Wilkins Calls Upon President To End Housing, Job Bias at Cape Canaveral Space Base

New York—President Kennedy has been urged to end "the continuing flagrant discrimination suffered by Negro citizens in the Cape Canaveral-Cocoa area in Florida."

In a letter to the President, dated Mar. 18, Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said that the 1,000 Negroes employed in the nation's vital space effort in that area are denied opportunity for job promotions and refused access to decent housing while "as many as 300 FHA-financed homes stand vacant and unused in the Cocoa metropolitan area."

Complaints

An affidavit charging housing discrimination, he told the President, had been filed by the NAACP with the new Committee on Equal Opportunity in Housing on Mar. 15. On the same day, complaints charging job discrimination were filed with the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

Economy

The NAACP leader reminded President Kennedy that "Federal space and military installations predominate in the Cocoa area. The entire local economy, including tourist accommodations, banking facilities, schools and public facilities, is dependent directly or indirectly upon the presence and financial support of the Federal government. Federal grants and loans for urban renewal and low rent housing to meet anticipated expansions (as for the forthcoming Lunar and Nova projects) are imminent. The government's role as the principal employer in the area is apparent."

Will Refund $409 in Taxes to Pensioner

The Polk County Board of Supervisors voted Tuesday on the tax refund on a former home located at 1008 17th street that according to his attorney, J. B. Morris, Jr., is "under concrete right now."

Cropp, 1222 13th street, said he thought he was paying the taxes for another property he owns. Assistant County Attorney Chris Becker, said Cropp's problem arose because the federal government failed to notify the county that it had acquired Cropp's property. Without such notification the county continued to bill Cropp for taxes.

The assistant county attorney also recommended that the refund be concurred in by the Des Moines City Council and the Des Moines School board which would have to share the cost of the refund.

Will Train Africans to Manage Own YMCAs with Headquarters in Monrovia

James F. Dixon, 34, 715 28th Street, who has spent more than two-thirds of his life in Y.M.C.A. work either as a member or leader, last week officially accepted a position as Y.M.C.A. World Service fraternal secretary for three years in Liberia, Africa. He resigned effective May 15 as youth secretary of the Des Moines Y.M.C.A., a position he has held since 1961.

One of 60

Dixon is one of 60 persons in the United States and Canada, who with their families have passed a series of stiff tests, extensive screening and interviews selected to serve in 30 foreign countries. He and his wife, Betty June, a beautician, and their daughter, Tracie, 9, will leave in June for his base in Monrovia, Liberia, where he will train Liberians to qualify them as staff leaders in Y.M.C.A.s in their own country.

Extensive Tests

Before being accepted for his new position Dixon and his wife had to pass a series of stiff tests including four days of screening tests, medical examinations, aptitude tests and interviews in New York City earlier this month. In addition a personal director of the Y.M.C.A. spent three days in Des Moines evaluating Mr. Dixon's work at the central branch and visiting the Dixon family in their home.

Other Requirements

Besides scholastic training and successful experience, the position demands willingness to work, "youth" enough to adjust to a new environment, ability to organize and direct, a strong religious motivation, the desire to help others and "to come as an equal not a superior."

Early Roots

A native of Des Moines, Mr. Dixon put down early roots in the Y.M.C.A., which later became his life's profession. At the age of 10 he joined the old Crocker branch, attended Y camps and qualified as a group leader. His early training came under A. P. Trotter, an honorary member of the board of directors of the central branch and who served as chairman of the management committee of the Crocker branch for many years.

Education

A graduate of North high, where he was active on the tennis and basketball teams, Dixon attended Drake university, and at the same time served part-time with the Crocker branch with the Gra-Y boys before graduation. Later he served briefly with the Polk County Welfare department before rejoining the Crocker executive branch 1953 as executive director, a position he held until the branch was taken by the Des Moines freeway and urban renewal projects.

Dixon was then asked by R. W. Linberg, general secretary of the central branch to join the staff as a youth secretary in charge of Hi-Y and Junior Hi-Y programs. In 1961 he was appointed to the position.

Civic Affairs

Dixon is financial secretary of the Board of Trustees of St. Paul A.M.E. Church. He is a member of the Executive Board of the Des Moines branch of N.A.A.C.P. and has been named general chairman of the group's annual membership drive which will take place in April.

Youth in Virginia Under Two Sentences of Death for Alleged Rape; Protests Rise

Lynchburg, Va. — People all over Virginia are becoming aroused over the case of Thomas C. Wansley, a Negro youth under two sentences of death for alleged rape.

