They Chart the Way for the Astronauts

Mrs. Dorothy Hoover, a mathematician at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is shown here against a backdrop of mathematical symbols which have been so much a part of her life.

By Alice A. Dunnigan
Greenbelt, Md.—Americans today are much concerned with the heroic adventures of those brave astronauts who have made history by soaring around the earth in space. But too often they lose sight of the work of the ground force which makes these flights possible.

Research
The success of these space explorations is due to a great extent to the scientific research and mathematical calculations of experts employed at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

This agency is responsible for conducting research into problems of flight, both within and outside the earth's atmosphere, with a view to their practical solution. Many of the scientific and technical programs of NASA are carried on in its several field installations.

Space Flight Center
One of these installations is known as Goddard Space Flight Center located at Greenbelt, Md. Here much emphasis is placed on the earth, sun, and astronomy aspects of the space science program.

Two Negro women hold important positions at the Greenbelt Center which supports the use of satellites in meteorological and communications systems; and performs tracking and data acquisition functions.

These two women are Mrs. Melba Roy and Mrs. Dorothy Hoover. Mrs. Roy is a mathematician and chief of Goddard Space Flight Center's production programming section.

Mrs. Melba Roy, mathematician at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration is shown at work in the Goddard Computer Room at Greenbelt, Maryland.

Des Moines NAACP Membership Report

There will be no regular meeting of the branch in July. The next meeting will be Aug. 27.

NEW NOVEL BY MARY ELIZABETH VROMAN

New York, N.Y.—Mary Elizabeth Vroman, author of the famed story, "See How They Run," which was made into the MGM Motion Picture "Bright Road," is now being heralded for her first successful novel "ESTHER," available to the public as a Bantam Book.

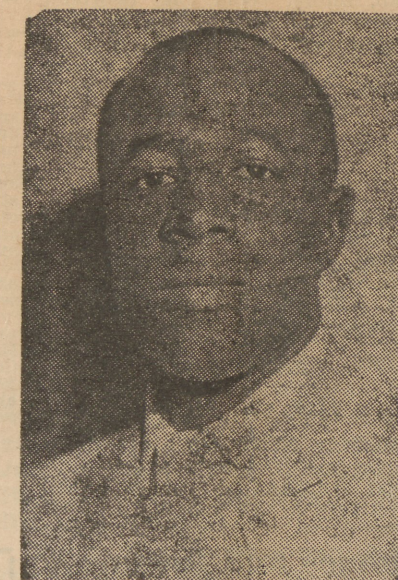

"ESTHER," with its moving plot, depicts the personal struggles and growth of a young Negro nurse in a small southern town. In this beautifully-written, poignant and timely story, the author brings into sharp focus the problems that confront the Negro woman in the south.

A&T HEAD ATTENDS PRESIDENT KENNEDY'S CIVIL RIGHTS CONFERENCE

Greensboro, N. C. — The acting president of A&T College was last week summoned to the White House for a high level conference on civil rights. Dr. L. C. Dowdy attended the conference, called by President John F. Kennedy, held in the White House East Room on Wednesday afternoon, June 19. About 200 school and college administrators, from throughout the nation, attended.

Argues Case Before Tennessee Court

Henry T. McKnight, local attorney, successfully argued a Probate Claim before the Davidson County

ATTY. MCKNIGHT

Probate Court on June 28, 1963, at Nashville, Tenn.

To McKnight it was an interesting experience to be able to return to his former home after three decades to argue a case and to have as his opponent a former budget director of Tennessee A & I State University when McKnight was a student there. McKnight graduated from Tennessee A & I in 1934. It also gave McKnight a chance to show his son, Henry Jr., who went with him, a part of the south and the progress that is being made.

Atty. McKnight has recently returned to Mayo Clinic at Rochester, Minnesota where he will undergo further clinic diagnosis that was started last month.

Gas Station Man Arrested for Shooting Negroes in Miss.

