Ala. Minister Testifies to Agony

Missouri Couple Jailed in D.M. Robbery Case

Caught Near Osceola;
$453 Found by Police

A Kansas City, Mo., couple are being held in Polk county jail in lieu of $10,000 bond each, on charges of larceny in the daytime. They were identified as Joann Rye, 22, and Lloyd Pollard, 23.

They were arrested last Thursday afternoon, Oct. 25 in Osceola, Ia., shortly after a cash box containing about $500 had been taken from a Windsor Heights drug store. William Thompson, pharmacist at Harder Pharmacy, 6601 University avenue, told Windsor Heights police he missed the cash box shortly after waiting on the couple.

Cash Box

Thompson said the man purchased a postal money order with a large bill. Thompson said he took change for the bill from the cash box. The woman then asked Thompson to help her with a purchase.

"I didn't know I was robbed until the next customer came and I went to make change from the cash box," Thompson said.

Thompson said apparently the man took the cash box while he was helping the woman. He said the man was carrying a woman's purse on his arm.

Radio Alert

After a state police radio alert that the couple might be traveling south on Interstate 35, the Clarke County sheriff's department set up a roadblock at the Osceola exit.

The couple answered the description given in the alert, a deputy said. He said the couple had $453 in small bills and change.

Mrs. Sarah Jett Dies of Stroke in St. Louis
At Home of Daughter; Plan Services Friday

MRS. SARAH E. JETT

Services for Mrs. Sarah E. Jett, 70, one of Des Moines most active workers in interdenominational organizations, will be held at 1 p.m. Friday at Corinthian Baptist church with the Rev. N. R. Olphin officiating.

Burial will be in Glendale cemetery. She died Sunday morning of a stroke at the home of her daughter, in St. Louis, Mo. She had been taken there following her release from Mercy hospital early in the summer.

Instead of flowers the family requests contributions be made to Corinthian Baptist church and the Des Moines branch of NAACP.

Birthplace

Born in Kansas Mrs. Jett had come to Des Moines in 1917 and almost immediately became a member of Corinthian Baptist where she remained active through the years, serving as Sunday school teacher, superintendent of the young People's department, church clerk from 1933 to 1958, secretary of the board of trustees and member of the board of Christian education.

Interacial

Her interdenominational activities began in 1932 and she continued to be active in the Des Moines Council of Church Women, later transferring her membership to the United Church Women of Des Moines, of which she served as vice president. The climax of her interacial activities came in March 1958 when she was cited for 40 years of work by the United Church Women of Des Moines at a brotherhood dinner.

Other Civic Activities

Active in other civic areas, Mrs. Jett was a past president of the Iowa Association of Club Women, chairman and founder of its scholarship committee, secretary of its Administrative board; member of the Administrative board of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, Inc., served as chairman of various departments of the Regional Association of Colored Women's clubs, one of the organizers of the Parliamentary Law and Culture club. In addition she was active in the state and local branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Survivors

Before retiring Mrs. Jett worked as clerk in the department of public instruction in the statehouse.

Surviving are her daughter, Mrs. Atrell Smith; a sister, Mrs. Jesse Mae Rogers, Des Moines; two granddaughters and two great-grandsons. Hammett and Robinson funeral home was in charge of arrangements.

Human Rights Group Fears Change in Its Ordinance

City Council members met with members of the Des Moines' Commission on Human Rights for luncheon at the YWCA Thursday, Oct. 25 in an effort to quiet fears that the council will tamper with or revise the human rights ordinance.

Rights commission members said they and the Council should present a united front to the community against discrimination, rather than bickering over organizational. Since last spring there have been rumors that the council would take over or restrict the rights operation.

Joint Group

A joint committee of council and commission members was formed to try to work out agreement on what—if any—changes are to be made in the ordinance setting out the powers and duties of the rights commission.

Mayor Charles F. Iles named Councilmen George A. Harper and Jens Grothe to represent the council.

Chairman Robert M. Johnson appointed Mrs. Jack Cleveland, Arthur Davis and Robert A. Jackson for the commission.

New Secretary

Chairman Johnson said the commission hopes to select a new executive secretary within two weeks to participation submitted to it by the nation's colleges and universities.

