Ten Minors Launch Attack on Schools

New York—NAACP Legal Defense attorneys launched a new attack on segregated schools in Mississippi this week.

In two suits filed in the Federal District Court in Jackson, bi-racial schools in the City of Jackson and Leake County were challenged by Negro plaintiffs.

This week's actions were first Legal Defense Fund suits against segregated elementary and high schools in Mississippi.

10 Signers

The Jackson complaint was signed by 10 Negro minor plaintiffs including the two children of Mississippi NAACP Field Secretary Medgar Evers. The complaint alleges that the Jackson Municipal Separate School District is "pursuing a policy, custom, practice and usage of operating the public school system . . . on a racially segregated basis."

Total Segregation

The Jackson school system is described as operating 34 schools for white children, and 16 schools for Negroes, with attendance and assignment areas, teachers, budgets, construction plans and appropriations all operated on a segregated basis. SEE PAGE TWO

The project in this group was under the leadership of James Hunter, captain and Bill Robinson, institutional representative. A vote of gratitude was extended by the campaign steering committee to the parents and leadership of these units.

The campaign for $439,746 is scheduled to conclude April 1 with a "Victory" dinner.

On Capitol Hill—According to reliable sources a large majority of Republican senators voted Tuesday in a private caucus meeting to approve a fair employment practices bill. It was allegedly expressed that many of the Republicans are concerned about minorities feeling that the Republican party has turned its back on them.

Consideration of the bill has been blocked in the senate by Senator R. O. Burrows, (Rep., Belle Plaine), who refuses to bring the bill out of a subcommittee. Supporters of the bill brought it up for discussion at gain action in spite of Burrows.

Count Basie Band Will Play Eight Ministers Urge Iowa At NAACP Dance Mar. 31 Legislators to Pass FEP Bill

Count Basie, who brings his famous orchestra to the Val Air Ballroom on Mar. 31 for the Des Moines NAACP Freedom Fund dance, gained his early musical fame as star pianist with the great Benny Moten Orchestra, one of the Midwest's most famous swing outfits. When Moten died in 1935, Basie went out on his own with a band built from the nucleus of the Moten crew. The new Basie band played in and around Kansas City and in 1936 came to the attention of noted jazz enthusiast John Hammond. Soon Hammond and Benny Goodman, who were amazed by the terrific jazz played by this unknown combination, took Willard Alexander, always on the lookout for new talent, to the Reno Club in Kansas City where Basie was appearing.

Goodman

In almost no time at all, Basie was under the wing of Willard Alexander, Goodman's personal manager. The rest is musical history. SEE PAGE TWO

Eight Des Moines ministers met Tuesday at Plymouth Congregational church and in a statement to the press, declared they support the passage of an anti-discrimination employment bill by the Iowa legislature. They are Rev. Basil Grimes, pastor of First Evangelical United Brethren church; Dr. Robert French, Iowa Synod Executive of the United Presbyterian church; Rabbi Edward Zerlin, Temple B'nai Jeshurun; Dr. James W. Lenhart, Plymouth Congregational church; the Rev.

Donald Gill, Highland Park Christian church; the Rev. Louis H. Valbracht, St. John's Lutheran church; the Rev. Robert Kem, St. Andrew's Episcopal church; and Dr. William Overhuler, West Des Moines Methodist church.

The bill seeks to prevent discrimination by employers, labor unions, and employment agencies against persons because of their color, race, national origin or religion. Introduced in both the Iowa house and Senate,

Residents of Both Races Left Bewildered; Some Doubt Sincerity of Action

Albany, Ga.—In an unexpected move that left both white and Negro residents bewildered, the City Commission of this southwest Georgia city Wednesday, Mar. 6 repealed every segregation ordinance on the books.

"The reason given by the commission was rather obscure, said M. S. Page, executive secretary of the Albany Movement, which promoted anti-segregation demonstrations that landed hundreds of Negroes in jail last summer.

"Good Faith?"

