Dr. W.E. B. DuBois, 93, Dies in Ghana

Noted Author, NAACP Founder Became Left-Winger in Later Years

Accra, Ghana—Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, 93, the onetime militant protagonist of civil rights whose philosophy and practices later took on a controversial nature, died here Tuesday night, Aug. 27. A government announcement the next day did not list the cause of death.

Rights March

Dr. DuBois, whose death came on the eve of the historical civil rights march on Washington, D.C., when more than 200,000 Negroes and whites converged on the U.S. capital, was paid a brief but poignant tribute by Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, which Dr. DuBois helped to establish in 1909.

The announcement was issued in Accra as American Negroes who live in Accra demonstrated at the U.S. Embassy in support of the civil rights march.

Noted Author

In his early years, Dr. DuBois used both pen and personal effort to further the cause of his people. He was the first Negro to be elected to the National Institute of Arts and Letters and was a life member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

During later years the noted author broke with the NAACP in 1948 and devoted time to extreme left-wing causes. In 1959 he was awarded the Lenin Peace Prize by the Soviet Union. He joined the Communist party in 1961 when he was 93.

To Ghana

He moved to Ghana last year and became a Ghanaian citizen in 1963. At the time of his death he was editor of the Encyclopedia Africana.

Dr. DuBois wrote several books, including "Souls of Black Folk," in 1903; "Darkwater," in 1924; "Dark Princes," in 1924, and the "Encyclopedia of the Negro," in 1931-46.

City Hall Sit-Inners Arrested In Michigan

Ann Arbor, Mich. — Twelve CORE sit-inners in the City Hall council chambers were arrested on Aug. 28 when they refused to leave at the Building's closing time.

It was the second arrest of sit-inners demanding adoption of a meaningful fair housing ordinance. The first demonstrators arrested were merely reprimanded, but these were accused of "loitering" with the trial set for Sept. 11.

Marchers List 10 Demands

Washington, D.C.—The sponsors of Wednesday's march on Washington say they have 10 demands to make of Congress and the nation. Listed in the organizing manual, they are:

1. Civil rights legislation—without filibuster — guaranteeing access to public accommodations, decent housing, adequate and integrated education, the right to vote.
2. Withholding of all federal funds from projects in which there is discrimination.
3. Desegregation of all school districts this year.
4. Enforcing the provision of the Fourteenth Amendment that reduces

Integrated Players Housing

Washington, D.C.—Negro players will be housed in the same motel as the white players for the first time when the Washington Senators report to Pompano Beach, Fla., for 1964 spring training.

The Senators said Friday the Golden Falcon Hotel, where they stayed last year, had agreed to desegregate.

Two weeks ago General Manager George Selkirk said the ball club would not return to the Golden Falcon unless it would accept the team's Negro players also.

Joe Louis Sings

Las Vegas, Nev. — Joe Louis made his debut Thursday night as a casino entertainer.

The consensus was that as a song and dance man he's a tremendous boxer.

The former heavyweight champion sang a duet with Pearl Bailey. Former boxer Slapsie Maxie Rosenbloom summed it up this way:

"How can Joe sing on key? He doesn't even talk on key."

Louis, 49, skipped a luminous rope in luminous boxing shoes as chorus girls cavorted on a darkened stage.

Closes Tuskegee School to Avoid Integration; Parents Incensed Over Action

Tuskegee, Ala. — Dictatorially ignoring local school boards and incensed parents, Gov. George Wallace of Alabama, used over troops to close the Tuskegee public school against court-ordered integration here Monday and Tuesday and deployed all but two dozen troops to Birmingham Tuesday night to prevent desegregation of three public schools there.

Best Awaken

Residents of Tuskegee, Birmingham and other Alabama communities reacted with outspoken opposition Tuesday to the governor's actions. An editorial in the Birmingham News reflected public sentiment, said, "Wallace now not only defies federal courts, he defies the wishes of the legally constituted local authorities—Alabamians had best awaken. Governor Wallace is not saving Alabama. He is in process of destroying self-government and educational system of this state."

Federal Government

After a conference between Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his assistants in Washington, D.C., government intervention was delayed but a spokesman said, "As Governor Wallace knows, the schools will be opened and the Negro students will attend them in accord with the orders of the courts. We hope it will be accomplished swiftly by the people of Alabama and their officials."

The Tuskegee school has registered 13 Negroes, three in the 12th grade, one in the 11th and three in the 10th, four in the ninth and two in the eighth.

Huntsville

Mobile and Huntsville are also under court order to integrate this year. The Huntsville school board agreed to a request from the governor to postpone the opening of school until Friday, but Mobile and Birmingham intend to go ahead with school opening as had Tuskegee, as planned.

