bers of Congress from their respective districts and states urging them to give all-out support to the President's civil rights program and strengthening amendments.

Particularly, the delegates will warn against efforts to weaken the bill by limiting coverage of the public accommodations section or otherwise crippling the bill. In addition, the NAACP is asking for inclusion of a strong FEPC section, enlargement of the powers of the Attorney General to initiate and file suits for the enforcement and protection of all civil rights, and a section providing sanctions against labor unions which discriminate against Negroes.

Robert Wright and James B. Morris, Jr., president and chairman of the legal redress committee of Des Moines were in attendance.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Austin, Tex.—A group of about 50 Negroes and whites peacefully picketed the governor's mansion Monday night. Gov. John Connally said he is opposed to parts of President Kennedy's civil rights program.

Kansas City, Kan.—A boy, weighing 15 pounds 14½ ounces was born July 2 at Douglas hospital here. Staff physicians could not recall delivering a baby that large in the "history of their practice."

Jackson, Miss.—Mississippi Governor Ross Barnett has named one of the nation's most prolific segregationists, Circuit Judge Tom P. Brady to the post of associate justice of the Mississippi Supreme Court. Brady is author of "Back Monday" published in 1955 by the White Citizens Council.

Durham, N. C.—The appointment of John H. Wheeler, president of the Durham's Mechanics and Farmers Bank, to the Federal Housing Executive Reserve increased the number of Negroes on the Federal body to six.

St. Louis, Mo.—Dorris Strong, a 1963 graduate of Hadley Technical high school, has been admitted to the sheet metal apprentice program by the St. Louis Sheet Metal Joint Apprenticeship committee.

Detroit, Mich.—A foolproof method of disposing of $150,000 in stolen bonds ran afoul of a talkative female and now the Detroit police have in custody three men and one woman accused of burglary and dealing in stolen bonds. The arrests were made after the police received a tip from a woman caller who said that some men were fighting over "some negotiable stamps."

Hollywood, Calif.—The Screen Actors Guild and the Association of Motion Picture Producers have agreed on a new contract—with a new anti-discrimination clause.

Dallas, Tex.—Joan Dorsey, 23, said in Dallas she is eager to start work as the first Negro stewardess for American Airlines. She will be the first Negro graduated from the airline's stewardess school. She said there were no incidents in her training and "the other girls were just wonderful." She will be graduated Monday.

Appeals Court Asked To Rule On De Facto School Segregation

Chicago—In the first definitive case challenging de facto school segregation to reach the appeals level, NAACP attorneys are seeking a review in the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit here of a lower court judgment which exonerated the Gary, Ind., school board of maintaining a racially segregated school system.

A brief appealing the ruling of U.S. District Court Judge George N. Beamer was filed on behalf of 110 Negro Gary school children on Aug. 1. Judge Beamer had ruled earlier this year that the school board violated no constitutional rights in the operation of the city's public schools.

Delegates Hear Pointers On What Can Be Done to Aid Civil Rights Programs

By Frances E. Hawthorne

Iowa Club women were hosts to a most successful and fruitful 19th session of the Central Regional Association of Colored Womens clubs as delegates left Wednesday well rewarded for having come from their various cities in 10 states.

Dr. Gragg

The impetus and tone for the four-day session was set in a dynamic and inspirational address by Dr. Rosa C. Gragg, Detroit, Mich., president of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, Inc., at a public mass meeting Sunday afternoon at St. Paul A.M.E. church.

Dr. Gragg said during the second 100 years of emancipation, the club women must:

"Drive! Don't sit down. Go forward. Don't let anything stop you. Just keep on. The lives of your children are at stake."

Paramount Issue

In an interview Monday afternoon in her suite at Hotel Savary Dr. Gragg emphasized "peace is the paramount issue of today despite the race problem . . . but without the settlement of racial controversy, and the granting of the rights to human dignity there will be no peace."

Speaking of the responsibility of youth, she said, "We must raise our economic level. We can't depend on the government and white people to give it to us. We must corral our forces and pool our resources, use our brain power and our money, too, to build banks, savings and loan association, supermarkets and shopping centers."

Problems

Dr. Gragg noted that the NACWC was "basically founded to improve the standard of the home and family." A lot of our problems today stem from the fact that we have not adhered to those standards.

Dr. Gragg also noted that lack of unity also adds to the problems. "There is enough in the world for all our need without being petty. We can find our niche without doing harm to others. There are so many opportunities for services."

JFK Firm on Civil Rights, Asks Action on School Dropouts

Washington, D. C.—President John F. Kennedy stood firm on the need for civil rights action in his press conference Thursday, and announced a $250,000 grant from the Presidential Emergency Fund to help stop school dropouts this fall.

Battered with loaded questions on miscegenation, the political dangers of his strong civil rights position, street demonstrations, and statements of Congressman Adam Powell, the President took them all in stride and reaffirmed his civil rights stand.

Relaxation

Questioned about a relaxation in demonstrations across the country, the President said: "Merely because the demonstrations have subsided doesn't seem to me—those of us who are in positions of responsibility—does not mean that we should go to sleep and forget the problem. Because this is no solution."