"My attitude is that if what they're doing is in good faith, they certainly will have the utmost co-operation from us," said Page. "It's not in good faith, it will evidence itself." The commission said the repeal will bolster the city's legal position in racial issues.

Suit

It was learned Friday that the commission had considered lifting the ordinances as early as last September when four Negro leaders sued for an injunction against their enforcement.

U. S. District Judge J. Robert Elliott of Columbus threw out the suit last month, enabling the city to withdraw the ordinances without appearing to yield to pressure.

The city had contended in its defense that the ordinances had not been enforced. None of last summer's arrests was made under the segregation ordinances.

torn down by the city Mar. 2 on Court orders. The barriers were sometimes called "Atlanta's Berlin Wall" by opponents of the measure enforced by the city's board of aldermen.

Chicago—Dr. Nathaniel O. House Cuts Budget Asked by Rep. Powell by $400,000; Asks Censure of New Yorker

Washington, D. C.—While Rev. Adam Clayton Powell, (Dem.-N.Y.) reported convalesced at his Puerto Rico home with a case of influenza, the House of Representatives by voice vote Wednesday, Mar. 6 rejected the $697,000 budget that Powell had requested for his Education and Labor Committee for two years.

Instead, the House gave Powell $200,000 for one year. As an additional rebuke to Powell, who has been under heavy Congressional fire recently for his "official and unofficial" spending, the House earmarked $25,000 of the money for each of six subcommittee chairmen with Powell's endorsement. That left $50,000 for the parent committee to spend under Powell's direction. By such actions the House eliminated $202,000 Powell had requested for one of his favorite projects, a special task force over which he had sole control.

Resolution

Two days earlier the House, by a 59-3 vote, approved a resolution calling on Congress to censure Rep. Powell for his "shameful conduct." The resolution accused Powell of delaying a committee hearing while he and his wife "basked in the Caribbean sun," of touring European night clubs at public expense and other "episodes."

Iowa Congressmen

After the house cracked down on Powell Wednesday, Representative H. R. Gross, (Rep., Ia.) said there are "plenty of others who should be brought into line." However, he said that he did not believe loose committee spending is as wide-spread as Powell had indicated.

"I'm hopeful that this example will be dramatic enough that there will be some voluntary reform by others who have been abusing the privileges," said Representative John Kyl (Rep., Ia.).

Aged Home Abandoned

The Adam Clayton Powell Foundation's plan to convert the Hotel 2400 here into a low-rent home for the elderly has been abandoned, it became known Sunday.

Owners of the hotel, located at 2400 SEtenth st., N.W., now are planning to convert it into apartments, or to sell it.

They said the Powell Foundation was unable to get enough applications from elderly persons to show the Federal Housing Administration that it was economically feasible to convert it into low-rent apartments for the aging.

Negro Newspapers Observe 136th Year of Founding

Saturday, Mar. 16 marks the 136th anniversary of the founding of the American Negro press and the 25th annual observance of National Negro Newspaper week Mar. 17-23.

Since this is the Centennial year of the Proclamation of the Emancipation, signed by that great emancipator, President Abraham Lincoln, theme for press week is "The Negro Press . . . Emancipation . . . Freedom's Promise."

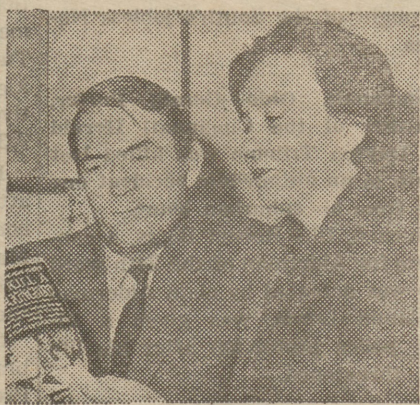

The first American Negro Newspaper, Freedom Journal, and its pre-Emancipation successors worked for the promise of freedom, that all of the Negro newspapers that have existed in the 100 years since the Emancipation have been unselfishly devoted to the improvement of the status of the Negro and the democratic promise of our nation. In the days to come and possibly, years to come, the Negro press must continue this campaign for Freedom's Promise.

