Plan D.M. Bus Trip to D.C. March Aug. 28

Organized by NAACP Youth Council, Friends Service Com., Others

A bus trip for the "Freedom March" in Washington, D. C., Aug. 28 is being planned in Des Moines by the NAACP Youth Council under the supervision of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Franklin in conjunction with the Friends Service Committee, and other local rights groups.

Cost of the round trip will be $35. The bus will leave Des Moines on Monday, Aug. 26 and will arrive in D. C. on Tuesday, Aug. 27. Lodging will be arranged through the Washington, D. C. Friends Service Committee. The Iowa delegation will take part in the march and depart right afterwards, arriving in Des Moines sometime Thursday.

Church Appeals

On Sunday NAACP youth members will appeal to congregations and churches for donations to help defray expenses for the trip. Richard Duncan is president of the Youth Council and Larry Martin will represent the youth of the Friends Service committee.

Anyone interested or desiring additional information may call during the days, 288-5701 or evenings, AT 3-1820. Mrs. Marion Williams is serving as co-ordinator for the trip plans.

3rd Endeavor

Atty. Robert Wright, president of the Des Moines branch, noted that this is the third endeavor of the NAACP to push the civil rights legislation in congress. The first was the legislative conference in Des Moines last month; the second was the legislative conference last week in Washington, D. C., attended by Wright and Atty. James B. Morris, Jr., legislative chairman for the branch.

All Support

Wright stated that the support of all religious, fraternal and labor groups is hoped for the Aug. 28 march which was decided upon in an emergency resolution at the national NAACP convention in Chicago to solicit support of President Kennedy's civil rights proposals.

Central Assn. Club Women Hear Publisher, Elect Officers

One of the outstanding contributions on the local level to the 19th biennial session of the Central Association of Colored Women's Clubs which met last week at Hotel Savary was a press breakfast held in the Terrace room on the last day of the convention.

Atty. James B. Morris, Sr., editor-publisher of the Iowa Bystander, who was guest speaker, pointed out the crying need for club women to concern themselves with the problems of our race, which are all around us and especially with young people.

Dropouts

He cited juvenile delinquency and school dropouts among Negro youth and urged women to give motivation to them to live better and more creative lives and for parents to provide better homes and more adequate supervision.

He also emphasized . . . the need to accept responsibilities for raising the standards of our race in all areas."

Police Exams Set for Aug. 31

The Des Moines Civil Service Commission announced Saturday that entrance examinations for patrolmen and promotion examinations for regular police sergeants will be Aug. 31. Application forms may be obtained from the commission now and must be returned by Aug. 26. Patrolman applicants must be between 22 and 32 years of age and from 5 feet, 9 inches to 6 feet, 4 inches tall and must be high school graduates.

Jas. Hood Withdraws from University of Alabama

Tuscaloosa, Ala.—Because of his physical and mental condition James Hood has withdrawn from the University of Alabama. He was one of three Negro students to integrate the university early this summer.

The university confirmed Hood's withdrawal Sunday by his attorney, Arthur D. Shores of Birmingham. Shores said the 20-year-old student had withdrawn and left the university campus for his home at Gadsden, Ala.

Ouster

In connection with Hood's withdrawal, the university announced that a meeting of the Board of Trustees called to consider charges that could have led to Hood's ouster, resulting from a speech Hood made

Des Moines NAACP Will Meet Aug. 27

Wright, Jr., is branch president.

in Gadsden July 16, has been canceled.

Confirmed

The university confirmed that Shores had forwarded a letter from Hood stating that his withdrawal was necessitated by his physical and mental condition.

"Hood's letter was accompanied by a statement from his physician substantiating his evaluation of Hood's condition," J. Jefferson Bennett, administrative vice-president, said in a statement.

Hood and another Negro student, Vivian Malone, were enrolled in summer school at the university two months ago, despite efforts by Governor Wallace to stop them by standing in the doorway at the admissions building.

Baton Rouge Lunch Counter Desegregation Marks End Of Dramatic Campaign

Baton Rouge, La.—Lunch counter desegregation here on Aug. 6 marked the successful conclusion of one of the most dramatic campaigns in the present day civil rights struggle. Negroes were served without incident at 12 lunch counters downtown and in shopping centers.

The four-day session ended with election of officers. Re-elected were president, Mrs. Berneice C. Lindsay, Milwaukee, Wis.; Vice Pres. at large, Mrs. Fannye Benford, Gary, Ind.; 1st Vice Pres., Mrs. Juanita Brown, East Chicago, Ind.; 2nd V. Pres., Mrs. Fannie M. MRS. LINDSAY

It was just 40 months since the first local lunch counter sit-inners were arrested setting-off a series of events which included many arrests, a mass exodus of students, temporary closing of Southern University, and, finally, the indictment of local CORE leaders for "criminal activity."