PRESIDENT KENNEDY

The President opened his press conference with a statement of concern over an estimated 400,000 youngsters who may not return to school this fall. In calling upon all Americans to help, the President said:

Education

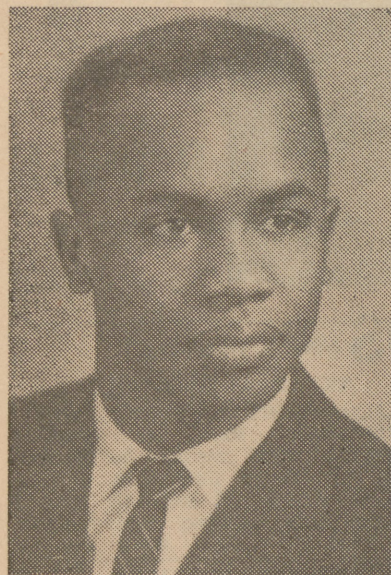

"A boy or a girl has only a limited time in their life in which to get an education, and yet it will shape their whole lives and the lives of their children. So I am asking all American parents to urge their children to go back to school in September, to assist them in every way possible."

He continued: "One of the things which we're going to do here is provide out of the Presidential Emergency Fund $250,000 on an emergency basis for guidance counselors in the month of August to see if we can get some of these boys and girls back to school."

When asked about reports that his civil rights stand had hurt him politically among white Americans, the President acknowledged that while this may be true, his Administration would "continue to follow the same course its followed in the past."

Ferguson, Counsel For U.S. Rights Commission, Named Howard U. Law Dean

Washington, D. C.—Howard University officials today announced the appointment of Clarence C. Ferguson, Jr., 39, of Wilmington, N. C., general counsel of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission and professor of law at Rutgers University, as dean of the Howard School of Law. He succeeds Spottswood W. Robinson, III, who is being considered for appointment to a U.S. District Court judgeship.

Ferguson, who assumes the post as dean and professor law at Howard on Oct. 15, has been a practicing attorney in Massachusetts and New York since 1961. He was associated with the law firm of Baltimore, Paulson and Canudo in New York City from 1951 to 1954, specializing in corporate and bankruptcy matters. He also served as assistant counsel to the Moreland Act Commission in its investigation of harness racing.

In 1954 he was appointed U.S. Attorney for the Southern District of New York, serving in that capacity until he joined the law school faculty of Rutgers University in 1955. Last year he began a leave of absence from Rutgers to serve as general counsel of the Civil Rights Commission.

Mayor Holds Meeting As N.Y.C. Protests Continue

New York—In the wake of continuing mass demonstrations in all sections of the city, Mayor Robert Wagner sat down July 30 with civil rights leaders and representatives of construction unions and employers to try to find some solution to employment discrimination.

Attending

Present at the meeting in the Mayor's office, which lasted over two hours, were officials from the NAACP, CORE, the Urban League and other civil rights organizations in the city. Included were NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, Labor Secretary Herbert Hill, Rev. Richard Hildebrand, president of the NAACP Manhattan branch; also James Farmer executive director of CORE and Frederick W. Richmond, president of the Urban League of Greater New York and Ramon Rivera, the League's director of job development.

10 Members

Mayor Wagner announced that he had appointed a 10 member group to meet again to study the problem.

Meanwhile demonstrations continued at several construction sites in the city. At one place, the Downstate Medical Center in Brooklyn, tactics of the police caused a brief flare-up of violence in which four persons were injured. Twenty-two persons were arrested, bringing the total number of arrests thus far to over 700.

Schools

Three persons were arrested at City Hall after blocking the gate to Mayor Wagner's office for two hours. The NAACP New York City branches also announced that children would be withheld from school this fall unless the city's schools are more fully integrated.

No Bias in Its Housing Metropolitan Life Claims

New York—Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, following a series of conferences with the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has "re-affirmed its long-established policy of non-discrimination in the fields of housing, employment and investment."

In a joint statement with the NAACP, released here, July 31, the company said that "with respect specifically to its apartment developments, this means that no bona fide applicant is denied housing there because of race, creed or color."

Major Landlord

"Because the Metropolitan is a major landlord, not only in New York City but also in other large urban centers, this declaration of policy should have a widespread impact in making good housing available to Negro and other minority groups families," Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, said in commenting on the agreement.

Settlement

The settlement was reached two weeks after the NAACP youth councils, in metropolitan New York, Miss Barbara Moore and Mark Roseman, co-chairman, announced a full-scale drive to secure desegregation of the insurance company's three huge housing developments in the Bronx and Manhattan. Pending negotiations, no demonstrations were held at the sites of the developments which house a total of 70,500 residents.

None in 3 Areas

There have been no Negro families in Parkchester, Metropolitan's Bronx development housing 38,000 tenants and only a handful at Stuyvesant Town and Peter Cooper Village in Manhattan. The company also owns Riverton, located in Harlem and occupied predominantly by Negroes.

Speakers

Hughes who said, "It is easy to ignore the indignities to others if you have no contact with them." He was referring to the many towns that do not have a Negro population.