Through the years Negro editors and reporters, on meager advertising and few but faithful subscribers have kept up the struggle to print the big and little news and stories of their people. Through the years they have struggled, despite personal and professional setbacks, to campaign for a better American for their people. Through the years and through its militant editorials and news stories the Negro editors have kept up the fight as Emancipator for their people.

Starts at Des Moines Friday

"To Kill a Mockingbird" a Pulitzer winning novel by Harper Lee begins at the Des Moines Theater Friday. I was privileged to attend an advance showing of the picture. The story brings out clearly that there are southern white people even in the back woods area who insist on fair play for even the lowly Negro; that often the charge of rape against a Negro is phoney and in order to cover up, the defendant is killed. the Negro farmer is proven innocent but the jury convicts him anyway. However the old stunt of allowing the defendant to escape and killing him recalls many such instances of years gone by but not so much today. By all means see it.—J.B.M.

Broken Records

Into leading dance spots throughout the country went the Basie organization, leaving a trail of broken attendance and box office records in its wake. Within a short while, the Count ranked high among the nation's top ten bands, a rating he never has lost, thanks to a steady succession of superb recordings and bandstand performances.

A measure of the esteem in which Count Basie is held by his fellow musicians can be gathered by a partial listing of the 62 who voted his band the "greatest ever" and also "new star" in the Musicians' Poll in Feathee's 1956 Encyclopedia Yearbook of Jazz.

In addition to winning American polls such as the Down Beat Readers' poll in 1955, Basie's band won the international critics poll in Down Beat, 1956 and the Readers' Poll of the French monthly, Jazz Hot.

URGES BAR U.S. FUNDS TO MISS.

New York—President Kennedy has been urged to withhold all "Federal funds, grants, loans or other financial assistance" from Mississippi until the state authorities "return to the United States Constitution and cease gunfire interference with the right of citizens of the United States to register to vote."

Prompted by the recent shooting in Greenwood, Miss., of young Negro voter registration workers, NAACP Secretary Roy Wilkins sent a telegram to the President, Mar. 7, calling for "immediate protective action on the spot by the Federal Government."

The NAACP leaders further proposed that "Federal agencies promptly review all contracts for goods or services allocated to Mississippi industries and institutions with a view to the assignment of such contracts elsewhere in the United States where a policy of murderous disfranchisement is not in effect."

Audit OKs Jackson's Union Funds Records

A local accounting firm audited the financial records of Local 177 of the International Hod Carriers, Building and Common Laborers Union, and found them okay.

The audit, which covered the handling of about $500,000 by former Secretary-Treasurer Robert A. Jackson during the past 3½ years—was approved by the union members at a meeting Thursday night, Mar. 7.

The audit, which is customary when the position changes personnel, climaxed a long union disagreement in which Jackson was ousted last January from the job, which pays $7,500 annually.

Jackson, a member of the Des Moines Human Rights Commission and the board of trustees of Broadlawn Polk County Hospital, protested his ouster, but union members overruled him.

Protest Filed

Jackson has filed a protest over the election with the international headquarters of the union, but said Friday there has been no action on it.

If the international union does not act, Jackson said, he will take the protest to the National Labor Relations Board.

Jackson was replaced as secretary-treasurer by Bert O. Cooper of Springfield.

Jackson said his protest is based on the claim that Cooper has been a labor foreman, thus not eligible to hold office according to past rulings from the international union.

Claims "Prejudice"

Jackson also said he has protested that one of the three election judges was "prejudiced" against him, "not especially because of my race, but just as a person."

gro elementary and junior high schools feed into Negro high schools, the complaint states, as white schools feed into more advanced white schools. Students are assigned by race, even if they live nearer a school which is maintained for members of the other race.

Names Published

The Negro plaintiffs petitioned the school board to desegregate Jackson schools on Aug. 15, 1962, but no answer was received from the Board. The names of the signers were published in Jackson newspapers, however.

