NAACP Mourns Passing of Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt

New York — Negro Americans mourn the passing of Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as one who "helped in the struggle for their rights," NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins said today (Nov. 8) in a telegram of condolence to Congressman James Roosevelt, eldest son of the late President and Mrs. Roosevelt.

Mrs. Roosevelt served as a member of the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People from 1945 until her death here on Nov. 7, following a six-week illness. For a period, she also served as a member of the Spingarn Award Committee.

Inspiration

"She inspired millions" of colored Americans, Wilkins said. "They loved her and trusted her and send their heartfelt sympathy to her family."

In 1939, Mrs. Roosevelt made the presentation of the coveted Spingarn Medal to Miss Marian Anderson, the celebrated concert singer. Previously, the First Lady had resigned from the Daughters of the American Revolution after that organization had refused to permit the rental of its Constitution Hall in Washington for a concert by Miss Anderson solely because of her race.

Mrs. Roosevelt was buried beside her husband on their Hyde Park estate.

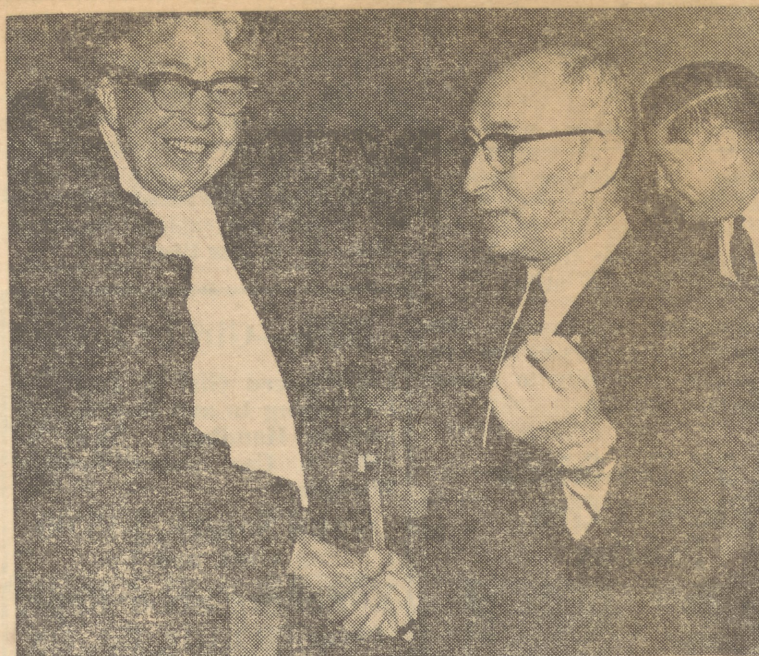

Called The 'First Lady of World'

There is some slight discussion as to who originated the phrase "First Lady of the World" in reference to Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Many people, especially Iowans, attribute it to Mrs. J. B. Morris, Sr., (left in photo), president-emeritus of the Iowa State Conference of Branches of the NAACP. It was in October 1953, that Mrs. Morris, after meticulously working on her introduction speech, "introduced Mrs. Roosevelt at a luncheon as 'the First Lady of the World' because 'that's what she really is.'"

When Mrs. Morris finished the gracious introduction, Mrs. Roosevelt leaned forward and kissed Mrs. Morris on the cheek in gracious acceptance.

Mrs. F.D.R. Congratulating Ike Smalls

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's warm personality and interest in people made her a friend to many the world over; among her multitude of warm admirers is Mr. Ike Smalls.

Life membership chairman for the State Conference of Branches and the Des Moines branches of the NAACP. Above, Mrs. Roosevelt had just come over to congratulate Mr. Smalls on being elected for the 12th year as a national vice president of the National NAACP at the annual meeting in New York last January.

"She was a wonderful woman, nice to talk to," Mr. Smalls recalled after learning of her death. "I saw her every year and she always made a point of coming over to chat. She would even recall reading newspaper or magazine items about some award I had won."

Mr. Smalls, the first Iowan to take out a NAACP life membership, is one of Des Moines outstanding civic and civil rights leaders.

