Order Investigation of Grinnell Cafe Incident

Hultman Appraised Of Racial Bias Against African Student, Date

A letter detailing an alleged racial incident involving an African student and his white date at Grinnell, Ia., prompted Atty. Gen. Evan Hultman Tuesday to request the Poweshiek County attorney to conduct an investigation.

Formal Complaint

Hultman said he had received a formal complaint about the incident from Bill Halama, president of the Student Government Association at Grinnell college. Halama told Hultman that the Iowa Equal Rights law was violated Mar. 10 when Joe Okumu, student from Kenya, in Africa, went to the Three Elms restaurant with a white girl and that the owner, Gene McCurry, walked over and said loudly:

Asked to Letter

"State law requires me to serve you, but it doesn't require me to give you good service."

A little later, Halama said, McCurry asked Okumu to leave because "the place is getting crowded and someone else may want to sit there."

Insolence

Halama said Okumu is willing to testify that there were at least four empty tables or booths at the time, with only a few persons waiting to be seated. Halama said when he and another student talked with McCurry two days later, he quoted the restaurant owner as saying he would continue to treat with insolence a colored person accompanied by a white girl.

Boycott

"The students of Grinnell have gone on record in official boycotting the Monroe hotel in Grinnell for discriminatory practices," Halama told the attorney general. "There is an excellent chance that the Student Senate will proclaim a similar boycott in this instance."

"Students here feel strongly about such matters, especially when a popular person such as Mr. Okumu is involved. This is potentially a very explosive situation."

Ask Investigation of Racket Against South's Negro Women

Lansing, Mich. — Congressman Charles C. Diggs, Jr., of Michigan has requested Arthur C. Goldberg, Secretary of Labor, to initiate an investigation into what might turn out to be a racket being perpetrated against Negro women from the South.

In a letter of Goldberg, Diggs wrote:

"I've received reports that Negro women are being recruited as domestics into the East, especially around New York City, and being exploited, financially. Although the majority of these women are from the South, there have been women who have come from other areas."

Advertisements

"They have seen advertisements appearing in various publications urging people (obviously Negroes) to come to New York City, all expenses paid, and earn $60 a week for domestic work. However, when they arrive, they are required to pay a finders fee, usually equivalent to one week's salary, and if their services are not satisfactory, they are immediately released. Some en-

Carter Hails Greyhound Stand; Rips J.C. Bowling Lane Bias

Jefferson City, Mo. — The Greyhound Bus lines states a policy of no discrimination in hiring and promoting qualified personnel. Mr. Leonard H. Carter, NAACP Regional Director, stated today that he is in receipt of a communication issued to all Greyhound Corporation Vice-presidents indicating a policy of equal employment opportunities in the Greyhound system.

Policy

"I want to reiterate Greyhound's policy of no discrimination in hiring and promoting qualified personnel. Many of these facets have been covered at various instances in the past, while other phases of these policies are set forth in the labor contracts. As you know, there are a number of city and state laws and regulations, as well as a Federal Government Executive Order, regarding non-discrimination in employment. These laws and our compliance with them are among the factors taken into consideration in formulating Greyhound's employment practices."

Jefferson City, Mo. — Leonard H. Carter, NAACP Field Secretary, announced that negotiations between bowling lane proprietors, representatives from the Governor's Commission on Human Relations and a committee from the Lincoln University NAACP College Chapter opened Tuesday, March 13. Attorney Lee Vertis Swinton, President, Kansas City, Mo. Branch and member of the State NAACP Legal Committee arrived in Jefferson City to participate in the negotiations. The issue is to end discrimination in the bowling lanes of Jefferson City. College Chapter President, Mr. Visanio Johnson, stated, "That we are tired of being turned away from bowling lanes in Jefferson City. Nearly 1/2 of the students at Lincoln University have access to the lanes because they are white, while the Negro students are turned away."

Philadelphia, Pa. — A telephone which rang about five times in a couple's apartment but was always dead when the husband answered triggered an argument which led to the jealousy murder of his attractive brunette wife. The body of Mrs. Nancy Ping, 25, was found by detectives 8 hours after the fatal stabbing, covered with a sheet and blanket, with a closed Bible in her hands. Her husband, Phillip, 27, an electronic technician, called police at the urgings of his father, whom he had summoned from Washington, D.C.

Atlanta, Ga. — A Negro surgeon was elected to the staff of Grady hospital here last week. He was the first of his race to ever become a member of the hospital's staff. He is Dr. Asa G. Yancy, 45, who has been director of surgery at the Hughes Spaulding Pavilion.

New York — Two veteran Negro conservatives are among 23 persons on the organizing committee for a New Conservative Party in New York State. They are writer George H. Schuyler and Dr. Max Yergan.