On March 30, 3500 students marched through the center of town to the State Capitol. In retaliation, 17 students were expelled including Marvin Robinson, who is now a CORE field secretary. The student body then voted to boycott all classes. Attempts to negotiate reinstatement of the 17 students failed, when Dr. Felton G. Clark, president of the Negro university, failed to support them. In protest, several thousand students quit the university.

Charges are pending against CORE field secretary Ronnie Moore. Also, still being appealed is the case of Rev. B. Elton Cox, a CORE field secretary.

Meredith To Graduate From "Ole Miss."

Oxford, Miss. — James Meredith, the first Negro to enroll in the University of Mississippi, is slated to graduate Aug. 18, thus becoming the first of his race to be awarded a degree from the 115-year-old university.

Meredith, who is scheduled to receive a bachelor's degree in political science, said he had every intention of picking up his diploma in person.

It was rumored that Meredith would not actually attend the graduation ceremonies.

Highlighting the convention will be two street parades. The first is a twilight event to be staged on Monday evening, Aug. 19. On Wednesday, Aug. 21 will be the Big annual Parade slated to begin at 1 p.m. Other planned events include a Golf Tournament at Arsenal Bowling Lanes; Competitive Drills at Fitzgerald Field House, a Music Festival and a Card Carnival-Fashion Show. U.S. Advisory Council Of Industrial Leaders Named by Job Group

Washington, D. C.—A group of leading industrial executives met in the White House Aug. 6 to form an Advisory Council to the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

The Council will undertake an active program to open up job opportunities for all persons without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

The program is designed to work toward full utilization of qualified Negroes and other minority group members.

President

President Kennedy spoke briefly to the group and thanked them for agreeing to take the initiative in what he called the most important problem facing the United States today.

The Advisory Council consists of 19 executives under the chairmanship of G. William Miller of Providence, R. I., President since 1960 of Textron, Inc.

645 Delegates from 34 Groups Buttonhole, Confer with Congressmen

Washington, D.C.—At the end of three days of intensive buttonholing of members of Congress, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People expressed the conviction that the President's civil rights bill will elude the parliamentary booby-traps in both Houses of Congress and be enacted into law.

Opening the three-day session here, Tuesday morning, Aug. 6, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins called for all-out support of the President's packet of civil rights measures with strengthening amendments. He warned against efforts to weaken the bill in any fashion.

During the conference the 645 delegates contacted 62 Senators and 164 Representatives from 36 states.

On the basis of reports submitted by the delegates, Clarence Mitchell, director of the Association's Washington Bureau, told a news conference, Aug. 8, that he believed that "the Civil Rights bill will be cleared by the House Rules Committee and that it will also be brought to a vote on the Senate floor." He expressed confidence that the bill will be passed.

The conference, however, was widely supported by other organizations interested in civil rights. Representatives of 34 national and nine local organizations registered for the conference sessions.

After the NAACP, the UAW led all other organizations in the number of delegates. That trade union sent more than 200 delegates from 16 states.

Metropolitan Opens Housing Doors to All

New York, N. Y. — The nation's richest and biggest landlord, Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., is opening its doors to Negro and other non-white tenants.

The Metropolitan decision means that all-white projects such as Parkfairfax, in Alexandria, Va., across the Potomac from the nation's capitol, and Parkchester, the enormous 38,000-person development in the Bronx, will have Negro tenants. In Parkchester, one Negro family already is scheduled to move in.

It also means that the other Metropolitan projects — Parklabea in Los Angeles, Parkmerced in San Francisco, and Peter Cooper Village and Stuyvesant Town in New York—will accept Negro applicants.

the Camera Guild

Hobbies and photography go together. Take pictures of various members of the family working at their hobbies, as well as close-ups of the items they make or collect.

Collect With Your Camera

It's fairly safe to say that practically everybody has some kind of pet hobby—whether it's collecting rare stamps and coins or just old fishing hats and string! And we've always felt that one of the nicest things about photography is the way it can aid and complement the pursuit of almost any other hobby.

In fact, it is only by means of picture-taking that many hobbies can become "collecting" hobbies at all. If you're interested in bridges, old buildings, art treasures, railroad engines, aircraft, sailing vessels or old automobile models, your camera is the only method by which you'll be able to bring home items for your collection. Many "collector's items" are fairly small objects, and you'll be shooting them indoors. The easiest method of providing the artificial light you need is using a synchronized flash attachment on your camera. But, if you prefer, you can illuminate your collection with photoflood lamps or ordinary household light bulbs and then make a time exposure.

