New Rights Exec. Sec'y Takes Over

Ernest Russell, 29, Meets City Council

Mr. Ernest Russell, 29, the new executive secretary of the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights and Job Discrimination officially took over his duties here Saturday. He was introduced to the City Council Monday by the Rev. DeLoss Marken, a member of the commission.

RUSSELL

Russell, one of the youngest and the second of his race to hold the position, told the Council he has found here "the people desire better relations between the various elements of the population."

He said he would try to "improve communications among his office, the commission and city officials."

A graduate of the University of Kansas in 1958 with a degree in personnel administration, Russell has been employed previously as an interviewer for the Kansas State Employment Service and as education director for the Kansas Commission on Civil Rights.

Born in Massillon, Ohio, he was also a high school football star there. He won varsity letter for football and baseball at the University of Kansas. He served in the Army in 1953-55.

He and his wife, Glenda, are parents of two sons, Ernest Glenn, 4 and Eugene Carter, 1. They live at 3027 Amherst street.

Will Aid Veterans in Racial Bias Cases in Reviews of Discharge

New York—Beginning with the new year, Jan. 1, 1963, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People will provide legal counsel to servicemen and veterans only in cases involving racial discrimination Roy Wilkins, executive secretary, announced this week.

Legal Assistance

The NAACP has been one of several organizations which has provided free legal assistance in armed services discharge review and correction record cases, whether or not racial discrimination was involved. Since World War II, the Association has processed thousands of such cases before the Army, Navy and Air Force Discharge Review Boards and these services' Boards for the Correction of Records.

Frank Reeves, NAACP Washington counsel, has represented most of these servicemen and veterans in such cases. In a recent three-month period, he handled 150 of these cases.

In announcing the new policy, Wilkins explained that it was only because of budgetary considerations. A number of veterans organizations will continue to handle routine types of cases and their services are available to servicemen and veterans.

Prince Edward County School Hearing Slated for Jan. 9

New York—NAACP lawyers will go to court again on Jan. 9 in the twelve-year-old case against the Prince Edward County, Va., public schools. The hearing will be held in Baltimore, Md., in the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals.

The case against this Virginia school system was initiated in 1950 and was one of the five which led to the Supreme Court's school desegregation decision of 1954. The Prince Edward County Board of Supervisors closed the schools in 1958 in anticipation of a court mandate ordering integration. A system of private schools for white children was instituted, supported by public tax monies. Negro children have been without formal training since the schools were closed.

Mandatory

On July 25 of this year District Court Judge Oren R. Lewis ruled that the State of Virginia through its constitution has "a mandatory duty to establish and maintain an efficient system of public schools throughout the state and that the state may not remove from the system schools in which the races are mixed."

He did not, however, issue any order requiring the schools to reopen on a racially integrated basis. In the forthcoming hearing, the NAACP will appeal this failure to compel the opening of the schools.

The NAACP will also ask for a court order restraining the dilatory tactics of the School Board which has refused to file a plan for reopening the schools as ordered by Judge Lewis. The court will further be asked to enjoin the Board from using taxpayers' money to support private schools for white students, opened to circumvent the Supreme Court decision.

Arguing the case will be NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter and his assistant, Miss Barbara Morris, both of New York City.

Medical Research on Respiratory Disease

Dr. William Lester is studying the effects of unclassified TB-like germs on the lung. This is the kind of important medical research aided by Christmas Seals, which fight TB and other respiratory diseases.

Says Police Roughed Him Up, Cursed Him for One Hour in Miss. Hometown

Oxford, Miss.—James T. Meredith, the first known Negro to crash the color bar when he enrolled at the University of Mississippi guarded by U.S. Marshals, was scheduled to appear at a hearing on a traffic charge in his hometown of Kosciusko, Miss., Wednesday at 5 p.m.

The charge grew out of an incident Sunday when he had visited in his hometown to celebrate his sixth wedding anniversary with his wife and small son and also visit his parents. The marshals did not accompany him.