And Violence for All When Talledega Students Walk into Congregation

Talledega, Ala.—The agony of the Southern white minister was personified in Circuit Court here during the hearing of an injunction against integration leaders.

The Rev. John Willard Vess, a Wesleyan Methodist pastor, revealed the terrible conflicts he had when three Negro students knelt in at his church last Easter Sunday.

Mr. Vess told Judge William C. Sullivan that he asked police to arrest the students to protect them from angry white church attenders, including a man with a knife.

Judge Sullivan is holding a hearing to decide if Talladega College students and others should be permanently barred from taking part in integration activities.

175 People

The defendants are now under a temporary order forbidding picketing, marches, sit-ins, kneel-ins, and parades. The order was issued after a series of demonstrations last April.

Mr. Vess said there were 175 people in the church when the students walked past an usher and down the center aisle. The congregation was standing and singing at the time.

Violence

The minister related that two men in the church, including a professional football player, wanted to drag the students out of the church. Mr. Vess stopped them. Instead, he asked the Negroes to leave because of the confusion they had caused by their presence. He said he did this because he believes "God is not the author of confusion."

Mr. Vess said in his statement to the students: "I love the colored race. I love the Negroes, but there is a lot of confusion being caused and I would ask you kindly to leave to keep from being harmed."

One With Knife

The minister told the court: "There was one man with a knife. I knew that unless the Negroes left of their own accord, they would have been dragged out and there would have been bedlam. I felt it was for the protection of the Negroes to let the police take charge."

Police did arrest the students but not the man with the knife or those who threatened to drag the Negroes out of the church.

Effects

Mr. Vess also described the effect of the incident on his congregation. "Before the students came in," he said, "there was real spirit in the service and people were thinking about the Lord. But something like this sort of takes the spirit out of you. We went on as best we could

150 Attend Elks Banquet Honoring John Williams, Mrs. Bernice Carter Saturday

Over 150 persons witnessed a very colorful and impressive affair Saturday evening at Younkers Tearoom when they attended an appreciation and testimonial banquet honoring two outstanding members of Elksdom.

Program

Against a background of decorations in "autumn splendor" the program opened with the singing of the National Anthem. Rev. E. P. Williams of St. Paul A.M.E. church gave the invocation followed by a solo by Mr. Edward Bayles of Burns Methodist church.

Mrs. Beatrice Washington, P.G.D.R., assistant state directress of education, gave the welcome, responded to by Mrs. Arretta Butler, Sioux City, Ia., Auxiliary President of Middle Western States Association.

Honorees

Mrs. Butler introduced guest speaker, Mr. George W. Turner, P.G.E.R., and state director of education from Cedar Rapids, Ia. Mrs. Emma Turner, P.G.D.R., also of Cedar Rapids, introduced the honorees.

Alabama

SEE FRONT PAGE and then dismissed after a short time.

Soon after the service, Mr. Vess was visited at his home by Dr. Everett MacNair, white chaplain at Talladega College. "I felt that Dr. MacNair would understand the burden on the heart of a minister," Mr. Vess said. "I would like to do anything to get this thing straightened out."

What To Do?

The minister said Dr. MacNair was asked what the Negroes would do if they could not obtain their goals by nonviolent direct action (N.V.D.A.). Dr. MacNair replied that Southern whites should appreciate the Negro students' nonviolent approach, because if they fail in their appeal others may try to settle the issue by force and violence.

Later, at a special meeting of the Talladega Ministerial Association, Dr. MacNair read a statement on the subject but the association would not hear a statement by another minister.

FORTY YEARS AS EDITOR

In November, I will have been editor and publisher of the Bystander for forty years. That's a long time and I often wonder how I have been able to continue so long.

In that time I've been interested in raising the level of the Negro in Iowa. Certainly, forty years ago it was not at a high level.

But during that time, I have been in the midst of the many changes which have come to pass much because the Bystander has stood solidly for those changes. For instances forty years ago only one Negro woman was employed in an office either public or private. In fact, for years practically every Negro girl started her career at the Bystander office. No longer is this necessary.

It just occurred to me, and I have decided to publish my 40th years anniversary edition on November 8 which will include sponsors in a two page ad. Clubs, lodges and churches will not be solicited to participate as most of them do a pretty good job in other areas. However they will not be excluded. On the other hand individuals will be asked to participate.