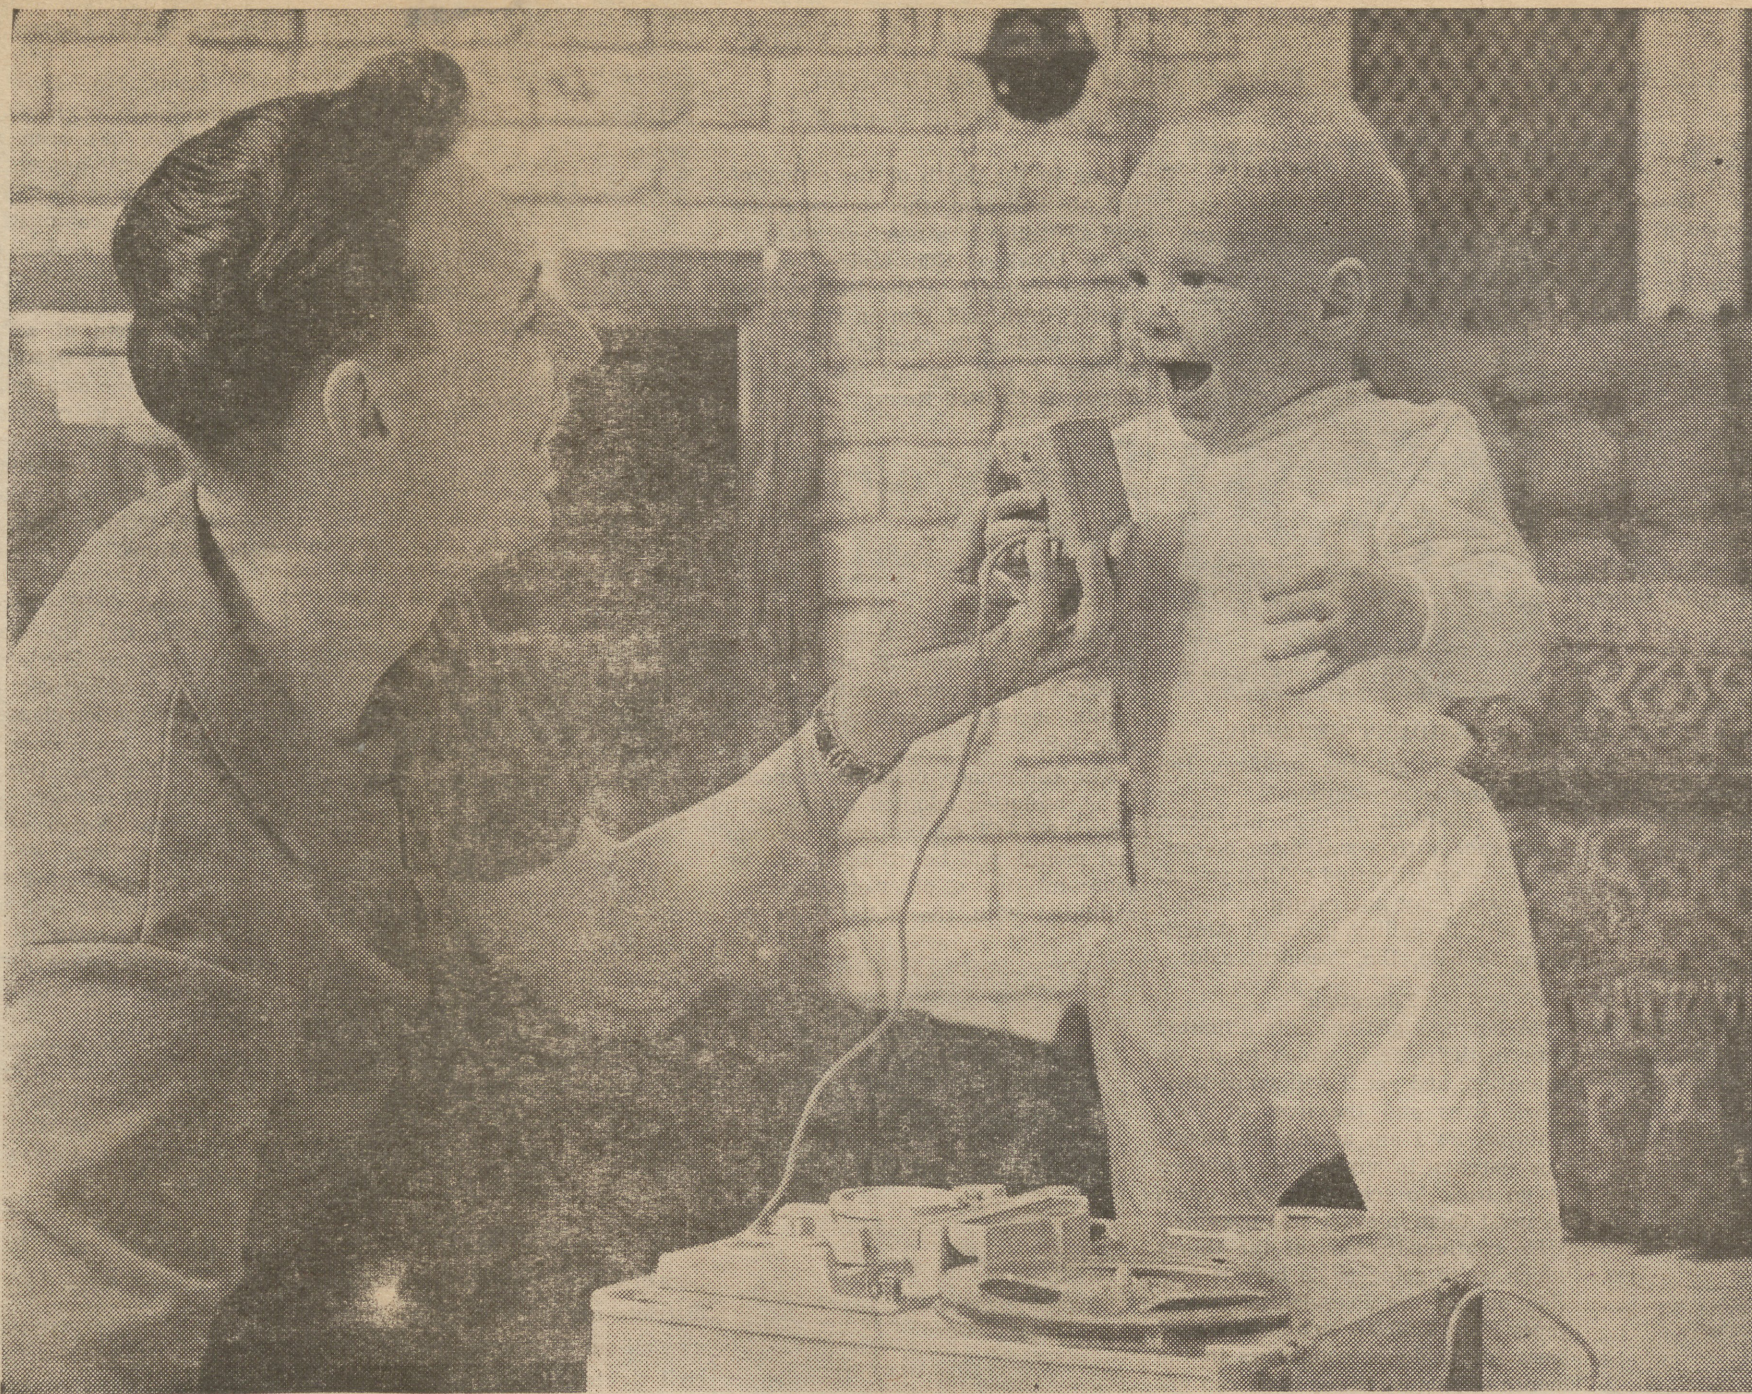

"This administration has tried to atone for Iowa," he said, pointing to the backing of a FEP bill, "long before the incidents in Birmingham and Mississippi."

Job Applications

Gov. Hughes also cited his support of the home rule, the establishment of a Human Rights Commission and his recent signing with 37 other governors, a resolution endorsing President Kennedy's program on civil rights.

Referring to job applications, "I believe you can get applications if . . . it be known colored persons will be accepted if qualified."

What is electricity? THOSE FIRST GREAT WORDS

Electricity is the magic of a tape recorder. Electricity is the friendly glow of outdoor lighting. It's the convenience of electric power tools. Electricity is probably 30 to 40 household servants in and around your home . . . five or six times as many as you had just a generation ago. With electricity doing so many useful things for you, it stands to reason that your bill is higher today. But the actual cost per kilowatt-hour of electricity is a full 30% lower than it was a generation ago.

Yes, electricity is many everyday wonders. At today's low rates, it's your biggest household bargain. Faithfully yours, from IOWA POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY and the 1800 people serving you.

The New Bethel Sunday school was held with Willis Haddix, Supt., in charge.

following a testimonial meeting. Holy Communion was observed.

Paul, Minn., spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Page.

Mrs. Cecil Douglas entertained at a picnic dinner on Sunday. Thirty guests including out-of-town guest, Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Tate, Jr., and family of Seattle, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Dan Mitchell and family of Milwaukee, ouglas family of Mason City, were cil Douglas farm.

Scottie for House Number

A TIME TRIED method of displaying a house number in an attractive manner is illustrated.
Either the Scottie-dog cutout or some other animal will serve the purpose. Set in a parkway, on the lawn or at the curb, the jaunty puppy, with its sparkling eyes, will prove to be an attractive addition.
Scottie is 15 inches long and his height is 11 1/2 inches. Cut him from two pieces of Masonite 3/16"

Tempered Presdwood, holding the panels, screen sides together, with C-clamps and following a pattern with a coping, keyhole or band saw. Slightly round the edges with a file or sandblock.

Reflector-type bolts used for car licenses serve as eyes and reflect the light from passing cars. The numbers are sawed from the Tempered Presdwood and glued to each side of the cutout.

