People You Know

Hesitated about Free Course, S. Driscoe Is OB Technician

BY FRANCES E. HAWTHORNE

This is the first in a series on "People You Know." They may be outstanding in church or community affairs, hold an unusual job, hobby or activities, or just a little known co-worker, neighbor, or friend who has received recognition for charity, fraternal or job service. Whoever they are, they are people you know, people that make the community and the world go round.

For Mrs. Shirley Driscoe, 1438 E. 18th street, it was a case of almost being persuaded but not quite. However, Mrs. M. Hipwood, was a little more persuasive and Mrs. Driscoe decided to take the time.

This was six months ago. Now, Mrs. Driscoe, wife and mother of two children, age three and six years, holds a distinction few do in Des Moines. She is obstetrics technician or OB technician at Iowa Lutheran hospital.

In April a free course was being offered by Iowa Lutheran. Mrs. Driscoe was sought out by Mrs. Hipwood, supervisor and instructor for the course. She wanted a Negro to be in the class. Mrs. Driscoe finally agreed. The class ended Sept. 28 and students were given certificates, which will be honored anywhere in the U.S.

A graduate of East high, Mrs. Driscoe was among the eight students who attended a dinner celebration at Mrs. Hipwood's home, 3434 University avenue on Oct. 11. In private life she is the wife of Harold Driscoe.

MRS. DRISCOE

Referring to her initial indecision when she was approached as a nurse aid, Mrs. Driscoe, smiled happily, saying, "I almost didn't, but I'm awfully glad I did."

P. B. Young, Sr., Veteran Journalist, Dies in Virginia

Norfolk, Va.—Death claimed P. B. Young, Sr., publisher of the Journal and Guide since 1910, Tuesday night, Oct. 9, at a Norfolk hospital which he entered on Sept. 21. He was 78 years of age.

Mr. Young had been ailing since last spring and just prior to hospitalization had been confined for two months at his home, 2833 Beachmont Avenue. He became critically ill on Sept. 27, rallied for a few days, then suffered multiple complications. The immediate cause of death was broncho-pneumonia.

Veteran Journalist

The veteran journalist, humanitarian, and educator was widely regarded as the dean of the Negro Press. As recently as June, 1960, the National Newspaper Publishers Association during its convention in Los Angeles, California, presented him with a plaque as the distinguished editor of the year.

Background

Born in Littleton, N.C., Mr. Young came to Norfolk in 1907 and in 1910 acquired ownership of a fraternal organ, then published by the Knights of Gideon as the Lodge Journal and Guide. Dropping "Lodge" from the name, he developed the newspaper from one of a weekly circulation of 500 copies and four pages to a publication of 24 to 32 standard pages, with the largest circulation of any weekly published below the Mason-Dixon Line, Negro or white.

Funeral services were held on Saturday, Oct. 13, at noon at Grace P. E. Church, conducted by the rector, the Rev. Richard B. Martin.

Baker, spokesman for the trio, pointed out that their hobby is closely allied to the ceramics field, which is considered a finer art than figurines, but one anyone can easily learn.

Special Process

Baker explained that their particular hobby is making pictures, of various sizes from finely ground mother of pearl, which is dyed, then glued onto the picture frame through a special process original with them. The pattern is created with gold string. The group has a choice of 30 colors and a pair of cats is an original design.

Mrs. Bertha Willis Acquitted of Murder

A Polk County District Court Jury found Bertha Mae Willis not guilty of the fatal shooting of her husband, Ernest Willis, on June 10, 1962, at the DAV Club, located at 808 12th Street, Des Moines, Iowa.

The trial started Oct. 2, in the Court of Honorable Ray C. Fountain and lasted until 3:15 p.m. Oct. 12, at which time the jury returned a verdict of not guilty.

Judge Fountain gave the jury four (4) forms of verdicts as follows: Murder in 1st degree, Murder in 2nd degree, manslaughter and not guilty.

Mrs. Willis was represented by Henry T. McKnight, who successfully contended before the jury that the deceased, Ernest Willis, was a violent, vicious, brutal, dangerous and treacherous individual and that what Mrs. Willis did was in lawful defense of her person and life.

