Court Voids Sit-in Convictions

Justice Black Asked to Injoin Court Action

Against Mississippi
Prosecutions of All
Jailed Freedom Riders

Washington, D. C.—NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund Attorneys appealed to U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black Dec. 6 in an effort to stop Mississippi prosecutions of Freedom Riders arrested in Jackson, Miss. on "disorderly conduct charges."

The action requests a temporary injunction pending an appeal to the full Supreme Court from a Nov. 17 decision of a three-judge district court in the Southern District of Mississippi which ruled 2-to-1 that it should not intervene "until the State courts have decided the full meaning of their respective (disorderly conduct) statutes."

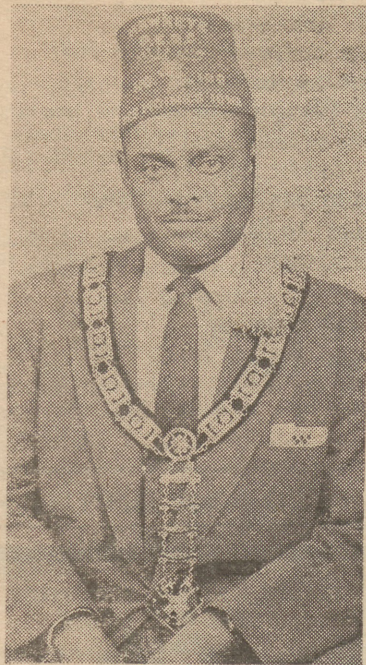

Filed June 9

The suit, filed June 9, in Jackson on behalf of Negro plaintiffs and others similarly situated, asked for an injunction on the basis that en-

Negro Airmen Win
North Dakota Victory
In Housing Cases

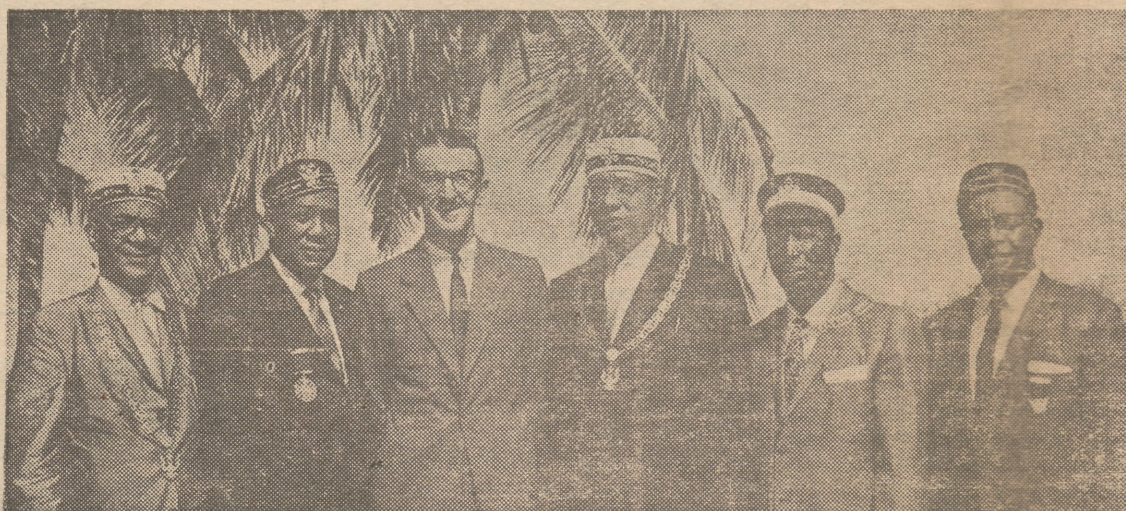

Grand Forks, N. D.—A white bartender was sentenced to 30 days in jail and fined $100 here for charging Negro airmen $5.00 for a Coca Cola.

This was the first victory of the recently formed Greater Grand Forks chapter of the NAACP, made up mostly of Air Force personnel stationed at Grand Forks air bases.

Waging Fight

Under leadership of Lt. Theodore Johnson, president of the NAACP unit, the airmen are waging a fight against strong prejudices in this region of the country.

Seeks Georgia Supreme Court Hearing in Cobb Case

Atlanta — The Georgia Supreme Court will be asked to grant a new trial for 15-year-old Preston Cobb, sentenced to death for the slaying of a 70-year-old farmer in Jasper County, Ga.

Donald L. Hollowell, Atlanta attorney retained by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to defend the lad, announced that he would appeal to the State Supreme Court following denial, on Dec. 2, by Superior Court Judge George S. Carpenter of a motion for a new trial.

All White Jury

Young Cobb was convicted by an all-white jury in Milledgeville on Aug. 16. He was charged with first degree murder in the killing of Frank Coleman Dumas on June 1, following a quarrel between the aged white man and the young Negro.

