LONG AWAITED EXECUTIVE MOVE:

President Signs Housing Order

Wilkins Says Elimination
Of Bias Is Primary Concern

Youngstown, Ohio—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People "expects to continue fighting against discrimination wherever we find it," the Association's executive secretary, Roy Wilkins, declared here in an address before the Freedom Fund dinner of the Youngstown chapter of the Negro American Labor Council.

Determination

This, he explained, "is the primary job of the NAACP. . . .
"In carrying out this determination," the NAACP leader said, "we do not visualize a split with organized labor, but rather a continuance—with perhaps better understanding and deeper respect—of our cooperation of the past."

"Certainly we stand ready to meet and to discuss all items of program and procedure and to attempt to arrive at a reasonable and honorable agreement on future efforts."

Enlighten

Not only have "enlightened segments of labor" aided the cause of civil rights and the NAACP, Mr. Wilkins asserted, but "the NAACP and Negro citizens, in turn, have many times aided the cause of labor. "Here in Ohio, for example, it was the NAACP which carried on a dynamic campaign against the 'right-to-work' bill and helped defeat it," he said.

Criticism

"This was no catch-as-catch-can operation on our part. From the national office we sent out the very man so many labor people are now damning as a devil with horns to campaign up and down the state, rallying NAACP opposition to the proposed amendment. It was not easy. Many Negro citizens do not have the same view of organized labor that the NAACP has. They criticized our activity. But we—and labor—won. For what we did then we have in our files a letter of thanks from George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO," Mr. Wilkins continued.

The NALC-sponsored dinner was held here on Nov. 17 to raise to make this announcement weekly until the situation is resolved.

Plans are being made to supply transportation to other nearby cities for shoppers to buy their presents and other Christmas items.

More Federal
Jobs to Negroes

Washington—Negroes are getting more federal jobs, especially white collar positions, according to the President's committee on Equal Employment opportunity.

The committee said Monday that in fiscal 1962, Negroes obtained 17 per cent of the 62,633 new federal jobs during the year, more than double the normal rate. About 5,500 Negroes obtained employment in the $4,565 to $10,615-a-year bracket. An additional 374 Negroes secured government salaries of $8,840 to $20,000-a-year.

Sioux City NAACP Gets $100 Check

At the second annual harvest banquet of the Sioux City branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Mrs. Etta D. Grider, advisor for the Sioux City youth council, presented a check for $100 to Arthur Hayes (center) president of the Sioux City branch, as payment on an NAACP life membership.

Mrs. Henry Crosswhite, president of the Young Matrons federated club, gave a check for $25 as a contributing annual membership. The event was held at the Sanford community center with Medger E. Evers, executive secretary of the Mississippi Conference of NAACP Branches, as guest speaker.

Evers discussed the determination of James Meredith to enter the University of Mississippi after nine years in the Air Force. Shortly before his struggle, Evers said Meredith wrote a letter stating, "I dream of the day when the Negroes of Mississippi can live in decency and respect of the first order and do so, without intimidation, bodily harm or personal embarrassment."

Bans Racial Bias in All
Federally-Guaranteed
Building, Redevelopments

Washington, D.C.—The long awaited executive order prohibiting racial discrimination in federally-aided housing became official with its signing by President Kennedy on Tuesday, Nov. 20. Mr. Kennedy had promised such an order during his election campaign in 1960.

The order prohibits discrimination in the sale, leasing, rental or other disposition of residential property including land to be developed if the Federal government owns or operates, provide all or partial loans, or development or redevelopment of urban renewal areas which has assistance from Federal government.

Builders

Builders and lenders undertaking new tract developments, apartment houses, and other multi-family projects would be denied federal assistance if they discriminate in the sale or leasing of the housing. Besides publicly subsidized low-rent housing and units underwritten by the FHA and VA, the order applies to the federal program of housing for the elderly, college housing assisted by government aid and military housing.

Housing Committee

President Kennedy's order also included the establishment of the President's Committee on Equal Opportunity in Housing of which Robert C. Weaver, Administrator of Housing and Home Finance Agency, will be a member.

Powers and responsibilities of the new committee will be to recommend general policies and procedures to implement the Order and promote coordination of the activities of departments and agencies under the order.