In either case, if the items are small, you will want to take close-up shots. With a box-type camera, you'd normally be shooting at a distance of about six feet from your subject. If, at this distance your subject seems lost in the middle of the viewfinder, you'll do well to get a simple close-up attachment that will allow you to move in to three and a half feet.

John M. Brooks, director of NAACP voter registration, has reported an enthusiastic response to the request. The program also seeks to involve non-voters to such an extent that they will become qualified voters.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Pronounce It "Em-fuh-se-ma"

Does the Age of Science, whizzing by at 18,000 miles an hour, leave you feeling sort of ignorant? Forget it. Nobody can be one hundred per cent "hip," even if that were desirable. Even the medical profession, which increases its knowledge at a geometric rate, readily admits that there are things it doesn't cover.

Logan Improvement Committee Meets

Logan Improvement Committee will meet Wednesday, Aug. 21 at 7 p.m. at Logan school. Anyone interested is invited to attend and hear of the activities and progress in the community.

Attacks Lungs

Look at the "new" (that is, newly prominent) disease called emphysema, which attacks the lungs and robs them of some of their functioning power. Because it has some symptoms in common with other diseases of breathing (chronic bronchitis, for instance), different methods of identifying emphysema exist in different places. As a result, the medical profession doesn't know just how widespread the disease is. It knows emphysema is increasing, but doesn't know how much.

Smoking

Another thing doctors don't know is exactly what role, if any, is played by smoking in causing emphysema. Nor do they know—so far—just what can be done about preventing this serious disease.

It should be added, however, (now that we're all feeling better about the gaps in our own knowledge), that doctors do know a lot about emphysema. They know it doesn't attack all of a sudden but develops gradually. They know it usually starts with a chronic infection of the bronchial tubes. They know it can result in heart damage due to vastly increased labor in breathing. And they know that most of its victims are over 50, with men a 10-to-1 majority.

They know something else, too: that emphysema often announces itself first by a chronic cough or shortness of breath. Which means that the prudent citizen, if beset by either of these symptoms, will go buzzing right off to his doctor to see what's what!

Among the hundred of vacationers who have flocked to and from the city was Mrs. Meleida Beck, 1241 13th street, who just completed a three week vacation in the west.

Mrs. Beck had been promised a trip by her sister, Mrs. Gussie Mae Booker, Las Vegas, Nev., two years ago. Due to illness she was unable to make the trip. So last month she was able to make the trip and left for Las Vegas. When she returned she made this report:

While there she visited the Hoover Dam, going underground 726.4 feet and toured all the modern conveniences underneath. She also visited Lake Meads which is a reservoir lake from the Hoover Dam. While underground you just take a few steps and you leave Nevada and step over into Arizona. The dam is an educational event to see, with so many states depending on this dam for so many good things.

Mrs. Booker also had a trip planned for Mrs. Beck to go to Los Angeles, Calif., to visit Mrs. Booker's daughter and family, Rev. and Mrs. Jessie Wesley and children. They drove to L.A. in an air-conditioned Cadillac which made going through the heated mountains a pleasure.

While in L.A. Mrs. Beck and others were the houseguests of Mrs. Lottie Green. They toured the city, looking at the Beverly Hills homes, went through some of the "Farmers Markets," visited P.O. Park and were shown some of the fine homes in L.A.

On returning to Las Vegas, Mrs. Beck visited the "Strip" and she says, "All I can say it's fabulous."

When she departed Las Vegas Mrs. Beck went into Chicago, Ill., to visit her step-daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Harris and children. She enjoyed her visit very much particularly meeting her granddaughter for the first time.

Referring to her granddaughter, Mrs. Beck said, "She is a peach, an Alberta peach!"

While in Chicago she also visited her brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. William Butler. Mrs. Beck is back home, tired, but has seen and heard plenty of which she is thankful.

Last week in this column we promised you the beginning of a series on adoption. However, the publication will have to be postponed for several weeks due to the fact that the caseworker, Mrs. Donald (Rose) Marsh, with whom we were working became ill last week and required surgery.

She is formerly of Waterloo and is a caseworker at the Lutheran Welfare Society of Iowa. She is the wife of Dr. Donald Marsh, who is associated with Dr. Robert Johnson.

