Atty. Oliver Denies Owing Additional U.S. Taxes; Files Appeal

Atty. W. L. Oliver, 5795 N.W. 73rd place, has filed a petition in the United States Tax Court in Washington, D.C., denying he owes the U.S. government $5,456 in additional taxes.

Atty. Oliver and his wife, Hazel P., claimed internal revenue agents are in error in disallowing substantial business and medical deductions in 1959, 1960 and 1961 federal tax returns.

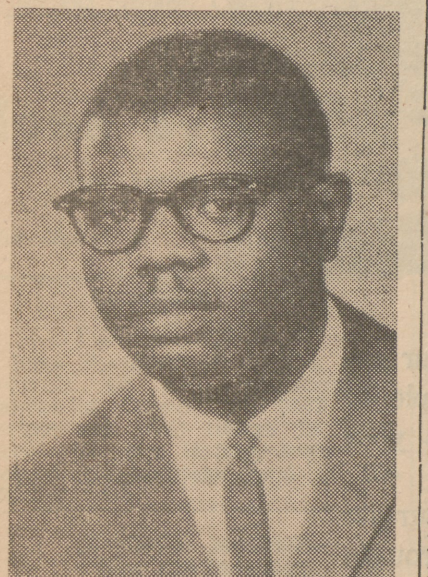

Atty. Oliver contends the disputed expenditures were properly allocated to his law business and real estate business for promotion and entertainment. He states that the medical expenses were incurred as a result of his wife for multiple sclerosis.

The government claims federal tax deficiencies of $834 in 1959; $1,691 in 1960 and $2,831 in 1961. Atty. Oliver, whose business office is located at 416 East 6th avenue, reported he had no taxable income in 1959 but instead had a loss of $430.

Chicago—Delegates attending the 54th annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People which closed here Saturday unanimously adopted a five-point program designed to insure enactment of meaningful civil rights legislation by Congress this year.

D. C. March

The resolution, adopted Tuesday, July 2, fully endorsed Secretary Roy Wilkins' keynote address call for a "March on Washington."

The delegates voted: —To "cooperate, support, and participate in a 'March on Washington' or other mass demonstration which may be jointly sponsored, planned and executed by those organizations and individuals similarly committed to supporting" civil rights legislation.

Rights Convention

—To hold a National Civil Rights Legislative Convention in Washington, Aug. 6-8, for the purpose of making personal visits by the delegates to their Representatives and Senators and to include a mass rally on August 8 to which President Kennedy and congressional leaders of both parties will be invited to report on progress of the legislation.

—To convene civil rights legislative conferences during the last week in July, at state and congressional district levels, in order to mobilize grassroots support of the pending legislation to which the Senators and Congressmen representing the states and districts will be invited.

Highlighting the convention was a mammoth parade of 125,000 led by Mayor Richard J. Daley, Mrs. Medgar Evers and NAACP officials Arthur B. Spingarn, president; Bishop G. Spottswood, chairman of the Board; SEE PAGE TWO

Davenport Bowlers Settle Bias Dispute

Davenport, Ia. — Negro women bowlers won their dispute over alleged discrimination with eight bowling alley operators.

Charles Toney, member of the Davenport Human Relations Commission said a meeting between the two groups resulted in agreement that the women's league will be put into the fall schedule in one of the alleys.

40-Member League

The 40-member Wetompa League, composed of eight teams, had alleged that they were unable to arrange bowling times for their league in local alleys. The matter was referred to the Human Relations Commission. Thomas Kelly, Jr., is attorney for the league.

The bowling alley case was the first major problem handed to the commission, formed a year ago at the direction of the Davenport City Council.

Dr. Marsh is married to the former Rosa Guy of Waterloo, Iowa. They reside at 1224 Carrie street.

Iowa congressmen and others interested in civil rights legislation will be urged to attend the meeting, said Wright.

The 37th annual Middlewestern Association of Elks was held in the mile high city of Denver, Colo., June 23-27 with hosts, Mountain Lodge No. 39 and Mountain Temple No. 174.