Restrictions

The President's order does not eliminate bias in all housing as it does not cover housing credit extended by banks and savings and loan associations carrying federal insurance of their deposits unless the location itself is insured by the government.

Statement by Robt. Weaver

Washington, D.C.—Simultaneously with the signing of the executive order against discrimination in federally aided housing, Robert C. Weaver, Administrator of Housing and Home Finance Agency, issued the following statement.

"The Housing and Home Finance Agency intends to move promptly in implementing President Kennedy's order against discrimination in housing.

"Immediate steps have been taken to make available to the public and members of the homebuilding industry full information on the provisions of the order and its effect on programs administered by this agency.

"As each step is taken to implement the order additional information will be made available.

"The order makes clear the policy of our government in an area which has suffered from fear and uncertainty as well as from prejudice. And it alerts all Americans to their responsibilities toward their neighbors.

"It is my hope and belief that this order, by removing artificial market restrictions, will permit that demand to achieve its natural growth. And I am confident that it will lead to an even more prosperous and healthy construction industry."

Republican Party Notes
Gains in Negro Support

Washington, D.C.—"The Republican National Committee was greatly heartened in viewing the big city election returns to find that Negroes had given the GOP its greatest support since 1956," So said Congressman William E. Miller, chairman of the GOP National Committee.

Governors

"The election of a Negro Republican Edward W. Brooke as Massachusetts attorney-general and the increased numbers of Negroes that voted Republican in New York, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania created some interesting statistics."

"The increase, greatest since 1956, was helpful in winning the state governorships in states which command 119 electoral votes."

The election results on which Congressman Miller based his statement show the following percentages for Nixon in 1960 and the Republican gubernatorial candidates this year.

Percentages

Philadelphia — 24th ward, Nixon 20.6%, Scranton 34.1%; 32nd ward Nixon 16.3%, Scranton 37.1%; 47th ward Nixon 18.6%, Scranton 35.9%. Detroit—1st ward Nixon 22.8%, Romney 30.2%; 9th ward Nixon

Beauticians of Cosmetiste Clubs No. 1 of Des Moines and No. 2 in Waterloo, Ia., recorded one of their most successful events at the 11th annual Educational clinic held Nov. 4-5 at Crescent Beauty school, 1407

Beauticians and barbers from Minnesota, Missouri, Illinois and all over Iowa attended the two day session which was climaxed by a dance and style show at the Val-Air Ballroom.

Highlight of the style show was the presentation of Carlton M. Hamilton and his Vogue Esquire Models of Chicago, Ill., and models styled by local beauticians. Commentator was Mrs. Elizabeth Powers of Mr. Hamilton's

California Minister Is Des Moines Visitor

Rev. A. D. Carter, pastor of the Church of God in Christ in Tracey, Calif., for 14 years, stopped in Des Moines to visit enroute to Memphis, Tenn., to attend the annual National Convocation of his church organization. While here he visited at the Iowa Bystander newspaper office.

Rev. Carter, who formerly pastored in Des Moines and Council Bluffs, has a church project of feeding under privileged children and expects to exceed last year's feeding of 150, at Christmas time.

MRS. GRAVES

We had a "paper visit" from Miss Charlene Wharton, former director of Willkie House and now Dean of Women at Atlanta University.

She hastened to tell me that it was not for publication but there are parts that would be of interest to Des Moines readers who are also her friends.

In her usual self effacing manner she told of humorous incidents in which she had been "deaned out" and that on several occasions she has answered the telephone when her secretary was out and said "Miss Wharton" instead of "Dean Wharton" and nearly added, "Willkie House."

"Each day is so very full of interesting things and people until I just don't seem to find time to write very much, but I will try to get my Christmas cards out early so that my friends will know where I am located for the time. I've enjoyed every moment since I have been here but I do think about my dear and wonderful Des Moines friends and miss the teenagers, but the students have been so nice to me; I enjoy them also.

"I am enclosing some clippings which I thought might be of interest, most important, they are all from the daily white paper, which shows much progress, because about 15 years ago scarcely any news about a Negro was printed in a white paper, except in criminal circumstances. I have always greatly admired Ralph McGill (of the Atlanta Constitution)."

"I have been shopping and found the clerks very courteous, even better than some in Des Moines. One of the clerks in a large store even remembered my name and called me when I visited there again. You can imagine my surprise to hear someone calling out, 'Hello, Miss Wharton.'"