Wilmington, Calif.—A CORE protest action against housing discrimination by Sun-Ray Estates which started on Oct. 15 as a dwell-in, became a dwell-out on Oct. 23 and a jail-in on Nov. 4. The dwell-in took place at a home which the McLennan's a Negro couple, had been denied the right to buy. Seven CORE members who were dwelling-in were arrested Oct. 23 on the citizen's complaint of the tract's sales manager and the house was locked.

2 Carried Out Unconscious By Firemen; Left Inside Locked House Alone

Three small, pre-school-age children barely escaped death here Monday afternoon when they were rescued from their burning, smoke-filled home here by two firemen, who had to break down the locked front door.

Two of the three children were carried from the house unconscious and a third was discovered whimpering in a corner of a front bedroom. They are Effie, 5, Harold, 3, and James W. Camp, 1, children of Mr. and Mrs. Michael P. Camp. Firemen used a resuscitator on the children then took them to Broadlawn Polk County hospital where they were treated for smoke damage to their lungs, and placed in oxygen tents.

Babysitter Out

The three children were alone at the time. Camp, 54, who was at work at the Des Moines Clay company, said a 30-year-old baby sitter looking after the children, had gone to the "store to get some pop." His wife, Willa Mae, 39, was at work at the Oaks Nursing home. Another child, Michael, 7, was in class at Nash school.

The fire was discovered by a neighbor, the Rev. E. A. Tindrell, who called the fire department after noticing smoke and flames coming from the house.

Rescued Children

The children were carried from the house by Fireman Harold Gable, 31, and Engineer Burton (Buzz) Ramsey, both of Fire Station No. 15. They donned smoke masks because they reported the smoke so thick in the house they could not see and had to feel around for the children.

Fire Capt. Charles Turner said: "We had no idea there was anyone in the house. Most of the fire was to the rear. When they (Gable and Ramsey) opened the front door, they saw one child lying on the floor when the smoke lifted."

Ramsey spotted a second child lying on a bed in a front bedroom. Gable felt around the floor until he found the third child in the corner. "It wouldn't have taken much longer and they'd have been gone, Gable said.

Ray Charles, Blind Musician, Had His Own Combo 17

Blind singer-pianist Ray Charles, known the nation over as the most creative musical genius of all time, will appear in concert at the KRNT Theater in Des Moines on Sunday, Nov. 25 at 8 p.m. He will be accompanied by his orchestra and his talented female vocalist, the Singing Raleets.

Charles, now 28, was totally blinded at six years old and lost both his parents at 15 years. He was sent to New Orleans to a school for the blind where he developed an interest in music.

At 17 years old he formed his own combo and later became the first Negro act to have a sponsored television show in the northwest.

Although Ray Charles is dedicated to his music and is seldom far from it in his thoughts he has a variety of other interests and hobbies. Another important sidelight to the Ray Charles career is his devotion to spirituals.

Some day the talented pianist, saxophonist, singer, composer-arranger hopes to write for a chorus throughout the South. His subject for the evening will be "The Economics of Segregation."

In 1954 he and his wife, Ann, helped a Negro family buy their home in Louisville. The home was bombed by neighbors shortly after, and Braden was arrested and tried for sedition and trying to overthrow the State of Kentucky. The theory of the prosecution was that the Bradens had sold the home knowing it would be bombed and hoping that racial strife would result and then political revolution.

People You Know

Mr. Gus Smith Is Writing Book to "Prove A Point"

BY FRANCES E. HAWTHORNE

This is the third in a series on "People You Know." They may be outstanding in church or community affairs, hold an unusual job, hobby or activities, or just a little known co-worker, neighbor, or friend who has received recognition for charity, fraternal or job service. Whoever they are, they are people you know, people that makes the community and the world go round.

In his spare time when he isn't working at his maintenance job at Iowa Methodist hospital, Mr. Gus Smith, 908 12th street, is working on a book in collaboration with an acquaintance.