He is also under a 20-year sentence on a charge of taking $136 from one of the women involved. A Negro minister who protested against the treatment of Wansley was charged with contempt of court.

Severe Sentence

Many citizens are not only outraged by the severity of the punishment meted to the 18-year-old prisoner. They also object to the way the State conducted his trials and the shaky evidence on which he was convicted.

Rape Cases

Negro leaders and others point out that Wansley was first sentenced to die on a charge of raping a white woman who could not positively identify him. A short time before this, in the same court, a white man was given five years in prison for raping an 11-year-old Negro girl, although he was caught in the act by a policeman.

Ask Protest Letters

The Rev. Virgil A. Wood, a leader in the fight to save Wansley, has appealed to people everywhere to join in asking just treatment for the youth. He asked that protests be sent to Gov. Alberts Harrison, Executive Mansion, Richmond, Va., and to United States officials in Washington, D. C.

William Sharp Waits, Catches Boy Trying To Break into Home

William Sharp, 1718 Crocker street, whose home had been broken into many times recently, had a hunch, decided to stay home Monday and wait to see if the culprit would try again.

His hunch paid off. Sharp told police that about 1:30 p.m. the phone rang, but he did not answer it. Then about an hour later, he related, there was a knock at the front door and then at the back door. He said he didn't answer the knocks but instead watched through a window and saw a boy attempting to open a basement window.

Sharp said he grabbed a baseball bat and started chasing the boy but the youth got away but not before Sharp recognized him.

Tuesday morning police brought the boy into the police juvenile bureau, where officers said he admitted attempting to break into the Sharp home Monday afternoon but denied any of the previous burglaries.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Our Hero

Three cheers for the high school coach!

He is frequently a hero, and something of an idol to his boys. Win, lose or tie, he is a man of stature and influence within our schools.

February probably found him busy on the basketball court, calling the shots from the foul line. He also calls his shots—correctly—when he advises his team not to smoke. For years it has been the practice of most high school athletic coaches not only to advise against smoking but to bar from the team anyone who does smoke during the playing season.

First Hand

His wisdom has not been gained casually. It comes from first-hand knowledge of the human body, how it can be nourished, trained and disciplined to peak performance level—and exactly what it takes to turn boys into champions.

For a long time the coach raised a lonely voice against smoking. Today, however, he is in good company, much of it scientific. Evidence against cigarette smoking is mounting. The scientific jury is still out, is still studying this pleasant little custom picked up in the New World by Sir Walter Raleigh, but to date this much is clear:

What Is Clear

- There is a direct link between damaged lungs and heart on the one side, and cigarette smoking on the other.
- Lung tissues are changed by cigarette smoking, a fact that can lead to many Respiratory Diseases, including emphysema (a disease in which the lungs capture and hold stale air).
- Lung tissue changes produced by cigarettes can also lead to lung cancer.
- The more cigarettes smoked, the more damage done.

—Non-smokers live longer than smokers; light smokers live longer than heavy smokers.

Your local Christmas Seal association says, "Here's to the coach! He's had the right idea for years." Information Service of Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association

BOOK REVIEW

Langston Hughes Traces NAACP in Last 50 Years

By Mrs. Louise Glass

A casual glance at the title of the book, "Fight for Freedom" by Langston Hughes, may lead one to assume that it is a call to arms. However, it is a definitive report of the activities of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) from the time it started in 1909 until 1961. The word fight is used in the sense of a difficult struggle against almost overwhelming odds.

Like Slavery

Down through the years many efforts have been made to formulate plans, to organize for the purpose of lifting the standards of the Negroes of the United States. Strange as it may seem, there were times just before and just after the turn of the century when their situation was not much better than slavery. In the South humiliation and degradation. In the North a kind of social vacuum.

Altho these efforts were sincere they seemed to wither on the vine. But a little handful of never-say-die men and women, Negro and white, got together and started that steep, stony journey up the path leading to first class citizenship for Negroes.

Humor

Mr. Hughes has combined his talent for writing and his genuine patriotism to tell of the ups and downs faced by the NAACP, our oldest most effective and biggest civil rights organization. He is unusually serious. But there are touches of humor, too.

As the time, when on an investigation trip to Mississippi, Thurgood Marshall, suddenly decided to "wrap his constitutional rights in cellophane, put them in his pocket, and catch the first train north."

