Atty. Beaten in Albany Demonstrations

Dr. Martin L. King, Arrested for 2nd Time During Prayer on Steps

Albany, Ga.—A Negro attorney staggered bleeding from the sheriff's office here Saturday and told spectators he had been beaten over the head with a cane, while the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., and other leaders of this South Georgia city's racial protest movement remaining in jail after being arrested for the second time within a week.

Atty. C. B. King (no relation to Rev. Dr. King) staggered from the office of Sheriff D. C. Campbell, 73, with blood streaming from a scalp wound and a cut on his face.

Different Story

Atty. King said Campbell struck him when he turned his head to look at the sheriff. Campbell, told a different story, saying King made a threatening movement toward him after King refused to leave the office.

Campbell insisted the incident had no connection with the racial trouble which have resulted in more than 1,000 arrests since Negroes began mass demonstrations here last December.

Released

A short time before, Chief Pritchett arrested 28 Negroes after they prayed and sang for 15 minutes in front of the City Hall and Negro leader Dr. King, Jr., vowed to stay behind bars in protest of segregation. SEE PAGE TWO

Chicago — Appointment of Ben Burns as editor-in-chief of the Chicago Defender, one of two daily Negro newspapers in the U.S., was announced by John H. Sengstacke, editor and publisher.

Burns will assume his new post with the Defender on August 1. He previously served as national editor of the Defender and was formerly executive editor of four magazines in the Johnson publishing chain, Ebony, Jet, Negro Digest and Tan.

The new editor-in-chief of the 58-year-old newspaper has resigned as executive vice president of the public relations firm of Cooper, Burns and Golin to assume editorial direction of the Defender.

Plans for a major revamping of the Defender, including six-day-a-week publication and two editions daily, were announced by Sengstacke along with appointment of Burns. YWCA Leader, Mrs. Logue, Honored for Quiet Integration

The new Y.W.C.A. craft and hobby lodge at the Boone camp was formerly dedicated Sunday afternoon to Mrs. Trenna Smith Logue, camp director from 1945 to Jan. 1, 1962.

The only speaker Dr. Arthur E. Cruikshank, pastor of Central Presbyterian church, gave a brief and meaningful tribute to Mrs. Logue when he said, "We dedicate this building in deep gratitude to one who knows the value of little things, who has grown in quietness, made use of adversity, and lighted many candles for others."

Committee

Mrs. Maxine Watkins, camp committee chairman, presented the dedication plaque which will be hung in the craft lodge. Mrs. Abe Friedman, 1st vice-president of the YWCA board thanked Mrs. Stanley Griffin, chairman of the dedication committee and all who cooperated in making the event possible.

Plaque

The dedication plaque was of personal interest to many of the visitors and well-wishers who stopped to read the message on their way to the recreation lodge for refreshments.

"The Young Women's Christian Association dedicates this craft and hobby lodge to Trenna Smith Logue, camp director, Sept. 1945 to Jan. 1962. For personal faith, selfless devotion and confidence in the future of camping for girls."

With love and boundless appreciation of her warm and personal relationship with all who serve and participate in camp.

May the beauty of these camp surroundings mirror a dream realized through the gentle faith and works of "Mama Logue"—All are welcome here as one family.

Crowd of 100 Protest Arrests of Two; Pelt Police with Debris

A wedding had just taken place Sunday night and a jolly good time was indicated by the wedding party, so several members decided to parade around in cars and let go with the blasting horn. This led to a little show of drag racing; and that led to the drivers being stopped by two Des Moines policemen, who later arrested the two.

The two arrested by police were Lloyd Jones, 18, of 950 17th street and Mrs. Ermayne Perry, 18, of Kansas City, Mo.; they were charged with reckless driving at 17th street and University avenue.

Spectators

When Patrolmen Ronald Warne and Eugene Battani attempted to arrest Jones and Mrs. Perry, a crowd of about 100 spectators, who had been watching, began protesting loudly that they would not have been arrested if they weren't Negroes, followed by throwing sticks, apples and rocks at the officers. The policemen then radioed for additional help. Five more officers came and helped disperse the crowd. None in the crowd were arrested. Jones also received a summons for an inadequate muffler and Mrs. Perry received a summons for an illegal muffler.

However, Harold Ronald Holt, was later charged with illegal parking in connection with the incident. Officers said the youths had attended a wedding on the east side earlier Sunday night and drove to Good Park, 17th and University, to blow their horns and "show off."

Speeding

The two officers said they observed Jones and Perry going south on Seventeenth street at speeds of 45 to 55 miles an hour. Warne said they waited for the cars to turn around and as they started back more than 100 persons were standing part way in the street watching.