Charlotte Mayor Deposits $100,000 in City Funds

In New Negro Branch Bank

Charlotte, N. C. — Charlotte's Mayor, Stanley C. Brookshire last week deposited $100,000 in city funds in the new Charlotte branch of the Mechanics and Farmers Bank of Durham. A. E. Spears, senior vice president, received the deposit while bank President John H. Wheeler and hundreds of townspeople and well-wishers looked on. The ceremony was part of ribbon cutting for the new $160,000 structure designed by Negro architect Edward C. Miller of Atlanta.

To Rid Their Communities Of Inferior Segregated Schools in Fact, by Law

New York — Local units of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in non-southern states across the country, from Connecticut to California, are engaged in a variety of action programs designed to rid their communities of inferior segregated schools and to end discriminatory teacher assignments Miss Juna Shagaloff, the Association's education specialist, reveals in a summary report submitted to Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins.

Miss Shagaloff's report, made public today, lists 26 cities in which action has been initiated by NAACP branches and indicates other areas where desegregation programs are being formulated in compliance with a resolution adopted at the Association's 52nd annual convention in Philadelphia last July. Included in the report are eight cities in which law suits have been filed.

The convention resolution calls for intensified local programs "to insure the end of all segregated public education in fact or by law by all means available."

Seven Areas

Seven areas of activity are proposed by the resolution: teacher assignment without regard to race; enriched curricula and adequate educational equipment; opposition to the neighborhood school concept wherever its use maintains segregated schools; advocacy of permissive zoning to achieve integrated schools; encouragement of the use of open enrollment programs; careful selection of sites for new schools with a view to averting development of Jim Crow schools; study of the records and attitudes of candidates for local school boards and other governmental agencies concerned with schools.

Eight Law Suits Filed

In addition to law suits already filed in eight cities, Miss Shagaloff's report lists such branch activities as examination of school practices and conditions, conferences and negotiations with local school boards, a school sit-in demonstration in Chicago, picketing in Montclair, N.J., and complaints filed with state commissioners of education.

Law suits to end segregated public schools have been sponsored by NAACP units in Pasadena, Calif.; Chicago and Centerville, Ill.; Kansas

U.S. Files $44,198 Tax Lien Against Singer Hazel Scott

White Plains, N.Y. — A $44,198 income tax lien has been filed by the federal government against pianist Hazel Scott, covering the years 1949 through 1955, with the exception of 1951.

Miss Scott is the former wife of Representative Adam Clayton Powell (Dem. N.Y.). They were divorced in November 1960. The lien was filed in the Westchester County clerk's office here Feb. 28.

Powell was tried in 1960 on a charge that he fraudulently paid only $900 on Miss Scott's 1951 income — estimated at $70,000. A federal jury deadlocked 10 to 2 for acquittal and the following year the government dropped the case. Miss Scott was not a defendant in the case.

Gov. Faubus Names Negro to State Job

Little Rock — Negro leaders are taking a skeptical view of the appointment of Fred W. Martin of Hot Springs to a job in the Faubus administration.

Martin, a Negro, and former Democratic and public office holder, was appointed last week to run a new program of advice to minority groups in the state Employment Security Division.

Window Dressing

L. C. Bates of Little Rock, field secretary of the NAACP wondered whether Martin was qualified for the job—which comes under the state Merit System Council—and stressed that Martin was being paid with federal money, as in every employee of the ESD.

This is just political window dressing, Bates said, and apparently is being done with federal funds.

Political Move

I. S. McClinton of Little Rock called it a purely political move. He said Martin could have no effect on the Negro community. McClinton is president of the Arkansas Democratic Voters Association, a Negro group.

Both Bates and McClinton were friendly to the Faubus administration, too, until September 2, 1957, when Faubus used armed troops to keep Negro children out of Central High School.

They've fought him since then, and McClinton said that Martin was one of the few Negro leaders in the state to stay with Faubus after the school crisis.

speaker. James B. Morris, Jr., will introduce Gov. Erbe.

Representatives from several counties will attend. Following the meeting delegates will perfect a permanent organization to assist in the campaign this fall. Atty. Wm. Parker of Waterloo is chairman of the meeting.

NAACP Lawyers Study Prince Edward Co. Appeal

New York — NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter this week announced a forthcoming conference of NAACP lawyers in Virginia to determine what further steps will be taken to reopen the public schools of Prince Edward County, in light of the decision of the Virginia State Supreme Court of Appeals that the county is under no constitutional mandate to maintain free public schools.