Thus McKnight kept his record clean for never having lost a "homicide case" where the defendant was a woman.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Oxford, Miss.—The application of Miss Alfanette Bracey, a co-ed at the All-Negro Jackson State College, was refused last week as incomplete by the University of Mississippi.

San Antonio, Tex.—A history making event quietly unfolded on Oct. 1 at the Robert B. Green Memorial hospital here when Dr. Robert L. M. Hilliard became the first Negro in the South to become chief resident of the obstetrics-gynecology department of a major teaching hospital.

Madison, Wis.—Capt. James Gregory and his wife and four children are settled down in their house trailer home overlooking the University of Wisconsin Arboretum after citizens rallied to his aid when they learned he had difficulty finding housing.

Cleveland, Ohio.—The dose of arsenic she fed her husband just to make him ill proved to be an overdose, Mrs. William Bray, mother of seven learned here last week. Expecting her eighth child she told police she had only intended to make her husband ill so that he would not attend choir practice.

East Lansing, Mich.—William W. C. Echezona of Nigeria, who recently earned a master of music degree from Michigan State University, proposes to set down for the first time the tribal music of the Ibo people of Nigeria. Heretofore, the music has existed only in tradition.

New York—Marion Anderson, internationally famous contralto, stood calm and serene in a manner reminiscent of her concert hall posture, as she heard herself described as a "Daughter of America" and "Lady of the World" in being cited at a ceremony marking the 25th anniversary of the Interfaith Movement on the Mall in Central park here last Sunday.

Hollywood, Calif.—Stefani Powers, who wanted to be a nurse when she was a child, will portray a student nurse in Columbia's "The Interns."

Los Angeles, Calif.—Four young white men whose idle hours were spent blowing darts from a homemade blowgun at Negroes, will have plenty of homework to keep them busy for the next few months. They were sentenced to take an adult school course in Negro history.

Houston, Tex.—A Negro mail carrier's promotion to the Dallas Regional Post Office department was cited here last week as an example of what is happening across the nation. John Butler, a former Houston mail carrier, is now the administrative assistant for employee relations for the regional office in Dallas.

tion, was guest speaker here Monday evening for 900 students in King chapel at Cornell college.

Dr. King, who has been jailed more than a dozen times for his participation in sit-ins and demonstration marches in southern cities, said "The American Negro has come a long way in his fight for racial equality but he has a long, long way to go."

"The system of segregation is on its deathbed, and the only thing that remains is how costly the South will make the funeral."

Cedar Rapids, Council Bluffs Win Awards; Four Resolution Are Passed

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—More than 150 delegates attended a successful two-day session of the 23rd annual Iowa Conference of NAACP Branches at Hotel Roosevelt with George Cooper, state president, Council Bluffs, presiding.

Elected to succeed Mr. Cooper as president was Russell Nash, professor of sociology at Coe College here. His wife was also named as state publicity chairman.

Wood Injured

Jack E. Wood, national housing secretary from New York City had been involved in a serious car accident several days before the conference, was unable to attend. Leonard H. Carter, midwest Field secretary, Kansas City, Mo., who also spoke to and presided over portions of the conference, also took Mr. Wood's place as guest speaker Saturday evening for the Fighting Fund for Freedom Banquet.

Voter Registration

Carter gave a chronological history of the voter registration movement in the South, presenting figures which showed vast advances. Winning the Ike Smalls trophy for increase in branch membership was Council Bluffs. Malcolm Austin, president, accepted. Honorable mention went to Marshalltown and Burlington. The Youth council

MRS. GIBSON

Declares Meredith Chose Mississippi U on His Own

New York—James H. Meredith became the first recognizable Negro student at the University of Mississippi by a process of "self-selection," John A. Morsell, assistant to the NAACP executive secretary, said here this week.

Morsell's statement followed the release of remarks issued by Mr. Meredith in Oxford, Miss., complaining that "some individual or individuals in Mississippi" had asserted that the student had been "picked, selected, or chosen by them to integrate the University of Mississippi. This inflammatory claim is not only untrue," said Mr. Meredith, "but I consider it a mar on my character and an insult to my dignity."

No Names

Although Meredith mentioned no names nor any organization, the press generally interpreted his remarks as referring to an alleged statement by Aaron Henry, president of the Mississippi State NAACP, to the effect that the Air Force veteran had been "picked by the NAACP from 17 volunteers to back in a try for admission to Ole Miss."