Two wooden stakes, shaped from 1 by 2-inch lumber, are laid between the two cutouts and fastened with screws applied through holes drilled in the hardwood. Paint Scottie in appropriate colors, first using a primer. Push the stakes into the ground, and your new house number will be in service.
All the materials needed are available at lumber yards.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Time To Plan For A Global Sweep?

The sickness and death rate from tuberculosis have declined considerably over the years in the United States.

Will the disease ultimately be eradicated? It depends on what is meant by "eradication"—a word that has different meanings for different people.

Pointing out that "eradication" means "removing by the roots," Dr.
James E. Perkins, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, maintains that banishing a disease wholly or almost entirely from a given country doesn't fulfill that definition. Speaking before a meeting of science writers recently, he endorsed the view that "no communicable disease could be considered to be eradicated until it is eradicated from the entire world."

Not Impossible

On the basis of such a definition, he noted that "man has never thus far eradicated any communicable disease." But he refused to admit that the goal was impossible. Using such examples as smallpox, tuberculosis, syphilis, typhoid fever and cholera,
he said:

"It is not possible to state that any of these diseases will be erad-

Global Effort

The only way to find out, Dr. Perkins insisted, is to "conduct a serious, carefully planned global effort to eradicate them." Pointing out that such a campaign is already underway with regard to malaria and smallpox, he said, "It is not too early to begin taking some plans for the global eradication of tuberculosis."

Certainly the American experience, in which TB though far from eradicated, has been reduced from first to fifteenth in the list of national killers, should serve to furnish hope and inspiration to the rest of the world.

Sojourner Truth

The Black Muslims are a popular conversation piece today in both Negro and white social circles. The most unlikely people report meeting or hearing about flesh and blood Black Muslims in our city. I haven't been inclined to take any of these reports seriously for two reasons. The Black Muslim movement does not accept whites in their ranks. Neither are Negro professionals welcomed without severest scrutiny.

Let's take the case of the southern minister who prides himself in his liberal racial views. He, too, is haunted by Black Muslims. Recently, he assured himself there was an organized group of 35 Black Muslims in Des Moines! What frightened the Reverend so badly that he is seeing Black Muslims around every corner. It was the magic number 35 that gave me a possible clue.

About two weeks before the Reverend had his Black Muslim nightmare, he received an invitation to a meeting to discuss the building of a CORE chapter in our city. The invitation included the subject to be discussed. Should the first major action of CORE be building active support for the pending civil rights legislation? The Reverend did not attend. No one would have given it a second thought if he had not become hysterical with fear after a conversation with a friend who expressed disappointment at his absence.

During the conversation, the Reverend had learned that the meeting had been limited to about 35 people by invitation only. None was Black Muslims.

The cause of the Reverend's nightmare was his own conscience. He can not escape from himself by calling CORE members Black Muslims. We are sincerely sorry for the Reverend because he is cheating himself of a unique opportunity for Christian invitation. We would have taken the second step together with him.

The need is for speakers to go to the small towns and rural areas to explain the burden of segregation on our nation and the urgent need for Iowans to urge their congressmen and senators to vote favorably for pending civil rights legislation.

The Reverend, remember, is a southerner who could speak with first-hand knowledge of the problem of segregation. Iowans are earnestly wanting to know and understand the fact of this Number One problem of our nation. His denomination would have approved and the people of Iowa would have deeply appreciated his efforts.

There is nothing to fear in our state. We sincerely hope our friend will see that it takes only one step forward to see that his fear is only a nightmare. We are his friends and wish him well.

MEAT, RICE 'N' PARMESAN EGGS

There couldn't be a better tasting main dish than this one! It's made of cut up canned luncheon meat with rice baked until bubbly in mushroom soup and sharp cheese. Some green pepper adds color and crisp texture. When the rice is tender, six eggs are broken over the top and baked until done under a generous covering of nippy flavored Parmesan cheese.

INGREDIENTS:

1. 12-oz. can luncheon meat, diced (cut some of the meat into wedges to use as garnish, if desired)
- 1 cup uncooked white rice
- 1, 10½-oz. can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1 cup grated sharp cheese
- 1 teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon black pepper
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper
- ¾ cups water
- 1 cup cooked green peas
- 6 eggs
- ¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

METHOD: Put the chopped luncheon meat (but not wedges), rice, mushroom soup, the 1 cup grated sharp cheese, salt, pepper, green pepper and water in a greased shallow baking dish. Stir gently to mix well. Place in a pre-heated 350° F. oven. Bake uncovered for 1 hour or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Add a small amount of water if mixture becomes too dry. Stir once during the baking to mix any uncooked grains of rice with the liquid.

Remove from the oven and stir in the cooked peas. Make six depressions in the rice-meat mixture. Break an egg into each depression. Arrange the wedges of luncheon meat around the eggs. Sprinkle with the grated Parmesan cheese. Return to the oven and bake 10 to 15 minutes or until the eggs are set. Serve at once.

This recipe makes 6 servings.

Guests were seated at individual round tables.

To Lubricate a Lock

IF A LOCK becomes stiff and hard to operate, a temporary cure is available in any home in the form of a soft lead pencil. Simply rub the key until it is heavily coated with the graphite, and then turn it in the lock a few times. This treatment should make the lock work like new. Of course, you can use powdered graphite, which is available in most hardware stores. This lubricant is blown into the lock through the keyhole by squeezing the tube. The illustration appeared in The Home Craftsman.