What Route

"We are confident," said Mr. Carter, that this decision, handed down in Richmond on March 5, "is in error in both a legal and a constitutional sense. The only question to be decided is what route to take on appeal. We may proceed in the Federal court, or we may make application for a rehearing before the Virginia Supreme Court of Appeals as a necessary preliminary step to applying for review in the Supreme Court of the United States."

Rejected

In a unanimous decision the Virginia court rejected the NAACP petition for a writ of mandamus ordering the Board of Supervisors of Prince Edward County to levy taxes to operate public schools. The county schools have been closed since 1959 to circumvent a Federal District Court desegregation order.

Private schools were established for some 1500 white children. The county's 1700 Negro children have been without schools during the three-year period.

Levying Taxes

The power to levy taxes for school purposes, the Virginia court held, is discretionary, not mandatory. "It is not our function," the decision says, "here to say whether the action of the Board of Supervisors of Prince Edward County in refusing to make these appropriations is proper, wise, or desirable. Our duty is merely to determine whether it may be compelled to do so by a writ of mandamus. In our view it may not be so compelled."

AAA CELEBRATES 60TH ANNIVERSARY

Achievements in traffic safety were recognized at the Founders Day Dinner held Monday at Des Moines in observance of the 60th Anniversary of the founding of the American Automobile Association. The dinner and program were sponsored by the Motor Club of Iowa, the AAA affiliate serving this area of the State.

Governor Norman Erbe, the principal speaker, paid tribute to school safety patrol boys and girls throughout the State for the outstanding life-saving job they perform daily.

Alphas Cancel Md. Regional Meeting

Washington, D.C.—Cancellation of the Regional meeting of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity by the host chapter in Baltimore came as a protest against segregation in that city.

The meeting will be held April 6 and 7 at the Astor Hotel in New York City for representatives of the eastern states including Virginia, Maryland, District of Columbia, Delaware, Pennsylvania, New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Connecticut and Rhode Island and what was originally a three day schedule will be cut to two days. Money that would have been spent for expenses of the final day will be contributed to the Civil Rights cause at the banquet Saturday night.

Members of the fraternity had been assured that there would be no discrimination in the Hotel Stafford which would be headquarters for the Baltimore meeting, but were shocked when they learned that nearby restaurants were still following policies of racial exclusion.

Famed Negro Author Will Write 100-Year Progress Report on Civil Rights

Washington, D. C.—Staff Director Berl I. Bernhard announced today that Dr. John Hope Franklin, chairman of the History Department of Brooklyn College, will assist the U. S. Commission on Civil Rights in preparing a factual and objective report on the development and progress of civil rights in the United States during the last 100 years.

Bernhard noted that President Kennedy had asked the Commission to submit the report to him in time for the January 1, 1962 centennial observance of the issuance of the Emancipation Proclamation by President Abraham Lincoln.

3 Others

The Commission will also be assisted in this project by three other eminent historians: Dr. Allan Nevins, professor of American History at Columbia University and recipient of the Pulitzer prize for biography in 1932 and 1935; Dr. Rayford W. Logan, professor and head of the History Department at Howard University, and Dr. C. Vann Woodward, professor of History at the Johns Hopkins University.

Clearer Picture

Dr. John A. Hannah, Chairman, said the Commission hopes the report will provide some evidence about the methods which have proven successful in advancing civil rights.

"The Progress Report, combined with previous Commission reports, will give the people at home and abroad a clearer picture of the status of civil rights in the United States."

Total Development

Commission Staff Director Berl I. Bernhard, in discussing the project, said:

"Dr. Franklin's report will be more than a legal analysis of civil rights, although such material may be important. It will embrace the total development of civil rights and the extent of achievement of minorities, taking into consideration factors of social, economic and political significance. It will also indicate the gap remaining between the promises of our Constitution and equal opportunity in fact."

The Phi Beta Kappa scholar is the author of "Free Negro in North Carolina," 1943; "A Civil War Diary of James T. Ayers," 1947; "From Slavery to Freedom: A History of American Negroes" 2nd edition, 1957; "Militant South," 1956, and has written numerous articles for publication.

Claims Negro Was Framed By Officials in Mississippi

New York—The conviction of Aaron Henry, Mississippi state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was denounced here this week by NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins as a "frame-up calculated to intimidate civil rights fighters in that state."

Henry, a Clarksdale pharmacist, was convicted on March 14 in a Shelby, Miss., Justice of the Peace Court on charges of making immoral advances toward a teen-age white boy. He was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and fined $500. He immediately filed a $1,000 appeal bond.

Despicable

"This despicable charge was brought against Henry in line with Mississippi's program of smearing, harassing and seeking to intimidate NAACP leaders and other freedom fighters," Wilkins said.