SMITH

"I have always liked to write," says Mr. Smith, who is best known through fraternal circles in Des Moines and for his penmanship letters to the editor of this newspaper. Mr. Smith, also an attorney who practiced under Atty. William Joy in Chicago, Ill., before coming to Des Moines, has planned to publish his book ever since a professor in law school told his aspiring class, "We have some fine young men, but none will ever be good writers and publish a book."

Education

"I made up my mind then I would prove him wrong," said Mr. Smith, who expects to publish his book, an autobiography next year.

Mr. Smith also did quite a bit of "ghost writing for various people in Chicago, Mississippi born, Mr. Smith attended Northwestern university, Roosevelt University and received his B.S. degree from McKinley Roosevelt there. He then enrolled in John Marshall law school and received his law degree later from Braxton college of Law in 1947.

"I just never ventured out on my own in practicing law," he said.

To Des Moines

He came to Des Moines in 1952. He is steward and class leader at St. Paul A.M.E. Church, Grand Associated Patron of O'Ziel Chapter No. 9, O.E.S., a prelate in Independent Lodge No. 4, Knights of Pythias, member of Doric Lodge No. 30, Zeid Temple No. 90 of Shriners and active in Senior Citizens at Willkie House.

Police Arrest 62 in Chicken Shack Raid Late Saturday Night

Sixty-two persons were arrested in an early morning raid Saturday on the Lincoln's Veterans Uniform club, formerly known as the Chicken Shack, at 1246 E. 17th street.

The raid followed a routine check by Detectives Edward Crozier and Harold Perry of the police vice squad. They entered the club about 2 a.m. and found a large crowd in the building, with several persons intoxicated.

Fifteen persons were charged with intoxication and the place was closed by the operator, Floyd Neal Loggins, 31, of 670 Seventeenth st. Loggins pleaded guilty to a charge of operating a disorderly place of business when arraigned before Municipal Judge Harry B. Grund. Loggins paid a $10 fine.

About a dozen other persons in the club fled through a broken window before the 10 officers called to the scene could arrest them.

Forty-seven persons pleaded guilty to charges of being found in a disorderly place when arraigned before Judge Grund, and each paid a fine of $10. Eleven pleaded guilty to charges of intoxication and paid a fine of $5.

Those who pleaded innocent to charges of intoxication were:

Thomas D. Burke, 3017 Scott st., who was released on $200 bond; Wanda Smith, 1127 Thirteenth st., released on $15 cash bond; Earl Rogers, Carlisle, released on $15 cash bond; William Richard Spriggs, 1431 E. Nineteenth st., released on $100 bond, and William H. Thomas, 1068 Seventeenth st., released on $15 cash bond.

Student of the Week

This is the second in a series featuring youth in our junior and senior high schools throughout Iowa, who are setting wholesome examples not only in their schools, but in their homes, churches, sports, jobs, and other activities. They are the reasons why the leadership of the world will be in good hands in the decades to come.

Our candidate for "Student of the Week" is a native of Ottumwa, Ia. Recently Miss Nancy Mortimer learned that she was among three Negro students in high schools in Ottumwa, to score in the top 10 percent of a national scholastic test.

By comparison to other students in the nation, Miss Mortimer took the Iowa tests of Education Development, published by the State University of Iowa at Iowa City, Ia., and scored in the top 10 per cent.

An honor student she participates in Dramatic club and Oral Interpretation club in the Senior high school in Ottumwa. In addition she is a member of Second Baptist church. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Mortimer of Ottumwa.

Others winning in Ottumwa were William Nesbitt, Jr., of Ottumwa High school and a member of Second Baptist church. His score was 97. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Nesbitt; another winner was Miss Viola Winston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Book-Winston.

Negro Candidates Win High Posts in General Election

Washington, D.C.—Negro Democratic candidates across the nation wrote a new chapter in political history in the Nov. 6th election.

Democrat Otis Smith was elected to the Supreme Court in Michigan; Republican Gerald A. Lamb, was elected Treasurer of the State of Connecticut; Leroy A. Johnson, Dem., was elected to the Georgia State Senate and Augustus F. Hawkins, Dec., of Los Angeles became the fifth Negro Congressman and the first from West of the Mississippi.