Canton, Miss.—Ben Lewis, a white gas station attendant, was arrested on June 26 on charges of "unlawfully pointing and unlawfully discharging a firearm" at five young Negroes two days ago. He was released under $3500 bond.

Police Watched

Lewis was generally believed to have done the shooting, but he was not arrested at the time of the incident. Local policemen just stood and watched as the shots were fired from a passing car. The shooting occurred following a voter registration meeting.

Pellets
The five young Negroes injured by the pellets were taken to a hospital for treatment and were released next morning. They are Leo Carter, Levey Jones, Bernice McGrunder and Shirley and Angie Dotson.

The local voter registration campaign, led by Jerome Smith, CORE field secretary and George Raymond, a CORE Task Force worker, has resulted in the registration of 12 Negroes to date. Previously not a single Negro was registered in this northern Mississippi town.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Kansas City, Mo.—For the second year in a row, Phil Smith, 15, won the top prize in the local Plaza Youth Art fair.

Texarkana, Tex.—Two Negro women were enrolled at Texarkana college here last week. It was the first desegregation of a publicly supported school in this border city.

Flint, Mich.—Rita Ruth Parker, 31, who tips the scales at 105 pounds admitted to Detective John Lind that she carried off 40 typewriters, 20 adding machines, 40 radios and a television set and other merchandise totaling $150,000 during the past year.

Little Rock Ark.—About 30 Negro employees of the Coca Cola Bottling company at Little Rock walked off their jobs last week in protests over their salary. All are helpers on the delivery trucks.

Maryville, Tenn.—Acting on the complaints of Hillbillies "that integration had gone too far" and that something had to be done, Sheriff Roger Trotter last week led a 10-man party on what was considered an illegal raid on an interracial camp here. A posse crashed the camp, 29 persons including 18 Negroes and 11 whites of both sexes were arrested.

Port Royal, Va.—Two Negro citizens of this rural town of 128 population last week became the first of their race to be elected to the city council in the last 40 years.

Harrisburg, Pa.—Arthur C. Thomas, Philadelphia lawyer, was named last week by Atty. Gen. Walter E. Alessandrini as a deputy attorney general for the State Human Relations Commission; the post pays $7,500 a year.

Macon, Ga.—The Bibb County Board of Education last week approved the admission of a Negro into the white division of the Dudley Hughes vocational school. It was the first desegregation approved for a school operated by the board.

Chicago, Ill.—The first Negro minister to represent the Rock River conference of the Methodist church has been elected as a delegate to the denomination's general conference in Pittsburgh, Pa., in April 1964. He is Rev. Edsel A. Ammons, pastor of Ingleside Whitfield Methodist parish.

Las Vegas, Nev.—The religious vocation of a local minister did not prevent him from carrying his fight for equal job opportunity for Negroes into the gambling dens of Las Vegas last week. The Rev. Marion D. Bennett, president of the Las Vegas branch of the NAACP, demanded that Mayor Oran Gragson call an emergency meeting to open up job opportunities for Negroes in the gambling industry and other areas.

Gets Postal Award

Sam A. Fristo, postoffice clerk, 1129 Mason street, received $25 for suggestion to avoid duplicate handling of some firm mail in the Des Moines postoffice.

Negroes Will Win Full Civil Rights Soon in Jobs, Housing, Public Businesses

Two national civil rights organizations during their national conventions have expressed optimism that complete desegregation will come in all areas for Negroes within a few years.

In Dayton, Ohio, at the 25th annual session of the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) James Farmer, CORE's national director, told 250 delegates:

"We think the majority of Americans at last have been awakened to the urgency of the situation and now are willing to accept immediate desegregation in jobs, housing and places serving the public."

D. C. March

Farmer said Negroes and whites will stage a massive demonstration in Washington, D. C., but the demonstration may or may not coincide with a congressional filibuster over civil rights legislation. The rally will come in late August.

"A significant number of people from all over the country, both Negro and white, will march through Washington," Farmer said.

Shortest Time

Wilkins said the N.A.A.C.P. hopes to achieve a civil rights victory "in the shortest possible time," without violence.