Several months ago Henry and other NAACP leaders had been arrested in Clarksdale because of their leadership in the boycott against merchants who discriminate against Negro customers.

Object of Move

The objective of this persecution, Wilkins said, "is to frighten the NAACP membership and to suppress the civil rights movement in Mississippi. But, no matter what they do to the leaders, this movement cannot be suppressed because Negro citizens of Mississippi are not afraid.

Representing Henry at the trial on March 14 were NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter of New York City and Jess Brown of Jackson. The trial, before 85-year-old Justice of the Peace V. E. Rowe, took place in a courtroom packed with Negro citizens wearing their NAACP pins.

The appeal will be heard before a court of record on May 13.

Ill.; Nyack, N.Y.; and Coatsville, Pa.;—inequitable utilization of school facilities in Chicago, Amityville and Manhasset, N.Y.; Chester, Pa.;—misuse of transfer privilege in Fairmount Park, Ill.

Desegregation Steps Taken

In two localities, NAACP units were confronted with unusual, if not unique segregation devices. Until 1957, Negro and white children in Centerville, Ill., used the same school facilities, but at different sessions—one racial group in the morning and the other in the afternoon. This plan was abandoned in response to NAACP protest. In Mount Vernon, Ill., the school board maintains the old segregated Negro school but on a permissive basis. The board has indicated it will close the Negro school next September.

Voluntary Steps

Several communities — notably Morristown, Montclair and Jersey City, N.J., Fairmount Park, Joliet and Maywood, Ill., and Coatsville, Pa.—have responded to NAACP recommendations and have voluntarily taken steps to eliminate segregation and/or cease discrimination in the employment and assignment of Negro teachers. School boards in Stamford, Conn. and Plainfield, N.J. are studying desegregation proposals.

Detroit

In Detroit a 32-member committee named by the Board of Education submitted an exhaustive 440-page report in which it was admitted that Negro teachers were discriminated against and that de facto segregated schools existed in the city. The report made a series of recommendations to meet these and other school problems. In Englewood, N.J., the Board of Education, at the behest of the NAACP branch, formulated a program designed to desegregate the community's public schools.

Two Consultants

The NAACP engaged the services of two consultants to make a study of the impact of segregation on pupils attending public schools in Orange, N.J. Making the study are Dr. Kenneth Clark, professor of psychology at the College of the City of New York, and Dr. Dan Dodson, director of the Center for Human Relations and Community Studies at New York University.

Plans have been formulated for study and action by NAACP branches in Boston and on Long Island, N.Y. A series of regional NAACP conferences scheduled for this spring will map plans to extend action programs in the Midwest and West Coast states.

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN IOWA, the whole state celebrated Grant's great victory at Fort Donelson, in which Iowa troops were the first to breach the fort's defenses. Beer was one of the favorite beverages of the troops . . . just as Iowans today continue to find pleasure in beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment to our state. The Brewing Industry contributes over 6½ million tax dollars to Iowa each year—money that helps support our hospitals, schools and highways.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

Al Cloud Runs
For Congress

Al Cloud, 45, Indianola real estate broker and restaurant operator, has announced that he will again seek the Republican nomination for Fifth District Representative in Congress.
He was defeated by Dr. Floyd Bergeson of Des Moines in the 1960 primary election.

Cloud was administrative assistant to former Iowa Congressman Henry Talle from 1938 to 1953 except for the World War II years when he served overseas with the Air Corps.
In 1958 and 1959 he was a special consultant to Civil Defense Administrator Leo Hoegh. "My experience in government and in the armed forces," he said, "convinces me beyond doubt that billions of dollars can be lopped from the annual budget by hard-headed effort, cost-plus contracting, over-stockpiling, junket-ing, featherbedding, and nepotism."

"I am entering this campaign for just one reason," Cloud said, "and that is to discuss in every precinct of the fifth district the left-wing voting record of the Democrat candidate, Neal Smith. He has voted for every pie-in-the-sky proposal of the A.D.A. lunatic fringe."

UNDERSTANDING IOWA CHILDREN
SPONSORED BY THE IOWA CHILD WELFARE RESEARCH STATION

Written by May P. Youtz, SUI Associate Professor

CHILDREN NEED HELP IN FACING FAILURES

From their earliest years, children see the importance which adults place on winning or coming out on top. At such early ages, children do not realize that for every winner there will be many losers. Nor do they realize that to lose in games, etc., occasionally does not mean one is a failure.

Must Be Winners

Too often they feel they must be winners to please their parents, a teacher, another adult, or their teammates. Consequently, a real fear of failure may develop, and all the pleasant and creative aspects of an activity may be overlooked. The child loses the satisfaction he should feel in doing his best, and the attitude which he develops may stand in the way of healthy emotional growth.

