Greenberg, Morris Acclaim Lawyers Conference in N.Y.

New York—Jack Greenberg, Director-Counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, termed the Fund's weekend conference of northern lawyers on civil rights "an unqualified success" today.

The working conference was held March 2, 3 and 4 at the Columbia University Law School. Approximately 75 attorneys and civil rights experts attended from thirty cities.

"The conference was designed to explore issues involving northern segregation patterns rather than form policy," Greenberg pointed out. This was the first conference of northern lawyers that the Defense Fund has called.

Atty. Morris

Atty. James B. (Brad) Morris, Jr., Des Moines, Ia., was one of nine lawyers attending from the midwest and the only from Iowa. He said the group discussed desegregation of schools in northern cities, geographical segregation which is considered still racial segregation by the NAACP. He noted that urban cities such as New York, and Detroit, Mich., have filed suits against school boards and others are considering the legal procedure.

Housing Barriers

Also, discussed by the lawyers, Morris said, was housing barriers, artificial and legal, and the testing of urban renewal projects where Negroes, especially, had not been provided with adequate housing. About 70 per cent of all urban renewal relocated families are Negroes.

Techniques

Legal techniques, exchange of ideas, tricks of trade to be watchful for, were also discussed before the three-day meeting adjourned. Round-trip fare for those attending the meeting was paid for by the NAACP Legal Defense fund. Morris made the trip to and from New York by plane.

CORE Leaders Still In Jail In Baton Rouge

Baton Rouge, La.—Although three months have elapsed since the mass student anti-segregation demonstration, two leaders of the local CORE group are still held in the parish jail here as a consequence of excessive bail.

Anarchy Charge

Ronnie Moore, chairman of Baton Rouge CORE is being held in $12,500 bail and Weldon Rougeau, vice chairman of Baton Rouge CORE, in $7,000 bail. The original bail figure for each was $3,000 but when CORE moved to pay it, the state changed the charges from "trespassing" to "criminal anarchy" and the bail was boosted accordingly.

Also held in the parish jail is Rev. B. Elton Cox, who, following the demonstrations, was sentenced to 21 months imprisonment and a $5,700 fine on 3 misdemeanor charges. Attempts to get him released in a habeas court writ, pending appeal, have proved fruitless.

Dr. Johnson Named Chairman of Human Rights Commission

Dr. Robert M. Johnson, was elected chairman of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights at its meeting Mar. 6, a position he has been serving as acting head since last summer.

Dr. Johnson, Des Moines physician-surgeon, welcomed two new members to the commission, Mrs. Jack Cleveland, former city recreation commissioner, and member of the Des Moines library board; and L. L. Daubert, long-time member of the Des Moines board of education.

Adopted Motion

The commission unanimously adopted a motion not to discuss cases charging employment discrimination in public sessions. The group also discussed working with city banking institutions and talking over policy to encourage the hiring of Negroes. It was noted that loan associations generally hire Negroes but not banks.

The Rev. DeLoss was elected vice chairman. Other commissioners are

Attack Segregated Turnpike Restaurants In U.S. Court Suits

New York—Segregated highway restaurants licensed by a state turnpike authority have been attacked in court by the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund.

The Defense Fund action, filed in the federal district court for the Southern District of Florida in Miami on March 1, asks that the Hot Shoppes restaurants operating on the Florida Turnpike be enjoined from serving Negroes in segregated areas and from providing segregated rest room facilities.

A hearing on a Defense Fund motion for preliminary injunction was scheduled for Monday.

Denies Right

The Fund complaint argues that segregated services in restaurants licensed by a state turnpike authority constitutes a denial of the rights of Negro citizens under the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the U. S. Constitution.

Negro plaintiffs in the action are Leerie McDuffie, John E. King, Walter Holmes, Sr., Albert Myers and George Sims. McDuffie, King and Holmes are officials of Local 1526, International Longshoremen's Association in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. The action was brought on behalf of the named plaintiffs and all Negro citizens "similarly situated."

Incident

The suit grew out of an incident on January 16, 1962, when the five plaintiffs went to the Hot Shoppes

For Dec. 12 Participation In Albany Student Parade Protesting Mass Jailings

Albany, Ga.—A Recorder's court judge asked for written briefs Tuesday and delayed for about two months a ruling in the trial of Martin Luther King, Jr., for participating in an anti-segregation demonstration.

(Dr. King's scheduled appearance at Simpson college, Indianola, Ia., during its Religious Emphasis observance, was canceled due to the trial.)

King was the first of 735 Negroes scheduled for trial on disorderly conduct charges as a result of demonstrations last December protesting the trial of freedom riders.

3 Hours

Judge A. N. Durden listened to arguments for three hours, mostly about the legality of a parade Dec. 16 that included King, and then gave attorneys 30 days to prepare briefs in the case. Durden said he would make a ruling about 30 days after receiving the briefs.

The result of the hearing was that King's case would be made a test case, for three others that had also been scheduled to begin Tuesday. Durden said the other 731 cases would be delayed until King's case is settled, and that he would probably give 10 days notice before bringing them up.