Negro Students In 145 of 234 Tax Supported Colleges

Chicago—Mississippi is one of three southern states which—until James Meredith entered the University of Mississippi October 1—have had no integration in tax supported colleges and universities. The others are Alabama and South Carolina.

Of 234 tax supported colleges and universities in southern and border states 145 admit Negro students.

Latest available figures are for the school year of 1961-62. Officials estimate that enrollment figures are higher this fall.

The University of Arkansas had 20 Negro students, University of Florida 1, Florida State University 1, University of Georgia 2, Georgia Institute of Technology 3, Louisiana State University 318 on two campuses, University of North Carolina 49, University of Tennessee 97, University of Texas 175 and University of Virginia 22.

Southern Mississippi School Promises No Rioting Or Bloodshed

Laurel, Miss.—Dr. William D. McCain, president of the University of Southern Mississippi, said that integration would bring no rioting or bloodshed to his campus.

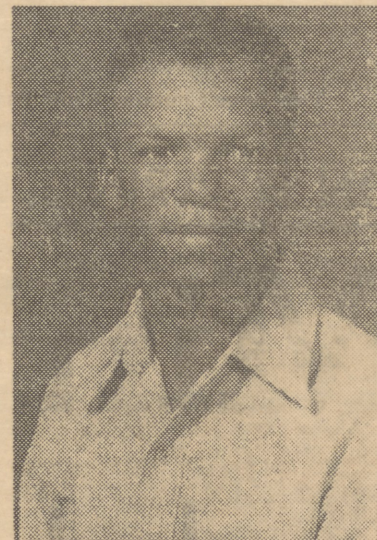

He told a Jones county alumni meeting Wednesday he would fight to preserve segregation at the university, "but if I get my back to the wall, I want to ask you and all friends of the university to stay off the campus and trust me to handle it."

"A Look at Fashion in the Autumn Haze" was the theme of the fashion show sponsored by the Waterloo Women's Civic Club. The affair was attended by 150 persons. A banquet preceded the fashion review which was held at the YWCA on Saturday evening. Most of the models wore their own creation. There were two and three piece suits; coats with matching hats and purses; daytime and after five dresses of rich paisleys and brocades; party, evening and ball gowns. A jumper dress of green corduroy for the small school girl was modeled by Renee Byrd. This was made by her mother, Mrs. Palmer Byrd.

Mrs. James Jackson was commentator for the affair and the models were Mesdames Earline Crawford, Harry Edwards, Louise Walker, T. S. Norman, Otis Coney, Clarence Benjamin, Rosie Smith, Flossie Mohorn, Bernice Durham, Clinton Jones Palmer Byrd, Miss Marquita Allen, Miss Imogene Phillips and Miss Lynette Haugan and Renee Byrd. Music was by Mrs. Melvin Robinson.

The Civic Club was organized in 1950 and incorporated in 1960. Membership totals 53. Besides active participation in civic affairs a scholarship is awarded each year. Club history was given by Mrs. Whittier Bryant. Mrs. Rueben Walker is club president while Mrs. Clarence Benjamin was general chairman. Almost forgot to tell you of the transformation wig modeled by Mrs. Palmer Byrd. It was made by Mrs. Alice Martin.

Antioch Baptist Church sponsored Youth Day on Sunday afternoon with youth choirs of Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Cedar Rapids, and Shiloh Baptist Church, Des Moines, as guests. The program consisted of music by the choir and panel

Says Mississippi Is Eye Of Segregation Hurricane

Erie, Pa.—Likening segregation to a hurricane, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins told members of the NAACP branch here "the eye of the storm is in Mississippi but certainly the fringe winds and rain are felt up here."

Speaking at the branch's annual Freedom Fund dinner, Mr. Wilkins noted that "James Meredith showed millions of white Americans what kind of leaders and public opinion the southern Negro has been contending with for the past 100 years." Americans will see more integration fights like the one that gripped Mississippi, he predicted.

Turning to the North, Mr. Wilkins said that anti-Negro feeling is more subtle in some ways than in the South but it still creates serious problems in housing, employment and education.

"Slowly we are destroying myths—the ones about the Negro deprecating property, not paying his financial obligations and not being able to handle jobs requiring high degrees of skill. But we still see the Negro being jammed into inadequate homes at exorbitant rents and we still have too many employers content to blind themselves to the Negro as a potential asset to his forces."

