estimated that the cost of legal work in the Jackson cases could reach $75,000. He stated this amount should cover the defense of the more than 300 demonstrators arrested in Jackson since last May, when the demonstrations began.

The Legal Defense Fund is not now able to post bond for all of the convicted Riders, for this expenditure would exceed $177,000 for this stage of the case, Greenberg pointed out. At future stages the bond costs could rise to several times this amount.

Increased Contributions

"Our budget is only $450,000," he said, "and we can't afford to lessen our work in other important areas, such as school desegregation." He added, however, that increased contributions to the Fund might make it possible for most of the bail money to be posted. One anonymous contribution of $10,000 was received last week for this purpose.

Assistants

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, Fund Associate Counsel, will assist Mr. Greenberg in the defense. Mrs. Motley handles most of the Defense Fund activities in Mississippi, and is now representing Negro plaintiffs in a federal district court suit filed last June to outlaw discrimination in bus, railway, and air terminal facilities in Jackson.

Time Consuming

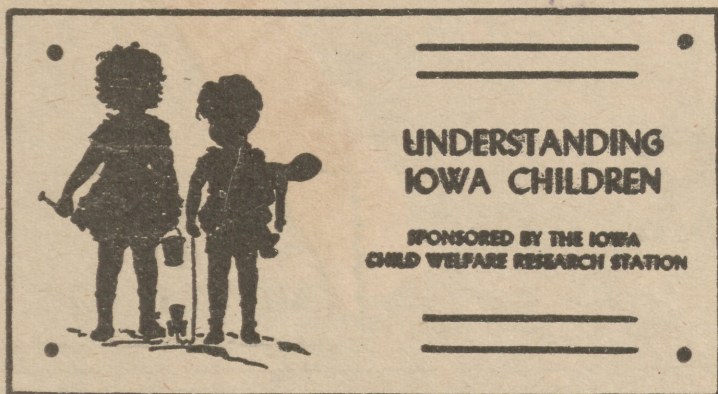

Most of the Freedom Rider convictions are for "breach of the peace," refusing to move on," etc. Greenberg believes that the convictions may eventually be reversed, though lengthy and time consuming litigation will probably be involved. Most of the cases are still pending in Jackson city and Hinds County courts.

Attorney Jack Young of Jackson, who has been defending most of the Riders, will work along with Mr. Greenberg and Mrs. Motley. Mr. Greenberg made it clear, however, that C.O.R.E. officials will continue to be consulted on various matters connected with the defense of the Jackson Riders.

BEGIN EARLY TO CULTIVATE LOVE OF READING

A mother, a friend and a 20-months-old boy were walking home at dusk. Lights were streaming out from an apartment-house doorway which they passed. The little boy, who was walking behind the others, suddenly cried out. Looking back, his mother and her friend saw him staring down at a long black "thing" on the sidewalk which moved as he lifted his foot to get away from it. It was the terrifying unknown!

Reassured

Of course, his mother went back to reassure him, showing him that her feet made shadows, too.

Later, to give him a pleasant view of shadows, she read to him Robert Louis Stevenson's verse on shadows:

"I have a little shadow
That goes in and out with me,
And what can be the use of him
Is more than I can see."

Literature interprets life to children. This week is Children's Book Week for 1961—a good time to take inventory of ways in which we can start building interest in books for the very young child. We might begin with "Mother Goose" or with jingle poetry sung or read to the child before he can talk.

Good Books

It is not possible nor indeed desirable to list all the good books and tales that children will enjoy. The important thing is to make a start. We can get help in selecting books from children's librarians, kindergarten teachers and grade-school teachers.

Many Values

Reading good stories and poetry aloud as a family group has many values. Such a practice builds family solidarity, since the family that laughs together and enjoys dramatic story poems such as "The Wreck of the Hesperus" or "The Highwayman" will have happy memories. And happy memories of childhood are important.

Schools do a great deal to teach appreciation of good books, but they can never replace parents' interest and responsibility in sharing their love of literature with their children.

Bishop's Daughter Is First Negro to Join U.S. Foreign Service

Washington, D. C.—Yvonne Williams, a 23-year-old graduate of Barnard College and Boston University, became the first Negro girl to join the United States Foreign Service under the U. S. Information Agency's recruiting program when she was sworn in last week by USIA Director Edward R. Murrow.