Mass Arrests

The mass arrests took place in December when Negroes staged a week of demonstrations in protest against Albany's segregation laws. The city's population is divided about evenly between Negroes and whites.

Albany Police Chief Laurie Pritchett was the lone witness for the city during the hearing. The charges against King include obstructing the sidewalk and parading without a permit.

City Code

Donald L. Howell, attorney for King, asked Pritchett the city code definition of a parade. When Pritchett said there was none, Hollowell asked "then it's anything you want to make it?"

"In my opinion, yet," the chief replied. During the hearing, four Negro youths were arrested in front of the City hall for parading with anti-segregation signs. They were charged with refusing to give information to police and parading without a permit.

Negro Newspapers Mark 135 Years of Publishing

Washington, D. C.—The 135th anniversary of the founding of the American Negro Press will be observed March 18-24, according to statement issued this week by E. Washington Rhodes, president, National Newspaper Publishers Association, sponsoring organization of the 24-year-old annual project.

Rhodes, publisher of The Philadelphia (Pa.) Tribune, points out that special celebrations are being planned for Friday, March 16, the day on which the first Negro newspaper in the U. S., Freedom's Journal, was published at New York City in 1827. The theme of the Press Week observance is "In the Freedom of the Press . . . Rest the Future of Humanity."

Thomas W. Young, president, The Norfolk (Va.) Journal and Guide, and chairman of NNPA's Public Affairs Committee, has appealed to churches, religious and educational institutions to bring to the attention of their members and students the close interest of the pulpit and the press in guaranteeing certain basic freedoms without which a democratic system could not possibly serve the cause of humanity.

Outgrowth of Church

"It is a matter of historic fact," states Young, "that the founding of Freedom's Journal, to say the least, was more than an indirect outgrowth of the church." Early in 1827, a group headed by the Rev. Samuel E. Cornish assembled in New York City to discuss the problems of the race and resolved to publish a weekly journal to espouse the cause of freedom and the citizenship status of free Negroes.

On March 16, 1827, Freedom's Journal appeared under the co-editorship of Rev. Cornish and Jamaica-born John B. Russwurm, who was the first Negro college graduate in the United States. Cornish purchased the building which housed the paper at No. 5 Varich Street, downtown New York.

Recognized Pioneers

Russwurm and Rev. Cornish, the two recognized pioneers of Negro journalism, dedicated themselves to the cause of their oppressed brothers in the South and to the advancement of the Negroes who had escaped to the North. According to historians, Mr. Russwurm's career in journalism was brief and he was

NEGRO NEWSPAPERS

Among the many observances throughout the year, National Negro Newspaper week (March 16-24) is the most important to those who bring to most communities the news about Negroes.

In spite of their ups and downs, the Negro press has been and is now making a great contribution to the country by keeping the public informed about what the Negro does, what he thinks and hopes for.

Negro newspapers had their beginning 135 years ago. Recognizing the inadequate news coverage given by the then existing press and the failure or refusal of those papers to use Negroes in their establishments, it was felt that Negro newspapers would help fill that gap.

The life of Negro newspapers has been hard and exceedingly difficult. Negro business has not been adequate to provide advertising for these papers and for years the white business institutions gave little consideration in placing some of their advertising dollars among them.

Soon after the turn of the century, some very substantial papers were published but folded up after the death of their founders. Some were subsidized by fraternities most of which went with the demise of their parent group.

All these difficulties discouraged young Negroes from preparing themselves for newspaper work. And without the services of trained personnel, little progress was made prior to World War I.

However, in recent years, marketing specialists and advertising agencies have taken a new look at Negro news media. They discarded the old theory that to use these papers was duplication of circulation and concluded that there was value in the use of Negro papers.

Today there are some excellent Negro newspapers. Negroes are doing things which the public generally should know about; expressions of the views of Negroes are of general interest so they have grown in influence and stature.

Negro newspapers, like all class papers, are pressure instruments working primarily for those they represent. But as the daily press gets more democratic by not only printing their news, and views and hiring their youngsters, there will be less of them.

And in view of the constant battle these papers have waged for the rights of Negroes, every Negro should support them by taking a subscription—and paying for it—and urging stores where they trade to use some of their advertising dollars in Negro Newspapers.

CRUDE INTIMIDATION
TRAVELS NORTH

Whenever Negroes put up stiff fights for their rights, people in authority or with means open up a campaign of intimidation to make them quit.

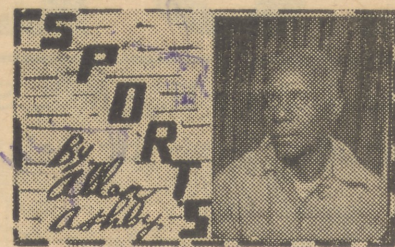

This is true in the South where efforts are being made to put the NAACP out of business; to deny jobs and other economic opportunities.

As a surprise move, the Des Moines city council has proposed an amendment to the Human Rights ordinance which would make its executive secretary responsible to the city manager rather than to the commission as the law now stands.

