3,000 Arrested in Greensboro, Durham

Greensboro, N. C. — Following a week of mass, nonviolent CORE demonstrations here and in Durham marked by some 3,000 arrests, the mayors of both cities have appointed bi-racial committees which started functioning immediately.

Durham Restaurants

In Durham, nine restaurants have desegregated within two days and Mayor Wense Grabarek promised "an almost daily report on progress." In Greensboro, the bi-racial committee, immediately following its appointment by Mayor David Schenck, met and urged that the City Council adopt a resolution to the effect that non-segregation is the city's official policy.

Arrests Suspended

In both cities, demonstrations leading to arrest have been suspended, but, according to William Thomas, chairman of Greensboro CORE: "The students are prepared to fill the jails again if desegregation and job equality are not forthcoming."

Thomas is one of CORE's representatives on the Greensboro bi-racial committee. The other is Major High. The NAACP, Greensboro Citizens Association and Negro Ministerial Alliance are also represented. Delegates for the white businessmen include two representatives from the Chamber of Commerce, two from the Merchants Association and four others.

5,000 March

While the committee held its initial meeting, 2,000 adults and 3,000 students marched silently through the main business district. Despite a drizzling rain, this was the biggest of Greensboro's ever-growing demonstrations against segregation. Among those leading the march was James Farmer, national CORE director, who has been here for the past week coordinating CORE activities.

Atlanta's Hilton Inn Accepting Negroes

New York — Although the Hilton Hotel Corporation has as yet made no public announcement of a change of policy in its Atlanta hotel, Hilton Inn, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People this week revealed that the chain's Atlanta establishment has been accepting Negro guests for the past several weeks.

Last July

The refusal of the Hilton Inn to accept a mixed delegation of NAACP representatives from New York City last July led to threats of picketing of Hilton hotels by NAACP units throughout the country and to prolonged negotiations. Because of the exclusion of Negroes from its Atlanta and New Orleans hotels, the NAACP moved its annual Freedom Fund Dinner in New York City, May 19, from the Waldorf-Astoria to the Americana Hotel.

Meanwhile, on May 18, a three-judge Federal District Court in New Orleans ruled unconstitutional the Louisiana state law sanctioning segregated hotels.

YMCA National Council Urges Local Units to Set Target Dates for Integration

Cleveland—The National Council of Young Men's Christian Associations of the United States has called on its movement to be a "headlight and not a taillight" in racial justice. The National Council, policy-making body of the YMCA movement in the U.S., adopted unanimously a series of proposals made by its Interracial Commission for furthering racial justice in the movement. It also urged local units to give top priority in the next two years to the matter of setting target dates for completion of integration.

The action was taken by the National Council at the conclusion of its three-day annual meeting in Cleveland.

Proposals

A discussion group on racial justice headed by Summit, N.J. attorney N. Conover English drew up a series of suggestions aimed at providing maximum guidance and aiding local Y's in setting target dates and achieving integration objectives.

In unanimously accepted the proposals, the National Council voted to:

(1) Reaffirm that the YMCA will build a movement in which there is no racial discrimination;

(2) Extend its policy of holding national YMCA events only where there is no racial discrimination;

(3) Call on local units to include a larger number of non-whites on all boards and committees;

(4) Call on all local YMCA's to work conscientiously and diligently toward achieving a fuller fellowship in their programs and services;

(5) Establish target dates for achieving integration objectives.

Most Integrated

English pointed out that the YMCA went on record against racial discrimination as far back as 1910, and has reaffirmed that stand periodically. While most of the 1,800 Y's in the United States are fully integrated, some 400 still are not, he said.

Reporting on the feelings of his discussion group, Mr. English said that brotherhood is a Christian concept embodying a spiritual need to recognize the dignity and worth of the individual. The YMCA, he said, must proceed with faith, not with fear of mistakes or economic consequences.

Sees Civil Rights Showdown Nearer in Mississippi

Jackson, Miss. — A showdown on efforts to secure a negotiated desegregation of public facilities in this capital city of the hardest-core Jim Crow state in the Union appeared imminent this week.

The Negro community, mobilized by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has called upon "the businessmen and the businesses involved to immediately negotiate in good faith with our democratically selected representatives.