Miss Williams, the daughter of the Rev. Smallwood Williams, presiding bishop of the Bible Way Church World Wide, was among 22 young men and women from all walks of life who took an oath of allegiance in brief ceremonies at the Information Agency. Director Murrow praised them for having "survived a rigorous process of screening and selection."

Orientation

As a Class 8 officer of the Foreign Service Career Reserve Program, Miss Williams will be assigned to the Foreign Service Institute for a six month training period of orientation before going to her post overseas. Her assignment is not known at this time, but she expressed an interest to serve in one of the French speaking African nations.

Masters Degree

Earning a master's degree in international relations from Boston University, last year she spent two months living and working with native families in six African countries. The trip, sponsored by the Morningside Community Center of New York under its "Operation Crossroads Africa Program," took her to Togo, Ghana and Nigeria.

10,000 Employees

As a young foreign service officer Miss Williams will carry out a long established mission: "submitting evidence to the peoples of other nations that the objectives and policies of the United States are in harmony with and will advance their legitimate aspirations for freedom, progress, and peace." Her training will equip her to counter hostile propaganda, using the press, publications, motion pictures, exhibits and other means of telling America's story.

At her overseas post she will join more than 10,000 employees of the U.S. Information Service in 97 foreign nations who are presenting the important aspects of the life and culture of Americans to other people.

Transit Authority Employees Give $4,150 to College Fund

New York—For the third consecutive year, employees of the New York City Transit Authority have contributed more than $4,000 to the United Negro College Fund, it was announced here today by Lloyd Peterson, Transit Authority secretary. A check for $4,150, representing the 1961 gift, was presented by Mr. Peterson to W. Baron Beatty, Jr., College Fund campaign director, in recent ceremonies at Transit Authority headquarters in Brooklyn.

U.S. Supreme Court to Hear Father Gibson's Appeal Case

Washington—The Supreme Court of the United States will be asked to lift the threat of a six months' jail sentence hanging over an Episcopal clergyman and NAACP leader convicted of contempt of a Florida legislative investigating committee.

Argument on the case is scheduled for today (Nov. 16) on appeal from a decision of the Florida Supreme Court which, on Dec. 19, 1960, affirmed a lower court judgement which imposed a sentence of six months' imprisonment and a fine of $1,200 on the Rev. Theodore R. Gibson, rector of Christ Episcopal Church and president of the NAACP branch in Miami.

Attorney

Representing Father Gibson in argument before the High Court will be NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter in his 14th appearance before that tribunal. Associated with Mr. Carter in preparation of the briefs in the case are NAACP attorneys G. E. Graves of Miami, Frank D. Reeves of Washington and Mrs. Maria L. Marcus of New York.

Violates Freedom

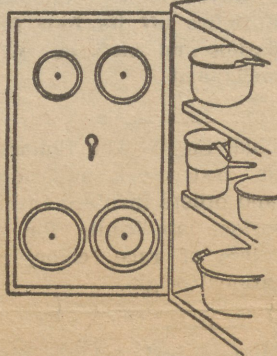

The NAACP will contend in this case that it is a violation of the constitutionally-guaranteed right of freedom of association to compel Father Gibson, custodian of the Miami NAACP branch records, to bring these records to committee hearings and answer questions concerning membership in the NAACP of persons alleged by the committee to be communists. The implications of this case are of great importance, since the process of answering such questions would result in the discrediting of the legitimacy of the organization and of the loyalty of its members, without any showing that Father Gibson or the Association is connected in any way with subversion.

Lids on Cabinet Door

ROUND-KNOBBED lids of cooking utensils may be neatly stored inside a cabinet door where they will be both accessible and occupying otherwise waste space. Here are directions for making this handy storage unit:

Measure the door and obtain a piece of Masonite 1/4" Tempered Preswood which covers the interior excepting for one-half inch on all sides. If the door is paneled, there will be room between the cabinet door and the Preswood for the knobs to fit into openings the shape of large keyholes. If the interior is one plane from one side to another, it will be necessary to install a strip of lumber about one inch thick as a perimeter.

Lay out the round-knobbed lids on the Preswood so that their positions may be marked. With a bit and brace, bore holes about one-quarter inch larger than the knobs. Underneath each, with a keyhole saw, complete the oversized keyhole, forming a slot into which the neck of the knob will fit. The final step is to fasten the panel to the interior of the door with finishing nails. The panel may be left unfinished or painted.