Parents should strive to help children build the strength to face failures by helping them learn from past defeats, by reminding them of earlier successes, and through giving frequent encouragement and praise.

Eastside Union Mission Will Hold Services

How to Speed Retirement Payment

The Des Moines social security office has some good advice for people who plan to file for social security benefits during the next few months.

"To speed the payment of your first retirement check, bring the necessary proofs with you the first time you come in to file a claim for benefits," Leo W. Smith, district manager, said today.

Applications

Any social security office can furnish application forms and assist you in the completion of your claim. However, it is important to know something about what information and proofs you will be asked to furnish.

When you apply for payments on your own account, you will need proof of your age and the amount of your earnings for last year.

Birth Certificate

The best evidence of age is a birth certificate issued shortly after birth, but if you do not have a birth certificate, you can prove your age in a number of other ways. A baptismal record is almost as good as a birth certificate. Marriage certificates, birth records in family Bibles, voting records, old insurance policies, and other old documents may also be acceptable.

Popular Fish Dish for Lent

Canned salmon, flaked into creamy Newburg sauce, makes an elegant yet economical Lenten luncheon dish.

Each year, at this season, fish swim not only in the seven seas but also in the heads of countless cooks who, with fish an important factor in the family diet, ponder the problem of variety in their menus.

This seasonal necessity, like the proverbial mother of invention, has produced many tasty tricks in fish cuisine. As a result, it is no difficult or time-consuming task to prepare Lenten dishes which leave your family delightfully pleased and satisfied.

One, in particular, is made with colorful, canned salmon in a luscious, creamy sauce, delicately flavored with clam juice and perked with a dash of cayenne. For additional intrigue, a tablespoon of cooking sherry may be added just before serving. Serve with crisp saltines.

SALMON NEWBURG

3 tablespoons butter
1 small onion, minced
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
1 can (1 pound) salmon
1/2 cup bottled clam juice
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup cream

In a saucepan melt butter. In it cook onion for 5 minutes. Stir in flour, paprika, and Tabasco. Gradually stir in liquid from can of salmon and clam juice and cook, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Flake and add salmon and parsley. Simmer for 3 minutes. Beat egg yolks and cream and stir into salmon mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring, for 2 minutes longer. Serves 4.

150 Enjoy Colorful, Fun-filled Mad Hatters Fashion Show, Tea at Brotherhood Center Sun.

More than 150 persons highlighted a balmy, sunshiny weekend, the first in many Sundays, by attending the colorful, fun-filled Mad Hatters fashion show and tea sponsored by the Rosa L. Gragg federated club at the Brotherhood Center from 3 to 6 p.m. Sunday.

Models

In the second annual affair, usually devoted to "mad hats" designed and made by club members, the features were broadened to include shoes and purses, and hats donated for the event by a local department store. Models were Misses Josie Russell, Linda Walker, Ronene Parkey and Corliss Williams, with the narration by Mrs. Bernice Carter.

Contestants

Another feature was a "Mad Hat" contest in which members designed and modeled her own "mad creation." Winner was Mrs. Carter for her "Spring-Easter" creation, composed of a green nest, surrounded by pastel Easter eggs in rainbow colors, three Easter chicks dressed as ballerinas interspersed with red and pink carnations. The entire hat was covered with bright green net. Mrs. Carter revealed that her creation cost her about $1.25.

Other contestants were Mesdames

Ruby Akers, Geraldine Ayers, Alberta Bates, Mildred Dysart, Pinkie Goode, Minnie McGuire, Martha Parkey, Loretta Reeves, Mary Ruth Simmons, Nadine Taylor and Thelma Wallace. Another club member, Mrs. Virginia Mason, was out-of-town.

Door Prize

Winner of the door prize, a gift certificate for a $10 hat, was Miss Evanette Mays. Mrs. L. Reeves, chairman of program and planning, was mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Helen D. Wimberly was judge.

Another delightful addition to the annual event was a charm session narrated by another member, Mrs. Barbara James.

Models in the charm session were Jackie Ratton, Chrystal Shepherd, Judy Holbert and Louis Brown. Mrs. Bates, club president, played background music throughout the show on her electric organ. Each member wore a corsage of blue and yellow, the club colors.

Also depicting the club colors was the tea table which had a bird of paradise centerpiece flanked by yellow tapers in sterling silver candleholders. Tea cakes, coffee, mints and nuts were served. Covering the table was a linen cloth with yellow and blue napkins. Pouring were Mesdames G. Ayers and T. Wallace.