"I realize that all of these changes have been the result of hard work, sacrifice and a lot of praying. Things are happening; it's exciting and I am really glad that I am having this wonderful opportunity to get in on the ground floor of some of the 'happenings.'"

Parliamentary Club Holds Meeting

The Parliamentary Law and Culture club held its November meeting at the home of Mrs. Lucille Smith with Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Dorothy B. Bush as hostesses.

Plans for the Christmas festival and doll show were completed followed by a parliamentary drill conducted by Mrs. Smith. Mrs. Julia Cannon, a new member was assigned to the entertainment committee. Mrs. Rosa Wilson, presented her guest, Mrs. Madge Gaiters, who was welcomed by the president, Mrs. Helen D. Wimberly.

The December meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Julia Cannon, 1220 Laurel street, with Mmes. Cannon, Ethel Volinier and Geneva Wilson as hostesses.

RAY CHARLES WINS
DES MOINES AUDIENCE

Ray Charles, his Raylets and orchestra appeared in Des Moines Sunday night for one of their concerts. They lived up to the fine reputation for singing popular songs in their own inimitable fashion and the orchestra performed well.

As one viewed the concert, there arose admiration and respect for a man handicapped as he is, yet who has been able to develop into the top-notch performer as he is and the ability to surround himself with a group of artists that are a credit to his genius as an organizer as well.

The audience demonstrated approval in no uncertain fashion by their generous applause and other vocal expressions that must have made his heart full, a feature which makes him go on and rise to one encore after another.

One must marvel that here is a man who has succeeded admirably, even with great handicap, and serves as an example to some who cry that they have no opportunity to prove their worth.

ANTI-BIAS ORDER
LATE, BUT WELCOME

President Kennedy has at long last found that pen with which he "made the stroke" to an executive order barring racial discrimination in certain types of housing financed by federal funds. Often criticized for deferring a promise made during the 1960 campaign that this would be one of his first acts, Mr. Kennedy chose a time when Congress was not in session and after an election which weakened his influence in Congress very little.

The order leaves untouched conventional mortgages made by savings and loan associations and banks; even makes exceptions in GI and FHA loans which may make enforcement difficult as times go on.

Congress has refused to pass a law covering the subject and those opposed to the measure will argue that the order is unconstitutional; that Mr. Kennedy exceeded his constitutional authority as there is no law which authorizes the order. This, of course, presages some litigation which may hold up enforcement.

The job of defending the order's constitutionality is that of the justice department which, no doubt, had some part in its preparation. The job of justifying its economic soundness will be that of Mr. Kennedy and his administration.

Like all such pronouncements, the real test is the job of getting enforcement down to the local level. Simply heralding from Washington that the order is in operation does very little. Local opponents have their organization ready to oppose it. Local supporters must be provided with the tools to make the order work.

Supporters of the order have long argued, and rightly so, that the federal government has helped to subsidize segregation by financing agencies that practice it. In fact, this is just one instance where this is true. The order gives backing to those people who try in earnest to provide equal facilities for all without regard to race or color and places the government a bit closer to the pronounced public policy of equality for all citizens.

Late as it comes, President Kennedy must be given credit for honoring his campaign pledge. The success of the order will depend much upon just how firm his administration will adhere to the principle and works, without fear of stepping on toes, to the end that the document means what it says.

A GOOD SUGGESTION

Rep. Walter of Iowa Falls has suggested a special election so the voters may give an expression as to whether Iowa should have liquor by the drink. It's a splendid suggestion. The results would take the question out of politics and serve as a definite guide to the legislature as to just what the people want.

Notre Dame Trounces Iowa

Hawkeyes Bow 35-12
In Worst Losing
Season Since 1955

South Bend, Ind.—The Iowa Hawkeyes closed the doors on their worst football season since 1955 while mentally looking forward "to next year" and probable better days to come.

Before a small crowd of 42,653 here Saturday the Hawkeyes were beaten soundly and decisively, 35-12 by a surprisingly strong Notre Dame team behind the amazing quarterbacking of Daryle Lamonia who hit 10 of 19 passes for 144 yards. Though outclassed and outplayed at every quarter, Iowa was definitely in the game until the third quarter when the Irish broke the game wide open.