Jack Greenberg of NAACP Calls Lawyers Conference On Protest Demonstrations

New York—Jack Greenberg, General Counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., announced today that a working lawyers conference will be held in Washington, D. C., Nov. 17-19, for the purpose of exchanging ideas and legal theories on the defense of protest demonstrations such as Freedom Rides and sit-ins.

Greenberg said all lawyers who are now involved in this type of litigation, including those from fourteen southern and border states, have been invited to participate. The entire legal staff of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, along with Dean Spottswood Robinson of the Howard University Law School, and Professor Louis L. Pollak of the Yale Law School will attend.

Atlantic City, N. Student of the Week

This is the fourth in a series of articles on young ladies and gentlemen who are attending the junior and senior high schools in Des Moines and other Iowa cities. This series is intended to give praise and example of the many thousands of youths who are preparing themselves educationally to take over the reins of tomorrow's world. This series also hopes to give publicity to the good in our youth which is in the majority.

This seems to be the season for reigning queens and our candidate for "student of the week" honors goes to another young lady who received her crown last Friday evening.

She is Miss Paula Heariold, who was named "Miss Federated Dream Girl 1961-62" at a benefit ball at the music hall after selection by judges of the Iowa Clubhouse project committee of the Iowa Association of Club Women.

Paula, a junior at North high school where she is taking subjects that will be helpful to an eventual teaching career, still had not gotten over "the surprise of being crowned Queen."

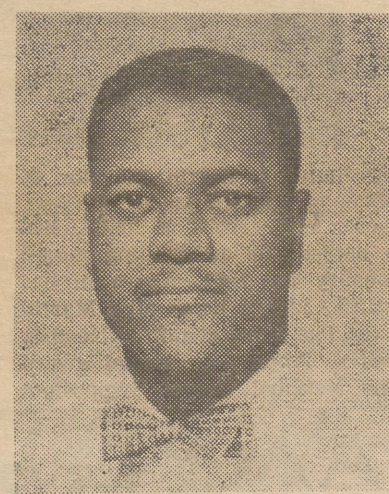

"I am so glad I won and that all the girls in my club helped me," she thrilled. She noted there were ten members in her club, that La Crema Dels, which has ten members. Representatives for the contest were elected by other members.

ON TRIAL IN AFRICA FOR RACIAL STAND

Pretoria, South Africa—A 43-year old white minister of the Dutch Reformed church went on trial here last Tuesday on a charge of heresy. Albert S. Geyser, university professor and father of five children, is accused of opposing racial segregation, and criticizing his church, both violations of church rules. In addition to being unfrocked, he faces losing his position at the University of Pretoria, where he teaches New Testament theology.

- (1) Stuff turkey and neck cavity.
- (2) Place turkey, breast up, in a pre-heated 325°F. oven.
- (3) Garnish roasted turkey with frosted grapes, and serve.

Oyster-Rice Turkey Stuffing Is Elegant

This Oyster-Rice Stuffing is a "must" for that turkey (or chicken) you're planning to roast. It's easy to make because there's very little chopping to do and no bread crumbs to bother with.

INGREDIENTS:

- 1 cup uncooked white rice
- 2 cups water
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
- ½ cup chopped onion
- 1 cup chopped celery
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- ½ pint oysters
- ¼ cup water or turkey broth

METHOD: Put the rice, water and salt in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover the saucepan with lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove from the heat but leave the lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice is cooking, melt the butter or margarine in a saucepan. Add the onion and celery. Cover and cook over a medium heat until tender, stirring occasionally. Stir in the oysters and water or broth and mix gently.

This stuffing may be prepared ahead of time so long as the liquid is not mixed with the dry ingredients until the turkey is to be stuffed and cooked. The turkey should be stuffed just before it is placed in the oven. It should not be stuffed and refrigerated. Extra stuffing may be baked in a separate pan or made into dressing balls. Allow ¾

Tart-Sweet Combination, Perfect Pie

Oranges and prunes are an excellent combination for a cool weather pie. These compatible fruits are blended with sugar and quick-cooking tapioca to make a filling that is just the right balance of tart and sweet... with juices just right, not too stiff, not too runny. Quick-cooking tapioca thickens fillings in the oven with no top-of-the-range cooking necessary.