Nation-Wide

In Ohio, Carl B. Stokes, a 35-year-old Cleveland lawyer, ran 12th in a field of 17, polling 221,000 votes in Cuyahoga County. He was the only Negro elected to the legislature.

Negro Women

Negro women Democrats made history too. In Baltimore, Mrs. Verda Welcome, former member of the House of Delegates was elected to the State Senate and in St. Louis, Mrs. DeVerne Calloway became the first Negro woman elected to the Missouri legislature.

In Chicago, Mrs. Edith Sampson was elected municipal judge and became the first Negro woman to be elected to the Illinois bench. Mrs. Sampson is a former U. S. Delegate to the United Nations.

Youngest

In far-off Hawaii, the niece of UN Undersecretary Ralph Bunche, Mrs. Helene Hale, was elected chairman of Hawaii County and according to press reports became "the first woman to be designated as chief executive officer of the island since Queen Lilioukalani in the last century."

Twenty-one year old Clarence Mitchell III, son of Clarence Mitchell, Director of the Washington Bureau of NAACP, is the youngest Negro Democrat to win an elective office. He was elected to the State Legislature. Other successful Negro candidates in Maryland were Ernest D. Young, Mrs. Irma Dickson elected to the House of Delegates and Mrs. Verda Welcome to the Maryland State Senate.

Most Important

The election of LeRoy Johnson to the Georgia legislature was hailed as one of the most significant victories in the Nov. 6th election. He is the first Negro to serve in this post in 92 years. His victory is certain to give new impetus to the registration efforts among Negroes throughout the South.

Labor Unions in New Step Against Bias in Ranks

Washington, D. C.—A move never before taken by labor unions will take place today (Thurs.) in White House ceremonies here. Top officials of 87 unions, representing more than two-thirds of the membership of the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations, will sign anti-discrimination pledges.

Months of Work

The pledges are the fruit of months of work by the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity and top labor leaders. Vice-President Lyndon B. Johnson, who heads the committee, will sign the pledges on behalf of the government.

Previously, 85 industrial concerns have signed similar non-discrimination pledges with the committee. But this will be the first time that trade unions have done so.

Thus, the White House ceremonies will mark the formal beginning of the committee's efforts to get at the trade union side of job discrimination through the voluntary co-operation of union leaders.

Won Praise

The move won praise from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which last month launched a major legal drive against racial discrimination by trade unions.

Herbert Hill, the association's labor secretary, who has been involved in a running feud with labor leaders, said he "welcomed" the forthcoming pledges.

"We who handle the day-to-day complaints of Negro workers (on discrimination) hope that this statement of intent is more than a public relations gesture and that the unions will eliminate discriminatory practices."

Little Compliance

Hill, in a telephone interview added: "There have been all too many statements of non-discrimination by national and international union bodies with very little compliance at the work bench and in the local unions. And that is what counts for the Negro worker."

(The latest defense of unions was made Friday night by George Meany, head of the A.F.L.-C.I.O. He said "the strongest single force behind every civil rights proposal is the A.F.L.-C.I.O.")

John M. Branch Visits Mother

John M. Branch, stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., was home over the weekend to visit his mother, Mrs. Beatrice L. Branch, 1511 E. 17th court and friends. He enlisted in the Army last September and has four weeks left of basic training before he enters electronic school in Omaha, Nebr. or Minnesota. He attended East high school and was active in football and other sports.

months, two in solitary confinement, before the Supreme Court overturned the decision. While in prison his wife, Ann wrote a book called the "Wall Between" which described their ordeal and accused the House Un-American Activities Committee of helping the racists convict her husband. Eight days after the book was published Braden was called before the Committee. He refused to testify. He was sentenced to one year in prison, which he served.

He is a member of the Episcopal Church, Episcopal Society for Racial Unity, the NAACP, the American Civil Liberties Union and the Episcopal Pacifist Fellowship.

Tallahassee Sit-Ins

Tallahassee, Fla.—CORE lunch counter sit-ins, suspended for a week pending negotiations with the variety stores, were resumed on Nov. 3.