Mrs. Leatha Cobb, mother of the condemned youth, appealed to the NAACP for assistance and legal counsel. A hearing on the NAACP motion for a new trial was held on Oct. 6. Meanwhile, a stay of execution, originally scheduled for Sept. 22, was granted. At the conclusion of the hearing on Oct. 6, Judge Carpenter granted both sides until Oct. 26 to submit additional briefs.

Based Plea

Mr. Hollowell based his plea for a new trial on the systematic exclusion of Negroes from jury panels

The airmen are trying to get whites near the air base to live up to the new North Dakota law which forbids discrimination in places of public accommodations. Some restaurants and bars have openly defied the law.

Negro military personnel are also facing hardship in finding off-base homes for their families.

Higher Rent

Leonard H. Carter, NAACP field secretary, informed James C. Evans, civilian assistant to the Secretary of Defense in Washington, D. C., that when Negro airmen find homes, "they pay higher rents than similarly situated white families because of the restricted market."

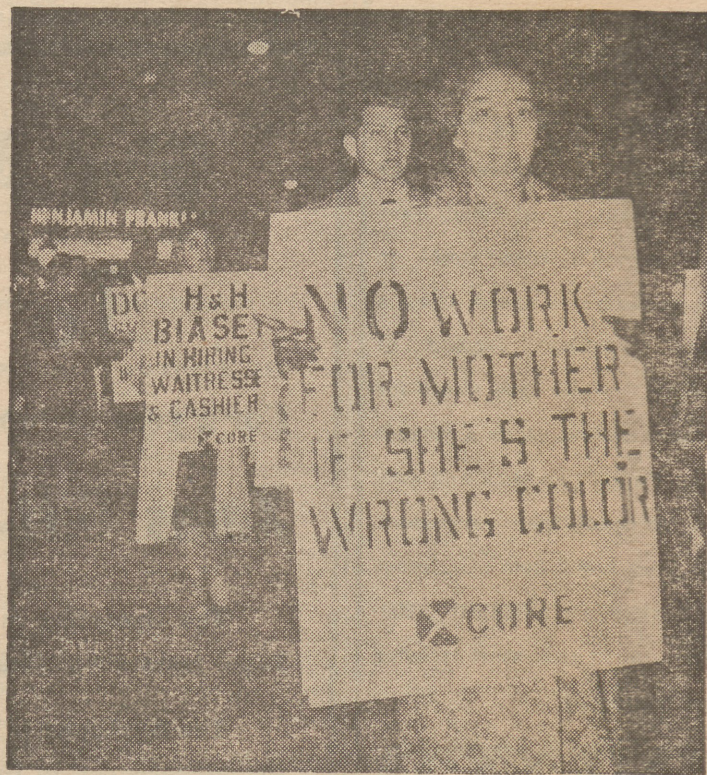

"Aside from the humiliating and personal insults these servicemen are subjected to, it is unthinkable that the U. S. Government will tolerate

Permits Death

Georgia law permits the death sentence for children as young as 14 years of age. The sentence imposed on Preston Cobb aroused international revulsion. A committee in Holland gathered nearly 2,000,000 signatures in protest and sent a two-person delegation to the country to observe the proceedings at the hearing on Oct. 6.

Philadelphia CORE Pickets Restaurant Chain

Philadelphia, Pa. — Members of Philadelphia CORE picket Horn and Hardart Restaurant to protest discriminatory hiring policy.

According to LeVerne McCummings, Chairman of the CORE group, the picketing is the beginning of a campaign to end job bias at all of the firm's restaurants in the city. He said research indicated that over 99% of all Negroes employed by Horn and Hardart work as dishwashers, cooks, bus girls and in other non-public contact positions. Less than 2% of all Horn and Hardart waitresses and cashiers are Negro.

The Chairman said CORE members suspended their picketing of Horn and Hardart last spring for a six month "wait and see" period. He added that this period was up several weeks ago and CORE, after making extensive surveys of Horn and Hardart personnel, wrote for a negotiation session, but was ignored.

"Horn and Hardart has completely refused to talk with local CORE representatives; they have refused to acknowledge repeated calls and several letters," said McCummings. He declared that CORE will continue to take action against Horn and Hardart until the firm accepts the principle of merit employment.

CORE Pickets Department Store
Two Negro Sales Clerks Hired

Berkely, Calif. — Berkely CORE ended a 57 year policy of refusal to hire Negroes at Hink's Department Store. The store hired two Negro sales clerks a few days after the CORE group picketed the store in protest against the discriminatory policy. Hink's, the largest department store in Berkely had never

First Case Involved 16
Charged with Breach of Peace at Baton Rouge, La.

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. Supreme court unanimously voided the "breach of peace" convictions of 16 Negro sit-in demonstrators who sought to end lunch-counter segregation in Baton Rouge, La.

The ruling came 45 days after the nine justices had heard arguments on the case on Oct. 26. It also marked the first of the southern "sit-in" cases which the high court had agreed to review.