Prune and Orange Pie
2 1/2 cups (1-pound box) dried prunes, washed
1/2 lemon, sliced
2 cups water (about)
1/2 cup orange juice
Sections from 2 oranges, diced (about 1 cup)
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 1/2 tablespoons Minute Tapioca
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
Pastry for two-crust 9-inch pie
1 tablespoon butter

Place prunes and lemon slices in saucepan. Add enough water to cover prunes. Cover pan. Simmer prunes about 30 minutes or until tender. Cool; then chill.

Drain prunes, reserving liquid. Discard lemon slices. Cut prunes in half and remove pits. Combine liquid drained from prunes and the orange juice.

Add water, if necessary, to make 1 1/2 cups juice. Combine prunes, orange sections, orange rind, the juice, quick-cooking tapioca, sugar, and salt. Let stand about 15 minutes.

Line a 9-inch pie pan and trim pastry at edge of rim. Roll remaining pastry 1/8 inch thick and cut several 2-inch slits or a fancy design near center. Fill pie shell with prune mixture; dot with butter. Moisten edge of bottom crust. To adjust top crust, fold pastry in half on roll, loosely on rolling pin; center on filling. Open slits with a knife. (Well-opened slits are important to permit escape of steam during baking.) Trim top crust, letting it extend 1/2 inch over rim. To seal, press top and bottom crusts together on rim. Then fold edge of top crust under bottom crust and flute. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 45 to 60 minutes, or until syrup boils with heavy bubbles that do not burst. Serve warm with orange-flavored whipped cream, ice cream, hard sauce, or Cheddar cheese, if desired.

"In addition," she continued, "I have enjoyed the unexcelled opportunity of seeing and chatting with some of my former mentors and colleagues. Several other therapists from the Des Moines area also attended the convention.

"Miss Federated Dream Girl" Crowned Friday

Surrounded by a bevy of federated club girls representing the La Crema Dells, the Cotillion, and Sara C. Brown clubs, who sang "Here She Is, Miss Federated Girl," Paula Herriold, North high student and member of La Crema Dells, was named "Miss Federated Dream Girl 1961-62" by judges of the clubhouse committee and proclaiming her winner of the queens contest at the Benefit ball at the Music hall last Friday evening.

She was introduced by Mrs. Helen D. Wimberly, chairman of the Iowa clubhouse committee, and crowned by Miss Barbara Garrett, president of the Iowa Association of Club Girls, which is affiliated with the National Association of Club Girls.

Des Moines Federated Clubs Plan Meeting

The Des Moines Association of Clubs will meet Friday, Nov. 17 at 8 p.m. in the assembly room of Crescent Beauty school, 1407 Center street. All clubs are urged to attend. An interesting program will be presented by the chairman, Miss Alberta Bates. Mrs. Dorothy B. Bush is president and Mrs. Cecil Lewis, secretary.

Des Moines woke up to its first light blanket of snow Monday morning to the delight of children all over, but to the slight dismay of adults and motorists. The first of the holiday decorations appearing in the local downtown stores, as usual, "snowing under" the Thanksgiving holiday under a pre-mature glitter of color and tinsels that will make many shoppers so tired that their own personal enjoyment of home decorations before the week of Christmas will seem almost anticlimatic.

It's also that time of year when hunters are out in droves seeking and listening for the piston-like whirring of the winged birds. Many will be able to stock Thanksgiving tables with pheasants, and quail. And of course it is also that time of year when clubs and organizations are merrily completing plans for those annual holiday parties and get-togethers.

Early last week when we rang up Crescent Beauty school to check on some details of our story of the annual Cosmetiste clinic there, a familiar voice answered the phone, one of a former resident and Des Moines beautician, Mrs. Murleen Estes, now of Minneapolis, Minn. During our brief chat she told us "things were going fine back home in Minneapolis," where she operates a beauty shop.

We revealed that we read of her activities from time to time through our exchange paper, the Minneapolis Spokesman. We recalled reading of how she was matron of honor for her husband's sister's wedding.

We asked her about the wedding of Sandy Stephens, football quarterback for the Minnesota Gophers. She said that his was a quiet private wedding held at his bride's home.

We were sorry that we missed seeing her by a matter of several hours, as seeing and visiting with her in person is one of the nice sidelights of the beauty clinic, which she always attends.

She wrote: "Now that Tanya is married and moved away, I will be doing the news-gathering from now on. Just as soon as photographers are available we will send a picture and write up of the marriage."