Warne said that when he and Battani stopped the cars, the crowd gathered around the squad car "yelling, using loud and profane

Undergoes Head Surgery; Mother Had Left Same Day for Vacation in Tenn.

A Des Moines youth remained in critical condition Tuesday at Broadlawn Polk County hospital after undergoing two hours of surgery for head injuries he sustained when he was struck by a car while running along the Des Moines freeway Sunday night.

He is Alfred Garfield Washington, 16, of 920 24th street, who will be a junior at North High school this fall. Joseph Nickens, his step-father, stayed at the hospital all night Sunday and between trips since, had tried in vain to inform his wife, the boy's mother, of the tragedy.

Mother

Mrs. Nickens had left about 3 a.m. Sunday by train for a vacation in Memphis, Tenn. Mr. Nickens said there was a long layover in St. Louis, Mo., "and I tried to get her but couldn't. I got a card from her there. I called the train depot and they said she was due out of there at 8 a.m. and due in Springfield, Mo., at 1:30 p.m. today (Tues.). I have sent a telegram to the conductor to give to her and hope she gets it."

Flat Tire

Mr. Nickens said his step-son had had a flat tire near 13th street, and unable to find the lugs had run back home, accompanied by three other youths who were riding with him.

Negro Airmen Face Bias in South Dakota

Rapid City, S. D.—Members of the NAACP's Air Force chapter here this week called on Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara to investigate discrimination against Negro airmen and their families.

The airmen, stationed at Ellsworth Air Force Base, assert that they are denied service in local business establishments that hire white airmen in part-time capacities. These same businesses advertise in military newspapers.

Moreover, the NAACP airmen assert, these businesses maintain signs saying they reserve the right to deny service to anyone they see fit, which usually means Negroes.

The airmen, through NAACP Field Secretary Leonard Carter, add that acute housing discrimination forces many of their families to remain behind at home.

The Association's Washington Bureau is also working on the problem along with Congressman Charles Diggs of Michigan.

U.S. Civil Rights Group to Hold 2-Day Meeting in N.J.

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. Commission on Civil Rights will hold a two-day public hearing in Newark, New Jersey, on Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 11 and 12, Berl I. Bernhard, Staff Director of the Commission, announced today.

The purpose of the hearing is to assess the status of civil rights, including equal protection of the laws in housing, education, employment, the administration of justice, health facilities and services.

Newark will be the third in a series of hearings designed to appraise the status of civil rights of minorities in a diverse group of metropolitan communities. It was selected, Mr. Bernhard said, "because Newark is governed by comprehensive State and city laws designed to eliminate discrimination in housing, education, employment and public accommodations, including hospitals and all retail establishments."

Size of Minority

A further reason for selecting Newark was because of the significant size of its minority population. Mr. Bernhard pointed out that, according to Census statistics, Newark's Negro population had more than doubled since 1950, whereas the overall population had remained virtually the same during the same 10-year period. In addition, the Puerto Rican population has grown to over 15,000 persons.

Members

Members of the Commission are: John A. Hannah, Chairman, President of Michigan State University, and a former Assistant Secretary of Defense;

Robert G. Storey, Vice Chairman, President of the Southwestern Legal Foundation, former Dean of Southern Methodist University Law School, and former President of the American Bar Association;

Reverend Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C., President of Notre Dame University;

Robert S. Rankin, Chairman of the Political Science Department, Duke University;

Spottswood W. Robinson III, Dean and Professor of Law at Howard University Law School;

Erwin N. Griswold, Dean and Professor of Law, Harvard University Law School, a former Special Assistant to the Attorney General of the United States.

Marble-Pattern Bath

FOR a bathroom decor that is attractively different, walls may be covered with distinctive marble-pattern paneling of hardboard with baked plastic finish. Marble paneling offers a choice of five imported marble patterns in authentic reproductions that provide the beauty of the luxurious stone at a fraction of its cost. Large four-foot-wide panels cover walls more quickly than do materials fabricated in small units. The paneling's smooth, hard baked surfaces, resistant to moisture and soiling, is easily wiped clean. It has a durable and serviceable base of Masonite tempered hardboard. Matching moldings are available for the panels, as are waterproof adhesive and joint-sealing compounds. The paneling also is made in plain colors and wood grain patterns.

New Twist To Desegregation

Chattanooga, Tenn.—White youngsters may attend previously Negro schools when the city school system begins desegregation here this fall.

This was brought out in the wake of a ruling by the U.S. Sixth Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. The court held that students affected by the federal desegregation order could not transfer to a one-race school simply to avoid being in a racial minority.