3 Cars

Meredith said he was on his way back to the University of Mississippi and for several miles noticed that "three car loads of white youths were following him." They hemmed him in and "shouted and cursed as they pulled up," Meredith said.

Two Kosciusko patrolmen charged him with failing to yield the right of way at an intersection. Meredith posted $10 cash bond. Trial was set for Wednesday.

When he was reached at Ole Miss Meredith told interviewers that he had been detained "for nearly an hour."

"You might say that I was mistreated by police officers," he said. "They threatened me and manhandled me somewhat. But I was not hurt. I was cursed and shoved around for nearly an hour before being released."

Kosciusko Chief of Police J. H. Harvey said "We're not in the habit of treating anyone like that."

"It was a routine traffic violation, just like anyone else," Harvey said.

Pushes Drive to End Dakota Bias Against Servicemen

Rapid City, S.D.—Prompted by NAACP complaints of discrimination against Negro servicemen and members of their families, the South Dakota State Advisory Committee to the U.S. Commission on Human Rights this week began a probe of bias in this city.

Long Fight

The 200-member NAACP branch here, composed chiefly of Negro personnel attached to nearby Ellsworth Air Force Base, has conducted a long fight to secure service and accommodations in hotels, restaurants, bars and places of recreation.

The Air Force men and members of their families have protested to city and state officials and to military authorities, staged sit-ins, and cooperated with local liberal whites in efforts to breach the color bar.

Bill

Gov. Archie Gubbrud has announced support of a public accommodations bill to ban bias in public places. A bill prohibiting such discrimination is scheduled for introduction at the next session of the State Legislature which opens in January. Also supporting such legislation is the Rapid City Chamber of Commerce, the Black Hills Civil Rights Committee, and Mayor K. H. Raff. Opposing it are certain hotel, restaurant and bar owners.

Hearing

At a hearing before the State Advisory Committee here, Dec. 11, Negroes told of the refusal of restaurants and bars to serve them. One restaurant owner boldly asserted his right to discriminate against any prospective customer for any reason.

Leonard Carter, NAACP field secretary for the Plains states, has assisted the local branch in its campaign to rid the city of Jim Crow.

Nat'l. Gallery Contest

Washington, D.C.—The National Gallery of Art, Washington, D.C., will sponsor a competition for the design of a commemorative postage stamp to be issued next Fall.

First

The competition, first of its kind ever conducted by the National Gallery, is in accord with Post Office Department efforts to produce postage stamps of high artistic merit.

For the Science stamp competition, five distinguished American artists will be invited to submit designs by a three-man jury of fine arts experts. Each artist will receive $500, with the winner being awarded an additional $500.

Personally Yours
By
Frances Mulhorne.

Now that the Great Day is only a matter of hours away, we wish to extend to each and everyone a most happy, happy Christmas week and a prosperous, and happy New Year.

It is that time again, when the mellowing effects of the season again melts the reserve, taciturnity and general stand off-ishness of people as they come and go. Again there are smiles, an exchange of small talk, where months before there was none. If only this general mellowness could last throughout the year; perhaps, if the Christmas season come in mid-summer as it did in many, many years ago in ancient days gone by, maybe the very heat would continue the mellowing effect.

We have no wish to cast dark clouds but there are some sobering thoughts about this Christmas, 1962. It might not have been; it might not have been if the recent Cuban crisis only a few months behind us, had taken a more unfortunate turn. Nevertheless, (and when I say we, I speak of humanity, the world over) been so close to total oblivion, as far as the physical world is concerned.

Instead of the bright decorations, tinsels and other symbols of Christmas, there could have been smoldering ashes; instead of brightly lit, warm homes, there could have been just holes in the ground, sheltering deathly frightened survivors; instead of joyful singing of carols and hymns there might have been a great moaning and groaning; instead of prayers of thanksgiving there could have been prayers of beseeching and lamentations.

We say this only, to reiterate what we suspect is in the hearts of many. Our wonderful Christmas season, which we are allowed to have one more year, is truly a blessing, of far more significance that in any previous year. May yours truly be a wonderful Christmas, and may the New Year usher in only gladness and joy for you and yours.