President Russell E. Smith, Denver Colo., called the convention to order. Hamilton Jenkins, P.G.E.R., brought the keynote address. Following reports and appointment of committees Smith was re-elected as president.

Oratorical

The Antler Guard ball was well attended. A joint session was held at Shorter A.M.E. church with Hobson R. Reynolds, Grand Exalted Ruler, Philadelphia, Penna., as main speaker. Arretta M. Butler, Sioux City, P.G.D.R., Iowa president, presided. A civil liberties luncheon followed at the Westminster Plaza.

The oratorical contest was held at Shorter A.M.E. Church and won by Biddes Gavin, Wichita, Kans. She was presented a $100 scholarship. The host lodge also conducted a guided Coors tour in the mountains.

Mr. Reynolds commended the Hawkeye Lodge No. 160 of Des Moines and its new exalted ruler, Gilbert Randle, noting that it had the largest percentage of new membership in the association. He ordered delegates to stand and give the Hawkeye Lodge a standing vote of appreciation.

RANDLE

Charles W. Martin, Grand District deputy of Nebraska, and members of the famous Iroquois lodge of Omaha, spoke of the progress that Elkdom is making all over the world.

Accelerator Jams; Critically Injures Youngster in Yard

A young woman driver of a runaway car which Monday hit and dragged a 22-month-old youngster, injuring him critically, was so broken up over the tragedy that she had to be treated for shock at Broadlawns Polk County hospital.

She is Norva Jean Terrill, 24, of 1337 E. 19th street. Victim of the runaway car is Edward L. Riesman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Riesman, of 1340 DeWolf street. He suffered a brain concussion and Wednesday morning remained in critical condition at Des Moines General hospital.

Pushing Car

The tragic sequence began when Miss Terrill began pushing a car driven by Everett Lee Linton, 26, of 1310 10th street. As Linton turned his car off DeWolf street, the accelerator in Miss Terrill's car jammed.

It shot ahead, knocked over a fire hydrant, and broke through a tall hedge before striking the Reisman child. The child was dragged underneath the car 35 feet and through a fence before stopping.

Smoking Car

Ray Frye, 1341 DeWolf street, and other neighbors ran to the smoking vehicle and removed the Reisman child from underneath.

Mrs. Frye, who was in her yard at the time of the accident, said she heard a "terrible crash." At the time she thought her son, Ronald, who had just left for the store minutes earlier, had had a collision.

Charges

However, Ronald, had backed out of the driveway and was going north on DeWolf street when the Terrill car came toward him. He ran his car SEE PAGE FOUR

White Des Moines Mother Notes Dignity, Demands Of Youthful Delegates

Report of a white mother's impressions of the 1963 NAACP Convention, Chicago, Ill.

By Lorena Jeanne Tinker.

"Mommy, come quick! Mr. Banks is on the phone from New York!"

It was a hot morning, June 25, 1963. I was returning at 10 a.m. from Grand View College summer school. I rushed to the phone. Mr. Calvin Banks, program director of the NAACP was speaking. "Aren't you proud, Mrs. Tinker? Bonnie Jeanne has been awarded first prize of $500 in the junior high division of the National NAACP essay contest! We want her in Chicago for youth day next week. It would be nice if you and her father could be with her."

Freedom!

So we were in Chicago during the national convention. My husband, Leonard, and I stayed until after the Freedom March and Grant Park Rally, July 4. Through the hospitality of Mrs. J. B. Morris, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Johnson, Bonnie Jeanne remained until the end of the week young people, although they sparked the protest. This was also true in regards to Dr. D. H. Jackson. Here again, the entire crowd kept him from speaking, after the outside youth provoked the attack. But the genuine representatives of human rights were given respect by the crowd. Particularly outstanding were Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth, Senator Paul Douglas. Significant was the respect accorded to Mrs. Medgar Evers, widow of the slain Mississippi

D. M. NAACP Represented

Representing the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at its national convention in Chicago, Ill., last week were Atty. Robert A. Wright, president and Mrs. Clara Bayles, delegates and Mrs. Alta Herndon and Mrs. Georgine C. Morris.