The Jackson suit asks the District Court to enter a decree enjoining segregation in all aspects of the Board's operation, or, in the alternative, to require the Jackson School Board to submit a plan which would reorganize the school district into "a unitary non-racial system."

Negro Community

Thirty Negro minor plaintiffs signed the Leake County Complaint. Almost all of the plaintiffs are from the Negro community of Harmony, Miss., about 65 miles northeast of Jackson and ten miles from Carthage, the largest city in the county. Slightly more than 50% of the county residents are Negro.

Rights Commission Points Up Racial Injustices in So. Dakota

Washington, D.C.—Negro service-men and their families in the Northern community of Rapid City, South Dakota, often are rebuffed and embarrassed when they seek off-base housing and recreation it was reported today.

The South Dakota Advisory Committee of the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights, at a Mar. 7 meeting in Pierre, S. Dak., released a report on biased community practices and attitudes affecting Negro service-men stationed at Ellsworth Air Force Base near Rapid City.

Public Meeting

Based largely on information presented at a Dec. 11, 1962 public meeting in Rapid City, the report cites testimony supporting the finding that "local residents and real estate agencies neither rent nor sell decent housing property to Negroes."

In some cases, the Committee reports, racial discrimination has caused Negro airmen to send their families back home.

The report cites figures from recent surveys conducted in Rapid City showing that 50% of the bars, 88% of the taverns, 33% of the barber-shops and 16% of the motels in the town refuse to accommodate Negroes. Of the town's restaurants, the 9% which refuse to accommodate Negroes are said to include some of the more attractive and conveniently located eating places.

No discrimination is found in churches, hospitals and municipal facilities in Rapid City the Committee reports.

The Committee, whose Vice Chairman is Mayor of Rapid City, also notes that an anti-discrimination public accommodations law was passed by the State Legislature and signed into law by the Governor while the report was being prepared. (The law goes into effect on July 1.

HUMAN RELATIONS

EFFORT EARNS LINCOLN U. HONORS FOR SIX

Jefferson City, Mo.—The use of printed and broadcast content that serves to improve the understanding between contending groups in America has earned Lincoln University citations for six communications media. Award to six publications and agencies will be presented at the Headliner Banquet at Lincoln Mar. 27.

Special Reports

"Its studious use of the survey and special report to interpret human behavior in racial affairs" has gained for the United Press International the Lincoln U. Curators Award for Significant Contributions to Better Human Relations. Award nominees are selected by the L. U. Department of Journalism and approved by the University Board of Curators.

Similar awards will be presented at the banquet to: the Washington Post, the Providence (R.I.) Journal-Bulletin, Harper's Magazine, Southern School News, and the American Broadcasting Company.

Bad Publicity

In analyzing community attitudes the Committee notes that local citizens tend to resent "bad publicity" brought on by press accounts of discrimination and to seek "scape-goats", but are less sensitive to the moral injustice of bias.

The Committee expresses the belief that the vast majority of the people of Rapid City are opposed to racial discrimination. It concludes that unless there is concerted, positive community action, however, "the forces of self-interest, ignorance and bigotry . . . will cast the die of Rapid City's future."

More Food, Money Donated To Vote Victims in Miss.

Louisville, Ky.—Two more tons of food and clothing have been trucked from here to Greenwood, Miss., to help Negroes victimized for registering to vote. About $100 cash went with the shipment.

It was Louisville's answer to the recent shooting of a young voter-registration worker near Greenwood. James Travis, 20, field worker for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee (SNCC), was critically wounded by a bullet that lodged near his spine but he is recovering.

Donations

The food and clothing from here was collected under the auspices of the Louisville Defender, weekly newspaper. It was taken to Mississippi by Local 89, International Brotherhood of Teamsters, who provided help at the request of Frank Stanley, Jr., Defender editor.