HOUSING SIT-IN CONTINUES DESPITE MASS ARRESTS

Torrance, Calif.—A round-the-clock sit-in in the sales office of Don Wilson's Southwood Rivera tract continues despite 39 arrests on June 16 and 23. The arrests, on trespassing charges, were the first in Los Angeles CORE's 11 month old campaign against Don Wilson's discriminatory housing policy. Those arrested on June 23 at 2 a.m. were manhandled by local police.

Nash, Ia. NAACP President, Attends Chicago Convention

An Iowa delegate to the 54th National Convention of the NAACP in Chicago July 1-6 is Russell W. Nash, President of the Iowa State Conference of Branches.

The crucial task at hand, as Nash sees it, is to involve our young people in the struggle, first to attain and then to implement and exercise our full rights as Americans and men. He considers the civil rights battle the most important moral and political problem facing both America and the free world.

Married and the father of two high school students, Nash has an NAACP-minded family. All four Nashes are members; his wife Ruth is Corresponding Secretary of the Cedar Rapids Branch, and his daughter Pamela is Vice-President of the Cedar Rapids Youth Branch.

Coe College

An Assistant Professor of Sociology at Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Prof. Nash became involved in NAACP work through his teaching concern with social problems. Before coming to Coe in 1957, he taught at Pratt Institute in Brooklyn and at Whitman College, Walla Walla, Washington.

He has found challenge in the tasks confronting the Cedar Rapids Branch of the NAACP in the areas of housing, employment, and education, as well as in the work of the the Minority Housing Sub-committee of the Urban Renewal Committee. He is presently serving on the Mayor's Advisory Committee for Growth, Development and Urban Renewal (M.A.C.) and Acting Chairman of the Minority Housing Committee.

New City Hall Sit-In Urges Halt Of All Biased City Construction

Philadelphia, Pa. — Philadelphia's City Hall, where a CORE sit-in in mid-May halted construction at the Municipal Services Building, is the scene of a new CORE sit-in. It started on June 24 immediately following a mass demonstration and half-day stoppage called by the local NAACP as a memorial to Medgar Evers.

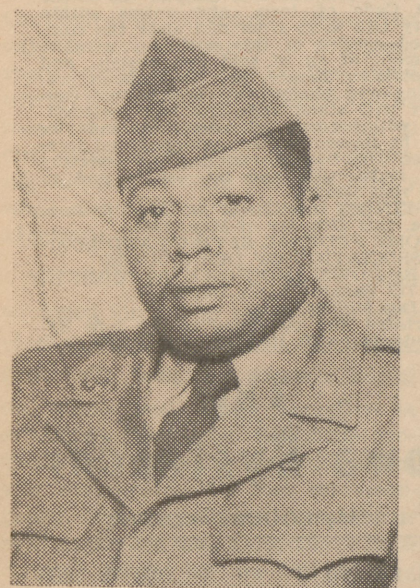

The sit-in, involving 19 Negro and white members of Philadelphia

CORE is taking place at two locations: the reception room of Managing Director Fred Corleto in City Hall and the conference room of the Commission on Human Relations in City Hall Annex. In addition to sit-in, members of the group are refusing to eat.

They are demanding that the city administration halt work on all municipal construction jobs where job discrimination prevails.

Study Charge Of Bowling Bias

Davenport, Ia.—The two-man special problems committee of the Mayor's Human Relations Commission will talk with the Davenport-Bettendorf Women's Bowling Association in examining a charge that a Negro women's league has been unable to locate lanes.

Charles Toney and Paul Ives also were attempting Saturday to arrange a meeting with proprietors of Davenport lanes on Monday or Tuesday.

"They (operators of bowling establishments) have a non-discrimination clause in their charter," said Toney. "In view of that, I can't see what objection they would have to other bowlers on the basis of race, creed or color."

wonderful city to live in, with total integration in the public schools all over the city.

Negroes are really moving out in former all white district. Many, particularly doctors, school administrators, lawyers and some other professional persons live in $60,000 to $70,000 homes that surpass anything in Des Moines. Others of lower income live in housing areas that rival any here in Des Moines and they are all well kept.

