NEWS
In A Nutshell

New York—Atty. Paul Zuber, well known integration leader in the North, announced he will attempt to unseat veteran Rep. Adam Clayton Powell in the fall election. Zuber is an independent candidate.

New Orleans, La. — J. Harvey Kerns, executive director of the Urban League of New Orleans said last week that only "a few curious or jobless Negroes" are taking advantage of the Citizens Council offer of free tickets to the North. He said at least one Negro planning to leave the city on the Council's "Freedom Bus North" was just taking a vacation.

Washington, D.C.—A District of Columbia men's clothing store, picketed on two weekends by CORE, agreed Apr. 26 to hire its first colored salesman.

St. Joseph, Mo.—Mrs. Kelsey B. Beshears, prominent citizen of St. Joseph, did not win a seat in the City Council in the Apr. 3 election, but there was victory in her defeat. In the community where five per cent of the 79,000 population is Negro, it was noted that the Negro came to gather strong and determined to try to elect its first race member to the Council.

Kansas City, Mo.—Emanuel Oliver, 22, robbed a jeweler of nearly $22,000 in unmounted gems last week but a downtown shopper's suspicion was aroused when he saw the man get into a taxi carrying a traveling case, and called police.

Chicago, Ill.—The first Negro secretary ever to become a permanent member of a Chicago mayor's secretarial staff is Mrs. Dorothy Williams, 19.

Atlanta, Ga.—Curtis L. Williams of Monticello, Fla. and Roy D. Duckett of Texarkana, Ark., have been awarded Merrell Foreign Study Fellowships by Atlanta University. Each student will receive a $3,000 grant, made by Charles Merrill, a university trustee for a year's work abroad.

San Antonio, Tex.—In an unusual case here recently an 11-year-old girl, Geneva Williams, was found dead in a chicken coop with a bottle of sleeping pills beside her body, apparently the victim of a second suicide attempt.

Portsmouth, Va.—A Negro shipyard worker's house, located in an all-white neighborhood and bombed several weeks ago, was destroyed by fire last week. The house, owned by Anthony Gist, 43, was not occupied and there were no injuries.

Atlanta—For the first time since Negroes joined the city police force in 1947, they may now patrol a beat in any part of Atlanta and arrest white violators as well as Negroes.

Receiving the curved bars, which is equal to eagle scout in boy scouting, were Diana Lou King, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert King, 1444 2nd place and a student at Whittier school; Helen Marie Payne, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Payne, 1409 2nd place and student at Warren Harding junior high; and Suzette Elodia Haynes, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Haynes, who also attends Warren Harding.

Loose Wheel of Oncoming
Car Strikes Windshield
Of Paul Danforth Vehicle

Four passengers in a car driven by Paul Danforth, 821 24th street, escaped serious injuries in a spectacular freak accident Sunday night near St. Charles, Ia.

Mr. Danforth and his wife, Mrs. Delores Danforth, suffered minor cuts about the head and hands and were treated at Iowa Lutheran hospital in Des Moines. Two other passengers, Mrs. Mary Ruth Simmons, 1168 10th street and Miss Patricia Harris, 643 27th street, escaped injuries.

The group were one of a motorcade enroute to St. Charles for a singing engagement at First Methodist church there. All except Mr. Danforth are members of the Richard Allen Chorus of St. Paul A.M.E. church in Des Moines.

The accident occurred about 7:14 p.m. The picture was taken by Charles Gomer, another member of the chorus and employee of the Bystander.

Rev. Odom Will Address
School Decision Day Meeting

Rev. E. J. Odom, Jr., church secretary of the national NAACP office in New York City will be guest speaker for Freedom Day on Thursday, May 17 at St. Paul A.M.E. Church. The public mass meeting will open at 7:30 p.m. with a musical program.

NAACP Target

Freedom day is being observed by many community groups to commemorate the eighth anniversary of the U. S. Supreme court decision on desegregation in public schools. The NAACP has set as its target for 1963 the complete elimination of all vestiges of all second class citizenship under which Americans suffer. 1963 has been chosen because Jan. 1 marks the 100th anniversary of Abraham Lincoln proclamation, the decisive step towards ending nearly two and half centuries of chattel slavery.

Press Conference

The observance is being sponsored by the Iowa State Conference of branches and the Des Moines branch of the NAACP. George S. Cooper of Council Bluffs, and James B. Morris, Jr., are respective presidents. Rev. William H. Burnette, Jr., is church secretary and Mrs. Sarah Jett, program chairman.