Iowa Delegation Report on March on Washington D.C.

By Edna Griffin, Chairman of Des Moines CORE

The great march took place under the blue skies and a gentle breeze to make the Washington sunshine an asset.

The Iowa delegation, among the first to arrive, shared the anxious anticipation of the answer to the unspoken question. Will 200,000 people come?

Speculation as to whether the last performer was Odetta or Mahalia Jackson was suddenly interrupted by a loudspeaker announcement that 30,000 people were arriving from Pennsylvania. Cheers and shouts of relief and victory echoed above the crowd. State delegations hoisted their signs. A sea of people merged in the roadway leading to Lincoln Memorial.

A whole block of marchers were harmonizing spirituals and freedom songs, following and embroidering the intricate rhythms "lined out" by a commanding, robust baritone. The soloist proudly replied, "Rev. R. James Clifton, First Baptist Church, and NAACP president from Ft. Pierce, Fla.

"—been fightin' since 1929. —don't miss a meetin'." Emory MacDonald, 76, Macon, Ga. believes this moment is worth all the past years of "fightin'!"

"I won't live to see it," 78 year old Earnest Clark confided. After a long pause, he added, "I'm marchin' for the 'chillun'."

A tall, slender, prematurely gray, white man marches with his head turning from side to side as if to absorb every bit of the pride, pleasure and friendliness of the great march for jobs and freedom.

This is a first experience for the 36 Iowans, old and young. Television and newspaper cameras are frequently focused on the young lady with the sparkling chestnut hair—Bonnie Tinker is covered with buttons of all description, flags, banners, a special red and white vest and an NAACP cap.

"Originally, I came because of the opportunity. But I've already learned a lot. I march for freedom now," was the comment of the young lady from Waukegan who witnessed for the United Brethren. This was her first contact with the Negro people.

Iowa Delegate Visit Their Senators and Three Congressmen

Washington, D.C.—35 Iowa delegates arrived promptly at the senate office building hearing room to keep their appointment with Senators Hickenlooper and Miller.

Mr. Miller welcomed the delegation and explained that the senior senator has been delayed.

Mrs. Stanley Griffin was spokesman for the delegation when Senator Hickenlooper arrived.

"Quiet patience, gentlemen, is not to be mistaken for contentment. We have come a long way, senators, to share with you our belief that the climate of public opinion in our state favors equal opportunity and human dignity," she stated.

Mr. Hickenlooper expressed the view that human rights could not be separated from property rights. The Iowa delegation got the impression that Senator Hickenlooper was saying that property rights had to exist before human rights.

The senior senator stated that he would not make up his mind as to how he would vote on civil rights until the bill came up and he had studied it in detail.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Heart-To-Heart Talk

"It takes 45 years to develop this disease," the doctor said, "and what you've done in the past 15 minutes doesn't matter."

The doctor was Richard C. Bates, M.D., of Michigan, and he was holding forth on a subject close to every body's heart. By way of clinching his point, he added: "Your chances of heart attack are just as good in bed as out mowing the lawn."

Old Custom

Dr. Bates sees little point to the old newspaper custom of checking hospitals after a heavy snowfall to find out how many persons have died while shoveling snow. It really does not matter, he insists, because on an ordinary, un-snowy day you could probably find twice as many "who dropped dead while not shoveling snow."

"Recipe"

To rising young businessmen he offers his own modest "recipe" for working up a coronary:

"Get a good job and make a lot of money behind a desk. Eat plenty of meat and dairy products. Smoke two packs of cigarettes a day and never exercise."

On the subject of weight control, too, Dr. Bates' advice shuns the orthodox:

He suggests ignoring the standard weight tables and watching the waist line instead. For every inch that shouldn't be there, he says, you can figure five undesirable pounds.

Chief Enemy

What are the chief enemies of a healthy heart? "Gluttony and indolence," according to Dr. Bates. In short, more exercise coupled with less appetite indulgence is what this doctor order. He doesn't pretend that it's easy—just things it's necessary if you're really interested in surviving beyond middle age.

Mrs. Carr Seeks School Board Post

Mrs. Winifred Cornell-Carr is a candidate for a two year term as a member of the Des Moines Independent School District.

Since 1917, she has been a Des Moines resident, attending Casady and Wallace elementary schools, Amos Hiatt Junior and Roosevelt High Schools. She has participated in PTA activities at Monroe and Callanan and served as PTA president at Kirkwood, Roosevelt and Whittier.

These school-related activities, together with service as member and past president of the Day Care Board, member of the school child clothing committee of Good Will Industries, board member of Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association and United Campaign volunteer have prepared her to serve all of Des Moines as a member of the Board of Education.