And the time Walter White made a like decision. The train was just pulling out of the trouble spot but he scrambled on without stopping to buy a ticket. The conductor told him he was leaving town just in time to miss the fun. "A Nigger from the North was in town and they were going to get him that night."

Step by Step

This book would appeal to all who are interested in the civil rights battles today and of those years gone by.

At no point does the author give the impression that there has been a "one-stroke-of-the-pen" achievement. It has been a step-by-step matter, carried on by dedicated, competent men and women of both races, backed by the law.

From the original 40 who started out in 1909 the membership had swelled to 388,334 in 1961. The book ends with these lines:

We have tomorrow
Bright before us
Like a flame yesterday
A night gone thing
And dawn today
Broad arch above
The road we came
We march!
Americans together,
Let's march.

Police Beating in New Orleans Sets Off City Drive

New Orleans, La.—The merciless beating by police of Morris Rowe, resulting in 56 stitches in his head, has initiated a city-wide campaign by New Orleans CORE against police brutality.

The campaign will include demonstrations at Kirschmen's Department Store, where police first attacked Rowe—public meetings and leaflet distributions.

Pay Check

The beating occurred when Rowe returned to the store to collect his final pay check. He had been fired a week earlier after missing several days work because of the flu. When Rowe asked for his check, the foreman said: "No time to talk to you, boy." Rowe stated he would get a lawyer and the foreman summoned police.

Beating

"Don't I have a right to my back pay?" he asked one of the police officers. "Shut up, nigger!" was the retort and then the policeman administered a beating which lasted more than 10 minutes, in the sight of witnesses including Rowe's mother. He was then arrested and taken to the police station where he was beaten again.

Last year, Rowe was a student member of Southern University CORE in Baton Rouge and spent 20 days in jail as a consequence of the picketing. He had been employed at Kirschmen's ever since.

Meredith Says White Students at Ole Miss Lack Respect for Women and Parents

New York—Many white students at the University of Mississippi have no respect for women or parents, Negro student James Meredith declared.

Meredith said he referred to the vile language hurled at him by white students in the presence of women and parents.

Vilens

The vileness of their language, he said, indicates that the state of Mississippi "has degenerated to an extremely low level."

In a signed article, "I Can't Fight Alone," in the current issue of Look Magazine, Meredith wrote:

"The thing I notice is the language the white students use. I have always heard this old saying that Negroes used bad language. But the Negro cannot match the vileness of the words many white students yell. "And the part that has been most difficult for me to understand is that they don't care who is listening. They don't have any respect for their women, or any instructor or parent."

Not Integrated

Meredith, the first Negro knowingly admitted to the University of Mississippi, noted in Look that he had not expected the tense situation at Ole Miss to last more than 10 days or two weeks.

"... I really expected that Mississippi, being almost surrounded by token integration in Tennessee, Arkansas and Louisiana, would act with reason, particularly after the example of the University of Georgia," he said.

The 29-year-old Air Force veteran emphasized that his attendance at the university does not mean that it has been integrated.

"Most of the time," he pointed out, "I am perhaps the most segregated Negro in the world."

N.Y.C. to Probe Job Bias to Break Down All Barriers

New York—The City Commission on Human Rights announced here last week that it will launch a major program to break down barriers in the employment of Negroes and other minorities in industries holding contracts with the city.

The Commission's new Business and Employment Division will direct the drive. Its basic weapon will be a compliance report which was mailed to 2,000 contractors covering printing, construction and miscellaneous trades.

Labor Force

The report will ask for the racial composition of a contractor's labor force, including the number of Negro and Puerto Rican employees hired and terminated during specific payroll periods. This will include all categories—from officials and supervisors to craftsman and clerical help.

"It doesn't make any difference whether a contractor operates from South Carolina or New York City," explained CCHRE Executive Director,

Iowa Legislators Delay Action on FEP Statute

After a week's deferral on a proposed fair employment practices bill by the House Industrial and Human Relations Committee, Iowa legislators may take some action this week.

Members of the committee voted the delay because the majority of the committee felt they needed more time to study changes in the bill made by its chief sponsor, Representative Tom Riley (Rep., Cedar Rapids.)

The changes eliminate enforcement powers of the proposed Human Rights Commission in alleged cases of discrimination.

The bill is aimed against discrimination by employers, labor unions, or employment agencies against persons because of their race, religion, or national origin.

Supporters of the bill, including former Governor Norman Erbe's Commission on Civil Rights, consented to the changes in the bill to increase its chance of approval.