Negotiations

"If such good faith negotiations do not occur," the telegram to the business interests continued, "we shall have no alternative but to commence intensive direct action."

The wire to the merchants and other businessmen was dispatched on May 22 after Negro leaders repeated as "not truly representative of the Jackson Negro community," a 14-person committee designated by Mayor Allen Thompson to confer on racial problems in the city.

Bi-Racial Group

Previously at a mass meeting on May 21 of a citizens committee of clergymen and other professional and business men, sponsored by the NAACP, 14 persons had been chosen to represent the Negro community on a

Must Not 'Dilly-Dally' at Eliminating Race Barriers; Rebuffs Ala. Governor

Washington, D.C.—The lag of token integration in public schools in the south came under scrutiny and sharp criticism Monday when the U.S. Supreme Court declared unanimously that its 1955 decision that public schools must be desegregated with "all deliberate speed" does not mean that there can be "indefinite delay in elimination of racial barriers."

The court's declaration was in a decision written by Justice Arthur Goldberg that specifically called for immediate desegregation of parks, playgrounds and other city recreational facilities in Memphis, Tenn.

Alabama Governor

In another decision Monday the high tribunal also rebuffed Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, in his plea to bar the use of federal troops in his state. Wallace had contended that it was illegal for the President to call in troops if they had not been requested by him or legislative officials.

Significance

The historic importance of the Memphis case is its answer to this question: Does the Supreme Court's 1955 doctrine allowing gradual desegregation of schools also apply to other areas of locally enforced segregation.

Ruling

In his ruling Goldberg said of the White Ministers Join Mass Meeting

Louisville, Ky.—White Baptist ministers here joined in supporting a mass meeting May 29 for the Birmingham freedom fighters.

The rally was in Convention Hall, which seats 7,500 persons and is in the heart of the downtown section. Featured speakers were Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and his administrative assistant, the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, both of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC), Atlanta.

The Rev. Leo T. Chisom, clerk of the Louisville Baptist Pastors Conference, said the group "voted to pledge sympathy, prayer, and support for the meeting." The action by the white ministers was unanimous.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Medical Revolution

Medical history has seen a quiet revolution in the last 10 years, a radical change in treatment for one of the world's most dreaded killers: tuberculosis.

Reason for this medical near-miracle is the discovery of three life-saving anti-tuberculosis drugs called isoniazid, straptomycin and PAS. Given singly or more often in combination, these drugs have cut the tuberculosis death rate in the United States. Also, if used widely and correctly, they offer a hitherto almost undreamed-of promise: eventual eradication of a disease that has devastated mankind for centuries.

Post-Hospital Care

As a result of these drugs, the average length of hospitalization has been shortened, patients can get out of bed and move around a great deal more than formerly, and post-hospital care and rehabilitation have taken on a new and different importance.

Despite this modern turn for the better, the victory over tuberculosis remains a long way off. Because the disease is infectious and the symptoms are sometimes not apparent, unknown and untreated cases present the greatest threat.

Today, most patients if—and it's a big IF—they follow their prescribed treatment after returning home from the hospital can live with their families, go back to their jobs, and lead full and happy lives, all without endangering their own health or the health of others.

Drugs

With the advent of the drugs, victory against tuberculosis becomes possible if—and again it's a big IF—all tuberculosis patients can be discovered and treated early. Only in this way can the disease be contained, and kept from spreading throughout a family, a school, a business office, or a community.

Toward this end your Christmas Seal organization urges periodic physical check-ups, including a tuberculin test or chest X-ray, for everyone.

Youth Stabbed As He Teased Girl While She Tried to Bake Cake

A 13-year-old Des Moines girl accompanied by her mother walked into the police station last week to report that the girl had stabbed a youth.

Under questioning by police the girl recalled the circumstances surrounding the incident. A neighboring youth, Kenneth Moore, 17, son of Mrs. Edna Marie Whiteside, 813 Crocker street, was in the kitchen while the girl was preparing to bake a cake. She said he was "grabbing things, such as the cake mix." She said an argument began, the lad pushed her and she "came back at him" with a knife and stabbed him in the lower abdomen.

Kenneth was taken to Broadlawn Polk County hospital, apparently suffering only a minor wound. However, he was in surgery for some time while doctors repaired internal injuries.