The school board hasn't decided whether to appeal the no-transfer ruling to the U.S. Supreme Court.

HEALTH FOR ALL

If the doctor could see what his patients do with his prescriptions, he'd tear out what's left of his hair. A check at an out-patient clinic showed that people were doing just about everything except what the doctor ordered.

Get the prescription filled—the doctor didn't make out that prescription just to give his pen some exercise. You need that medicine.

Take the medicine—the bottle sitting on the bathroom shelf isn't going to do you any good.

Don't add to the prescription—some people get attached to a prescribed drug and continue to take it along with what the doctor ordered. Don't do it. The doctor wants to find out how well his medicine is working for you. He can't check results properly if you're taking something he didn't prescribe for you.

Take the right amount—it isn't true that if one pill will do you good, two will do you twice as much good. Medicine doesn't work that way. And over-dosage can be dangerous.

Take the medicine when you're told to take it—three pills once a day is not the same as one pill three times a day. Again over-dosage can harm you. And the interval between doses is an important part of your treatment. The doctor may want the medicine to keep working in you all day.

Throw away old medicine—you may have some medicine left over from previous treatment of the same ailment or perhaps another ailment altogether. Throw that old medicine away. If you take it along with your present medicine, you'll be getting too much. That can be dangerous.

There's no magic about paying the doctor a visit and getting a prescription from him. That alone won't cure you. You must cooperate with the doctor and do exactly as he tells you.

Are you planning to buy a new car on credit? Before you rush into installment buying, ask yourself, "Do I really need a new car immediately?" Then consider saving until you have enough money to pay cash.

Borrowing is an expensive business these days. For example, say you had $800 on hand and wanted to buy a $2,400 car. You'd have to borrow $1,600. If the interest rate were only 5%, the loan would cost you $120 over 18 months. The car would actually cost you $2,520, and you'd have payments of $95.55 a month.

On the other hand, if you put your $800 in a savings account, and added a deposit of $95.55 each month, at the end of 18 months, you'd have the $2,400 cash you need for the new car, plus over $220 in accumulated interest.

If you can, put off buying that car until you can pay cash. You'll be money ahead.

Personally Yours
By Frances Hawthorne.

For several years my family and I have been wanting to give my mother the type of vacation we know she has dreamed of when she has been able to come to Des Moines. But it seems time and circumstances have worked together to prevent it until this summer.

About a half dozen years ago when my father still lived, the entire family came up about three weeks before Christmas; the forecast had been for cold clear weather. However, no sooner had they arrived when a four inch snow fell, and the thermometer plunged to 20 degrees below and everyone was marooned until they had to leave at the end of the weekend.

Then along came my daughters and my mother came up to help each time, but circumstances then prevailed against us and there was no opportunity other than that of a "working vacation."

So this year proved to be the year. My husband, children and I went all out to treat her like a "visiting queen." There was nothing for her to do but relax and enjoy herself, and before she left after 10 enjoyable days this morning by Continental Trailways bus she and my sister, Donna, reported they had done just that, enjoyed themselves.

Do you know of a very deserving person, to whom you would like to extend a verbal bouquet? Each week we would like to extend a verbal compliment to some one in the community. There is no age limit. We will need the name and address of the person and the reason why they are being extended the compliment. This week's bouquet is being extended to

Mrs. Josephine Jones.

Several weeks ago before we were listening to a local radio station which daily does this sort of thing. It is called "Today's Good Guy Award." One day it was extended to Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton, Jr., as a community servant for his announced crack down on traffic violations.

We are always running in to people or talking to them over the phone and they will say casually, "several weeks or months ago we had guests or we took a trip but we just never called it in." If you are likewise in this position, will you take a little time just to call the Bystander about it? It is both a compliment to your guest or your host to let people know you enjoyed yourself or show your guests a good time. Often they have readers back home who also will enjoy reading an account of the activities.

It had seemed more like August than July, but they were wonderful nights for sleeping, even though the evenings brought out an assortment of sweaters and light coats. Actually California weather is just like this, only hot in the day and chilly at night.

When Mrs. Rufus Spates and her daughter recently spent several weeks in Los Angeles, they reported the weather was so chilly that they were unable to get their new bathing suits wet in the surf on the beaches. In one snapshot Mrs. Spates had a rug wrapped around her, she said it was so cold.

LAW AND ORDER
MUST PREVAIL

During the summer, more people are out doors than any season of the year. Youngsters are out of school and, in the absence of anything better to do, congregate in spots with no object in view but to have fun. And in so doing, some of this fun gets out of hand and causes all kinds of disturbances.