The Hertz Company donated a truck at the request of the Teamsters. Local 89 furnished gas and oil and two drivers, the Rev. James Martin, Local 89 executive board member, and Gilbert Ryan an assistant business agent.

Louisville Area

The food and clothing were collected throughout the Louisville area after civil rights leaders in Mississippi reported that thousands of Negroes in the Delta are in dire need because of reprisals arising out of the stepped-up registration campaign.

NAACP SEEKS SURPLUS FOOD FOR MISSISSIPPI

Washington—Tens of thousands of Mississippi Negro families living in the Mississippi Delta are existing under unbearable economic conditions and are being systematically denied adequate welfare benefits.

Comparing this inhuman deprivation to similar conditions which existed last year in Fayette and Haywood counties in Tennessee, the NAACP has requested the Federal Government to intervene in these families' behalf.

Surplus Food

In a letter to Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman, J. Francis Pohlhaus, counsel for the NAACP Washington Bureau, urged that Federal surplus foods be made immediately available to the "needy families of Mississippi through the agencies of the Federal Government and private non-profit organizations, where state and local authorities refuse or fail to act.

"A rakish bride and groom, easily made from leaves of bread, fine tradition and pure whimsy for the rehearsal dinner table decoration," suggests Catherine Gray, Fotioria Glass consultant on correct table settings.

To make the gay 'pair, you'll need leaves of thick French bread for the bodies, small round loaves for the heads, bread sticks for the arms, and rolls for the feet.

Cut the bottom off the leaves of French bread, so the figures will stand erect. Then trim the inside of the leaves to cut down the weight of the figures. Attach the head, arms and feet firmly to the body, using orange sticks, pencils, or wire.

Dress the groom in a tuxedo cut from black paper, give him a white paper vest, and fasten a canation in his buttonhole. To make the face, cut eyes and mouth from colored paper and paste them to the head. Make the hair from short lengths of yarn and paste it firmly to the head.

Paper doilies and white crepe paper fashion the bride's gown and veil. Tuck a small bouquet of roses in the bride's breadstick arm. Cut long, curly eyelashes and a rosy mouth from colored paper and paste them on the face. At the feet of the pair, place bouquets made by braiding the ribbons from all the bride's shower packages. The maid or matron of honor will carry the bouquets at the place of the bride. A pair of crystal candle holders with tall white tapers complete the table decoration.

"Linen place mats are in perfect harmony with your nicest china and silver," says Miss Gray. "And of course, you will want to use your best cut crystal goblets, wine glasses, and juice glasses to give the final touch of sparkling beauty to the table setting."

Northwestern Bell Forecasts Continuing Increase in Telecommunications for 1963

A continuing increase in use of telecommunications in a widening variety of forms is forecast by Northwestern Bell President A. F. Jacobsen in the Company's Report for 1962, released today.

Indicative of this direction was growth during the year in new forms of communication such as Wide Area Calling, private line services and greater use of the telephone network for the transmission of data through the interconnection of computers and other business machines.

A gain of nearly 100,000 Northwestern Bell Telephones (3,352 in Des Moines Area and 21,600 in Iowa) and a rise in use of intercity services accounted for a seven per cent increase in overall customer use of the Company's services last year.

To provide for this growth and to continue its services improvement program, Northwestern Bell's expenditures for new facilities for the year totaled $115.1 million, a record high. (Iowa totaled $30,962,000). Of this amount more than $82 million went for growth and improvement, the remainder to replace worn and out-moded plant.

Over the past five years the Company's investment in plant throughout Iowa ($276,000,000), Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota has risen from $658 million to just over $1 billion at the close of 1962. This is a growth rate of over 10 per cent per year on the average which is considerably in excess of the rate of growth for the economy as a whole.

One phase of the year's construction added 400,000 Northwestern Bell telephones to the Direct Distance Dialing network. Users of nearly two-thirds of the Company's 2,722,000 telephones in the nation. Dial service was started in 16 exchanges and more than 100 new buildings or building additions were completed.