The bill has been blocked in the Senate by a Republican subcommittee chairman, but Republican senators decided at a caucus Tuesday that they want to pass some kind of fair employment practices bill.

Mrs. Ozella Nolan, 610 Glenwood, has a second poem dedicated to her on her eighty fifth birthday. The title is Life's Hi-Way and was written by Mrs. J. W. Childers.

LIFE'S HI-WAY

Fellow travelers up life's Hi-way
We must travel by night, by day
"Tis" the path our Saviour trod
Directed by the hand of God.
The first stop is the "Garden of prayer"

Remembering we've a cross to bear
We must climb Golgotha's hill
This, our heavenly Father's will.
The Hi-way is long, narrow and straight

But leads the way to the golden gate
Altho' it is uphill all the way
It leads to a bright and eternal day.
We'll meet no traveler on this road
And we'll safely reach our goal
It is marked, one way, you will see
The voice of Jesus echoes, "Follow Me".

His foot prints are still on the sand of time

His promise is true, His love sublime
He has made our way secure
By faith we must follow, His promise is sure.

The Hi-way is sometimes dreary and cold

Fatigue was never meant for the soul Altho' the traveler may become weary and worn

Each step we take brings us nearer home.

Hold fast to my promise my child Behold I am with thee, thru the very last mile

Strawberry Parfait Cake

It looks like a shortcake—It's really a cake, with a strawberry meringue for the filling and topping, and a final garnish of bright berries.

Strawberry parfait cake is a variation on the shortcake theme, and an elegant springtime dessert. Instead of biscuit or scone base, there's fluffy cake, and strawberries are folded into a frothy meringue for a topping that is beautifully pink and luscious tasting.

The parfait "frosting" makes the most of strawberry flavor, so that a little more than a cup of berries will make a strawberry cake serving eight to ten people generously.

No need to hunt for a four-leaf clover to expect good luck with this cake. Follow accurately this basic, tested recipe for a two-egg cake, using best ingredients, correct utensils, and temperature given.
Bake the cake in two greased eight-inch layer pans, dividing batter evenly between the pans. For layer cakes, it is often well worth the time to cut a sheet of plain paper to fit the bottom of pans so that the cake will come out perfectly.

This cake requires only standard ingredients almost always on hand. Use enriched flour to make it for family service because of its extra B-vitamins and iron. The cake is one you'll want to serve throughout the year, with a variety of fillings and toppings.

STRAWBERRY PARFAIT CAKE

Batter

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening

Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, beating well until creamy. Add vanilla extract.
Add about one-third flour mixture. Mix. Add one-half of milk, mixing well. Add one-third flour mixture. Mix. Add remaining one-

1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla extract
1/2 cup milk

half of milk, mixing well. Add remaining one-third flour mixture, mixing until light and creamy.
Pour batter into two lined eight-inch cake pans. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) about 25 to 30 minutes.
Makes two eight-inch layers.

Strawberry Parfait Topping

2 egg whites
1/4 teaspoon salt

1 cup strawberries
1/2 cup sugar

Maash strawberries, or put them through a coarse sieve. Beat egg whites until frothy. Add salt and cream of tartar. Beat until stiff.
Add sugar and strawberries gradually. Continue beating until mur-ingue holds its shape when beater is drawn through it. Pipe between layers and on top of cake, leaving sides bare. Garnish top with whole berries.

Quiet Picketing of Theaters in Knoxville Follow Race Scuffles, Arrest of 53 Students

Knoxville, Tenn.—About 350 Negro demonstrators staged a parade of protest against movie houses segregation Sunday in front of theaters.
The demonstrations were in marked contrast to those on Saturday, which began peaceful enough, but ended in racial scuffling, shoving, pushing, fighting, climaxed by the arrest of 53 persons, including 32 Negroes.

At one point, several of the Negroes—denied tickets at the window —rushed the doors of a theater with tickets which police said were passed out by sympathetic white persons.

Ushers grabbed and pushed back most of them, but several made it inside, only to be dragged from the lobby.

Police said the first arrest came when a white youth grabbed a patrolman from behind. The boy was charged with attempted assault on an officer.

In the first wave of arrests, police took in 13 persons. About three hours later, after a minor scuffle at a theater door, police began arresting en masse and took 22 others to the station.