On that date, 15 members of Tallahassee CORE sat-in at McCrory's lunch counter. When the store closed just prior to the homecoming football parade, the sit-inners moved to Woolworth's and returned to McCrory's later. As during the previous sit-in on Oct. 25, hecklers focused their hate on the lone white member of the group and formed a ring around him.

Following the speaking engagement at Drake university, Mr. Braden will appear on the Russ Lavine Show on Radio station KIOA from 10 to 12 Tuesday night.

The sponsoring organizations cordially invite all members of the Des Moines Negro community to attend this important meeting.

File Four Voters Bias Complaints With Justice Dept.

Iberville, La.—Four Negroes denied the right to register and vote in Iberville parish, have filed complaints with the U.S. Department of Justice.

One of the four, Earl Ambeau, Jr., said in his complaint: "The registrar just looked at me and turned me down without even giving me a chance to take the constitutional test or anything else."

Accusation

Another, Mrs. Deloris Bland, charged that the registrar Milton Dardenne had accused her of an error in her literacy test but had declined to state what the error was. "I contend I did not make an error," she said in her complaint.

The other two—Thomas Whitaker and Mrs. Elvira Whitaker—who had moved more than six months ago from East Baton Rouge parish, claimed their right to transfer registration to Iberville parish. The registrar, without any explanation, simply refused to register them.

"LET'S CLEAR UP MISUNDERSTANDINGS"

Carter L. Reynolds, General Chairman of the campaign was confident that the residents of Polk County would see that the goal of $68,000 is reached this year, IF, everyone clearly understood the two following important facts:

1. That the Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association, Your Christmas Seal Organization does not receive money or support of any kind from Local, State or Federal Taxes.

2. Nor can we participate or receive money and support from any Other Fund Drives.

Reynolds pointed out that for many years, your TB Association has provided the TB Patch Tests to all Des Moines, County and Parochial Schools. Now, a new improved Test is available and should be used in all schools, not just a few. I can personally assure you, if the goal of $68,000 is reached this year, that in 1963, all schools will be supplied the new test in addition to the continued services of the Christmas Seal X-Ray Mobile Unit.

It is important to remember, that every hidden case of TB that is discovered and treated in Polk County, strengthens the shield of protection around you, me and our loved ones. Please mail your voluntary contribution today, to Christmas Seals or Polk County TB, 208 Flynn Building, Des Moines 9, Iowa. Your gift in any amount you choose to send will be appreciated and it will help save lives.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Home Help For The Handicapped

Mrs. Green is 88 but she was really spry until a few months ago. She kept house for her widowed daughter, a librarian, moving about her daily chores efficiently. Then, one day, going down the stairs she fell and broke her hip. She spent many months in the hospital. Now she is ready to leave, but all kinds of problems arise. She is no longer so spry.

She can get around the house with a cane, but it is obviously out of the question for her to resume her house-keeping activities. And she cannot be left alone all day since there are many things she can at present no longer do for herself. Her daughter cannot afford to keep her in the hospital indefinitely. She cannot afford a full-time housekeeper. She can't leave her job to look after her mother, because it is their sole source of income.

Solution

To solve just such a problem, faced by thousands of families, the federal government has authorized three million dollars for local experimental projects to see if it is practical to provide home nursing and home-making care for the chronically ill and aged. Projects have been started in eighteen states, which have matched the funds provided by the government. Local health agencies, voluntary and official, are cooperating.

Nurse

If a nurse can visit Mrs. Green a few times a week, if a home-maker could come in at noon to make her lunch and stay with her until her daughter gets home, some of the problems would be solved.

The number of elderly people is increasing steadily. They represent special problems for themselves and their families. It is hoped that workable plans for home care of the chronically ill and aged will emerge from these experimental projects.

New Bishop To Be Elected at 55th Holy Convocation, Memphis

Memphis, Tenn.—An election to name a new leader will be the major business item facing delegates attending the 55th Holy Convocation of the Church of God in Christ, when it convenes here, in Memphis, Nov. 25 to Dec. 10.