Makes Appeal to Iowans For UNCF Funds, Services

"Negro students can neither wait for total acceptance in all white institutions nor vast improvement in the economical lot of their parents," is one of the chief arguments advanced by those in charge of the 1963 Iowa drive for the United Negro College Fund.

Joseph W. Wimberly, Iowa Division chairman for 1963, stated, that 1963 marks the most important era in Negro history.

"While civil rights are uppermost in the news today, it cannot be denied that lack of education lies at the base of many social problems which beset our race and country today, he said.

Need It Now

"Job opportunities are opening up to young Negroes where formerly they did not exist. But, they need a college education to fill these jobs, and they need it right now."

Wimberly pointed out that "these UNCF institutions (located in 11 southern states where 10 million Negroes live) were not established for the exclusive education of Negroes, but were founded so that Negroes would not be deprived of a college education."

NAACP leader. Although most of the crowd had started on the Freedom March, had eaten only popsicles, drank pop, had roasted under a hot July sun, at 3 p.m. they stayed reverently attentive to her being awarded the Spingarn Medal posthumously to her dead husband.

Demonstration

Andrea, pretty youth delegate from Durham, North Carolina, stopped talking to me. "Excuse me, but I thought I saw Jim. Jim got beat up in a demonstration two weeks ago. I was hoping he was able to be here."

Officials said many people have offered to take the Mississippi job left vacant by Mr. Evers' death so the important work can continue there—this in spite of real danger physically to the person and his family who replaces him.

A young mother told how her children were trained to throw themselves flat whenever they heard a sudden noise. It might be a bomb or gun fire. "But they've grown up with this—they are not afraid."

Not Afraid

In spite of police dogs, fire hoses, Senator Hickenlooper, Senator Miller and all the other white people who SEE PAGE TWO

Bonnie J. Tinker Wins 1st Prize in NAACP Essay Contest

Bonnie J. Tinker, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tinker, 704 Grand View, won the $500 first prize in the junior high school division of the national essay contest sponsored by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The contest was held in connection with the 100th anniversary of the Emancipation proclamation.

Miss Tinker's winning essay was entitled, "What the Emancipation Proclamation Means to Me." She was in Chicago, Ill., on July 3 to receive her prize at the "Youth Night" celebration.

Outstanding Leaders

Furthermore we often forget that these very same schools have given this nation many outstanding Negro leaders in the past and present including such men as: Booker T. Washington, Hampton; Dr. W. E. B. Dubois, Fisk; Walter White, Atlanta University; Charles S. Johnson, Virginia Union; Dr. T. K. Lawless, world renowned skin specialist, Talledega; as well as two of the best known proponents of civil rights in recent years Judge Thurgood Marshall, Lincoln; and Dr. Martin Luther King, Morehouse.

Give Funds, Services

Wimberly urges that citizens in every city, town or hamlet learn the name of the sponsor in their community and not only make a contribution, but offer their services in the UNCF.

If there is no sponsor in your locality make your check or money order payable to the United Negro College Fund and mail to Mr. J. Locke Macomber, Treasurer, Valley Bank and Trust Co., 403 Walnut street, Des Moines 9, Iowa. SEE PAGE TWO

Integration Newsscopes

Omaha, Neb.—Rev. Rudolph McNair, Monday was removed from a 58-member bi-racial Committee on Human Rights for leading a Negro march protesting the committee and racial discrimination in the city. The removal was made by Mayor James Dworak.

Cambridge, Md.—A group of eight Negroes and three whites resumed demonstrations here Monday less than an hour after National Guard troops had departed and militia law was lifted. A jeering crowd threw lighted cigarettes at the demonstrators and one white youth had a raw egg rubbed in his face.

Baltimore, Md.—More than 100 white and Negro civil rights demonstrators were arrested at a segregated amusement park Sunday night. At least seven of them were clergymen.

On July 4th 283 integration demonstrators were arrested at the privately owned amusement center.

Albany, Ga.—Georgia's Ku Klux Klan chief has called for a mass demonstration by 50,000 whites at Savannah on July 20 and a return to the "fighting" principles of that racist organization.