Jack Greenberg, NAACP Legal Defense Fund General Counsel, asked the Court to reverse the Louisiana convictions. The students were arrested for breach of the peace in April, 1960, and sentenced to 30 days in jail plus a $100 fine, or, in lieu of the fine, another 90 days.

At the time of the hearing, the Supreme Court chamber was filled with interested spectators, including U.S. Solicitor-General Archibald Cox and NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins. John Johnson of Cullen, La., and Kenneth L. Johnson of Baton Rouge, La., two of the arrested "sit-inners," were present.

They are both currently attending Howard University in Washington, D. C.

No Substantiation

Greenberg told the Court that the Louisiana trial court record did not substantiate a charge of "breach of the peace" in any of the cases. He contended that the students were arrested by Baton Rouge police Captain Robert Weiner, who "operated a flying police squad" which made arrests in these cases simply because the Negro students were sitting at lunch counter reserved for whites.

Greenberg argued that such arrests were "essentially state action to maintain and preserve racial segregation, and such use of state power is expressly prohibited by the Fourteenth Amendment of the U. S. Constitution."

Catholics Hear Reports of Substandard All-Negro School, Bias in Employment

Warren, Ohio — First-hand reports that substandard conditions exist in a public school in an all-Negro neighborhood were heard by Catholics visiting Negro homes here in an effort to breach the invisible wall between Negroes and whites.

The 12 white visitors also heard from their hosts that some large Warren plants won't employ Negroes and that decent housing in most cases has a "for whites only" tag.

The visitors, from the Catholic Action and Information Center here, have undertaken to put racial understanding on a personal basis. Behind the local program is Father Mark Zwick, who believes that a good Catholic cannot be racially prejudiced. Similar visitations by white groups have been successful in New York, Chicago, Boston, Cleveland and Columbus.

Inactivity

Warren, Ohio — The inactivity of Catholic laity is partly responsible for entrenched racial prejudice, two interracial justice leaders said.

The head of the Catholic Inter-racial Council of Canton, Mrs. Percy Marcere, reported that she was one of only 35 Negro Catholics in that city 25 years ago and there are hardly more now partly because of the "inactivity of Catholic laymen."

Out-Of

She told a workshop here on human relations and Christian responsibility that "when a Negro becomes a Catholic he is cut off from his old social contacts. But at the same time he can't join certain Catholic lay organizations. It gets kind of lonesome sometimes."

Father Thomas Gallagher, spiritual director of the St. Peter Inter-racial Forum in Akron, said the church "has and has not" carried out the teachings of justice and charity in race relations; "the lack comes in the layman's attitude."

He added that "the love of God and neighbor is the very substance of Christ's teaching," but that he had never heard a penitent say "I've discriminated against Negroes," apparently not knowing that such discrimination is a sin.

JUSTICE BLACK

forcement of segregation in transportation facilities is clearly unconstitutional according to prior federal court decisions.

Judge Richard T. Rives, the dissenting member of the District Court panel, charged the Majority Judges, both Mississippians, with "unreasonable delay" in rendering their Nov. 17 decision.

Judge Rives wrote that he was unable to find "a bona fide breach of the peace issue" in the case, indicating that he would have enjoined the state prosecutions.

300 Arrested

The Legal Defense Fund motion to Justice Black points out that more than 300 Freedom Riders have been arrested in Jackson since last May under disorderly conduct or breach of the peace statutes. All of those arrested were convicted by the City Court of Jackson, fined $200 and given sentences ranging from 60 days to four months in the County jail. All except two have appealed their convictions to the Hinds County Court.

Slow Trials

The motion also charges that the policy of Jackson officials of trying two persons each day, 5 days a week, would mean all would not be tried until May 12, 1962, at considerable expense to the defendants. Each defendant must post $1,000 bond on appeal, and incur the additional expense of returning to Jackson for trial. An attempt to have the cases tried on a test case basis was turned down by Jackson officials.

NAACP Legal Defense attorneys are R. Jess Brown of Vicksburg, Miss., Jack Greenberg, Constance Baker Motley, Derrick Bell, Jr., and James M. Nabrit, III of New York City.

CHICAGO CHURCH LEADS IN NAACP MEMBERSHIPS

Chicago—The Cosmopolitan Community Church here continued as the nation's leading NAACP church this week when it reported 1,428 memberships in the civil rights organization. Miss Lucille Black, NAACP membership secretary, said Rev. Mary G. Evans, pastor of the church, reported 1,119 adult and 309 youth members and $3,132.00 in membership dues. "Cosmopolitan has consistently done an outstanding job in support of the Association under Rev. Evans' leadership, always reporting in excess of 1,000 NAACP members annually," said Miss Black. The church became an NAACP life member in 1955 and the pastor has held her life membership since 1954.

NAACP WILL CHECK STORE BIAS BEFORE SEASON RUSH

New York—Sixty-five major city NAACP chapters in 18 states were advised this week to "contact the managements of large retail stores, where Negroes trade heavily, and demand jobs now." Gloster B. Current, the Association's director of branches, told the units to "ask for conferences first, and state a reasonable request" for equitable Negro employment. The Cleveland NAACP branch won an important victory last week, after threatening to picket the Sears Roebuck outlet in the heart of the Negro community.

discrimination and exploitation against members of its armed forces," Carter added.