Denial

In Clarksdale, where he resides, Henry denied making any such statement. He said he had told a reporter, in response to a question about other Negro candidates for admission to the University, that Mr. Meredith was not the only student who sought NAACP aid in getting into the University of Mississippi.

"There have been several students from Tougaloo, Campbell and Jackson State colleges," the Mississippi SEE PAGE FOUR

Bus Terminal Sit-Inners Convicted On Oct. 4

Tallahassee, Fla.—On Oct. 4, only four days before the U.S. Supreme Court specifically upheld the 1961 Interstate Commerce Commission regulations on bus terminal desegregation, five local CORE members were convicted by Judge John Rudd for seeking service at the Trailways lunch counter here.

Wilkins Praises Kennedy Action in Mississippi Case

New York — President Kennedy's action in squelching the Mississippi insurrection was praised by NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins as helping the American image and that of the Administration among Europeans.

The NAACP leader's remarks were made during an interview over a trans-Atlantic hookup on the Columbia Broadcasting System's radio program, "Let's Find Out." The program was broadcast over the CBS network facilities here Sunday afternoon, Oct. 7.

Meant Business

The President's action, Wilkins said, helped undermine the anti-American propaganda of the Communists. Mr. Kennedy, he said, showed that he meant business when he sent in the troops to see that the Federal court order was carried out and to see that James H. Meredith be enrolled and protected as a student at the University of Mississippi.

Future Trouble

Wilkins foresaw future trouble in school desegregation in Alabama and South Carolina but not as violent or critical as in Mississippi.

"There is dissent in South Carolina," he said. "There is espousal of integration in South Carolina. There is no such thing in Mississippi."

Alabama will be difficult, he said, recalled the Autherine Lucy case in 1956, but not as difficult as Mississippi.

Wilkins is vacationing in Europe with Mrs. Wilkins.

Ceremonies Inaugurate Des Moines 4-Hour Downtown Delivery

Press Conference

A press conference was held immediately following in the Iowa Room of the Kirkwood hotel, followed by a luncheon where the ABCD Mail program was explained to over 150 businessmen. Mayor Charles Iles proclaimed Tuesday ABCD (Accelerated Business Collection and Delivery) day.

Slogan for the new delivery plan is "deposit it by 11 a.m. we'll deliver by 3 p.m." Seventy-five downtown mail boxes have been placed in operation for the deposit of "ABCD" mail.

Attending

Among those attending the luncheon were Peter Hawthorne, Jr., associate editor-reporter for "Forty-Four News"; Frank Robinson, carrier foreman; Gilbert Randle, postmaster for the Statehouse; and Clarence Jones, supervisor of motor vehicles department of Des Moines postoffice.

A few weeks ago one of our readers made inquiry in this column as to the whereabouts of an old friend. We are pleased to inform you that Mrs. Leona Jordan and Mr. Warner Bingham, both of Des Moines, were able to supply the information. A response came from Mrs. Grace Buford-Frederick of Des Moines also.

"The ABC's of Urban Renewal" was a subject discussed at a meeting sponsored by the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA. This was the first of a series of three meetings and discussions. The second will be on some phase of Urban Renewal and is scheduled for Oct. 24 at the "Y" at 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Warren Nash, chm. and her committee plan a worthwhile evening. Come and know about Urban Renewal in Waterloo.

Fort Dodge Interracial Commission
Celebrates Its 15th Anniversary

The Fort Dodge Interracial Commission is observing its 15th anniversary with the beginning of its fall schedule of meetings. The Commission was organized in 1947 by representatives of seven sponsoring groups—the Women's Club, the Ministerial Association of the YMCA, the YWCA, the Webster County Welfare, Coppin Chapel and the Second Baptist Church. It now operates independently of these sponsoring groups, and is the only organization in Fort Dodge dedicated solely to promoting racial understanding. During the 15 years, many committees have been at work, making surveys, stimulating cooperation and trying to eliminate unfair discrimination.