Nashville, Tenn.—More than 100 southern law school deans and professors gave their support Saturday to the U.S. Supreme Court's recent civil rights decisions.

Chicago, Ill.—A meeting aimed at ousting integration minded Rev. J. Hugh Anwyll of Avalon Park Community Church has been canceled. A petition calling for the meeting was killed when 21 of 26 members who signed it withdrew their names.

Marion Anderson, Dr. Bunche To Get Presidential Medal

Washington, D. C.—Marian Anderson, 55, noted contralto, and Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, 59, undersecretary of the United Nations, was among 31 persons named by President Kennedy last week to receive the Presidential Medal of Freedom—the highest civilian award a chief executive can bestow in peacetime.

Dr. Bunche, who received the Nobel Peace prize, serves in one of the highest posts ever achieved by an American Negro. The medals have gone to only 24 others.

The blue, white and gold medals will be presented at White House ceremonies in September to persons with a wide range of achievements, ages and geographical roots. Many are retired; many still are active.

cannot understand that they are in the midst of an American Revolution, July, 1963, courageous colored NAACP and Roy Wilkins, executive secretary.

Rev. Shuttlesworth

Originating in the Loop, the paraders marched three-and-a-half miles to Grant Park for a giant Freedom Rally where 35,000 remained to hear a stirring address by the Rev. Fred L. Shuttlesworth, hero of the spectacular Birmingham demonstrations of last April.

Others

Others addressing the rally included U. S. Senator Paul Douglas, Bishop Joseph Gomez of the AME Church and Mrs. Medgar Evers. The Spingarn Medal, awarded annually to a Negro American for distinguished achievement, was accepted by Mrs. Evers for her husband, the Association's martyred field secretary for Mississippi. Presentation of the medal was made by Bishop Spottswood.

Commandos

The NAACP delegates also called for a task force of "commandos" to wage an active battle for civil rights. Delegates Friday shouted approval of a resolution calling for creation of the commando groups.

Mayor Boored

At the mass rally Mayor Daley and Negro Baptist leader, Rev. J. H. Jackson were booted from the stand when they arose to make welcoming speeches. Dr. Jackson earlier had announced his disapproval for the Aug. 28 march on the nation's capitol.

Meredith Boored

James T. Meredith, the only known Negro to enroll at the University of Mississippi, was booted by youths when he criticized what he termed the "very low quality of leadership present among our young Negroes and the childish nature of their activities."

The United Negro College Fund drive in Iowa reported a total of $5,800 collected in the first two weeks of its state-wide campaign Tuesday evening at a meeting of Fund solicitors at the home of the drive's chairman, Dr. Robert M. Johnson.

Goal 015,000

The United Negro College Fund is an association of 32 colleges and universities who raise funds, nationally, to help support its aim to afford low cost education to Negroes in the south. The 1963 Iowa campaign goal is $15,000.

Another meeting is scheduled for later this month. Lawrence R. Perkins, the United Negro College Fund regional director from New York City is expected to attend.

Dr. Robert M. Johnson is the General Chairman, and Harold A. Goldman is the co-chairman.

Freedom! . Free-Dom! . Delegates Shout

in Chicago.

"Free-e-dom! Free-e-dom! Free-e-dom, Free-e-dom, Free-e-dom!" "I want my freedom, I want my freedom, I want to be a free, free man!" "Two bits, four bits, six bits, a dollar. If you want your freedom, stand up and holler!" "Truth shall make us free, we shall overcome some day!" "Hi Joe, what do you know?" "Jim Crow must go!"

Revolution

A few bells rang in Chicago July 4, but for the rest of my life the sound and beauty and command of the word "freedom" will ring in my ears, because I was honored to witness and be part of the latest American Revolution—the only one which, if won, will not only free colored and uncolored Americans, but which will save man from extinction on the face of the earth. The new American Revolution did not begin nor end in Chicago this week. But that which happened in Chicago this week represents the beginning and the progress of the Revolution to date.