Color Tax

"Actually these Negro families are paying a color tax, in addition to excessive rents," he said.

The NAACP asked for an "immediate investigation into this matter . . . and that some solution to this problem be found." The Association offered its "full cooperation" to the Secretary of Defense's office.

Fate of Father Gibson up To Supreme Court Justices

Washington — The fate of the Rev. Theodore R. Gibson, Florida clergyman and president of the NAACP branch in Miami, is now in the hands of the nine justices of the United States Supreme Court.

The Court heard argument on Dec. 5 by NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter asking that the Court set aside the six-month jail sentence and $1,200 fine imposed upon the clergyman by a Florida state court.

Father Gibson has been held in contempt of a Florida legislative investigating committee because he refused to verify answers to questions based upon the NAACP membership list. The Florida Supreme Court upheld a lower court contempt conviction of the NAACP leader.

Stressed Similarity

In his argument, Carter stressed the similarity between the Florida and Alabama cases involving disclosure of NAACP membership lists. In the Alabama case, the Supreme Court held in 1958 that the Association could not be compelled to reveal the names of its members and contributors to state officials.

Conceded

In the Gibson hearing, the NAACP counsel contended that there was no valid state interest which could be served by requiring Father Gibson to testify from the NAACP list. He further pointed out that Florida authorities and courts conceded that the Episcopal rector was not subversive and that the NAACP was a legitimate organization.

Queried by Justices

Carter urged that in the absence of facts connecting Father Gibson or the NAACP with subversive organizations, there was no basis upon

Bishop College Accepted Into Full Membership In Southern Association of Colleges Dec. 7

Dallas, Tex. — President M. K. Curry, Jr. received word from Dr. Elmer G. Million, Director of the Department of Schools and Colleges of the Board of Education, American Baptist Convention, and a member of the Board of Trustees of Bishop College, Thursday that Bishop College has been admitted to full membership in that body in its session in Miami Beach, Fla., yesterday, Dec. 7.

Since 1957

In 1957 the Association opened its doors to full membership to Negro colleges which met the standards in the same way as other colleges. According to President Curry, upgrading of faculty training, increase in salaries, improvement of the plant facilities with the removal of the college to Dallas, and greatly improved financial support, together with the recent strengthening of the Board of Trustees through reorganization were the main factors responsible for the full acceptance of the college into membership in this regional accrediting body.

Accredited

Bishop College has been accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools in some fashion since 1931. In 1947, it was accepted as an "A" Class College, but on a separate rating from standards required of colleges for white youths. After the establishing of the graduate program in teacher education in 1948, the college at Marshall was placed on probation for failing to meet some of the standards.

UNCF

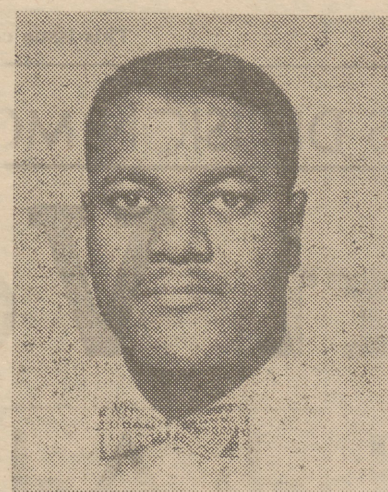

President Curry pointed to the fact that full membership in this accrediting body insures that the college can retain membership in which the state could require production of the Association's membership list.

The NAACP counsel was queried by the justices to distinguish between the Gibson case and that of Rev. Dr. Willard Uphaus whose conviction for contempt of a New Hampshire legislative committee was upheld by a 5-4 decision of the United States Supreme Court. Dr.

Uphaus was required to serve his sentence.

In response, Mr. Carter said that the court majority had evidently concluded that there was a sufficient showing to give New Hampshire officials a reasonable basis for belief that the World Fellowship was in some way connected with the Communist party. Here he said, no such showing had been made.

... and with a bit more safety, perhaps, since electric bulbs took the place of lighted candles on Christmas trees. The idea originated, we're told, with a telephone man who replaced the dangerous candles on his Christmas tree with tiny switchboard lamps. * That was many Christmases ago, but the deeper meaning of the season remains the same. We all look forward to a Christmastime bright with the glow of hope and love and peace. And in that spirit we'd like to add our sincere "Merry Christmas" to those of your other friends.

In Philly Hospital

Philadelphia—One of the many visitors to the bedside of famed integrationist Dr. Martin Luther King, confined here in Mercy-Douglass Hospital for a physical checkup, was renowned folk singer Harry Belafonte.