During the past month, some unhealthy incidents have grown out of youth congregating in Good Park. Undoubtedly, the park is not being well supervised for some parties have carried on various types of petty crimes, often at hours when these youngsters should have been in bed; some in open daylight.

Some of these disturbances have been a source of annoyance to residents in the neighborhood, necessitating calls to the law to keep the peace. And instead of respecting the law, some of these youngsters have attempted to take the law into their own hands, disobeyed, throwing articles at and, otherwise showing disrespect for law and order.

The Bystander would be the last source to suggest that these youngsters or anyone else take abuse from police officers lying down. But there is a way to do this which does not contemplate showing off or otherwise becoming obnoxious. There is always a way to protest wrongs and secure redress without becoming obnoxious.

By saying this, the Bystander recognizes that some few officers insist on being obnoxious themselves abusing their authority at times. But they are exceptions for no sane official instructs officers to abuse citizens. Certainly Des Moines is no exception to the rule.

Des Moines has a pretty good reputation for good race relations. That situation has come about because intelligent Negroes and whites have worked together toward that end. And although the situation is not perfect, Des Moines can take satisfaction that it is succeeding, in a large degree, in solving its racial problems.

It has taken years to get the job done. It can be disrupted by a few who have no respect for anybody including themselves. On the other hand, there are hundreds of youngsters who are doing a good job trying to better their own lot and thus that of the whole community.

In that these unfortunate incidents have arisen, let parents and those charged with dealing with problems nip them in the bud now, in a spirit of cooperation and helpfulness. It does no good to carry a chip on the shoulder by both citizens and the law. There are too many valuable happenings going on today to spend time acting like men of the jungles.

DEPENDING ON WHOSE
OX IS GORED

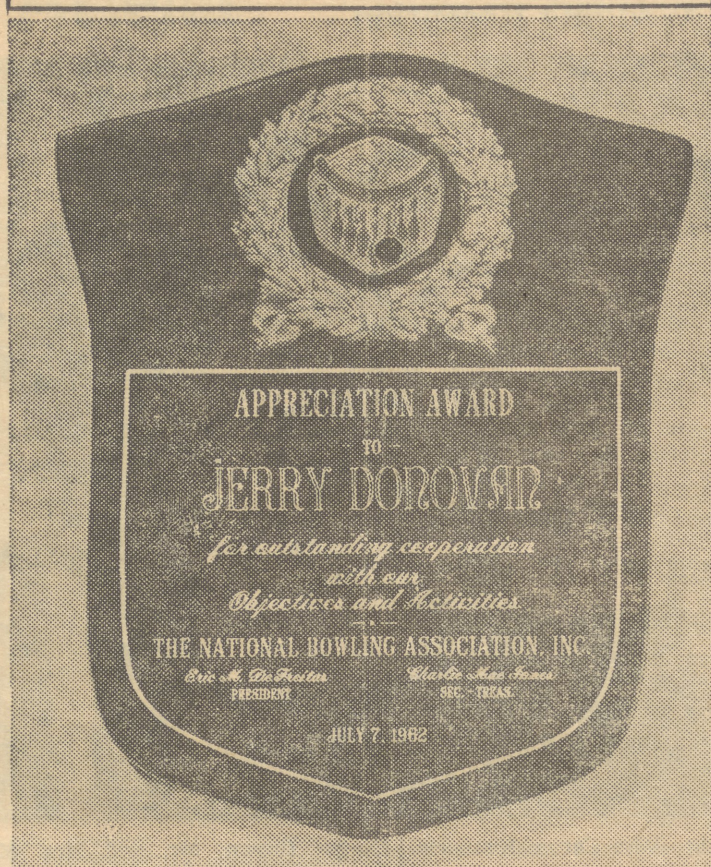

A few weeks ago, a group of U. S. Senators, many of whom Negroes have counted, and rightly so, as their bitter enemies conducted a filibuster in the Senate to prevent consideration and vote on a measure which attempted to fix the qualification for voting removing the discretionary test which have kept Negroes from voting.

These wilful Senators were law-basted by liberal Senators whose object was obstructing the orderly procedure in the Senate designed to permit normal disposal of business. The Bystander approved the objections.

Today, the Senate is the scene of another filibuster being carried on by the so-called liberal Senators, who find, in an effort to prevent consideration of a measure which would permit a private corporation, regulated by the federal government, which would operate and control space communications opposition to it.