Union Baptist Church To Hold Dedication Service

The Dedication Service of Union Baptist Church will be held Sunday, March 31st at 3:30 p.m. with Rev. H. R. Fields of Mt. Olive Baptist Church in charge. His Senior and Junior Choir will furnish the music.

Union Baptist Church was organized in 1918 under the pastorate of the late Rev. J. M. Eaves in a meeting room on Lyon street, and thence moved to the frame church which was located on the present parking lot at the rear of the church. The membership grew in the Old Annex to approximately 100 members.

In 1927, under the direction of Rev. E. Palmer the congregation laid the cornerstone of Union's next church home. Thus, from a room in a meeting house to its present beautiful edifice did Union Baptist Church grow.

Realizing that no progress is made without prayerful determination, the pastor, officers and members humbly offer their appreciation to all those people, past and present, who made this project possible.

Cheers for Year 'Round Jellies

THE SAYING, "a cheerful look makes a dish a treat," is an old one. And it's true; every housewife knows you can't place too much emphasis on making food taste better by making it look tempting, too. A simple Lemonade Jelly or a mint variation does wonders for lamb and veal main dishes!

And fortunately, even though fresh fruits are not as abundant at this time of the year as they were last summer, we can make superior jellies now, with frozen juices! One of our favorites is Lemonade Jelly made with frozen lemonade and Certo liquid fruit-pectin. In addition to recommending its flavor, we think you'll be delighted with how quickly you can make jelly using this easy, short-boil method.

LEMONADE JELLY

Yield: about 5 medium glasses (2½ lbs. jelly).
2½ cups (1 lb. 2 oz.) sugar ¾ cup (6-oz. can) quick-frozen concentrated lemonade, thawed
1½ cups water ½ bottle Certo liquid fruit pectin

Measure sugar and water into a large saucepan and mix well. Place over high heat, bring to a full rolling boil, and boil hard 1 minute, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Stir in thawed lemonade. Add Certo and mix well. Pour quickly into glasses. Cover jelly at once with ½ inch hot paraffin.

Minted Lemonade Jelly. Use recipe for Lemonade Jelly, adding 8 drops mint extract with the lemonade. If desired, a few drops of green food coloring may be added at the same time.

Camp Fire Girls Observe 53rd Anniversary During "Birthday Month" With Gifts to Others

As part of a longtime tradition nearly 40,000 Camp Fire Girls in Iowa are celebrating their 53rd anniversary of the organization during their "birthday month," by performing services for others.

They are collecting canceled stamps to be sent to Denmark, where a recreation group will sell them to raise funds for playground equipment. And they are rounding up old nylon hosiery which will be used for toy stuffing by craft classes at Woodward State school and the Mental Health Institute at Clarinda.

Above, Mrs. Lacey Spriggs, 3010 Amherst street, and assistant Blue Bird group leader, holds a pile of hosiery as her daughter Edith, and Cheryl Arnold, 3104 E. 8th street, look at dolls stuffed with the hosiery.

Throughout the year, members of the various groups have been gathering used books for Asian students, and old magazines to be sent overseas by "Magazines for Friendship, Inc.," sponsored by the state department. Many units collect ties and costume jewelry for patients at the Clarinda hospital. Camp Fire Girls also learn to sew, knit or bake—and put these skills to work for the benefit of the ill, the elderly and the needy. They turn out thousands of favors, nut cups and other decorations to brighten hospital trays and Golden Age Club Tables.

Rugs and carpets probably take more of a beating than any of your other home furnishings. However, there are several things you can do to make your carpets stay beautiful and last years longer—and save yourself the money it would cost to replace them.

Use an inexpensive carpet sweeper every day to pick up lint, crumbs and dirt from the surface of your carpet. A few minutes a day will keep dirt from being ground deeply into the carpet. Use a vacuum cleaner once a week. A good vacuum cleaner removes deep-down dirt, as well as surface material. When the carpet begins to look dull, use a rug shampoo to get rid of dirt that your vacuum cleaner can't get to. Modern rug shampoos require little work and are well worth the effort to keep your rugs and carpets beautiful. Once a year is the minimum for shampooing every carpet in the house.

Des Moines and other cities in Iowa will have to look far to remember a similar unseasonable perfect weekend, weatherwise, as we had last weekend. Usually we have wonderful weather for several days during the week, but the weekends then fall short. Iowans did just about everything but stay inside and grumble about the weather. And in the words of one Des Moines housewife, who philosophized about the cold rain that followed hard on the heels of the perfect weekend on Monday: "Even if we do have all this cold rain now, we still are better for having the wonderful weekend to look back upon."