Oppenheim Into Race

William R. Oppenheim, 27, of 4210 Timber Lane, president of World-Wide Aluminum Co., Inc., a home improvement firm, announced his candidacy for a two-year term on the Des Moines School Board.

Three members will be chosen in the board elections Sept. 9—two for regular six-year terms and one for two years to fill the unexpired term of the late Joseph Brody.

Oppenheim, a native of Des Moines, attended Eas and Des Moines Technical High Schools. He is married and is the father of a 10-year-old daughter and a 3-year-old son.

Oppenheim said he believes he could bring a youthful viewpoint to the School Board and that his business background would be of benefit in keeping the School District run on an efficient, business-like basis.

College-Caliber Students Test in Federal Work

The United States Civil Service Commission issued the 1964 federal service entrance examination announcement September third. This is an examination that all college-caliber people should take if they are interested in employment with the federal government, said Sonntag, the director of the St. Louis United States Civil Service Region.

The written test is given seven times during the year. Applications will be accepted through Sept. 19 for the first test to be held Saturday, Oct. 12. Applicants will increase their opportunity to obtain the jobs they want, said Sonntag, by getting their names on the list of eligibles as soon as possible. Many agencies will make immediate appointments although the college student will not actually go to work until after graduation.

Applications may be obtained from college placement offices, the larger post offices or the St. Louis Civil Service region, St. Louis, Mo.

WINNER NAMED IN "BEST OF IOWA" BAKING CONTEST

"Best of Iowa" Baking Contest winner and runners-up were announced Saturday by Iowa Power and Light Company, sponsor of the contest, at the firm's awards banquet at the Hotel Fort Des Moines.

At the same time, three of these ten state finalists (who had participated in the "Best of Iowa" contest) were revealed as being selected to participate in the Pillsbury Company's Grand National Bake-Off in Los Angeles next month.

Co-sponsors with Iowa Power in the "Best of Iowa" Baking Contest are the General Electric Company and Pillsbury.

Winners

"Best of Iowa" winner was Mrs. Margaret M. Greier of R. 1, Waterloo who received a $250 cash prize from Iowa Power and other prizes. Runners-up, receiving cash prizes of $100 and $50 respectively, were Miss Carol Ann Johnson of Alta, and Miss Ardene Wiebecke of Clutier.

State finalists chosen to go to Los Angeles to compete with a total of 100 other finalists in Grand National competition—Mrs. Alvin D. Albertus of Cedar Rapids, Miss Carol Ann Johnson of Alta, and Miss Ardene Wiebecke of Clutier (and Des Moines.)

Differences

Distinction between the "Best of Iowa" awards and the naming of the state finalists invited to the national bake-off was pointed out by A. Paul Thompson, Iowa Power president, who announced the "Best of Iowa" winner and runners-up.

"As you will recall, the state finalists for the bake-off are chosen on the basis of recipes that they have submitted specifically for the bake-off."

Interracial Child-Swapping Tried In Rochester; Real Value Is For Adults

New York — Interracial child-swapping, a new people-to-people approach to the integration problem, is being tested in Rochester, N.Y., The Insider's Newsletter reported today.

The program, called Accent on Understanding, aims to bridge the gulf between Rochester's Negro and white communities by introducing suburban children to colored playmates and arranging ways for white parents to visit Negro homes. It hopes to spur interracial friendships without any "charity" of "fresh air fund" overtones.

To launch the program, Jan Horn, directing the program for the Rochester-Monroe County Youth Board, screened families reached through newspaper ads, requiring that each have a child between nine and 12 years old.

Owned Homes

All families in the first experiments owned their own homes, were "essentially" middle class in manners and values and could communicate as social, if not economic, equals. Parents made their own arrangements but the usual child-swap covered two weeks, one week hosted by the Negro family, the other week bringing Negro children to the white suburbs.

Mrs. Al Wilson, 211 Oneida Street, wishes to thank her many friends of

What is electricity? A COOL TREAT ON A WARM DAY...

Electricity is a box of frozen treats . . . It's a whole supermarket at your fingertips. Electricity is your favorite television program. It's freshly washed clothes. Electricity is probably 30 to 40 household servants right in your own home . . . five or six times as many as you had just a generation ago. With electricity doing so many useful things for you, it stands to reason that your bill is higher today. But the actual cost per kilowatt-hour of electricity is a full 30% lower than it was a generation ago.