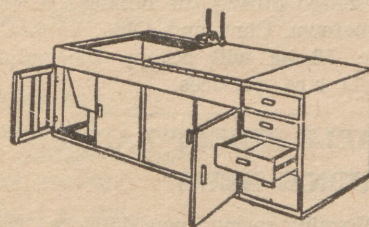

Dr. Harold Pierce, physician to Dr. King, said the churchman's condition was satisfactory and that this was his first physical checkup since he was stabbed more than a year ago by a crazed woman spectator in a New York department store in Harlem.

Enclose Laundry Tubs

STORAGE is a "must" in the laundry, but oftentimes it is makeshift and unsatisfactory. Wise homemakers can readily make a combination linen chest and laundry supply cabinet which will serve also to hide unsightly stationary tubs.

As shown in the illustration, the handyman can enclose the tubs, construct a chest of drawers next to them, and create a handy clothes sorting table on top. To do the best job from the standpoints of cost, appearance and long life, he should build a framework of 2 by 2-inch lumber and cover it with smooth Masonite Tempered Presdwood, one-quarter inch thick.

Drawer construction can be simple. Just form the framework of lumber and attach a bottom of Presdwood. Wooden slides attached to the cabinet and sides of the drawers complete that part of the project.

The lumber framework for the enclosures should be no farther than 16" apart. Swinging doors to enclose the tubs may be made, too, as illustrated, or sliding doors of Tempered Presdwood unframed, may be made. They will slide in grooves cut into the cabinet floor and upper framework.

*Prime and paint the installation for the best appearance.

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN

SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by William P. Hawkinson, SUI Assistant Professor

CHILDREN NEED LOVE FOR EMOTIONAL GROWTH

Today we speak of "guiding" children rather than "molding" them. The notion that the parent is like a potter working with clay which can be shaped according to a pattern is outmoded.

What has caused this change in attitude? Greater knowledge of child life is an important factor. Through the 1920's, the 1930's and the 1940's, great strides took place in actually knowing children. Infant mortality, for instance, dropped sharply because of greater knowledge of health needs.

Outlets

The concept of guidance rather than molding was built on the idea that within the child himself there are forces seeking outlets. We know that given adequate food, sleep and exercise, the baby will grow physically. We also know now that given an environment suited to his mental and emotional needs, he will grow into a happy, self-reliant person at a much younger age than was once thought possible.

What helps here? The child learns trust from the love of persons closest to him. The child gives back to the world what he gets from it.

Intended to Love

Dr. Benjamin Spock says, "Yet to me the most fascinating fact of infancy is that a baby a couple of months old—at a time when he can't talk, stand, sit, reach with his hand or hold his head steady—still knows how to smile and does so delightedly when his mother greets him. He is clearly intended to love and to evoke love from the beginning."

Essential

Love, then, is essential for the baby and for the child all through the years. It gives him trust in himself. Adequate guidance will provide this love to help the child develop normally through each period of growth. For he must function at each age as a successful person if he is to function adequately as a grownup in his world.

Tree in a Tub

Stability and safety are special features of this Christmas tree holder. The holder is made by placing a tree and a conventional Christmas tree stand in a galvanized steel laundry tub. Then fill the tub with sand. Add lights and ornaments to the tree and decorate the tub. Sprinkle water on the sand, being careful to keep hands off electric lights and wires. It's practically impossible to tip over a tree in a tub, and the wet sand keeps the tree fresh and fire-resistant.

Iowa's first big snowstorm of this winter and also the first fierce blizzard-spawned offering in two years hit the state with a smashing blow Monday. Despite all the annoyances and inconveniences such a storm bring to snow shovelers and motorists, one cannot help but marvel anew at the paragon view of nature's white, dazzling canvas. And of course, children who had sleds and had been bemoaning the previous snowless-winter days, jumped up and down with joyous delight despite the near zero temperatures.

There were dolls galore at the annual doll show Sunday at the YW. Many were on exhibit, contributed by families whose daughters had cherished them through the years; others by young ladies who had brought their favorite one along to show off in the doll parade; others were presented to contestants in the doll show. There were talking dolls, walking dolls, crying dolls, china dolls, rag dolls, foreign dolls, large dolls, tiny dolls.

Among the family collections represented were those of Elva, Nancy and Cheryl Slaughter, which were sent to the display by Mrs. Elsie Slaughter of 1120 12th street. Mrs. Slaughter disclosed that there were nearly 160 dolls in the entire collection. The rag dolls in the family collection had been made by aunts of the Slaughter sisters.

Nancy, now Mrs. Carson Alderson has had quite a bit of trouble in the last few weeks. First, her husband was called into the Army about two weeks ago. He was sent to Fort Carson, Colo. About three days later Nancy was rushed to Methodist hospital for an emergency appendectomy.

Back to the family doll collections. There was a group of Oriental dolls from Mrs. Clyde Morris, saved by her daughter, Mrs. Jan Archer. Then there was another collection from Mrs. Rosa E. Wilson which had been saved by her daughter through the years. Mrs. Wilson also won a beautifully made Viet-Nam doll, donated by Mrs. Gwendolyn Fowler, to the club woman bringing in the most money. Another doll given as a prize to the Princess contestants was donated by Mrs. Maud Wells.