We welcome Mrs. Garland to the News Around Iowa section of the Bystander and extend our congratulations and wishes for much happiness to her daughter, who did a wonderful job as columnist from Sioux City. We know that the caliber of thorough news reporting will be upheld by Mrs. Garland.

RANDOLPH CONTINUES
FIGHT WITH UNIONS

A Philip Randolph, president of the Sleeping Car Porters and Dining Car Waiters union and vice president of the AFL-CIO, recognizes fully that no progress in the integration of Negroes in the labor unions can be had without a fight even though it raises the ire of George Meany and some other high officials of the organization.

Entirely too many Negroes don't seem to be aware of their elimination from employment in several industries and the almost total lack of apprenticeship training leading to the skilled trades.

Many revel in the empty talk of equal opportunity in the labor movement but fail to recognize that these platitudes are not reaching down to the local unions.

But in spite of this lack of results, Negroes are making good union members, are heeding the call for the support of political candidates of labor's choice, thus enabling their election. However, nobody seems to be able to secure and enforce fair play to their Negro members.

Randolph is carrying on a single handed battle. And while he may meet rebuffs, he recognizes that the cause is just and is willing to push ahead in all events.

THANKSGIVING IN 1961
FAR DIFFERENT

Thanksgiving day in 1961 is a far cry from the program adopted by earlier settlers. They gave thanks for having come through hardships in order to conquer the perils which brought peace.

In 1961, the world is engaged in a cold war with devastating instruments to fight and which serve as a deterrent for others. Russia has used its war scare as an adjunct to gobble up much territory and thus seems to keep the so-called free world off balance. Nuclear programs strike fear in the hearts of people everywhere. Many question whether the human race can survive.

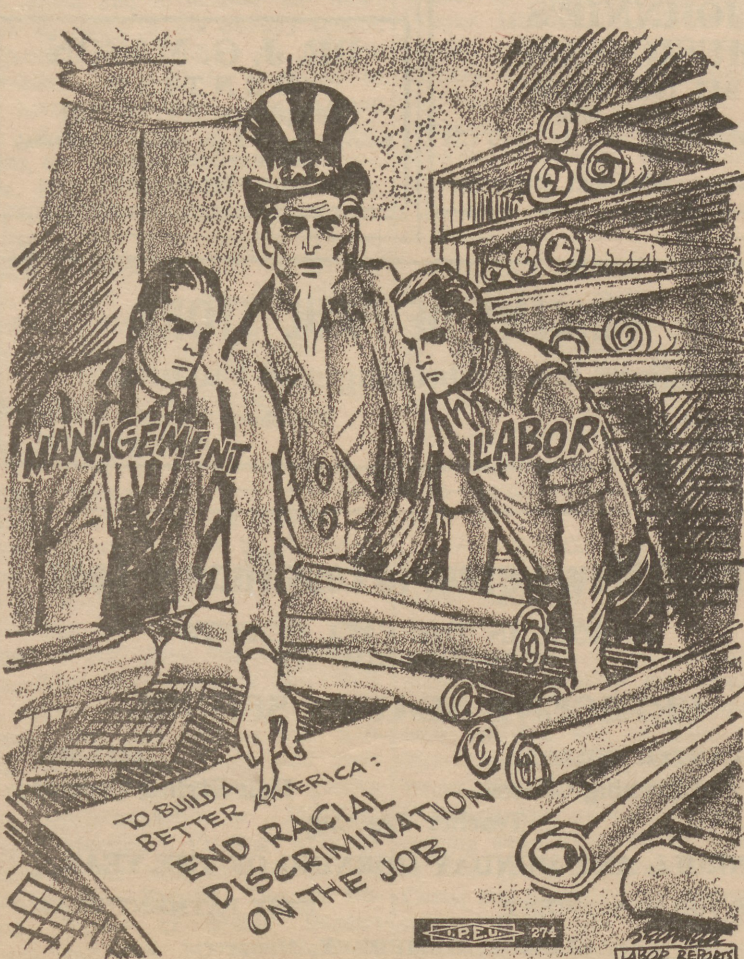

Men have learned to settle their differences by applying laws designed to govern different situation. The system has been successful. But nations don't seem to give and take as disputes arise. Neither is there a tribunal where all of them can be settled without war. This has left nations to handle their differences as men did thousands of years ago. They have not learned that in the final analysis nobody wins a war.