Respect for Self

Significant to a "paler-faced" American is the respect for self which the NAACP delegates from all the states evidenced. From the youths' demand for the removal of the two black-faced "houseboys" in the lobby of the Hotel Morrison, to the low roar of the thousands of people in Grand Park which prevented a white Chicago mayor from getting away with "window dressing" instead of real integration in his city; which prevented a Negro church politician from speaking as an "Uncle Tom," the impression I received was that most colored people at the convention "want our rights, we want all of them, and we want them now."

Rally Spirituals

Nowhere did I see at the convention evidence of people who felt on the defensive. Dignity, humor, reasoning, desire for "action now" permeated the meetings. Just as the only spirituals heard were those which have been converted to singing rally themes for the Southern Freedom participants, so the speeches, business centered on achieving the goal of being first class citizens of America.

Represents Negro

Mrs. Morris said to me, "The NA-

ACP today truly represents the American Negro. New blood enters the NAACP. I suppose not more than 50 people here are familiar faces to me." For those of us on local boards, this is true not only nationally, but at the grass roots level. And it is vital, if the NAACP is to continue to provide leadership for the civil rights movement.

On Local Levels

Significant, too, is the understanding I gained from talking to many delegates who are working in other civil rights groups in their home towns. "After all, there is plenty of work for all of us. Why should we fight each other?" One youth delegate from North Carolina reported to me that her Dad had just been a delegate to the National CORE convention. Many delegates are active in Southern Christian Leadership Conference, youth are active in SNCC.

Few Chicago Whites

Two groups outside NAACP which seem to be involved in cooperating with it in their sections of the country were some labor representatives and the Catholic Interracial Council. Unfortunately, I saw little evidence of white people outside these two groups who were involved in Chicago's NAACP convention, 1963. At the mass youth meeting, Wednesday, July 3, attended by an overflow crowd of more than 4000 people, the very few white people (I counted not more than twenty) were indeed "highly visible." Our own Iowa president, Mr. R. Nash, was one of them. My husband and I had good vantage points for observing the crowd—we were honored with seats behind the speakers' platform, along with the parents of Joyce Williams, Aurora high school senior who won the senior high essay contest.)

Few White Churches

A very few white church groups had poorly printed signs, symbolically, unfortunately, at the "tail-end" of the Freedom March July 4. But, as in all the other meetings we attended, "paler-faces" were "highly visible" in a flowing sea of thousands of colored people. Poor Mayor Daley! He marched so cockily at the head of the parade until he entered the podium of the band shell at Grant Park. Embarrassed NAACP officials probably released the statement responsible for blaming about one hundred young people who were not part of the NAACP youth delegation, for Mayor Daley's not being allowed to talk.

All the Crowd

But to anyone taking part in the rally it was very evident that opposition to Mayor Daley came from throughout the crowd of thousands, not just from a very few non-NAACP

In Clash with Realtor: Gives Hardhitting Reasons Why Negroes Reject Cleveland Pk.

Cleveland Park, the city's Urban Renewal relocation project, regarded by the Negro community as set aside specifically for them, is a failure.

This was the consensus of opinion of the Urban Renewal board at a meeting Tuesday, July 2. Chairman Milton Olson gave the reason as "a general resistance of the Negro people to living in the area."

1½-Hour Session

In a session that ran 1½ hours, the board reviewed the history of the project and then agreed to set up a committee to seek ways to salvage it.

The session was marked by several clashes between Mrs. Luther Glanton, Jr., the only Negro member of the board, and home builder John Grubb, who was asked by the board to give his impressions of the project.

Attitude

Said Mrs. Glanton: "The Negroes' attitude toward Cleveland Park has not changed one iota. Cleveland Park will not work because the Negro community will not accept it. They feel that this is an area set aside predominantly for Negroes."

"They feel they should have the right of some voice in choosing where they go rather than have city officials set aside a place for them."

All 17 families in the project now are Negro.

Question

Mrs. Glanton asked Grubb if he has offered any of his houses for sale to a Negro.

"I've got to live with reality and not just the ideal," replied Grubb. "I've got to abide not by my own dictates but by the dictates of the community."

He added, however, that a house in a development of his was listed by a Negro real estate firm for several months but wasn't sold to a Negro. "Do you support open occupancy?" Mrs. Glanton asked.