Among local actors appearing in the cast of a play, at the Des Moines Community Playhouse were Messrs. Irvin White and Everett Mays. Mr. White, of course, is a veteran of almost 10 years of participation in the Community Playhouse. He also has been participating in the drama recitals and readings sponsored by the Drake drama workshop, recently.

Last week we had just talked with Mrs. Vernon K. Ashford, Sr., of her recent trip to Long Beach, Calif. While there she and her sister, Mrs. Mayme Robinson, who accompanied her, visited with their cousins, Judge and Mrs. T. L. Griffiths. Two days later after talking with Mrs. Ashford, a story appeared in the local daily of the selection of Judge Griffith to be the first of his race to preside over the Municipal judges in Los Angeles county.

Other relatives of the Griffiths living in Des Moines are Mrs. Sarah Galloway, also a first cousin, and Mrs. Mary Frances Parker, a second cousin.

Mrs. Ashford remembered that she and her sister were taking an early morning walk one morning in Long Beach and saw a familiar figure. When they came closer they recognized him as the Rev. R. M. Powell, who was such a well-known figure here in Des Moines.

Remember our Christmas edition will be out next week. It promises to be bigger and better than ever. So watch for it, will you?

Candy Patties Are a Holiday Treat

HOMEMADE CANDY AT HOLIDAY TIME is a treat which every homemaker would be able to offer her family and guests. But alas! Some of us seem to just can't find the time to prepare them.

Well, here's a recipe from Sugar Information, Inc., for a creamy concoction which we assure you can be turned out quickly, and with the greatest of ease. It's called Coconut-Mint Patties, and can be made up in a variety of colors for a really lovely effect.

1/2 cup milk
1/4 tsp. cream of tartar

1 teaspoon oil of peppermint
1/2 cup chopped coconut
Food coloring

Dissolve sugar in milk. Add cream of tartar. Cook slowly, stirring constantly until a small amount will form a soft ball in cold water (238° on candy thermometer). Add peppermint coconut and food coloring. Stir well. Allow to cool slightly. Drop by spoon onto waxed paper to cool.

Yield: 1 1/2 dozen 2-inch patties.

Note: Mixture may be divided in half and half tinted green and the other half tinted red as traditional Christmas colors.

CONSERVATIVE FORCES
ARE OBSTRUCTIONISTS

Prior to the second world war, the American First Committee, a conservative organization, was formed. It did not favor American participation in the war and spearheaded the conservative group in this country. After the country was in the war, the organization seemed to have gone underground.

Since World War II, the so-called conservatives have used opposition to the Communist threat and liberal government as whipping posts. The late Senator McCarthy carried the ball.

Today, conservatives are coming to the front. The John Birch Society, an ultra conservative organization, seems to epitomize that group with such men as General Walker and Senator Goldwater of Arizona carrying on a campaign directed at the more progressive thought in the United States. And while their views are those of their own, they command considerable attention and support.

Senator Goldwater is an able man. He has done well in his own business, is chairman of the Republican Campaign Committee, was highly considered for the Republican nomination for president in 1960 and undoubtedly will command considerable support for that honor in 1964.

As a Republican, the party which traditionally commanded the support of Negroes for its espousal of civil rights, Senator Goldwater is doing that party a distinct disservice by championing a program opposing integration and insisting on leaving these matters to state action. And of course, had this been done and had the Supreme Court not come forth with decisions based on equality of human rights for all men, we would be far behind.

The Republicans were foolish last year over possible success at the polls in the South. In fact, ignoring the Negro lost election. No party is going to win without gaining a fair share of the votes in large populated areas—areas where a large segment of Negroes are centered.

It is difficult to understand Senator Goldwater. He does the party a harm, he does the country an injustice for his views negative democracy as professed by the U.S. and gives Russia ammunition to shoot us with.

Of course, Senator Goldwater will not get the Republican nomination; his views cannot prevail if this country expects to continue its upward trend toward equality of all men.

NEW MAYOR SHOULD PROVIDE BETTER
LEADERSHIP

Beginning in January, Des Moines will have a new mayor. Rheinhold Carlson is the retiring mayor. Charles Iles, a former mayor and Jens Grotter are considered leading possibilities for the post.

Des Moines has had a poor weak council. Leadership has not been strong. It had ducked and dodged entirely too many issues. It has allowed conservative forces to block progress; it has practically ignored valid protests of racial discrimination while at the same time playing as though it was interested.

After all, no organization can move forward without strong leadership. That leadership must be able and willing to see through the maze of smoke some of its members throw up and lead them in forward progressive programs. This, the Des Moines City Council has not had.

The Bystander, recognizing the lack of participation by Negroes in the affairs of city government, has asked the mayor to appoint some members of the group on important commissions and boards. And while pretending to recognize the justice of this cause, the suggestions have been ignored. It has not been a happy situation.