Larry Ferguson, classy, stubby left halfback and captain of the Hawkeyes, had been playing better with each game and Saturday's personal feat was no exception as he tallied the tying touchdown; Iowa however, failed to convert and they trailed 7-6. From there on in it was Notre Dame's game until the second and third unit under Quarterback Bob Wallace scored a second TD, also failing to convert the second time. Matt Szykowny, graduating senior like Ferguson and team quarterback, was hampered by poor receivers throughout the game.

Larry Ferguson

Iowa ended the season 4-5, their first losing season since 1955.

Tuesday, Ferguson was named the most valuable for the 1962 Hawkeyes. He also placed on the second team of All-America candidates picked by the Associated Press.

Mounds, Ill.—William Alexander, an auto mechanic was shot to death last week when he told a customer he was too busy to look at his car.

The football season has bowed out for Iowa schools. A happy note for Drake and Iowa State with a promise of things to come. For Iowa U. a sort of question mark. We looked at the game films of last week's final against Notre Dame and we had to ask ourselves if the Hawks really wanted this one. Larry Ferguson was just about the whole offense literally playing and running with no blocking. The tackling was hardly of Big Ten caliber to put it mildly. Where will the guys finish next year?

Local
Willie Wells is having one of his billiard tournaments over the weeks. There are eight of the best players in the place competing for the championship last won by Delmar Baldridge, who is in again. Then there are some worthwhile prizes. The only regret is that a couple of the boys who rate themselves as among the best found excuses to stay out of the meet and passed up a chance to prove their ability. At this writing just one match has been played. Larry Graves enjoying a five point handicap, set down Don Hall, 85-86.

We have been hearing the praises of young Cassius Clay after his fourth round kayo of Archie Moore. Some fans are hollering, bring on Sonny Liston. We don't think Young Clay ought to mess with Liston just yet. He didn't add anything to his stature by beating a tired old man of nearly 50 years who was long overdue for just such a defeat. When Archie let that first good right go to Clay's chin and nothing happened he knew that was the end. He had sprung his trap and caught nothing; from then on it was just a matter of time. As we see it, Clay has great potential and is still growing. Given a couple of years he will probably be as big as Liston. Then if he still has most of his speed, he might take the big fellow.

But right now, Young Clay hasn't proved that he is a great puncher. Maybe, he is but, we would like a more convincing demonstration that the one of last Thursday.

Hoppman Scores 300
Yards As Iowa State

By Staff Writer

The Cyclones defeated Ohio U 31-22, ending up with a 5-5 season.

Wisconsin Big Ten
Champions in Bitter
Contest with Minnesota

By Staff Writer

Madison, Wis.—In what turned out to be one of the most bitter contests in recent Big Ten annals, the Wisconsin Badgers defeated the nation's no. 1 defensive team, Minnesota, 14-9 here Saturday. Shortly after the Badgers were officially named as the Big Ten opponents for the Rose Bowl team on Jan. 1 at Pasadena, Calif.

Minnesota hampered by breaks which refused to fall their way, had two penalties called against them with 3 minutes 54 seconds to go in the game—one against Bob Bell for unnecessary roughness in defending a pass play from Wisconsin's Ron VanderKelen and another against Coach Murray Warmath for refusing to accept the officials' call. The penalties moved the ball to the Gopher 13 and in several plays the Badgers had scored the winning touchdown.

The penalties set off charges and near charges that the "officials had won the game" for Wisconsin.

The Sunday School Class at St. John's A.M.E., under the direction of Mrs. DeEdwin White, are planning a pleasant Christmas for some less fortunate people.

Mrs. White read an article in the "Personally Yours" column by Frances Hawthorne. It was about a lady in West Central Africa who has been in the missionary field for 16 years. Her name is Mrs. Ellen M. Hopkins. Mrs. White wrote her and received a reply recently.

The Samuel Grimes Maternity Center, Harle, Liberia, West Central Africa is the institution that needs help. Mrs. Hopkins explained the purpose of the Center and how it was founded. She asked for financial assistance.

Under the direction of Mrs. White, the Sunday School class will raise money to donate to this Center. It is a very worthwhile project and we hope that it is well supported. Hats off to Mrs. White and her class for wanting to help these people.