"I don't want to be trapped," said Mrs. Glanton, "I didn't come down here for that," said

Grubb, "but I will say this: You're asking a builder to invest his life savings to get one house for one family, and you're asking too much."

Criticism

"I still criticize a Negro family for not wanting to live in a nice new house in Cleveland Park if it's a lot better than where they're living," put in Olson.

"As I said, you're not a Negro," said Mrs. Glanton. "You can't appreciate the principle they're fighting for."

HAMILTON

MRS. EDWARD HAMILTON

Now that you have survived the after effects of the 'Big Storm' and the seige of intense heat and humidity, perhaps you are feeling more human since the cooler air hit the city.

In many sections of the city the 'Big Storm' of June 28 left homeowners without electricity and telephone. Many modern conveniences such as air conditioning, fans, ice cubes, electric cooking and lighting, some of which were a necessity during the heat wave, threw relatives back up on their own ingenuity and upon the hospitality of their neighbors.

In the case of one couple, Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Herndon, 723 28th street, solved the eating and cooking problem by taking most of their meal out. However, their electricity was out for one week and their telephone for four days. A part of a big tree of one of their neighbors was blown down and across their fence and wires and onto the garage of another home. The following week another storm finished the tree and blew the other portion across another neighbor's yards, doing some damage.

We know that most of 11th street had similar troubles. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Proctor, 1111 11th street and neighbors were forced to live for a while without many of the conveniences most take for granted these days.

The recent heat wave also tested the ingenuity of many residents on how to get cool and keep cool. Many flocked to the public swimming pools or to backyard sprinkling systems. Others turned on air conditioning or fans; others sat and sweated. Others, like yours truly, moved to the underground, or as it is known, to the basement recreation room. There we typed and did other work that is necessary to getting out the paper, answered our phone, washed, ironed, read when we found a few moments and at nights, when it was suffocatingly close, we slept covered with a heavy blanket and sheet.

We know of one other lady who did likewise. She is Mrs. Rufus Spates, who has a beauty shop in her home, and when she finished her work, retired to her beautifully finished recreation room.

It's a funny thing about children. The hotter it gets, the more restless they are naturally, but they also like to play outside in the heat unless cautioned by their elders. When it is cool, they all stay inside. We solved the problem of ice water and the necessity of opening the refrigerator every minute by our youngsters or their gang of playmates. We filled our gallon thermos jug with ice and water, put it on the kitchen counter with several paper cups, and our refrigerator stayed closed most of the day.

While we are on the subject of children a rather amusing incident happened at the birthday party of our oldest daughter. There were seven boys and seven girls. As boys are sometimes, there was a little tussle as to who would sit beside the girls. We asked, "All who don't want to sit beside girls, will you raise your hands?" All seven raised hands. We then said, "All right will you all go over and sit over there on the driveway while I serve the girls. The ice cream might be melted by that time but I will serve you after I finish with the girls."

There was a moment of consternation and surprised expressions, then all crouched, "I will sit beside a girl." Needless to say we could hardly keep our face straight.

We talked briefly to Mrs. Jesse (Jackie) Taylor, Monday. She recently got out of Iowa Lutheran hospital where she had gone for a check-up and rest period. She is employed at the state tax commission and is active with the Little League. Her son and daughter are now on vacation in Kansas and Oklahoma.

MAKESHIFT HOUSING
PROJECTS TOTAL FAILURE

When housing became an acute problem—particularly for low income families—many communities took advantage of federal low cost housing projects. Dilapidated properties were torn down and block after block of new houses and apartments were constructed outside Iowa which not only relieved the shortage but also added to the beauty of these communities and raised the general level of living standards.

Bills were introduced in several sessions of the Iowa legislature which would enable cities and towns to qualify for federal low cost housing but were defeated because the real estate and finance lobbies from the cities put thumbs down on the proposal.

In an effort to justify their opposition to federal low cost housing, a group of business men set up a low cost housing program in southeast Des Moines constructing buildings which were totally unfit as good housing. Whites and Negroes occupied them. Today, less than half are occupied and most of the houses are falling apart. The program was a dismal failure.