We wish to announce several other series which will make their appearances early in the fall. We plan to have one we have had in previous years, "Student of the Week" and will be opened to junior and senior high school students in Iowa. The other will be "Cuddles Corner" a new one featuring the small fry from a newborn baby to a three year old.

Both features will require pictures and in the latter will like to build up a backlog of candidates. All you do is send in a snapshot, billfold size or larger, a check or money order for $2.00, cost for having an engraving cut made, and information including name of child, parents and address and their occupation if you want to include that and number of sisters and brothers, if any.

"Cuddles Corner" will be open to any By-stander reader anywhere in the United States. All pictures will

FRAILTIES IN HUMAN
SHOW NO COLOR LINE

In 1961, President Kennedy appointed Frank D. Reeves, a Negro lawyer, a member of the District of Columbia Commission. This position is comparable to a city councilman except that he is appointed by the President and confirmed by the Senate.

During the Senate hearings on Frank D. Reeves' confirmation, it was brought out that he had not filed an income tax return for several years and that he had encountered considerable unpleasant experience with the internal revenue service with regard to payment for those he did file. For this, and other reasons, Reeves was not confirmed.

He pleaded that he had been required to give so much time to the work of the NAACP that he overlooked the responsibility with reference to his taxes.

Last week, the startling news was disclosed that James M. Landis, former dean of Harvard law school, former chairman of the Securities and Exchange Commission and a new deal trouble shooter—for other people—had not filed a return for five years and owed the government many thousands of dollars.

The story would be amusing if it did not involve people who, in the past, advised and taught other people what they themselves had failed to do. One of the parties was a white lawyer, one a Negro lawyer. It all goes to show that the frailties of human nature are pretty much the same without regard to the color of the body in which it is found.

LIQUOR LAWS WILL LEVEL OFF

Iowa has had legal liquor by the drink less than two months, and like most laws and regulations, some need pruning up in order to make them work.

Undoubtedly, the cost of carrying on a liquor business is too high—particularly for the little fellow who caters to the average customer. He must charge too much for a drink and the State takes entirely too much of a toll in taxes.

And yet the price is no higher than was being paid in key clubs.

These tight regulations breed illegal trade which, in the long run, do more damage than good.

Even proper toilet facilities and writing are required in order to get a license. Not that this hurts anybody but some of the same people who drafted the regulations are squealing about the public accommodations section of the proposed civil rights law arguing that it invades property rights and tells an owner how to run his business.

And with the demise of the key club, some complain that they can't get a drink on Sunday. Here again, something must be given up to gain another. However, over all, the program will level off, the kinks taken out and nobody will be hurt too much.

THE STATE FAIR
OPENS AUGUST 15

The annual Iowa State Fair opens this week. It brings to Des Moines citizens from all over the state in all walks of life. Many think of it as a farmers' affair. It has emphasized farm life and the homemaker, the recreation seeker finds numerous exhibits that are interesting and instructive.

During the past few years, attendance has fallen off. People in Des Moines feel that the fair is for outsiders and thus it is surprising just how many here never entered the fairgrounds. It is just another example of looking somewhere else for some of the fine things under a fellows feet.

Senator Goldwater's store in Phoenix, Arizona has employed its first Negro clerk. It is pretty hard to tell others the way of civil rights unless you practice it yourself.

An Interview With Both "Mr. and Mrs. Murphy"—Colorado

I have a growing suspicion that all the uproar about the Public Accommodations clause of the pending Civil Rights Bill is a White Supremacy wolf dressed up like an innocent little lamb to appear in court. (More about this next week.)

I have made a point while on vacation to talk with "Mrs. Murphy" in each place we have stayed in Colorado. I walked up to "Mrs. Murphy's" cottage to inquire where the nearest place was to buy cigarettes. Mrs. Murphy graciously offered a pack from her private carton. We laughed over the old joke about how good other people's brands taste when you don't have any.

"Are you busy just now?" I asked. "No, I'm finished except for this room. By the time I get to it, I'm not too interested. Why don't you sit down."

"Mrs. Murphy, I've been writing in circles all morning because I don't really understand people who do business with the public and insist upon a right to pick and choose their customers by race, color, out of their clothes?" I hadn't meant to be so abrupt.

Mrs. Murphy remained at ease and answered gently, "I want you to know that I don't think that way. I wasn't brought up that way."

"I didn't think you did. I guess we wouldn't be here," I admitted somewhat embarrassed.

"It's the law here, Mrs. Truth. I serve everybody because I believe it is right—not just because of the law." Mrs. Murphy turned to her husband who had just walked in.

"Have we ever turned anyone away if we had a vacancy?"