Both leading candidates for mayor are well known to the Bystander. Both are able men who have succeeded in their private undertakings. Both know our views. It is hoped there will be some inclination to place Des Moines somewhat on a par with other cities around the country, rather than retreat from the trend toward more participation by Negroes in the official affairs of Des Moines.

No city or state which takes an other position has enhanced its growth in population or industry during the past ten years.

NOTICE—To Churches, Clubs and Lodges: letters for the Xmas Edition of the Bystander have been mailed. If you missed one call AT 8-1904 at once.

Except for the bowl games and the pro playoffs, football is done for. Time was when we started practice the day after decoration day and ended our season around or on Thanksgiving day. Now with a month of spring practice and early season practice the thing is liable to last about six months for a top rated team. No wonder there aren't too many three and two sport men who include football as one of their games. About the most prominent All-Americans are Sandy Stephens of Minnesota; Bob Ferguson of Ohio State; Ernie Davis of Syracuse and Bob Bell of Minnesota. Al Hinton of Iowa and E. Cole of Northwestern got mentioned now and then.

Basketball

Drake with what could be its best team in Drake history, found out what happens to a running team when they play a real good ball control team. If the running team doesn't beat the socks off the other team, and the score is close the ball control team will win almost every time. Still the Bulldogs gave it a real great try against the National Collegiate champs.

High Schools

In our local high schools we aren't coming up with too many Negro ballplayers who stand out as they used to. We thought that when the Willkie House opened up there would be a whole host of good Negro youngsters. But, such hasn't been the case. What happened we don't know. Maybe the kids have too many other things to think about and don't go in for sports as they did in the old Crocker Y days. Maybe the leagues don't give them a chance to play and develop. As the old baseball league used to do, maybe the league teams won't use the youngsters who might be pretty good because they have to have the old pros to win. Whatever the reason we would like to see more kids on the school teams. A lot of them are going out for wrestling and we like that.

Boxing

We have just two questions. Will Sonny Liston and Floyd Patterson ever meet in the ring? Will Gene Fullmer ever defend his middleweight title east of the Rockies? Who can answer them. See where Patterson has finally made Sec Taylor list of bums. This list also included Joe Louis in his prime, Archie Moore and Sugar Ray Robinson and we think Jackie Robinson. So Patterson doesn't need to feel too badly about it.

SEASONS CLOSING

The following seasons are ending on Friday, Dec. 15: Pheasant, quail, and Hungarian partridge at 4:30 p.m.; squirrel at sunset, and muskrat trapping at midnight except on the game management areas where the season extends until midnight, Dec. 31.

State Conservation Commission officials report the pheasant harvest to have been spotty although the population is known to be good. The birds are spread out in mild weather, rather than concentrated in cover areas where hunters can get at them. Quail shooting has been above average with bag limits common throughout the season. Hungarian partridge hunting in the northeastern countries has been better this year.

Widely distributed reports from hunters indicate a good squirrel season.

The rabbit season extends until 6:00 p.m., Feb. 18, 1962.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Dr. James F. Speers, Director, City-County Health Department once again urges groups and organizations in planning their holiday banquets and parties to consult the health department for help in setting up effective sanitation procedures. 'Food poisoning outbreaks frequently originate in non-professional food handling groups,' Dr. Speers said.

The fundamental 5 of safe food service are:

1. CLEAN HANDS—Soiled hands spread germs. Hands and fingernails should be washed frequently with soap and water.

2. CLEAN SERVICE—Handling utensils the wrong way may spread disease. Utensils should be washed clean in hot soapy water, rinsed in clear water and sanitized as recommended by the health department, then carefully handled and stored.

Coughs, Sneezes

3. CLEAN FOOD—Food may be infected by coughs, sneezes and handling of food and dirty equipment. It should be from an approved source, then protected during storage, preparation, display and service.

4. RIGHT TEMPERATURE—Cold stops germs from growing; heat kills them. Cold foods should be kept cold; hot foods should be kept hot. Prepared food never should be left standing at room temperature one unnecessary minute.

5. HEALTHY WORKERS—Food handlers must be healthy, for colds and other diseases may be passed to others. Germs from infected cuts and pimples may cause food poisoning.

Dr. Speers requests that you consult the health department today for help in setting up effective sanitation procedures.

Truman Gibson Draws
Five-Year Sentence

Los Angeles—Truman Gibson, of Chicago, former Civilian Aide to the Secretary of War, and ex-president of the National Boxing Enterprises, was sentenced last week-end to five years and fined $10,000 by a federal court.

Gibson was one of four convicted, along with Frankie Carbo, erstwhile underworld boss of a sprawling boxing empire, of conspiracy and extortion. Carbo was sentenced to 25 years in prison and fined $10,000.

The court suspended Gibson's sentence on condition of payment of the fine and placed him on five years' probation.

The others sentenced were Joe Sica, 25 years and $10,000 fine; Frank (Blinky) Palermo, 15 years and $10,000 fine; and Louis Dragna, five years. Motions for new trials were denied by the judge.