Before we forget we would like to remind you about next week's deadline. Because our typesetters will not be working Monday, Christmas eve, we will take news only on Friday, for the Dec. 27 edition, which

ADDING STATURE TO SEGREGATED SCHOOLS

Iowa University basketball team played Clemson University of Clemson, South Carolina, Monday night. A small fight occurred on the court between Hankins of Iowa, the only Negro and one of the Clemson players which did not set well with the crowd. Of course, the fight did not occur necessarily because Hankins was a Negro for such things happen in the Big Ten games and others where, in some instances, no Negroes are on the squads.

Clemson does not admit Negroes to its student body. It is located in one of the two states where there has been no integration of the schools. And while some players on the team are from the North, they live, play and move in line with the accepted practice of the school.

The Daily Iowan, student newspaper at Iowa City, had previously called for a cancellation of the game for this reason.

Unquestionably, the Iowan is on sound ground. There are many fine schools in the South that have integrated their student body. To collaborate with those who don't simply adds statue to a school which violates the Supreme Court decision against segregation.

While it is not the primary job of the athletic department to solve the race problem, it can, in scheduling games with schools which don't bar students on the basis of race, serve notice that it does not give a pat on the back to those institutions which continue to fly the flag of racial discrimination.

CHRISTMAS

There is no holiday which involves as many people as does Christmas greatly because it grows out of the observance of the birth of Jesus Christ. It is a time for thoughtful giving between families and friends.

Americans may well breathe a sigh of relief for having come through the year with peace and good will toward all men. True, a dangerous situation arose in Cuba, which has not fully cleared up, but for all intents and purposes, it may be said safely that the guns pointed at our back door are being removed.

Of course, America is dipping deep into the affairs in Asia and India but has tried to conduct its aid to those parts in such a manner as to stay clear of a shooting war.

Fortunately, life at the home has not deteriorated too much and in spite of the wide range of unemployment most citizens are well fed and clothed. Nobody needs go hungry if he has the courage to get up and ask for help. Freedom has pretty well become a part in the life of most American people — a situation which helps mark the country a land of goodwill.

GOVERNOR BARNETT ON THE HOT SPOT

Word has gotten out in the form of an article in Look magazine that Gov. Barnett entered into a secret deal with Attorney General Kennedy to admit James Meredith to the University of Mississippi. He, along with Lieutenant Gov. Johnson backed up by a few policemen, were to stand in front of Meredith as he attempted to enter accompanied by several marshalls.

The marshalls would fire a blank to disperse Gov. Barnett and his group and march in over the protest of the governor.

Gov. Barnett has maintained a strict silence when called upon to admit or deny the accuracy of the statement.

Undoubtedly, this places the governor in a pretty hot spot with the segregationists in Mississippi, raising doubts in their minds that an old collaborator had "kept the faith."

Southeast Bears
Honor Coach, John
Estes, at Little League
Awards Day

The Little All American Football League of Des Moines held its awards day program Saturday, Dec. 7, at the Des Moines Y.M.C.A.

An estimated 240 boys, parents, coaches and friends of players attended the meeting. The spectators saw a motion picture film on National Football League highlights of 1961, loaned for the day courtesy of the National Football League.

Each boy also was given a certificate in recognition of his efforts during the year, and added recognition was given to boys who were named to all-star teams in each division.

Tommy O'Boyle, former East high athlete, player at Kansas State, and now assistant to Bus Mertes at Drake, spoke to the boys on the value of football and the lessons to be learned from playing the game.

Estes Honored

Members of the Southeast Bears team then made an unexpected trophy presentation to their Coach, John Estes, Jr. After the boys had presented the trophy, Bill Reichardt then lauded John Estes as the greatest halfback who ever played at the State University of Iowa.