In addition a luncheon for Rev. Mr. Odom will be held by the Des Moines Ministerial Alliance of which Rev. W. J. Canafax is president. A press conference will be held also. A dinner will be held at 6 p.m. at the Holliday Inn for Rev. Odom and is open to the public.

Homemaking

These girls received the Curved Bar award in the field of homemaking, having advanced from Brownies to second class, first class, and on to the top honor. They also received a year pin for each year they have been in Girl Scouting. Three of the five remaining girls of Troop 82 received the next to the highest award. They were Joan Robinson, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson, 1228 3rd street; Roslind Miller, 12, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Curtis, 1408 2nd place; Denise King, 11, 1444 2nd place; they received first class rank badges.

The three remaining girls are Carolyn and Jessica May, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert, 1816 8th street and Cecilia Carter, daughter of Mrs. Mae Ola Carter. They received their Brownie Wing.

Leaders

Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Robert L. King started out with these girls who at that time were Brownies in 1957. Although Mrs. King did not move along into the Intermediate program of scouting she has been the bench Monday morning. A day later Mrs. Glanton returned to the family law office at 926 9th street, which she manages. The Glantons will return to Washington, D. C., soon for a conference on their trip with U. S. state department officials. He talked to officials Monday by long distance phone.

Glanton said, "They worked us like mad, but we enjoyed it tremendously. Everything was exciting. The foremost question they asked was about our race problem. I told them that the race problem did exist, but the government and public recognized as a very dependable parent and supporter.

Flowers were presented to Troop 82 from Troop 127 of which Mrs. Morrey Hunter is leader and from Troop 82 to Mrs. Payne and Mrs. Haynes. Mrs. Haynes presented a corsage to Mrs. Payne for her outstanding work and cooperation."

Among the fine turnout of parents, relatives and friends at the ceremony, were Mrs. W. J. Canafax and daughter.

Concerned

"Many were concerned that America, with such a large Negro population, didn't make better use of American Negroes by sending them to Africa for good-will projects, as members of the Peace Corps or as missionaries. The affinity is toward American Negroes."

Women

Mrs. Glanton was particularly impressed with the U. S. State Department because, "They didn't tell us what to say or how to say it. I thought it was a very democratic thing to do. People were always asking about that. Not directly, but they attempted to find out whether we could speak freely."

African women, she said, were keenly interested in American women and were very concerned about how they keep up with all their activities and yet keep body and soul together as well as home and family.

Members of the Les Bridgees distinguished themselves at their "Evening in Shangrila" held during Drake Relays weekend, by all wear-

came out badly, and the group had to be retaken, at a later date.

Valerie Sanders, Rhoda Miller, Joyce Banks, Mary Lillian (Smitty) Andrews, Shellah Williams, Olabelle Williams, Elnore Thomas, Elaine Dixon, and Sharon Rucker.

450 Attend "Evening in Shangrila" Given by Les Bridgees During 53rd Drake Relays

The Les Bridgees celebrated the 53rd Drake Relay with approximately four hundred and fifty out of town guests and local friends at their "Evening in Shangrila" held at the Four-Fifty Ballroom, 4589 Sixth Avenue, Friday evening, April 27th from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.

The oriental theme was carried out in the decorations with Japanese lanterns suspended from the ceiling and oriental fans on the tables and around the walls. The entrance to the dance floor was covered by a black beaded oriental curtain.

The new bride returned to Des Moines to continue her studies at Drake University where she is majoring in education and will graduate in June. She will also take some special subjects during the summer sessions.

Des Moines' recent increased fire for jaywalking elicited this remark from a passerby downtown, "When the fine was a dollar, I used to jaywalk all the time. I would cut across in the middle of the block and run like . . . But not any more, I won't chance it on five dollars."

One of the busiest mothers in town is Mrs. Jack (Willie) Parker of 1128 12th. I mentioned her above as being active in Nash P.T.A.; at least that is her latest line of endeavor. She is known in the community as an amateur portrait with quite a bit of professional training behind her, including the Chicago Art Institute. Her latest finished work is a portrait of one of her five young children. Besides taking care of her husband and children, and pursuing her artistic inclinations in her spare time, Mrs. Parker is also active in various church and community activities, including the various fund raising drives, swimming registration, among others. PRESIDENT KENNEDY
DUCKS HIS RESPONSIBILITY

President Kennedy spoke in New Orleans Saturday devoting the major portion of his address to his program designed to collaborate with several European countries and England in the common market for trade. A measure to carry out the program is pending in congress.