Basket Weave Fence

A NEW idea in fencing can provide privacy to your patio or it may be used as a lawn divider. Some families have used this attractive basket weave design to screen an unsightly corner. Built in units 6 feet long and 5 feet high, the fence may be set up to form a corner enclosure. It may be set up also as a straight or a staggered fence.

Pliable but strong Masonite Tempered Presdwood is used for weaving this fence between lumber supports. Available at lumber yards, the panels may be cut readily with a cross-cut saw. They take a beautiful paint job which, with the unusual basket weave design, will enhance the appearance of any lawn.

Flower pots may be hung on holders formed from wire coat hangers that are hooked over the Tempered Presdwood near a post. The plan may be obtained by sending 20 cents in coin to Craft Patterns, Elmhurst, Ill., and requesting pattern No. 436.

MEDICAL SCHOOLS NOW SEEK NEGROES TO FILL DOCTOR SHORTAGE, EBONY SAYS

Chicago—The U.S. today has "an alarming shortage of physicians," and medical schools which used to rebuff Negroes are now "vigorously seeking" them, says the November issue of Ebony.

"The problem today is no longer one of keeping Negroes out of the field of medicine, but of coaxing them in," Ebony declares.

Record Low

"Today, the need for doctors is crucial. Racial barriers in medicine are at a record low. Yet there is a 25 per cent decrease in the number of Negro medical students since 1956 and far too few Negro doctors in a rapidly increasing population."

The racial barriers have been lowered, Ebony says, because the shortage of Negro doctors is part of an overall shortage.

Difficult

By 1975 the U.S. will need 2,000 more medical graduates and 20 more medical schools, besides the five now being planned, to keep the present ratio of 132 doctors for every 100,000 people, the Ebony article points out.

More Acute

When it comes to Negro doctors, the problem is even more acute, because talented Negroes, discouraged by the lack of opportunity in medicine, "began to turn elsewhere for the privilege of serving humanity," Ebony explains. Actually, the number of Negroes seeking medical training has been declining ever since 1935, the magazine points out.

4,000

"Only 164 of the last 7,400 medical school graduates and only 4,000 of the 260,000 physicians in the U.S. are Negroes."

Ebony says the three main obstacles to Negroes entering medical school—"race, finance and preparedness"—are being removed.

Trade Union Group Supports NAACP Labor Bias Charges

Detroit—The Trade Union Leadership Council, composed largely of Negro members of the United Automobile Workers, AFL-CIO, has passed a resolution commending the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for its "prompt espousal of support" for Hubert Hill, NAACP labor secretary, who is carrying forward an NAACP campaign against discrimination by labor unions.

Resolution

The resolution, adopted at a general membership meeting of the 9,000 member organization here on Oct. 22, also recorded its "unqualified support" of Mr. Hill in the "fight against discrimination in the ILGWU, other unions and management."

The resolution asserts: "there has been no refutation" of the NAACP charges that the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union discriminates against Negro and Puerto Rican worker in job assignments and in appointments and election to offices in the union.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Happy Hunting!

Pheasants, ducks and deer take cover! Here comes the man with the gun. On second thought, don't bother to hide. He's likely to be his own first victim.

For one thing, many a doughty duck hunter has come home minus ducks and plus a bang-up case of pneumonia. If you have a cold, don't sit for hours in a chilly rain waiting for the ducks to fly over.

Weather Reports

Pay special attention to the weather reports before you leave the house. In some parts of this country of ours the weather can change in ten minutes from a balmy day to a freezing winter one, complete with blizzard. Hunters have been frozen to death for disregarding weather warnings.

Guns

If you've been drinking heavily or are hungover, stay away from guns.

Perhaps the hunter's worst enemy is his own gun. How do you carry your gun? By the stock at all times, it is to be hoped. If you carry the gun under your arm, the barrel should point forward and downward. If over your shoulder, point the barrel upward. Don't rely on the safety. The best mechanical device can fail. Rely on your own good sense.

Over Fences

When you scramble through a fence, lay the gun down on the ground until you're on the other side. Never leave it propped against a fence post.

And no matter how tired you are at the end of the day, don't grasp the gun by the barrel and let the stock trail over the ground. That's asking for trouble.