In preparation for the election advance conferences have been held throughout the country to acquaint delegates, attending the Convocation, with constitutional procedures of the Church of God in Christ which govern election of the senior bishop. These procedures were prepared long before.

Personally Yours
E. Frances Mathorne.

It always happens that when great men and women of note pass from this life that those who are left behind recall some of the moments when they had occasion to see, hear or be in the presence of the departed one. Such was also the case of the death of the First Lady of the World, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt. Men great and small, searched back in their memories and recalled such moments with her. It was also here in Des Moines where a news columnist dug back in his files to bring forth a photograph taken in October 1953. The picture was of Mrs. James B. Morris, Sr., president, emiritus of the Iowa State Conferences of Branches of the NAACP, and Mrs. Roosevelt.

It was being speculated that perhaps the reference to Mrs. Roosevelt as the "First Lady of the World," might have come from Mrs. Morris when she introduced the eminent leader at a luncheon nine years ago. We also recall meeting Mrs. Roosevelt, whom we had admired in our reading of her life and activities, at a public reception given several years ago for her at the Governor's Mansion. It is such incidents and occasions which are heirlooms in our storehouse of memories.

We had been trying frequently to get in touch with Mr. Gus Smith for our series, "People You Know," when he finally wrote us a letter that he had been a patient in the hospital the past two weeks at Mercy hospital. He appears in the series this week on the front page.

At the recent Beauticians clinic at Crescent Beauty school, Mr. Jimmy Sykes had some bad luck with his Cadillac car, in which he carries much of his supplies for demonstration for House of Nelson, Chicago, Ill., of which he is general manager. He took the car to a garage and a rush job was done for him in a matter of several hours. In the meantime he had to get around by cab.

Although it isn't necessary, we are always pleased, naturally, to receive an unexpected thank you note in the mails. In the past week we received such from Mrs. Clara Bayles and Mr. Russell Nash, new president of the Iowa State Conference of Branches; His letter from Cedar Rapids, where he is on the teaching staff at Coe College, thanked us for publicity coverage of the recent state convention, and also noted that the name of Mrs. E. T. Hicks, Burlington, had been omitted from the list of new board members.

While we are thinking about it, we urge you to remember the early deadline next week. News must be in no later than 2 p.m. Monday, Nov. 19 in order to be published in next week's paper. If you should have news early, don't wait, call, mail or bring it in right away, without delay. It will help to avoid the last minute rush that usually occurs.

We would like to enlist the help of a graduate or someone who happens to know, the Negroes graduating from Des Moines Technical high school at mid-year. We did this last year and got a quick response from a young lady who with the help of her graduating sister, gave us the complete list. That way, we do not miss anyone and later have to send out letters late. So help us, won't you?

Hampton Institute Official Visits Here

Robert A. Lazear, secretary of Hampton Institute at Hampton, Va., was a visitor in Des Moines last week. While here he conferred with Dr. S. J. Williamson, Jr. and James B. Morris, graduates of the school.

FORGET NEGROES WHILE PLANNING PROGRAMS

In the Bystander of October 25, appeared an editorial, and which later was printed in the Des Moines Tribune as a letter to the editor, in which the Iowa Association of Municipalities was criticized for bringing Mayor Allen Thomas of Jackson, Mississippi as one of its principal speakers.

The editorial chided the organization for sponsoring speakers whose views were at variance with law and order, while able men in the South, who refuse to go along with that line of thought but were outspoken in behalf of obedience to the law whether they liked the law or not, were passed over.

Park Rinard, secretary of the association, answered that the invitation had been extended before the Meredith case arose and since Thomas had been three times elected Mayor of Jackson he was tops in the administration of municipal government; that was his subject and not the Meredith case.

The Bystander wishes to remind Rinard that the Meredith case did not arise when he presented himself to the University of Mississippi for enrollment but months before as his case began two years ago and went through state and federal courts up to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The fact that Thomas had been elected mayor four times did not qualify him as a specialist in Municipal government. There are other mayors who had held office for twenty-five years and did not harbor the same views as Thomas; that while a host does not censor the remarks of a visitor, he does acquaint himself with his views on important questions.