You Can Make Meringue Cookies

By Betty Barclay

"MAKE 'EM Yourself!" You can. These glamorous meringue cookies that you used to have to buy from a fancy bakery, you can now make yourself in less than half an hour! Three dozen of them, too, enough to serve with elegance at an evening card party.

Chocolate Meringue Cookies

1 cup chocolate chips; 3 egg whites; 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; ¼ cup saltine cracker crumbs; ½ cup chopped pecans; 1 teaspoon vanilla. Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until blended. Then fold in cracker crumbs, nuts, vanilla, and melted chips. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and spread slightly. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen 2-inch cookies. Store in tightly covered container.

Pepper, Spice, Everything Nice Goes Into Mexican-Style Rice

You don't have to go south of the border for this exciting dish! Chili powder and beans add the Mexican touch! Accent brings out all the food flavors... wonderful too with chicken, meat, fish and vegetables. Display the filled rice ring on a platter surrounded with golden fried banana quarters. Serve along with a big salad and your favorite hot bread.

Chili Rice Mexicali

| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1 (No. 2) can kidney beans |
| 1 teaspoon chili powder | 2 tomatoes, diced |
| 1 package pre-cooked rice | 1 (12-ounce) can whole kernel corn |
| 1 1/2 cups cold water | 2 tablespoons chili powder |

Remove from heat; cover, let stand 10 minutes. Meanwhile, melt shortening; cook onion and green pepper in shortening until soft but not brown. Add beans, tomatoes, corn and seasonings; mix well. Add cheese; stir over low heat until cheese melts. Pack rice into ring mold; invert on platter and fill center with bean mixture. Serves 6.

Now that it is kite-flying weather generously mixed in with snow-ball temperatures for the kiddies most of you mothers especially are probably looking around your homes, getting that annual spring fever—house cleaning desires. Some are already painting away and puzzling husbands and children alike with their perennial furniture arrangements. Meanwhile, as you pause for the moment that refreshes, let us take you along a pleasant lane for joint silent communication with your fellowman in the city and elsewhere.

A letter from Mrs. Gladys Walton, Cambridge, Mass., arrived at the Bystander earlier this week. She said she had planned to send a picture and writeup of her daughter's wedding but she yet had not selected her pictures, she could wait no longer, and sent the writeup on ahead to be published as she has many friends in Des Moines. (The story of the wedding appears elsewhere on this page.)

"I wish I could really describe the reception for it was truly something to talk about. I would like to continue the Bystander for the time being anyway as I do like to read about what is going on in my favorite town."

Various illnesses, indicative of winter, have been going the rounds in Des Moines. This week Mrs. Lucy Sandelin, reporter for Maple Street Baptist church was reported under the weather. . . . For the past several weeks Mrs. Mildred Graves, beauty shop operator, has been in and out of bed battling a case and lingering effects of flu. . . .

Herbie Cawthorne, the young man who appeared with the Plain Plaid singing group on the high school page of the daily paper last Saturday, is the son of Mrs. Edythe Cawthorne, Iowa State traveling librarian and president of the Des Moines chapter of Jack and Jill of America.

Mrs. Clara Bayles, 951 17th street, is still busy with her speaking engagements around the city and state. Several weeks ago, on Feb. 27 to be exact, she appeared on KDPS-TV, for the fourth grade classes in all of Polk county and for several surrounding counties. She spoke on her tour of Africa and answered questions of Mrs. Janet Heath, fourth grade TV teacher.

Last week on Mar. 5 Mrs. Bayles spoke to the travel group of the American Association of University Women, at Younkers tearoom. She also had a display table of her souvenirs brought back from her tour of the countries in Africa. Mrs. Bayles is also vice president of the group. Sometime ago she told us that some of the pictures she took while on tour in Africa, turned out to be some taken just two blocks from the home of an African student who is doing graduate study at the Iowa State University at Ames. He is Ronald Larsen, Kenya resident, who is almost a double for Harry Belafonte, American folk singer-entertainer.