Schedule

This year's schedule of meetings is as follows: Oct. 14, at the Riverside Methodist Church; Nov. 18, at Corpus Christi Parish Center, and Dec. 16, at the YMCA. During the winter and spring months, the group will observe Brotherhood month in February in cooperation with the National Conference of Christians and Jews; in March, there will be a special meeting at South Junior High School, and in April, the annual potluck supper and election of officers will be held.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Safe Spooking

Halloween is almost upon us, a fun time of "trick or treat" for the youngsters. You can make this one a worry-proof Halloween for yourself with some safety planning for the little spooks.

Kids in dark clothes and black faces are practically invisible to motorists until it's too late. Make light-colored costumes — of flame proof material—and as an extra precaution fasten some reflecting tape to hats, broomsticks or anything else the youngsters may be carrying. Keep the costumes short, so there'll be no falls, and with no streamers to catch on hedges or fences.

Makeup

Use cosmetics and burnt cork to make up the children's faces. Masks are difficult to see through, and there's always the danger of suffocation with very young children.

Don't let a child carry a candle or torch. A flash light, preferable with a plastic lens, inside a lantern or pumpkin head can be just as effective and a lot safer.

No Sharp Objects

No sharp objects, please, not even wooden ones. If you can't buy rubber swords, knives or what have you, leave out that type of equipment.

Try to work out some inconspicuous supervision of the very little ones to avoid later heartbreak. Two or three mothers taking turns can do the job. Older children may thoughtlessly leave a youngster straggling behind, where he can get into trouble.

Attend PTA Congress In Cedar Rapids

Thoughts for Today

A man has become wise when he admits, "I don't know," and almost astute when he is brave enough to add, "And I don't want to know."

You have become a mature person when keeping a secret gives you more satisfaction than passing it along.

Education makes great strides, but you still are asked if the empty seat beside you is occupied.

Laught Lines

"What was your business before you were captured by my men?" asked the chief of the cannibals.

"I was the assistant editor of a newspaper," answered the captive.

"In that case, cheer up, young man," said the chief, "Promotion awaits you. After dinner you'll be editor-in-chief."

Mayor Iles Signs Proclamation for October As National Potato Chip Month

Mayor Charles F. Iles signs Proclamation declaring October as National Potato Chip Month in Des Moines.

Receiving the Proclamation is M. C. Linden, Vice President in Charge of Sales and also present was N. C. Rasmussen, President of Hiland Potato Chip Company, who are coordinating National Potato Chip Month activities for the State of Iowa.

National Potato Chip Month calls our attention to the important part potato chips play in Iowa's agricultural economy. Thousands of acres are devoted to raising potatoes and approximately 25 per cent—1 out of every 5 potatoes grown in the United States are processed into potato chips. The National per capita consumption of potato chips is just over 3 pounds of potato chips yearly while in Des Moines the yearly per capita consumption is practically double the national average. Potato chips are used in new and interesting ways.

An example is this new Hiland recipe:

HILAND DINNER IN A DISH

1 lb. of ground beef
1 small can whole kernel corn
1 small can green beans
1 can condensed cream of tomato soup
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 onion chopped
1 tbs. fat
½ tsp. salt
Dash of pepper
Dash of garlic salt
Crushed HILAND Potato Chips
Brown meat and chopped onion in fat. Drain canned vegetables and stir a third cup of the liquid into the condensed soup. Stir in seasonings and turn into a greased casserole. Top with crushed HILAND Potato Chips. Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes.

Autumn days are at their peak of glory . . . The lazy wonderful week-end weather was ideal with many residents just lolling around while others, more industrious, raked the ever falling leaves . . . And if you are one of those persons who has one or no trees and lives north next door to a neighbor with two or more maple trees, the gentle southern breezes probably blew more leaves in your yards than in the yard of the owner of the trees.

All of us have our embarrassing moments and Miss Charlene Wharton, former director of Willkie House, surely had hers when she returned from a flying trip south and east last week. In her words she had surpassed the "dog house stage into the pig sty."

When Miss Wharton left town she had only expected to be gone several days; however, when she got away she decided to spend a few days longer, and make a trip to New York, in addition to several other cities in several states. It had been some time since she had been in New York and she especially wanted to make a trip to one of her most admired "melting pots of the world," the UN building.