The girl was released and told to return the next day for further questioning.

Invalidate Hotel Segregation Law

New Orleans, La.—Ruling in a case brought by James McCain, CORE organization director, a special three judge district court unanimously invalidated a state law enforcing segregation in hotels. Judge John M. Wisdom and Judge Herbert Christenberry said the decision "dooms the long-standing state wide custom that white hotels may not accept Negro guests."

McCain initiated the case after being refused a room at the Hotel Orleans last November. CORE has planned nonviolent action on a major scale if the hotels continue to discriminate when the American Legion holds its convention here in July.

The mayor accepted four of the representatives elected at a mass meeting but added 10 persons, including such collaborators with the state's segregation leaders as Percy Greene, Joseph Albright and others. Among those rejected by the mayor was Medgar W. Evers, NAACP field secretary for Mississippi and leading spokesman for the Jackson Negro community.

Informed of the mayor's selections, the Negro community rejected his committee. The Reverends L. Leon Whitney and G. R. Houghton and two businessmen, E. W. Banks and I. S. Sanders, who were the only ones

Atty. Oscar Jones Ends Work As Bill Drafter for Legislature

Oscar E. Jones, Attorney in Des Moines for the past 11 years completed his work as bill drafter for the 1963 Legislature Research Bureau.

Bill Drafter

In 1957, Atty. Jones was hired as a bill drafter during the session of the Legislature. He was rehired for the 1959 and 1961 sessions of the General Assembly. In 1962 he was appointed to head the bill drafting division of the Bureau. The bill drafting division had four attorneys and two typists under his supervision.

Only One

Since the Bureau has been established, he is the only attorney that has been appointed during all four sessions. Most bills that are presented to the Legislature are either drafted or checked by the Attorneys hired by the Bureau as bill drafters and it was Atty. Jones's responsibility to check the bills and give his final approval before they were delivered to the Legislators.

During the 1963 session of the General Assembly, Atty. Jones assisted Jack Schroeder who presented the Liquor by the Drink Bill in the Senate and he also assisted William Scherle and Ray Fisher, the two main sponsors of the Bill in the House.

Golfer

Atty. Jones is also a very outstanding golfer. He has won several prizes in various tournaments. He won the Polk County Bar Association Tournament in 1959 and again in 1961. The Bar Association has a golf trophy which is given to the winner to keep for one year. Recently, he settled the 1956 Fort Des Moines Fire Case bringing in the largest verdict in Iowa, given for a death of a minor child.

schools:

"Given the extended time which has elapsed, it is far from clear that the mandate of the second Brown (school desegregation) decision requiring that desegregation proceed with 'all deliberate speed' would today be fully satisfied by types of plans or programs for desegregation of public educational facilities which eight years ago might have been deemed sufficient.

"Brown never contemplated that the concept of 'deliberate speed' would contenance indefinite delay in elimination of racial barriers in school, let alone other public facilities not involving the same physical problems or comparable conditions.

Washington, D. C.—The House Education Committee approved Friday, May 24, a bill to continue federal aid to "impacted" school districts, but only if they desegregate their schools.

KEEP 'GYPSY ARTISTS' AWAY WITH GOOD FURNACE CARE

Now is the time to raise your guard against the furnace repair gyps who soon will be on the prowl, a national furnace manufacturer advises homeowners.

With the end of the heating season, fast-talking "heating inspectors" will be ringing doorbells, harassing housewives, and bilking unsuspecting victims.

In most cases, however, the homeowner can protect himself just by taking care of his heating system, says Charles H. Franke, president of American Furnace Comptny, St. Louis, and a leader in the fight McKissick, advisor to the youth units and an NAACP attorney.

Also present at the meeting was Durham Mayor Wence Graberek who welcomed Mr. Wilkins to the city and assured both the NAACP leader and his audience that the city would work out its problems with fairness against industry malpractices.

Steps to Take

Here is how you can combat the gyp artists:

—First of all, treat your heating system as you would any mechanical equipment. Have it checked, adjusted, cleaned, and serviced regularly, preferably every summer.

—Second, hire a competent reliable heating contractor for this maintenance, which is inexpensive when done on a regular basis.

—Third, initiate a program of home maintenance—changing filters, oiling motors, and operating the system as the manufacturer suggests.