With the advent of Urban Renewal, the problem became acute again. The legislature finally passed an enabling act at its 1961 session. Des Moines held an election but the voters turned down federal participation. In the meantime, the same forces which built the southeast housing program insisted that local business could handle the problem, hit upon another scheme to herd Negroes in what became Leetown Court—a program which merely extended the large Negro area.

In the meantime many Negroes had bought some type of home with which they became stuck and thus even though they might have been a prospective customer at the time they were disposed, were in no position to make another purchase. So today, Leetown Court later named Cleveland Park, has attracted but 17 buyers where space is available for 214.

The city council, Urban Renewal Board and the Des Moines Housing authority have concluded that this project is a failure but they can't understand why.

Both projects were designed to house Negroes—not all low income families. Negroes tagged them both as segregated projects and have not come running to buy as the "authorities" thought they would.

The Cleveland Park project has made little headway and can never do what its backers intended. It's tagged a Negro ghetto with houses out of reach of those who need to buy and set up a time where the demand is no longer great.

It is simply a makeshift project designed to fool people who don't feel called upon to ball out shortsighted leaders who refused to provide for them what other communities offer.

FFF GOAL

MOVES AHEAD

At its 1953 Annual convention, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People set up the Fighting Fund for Freedom designed to assure full freedom for Negroes in 1963—100 years after emancipation.

At its convention in Chicago last week, the association said that the full goal of freedom had not been reached but that it had come as far in this decade as during the 90 years prior thereto.

Like any other young movement, the NAACP was forced to move cautiously because the seeds of segregation and discrimination were so far flung that a rough path stood ahead to travel.

The organization has been successful in that it has fully established the legal basis for equality of citizenship. It paved the way for sit-ins, demonstrations and other means available to emphasize that the Negro is not enjoying his rights. That legal basis gives courage for Negroes to stand up under the murderous tactics of segregationists which they would or could not do twenty five years ago.

In the meantime, other organizations have been formed and are bold at the task of achieving the desired goal of freedom. And while differences in methods of attack have caused some people to emphasize that Negroes were divided, they are only the means and not the ultimate goal.

The 1963 convention finds the NAACP well organized, fairly well financed and with the support of thousands of valuable allies among white people. It has survived the violent attacks from many sides but the experience has only made them stronger—better able to push on as a result of these experiences.

Naturally, the opposition is aroused and will use any available weapon to thwart the continued progress of the Negro. But it won't work. On the other hand, the Negro himself has a great responsibility to carry his end of the load by using common sense and otherwise conducting himself as a good citizen in his community. This will go a long way toward winning friends and the fight for freedom and holding on to it.

We think this is the weekend the golfers come to town. Might see some interesting matches. Yours truly wouldn't know a golf bug if it walked up and slapped our face, but we just might give it a chance to do that.

On another local front the Hotentots are making their annual bid for a berth in the state softball meet. The meet promoters wants the boys in because they have a large following and will draw a big crowd, whenever they play. But, the boys are going to have to win their way into the thing. Maybe they will.

Merle Hay Merchants

Ernie Johnson who used to play pro ball with the Des Moines club has helped organize the Merle Hay Merchants, a semi-pro baseball club. And to date they have lost one game. The team is also the defending state semi-pro champs and they don't intend to let that title go by default. We hear they play a pretty fair brand of baseball.

They plan to bring some of the better Negro clubs here. But in our opinion Negro baseball as such is not a very good caliber of ball. Just about every Negro who can play some can get into organized ball.

Old Days

In the old days you played with a Negro club or if you were really good and lucky, some white touring pro club might hire you for a season. But that was as far as you could go unless you could crash the Negro league and that was harder than trying to crash the gate at Notre Dame.

Boxing

The tempo of publicity for the Liston-Patterson bout slowly rises. Now the fighters are kayoing their sparring partners. Next week they will start saying things about each other and in another week the experts will begin to gather and predict. We sometimes think a guess from a thousand miles away is as good as one from the ringside. If both pickers choose opposite sides, one of them has to be right.