Recently, the commission has pressed the council for favorable action on housing and employment. In fact, some members of the commission have criticized the council severely for their inaction (they have been exactly right) and some members of the council are sore about it. This is simply a scheme to intimidate the commission and its offices.

And they were so anxious to get the job done that unlike proposals to amend ordinances governing other commissions, this amendment was not submitted to the Human Rights Commission. In fact the first they knew such an ordinance was proposed was made known in a crude article in the Des Moines Register Saturday.

At the council meeting Monday, the matter was deferred for some study. The Bystander hopes that members of the council will find out the practice of such commissions in other cities (this procedure runs contrary to the accepted practice) and leave the commission free to do the job originally intended.

Magazine Article
Says Sugar Ray
Will Be Carried Out

Philadelphia, Pa.—The word in boxing circles is that Sugar Ray Robinson is going to wind up being carried out, Jimmy Breslin relates in the current (March 17) issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

Breslin's article, "The Last Days of Sugar Ray," says that the aging ex-champion, one of pugilism's all-time greats, is unchanged personally.

Same Personally

"He is the same Sugar Ray Robinson—egotistical, hard to reach in conversation, but possessing rare color and individuality," Breslin writes.

The sportswriter reports that Sugar Ray insists that he is fighting out of pride. He wants to win the middleweight championship again and show everybody he can do it. Then he'll retire.

Others are said to scoff at this. They sadly agree that he is getting belted around by some comparative unknown for one reason—he needs money.

"All told, his fight purses have come to a total of nearly $4,000,000," the article states. "Now the indications are that he has no real money left. He has had domestic troubles and separated from his wife. He is in constant difficulty with lawyers and court proceedings."

Breslin quotes trainer Whitey Binstein's remark that, "He is going to keep going until some punk kid gets in with him and knocks his brains out."

Beaumont, Texas — Lamar Tech College said this week that for the first time in its history a Negro will participate in athletics. Anthony Gillory, a former Beaumont Hebert High School star in track and football, has enrolled at Lamar and will join the track and field team.

Robinson, Althea
Star in Tourney

Miami, Fla.—Jackie Robinson and Althea Gibson old hands at winning ways, today copped the top honors in the 9th Annual Ray Mitchell North-South Golf Tournament held here at the City of Miami Country Club at Miami Springs. Jackie Robinson took the men's amateur championship by defeating Calvin Tanner of Chicago, last year's champion, by one stroke lead. Althea Gibson won out over Myrtle Patterson of Riverdale, New York, to take the women's amateur championship with a total score of 338 for the 72 holes. Miss Gibson was also low medalist with a thumping 87. Robinson, unsuccessful in previous tournaments, came into his own today with a "cool 70" two under par. His form was excellent and driving power improved.

Ipalco's Idea Center
Has Photo Gallery

On March 5, Iowa Power and Light Company's Des Moines Service and Idea Center became a veritable art gallery when the firm pulled back the canvas on a highly unique cultural exhibit designed to tell the story of a progressive state with an established chapter in the history of the nation and a vital role in the future; an exhibit designed to show "The Power Behind Iowa." The culmination of many months of intensive planning and expert workmanship, "The Power Behind Iowa" is a photographic exhibit of unusual depth and design, capturing in excellence the many faces of Iowa. Religion, resources, industry, agriculture, people, progress—all these have been captured in unbelievable realism, portraying through magnificent still-life views the power that is Iowa.

46 Murals

Forty-six separate photographic murals are displayed prominently and commandingly throughout Iowa Power's Service and Idea Center. The photographs—each telling its own individual story—range in size from 18"x24" to 40"x70", lending a contemporary note of style to the entire display. With the exception of the four seasons—which are reproduced in full color as a special tribute to the splendor that belongs to each Iowa season—all murals are a study in black and white contrasts, mounted on free-standing display standards. The self-contained standards, because of their modern, functional, and attractive lines, add a note of architectural beauty to the striking exhibit.

Iowa Power's Service and Idea Center, 823 Walnut Street, is open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and from 9:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday.

Thoughts for Today
"The sense of humor is the just balance of all the faculties of man, the best security against the pride of knowledge and the conceits of the imagination, and the strongest inducement to submit with a wise and pious patience to the vicissitudes of human existence. — Richard Monchton Milnes.

"Perseverance is more prevailing than violence; and many things which cannot be overcome when they are together, yield themselves up when taken little by little." — Plutarch.

"captured" by the Colonization Society and sent to Africa. Freedom's Journal was suspended, but other Negro editors sprang up and began publishing newspapers to light the path of freedom.

Other Papers

The names of early Negro newspapers indicate the purpose to which they were dedicated. In addition to Freedom's Journal, there were such designations as Rights of All, Mirror of Liberty, Elevator, Clarion, Genius of Freedom and North Star, which was edited by Frederick Douglass.

Today there are approximately 200 Negro publications in the United States. These organs have a total per issue circulation in excess of two million copies, which are read by more than ten million persons.