"With this kind of care, a forced air furnace will last a lifetime," Franke said. "Then, when the gyp artist rings the doorbell and asks to 'inspect your furnace, there will be nothing to inspect.'"

MEREDITH TALKING

TOO MUCH

James Meredith, the first known Negro to register at the University of Mississippi, appeared on television "Meet the Press" Sunday.

By and large Meredith has made a great sacrifice and conducted himself very well through the great crisis which engulfed the Mississippi town of Oxford. His job today is to master his subjects and graduate demonstrating that he entered the school to get an education rather than as a trouble maker or publicity seeker as some have charged.

However appearing on Meet the Press and otherwise using his hard won battle—won principally by the NAACP—to conduct publicity stunts is becoming his position. It is easy to see how a youngster might be carried off his feet and often is inclined to make statements which are factually incorrect as Meredith did in this instance.

He stated that the 1960 campaign was the first time civil rights had been an issue in a national campaign. This, of course, is not true for each party platform has made some recognition of civil rights and each candidate has used it in convenient areas during several campaigns. He said he felt that the Democrats would do more for the Negro. While Eisenhower had the courage to send troops to Little Rock to insure integration, Kennedy told the South that troops would not be used to enforce integration court orders. He was forced to correct it.

Lawrence Spivack asked Meredith whether the death of three people during the university upheaval was worth the price of his enrollment at Old Miss. Meredith's reply was not clear. He should have said yes unequivocally. This was a part of the price Mississippi paid for its failure to maintain law and order and yet if law and order don't prevail we can have no civilization here or anywhere else.

After gaining admission to the University of Alabama, through the work of the NAACP, Autherine Lucy got kicked out because she talked too much and about the wrong people.

The Bystander hopes that James Meredith will strive to do his job of getting an education and let others who have the responsibility and know how to do the talking. Both the Negro generally and Meredith in particular will be better off.

AMERICAN HONORS

THE DEAD

Today, Americans flock to the cemeteries to honor the dead, many purely acting in conformity with the times—many to give respect to those who have died that the world might be a better place in which to live.

Prior to World War I, people in the North honored those men who gave their lives that America might be a free, undivided country; following World War I, the nation honored those who died to make the world safe for democracy; after World War II those who fought to save ourselves from Nazi domination, and including the Korean conflict America has a great task of keeping alive the things for which men died.

Certainly, those who died during the Civil War did not contemplate that race prejudice and segregation would be so widespread 100 years after the war; that World War I deceased did not anticipate that Germany would rise again and threaten the freedom of men and countries as they so boldly challenged an-

Duncan Sweeps 3 Class AA State Dash Events

Iowa City, Ia. — Clyde Duncan, state sprint champion, spearheaded his school, North high of Des Moines, to second place in the state high school Class AA track meet here last Saturday, by setting Class AA records in the three dash events, the 100, 220 and 440.

In sweeping the dash events, not unexpected by track followers, Duncan set Class records in :09.7 in the 100, :21.7 in the 220 and :49.0 in the 440. In doing so he had to buck a fairly stiff southeast wind down the home stretch.

B. Williams

Bob Williams of Des Moines Tech placed second behind Duncan in the 220 and came in third in the 100 yard dash. Ames took first place with 45½ points in the Class AA and Tech came in sixth. Roosevelt of Des Moines, which also set a record in the mile relay with 3 minutes 19.4 seconds, came in third.

Norman Taylor Cops 2 Titles in Regional Track Meet Saturday

Cedar Falls, Ia.—Northeast Missouri won seven of the 15 events here Saturday to finish 15 points ahead of runnerup State College of Iowa in the National Collegiate regional college division track meet.

A double in the hurdles by Norm Taylor of Des Moines and another in the 100 and 220 by Leroy Berry triggered the Kirksville school's team victory on a day when six Latham Field records were established.

2 Taylors Out

The surprising thing about Northeast's victory was that it was accomplished with Norm Taylor's brother Jim idle with an injury and cousin Chuck absent because of a job. The two could have added points in the short races.