Outstanding

Mr. Estes was a tremendous athlete at North high in Des Moines, played one year at Iowa before having his athletic career ended when he broke his back on a Des Moines playground during a summer-time basketball game. Despite doctors predictions that he would never walk, John's fierce determination and fighting heart forced him off an invalid's bed back to a productive life. He now holds down a full-time job for the State of Iowa, and he has coached Little League Football for several years. Timothy Barker and John Jewett of his team were named on the All Star squads.

Champions in the two little league divisions were the Northwest Colts, lightweight, with a 6-0 record; Southwest Packers, heavyweight, 5-1 record.

First Negro On
Sports "Silver" Squad

New York—Frank Leon (Doc) Kelker, a Little All-American as an end at Western Reserve in 1937, was named to the 1962 Sports Illustrated Silver Anniversary All-American Award, recently, the first Negro to be honored.

Mr. Kelker is at present a distinguished leader in Cleveland, Ohio.

Nixon Is Marquette's
Captain Again

Milwaukee—The Marquette university basketball team begins its 1962-63 season under the captaincy of playmaker Richard Nixon of Waukegan, Ill., who becomes only the second man in Marquette history to lead the squad two consecutive seasons.

Nixon is believed to be also the first Negro two-time captain of the Marquette team.

Brazil's President
Bars Trading of Negro Soccer Star

Rio De Janeiro, Brazil—In America baseball owners are quick to run up the "Strictly Not For Sale" sign on such super stars as Willie Mays and Mickey Mantle.

But in Brazil there is a law on the books making it a crime for the country to trade away to a foreign team a 22-year-old Negro who has become an international hero in the world's most popular sport—soccer.

Not Enough Money

Brazil's super idol is a nimble-footed, talented athlete named Edson Arantes do Nascimento, better known in the world of soccer as Pele. Officially and unofficially the Brazilians believe that there is not enough money in the world to buy Pele, who rose from poverty to wealth and fame and who is ranked as the greatest soccer player of all time.

Pele, who is the top star of the world champion Santo club, cannot be sold on the foreign soccer market because former President Janio Quadros about two years ago issued a decree making the 135-pound Negro star a national treasure that cannot be taken legally out of Brazil.

Clay Wins Boxer
Of The Month Tag

Manila — Heavyweight contender Cassius Clay of Louisville Ky., who modestly claims he's the world's best fighter was recognized today by the World Boxing Association as "Fighter of the Month," at last.

And the 20-year-old "Louisville Lip" was boosted from seventh to fourth among contenders in the WBA's latest rankings because of his fourth-round knockout over Archie Moore at Los Angeles, Nov. 15.

Moore, 46, was dropped from sixth to 10th in the rankings.

The Christmas Spirit

How lovely this spirit abroad in the land,

How warm and sincere is the clasp of the hand,

How joyous the laugh and how bright is the smile

When love takes possession of hearts for a while.

Why must we forget when the holidays go
And most of love's sweetness be lost like the snow?

We rush and we struggle, we push and we drive

Like skiffs on a turbulent lake, as we strive.

If only we spent a small time every day

Just thinking of kind things to do or say,

Then the love that we feel when this season is near

Would make us all happy each day of the year.

—Cecile Bonham, in Kansas City Poetry Magazine

He Is The Man

He is the man—who comes at night
Fills homes and hearts with pure delight,

His coming is a splendid sight;
Across the snow of sparkling white . . .

He is the man—who brings the toys
And all the treats for girls and boys.

The best of help, this man employs:
To give the world the Christmas joys . . .

He is the man—of whom all sing

The token gifts His helpers bring:
These sweets, this food, that golden ring

They're birthday gifts for God, our King.
Christmas gifts—marks of God's plan

And of that night, new life began
The reign of hope, with an endless span.

For love and peace: He is the Man!

SHARE IN CHRISTMAS

We will share a merry Christmas
With each relative and friend,

While we pray this Christ-born spirit would never, never end . . .

Make it spread across the wide, wide world

To the lands beyond each sea,
And bless them with good will to men:

Peace through eternity . . .
If the Spirit of this season
Is a part of all of us;

Joy will reign beyond all reason—
Everyone will share in Christmas . . .