NACWC Schedules 23rd Biennial Convention For Washington, D. C. July 28-August 3

Washington, D.C.—The National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, the nation's oldest organization of Negro women, will hold its 23rd biennial convention in Washington, D.C. July 28 through Aug. 3.

The meeting will be held at the Sheraton Park Hotel, and upwards of 15,000 women are expected to attend, according to Dr. Rosa L. Gragg of Detroit, NACWC president. On hand will be representatives of NACWC affiliates in 41 states and the District of Columbia.

Theme

The theme of the 1962 convention will be "Dimensions in Democracy for Today's Women and Youth." The theme will be developed in a series of talks and workshops at which many ranking governmental officials will be featured. Present plans also call for participation by several members of the diplomatic corps of newly emerging African nations.

Two Affiliates

Meeting at the same time as the NACWC parent body will be two of its affiliates on the national level, the Young Adult Division, headed by Louise E. Taylor of 900 S. W. Avenue "E", Belle Glade, Fla., and the National Association of Colored Girls, presided over by Joyce Ford of 301 Colonie Street, Albany, N.Y.

Founding Scene

In convening in Washington, NACWC will be returning to the scene of its founding in July, 1896. It was at that time that the National Federation of Afro-American Women and the Colored Women's Club of Washington, D.C. merged to form the new organization under the direction of the late Dr. Mary Church Terrell. The purposes of the Association at that time, as now, included the promotion of leadership among women, improvement of conditions of family living, and the rendering of public services, both on the local and national level.

Projects

The Association endeavors to achieve its objectives through a series of nation-wide projects. These include a Mother, Home and Child Program, Arts and Crafts Program, Women in Industry Program, and a Young Adult Program. In addition, NACWC has undertaken four major specific projects, including restoration of the home of Frederick Douglass in the Anacostia section of Washington, D.C.; a Health and Guidance Center, also located in Washington; the Hallie Quinn Brown Scholarship Fund, which provides financial aid for college students; and a National Neighborhood Improvement competition.

Others

NACWC also conducts national programs in the areas of human relations, education, and legislation. Through its Commission on Peace, the Association holds membership in the U.S. Commission of UNESCO.

This year will mark the first time that NACWC has convened since July, 1960 when some 1,200 delegates gathered for the 32nd biennial convention at the Park Sheraton Hotel in New York City.

Personally Yours

—by—

Frances Mulhorne.

Today, marks the end of the 135th observance of National Negro newspaper week. We think it is fitting that we say something about the meaning of Negro newspapers, as we interpret them to our readers.

As a reader of the minority race, dwell a minute on what it would be like, not to have a Negro newspaper in your large cities or state. Where would you go to have your personal news, the lifeblood of any community printed? Sure, the daily prints some news about all races. Most of it is about crimes committed, complete with pictures. Another large portion, is deaths, because it is a requirement of state statistics that the news of demises shall be reported in a publication. The remaining is given, locally, to brief accounts of church programs, organizational meetings that have a state, regional or annual slant. And that is about all, except, for the exceptional in the news about minorities, when one does something, no other has done, then sometimes it becomes a main feature. Or if there is a prominent member of your race in the community, sometimes there is something about him or her, then that is usually given a paragraph or two.

But, what about the larger portion of news that happen to the everyday walk of people of all races, and particularly the Negro. A large daily, as it must, is slanted and devoted to national and international news. So then comes the class papers or neighborhood newspapers. You have them all over Des Moines in South Des Moines, Urbandale, Highland Park, etc. In a way the Negro newspaper is a class paper, but then again it is more than that, because it deals not only with the Negro in a particular neighborhood, but with all of them and throughout the state.

Only in your Negro newspapers will you get full accounts of all news—births and deaths, sick and shut-in, guests and hosts, vacationers, marriages, church, club and organizational happenings, complete with national and some international news. Only the Negro newspapers carry the complete news about you, your friends and loved ones.

Yet, in order to do this the Negro newspapers, like all newspapers large or small, are dependent upon you—the reader—to buy the paper, to subscribe to it yearly, to advertise in its column, and to help fill its pages by calling, mailing or bringing in your news, ads or pictures, for it is through tips and notifying reporters that here is a particular story that all newspaper report its news.

We have never made a survey, but if one were to doubt it would reveal that the daily papers are read, (and consequently paid for) by more Negroes, than those who read (and buy or subscribe) to the Negro newspaper in most communities. Yet the Negro newspaper will cost less per week, ten cents as compared to a dollar or more for two issues of the daily. Again if a Negro were to advertise in the daily it would cost from four to six times as much for the same ad as in a Negro newspaper. And so the comparison goes. Any reader, especially should recognize the need for both, for they cater to different aspects of society. . . . The daily to the world, but impersonal, and the Negro weekly, to the personal, and interpretation of the worldly as it affects the minority reader.