Rinard should know that southerners of Thomas' type, even though called to speak on one subject, invariably find means in press conferences and interviews to spread their anti-Negro spleen. On the other hand, many fine white people in the South can and do bring the message for which they are invited but don't find byways and hedges to propagandize animosity between the races on the matters of civil rights.

Northern people, invited to speak in the South, shy away from the racial debates. Southerners of the type of Mayor Thomas don't when they come North.

The trouble with Rinard's program, like a lot of other unthinking people, is that they don't think intelligently of keeping the matter of civil rights and racial equality in the proper perspective and thus invite speakers who bring to northern communities views that are outmoded and fan the flame of racial hate among their audience. They have no place in American life today.

TAXES CONTINUE TO GO UP

The auditor of Polk County has announced that residents of Des Moines would pay 2,468 more taxes on a thousand dollar valuation in 1963 than is being paid in 1962. School levy is up an additional .801, the court house repair levy recently voted in the election, added .548 while the county is down .387 mills.

Undoubtedly, most people are willing to pay what is necessary to maintain the schools. But it has always been a mystery that during the past few years hundreds of new homes have been added to the tax rolls, yet taxes continue to go up.

Real estate taxes are too high already, making home ownership burdensome while business either fails to grow sufficiently and new ones are slow to come in. Nobody wants more taxes but with the added services enjoyed by the public, money must come from somewhere to pay for them.

The politicians have not been willing to advocate practical means of raising funds in order to relieve property taxes. Eventually, as advocated by Professor Murray, Iowa must increase its sales tax in order to spread the load equitably among the whole population.

Minnesota Blanks Iowa, 10-0

Hard Tackling Makes Hawkeyes Return to Old Habits of Errors

By Staff Writer

Minneapolis, Minn. — Minnesota's stalwart defense stymied Iowa's high-gear offense twice near the goal line here Saturday and in so doing Iowa succumbed to the Gophers' might, 10-0.

Minnesota, heralded as the No. 1 defensive team in the nation stopped Iowa on the Minnesota three yard line, when with hard tackling, Lonnie Rogers fumbled, the Gophers recovering. The Hawkeyes came on again to the Minnesota 14 only to fumble again, with the Gophers recovering the pigskin. That was as far as the Hawkeyes got during the rest of the contest.

Halftime

They went into the halftime trailing 3-0 and it looked as if Minnesota would make that score stand up, until the Gophers scored late in the fourth quarter. It was really more Hawkeye's fumbling and errors in the clutch almost more so than the Minnesota defense which was really racking up the Hawkeyes almost on every play. Through most of the game the Hawkeyes were almost as good as the Gophers but when the chips were down, they sagged.

It remains for the Hawkeyes to even their won-loss record on Dad's day at Iowa City Saturday when they face Michigan. After that comes Notre Dame.

Drake Gives Home
Crowd Thrill; Wins
No. 7 Against N.D.S.

By Staff Writer

An exuberant Drake eleven gave North Dakota State a licking here Saturday in its last home game appearance of the season, and then proceeded to give their coach, Bus Mertes, an unscheduled shower, clothes and all. Drake won their No. 7 in a 40-6 shellacking of their opponents.

Ron Olson grabbed four for 126 yards, two of them for touchdowns from 32 and 31 yards out, and set up his third scoring dash from the two-yard line with a 55-yard pass gain—all on throws from Terry Zang.

It was largely an aerial show as Drake, now 7-2 for the season, kept its home lot clean of losses in plastering North Dakota State with its tenth straight defeat of the campaign.

Harper Averages 10

Zang completed 13 of 22 pitches for 226 yards and a pair of touchdowns. And late in the game he almost had a third touchdown strike in Karl Kassulke's hand, but it was intercepted.

Halfback Karl earlier grabbed Drake's fifth touchdown of the game on a 30-yard pass fired by Billy Harper in the third quarter. Kassulke finished with 68 yards on four catches.