Conventions highlights will include "Project Day" featuring chapter program and demonstrations projects; a tribute to Delta in narrative and song at Carnegie hall; "Youth in Action Forum" and the golden anniversary banquet culminating the celebration of the three year-evaluation and fund raising campaign.

The Iowa Delegation will include Phi chapter members who are Mrs. Norman R. Olphin, president and Mrs. Barbara Williams, president-elect, as delegates. Others planning to attend are Mesdames Clifford Bayles, Leonard Peavy, Albert Brewer, of Des Moines, Mrs. Helen Lemme of Iowa City and Joyce Banks of Council Bluffs.

contest. The entire concept of a state contest focuses attention on Iowa as a pioneer in that Iowa Power's co-sponsorship last year was the first time in the history of the Pillsbury Bake-Off that such a co-sponsorship had existed. Because of the widespread interest and enthusiasm created by emphasizing the contest on a state level, Iowa Power this year again is staging the "Best of Iowa" baking contest and promotion.

10 Finalists

On Aug. 22, Iowa Power will bring the 10 Iowa finalists (selected by Pillsbury in their Grand National Bake-Off contest) to Des Moines for three days of sightseeing, radio and television appearances, planned visit to the governor's residence, special competition in the Iowa Power baking contest on Aug. 23 in the Iowa Exhibits building at the State Fair, and gala awards banquet culminating the three days of activity. Paul Thompson will announce the winner of the "Best of Iowa" baking contest and Ann Pillsbury will reveal the names of Iowans going on to national competition in Los Angeles in September.

Beginning with last Friday the past week has been a particularly inspiring one for women in Des Moines and especially to club women in the city and around the state. Delegates from 16 clubs around the state gathered at Hotel Savery to hold their 61st annual convention of the Iowa Association of Club Women and remained in the city to host some 150 delegates from 10 states at the 19th biennial convention of the Central Association of Colored Women's clubs.

There were many speakers of national acclaim and the workshops and exchange of ideas as well as social repartee will serve as an inspiration for Iowa women to press forward in their goals and ideals.

The delegates who came from far and near agreed that their hosts, the women of Iowa, had gone all out to see that their four day stay, was indeed a memorable and a pleasant one. The hospitality has not been surpassed and the delegates paid tribute to their hostess for same. They also paid tribute to the staff of the Hotel Savery who had gone all out to make all the delegates and visitors fee welcome.

Like one lady said, "You expect the management to be especially nice, but the regular help doesn't have to be; they can sometimes be snotty!"

So it seems that the IACW found another hotel staff that rivaled the one in Cedar Rapids that brought out the red carpet for them last year there.

All the food for the special occasions, such as the reception, the president's luncheon, the banquet, press breakfast, etc., was particularly appetizing and eye appealing. Care was given to each little detail which make such a big difference in the overall scheme of things.

We had an interesting and candid interview with Dr. Rosa S. Gragg, Detroit, Mich., president of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs, Inc. in her hotel suite. Her untiring personality and stamina and her brilliant mind made for an hour that we will long remember.

Dr. Gragg, who was much in demand, had jam-packed hours during the convention sessions and it was difficult to squeeze in extra activities in between the questions and talks with various delegates.

Those who heard her and know her, can testify to the fact that she is one of the most dynamic speakers and organizers of our days, bar none. In addition the demands of extemporaneous speaking, do not fluster her one iota, this partly due to her wide command of the English language and a flare for the opportunity of ready compliment.

We stopped by Good park to see last of the swimming classes or the fun races as the children like to call them. And it was an experience that was side-splitting for those who were spectators. The various swimming forms of the children who just knew they were "swimming up a storm" was indeed funny to see. Then there were those who indeed were good swimmers and had mastered the various techniques.

While there we had a brief chat with Mrs. Robert (Bernice) Wright, 4517 Wakonda parkway, who told us she has a teaching contract and will be teaching at Elm Grove school this fall.

With the assistance of various Bystander correspondents around the state we hope to bring you a new feature-pictorial series on adoptions beginning next week. Our first article will be with the cooperation of Mrs. Valetta Fields of Waterloo, Ia.

Three Couples Back From Motor Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Redd, and son, of 1753 Walker street, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Spates, and daughter, Peggy Marie, 1244 13th street, and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Thompson, and daughter, Cecilia Mary, 1168 11th street returned from a vacation in Wisconsin Dells where they went on a boat tour and other sightseeing trips.

The visitors stopped in Milwaukee, Wis., where they visited and had breakfast with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Terry. Their last stop was in Chicago, Ill., where they were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bass, daughter and son-in-law of the E. Redds. Mrs. Spates attended the national convention of National Beauty Culturist League, Inc. in session at the Sherman hotel in Chicago.

Des Moines City Government Has Failed its Responsibility to the Negro

On September 9th, voters of Des Moines will again be called upon to determine whether the council-manager form of government is to be continued. This will be the second time this form of city government has been challenged since its adoption.