My husband Peter Hawthorne, Jr., celebrated his birthday last week and so to help him celebrate, I took him to Bishop Buffett in Merle Hay Plaza for dinner on Sunday afternoon. While there we ran into and chatted briefly with his boss, Mr. John P. McNeary, who with his wife, were also among the diners out there that afternoon.

This is the Lenten season—the time when many of us give up something for 40 days, or for as many as we can make it. Some give up desserts, a favorite sport, or pastime, a travel trip we love, or devote our time to someone else, by giving secret assistance, time, energy or money. Whatever, we give up or devote ourselves, to doing, it is our special observance of the season of Lent.

DIFFERENT RULES GOVERN HUMAN AND
PROPERTY RIGHTS

The federal director of roads has threatened to withhold funds from states when corruption and disregard of the rules and regulations occur in the construction of interstate roads. Several such instances have occurred and in Iowa a threat has been made because the Iowa Power and Light Company is insisting upon stringing its lines along interstate highways.

This is an example of the policy of placing restrictions upon the funds given to the states by the federal government. It is only natural that reasonable safeguards be placed around the money the federal government gives the states.

Ever since legislation in which the federal government would give the states funds for schools on a wide scale (there are several laws giving funds for various school projects to the states) there has been a clamor to include in the proposed measure a provision which would withhold funds from those states and school districts which refuse or have made no effort to comply with the 1954 Supreme Court decision on school segregation.

The administration is opposed to the idea arguing that to do so would deny many children the benefit of education which otherwise they would not receive without it.

It has always been a disgrace upon law and order that some states can defy the laws of the land and get away with it. If the Du Pont interest refused to comply with the Supreme Court decision that they divest themselves of millions of shares of General Motors Stock, they would be jailed. But arrogant segregationists can continue to defy the school decision and get away with it.

Thus there is one rule for enforcement of laws governing property rights and one for human rights. Such practice negates the rights of some citizens and places American democracy in a shady light.

SENATOR HICKENLOOPER
DESERVES PRAISE

Members of Congress have the privilege of offering their constituents all kinds of opportunities including jobs and appointments to service schools.

Recently Senator Hickenlooper has named Tommie Randle as one of ten to take the examination for admission to the Air Force Academy. The examination will be used by the air force officials in making the selection.

This is the first time any member of the Iowa delegation has given Negroes any such recognition—a chance to compete for one of these prize selections.

The Bystander hopes that young Randle, who has made a fine record of competition in high school, makes the grade. It thinks that Senator Hickenlooper has made the first break which will, if not now, enable some Iowa Negro youngsters to get an appointment to one or more of the service schools. It's a thing other members of the Iowa delegation should follow.

THE BETTER APPROACH TO A SOCIAL PROBLEM

Speaking before the Midwest Regional Conference of the Child Welfare League Monday, State Senator A. M. Keith of Rochester, Minn., told his audience:

"I suggest," he said, "that the problem of the unwed woman who bears one illegitimate child after another is not solved by financial threats.

"Such a woman needs not humiliation but expert guidance and counseling.

"The churches, private social agencies and every level of government must open a full-scale coordinated assault on these problems," he said, "using all the creativeness that we Americans possess."

This is one of the most sensible approaches we have heard to the problem of the abuse of aid to dependent children. After all, the children are here by the acts of men and women, many of whom have no other object than to draw these funds and spend them unwisely.

Religious groups have a great responsibility to work with the social agencies to help bring up the children and also to impress upon unwed mothers the harm they do to the children and the moral fiber of the community.

Those who missed the Old-Timers basketball game at Willkie House last Friday missed a lot of fun.

All the veterans escaped without the need of crutches or splints. The score? Who kept score? The main purpose of the game was to raise money to buy baseball suits for the Corinthian baseball team. We guess they made quite a bit of money so the game was a success from all angles. It was really nice of the Old Times to help.

Big Fight

Well Liston and Patterson are finally on paper to battle each other. All that remains is the date and the place. There are several fierce arguments raging among supporters of the two men even now and they will likely get better as the battling gets nearer.

This is the fifth year the Chicago public School title has been won by an all Negro team and it was the fourth time that the two finalists were Negro teams. Carver High, a school which has had a cage team six years won the thing by defeating defending champion Manfield in the finals. That is where a lot of those good Negro players on teams like Bradley and Cincinnati came from.

Other states have their share of Negro High School players too. East Washington High of Gary, Indiana with three Negro starters lost out in the finals of that state meet. The winner has a couple of Negroes. We wonder where all those good, big boys come from.