With all the discoveries man has developed, their use should make living happy and peaceful. Man has done things to insure his personal aggrandizement rather than for the benefit of mankind. And thus instead of thinking God for peace, he is left to be thankful that he is not at war—a rather negative position.

Americans are fortunate in that most of them have sufficient food and clothing for their wants. Farm crops are among the best ever this year. True, the unemployed list remains high but this situation will exist for a long time as machines are taking over much of the work being done by hand in both shops, factories and offices. Then too there will always be unemployed.

Out of this confused situation nobody knows what the future holds. But we can only hope and pray that things won't get any worse.

"This Is The No. 1 Job!"

Well, sir, in three games Iowa Hawks have done just about what they planned to do except win the games. In the Purdue game Iowa held the Boilermakers offense in check most of the day. Then a few penalties, fumbles and interceptions of passes put the guys from Iowa second; Ohio State scored on Iowa's pet play, a flying fumble to the opponent; any chances the Hawks had to get in the game were ruined by penalties and more fumbles.

Minnesota

In the Minnesota game last week the plan was to contain Sandy Stephens rollouts and they were pretty well contained. But, here comes the old familiar pattern again... a touchdown pass interception on the goal line. Two points instead of six or seven. Then that long march and another fumble. Hold 'em make 'em punt and still another fumble so instead of being ahead you are behind again or even more.

Arguments

Well, that's the way it has been the last three weeks. Some Negroes argue that Burns doesn't want Negroes in there but when a fellow is losing he tries everyone and everything hoping something or someone will change things. Certainly, if he hadn't wanted Negroes he wouldn't have started the season with an all-Negro backfield. Surely, Burns could not have known he was going to lose his two best men before the Conference season got underway.

Actually, the present pattern of fumbles, intercepted passes and penalties was set in that very first game, but in the flush of victory, no one noticed it. It nearly tripped the boys up at California and now has apparently caught up with them.

Chances of Winning

We can't say Iowa gave the game away, last Saturday but they certainly didn't help their chances of winning any.

Of course, one can't take anything away from Minnesota's four Negroes without whom the Gophers would not have won. Have to laugh at one fellow who was against Iowa because there were too many Negroes on the team. When he saw Minnesota Saturday he said he didn't care if they both lost. Maybe we can come up with something at Michigan or against Notre Dame.

Nebraska

Speaking of Negroes, Nebraska brought down a 220-pounder named Thunder Thornton and he thundered the Huskers to what was called an upset win over Iowa State in a game State was supposed to win. Our guess for the Big Ten most valuable player is Sandy Stephens of Minnesota.

High School All-City

Here at home Larry Thomas of Des Moines Tech and Bob White of North made the All-City football team. It was hard to keep Thomas off. We recall that Bob White's dad said he didn't think his son had received enough publicity to make the All-City team. We thought that one doesn't keep the leading ground gainer off any all-star team but we didn't argue with Bob, Sr. We were glad to see the boys make it through.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Forty-one years ago, four members of the executive committee of the National Tuberculosis Association put their hands in their respective pockets and brought out $100 each. The NTA added $100 to the pot and the sum of $500 was turned over to Dr. William Snow Miller. Dr. Miller was studying the anatomy of the lung. He was then able to complete his lifelong study of lung anatomy and to write the book which is still the standard reference text.

First Grant

That was the first grant to aid research made under NTA sponsorship. The next year, 1921, the NTA's research program had a budget of $20,000 and made four grants. In the forty years since, the organization has appropriated about $3,700,000 for research grants.

Scientific research is man's puny but valiant attempt to find out what makes the world of nature tick. It goes up blind alleys and gropes its way because nature is so complex as to seem perverse. Each apparent advance leads into a new maze.

Test Tube

For instance, TB doctors know that TB germs can be knocked out very handily by some drugs—in a test tube. Put those same germs in the body of an animal, though, dose the animal with those same drugs and what happens?

Nothing. The germs go merrily on their way, doing their damage. Two doctors in New York are trying to solve the puzzle of those stubborn germs with the help of an NTA grant. But theirs is only one problem among thousands that must be solved if TB is ever to be finally licked.

Antibodies

For instance: Diseases attacking human beings produce what are called "antibodies." In most diseases these antibodies prevent a second attack if the person becomes infected again. In TB they don't. Perverse? Sure it is.