While there the children got to do what they wanted most to do, fishing and crabbing in the salt water bayous of Freeport, Tex., saw huge jets take off and land every few minutes at Houston's International airport; went down on the docks at Houston's ship channel and viewed the big freight ships loading and unloading and pulled a sample of real cotton from bales. At the Herman Park zoo they delightedly pulled grass and fed it to a giant sea turtle.

And as we do on vacation, we ate entirely too much of the good southern cooking of our hosts and those who extended us various courtesies. The last time we stepped on the scales we were gaining and we haven't dared step back on.

I don't want to repeat myself but it was a wonderful vacation. The only slightly sad note came at the end when we returned and our two sons learned that a friend, who had been buddies on a paper route with them in the same general area, had been a victim of an accidental bullet in the back from another playmate.

Chicago Quads (Girls) Born to Negro Couple

Chicago, Ill. — Quadruplet girls were born to a 19-years old Negro mother Sunday and a doctor said their chance for survival was excellent.

Ten minutes separated the births of the first and fourth daughters of Mrs. Dolores Harris. All of the infants weighed four to five pounds, with their total weight 18 pounds 15 ounces. They were reported "doing fine" in Michael Reese Hospital's pre-mature nursery.

Dr. Frank Rubovits, chief of obstetrics and gynecology at the hospital, said he believed that all the girls would survive. Mrs. Harris had been given special care by the hospital since Mar. 30, when physicians discovered she was carrying four babies. Her husband Bernard, 23, is a factory worker. The Harris also have a son Shawn, 15 months old.

EXCEPTIONS MAKE LAWS
HARD TO ENFORCE

Testifying before the Senate Commerce Committee Monday, Attorney General Robert Kennedy describing segregation in restaurants, hotels and other places serving the public as "one of the most embittering forms of racial discrimination," Kennedy said it is not only "legally insupportable, economically wasteful but above all . . . is morally wrong."

This is well said and describes the feeling of a Negro when he is refused service in a place of public accommodation.

Last week the Bystander wrote Senator Hickenlooper a letter criticizing those senators who propose to exempt small establishments from the proposed civil rights law. This position is ridiculous as any Iowan can testify.

The letter reminded Senator Hickenlooper that he had been a legislator, Lieutenant Governor, and Governor of Iowa which had a non-discrimination statute during his administration and that he had raised no objection to the law.

And while he has not as yet made clear his views on this question, he has indicated that he might favor excepting small business establishments from the proposed civil rights law.

The proposal to exclude small establishments from the law stems from the fear (imaginary) that Negroes would flock to a place in such numbers that white people would remain away and that the business would be ruined.

Nothing is so far from the truth for this has not been the case in any state where such a law prevails.

It is foolish to pin any defeat Republican party when the Democratic civil rights legislation on the cards have a two-thirds (2/3) majority in the Senate. But Republicans must share the results which may come should the measure be defeated.

Desegregation

The N.A.A.C.P. convention, termed by leaders "the most important in our history," will run until Saturday. A massive parade is planned for Thursday, July 4, with a giant outdoor rally to follow in Grant Park as a kickoff for what N.A.A.C.P. officials called "our summer of discontent."

Federal Court Knocks
Out 2 Virginia Codes

Washington, D.C. — Two Federal courts in three separate opinions Monday invalidated two sections of the Virginia Code. One provided that any persons who operates a theater or other public hall must separate the races; the other, that anyone who fails to take a seat assigned to him in accordance with the first provision is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Special Court

The above action was handed down by a special three-judge court in Alexandria, The Fourth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals barred Powhatan County, Va., school officials from closing public schools to avoid integration. It also knocked down two key provisions of a school desegregation plan for Lynchburg, Va.

Public Schools

In the Powhatan case a District Court order had enjoined all county officials from taking any action to close schools but the Appeals court exempted the County Board of Supervisors and made the order applicable to school officials only.