Bowlers

Have you seen the bowlers in the ABC yet? Better get over there and see some real bowling.

Liston, Patterson Sign
For Big One; Expect
Record $6 Million Gate

New York City—After an 18-month off-and-on-again verbal sparring, Heavyweight Champion Floyd Patterson and Challenger Sonny Liston signed up Friday here for the big one. Tom Bolan, promoter for the bout, says the boxing event probably will be staged in Yankee Stadium in June and may be worth $6 million. However, Patterson, reserves the right to name the place and date, and is expected to do so immediately after he returns from an exhibition tour of the Arab Republic and Israel.

Minoso Signs
$45,000 Pact

St. Louis—In a double stroke of the pen last week, Orestes Minoso, former Chicago White Sox outfielder, signed a $45,000 contract with the St. Louis Cardinals of the National League, and applied for resident status in the United States.

The $45,000 contract for the 1962 season made the fleet Cuban the third highest paid player on the Cardinal roster. Resident status will enable him to pocket more of the $45,000 under Internal Revenue income tax laws, because he will be entitled to tax deductions.

Elston Howard Now
Yanks' No. 1 Catcher

Fort Lauderdale, Fla.—Modestly, Elston Howard has greeted the news that he will replace the fabulous Yogi Berra as the Yankees' No. 1 catcher.

Manager Ralph Houk broke the important news to Elston as he reported for Spring practice.

"That's good news," Elston said, breaking to a big smile, "because I want to be in the lineup, catching from opening day.

"I want to get off to a fast start. I haven't any idea of changing anything I did last year. I'll still try to hit the ball through the middle and forget about home runs."

Howard did all right in both home runs and batting. He hit for .348 and had 21 home runs.

Right now, Elston's biggest headache will be getting his weight down to a comfortable, trim 207, his best playing weight.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Your Own Dew Line

Set up along the northern limits of our North American continent is a system of radar farming stations. They are there to alert us to an enemy attack—in time. This line of defense is called the DEW line. DEW for Distant Early Warning.

Do you know that you have a personal DEW line? Or if you haven't, you can easily have and should have. Yes, you can be sure you receive a Distant Early Warning if your body is invaded by tuberculosis germs.

Skin Test

How? When you see your doctor for your yearly check-up, ask for a tuberculin skin test. The tuberculin test can detect any TB germs that may be present in your body. If it should uncover some, then a chest

X-ray will find out whether the germs are doing any damage.

That's all there is to it. Once a year, a tuberculin skin test and maybe a chest X-ray, too.

National

We would never allow our government to be so careless as to abandon the protection of our national DEW line. Don't abandon the protection of your DEW line, either. Why? Because TB found early is TB most easily cured. Only the tuberculin skin test and the chest X-ray can detect TB in time.

Make an appointment with your doctor this week for your check-up—and don't forget the tuberculin skin test. Remember, it's your own DEW line against attack by tuberculosis.—Polk County Tuberculosis & Health Assn.

THOUGHTS for the
LENTEN DAYS

Remember, God is easy when Misfortune Faces you
But, when your heart is filled with joy
Do you remember, too?
Do you give thanks for favors and
For benefits received
Or only when your heavy heart
Of trouble is relieved?
God welcomes every prayer you say

He listens to each plea
And He is glad to help you out
In time of misery.
But, in return, He hopes that when
Your heart is filled with cheer
You will take time to say a prayer
Of gratitude sincere.
So do remember God each day
Through struggle and through strife
Thank God for all your smiles and tears
And for the gift of life.

FRIENDSHIP

Friendship is like a budding flower
Sharing its memories with a smile
Each one to shed its fragrant shower
Together they travel for many a mile.
A flower you can always find somewhere
In spring, summer, winter or fall;
A friend like an orchid is very rare
Awaiting the echo of a cheerful call.

Phillies Desegregate
Training Facilities

Philadelphia — The Philadelphia Phillies reluctantly became the last team to end biased training facilities in Florida, this week thanks to the local NAACP branch.

A. Leon Higginbotham, president of the local NAACP, advised John Quinn, business manager and Robert Carpenter, owner—both of whom had insisted nothing could be done—that his branch would picket the club's home games.

"It is obvious," the NAACP said, "that the Phillies could obtain integrated housing facilities for their Negro ballplayers if they were willing to fight for them just as the other ball clubs have done."

After reminding the team's officials that "the matter has been studied but no results have been obtained," the NAACP called for action.

Mr. Carpenter "is up at bat and there is no need for him to strike out on this issue," the NAACP said.

Within 24 hours, the team's quarters were changed from a segregated Clearwater, Fla., hotel, to an integrated Tampa Bay motel.