The long and short of it is when she returned to Des Moines she learned that she had missed a big celebration planned in her honor at Willkie House on last Wednesday. Under the enthusiastic directions of Mesdames Maud Bayles and Margaret Carson, members of the Golden Agers, Garden Club and Senior Citizens, gathered some 50 strong, and with loads of delectable foods prepared, sat down to await the honoree's arrival. They waited and waited, expecting her to hop off an incoming plane any minute, but alas, she never showed up. The whole affair had been planned as a surprise, only it turned out to be a surprise in a different way.

The Republican party must be commended for substituting a stage show for cold box suppers in its 1962 fund raising campaign. The two-night stand at KRNT left all comers with the feeling that it indeed "had been a wonderful show." All of the participants are stars and headliners in their own right, and seldom appear on the same agenda for one or two night stands. The Rhythm King dancing trio got the show off to a "banging start" and almost literally stole the show in the beginning, plus a brief comeback appearance with Pearl Bailey, who lived up in live appearance to her television and movie reputation.

There were about a dozen Negro patrons, that we saw and know of several others, but we will forego mentioning any names as we are sure we will omit someone, and we would not like to do that.

While browsing through a local supermarket ad in the local daily paper, we idly scanned winners of Kelvinator washing machines. To our surprise we noted the name of Mrs. Alvera Orr of 3508 27th street, as a winner.

For some time we have been contemplating launching a new feature series in the Bystander, similar but broader in scope to that of "Who's Who in Iowa." Our first article in the new series, "People You Know," begins this week. Candidates for the series may be anyone, a big wig in the community, or little known only to friends and neighbors, someone with an unusual hobby, job, or does voluntary or charity work, or little known deeds. We are particularly interested in the person who seldom appear in the news. Persons who appeared in the original "Who's Who in Iowa," are not eligible unless they since have accomplished out of the ordinary that did not appear in their story then. Secretaries or other employees in jobs heretofore not open to members of their race are needed or someone who retires or receives a service award pin or similar recognition. They may be someone who spends a lot of time with youngsters, with church work, with charity organizations. If you know of someone you consider eligible just call us and let us know. And of course, we hope you follow the series every week.

In addition we expect to start our "Student of the Week," series in the next week or so. Junior and senior high students are eligible. They need not be an honor student, just wholesome youngsters, demonstrating that the good youths far outnumber those who stray into the wrong paths.

Mrs. Ralph Parker, president of the L.T. Club, which is promoting the "Potential Debs of 1963" next spring, called to bring us up to date on the progress of the plans.

She says a meeting of parents (both mothers and fathers) will be held Tuesday, Oct. 23 at 7:30 p.m. in the South sea room of the YWCA. Although she is asking for parents who are particularly interested in having their children participate in the "Potential Debs," the meeting is open to the public. Dancing classes

LEGION CONTINUES TO DUCK CRITICISM OF SUBSERVICE GROUPS

At its annual meeting in Las Vegas, Nev., last week, the American Legion convention, among others, passed a resolution calling for a congressional investigation of the radical organization, the Muslims. With this, most people will agree fully for any organization which has for its motive the division of the people, one against the other, and the destruction of others as a part of its principles is dangerous and has no place in American life.

But, while such an investigation is desirable, it has always been a mystery why such organizations as the Klu Klux Klan and the White Citizens Councils have gone unnoticed. Both are dangerous and do America a disservice.

The Legion has a beautiful preamble to its constitution which is the opposite of such groups as the Klan and citizens council. But apparently the Legion has been so well dominated by southern states that with the chance of causing dissension within the organization, members who know better fear to attack or classify such groups as dangerous.

Over the years, and particularly during the 1920's, the Klan was a much feared organization committing crimes generally in the darkness for which no member was punished. This was lawlessness personified. And yet the Legion ducked any criticism of it until other forces, even in the South, had so destroyed its effectiveness that everybody jumped on the band wagon to oppose them and yet on the basis of the preamble, the Legion should have been one of the first to be counted in opposition to the Klan. This position does not argue will for an organization which boasts a law and order stand in its constitution.

REPUBLICANS PRODUCE
FINE SHOW

Last week, Polk County Republicans brought to Des Moines a stage show laden with talent, each a star in his own right. The affair was labeled Go-Party designed to raise funds for the party. Tickets sold for ten and twenty-five dollars. And while the affair was a financial success, far too few people turned out to witness the show.