It is also that time again—vacation rambles, or at least, time when residents have planned their times of departures or are thinking about it. We were quite entertained at the Founder's day tea of Delta Sigma Theta sorority, when Mrs. Marshall Smith, Sr., told us of the trip she and her husband took to Alaska last summer, going by rail and ship. Mrs. Smith describes the scenery as "unbelievably beautiful," with the white snowcapped mountains, blue skies and the green of leaves of trees.

Contrary to belief, the weather wasn't cold; they took clothes for fall and a few winter things which they needed at night. The nights were rather chilly.

French is the language most spoken there. They were in Alaska three weeks and in all that time saw only one Eskimo, who was dressed similarly to an Indian. Mrs. Smith believed he probably came in from the out country.

Many Indians inhabit the land, she noted, but they are mostly in western dress.

On board the ship Mrs. Smith recalled they received first class treatment from fellow passengers and members of the ship's crew. Passengers were allowed to choose their breakfast and dinner menus in advance. Mrs. Smith, who was on a special doctor's diet, gave her selections and had it prepared as she wanted and needed. She described the food as more than plentiful and prepared with culinary artistry. However, she noted that in Alaska, also, rice and fish were basic foods.

Mrs. Smith said she and her husband (who have traveled extensively) decided to go to Alaska because they

THE PEOPLE VS
POLITICAL LEADERS

For the past few years Mississippi State College has won the South East conference basketball championship and of course was invited to the invitational tournament at the close of each season. However, none of the invitations was accepted because Mississippi politicians blocked their acceptance since the team might be pitted against one which included Negroes.

This year they won again and the president, coach and team wanted to accept. But Gov. Ross Barnett put in his appearance and disapproved arguing that to do so was not good for the school, the team or the Negroes. It looked as though Mississippi must pass up another opportunity to become a championship team and the politicians are dipping in running the affairs of the university rather than allow the faculty and students free choice of school activities.

This is an excellent example showing that younger people are willing to move ahead in the program of improved racial cooperation only to be stymied by the older heads who attempt to cling to the old worn out practice of supremacy and complete separation of the races.

The Board has taken the matter in hand and voted 8 to 3 to let the boys play.

ENOUGH TROUBLE
WITHOUT WALKER

General Edwin A. Walker and Evangelist Billy James Hargis are billed to speak in Des Moines on a tour of several states.

The general resigned from the army because he was rebuked for misconduct, was repudiated by the people of Texas when he ran for the Democratic nomination for governor, and later showed up on the campus of the University of Mississippi with the avowed purpose of opposing the enforcement of the law which permitted James Meredith to enter Old Miss.

Hargis is a minister of the gospel but spends his time stirring up animosity between racial and religious groups. In view of the wide use of television, radio and extensive travel, some "father" is footing the bill.

The sponsors in Des Moines don't make a contribution to the advancement of the city by bringing in such people. General Walker has proved himself unfit for leadership in that he has no respect for law and order unless it serves his ends. Such people, and they have a following, poison the minds of young people, present a sad throw-back of the type which Hitler gave generally and which a lot of his kind would like to see in America.

HOLD OFF

BOND ISSUE FOR NOW

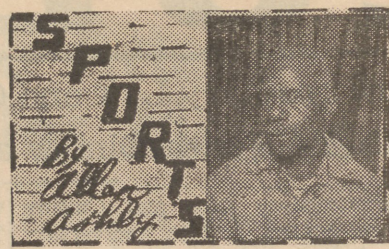

Des Moines goes to the polls Monday, March 18 to vote on a bond issue of two million dollars to provide funds for a city garage and city yard relocation. Already there are facilities for the purpose located in scattered areas. The administration proposes to consolidate these facilities which it claims will save money and provide more efficient operation.

This, of course, will add to the tax bill—an ever increasing program which every taxing body seems bent on following. Budgets go higher and higher each year with little done to scale down the cost of operation.