Before you start cleaning your gun at home you make sure, of course, that it isn't loaded.

Every season sees its crop of hunters bagged by other hunters. Wear a bright red or yellow cap so you won't be mistaken for a deer. And don't shoot at every rustle in the bushes. Wait until you can see what you're shooting at.

A Word For Voters!

Good Gov't. just doesn't happen . . . it is caused . . . when the voters act wisely!

Rarely there comes along a candidate with courage to be different. His type reflects the image good gov't. can really have, where each person can compete on an ability basis not one's "connections."

This refreshing approach is the platform of "Ray" G. Reed, Rep. candidate for Co. Treasurer. He favors:

- 1—Adoption of a "merit" system for employees and attract career minded people.
- 2—End campaign contributions from office staff.
- 3—Full time devoted to duties.
- 4—Fight spiral of 30% rise of office costs in past 3 yrs.
- 5—Leadership in tax law change.

You not only have a chance to elect the man but also vote for the principles he stands for.

We don't enjoy dragging old skeletons out of the closets but we bet you thought we were really in for it when you gazed out your windows last Wednesday, Oct. 24 and beheld all those large snowflakes wending their way earthward. Then what should happen, the caprices of Iowa weather turned its quixotic face and beamed all that good sunshine on us over the weekend, and at this writing was continuing its warm blessings. What with the Cuban crisis and all that snow it surely looked as if we were really headed for a bad winter.

Hobgoblins and witches roamed at will Tuesday night, trading "playful tricks" for treats. Just think we used to go out and have a lot of fun with playful pranks that at worse brought a wry smile to the receivers, without a sweet treat to go along with it.

Several beauticians in Des Moines will probably end the weekend almost literally dead on their feet, but exhilarated with the outcome of their respective events here. On Saturday they will participate in the installation ceremonies of the Des Moines chapter of Jack and Jill of America. Then on Sunday and Monday they will participate and serve as unofficial hosts along with other beauticians, to the 11th annual educational beautician clinic at Crescent Beauty school.

Miss Charlene Wharton, former director of Willkie House, left the city early Sunday morning for her new position as dean of women at Atlanta university at Atlanta, Ga. Accompanying her was Mr. Leon Jones, Jr., Parsons college student, who was going to Natchez, Miss., where he will visit his grandfather for several days.

Several days before we had received a card from Miss Wharton, postmarked Denver, Colo. She had gone to visit her ailing father and went on to Boulder, Colo., where she visited on the campus of her alma mater, the University of Colorado.

She returned here in time to receive confirmation papers from the president of Atlanta university about her new jobs, which she was looking forward to with much enthusiasm. She had gone previously to the campus for an in person interview and then later went on to New York for a visit there and at the United Nations.

A veteran driver, Miss Wharton was making the trip in her own car, carrying most of her luggage and having other items and furnishings shipped to the campus, where she will have a suite on a ground floor, with a white couple sharing another suite on the same floor.

Miss Wharton, an alumnus of Atlanta U. (Also the same alma mater for her successor at Willkie House, Mrs. Helen B. Stevens), was very enthusiastic about the school, reporting that in addition to its integrated faculty, there are American white students as well as foreign students from Africa and other lands.

She even expressed a desire to do some graduate work there. Before leaving she had contacted AAA who routed her trip for her and she expressed hope she would be able to make it to Nashville, Tenn., the first day. She said the trip would take two days for the 900 miles.

She also promised to stop in Des Moines whenever she went on vacation, and reflected on the many friendships she had made while here, and promised to keep in touch, and especially desired to keep her By-stander subscription as a partial means of doing so.

At the heights of the Cuban crisis last week we had a call from Mrs. Sadie Peters of 1449 Buchanan street, who not only has taken a civil defense nursing course, but was enrolled for the classes at Roosevelt high school. She promises to let us know what was going on. In addition she noted that three others from Lincoln Auxiliary No. 126 of the American Legion, of which she is also a member, had enrolled for the six-week two-hour course. They are Mesdames Henrietta Coates, Ruby Andrews and Victoria Hendricks.

We have become very concerned about youngsters playing in the street, and refusing to, or taking their time about yielding the 'right of way' to motor vehicles when they come along.