In these days of television and radio, towns such as Des Moines seldom get a live show of this magnitude. Naturally, the services of the performers were paid for. They are expensive. And since today actors are so expensive, they perform in towns where the big money is—where people are in the habit of paying big money for such things.

Somewhat, Iowa people don't relish paying big money for shows. There is not much of a disposition now to support such events at top prices. And those who do often go elsewhere to see them.

This was an excellent fund raising project—far better than the $25.00 dinners some of which have drawn over three thousand people in one night.

Des Moines has no baseball team partly because the public does not support the management. Good shows will go other places for the same reason.

CONGRESS IGNORES
CIVIL RIGHTS

The second session of the 87th Congress adjourned over the weekend. It was a long session spiced with considerable publicity.

During the campaign in 1960, President Kennedy embraced and running on the Democratic platform promised the immediate passage of civil rights legislation and the issuance of an executive order barring discrimination in housing financed with federal funds.

Except for the extension to September, 1963, of the life of the Civil Rights Commission, none of the promises has been kept. And the confirmation of Thurgood Marshall's nomination for U. S. Circuit Judge was almost blocked by the Democratic leadership in Congress.

It is certainly deceitful to induce a person to render support in return for favors only to ignore them after one party has performed his part of the agreement. Negroes furnished the majorities needed by the Democrats for election in 1960. But to date no explanation for breaking the agreement has been forthcoming.

Special Notice!

Orders of these who plan to participate in the special Anniversary edition should be in the Bystander office on or before October 25.

Hawks Beat Tough Indiana

Down Hoosiers 14-10,
Behind U Quarterback

By Staff Writer

Bloomington, Ind.—A determined Hawkeye eleven, under the steady leadership of Sophomore Quarterback Bob Wallace, came from behind twice to win a well-earned decision over surprisingly tough Indiana, here Saturday, 14-10.

In one respect it was the same team as the previous week against Southern California, when they played without their star quarterback, Matt Szekow, who sat the game out on the bench. In another respect it was an entirely different team this day as the Hawkeyes, who literally gave the game away on fumbles and penalties the week before, handled themselves almost like the Iowa of old.

Scoring

In the Hawk's first appearance at Indiana since 1957, Iowa's fullback Clyde Perkins traveled 50 yards for the first TD. A pass from Wallace to Cloyd Webb, Iowa end, on the two yard line put Iowa in the lead for the winning tally.

It was Iowa's first Big Ten contest. They will meet Wisconsin next week away from home. A touchdown and field goal were responsible for Indiana tallies.

Iowa State Loses
Homecoming Tilt, 29-8
Kansas Gains 312 Yards

By Staff Writer

Ames, Ia.—Before the largest crowd ever paid at Clyde Williams Field, the Iowa State Cyclones continued their losing ways when they lost their homecoming game, 29-8 here Saturday, to a Kansas "new look" attack.

Kansas' offensive new look was what Coach Jack Mitchell termed a "stacked slot" in which the fullback lined up straight in front of the tailback, which made for very effective blocking as Saturday's statistics indicated.

On the ground Kansas amassed a powerful 312 yards to only 66 by Iowa State. Dave Hopmann, the nation's leading ground gainer last year, played with his usual classy style, when he was able, but mostly he was kept contained. Gale Sayers, Kansas backfield racehorse, went into the game needing only a yard for the Big Eight rushing lead, and gained 94 yards for his day's total.

Drake Keeps Rolling;
Beats S.C.I. 21-15

By Staff Writer

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Drake kept on their winning ways here Saturday but before the game was over, they were wondering if they were going to come out of it with their uniforms on their backs. State College of Iowa, always a tough opponent for the Bulldogs, were trailing 21-0 at the half, but came back in the second portion of the game to score 15 and even threaten to go ahead. The Panthers' winning streak was stopped at four straight; the Bulldogs have a 4-1 record for the season. Quarterbacks Bill Harper and Terry Zang and Karl Kassulke were the stars for Drake. Quarterback Dave Boals sparked the Panthers comeback.