There are those who resent the attempt to change from the manager-council type of government insisting that such action tends to disturb a tranquil operation of the business; that it had some part in the decision of the present manager to move to another city.

This is a narrow view for those people seeking a change are simply exercising their constitutional rights. The effectiveness of the plan must continue to stand on its merits.

No form of government is good unless it is run good. And one of the merits of any government is that it represents all the people and that its leadership is responsive to the will of the people. Of course, the people go wrong at times but there remain the courts to correct the evils that exist if they have jurisdiction to do so.

The council-manager government has not met its responsibility toward the Negro citizens of Des Moines. There again, it has been the people who have done it and not the system. Officials have closed their eyes to injustices about which Negroes have complained and made known to the manager and council just what they were and still are. But not a word from either.

Unfortunately for the Negro, much of the leadership of the opponents of the council-manager form of government are among those who have helped block the correction of some of the very things about which Negroes complain. This leaves them in a quandary for the proponents of the present government promised that they would see that the complaints were rectified but they have not. Negroes are forced to choose between the two evils.

The situation has prevailed in other communities and in many instances, Negroes have been driven to line up with the so-called crooked machines, as against good government. The former has given them jobs and recognition; good government has given them platitudes and pats on the back, neither of which puts bread and butter in the mouths of the Negro voter and his family.

Today, the city of Des Moines is one of the leading practitioners of racial discrimination in jobs in the city. In spite of complete control by the manager-council group, it has less than a half dozen Negroes holding jobs above that of an ordinary clerk. Labor and street jobs have been dwindled year by year.

There are no Negroes employed in the zoning, urban renewal, inspection, finance, clerk and legal departments. And none serves on the water, zoning, library, appeal, or any other board except those placed as a token: urban renewal, recreation and human rights. And in spite of the fact that two vacancies have been available on the council, it has not had the courage to have a Negro among its members.

Negro leaders have held private conferences with the city manager and mayor where they were briefed fully on these complaints. They promised a change. When the Polk County grand jury was investigating crime and corruption in the city government, these same Negro leaders laid before that body evidence of rank discrimination and injustice. That body agreed that the complaints were just; that violation had occurred but neither the manager, mayor or council raised a finger to do anything about them.

Unfortunately, Negroes have not marched on the city hall as they should. They have supported the manager-council government hoping for the best, but those in power have not kept their side of the bargain.

A committee has been set up to hold the line in this election on the manager-council government. It is composed of and financed by many of our leading citizens. Are we to have the same broken promise again or will they want a new manager chosen who will bring Des Moines in line with other towns and see that the Negro gets a square break? The present manager has not done so. The Bystander would like this committee to speak out and let the Negro citizen know what their plans are.

The Bystander is forced to align itself with the people who have been friendly in other instances — who have supported some of the things it has advocated over the years. But if this so-called good, efficient government continues to operate to help keep Negroes out of employment as it is today, it will advocate and join with any group which marches on the city hall and stays until the situation is changed.

E. Myers Retains Net Title

Mrs. Esther Myers retained her women's singles championship in the 15th annual Hilltop Open Tennis tournament held here last Thursday through Sunday. Mrs. Myers who is president of the Hilltop Tennis club, sponsors of the annual tourney, defeated Mona Schallau, 14, of Iowa City in the finals, 4-6, 7-5 and 6-3. The defending champ, who has done so much not only to develop young aspiring tennis players but also to keep the tennis tournament going through the year, almost lost the contest when she developed a leg cramp. However, after a slight delay she was able to continue to victory.

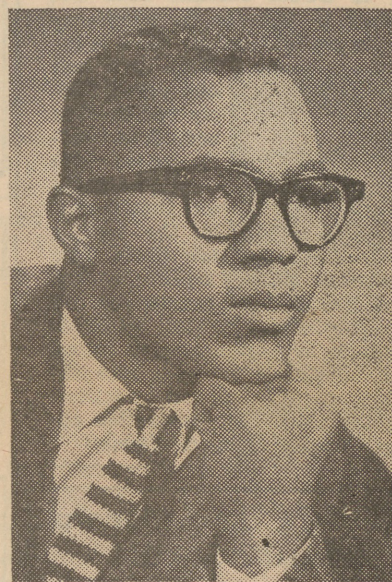

Mrs. Myers combined with Laura McCollum for the women's doubles but were defeated by Debbie Jones and Miss Schallau. In the mixed doubles Mrs. Myers and Cecil Brewton were defeated in two straight sets by Mike Schrier, Iowa City and Miss Schallau.

The entire tournament with the exception of the finals was held at the Birdland park courts. The finals were held at the newly remodeled Good park courts.

Schrier was defeated in the men's singles match by top-seeded Arden Stokstad. Both combined to win the men's doubles crown.

Nathaniel Craddock Looks Sharp

Fairfield, Conn.—Nat Craddock, a 220-pound rookie fullback from Iowa's Parsons College, was one of the standouts Saturday in a 14-hour scrimmage by the New York football Giants.