It's a strange situation for the procedure used by filibustering Senators opposed to civil rights laws is used by liberals to defeat what they claim to be, the corporate interests. Neither of these groups exercises a noble procedure for each is selfish to the extent that nothing is too rank for use in serving its ends.

The United States Senate prides itself on being known as "the greatest deliberative body in the world." Filibuster tactics such as are being exercised today do not add to that reputation.

AMF Executive
Receives Negro Bowling Award

The Second Annual Service Award of the National Bowling Association has been presented to Jerry F. Donovan, Vice President Advertising and Public Relations, AMF Pinspotters, Inc., for his assistance to the Negro bowling group.

Mr. Donovan received the award at the NBA's 23rd National Convention in Buffalo on July 7th. The presentation was made by Eric M. DeFreitas, President of the Association.

Donovan was cited for outstanding cooperation with the NBA, which numbers more than 5,000 members in 18 states. In accepting the award, Mr. Donovan pledged continued support by AMF toward the group's objectives in advancing Negroes in the game of bowling.

Heavy Champ Floyd Patterson Charged
By Liston With Drawing 'Color Line'

Chicago, Ill.—Heavyweight contender Sonny Liston contends that Floyd Patterson has drawn the color line against fighters of his own race while heavyweight champion in the world.

The accusation is made in an article in Ebony magazine, which quotes Liston as claiming: "Patterson draws the color line against his own race. He hasn't fought any colored boys since becoming champion."

10 Defenses

Actually in his ten defenses since winning the heavyweight championship from Jersey Joe Walcott, one colored opponent, Hurricane Jackson, has been faced by Patterson. Liston in the Ebony article declares his "dislike" for Patterson because he has refused to battle colored contenders. "We have a hard enough time as it is in this white man's world," says Liston.

Recounts Record

The Ebony article recounts Liston's record of law violations and traces most of his troubles to his slum upbringing and racial discrimination. "Long before he began fighting professionally, he was a fighter and society was his enemy," observes Ebony editor Allan Morrison.

Tangles of Law

Liston is quoted by Morrison as defending his status as a heavyweight contender despite his tangles with the law. "When I started in this game I thought boxing was sport, that the best man should win. Then I found out you had to have credit references to fight for the championship, like you were running for president or something," Liston says.

The magazine article reports that Liston regards white opponents with particular antagonism and quotes him as saying: "I always say kill him when I'm in the ring with a white boy. You got to knock 'em out to win. You won't get the decision."

Twice as Better

"In this world if you're colored anything you do has to be twice as better as the white man," Liston contends.

Liston has his own theory on why Negroes predominate in boxing, reports Ebony. "Most colored boys who go into boxing are poor and boxing offers them a chance to make money, to get somewhere," Liston states.

On the outcome of his coming battle with Patterson, the challenger predicts: "This fight will be short. One of us is going early and I believe it will be Patterson."

DEAR EDITOR:

Two events in the area of human relations took place Sunday afternoon. One made the front page of our morning daily paper, the other received modest recognition on Page 8.

The Goode Park incident involving police and some of our youth is still under discussion. In contrast, the YWCA dedication of a building to a woman who had the faith and fortitude to make racial integration an accepted, routine way of life in the YWCA camp in Boone, Iowa is noted only by those in direct contact with the YWCA.

It is well that we take notice of genuine progress and commend YWCA policy and above all, the Des Moines YWCA and all who have worked untiringly to transform policy into a dynamic reality.

We congratulate the YWCA and the retiring camp director, Mrs. Trenna Smith Logue who is loved and respected by many in our community.

A MORNING PRAYER

Let me today do something that shall take

A little sadness from the world's vast store.

And may I be so favored as to make Of joy's too scanty sum a little more.

Let me not hurt, by my selfish deed Or thoughtless word, the heart of foe or friend;

Nor would I pass, unseeing, worthy need, Or sin by silence where I should defend.

However meager be my worldly wealth, Let me give something that shall aid my kind—

A word of courage or a thought of health

Dropped as I pass, for troubled hearts to find.

Let me tonight look back across the span

'Twixt dawn and dark and to my conscience say,

Because of some good act to boast or man,

"The world is better that I lived today."

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox

Thoughts for Today

Anyone can carry his burden, however hard, until nightfall. Anyone can do his work, however hard, for one day.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Every day that is born into the world comes like a burst of music and rings itself all the day through; and thou shalt make of it a dance, a dirge, or a life march, as thou wilt.—Carlyle.

One of the great mysteries of life is how the boy we were sure weren't good enough for our daughter can be the father of the smartest grandchildren in the world.—Earl Gilbert, Evansdale (Ia.) Enterprise.