Philly Happy Over
Liston's Fight Purse

Philadelphia—It may be another "taxing" matter to Sonny Liston but it's like a letter from home to the City of Brotherly Love.

City Revenue Commissioner Martin Rotman announced that for every $100,000 Liston earns, the city will get $1,625.

Why? Because Liston as a Philadelphian must pay the 1.625 per cent wage tax on his purses. Thus the city will win in every fight, purse permitting, whether Liston wins or loses.

Nathaniel Craddock

In was incorrectly stated in a story in last week's issue that Nathaniel Craddock was the grandson of Mrs. Lavonia Craddock. Nathaniel, who is a senior at Parsons college, is the grandson of Mrs. Edna M. Craddock, 1109 19th street, with whom he makes his home. His father is Edwin Craddock of 1413 Maple street.

Football

The Iowa guys won their game at Indiana but we still wonder what they really have. Wisconsin should tell. A lot of people were shocked at the defeat of Iowa's homecoming opponent, Purdue, by "Little Miami" of Ohio. Well, Little Miami happens to have a big fast line that averages 230 pounds from end to end. They also have a couple of 220 pound backs who can outrun jackrabbits. Then there are adequate replacements for these guys. Four of the big fellows are Negroes so we are told.

As we looked at the Iowa game films last weekend we could see where just a break of two or even one step meant the difference between a good gain and a touchdown run for Iowa. Maybe, they will get going before long.

Drake has been rolling along unnoticed, and now they will get a good test Saturday. If they pass this one, it must be said of Harper, Proctor and company that they have a ball club.

Cyclones

Iowa State illustrated the hazards of coaching as told by one coach who said, "One year they name a street after you. Then the next year they chase you down that same street."

Last year the head man was the greatest. Now they hang him in effigy.

High School

Our high school race is turning into quite a deal. North finally shook Clyde Duncan loose for long runs and ran over Boone. Maybe the guy has learned to control his speed until he turns the corner or else he just out runs everyone.

East has finally molded into a tough team and should be hard to beat from now on. This guy, Pete Bell, is he a younger brother of the Bell boys who were rough fullbacks at East in the fifties and late forties?

Tech has finally got back on the winning track and has begun to look like the team they were supposed to be at the start of the season.

And through it all Lincoln rolls on unbeaten and Roosevelt is coming upon the outside. Could be awfully tough by the end of the season.

Sad Sam Released

Detroit — Sad Sam Jones, who pitched two major league no-hitters for several seasons possessed one of the most blinding curves in baseball, received an unconditional release last week from the Detroit Tigers.

The release followed waivers by the rest of the major league clubs.

Jones, a 36-year-old right hander, had been bothered with arm trouble and has undergone treatment for a growth on his neck. Sad Sam appeared in 30 games with the Tigers this year and had a 2-4 won-lost record with an earned run average of 3.67 in 81 1/3 innings.

Sugar Ray Is Big Loser;
Wife Divorces Him

Mexico City—The old saying that "life begins at 40" doesn't seem to be working out too well for former boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson.

Now 42, the once great Sugar Man has suffered two jolting setbacks within the last two weeks—one in a London prize ring, the other in a Mexican divorce court.

Ex-Chorus Girl

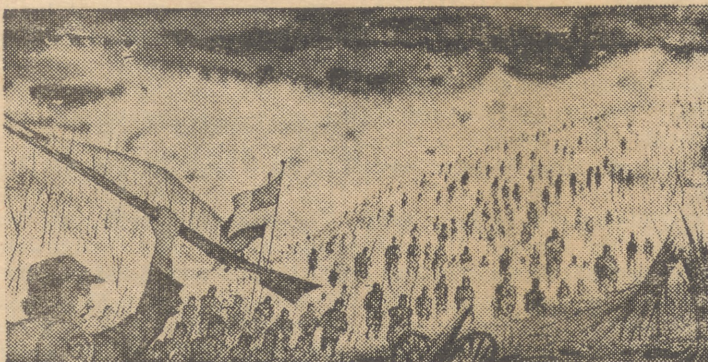

Robinson's wife, the glamorous ex-chorus girl Edna Mae, obtained a divorce from Ray in Juarez, a Mexican border town across the Rio Grande from El Paso, Texas.