Soap Box Derby
Slated Sunday

Racing the wrong way on a one-way street will be legal for a few hours Sunday as 100 boys take part in the fifth annual renewal of the Des Moines Soap Box Derby.

From the starting ramp near Ninth street on East Locust, to almost East Fifth street, the boys will coast, two by two, westward to the finish line.

The final race will pit the Class B champion, 11 and 12 year-olds, against the Class A Champion, boys 13 to 15. The winner takes the $500 U. S. Savings Bond and a trip to Akron, Ohio, where he will compete in the All American Soap Box Derby August 3. There are 242 cities holding Derby competitions this year.

Just North of Freedom

Sojourner Turth

About six months ago, I attended a local meeting of Friends of our politeness. I left with two very vivid impressions. The speaker's clear insight into the relationship of racism to the mental health of our country and his steadfast conviction that race relations must be a greater concern of all Quakers. How many of us, even if financially able, would take a leave of absence from the job to travel in the interest of arousing greater effort in behalf of race relations within our own denomination. Victor's speech ended with three questions. What can I do as an individual Friend? What can I do in my meeting or church? What can I do in my community? He extended an invitation to everyone present to attend a national conference in the middle of June on race relations in Poughkeepsie, N.Y.

Medgar Evers was assassinated June 12th. My family had agreed to my leaving June 14th. Should I go to Mississippi or should I go to Poughkeepsie as planned? I decided to go east. It was a mountain-top experience! I was particularly impressed by a Negro woman from High Point, North Carolina who is an expert in guidance, counseling youth, on the one hand, and skillfully seeking out and convincing white employers to give our youth opportunity to show what they can do in new areas of employment. It was worth the cost of the trip to hear and visit with Mrs. Sarah Herbin.

I'd like to mention the tremendous outreach of their pilot projects in juvenile delinquency and in the prevention of youth from dropping out of school before graduation from high school. There were two most outstanding personalities in the field of delinquent youth. Barrington Dunbar, a Negro, who lives in the neighborhood where he works and is engaged in rehabilitation of the unemployed. The federal government has appropriated three million dollars for this important piece of work.

Dan Morrow and his wife live and work among the culturally deprived of east Harlem. It is there that leaders of rival gangs were brought together by one of their number to organize an east Harlem United Nations.

It is a special pleasure to participate in discussions where every ounce of energy is used to seek ways and means of improving what we are doing. Disagreement is without personal offense. A Negro woman from Cambridge, Mass. "clobbered" us all about preoccupation with the suburbs when the majority of the Negro people live in the city and are actually discriminated against in the housing market. She was right. Later in the week, we were jolted about middle class values, especially middle class white standards as a measure of minority group representatives.

I still remember the face of every freedom rider and demonstrator present at the national conference of Friends (Quakers) on race relations. The possibility of failure has not crossed the threshold of one of their minds. These young people are breath-taking. Youth really wants to know. In the words of a young white Quaker from Atlanta, Ga. "Good people are no longer accepted by the young people unless they are engaged in action."

Opposes Kennedy
Rights Package

Washington, D.C.—Representative Ben F. Jensen, (Rep., Ia.) said Tuesday that he is opposed to the Kennedy administration's civil rights package, and believes the problems should be left to states and local communities to handle.

Jensen said his position is consistent with his basic opposition to trends toward "an all-powerful federal government."

Referring to Negroes Jensen said, "Sure, they want the right to vote, and I want them to have that American right. But above all, I want to abide by the Constitution which

Your Home Should Come First

Your home should come first, in your mind, in your heart,
The world has its pleasures, but pleasures depart.
The joys that are deeper, the joys that are true,
Are here in your home always waiting for you.

Oh, some want to wander, and some want to spend,
But here you will find it, find peace in the end,
Whatever your fortune, the best or the worst,
In planning, in spending, your home should come first.
So fill it with comfort, and fill it with cheer,
Harmonious beauty, and make it so dear
That children remember, wherever they roam,

The gentle old adage, "there's no place like home."
A chair by the fireside, a table, a light,
God grant there is somewhere they wait you tonight.
For fame you may hunger, for fortune may thirst,
But working or playing, Your Home Should Come First!

—Douglas Malloch