CRADDOCK

In addition to Craddock, a Des Moines native who ripped off several good gains, Sherman was pleased with the work of Jim Pace, former Michigan halfback; Aaron Thomas, ex-49er subbing for the injured Del Shofner at end, and John Lo-Vetere, the 280-pound tackle acquired from Los Angeles in the trade that took away Roosevelt Grier.

Little League Football Registration Aug. 10-24

Registration for the Little All American Football League of Des Moines will be held Aug. 10-24 at 8:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., in the Youth Department of the Y. M. C. A.

All boys who desire to play Little League football this fall should come to the Y. M. C. A. on one of the three Saturdays and register. Registrants should use the Grand Avenue entrance, and be accompanied by one parent. Registration fee is $1.00.

Eligible to register are all boys in seventh, eighth and ninth grades. There are two divisions in Little League football, lightweight and heavyweight. The lightweights are boys in the seventh and eighth grades, with the weight limits being 90 to 125 pounds. Heavyweights are boys in the ninth grade, and any seventh and eighth graders to heavy to play lightweight ball. Heavyweight boys may weight a maximum of 155 pounds.

New York Giants Cut Wilburn Hollis

Fairfield, Conn.—The New York football Giants cut five rookie players including Wilburn Hollis, former University of Iowa halfback who was on their "taxi" squad last year.

Colts Drop Threat to Quit Maryland Town

Westminster, Md.—The Baltimore Colts of the National Football League last week opened pre-season training again at Westminster after dropping a threat to quit the town over racial segregation.

The 15th annual Hilltop - Des Moines Open tennis meet closed out Sunday at Good park. The finish was a little better this time. On the mixed doubles which always seem to get played in darkness, the conditions were somewhat improved. The McCullums, Harold (father) and daughter, Laura, who were finalists last year were able to see each other whereas last year they had to yell to keep out of each other's way.

Iowa Citizens

In the men's singles a pair of fine youngsters, Arden Stokstad, an Iowa university sophomore and Mike Schrier, a former Iowa varsity player, met in an exciting duel of hard shots and fine placements with Stokstad winning. Then the two finalists teamed up to win the men's doubles from Mel Synhorst and Bill Kiley. The kids won the first set and then the vets had to default because Kiley had to leave on a business trip.

Mrs. Myers

Esther Myers, who seems to have a lease on the women's singles nearly got whipped by a 14-year-old, Mona Schallau, from Iowa City. Myers dropped the opening set, 6-4, nearly blew the second but pulled it out at 7-5; then she got a three love lead in the third set and suffered a leg and arm cramp. A person of lesser determination would have defaulted but the champ hung on and managed to squeeze out a 6-3 final set.

Women's Doubles

Lena Walden came from San Diego, Calif., to try for the women's doubles crown which she and Janet Holmes won two years ago. But, this time a pair of kids did away with the veterans in a 12 game match, 12-4. Debbie Jones, one of the better young players around here and Miss Schallau were the winners.

The junior events were just about all one person shows. The Romf boys played for the 14-year-old crown with older brothers, Bill, winning. Both the 16 and 18 year old titles were played for by a couple of youngsters Wing and Wueffung who played for both singles crowns and teamed to win both doubles. A really intelligent girl, Beth Stack, won both the 14 and 16 year-old girls honors and two sisters from Cedar Rapids, the Wright girls, won both doubles titles.

We had a lot of Negroes in the thing, Royal Madison and John Meggs of Chicago, Ill., and Macafee and Anderson now of Wichita, Kans., along with several locals. But no one made a very big splash although the doubles team each won a match.

But this was probably our biggest city list and our hardest tournament to work, but we will probably try it again next year.

Letters from Our Readers

A bit of prose . . . a line or two of poetry . . . a letter now and the to express thoughts in the minds of our many readers.

Send Yours Today

DEAR EDITOR:

The Poem, "I Remember Dixie," of Mrs. Zenobia M. White was very impressive and touching.

It prompted me to enclose a couple of poems by Edgar A. Guest, pertaining to "Intolerance" also. I thought them very good. Maybe you might care to publish them also. Thank you.

Maurice Collins
Prairie Du Chien, Wis.

Editor's Note: One of the poems submitted by Mr. Collins is published in this column this week.

Roses Get Along

Before they bloom no one can tell
Red roses from white
And side by side at peace they dwell
Both day and night
The sun and wind and rain they share

Of all men's quarrels, unaware,
Tis well that roses cannot think Or else they might
If yellow hate their neighbor's pink
The red, the white
And they'd be imitating then
The narrow bigotries at men.
Each serves its purpose, day by day
And seems content
To live and wither in the way
The Good Lord meant
Had we the faith we proclaim Perhaps we, too, could be the same.

Albany, Ga.—The NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund Aug. 5 announced the first major breakthrough in the long-stymied racial crisis here.

The U.S. Court of Appeals, Fifth District, has ordered a lower court to issue an injunction against city officials here that will allow Negro citizens to enjoy many of the goals sought during months of peaceful demonstrations.

Mrs. Constance Baker of Motley, Legal Defense Fund Associate Counsel, who was chief counsel during the long proceedings, pointed out that Albany officials have been busily selling ing the city's swimming pool facilities to private individuals.