Just a few days before, the "aging" former champion had dropped a decision in London to young Terry Downes. Though he staged a valiant rally toward the end of the fight, Robinson just didn't have enough to "catch" the British fighter.

Mrs. Robinson and her attorney, Francisco Javier Alvarez, appeared in court for the hearing in which she alleged "incompatibility." She was granted custody of their son, Ray Robinson, Jr., 13, and alimony of $200 a month.

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862 . . . the same year that

IN IOWA, the whole state celebrated Grant's great victory at Fort Donelson, in which Iowa troops were the first to breach the fort's defenses. Beer was one of the favorite beverages of the troops . . . just as Iowans today continue to find pleasure in beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation. But beer means more than enjoyment to our state. The Brewing industry contributes over $1/2 million tax dollars to Iowa each year—money that helps support our hospitals, schools and highways.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

In all January, just what did I do? Did I bring my very best too?

In February what does my record show? Did I go places that you bade me go?

In March as I awoke with the Spring did I rejoice to hear your Robins sing?

In April, did I thank you for the rain that you sent to bring the beautiful flowers again?

In May you gave the flowers birth, Fall?

but what did I do, and what was it worth?

In June, you gave more warmth to the Sun, and did I thank you Lord for all you've done?

In July, you bade the harvest grow and then did I my gratitude show? Come August, now the crops are made. Did I thank you Lord for the beautiful shade?

In September, Lord, do you recall did I give you thanks for another Fall?

October brings beautiful colors to the trees Lord. Did I give you thanks for these?

In November Lord, you sent the snow for some shut-ins did my lighted candles glow?

Tis' December now and my year must end. Grant that I be more faithful as my new year begins.

"Sound Constitutional
Government Is the Best Protection for Minorities"
-Senator Hickenlooper

In his letter printed below to James B. Morris during the debate on a measure which would make a six grade education the test as qualification for voting, Senator Hickenlooper presents a SOUND argument for SOUND government rather than tricky vote-getting maneuvers which, in the end, hurt everybody. The great progress Negroes have made in recent years has been based squarely on the Constitution.

SENATOR HICKENLOOPER

United States Senate
COMMITTEE ON FOREIGN RELATIONS

May 17th, 1962.

Mr. James B. Morris
223 1/2 Locust Street
Des Moines, Iowa

Dear Mr. Morris:

I have your letter of May 15th on the Cloture matter. I am not necessarily against cloture as a principle, and I have on a couple of occasions in the past signed Cloture petitions on civil rights matters, when I thought every reasonable effort had been made to bring the issue to a vote. There are two questions involved, however, in the particular issue that has been before the Senate for the last couple of weeks.

The most important issue to me is that I think the Constitution is clear on the point that the States have the right to determine the qualifications of the voters, and I think the issue should be approached by way of a Constitutional amendment. I would expect to support a properly worded Constitutional amendment along this line.

Secondly, there was no real effort made by the majority leadership in the Senate to bring this debate to a head; the sessions were leisurely, adjournment was had each day around 4:30 to 5:00, extraneous matter was permitted occupying the time of the debate on many occasions, and I feel that cloture was not indicated under such circumstances.

I have repeatedly contended that any filibuster can be broken if a determined effort is made, and in fact we have actually broken every filibuster without the use of cloture in the last eighteen years, if a determined effort was made to do so. I also want to keep the Senate as the one remaining parliamentary body in the world where free debate is the order of the day rather than establishing a policy where debate can be arbitrarily strangled - even though on occasions we all get very restless with long delays. These occasions are comparatively rare and there is a great fundamental principle of free government involved.

I believe Senator Case of South Dakota is proposing a Constitutional amendment, and I think this proposal will have considerable support, but we should be very careful how we attempt to alter the Federal Constitution by legislative means rather than by the orderly means contemplated by our fundamental law. I think this constitutional question was very important in the thinking of a substantial majority of those who voted against the imposition of cloture and the legislative approach to this matter.

I note that you will be in Washington and plan to stop in. I am sorry that I will not be here because I will be in Iowa. June 4th is Primary day, and I expect to be there on the 4th and 5th. However, we will be able to get together one of these days before too long.

With personal regards, I am

Sincerely yours,

Bourke B. Hickenlooper