In view of the continued boost in services which is already burdening the taxpayers almost beyond reason surely the city should hold off this ingathering of facilities until some other more urgent projects are taken care of.

The Urban Renewal program is still in a muddle with no definite clean cut program in the making. Frankly, it presents a poor example and is clearly behind surrounding towns.

Lets solve the low cost housing program and provide homes for the people before new garages and garbage plants are built.

We know spring is really here. Baseball scores are appearing in the sports section and basketball teams are finishing out their schedules. Spring football is just around the corner and indoor track is making way for outdoor meets.

There have been several surprises this year in the various sports announcements. One of these was the appointment of a Negro, Emmet Ashford, as umpire-in-chief of the Pacific Coast league. That is fine, but the fellow, is definitely big league timber and all the powers who handle these things know it. We hope we are wrong, but in a few years they can apply the argument that Ashford is just a little too old for the majors. Of course, the fellows who make these decisions will be right. Which probably is one of the reasons why a lot of Negroes don't accept constructive criticism too well. They find themselves wondering if the same rule would have been applied as strictly if they were not Negroes.

Mississippi

Mississippi State is finally going to compete in an N.C.A.A. basketball tournament. Those guys have won that southeastern conference title several times. But that silly rule against playing against Negroes forced the boys to sit back and watch. The second place team go to the national meet. Because the state boys might have to play against Negroes. But those fellows could go on a sort of crusade, get all fired up against those other fellows and win the national title.

Northern Cities

But our guess is that some of the Mississippi boys are from some of our large northern cities. Might be like the coach of a southern team that was playing a northern team for the first time. The coach waved the confederate flag and refought the civil war in an effort to inspire his charges before he realized that just about all of his team had come from Chicago, Pittsburgh and New York. They were uninspired to say the least.

Recruiting Negroes

Southern schools are recruiting Negro football players. We don't think it is a sudden resurgence of brotherly love. It is just that those big Negroes would probably go to some northern school and come back to dear old Dixie and beat the ears off many a school from their home state. They are gradually waking up down there.

Here at home people are getting ready for the basketball games between the old timers and a team of youngsters; we hear the old timers expect to have enough men suited up to be able to run in a fresh new team every five minutes. That period between teams maybe too long but we shall soon see.

A Prayer For Lent

Lord, make me kind!

The world is full enough of needless tears

And hungry hearts are full enough of nameless fears,

To these no vision of Thy human-ness appears.

Lord, make me kind!

Lord, make me think!

For thoughtlessness has caused so much needless woe,

For thoughtless words of mine may grow and grow

Until, like torrents mad, no thing can stay their flow.

Lord, make me think!

Lord, make me love!

And place love's sign upon the face of me

That loveless man may pause and turn and see

A little of that love that comes from Thee.

Lord, make me love!

The Season of Chills and Changes

Beware the Ides of March!

And beware, also, the chill winds that have not yet been chased by hints of spring.

March can be good weather for germs but bad weather for people. The driving rains, strong winds and frequent sharp changes of temperatures are often followed by a variety of Respiratory Diseases— including bronchitis.

Two Forms

This disease, familiar to most people, is found in two forms: acute (or short-term) bronchitis, and chronic (or long-lasting) bronchitis. Both types involve inflammation of the membrane that lines the bronchial tubes.

Acute bronchitis frequently accompanies virus infections. These infections cause bacteria which already live in the throat—and are usually kept at bay by the body's general resistance—to become a more formidable enemy. With resistance down, the bacteria invade the bronchial tubes, causing bronchitis. Chemical irritants such as smoke, fumes, and gases can also cause acute bronchitis.

Symptoms

There is usually a mild fever, plus sinus trouble and laryngitis, a cough and the accumulation of thick sputum. But the disease is seldom serious and usually goes away after several weeks. If symptoms last for a longer period, a doctor should be consulted.

Chronic bronchitis, on the other hand, can be a much more serious problem. It usually lasts for a month or more and recurs annually, or can become a constant, all-the-time condition. Bronchopneumonia is a com-