New Event

Taylor, running into a slight wind, took the high hurdles in :15.2, later ran a creditable :54.5 in winning the 400-meter intermediates. The latter was a track record because of being a new event.

other time or that a former ally would keep the world in a constant state of cold war in order to force their way of life on the other people, or that this former ally would make worthless our former conception of the Monroe Doctrine.

In other words, man has not learned to adjust his differences in an orderly fashion or having learned reason goes out the window when his toes are stepped on.

At times, it is easy to see how some become discouraged and say "What's the use". But in spite of the gloomy side, in spite of failure to make all the objectives we think should be accom-

Lando will

Johnny Crawford will wind up the festival with four appearances June 15 and 16. The two-hour professional rodeo and circus show will be presented each afternoon and evening, 3:00 and 7:30, June 7-16.

"That's for Us!"

Football Coaches Association, announced Coach Woody Hayes, president of the AFCA and head football coach of the Ohio State University Buckeyes.

Atlanta, Ga.—Florida A&M University's head football coach and athletic director, Jake Gaither, was awarded the first annual Sportsmen "25" outstanding achievement award during the club's first annual sports festival here recently.

Coach Gaither was the club's guest speaker. The award was presented by Hamilton Holmes, Sportsmen "25" president and Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Georgia. The affair, honoring high school, college, and professional athletes, was held in the Hearsh Room of the Merchandise Mart.

lished, much is being done. More men are working earnestly to make sure that the great principles for which many died are being made more of a reality and as Lincoln said it is for we the living to accomplish the things for which brave men died.

PARENTS DEFY THREATS, PRESS INTEGRATION IN VA.

Richmond, Va.—Parents of more than 50 Negro children have filed applications for initial enrollment and/or transfer to predominantly white schools in nearby Chesterfield County, the NAACP has revealed.

W. Lester Banks, executive secretary of the Association's Virginia organization, said that parents ignored threats and dilatory tactics of white community leaders and school board authorities.

The NAACP, through federal court action, has restrained and enjoined school authorities from discriminating against Negro children. However, Virginia's pupil placement board has slowed down integration.

LETTER TO EDITOR:

While they are having these world church councils they should find a way to add a peace corps type of program. It is about time for them to bring economics into their teaching to help people take care of themselves.

I AM INFINITY

I cross the void of space and time
To watch a new worlds birth,
And see some old ones die away
While fresh life sprouts on new young earth.

I am infinity.
Within my hands I hold all life,
All things come through my door.
I am creator... And creation...
Eternal I am; the universe all came from me.

I am ageless, omnipotent
I am infinity.
Life chains from life, for that is the law;
From cosmic dust new genes will grow.

The ash of all the ages holds the key
That will open all the doors;
So man shall know.
Thus finite man, in his brief reign,
May live to learn and meditate
To see and use his fount of power:
That has no limit, and is his true estate.

To each weak and fragile soul
I gave the spark. The spark to light the flame,
That all could find infinity...
divinity
From whence I came.

Thoughts for Today

"It is important that people know what you stand for; it is equally important that they know what you won't stand for."

There are two ways to try to accentuate the positive; one is by ignoring the negative, an Ostrich-like, head-in-the-sand attitude. The other is by courageously dragging our problems and bad situations out into the open; facing the realities and complexities and facts of life, then doing something about them.

Laugh Lines

"Looks like rain," said the vacationer to the oldtimer at the filling station in an arid part of the West. "I sure hope so," sighed the old man. "Not for myself," he added quickly, "but for my grandson here. 'I've seen rain.'"

SPORTSMEN "25" CITE ATHLETES

Ten outstanding young athletes from Atlanta schools and an Atlanta native, Charles Harnett, now associated with the St. Louis Louis Hawks professional basketball team, were honored at a gala sports banquet hosted by The Sportsmen "25" Club last weekend at the Merchandise Mart in Atlanta, Ga. The youthful honorees received beautiful trophies and plaques which were donated by The Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, and The Atlanta Coca-Cola Bottling Company. Hamilton Holmes, right, University of Georgia Phi Beta Kappa, club president, makes presentation to Ronald Thornton, St. Joseph Catholic School in Atlanta.

In the course of the mass jailings, over 700 students were incarcerated in a county farm and an abandoned polio hospital under conditions described by Greensboro CORE as "extremely dangerous to their health and safety." Most of them had to sleep on the floor and parents were not allowed to visit.