Burglars Clean Out
Sugar Ray's Tavern

New York—Sugar Ray Robinson, former world middleweight champion, is now wondering about his "close friends," of whom he has legion. Somebody "in the know" broke into Robinson's 7th ave. bar and lounge, police reported, and carted off Sugar's entire supply of whiskey as well as cash from the cash registers, juke boxes and cigarette machines.

Police speculated the burglars entered the nationally popular hangout of the sports and nightlife set by ripping away the metal bars covering the rear bathroom window, emptied many beer cartons and evidently used them to tote off the loot.

That's how it looked also to Ray's manager, Theodore Thompson.

Berth With "Trotters"

Chicago—Hubert Ausbie, a 6 foot-4-inch rookie, is starring with the celebrated Harlem Globetrotters because he persisted in writing letters in which he praised himself.

For more than two years the 180 pound cager bombarded Owner Abe Saperstein with letters describing his basketball skills and pleading for an opportunity to play with the Globetrotters.

Didn't Stop

Saperstein discarded the letters as fast as they arrived. The Trotters boss didn't believe anyone could be so good. Meantime, Hubert entered

ADAM

Not quite awake, or yet aware of the teeming earth to which the clay is releasing him, the clear blue flame of consciousness had not yet fired this soul into full awareness.

This sleeping mind had not yet learned of the tremendous responsibility that would be placed upon his mighty shoulders.

This man Adam, the first of his kind, was destined to be the father of the human race.

His progeny were to populate this new world, and at some later date, to spread to the maturing planets of the galaxy.

When the sons of Adam learn to use what God has given to them.

His beautiful head bowed, his eyes still closed, as if held in thrall by the clay from whence he came.

His mighty muscles taut and straining from the effort of release from the possessive clutch of his mother, earth.

He fights his way upward and outward to the call that impinges upon his subconscious.

The voice of his Lord and Creator, his almighty Father!

How wonderful it would have been, how marvelous to have been there, to have seen him upon his full awakening to the primordial beauty of the garden of Eden.

When his eyes were opened and his mind became aware of his physical being.

What an amazing succession of thoughts, of impressions, must have raced through his mind, all to be evaluated and catalogued by the keen brain behind that thoughtful brow.

Made in the image of his Creator, his was a god-like bearing, herculean strength, and wonderful masculine perfection.

So alive, as he moved with fantas-

Philander Smith college. But the determined young man from Crescent, Okla., didn't stop writing.

Finally, one day last summer Ausbie included some statistics in a letter that he should have revealed long before. Saperstein's eyes popped when he read a clipping attached to the letter. It showed that Ausbie was twelfth highest among the nation's collegiate scorers during the 1959-60 season with 676 points in 24 games. His 28.2 average was exceeded only by Oscar Robertson, then at Cincinnati and Seattle's Elgin Baylor.

Did the Trick

That did the trick. Saperstein granted Hubert a tryout immediately—and he not only lived up to the statements in his letters, but also turned out to be a tremendous comedian. Saperstein predicts he is going to be as great as Meadowlark Lemon, the finest comedian in sports and a veteran Trotter star, in the near future.

A man has generally the good or ill qualities which he attributes to mankind.

Doing good is the only certainly happy action of a man's life.

It is often said by the heedless that we are a conservative species, Impervious to new ideas. I have not found it so. I am often appalled at the avidity and credulity with which new ideas are snatched at and adapted without a scrap or sound evidence. People will believe anything that amuses them, gratifies them or promises them some sort of profit.

Simple Cake with Penuche Sauce

by Jane Ashley

Whether you bake your own sponge or angel food cake, use a mix, or buy the cake at the corner store, you'll like this Penuche Sauce to make the dessert your own. It's simple enough for the children after school, yet glamorous enough to serve at a car party or other grown-up affair.

This Three-Way Penuche Sauce is versatile, too. Add confectioners' sugar and you'll have a frosting for a butter or chiffon cake, or a full pound of confectioners' sugar for a smooth creamy fudge.

THREE-WAY PENUCHE SAUCE

3 tablespoons margarine
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup dark Karo Syrup
2 tablespoons light cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

Mix margarine, brown sugar, salt and Corn Syrup together in a saucepan. Bring to a boil and boil 3 to 4 minutes over low heat, stirring frequently. Stir in cream and let mixture come to a boil again. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Serve warm over ice cream or plain cake. Makes 1 cup sauce.

Frosting: Follow recipe for sauce as directed above. Gradually add 3 to 3 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar to the hot sauce, mixing until well blended, smooth and of spreading consistency. Makes sufficient frosting to cover top and sides of 9 x 13-inch cake.

Fudge: Follow recipe for sauce as directed. Gradually add 1 pound sifted confectioners' sugar to the hot sauce and blend until smooth. Turn into greased 8 x 8 x 2-inch pan. Chill until firm. Cut into squares. Makes 1 1/2 pounds fudge.