Germs and disease always seem perverse. That's why research is so necessary.

Is Your Social Security
Record Correct?

Is your social security record correct? If you don't know, Leo W. Smith, Manager of the Des Moines social security office has some advice on how to find out, and why it is important to do so.

Easy to Verify

It is really very easy to verify your social security record, Smith points out. In fact, it is so easy he suggests that everyone examine his record every three years. All you need to do is call, write, or visit your nearest social security office and ask for a postcard form on which to request a statement of the earnings reported to your social security account. Fill out the postcard form, stamp it, and mail it.

Statement

You will receive a statement in a few weeks telling you what earnings have been posted to your account. If the statement does not agree with your records, take it and your own records to your social security office, so that steps can be taken to get your social security account corrected.

Two Reasons

It is important that your record be correct for two reasons: It is used to determine whether you have worked long enough for you or your survivors to be eligible for social security payments upon your retirement, disability, or death. If you have worked long enough to be insured, your earnings are then averaged to determine the amount of the social security check payable to you and your family. So don't be caught short; check your record today! Write to the social security office at 205-12th Street in Des Moines and ask for postcard form OAR-7004.

ILLUSION

Illusion is the stock in trade of every breed of crook, before you fall for any play, just take a second look!!! Many guys have lost their shirt falling for a painted face, instead of seeing through to dirt, camouflage can not erase. Illusion covers many sins—be sure before you leap, it's better to have looked and lived, so don't get in too deep. No matter what you wish to buy—be quick to see delusion. Don't let the glitter blind your eye—make sure there's no illusion. — Glenn A. Gallagher

Thoughts for Today

Many a man preaches economy but leaves it up to his wife to practice it. —Anon

Speed and death are two words that always travel hand in hand on the highways.

The Negro should talk, write and protest by every means at his command, but do so by every fair means at his command, and do so with intelligence and dignity. Proud of what sit-inners and freedom riders are accomplishing with their kind of resistance. Why should any Negro stoop to the tactics of his enemies? By lumping all white people into one prejudiced heap and blaming the good for the misdeeds of the evil, he will alienate the friends he now has and frighten those who would help him toward the goal he seeks.

Collar the Clock!

PUTTING a collar on the average kitchen dimepiece will brighten up the clock wall and make it both attractive and more useful.

Lay the clock on a piece of paper and trace its outline. Transfer the drawing, by means of carbon paper, to a panel of Masonite Tempered Preswood one-eighth inch thick. The material should be large enough to allow for the sawing of a "collar" to fit around the clock.

The center of the "collar" may be cut out with a coping or similar-type saw. To get the blade started, insert it in a hole bored near and inside the line marking the outline of the clock.

Shape of the clock will determine whether the outer edge of the "collar" is round, square or hexagonal. The distance between the clock and the outer edge of the Preswood should range from four to six inches, depending on the size of the clock and the amount of wall space available.

Friction ordinarily will keep the "collar" in position, flat against the wall at the back of the clock, but if the sawing has been irregular and the border is loose, insert small pieces of wood to take up the slack.

Arranged in clockwise order around the clock's new border may be glued the leaves from a small calendar.

The ingenious homemaker can decorate the clock in various ways.

Strawberry Parfait Cake

It looks like a shortcake—It's really a cake, with a strawberry meringue for the filling and topping, and a final garnish of bright berries.

Strawberry parfait cake is a variation on the shortcake theme, and an elegant springtime dessert. Instead of biscuit or scone base, there's fluffy cake, and strawberries are folded into a frothy meringue for a topping that is beautifully pink and luscious tasting.

The parfait "frosting" makes the most of strawberry flavor, so that a little more than a cup of berries will make a strawberry cake serving eight to ten people generously.

No need to hunt for a four-leaf clover to expect good luck with this cake. Follow accurately this basic, tested recipe for a two-egg cake, using best ingredients, correct utensils, and temperature given. Bake the cake in two greased eight-inch layer pans, dividing batter evenly between the pans. For layer cakes, it is often well worth the time to cut a sheet of plain paper to fit the bottom of pans so that the cake will come out perfectly.

This cake requires only standard ingredients almost always on hand. Use enriched flour to make it for family service because of its extra B-vitamins and iron. The cake is one you'll want to serve throughout the year, with a variety of fillings and toppings.