The poem by Cornelia Houston in our issue this week was sent from Iowa Wesleyan college through its regular news release service. Miss Houston, a Negro is a student there and her poem was published in a book, "Lifted Up," written and published by Iowa Wesleyan college students for daily use in Lent.

She is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Charles E. Houston, in Tuckahoe, N. Y. Her father is pastor of Shiloh Baptist church there and her mother teaches school in New York city.

We also have another poem from Miss Barbara Garrison, Waterloo, Ia., whose works have elicited admiration from many Bystander readers.

Unintentionally our "In the Hospital" column got sidetracked last week, and it was especially unfortunate as it confined more than a dozen names of persons hospitalized, including over half a dozen from Mercy hospital alone.

Don't forget the organizational meeting of the new Moulten Elementary school P.T.A. on Wednesday, Apr. 3 at 7:30 p.m. You will have an opportunity to join the organization and become a charter member. Dues paid will be active for next year also.

Flu and various cold germs are taking their toll in Des Moines. Many residents are having knock-down and drag-out battles with them and others went down for the count and were confined to their beds.

We had a letter from Mrs. Flossie Douglas of Manly, Ia., informing us she would have to discontinue as correspondent reporter for Manly news. She wrote: "I am very sorry I will be unable to take the papers and report the news for Manly any longer."

"Miss Carolyn Rhem who is a member of our church (New Bethel Baptist) will take my place. You can mail the papers to her this week."

"I think she will make a good reporter. Thanking you kindly for your cooperation."

Speaking for the Bystander we would like to say we will miss Mrs. Douglas but know that we will have as good a relationship with her successor, as she predicts.

THROWING SMOKE TO HIDE SHORTCOMINGS

Very often, an individual finding himself in disfavor, throws up dust to obscure his troubles. The attack by Rep. A. Clayton Powell on the NAACP and its white leaders is an excellent example.

Powell claims that the NAACP should be run by Negroes entirely. He forgets that the NAACP was founded by white people and in earlier years those who could afford it worked without compensation; many worked for meager pay just as the Negroes did. And now that financial conditions have improved and much of its objectives have been accomplished, Powell displays an air of ingratitude.

The NAACP has always been an interracial organization. One of its objectives has been integration of all peoples in American life. Certainly, in order to be consistent, it must remain an interracial organization.

It is always disturbing that some who happen to gain their position on the backs of Negroes (as Powell has) continue to clamor for Negroes to remain apart as the best salvation for their ills. This, of course, is false doctrine. White people have most of the money, most of the influence, most of the jobs. So if Negroes are to gain these things for themselves they must learn to work with and among white people.

It is not surprising that General Walker would attack the NAACP. But in the light of the tremendous job the organization has done for the Negro, and thus for all America, it is difficult to understand why a man of Powell's ability and training would stoop so low as to attempt to throw cold water upon one of the greatest organizations America has ever had.

And it would be interesting to find out just what support Powell has given the NAACP over the years. Generally, those Negroes who oppose it have not supported it with their cash and hard work but like the barbershop hangouts, who spend all their time criticizing somebody else who has dared keep such an organization going, while they benefit as a result of its efforts.

WHY DES MOINES
ENTERTAINS TRASH

Last week, General Edward Walker and Rev. Billy Hargis spoke at Hoyt Sherman Place in Des Moines under the auspices of the Christian Crusade.

With a knowledge of what these men stand for and preach, one would hardly expect a peaceful church going community to bring such trash to the city. But when one considers that their audiences consisted of conservative people who oppose progress, who fight the supreme court and believe a man should be free to do as he pleases even though it injures his neighbor; 2) the fellow who wants to be "agin" everybody, claims his sole objective is to fight communism but whose conduct breeds it and like a lot of those easy going people, and often ignorant who were led by the nose during rush to build up the Ku Klux Klan; 3) some who were just curious to know and see what went on, it was easy to see how the two haters drew a crowd.

General Walker criticised everybody: Republicans and Democrats, the federal government, the NAACP, the living and the dead. In view of the fact that the general spent much of his adult life voluntarily among the very people he criticises, it's a wonder he has any friends. When everybody is wrong but me then there's something wrong with me.