In the Lynchburg case, the Appeals court exempted the County Board of Supervisors and made the order applicable to school officials only.

In the Lynchburg case, the Appeals Court held that grade-a-year desegregation and a racial minority transfer provision in the city's school desegregation plan were invalid.

Seating

In Alexandria, the suit challenged segregated-seating laws was brought Naturally we were interested in the makeup of the lineups of the two major leagues for the All-Star baseball games coming up. The National league has a total of eight Negroes out of the first 16 players selected. All six of the outfielders are Negroes and we will bet that never happened before. If one were to count Orlando Cepeda and we could, you know, that would make nine.

The American League has three including both catcher, Earl Battey and Elston Howard. Leon Wagner is the third. Is there anyone around who thinks those nine National League Negroes couldn't play in the American League? We are always amused by the arguments about which is the better players. Willie Mays or Mickey Mantle? We never get into these but we think that of all those players could be put into one class and that would about close it. One would be better at one time and one at another.

However, there have been several editorials written about the number of Negroes in the National League as compared to the American league. We know what the reason is for this difference. We think there are more Negro pitchers in the American league. So maybe it just happened that way.

By the way those pennant races are getting closer than 99 is to 100.

Tennis

Arthur Ash didn't do badly for his first Wimbledon tennis meet. We hope there are some more Negroes on the way up in this big tennis. Maybe we will make the Davis cup team yet. There wasn't even one Negro in the Hawkeye Open tennis meet last week. Now we are getting things ready for our own Hilltop Open at the end of this month. Esther Myers is the defending Women's singles champ and owns one half of the women's doubles title. We are expecting a large gang and hope we are right.

The golfers were in town last weekend to work out on the links where they will meet for keeps July 13-14.

Recognizing the heat of the two tight pennant races we are a bit surprised at the lack of interest in boxing. Almost nobody discusses the coming bout between Sonny Liston and Floyd Patterson. Only a few veterans talked about Cassius Clay and the veteran Sugar Ray Robinson. It would seem that people just aren't interested too much in boxing. At least the people we see every day aren't.

Clay Buttons Lip

Cassius Clay, whose reputation as a talker runs neck and neck with his accomplishments as a pugilist, "Button's up his lip" with a button reportedly sent to him by heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, as he arrived at New York City's Idlewild Airport from London. Since Liston's implication obviously was that Clay should put up or shut up, Clay obliged by holding up eight fingers to indicate the number of the round in which he intends to flatten Liston.

PRAYER

Father, guide me down the long
Road of life and make me strong.

Hold me back that in my haste
That beauty may not go to waste.

Calmly let me walk and see
Earth and sky and stream and tree.

Teach me so that I may read
Symbols of my fellow's need.

Let me not press forward, blind,
Heedless, and thoughtless and unkind.

Let me some enchantment give
To the years I have to live.

Lord as I enjoy the trees,
Song of birds and hum of bees,
Under the joy that is felt lie the

Stream and sky and plant and vine,
So may this brief life of mine

Now and then some joy bestow
On all those I chance to know.
—by Edgar A. Guest

First Principles

Never a daisy that grows, but a mystery guideth the growing;
Never a river that flows, but a majesty scepters the flowing;
Never a Shakespeare that soared,
but a stronger than he did enfold him,

Nor ever a prophet foretells, but a mightier seer hath foretold him, Back of the canvas that throbs, the painter is hinted and hidden;

Into the statue that breathes, the soul of the sculptor is bidden;
Under the joy that is felt lie the infinite issues of feeling;

Crowning the glory revealed is the glory that crowns the revealing.
Great are the symbols of being, but that which is symbolized is greater;

Vast the created and beheld, but vaster the inward creator;
Back of the hand that receives thrill
the sensitive nerves of receiving.
—Richard Realf, from Indirection

Thoughts for Today

Education places trump cards in the hands of a man when he plays the game of life.

Many a youngster gets behind the eight-ball by taking the wrong cue from his elders.

If your religion suits you, you should have no reason to criticize the other fellow's.