In view of the trouble which exists in New Orleans today over efforts to integrate public and parochial schools and the activities of the White Citizens Council in providing one way tickets for Negroes to travel to northern cities and the concern of Mr. Kennedy's administration—in the North—to help secure a better life for Negroes, it was expected that he would make a definite plea to the citizens of New Orleans to obey the law and help eliminate the bad example they make for the world's leading democratic nation.

But like most politicians who talk out of both sides of their mouth, Mr. Kennedy walked a tight rope by saying "Cosmopolitan by nature, tolerant in outlook, the product of many nations, many cultures, many races and creeds, New Orleans has long represented the strength of diversity working in harmony—and I am confident that the overwhelming majority of your citizens intends to see that most valuable reputation and character preserved."

The conduct of a boisterous group in New Orleans which has met very little resistance from public officials is well known and the public knows that the lofty premises of Mr. Kennedy's speech is not true.

Levelheaded people did not expect Mr. Kennedy to rake the people over the coals by delivering a blistering attack on the South, but they did expect him to use his great personal popularity to urge the citizens of New Orleans to bring their conduct in line with law and order. Such an address would have given courage and fortitude to those people who are trying to uphold decent government, it would not have given comfort to the White Citizens Councils who are carrying on a course of conduct which negates the precepts of the American government.

America would be much farther along in its efforts to solve the race problem of those leaders, who enjoy great popularity, would lead the people in no uncertain terms toward that goal. This has not been confined to any particular party but that leadership is too often left to their supporters—such as the Americans for Democratic Action—to help them play both ends against the middle.

President Kennedy's speech was very disappointing in this respect.

IOWA LIQUOR LAW
IS A FARCE

The Des Moines Sunday Register of May 6 contained a report of a survey made by its reporters showing the extent liquor by the drink is being sold in Iowa.

One report (one-half of the state was covered in the article, the balance will appear May 13) stated that liquor by the drink was being sold in 2/3 of the counties. The density of the practice exists in the river towns which border on neighboring states where such sales are legal. Sales are more prevalent in the larger cities.

Nobody, whose head is not in the sand, will disagree with this report. In fact it is mild. The present liquor control law is a joke and most people know it.

Bootleggers, high and low, are selling liquor and paying no license or tax for it except maybe some added income tax on gross business and sales tax paid at the liquor stores.

Iowa law forbids local newspapers and magazines from advertising liquor and yet practically all newspapers and magazines published elsewhere and circulated, in part, in Iowa contain liquor advertising.

Iowa finds itself in need of new sources of revenue and yet the legislature does not have the courage to adopt liquor by the drink legislation. It is sorely needed. Maybe some groups might be formed to spearhead a movement designed to wake up the people and get this belated job done.

STATE CONSERVATION
COMMISSION AUCTION

Up for sale to the highest bidder are 21 outboard motors, nine boats and many other items at the Iowa Patrol building on the Iowa State Fair grounds. The auction will begin at 1:00 p.m., Saturday, May 12. The equipment to be sold may be inspected by the public on Saturday morning from 9:00 a.m. until sale time.

Of the boats, one is a Chris Craft

A fellow sat with yours truly and discussed the young athletes of today against those when we were coming up. With the little league baseball and football programs and all the opportunities for kids today, he wondered why more of them weren't deeply interested in athletics as a career.

We recalled the times when fellows from both the East and West side would walk across town to play each other—anything, baseball, basketball, football or run a track meet. Then they would walk back.

The fellow said he'd bet one couldn't get any youngsters to do that now. Then we went over the days we used to spend up on the hill at the old Crocker Y playing basketball all day long or boxing. By the way most of those kids of that period went to war and nearly all of them had good service records, so maybe more than just athletics was taught up there.

Well, the guy brought up the tennis situation. And the lack of kids in it along with other sports. As we came into the present era we listed the things we didn't have. We walked mostly because very, very few of us had cars or access to one.

We spent the day at the Crocker Y because we had no money for shows more than once a week and we weren't allowed in pool rooms. We played tennis all day because to us that was a way of life and we loved it. There was no television and no cars. Most of us didn't know what else to do, but play games. But our period had its good points. There weren't many youngsters spending their time on corners or chipping into buy a bottle. For us, drinking and in a lot of cases, smoking, were a waste of time. So we played.