Cyclones Suffer Worst

Hands of Okla., 41-0

By Staff Writer

Ames, Ia.—The Oklahoma Sooners under the tutelage of Coach Bud Wilkinson, out-scored, out-faked, outran, out-tackled and just about "out-everything" against the Iowa State Cyclones here Saturday. The Iowa gridders who had defeated Oklahoma in three previous clashes, suffered

CITY SOULD PURCHASE

GRAY'S LAKE

The city council has been toying with the problem of what to do with Gray's Lake—a beautiful body of water located in the southwest part of the city. Already commercial interests are taking advantage of the natural beauty of the place.

With the continued increase in the population requiring more recreational facilities, with the constant complaint by youth that they have no place to go, with the net increase in retired people everywhere who are looking for places to pass idle time, the city would be making a good investment which would add to the beauty of the community, thus making Des Moines an even better place to live—to entertain friends.

Sage Archie Moore
Meets Brash, Young
Cassius Clay Tonight

Los Angeles, Cal.—Archie Moore, "the old man of boxing circles" and Cassius Clay, "brash, young loquacious challenger will meet in a 15-round heavyweight title bout here tonight (Thurs.) at Los Angeles Sports Arena.

Undeclared as a pro, Clay, 1960 Olympic winner, goes into the Moore fight with an unbroken string of 15 victories. He may have some worries when he meets Moore, who has time and time again unexpectedly turned back would-be challengers, but they won't be about money. A group of prominent business, most of them from his hometown of Louisville, Ky., have taken care of that matter with a contract unprecedented in boxing annals.

After Moore, Clay says he will run over to Sonny Liston, if he attends the fight, and say "You are next."

Craddock Sets Modern
Iowa College Scoring
Record at Parsons

Dubuque, Ia.—Nathaniel Craddock scored two more touchdowns Saturday and set a modern Iowa college scoring record here as undefeated Parsons college closed its football season with a 40-6 trouncing of Dubuque.

Craddock, a senior from Des Moines, caught two touchdowns passes, both in the fourth quarter. The two scores ran his season's mark to 19 touchdowns for a total of 114 points. It is the most points scored by an Iowa college player in 57 years.

Despite a man-for-man defense set up against him, Craddock gained 84 yards rushing in 16 carries plus 110 yards picked up on passes gave Craddock 194 yards in total gains for the game.

The Iowa Conference football victory gives Parsons a final 9-0 record for the season. The Wildcats clinched the title last week by trimming Simpson.

Win Picketing La. Case

Baton Rouge, La.—A conviction for picketing against segregation has been reversed by the Supreme Court of Louisiana. Involved in the case are five CORE members—Jerome Smith, David Dennis, Doris Castle, Julian Aaron and Constance Bradford—arrested on April 17, 1961 for picketing the rear entrance of Woolworth's and McCrory's in New Orleans. The picketing was in connection with New Orleans CORE's 2-year campaign which ended on Sept. 11 when 77 local lunch counters and restaurants desegregated.

terback Monte Deere clicked on 9 of 13 passes for 93 yards and Joe Don Looney ran up a total of 135 yards. The Oklahoma victory was the forerunner of this Saturday's showdown with Orange Bowl minded powerful, Missouri.

Bemoans Righteous
Laws of Man

Dear Editor:

I have wondered what this 15th (Constitutional) amendment meant to the South: "The right to vote shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state, on account of race, color or previous condition of servitude. Section 2: "The Congress shall have power to enforce this article by appropriate legislation."

This law made made in 1869 and declared adopted in 1870. Man has always left the righteousness of God and gone about to establish their own righteousness and that keeps trouble in the land.

LAUGH A LITTLE

A young fellow, tired of working for others, went into business for himself. Later, a friend asked him, how it was to be his own boss.

"I don't know," he replied. "The police won't let me park in front of my own business; tax collectors tell me how much balance I must maintain; freight agents tell me how my goods must be packed; customers tell me how my goods must be made; federal, state, county and local agencies tell me how to keep records in triplicate.

Chief Lost-in-the-Woods turned down a lift in our Northwestern Bell truck. His father told him not to accept rides from strangers. But he did agree to follow the truck (creeping in low gear) six blocks back to civilization. Telephone Men and Women like to help people.