It is too bad that such people should be allowed to spread their doctrine of hate over the country but America's guarantee of free speech includes them also. General Walker and Rev. Billy James Hargis made no contribution to the uplift of a single person by their appearance here. On the other hand, some shallow brain people were carried away with what they had to offer. It's just another reason why the good people in a community must not let up in their effort to bring human dignity for every citizen.

Davey Moore, Boxer, Dies

Lost Featherweight
Title to Sugar Ramos

Los Angeles, Calif.—The death of Davey Moore, former featherweight champion of the world, has resulted in the resignation of four boxers from the sport, action in the legislature of Moore's home state, Ohio, to ban boxing, and a general hue and cry over the nation and world for the abolition of the brutal professional or to put it under federal government control.

Ramos

Moore died Monday of injuries suffered in the fight on Mar. 21 that cost him his title to Sugar Ramos. He never regained consciousness. Although medical authorities said he sustained brain damage as a direct result from his opponent blows, they said they were not enough to cause his death, which they attribute to a blow at the base of the skull sustained when his head snapped against the lower ropes of the boxing ring as he fell in the 10th and final round of his fight.

Into Coma

Moore went into a coma shortly after the bout. His wife, who never watched any of his 66 fights, was at his bedside. She tried to ease the suffering of a dejected Ramos, by telling him "It was an act of God."

Moore is the fourth fighter to die of injuries suffered in a world championship fight. The only other champion to suffer fatal injuries in defense of his title was Benny (Kid) Paret a year ago.

There is the usual clamor and yelling for the abolishment of boxing following the death of Davey Moore who died after losing his featherweight championship last week.

Some of the cries are sincere from people who have always opposed boxing and from some who are always shocked when something like that happens. And we are sorry to say that some of the yells come from opportunists who see a fine chance to be heard publicly.

Reason

Be that as it may be we find ourselves wondering about the reason for boxing. We honestly believe that boxing as a sport is on its last legs. Decisions that make people wonder how supposed experts and ringside writers could be so far apart. Then how the 'experts' could ever disagree among themselves to such wide degree. These decisions are killing the crowds at fights and the interest among fans. Then there are titles that are won and lost not in the ring by the better man but in boxing commission offices and courtrooms by the better lawyers or the fellow with the best connections. These things make boxing fans turn to something else.

Golden Gloves

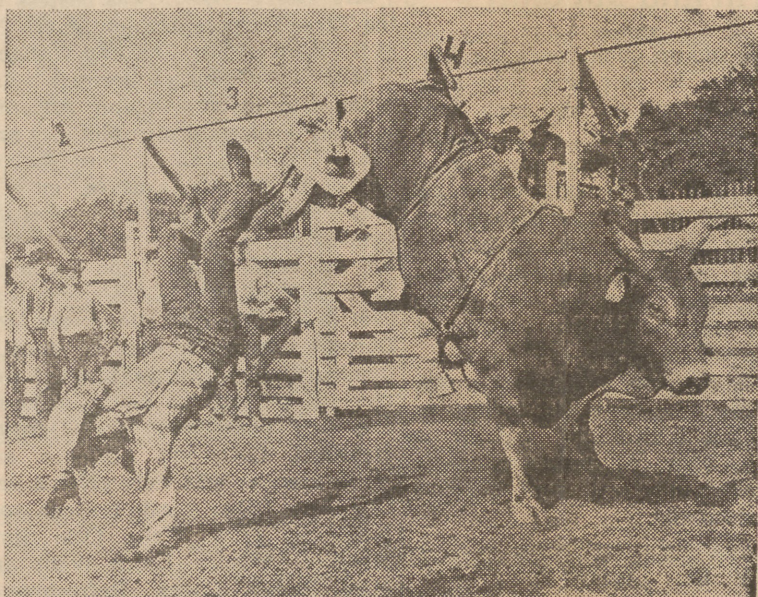

The Golden Gloves ending just about killed the source of amateur boxers who feed the pro ranks every year. It is our guess that in the 1964 Olympics the other nations will end our domination of Olympics boxing and begin to move in on our heavier divisions in professional boxing.