When it was all over, the discussion and reminiscing, we called the debate a draw and wished we were both kids again.

Cassius Clay To Risk Unbeaten
Boxing Record

New York—Louisville heavyweight Cassius Clay, a recent knockout victor over George Logan at Los Angeles, will put his unbeaten record on the line here May 19 when he meets Billy Daniels of Brooklyn, also unbeaten, in a 10-round bout that will be televised nationally from St. Nicholas Arena.

A combination boxer-puncher, Clay, a handsome Negro pugilist, is a former Olympic and Golden Gloves champion.

Sandy Stephens
Accepts Bid To Play in Buffalo

Buffalo, N.Y. — Sandy Stephens, Minnesota's great All-American quarterback, has accepted a bid to play with the West squad in the All-American bowl football game here on June 29.

Stephens, who was honored at a city-state banquet in Minneapolis recently, will play professional football in the Canadian Football League this coming season. Several American pro teams sought his services, but the determination of the tan tailback to play at quarterback tilted his decision in favor of the Canadians.

No Negro has ever played regular quarterback in the National Football League.

More Integration Requested
In Atlanta School Case

Atlanta, Ga. — NAACP Defense Fund attorneys asked Apr. 30 for increased and broader integration in the Atlanta school case.

Atty. Donald L. Hollowell of Atlanta filed a Motion for Further Relief in the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Georgia Apr. 30 which charged that the present Atlanta plan "has not been used by defendants to bring about desegregation, but on the contrary, has been used to maintain segregation."

The Motion asks that the schools be reorganized into a "unitary non-racial system." A decision in the Memphis, Tenn. school case requiring a complete reorganization of the school system on a non-racial basis was made by the Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit last month.

Non-Racial Basis

A specific feature of the motion was the request for assignment of teachers and school personnel on a non-racial basis. The Negro attorneys also asked the Court to stop the School Board from: (1) assigning pupils on the basis of race; (2) designating schools as "Negro" or "white"; (3) segregating extra-curricular activities; and (4) maintaining dual attendance areas based on race.

Expectant Mother
Begins 2-Year Jail
Term in Mississippi

By Anne Braden

Jackson, Miss.—Mrs. Dianne Nash Bevel, former Nashville student leader, who is expecting a baby in September, went into Hinds County Court on April 30 to surrender and start serving a two-year prison sentence.

She was charged with contributing to the delinquency of minors last summer after she conducted workshops on nonviolence among Jackson young people, preparing them to take part in freedom rides.

Cancels Appeal

She said as she went into court that she could no longer cooperate with what she described as "the evil and unjust court system of Mississippi." Therefore she would not continue an appeal of her sentence and would start serving it.

County Judge Russell B. Moore averted an immediate showdown on this issue by citing her for contempt because she refused to move from a section of the courtroom reserved for whites after she arrived to surrender.

Judge Moore sentenced her to 10 days in jail on the contempt charge and said he would refuse to consider the delinquency matter until a hearing on that case scheduled for May 14.

filed in January, 1958. The School Board was required to submit a desegregation plan on July 9, 1959 by Federal Judge Frank Hooper. Nine 11th and 12th grade Negro children were assigned to formerly all-white schools in September, 1961 under the Board's grade-a-year plan. The desegregation last year was orderly and peaceful.

This year, students who wish to apply for transfers in September, 1962 must do so in May. Defense Fund attorneys expect a substantial increase in the number of transfers which will be granted.

Killing of Muslim Leader

New York—The NAACP National Office threw its full support behind the vigorous protest of its Los Angeles branch over the brutal police killing of Ronald Stokes, a Muslim leader.

"There is an incredible report circulating here," Mr. Wilkins continued, "that some sections of the Los Angeles Negro community are remaining silent because Stokes was a leader in the Muslim movement." He urged Mr. Warren and the Los Angeles NAACP unit "to press

WITHIN US LIES,
TO DO OR BE!

There is no failure, no defeat, Except what we ourselves admit. No barriers can hold us back Through what we have or what we lack; For lo, the opportunity Within us lies, to do or be!

There is no burden how'er great, But we can rise from beneath its weight;

No obstacle but overthrown, Will serve us as a stepping stone To far-off heights of mastery. What we determine we can be! No seeming ill can stay the flow Of good to us when we but know That with its Source we are one, That is its course our course is one, God-given opportunity— What we determine we can be!