Last week we had two separate incidents, one in which a teenager, riding a bike, coming in the opposite direction, suddenly but deliberately turned and cut across our path, as if daring us to hit him. Then there was another case when a group of youngsters reluctantly moved a little to give us room to get by.

We think it is urgent that parents as well as any grownup witnessing such antics, should try to impress upon the minds of these youngsters that they are playing with death or serious injury.

There just might be someone driving down the street, who will not slack his or her speed in time, thinking the youngsters will get out of the way in time. We are sure you will agree that it is a very dangerous thing to do.

VOTE NOV. 6

EXERCISE A PRIVILEGE

Voters of the nation go to the polls Tuesday to cast their ballots for public officials. All Representatives in Congress and a third of the senate will be chosen. Thirty-nine Governors, lesser state, county and township officials will be chosen. This system offers each citizen an opportunity to express his preference for men and measures to run the country—a privilege few countries offer their people. And while in some states devious means are used to keep a segment of the population from the polls, most Americans exercise their privilege of voting.

So, let every citizen go to the polls and roll up a big vote on November 6.

Here in Iowa, a United States Senator will be chosen. The Republican candidate, Senator B. B. Hickenlooper has had a long and useful career both as a state official and U. S. Senator. His seniority has made him second ranking minority on the foreign relations committee and ranking minority member of the atomic energy committee.

He is considered by the Democratic administration in strategic matters and has the confidence of the leaders of his party. Senator Hickenlooper has worked hard at his job. His views on human rights are sound, and while the Bystander has not always agreed with him, (and that is true of any man) the overall picture stands him in as able Senator.

The Democratic candidate, Dr. E. B. Smith, is a professor of Iowa State University at Ames. His political experience is nil and should he be elected, his place would be at the bottom of any committee assignment. Mostly southern Democrats hold the chairmanship on the important committees.

Gov. Erbe is completing his first two year term—a short period in which to revolutionize or materially change state government. However, he has tried hard, keeping the affairs of state on an even basis, he appointed the first Negro to a state job requiring senate confirmation.

Voters would do well to return both Senator Hickenlooper and Gov. Erbe to office with a complement of reasonable supporting officials who will cooperate to the end that Iowans will be favored with good government at home and able representation in Washington.

BAND CONDUCT

HAMPERS PROGRESS

Last week an open letter, written by the assistant custodian of East High school stadium, appeared in the Bystander. Not only did he deplore the conduct of disorderly youngsters in schools and public places but also proposes to do something about it.

Undoubtedly, such situations have gotten out of hand in many places. Like some of the budding nations they feel like their new found freedom gives them a license to raise Cain.

Primarily, the conduct of the youngsters should be dealt with in the home. Either the parents are too soft and allow their youngsters to exceed decorum or they give such little attention, expecting others to shoulder their responsibility, that little control is exercised over them.

In years gone by the church and Sunday school were the center of social as well as religious activities. Youngsters were taught the ten commandments and other familiar passages in the Bible and implemented by applying them to their daily lives.

This art of indoctrinating young people seems to have slipped. Ministers and Sunday school teachers don't seem to reach the young people. In fact, entirely too much attention is given to the after life rather than the life on this earth. People who live right don't need to worry about the after life.

The Bystander recognizes that the conduct of youngsters today is a serious problem. Time has brought distractions which compete for their time and attention. Any help an agency or group can give these youngsters will be rewarded.

NO EXCUSE FOR COWARDICE; LAWLESSNESS

Forest Evashevski, athletic director at the University of Iowa, deplores the hanging in effigy of head football coach Jerry Burns at Iowa and Duffy Dougherty at Michigan State.

Of course, responsible people will agree with him for lawlessness,

Purdue Stomps Iowa, 26-3

Classy Boilermakers Hypnotize Hawkeyes Handcuffed, Fumbles

Iowa City, Ia. — A determined Hawkeye Eleven, handcuffed by their own mistakes, went down to defeat 26-3, before a classy Purdue football team before a disgruntled Homecoming crowd of 60,100, here Saturday.

Purdue's two alternating teams moved in for the kill in the last half after the Hawks had fought them to a standstill through the first half, leaving the field at halftime trailing 6-3.