Davey Moore

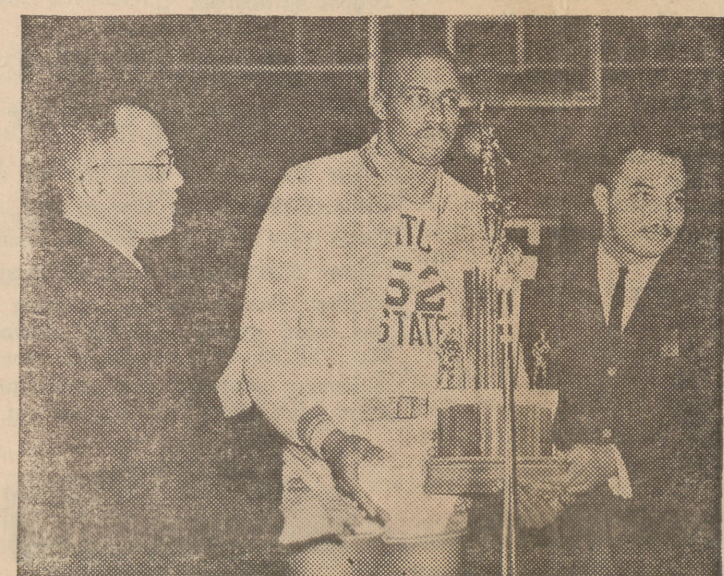

Davey Moore's death was probably unavoidable but a lot of the boxing injuries come from the fact that the fighter can't protect himself. Doesn't know how. A fellow wins an amateur title today; tomorrow he turns pro and three months later faces the top boys in his division. Actually, it takes about a year of nothing but training to get a fellow ready for the brutal grind of pro fighting. There is so much to learn about protecting oneself and so many of our present day fighters know nothing about it. Maybe in some way the money that boxing brings in may be stopped and their boxing will wither and die on

Popular Fish Dish for Lent

Canned salmon, flaked into creamy Newburg sauce, makes an elegant yet economical Lenten luncheon dish.

Each year, at this season, fish swim not only in the seven seas but also in the heads of countless cooks who, with fish an important factor in the family diet, ponder the problem of variety in their menus.

This seasonal necessity, like the proverbial mother of invention, has produced many tasty tricks in fish cuisine. As a result, it is no difficult or time-consuming task to prepare Lenten dishes which leave your family delightfully pleased and satisfied.

One, in particular, is made with colorful, canned salmon in a luscious, creamy sauce, delicately flavored with clam juice and perked with a dash of cayenne. For additional intrigue, a tablespoon of cooking sherry may be added just before serving. Serve with crisp saltines.

SALMON NEWBURG

3 tablespoons butter
1 small onion, minced
2 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon Tabasco
1 can (1 pound) salmon
1/2 cup bottled clam juice
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 egg yolks
1/2 cup cream

In a saucepan melt butter. In it cook onion for 5 minutes. Stir in flour, paprika, and Tabasco. Gradually stir in liquid from can of salmon and clam juice and cook, stirring, until sauce is smooth and thickened. Flake and add salmon and parsley. Simmer for 3 minutes. Beat egg yolks and cream and stir into salmon mixture. Cook over low heat, stirring, for 2 minutes longer. Serves 4.

Basketball

There was probably dancing in the streets in Chicago last Sunday when Loyola, national college champs and Carver High, Illinois state high school champs, came home from the basketball wars. Both teams won their title in the closing seconds of play and both games were proof that most sports contests are lost rather than won. Negroes were in prominence in Indiana and Ohio State high school championships. Do you suppose any of these fine Negro talent will wind up at Iowa U?

Three Wonders

The Cross, this is a Holy mounment
From Heaven, to us it was sent
A sign for us to kneel and pray,
And all our burdens to the Lord relax.

The Bible, this book we should all read
God's inspirations that we all need
It tells us of the land of love,
Our precious Heaven which is above.

And Prayer, this is what we should do each day
Asking the Lord to show us the way
Guide us like lambs of a shepherd boy,
Take us to a world of sinless joy.

A woman who allegedly robbed a cab driver Sunday at knife point was charged with robbery with aggravation after she was identified as the assailant by her victim.

She is Ardell Lavern Turner, 36, of 930 18th street. She was being held in county jail in lieu of $25,- 000 bond. She was arrested by police early Sunday after Mike Grother, 29, of 1356 25th street, identified her from a picture in police files.

Grother said he was dispatched to 930 18th street where he picked up a man and woman. He told Patrolman Robert Good the woman wanted to go to 13th and Center streets and the man to a 28th street address.

Grother said when the woman declared she would go with the man, the man left the cab and the woman ordered Grother to take her back to the 18th street address.

Grother said as he neared the address, he was instructed to pull into an alley. He said he felt a knife at the back of his neck and the woman ordered, "Give me all of your money!"

Grother said he surrendered the money and the woman fled east between two houses.