"No, we haven't," was Mr. Murphy's casual reply. His wife disappeared out the door to greet a customer. As I sat wondering if I should go, Mr. Murphy picked up the thread of our conversation.

"I have worked with all kinds of people in my life. Indians, Mexicans, Spanish, Negroes and Whites; there isn't much difference. They're just people," Mr. Murphy had said and became silent as he thought of people he had known. I looked at his wind-burned, sun-tanned face and believed him.

Mrs. Murphy bounced into the room. "You asked me, Mrs. Truth, the reason why some people feel the way they do about race. If my life depended on it, I couldn't give you a single reason—and that's the truth. Tell her, Harold, about your uncle in Texas. I tell you, he is the meanest and most narrow minded human being that ever drew a breath."

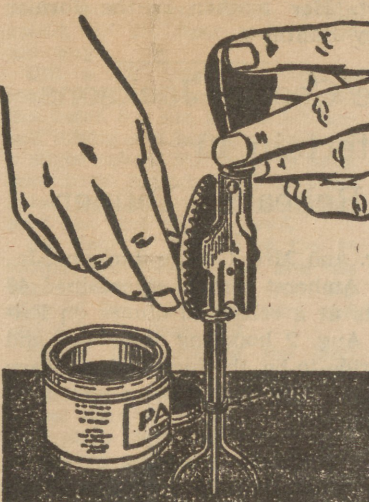

"We don't visit him any more. There is no need to try to talk to him," Mr. Murphy had said before his wife interrupted him.

"His uncle never spoke of his mother—only how much he loved his 'dear old mammy.' I never heard him even mention his mother."

"Uncle hates everybody, Mother. I think that's what ails him," Mrs. Murphy had said.

Here's Way to Mix Paint
AN EASY way to mix paint or enamel in small cans is to use an old egg beater. Simply cut down the revolving vane so that the center rod remains a little longer. In this way, the vane will be kept off the bottom of the can. Wind a piece of wire around the vane stems to hold them. This device will mix the contents more thoroughly than a paddle or stick. (Illustration courtesy Popular Mechanics.)

Defends Manager-Council Plan

Dear Editor:

I wish to comment on certain statements contained in your editorial of Aug. 1, 1963, particularly those having to do with the Civil Service Commission, of which I am a member.

I refer first to the statement made regarding the atmosphere in the Fire Department. You indicated that "its allies," by which I suppose you meant the Civil Service Commission, had "successfully flunked every Negro who has taken the examination."

I have served on the Commission since April of 1961. Since that date there has been no discrimination against Negroes in the Civil Service examining process. We have always given fair consideration to any candidate who has appeared before us, on his merits and without regard to race or creed.

Only one Negro took the written examination for firefighter recently, and he failed to pass. Thus he did not appear before the Commission for an oral examination. The grading of the written examinations is done without any knowledge as to which applicant wrote which paper, since the papers bear only numbers. These numbers are contained in sealed envelopes which are opened after the grading in the presence of a Commissioner.

The basic fallacy of your position is in assuming that whatever discrimination exists against Negroes in governmental positions results from the form of government we have. Such discrimination is reprehensible from every standpoint. However, it is equally unfair for you to blame this condition on our form of government.

It is a serious mistake to lead your readers to think that changing our form of government would better the position of the Negro in city employment. I am strongly convinced that quite the opposite would be true. I would expect your paper to feel strongly about the need to eliminate such discrimination. However, part of the job of overcoming these problems is to obtain qualified candidates to apply for available jobs, and here the Negro community can lend assistance.

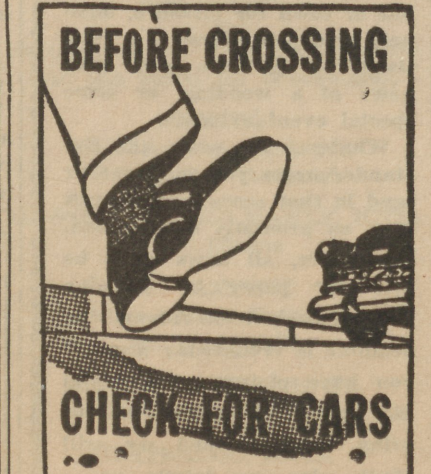

I would ask you not to permit your feeling about certain city policies to influence you to recommend a step which would be extremely harmful to our City. I cannot believe that your paper wishes to associate itself with those who have precipitated this election. I therefore urge you to air your complaints in the arena where they belong, the Council election in November, and to place the prestige of your paper behind the Council-Manager form of government for Des Moines.

Respectfully yours,
Robert E. Mannheimer