However, in the second half, the roof fell in as the Hawkeyes never saw TD dirt, committed a rash of penalties, fumbles and intercepted passes. It was the third defeat in five starts for the Hawkeyes. Purdue made only 33 more yards than Iowa and only two more first downs, but the Boilermakers crossed the goal line for 26 points. The only bright light in the Iowa story of doom and gloom was Captain Larry Ferguson, who, it was learned later, played with an injured leg.

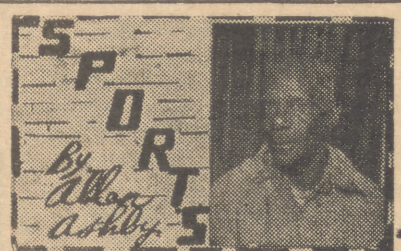

Nothing Unexpected—Cyclones Lose to Mo.

Columbia, Mo.—It was a case of too much Missouri power Saturday as the Tigers, as expected, rolled over the Iowa State Cyclones, 21-6. The Tigers gained 348 yards on the ground and attempted only four passes, none of them good.

The undefeated, once-tied Tigers won by about the predicted margin, blocking and tackling.

whether sneaky or open, is dangerous.

But since Burns is a prodigy of Evashevski, the miserable showing made by the team this fall should be of some concern to the athletic director as well as the dissatisfaction which prompts the cowardly conduct.

We were among the 60,100 fans who saw last Saturday's grid-iron classic between Purdue and Iowa. We sat there and listened to the grandstand coaches and quarterbacks who always called the right play after the one that had just been called, turned out wrong.

All around us we could hear people voicing critical sentiments about the coach who doesn't know what he is doing.

Criticisms

We watched in silence and analyzed to our way of thinking. Three of four enemy scores were the direct result of recovered Iowa fumbles or intercepted passes. What would you have done about that? A good bit of strategy was lost because of a holding penalty. The play, a fake kick, and a run put the ball on the one foot line. But instead the boys found themselves set back 15 yards. Then a while later another good call, a screen pass to Captain Larry Ferguson, resulted in a touchdown, which would have given Iowa a lead. That was nullified by a clipping penalty. How would you have beaten that one?

They marched down the field to about the 20-yard line. You call on the guy who has done the most work in this drive. He fumbles and the other guy recovers.

No Excuses

We are not trying to make any excuses for Iowa. We are simply trying to point out happenings that have ruined the team's chances all year and about which a coach can do nothing.

It is our firm belief that the guys are going to beat somebody who rates before the year is out. The potential is there, but something won't bring it out. We are sure the kids want to win and we know the coach does, so we don't think anybody is deliberately letting down.

Honestly, we don't know what we would do if we were coaching Iowa U. right now. Ohio State, Minnesota and Michigan ahead. They may win one.

But do you know not once did we hear anyone around us say that Purdue had a pretty good football team and that could have something to do with our boys losing. No, they all wanted to replace the coach. We heard so much of "Evy would have done this or that," that once we broke our silence and asked a guy next to us if he supposed Evy would have recovered that fumbled punt. Everybody laughed and then went back to picking the bones of Coach Jerry Burns.

Iowa State

The other team had trouble. Iowa State got set back by Missouri. Some guy remarked that those Iowa boys couldn't do much with those Missouri farmers. Farmers from Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and such places.

Drake came through again and may have a really great season.

Nat Craddock Sets Parsons Record by Scoring 3 Touchdowns

Fairfield, Ia.—Fullback Nat Craddock set a scoring record at Parsons college when he ran for three touchdowns Saturday night against Luther. Parsons won the tilt, 25-12 and clinched a tie for their third Iowa Conference football championship with two games remaining on its schedule.

Still unbeaten, Parsons won its seventh straight victory. Craddock, a former North high player in Des Moines, has a total of 83 points, leading small colleges in the nation

Bradley Passes, But Drake Wins 6th in A Row, 30-13 at Peoria

Peoria, Ill.—Bradley's passer, Bob Caress launched a record total of 71 passes into orbit, but it didn't prevent Drake from coming up with its sixth victory in a row here Saturday, 30-13. LAUGH A LITTLE

A football coach accompanied a prospective tackle to the Dean's office where he attempted to get the boy admitted to school without a written examination. The boy, however, couldn't answer the simplest questions. In desperation, the Dean asked, "How much are six and six?"

"Thirteen," answered the boy. "Aw, let him in anyway, Dean," pleaded the coach, "he only missed it by two."