Yes, electricity is many everyday wonders. At today's low rates, it's your biggest household bargain. Faithfully yours, from

by Jane Ashley

Whether you are planning a pie for Sunday night supper, for a late breakfast on a cold weekend or to follow some active sports event or a brisk walk, this Pennsylvania pie should be baked. We borrowed from the Pennsylvania Dutch, but used our new 1-2-3 Pastry. The filling is flavorful and just right with coffee or juice.

Shoofly Pie
1 8-inch unbaked 1-2-3 pastry shell
1½ cups sifted flour
¾ cup granulated or brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup Mazola margarine
½ teaspoon soda
½ cup hot water
½ cup dark Karo syrup
Cinnamon

Sift flour, sugar and salt together; cut in margarine until mixture is crumbly. Spread 1 cup of crumb mixture over bottom of pastry shell. Stir soda into hot water, then mix in Karo syrup. Spoon this liquid mixture over the crumbs (do not pour all in one spot). Spread remaining crumb mixture evenly over top. Sprinkle top with cinnamon. Bake in a 400° F. (hot) oven 15 minutes; reduce heat to 350° F. and continue baking for 30 minutes. Serve warm.

Note: For a more moist pie, pour all of liquid mixture into pastry shell, then top with all of the crumb mixture, spreading evenly.

1-2-3 Pastry for Shoofly Pie
1 cup plus 2 tablespoons unsifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup Mazola corn oil
2 tablespoons cold water

Measure flour by dipping nested dry measuring cup and measuring spoon into flour; level off with straight-edged spatula.

Mix flour and salt. Blend corn oil thoroughly with fork. Sprinkle all of water over mixture; mix well. Press dough firmly into ball with hands. If too dry, mix in 1 to 2 tablespoons more oil.

Flatten dough slightly; immediately roll into 12-inch circle between two pieces of waxed paper. Wipe table with a damp cloth to keep paper from slipping. Peel off top paper; place pastry in pan, paper-side-up. Peel off paper; fit pastry loosely into pan. Trim ¼-inch beyond rim of pan. Fold under and flute. Fill and bake as recipe for Shoofly Pie directs.

School days are here again and as you drive to and fro over the city you are cautioned to be extra careful, and look out for the youngsters, particularly the small fry who will be making the trips to school for the first time in their lives.

We took in a few hours of the Labor day exposition at Veterans auditorium Sunday afternoon where our husband assisted in the U.S. Post-office booth, while we toured other booths and took in the event in general with our four children. Among the platform guests for the program was Judge Luther T. Glanton, Jr., who was introduced along with other judges, U.S. congressmen and county, city, and various labor union officials and dignitaries. In the audience was Mrs. Glanton and their son, Luther, III.

During the wedding reception of Mary Anne Holmes and Randy Davenport Saturday we were a little embarrassed when two ladies came up to us, and though the face of one was familiar, we couldn't quite place it. Imagine our chagrin when we learned it was one of the nice ladies we had met while in Waterloo last spring? The ladies were Mrs. Delores Lee and Mrs. Audrey Penn. We had not formerly met Mrs. Penn who was the church announcer during services at Payne A.M.E. Memorial church. However, Mrs. Lee, very graciously excused us with the words, "You meet so many people, you can't be expected to remember them all."

Shriners Celebrate Gala Day in Waterloo

Shriners from Zeid Temple No. 90, Des Moines, Iowa; Fezzan Temple No. 26, Minneapolis, Minn.; and Bashir Temple No. 156, Waterloo, Iowa; joined in celebrating their Gala Day over the long labor day weekend at Waterloo, Iowa with Bashir Temple acting as host.

The festivities consisted of an initiation, picnic, parade, dance, banquet at which Atty. Gen. Evan Hultman was the principle speaker, a Tea given by the Daughters of Isis and a Desert Conference meeting consisting of the leading Shriners of the state of Iowa. Shriners from Zeid Temple No. 90 of Des Moines who attended were Edgar Palmer, Harold Lewis, Lewis James, James Newsome, Sloan Taylor, Marcus McCraven, Julian Mason, Ty McKee, James Jones, Clarence Jones, Leroy Bird, Benny Grayson, John Ewing, William Weathers, Herman Johnson, Charles Peguese and guest Harry Johnson.

MARCH ON WASHINGTON
VALUABLE HISTORY

A. Philip Randolph threatened to lead 100,000 people on Washington during World War II in protest against discrimination in employment. Where asked what good the march would do, Randolph said 100,000 of anything is power. That's true.

And to those people who questioned the value of the civil rights march on Washington, August 28th, it must be said that 200,000 is more power.

Maybe no member of Congress changed his mind as to how he would vote on a civil rights measure. But the folks back home, thanks to the superb organization and conduct of the march and radio and television, many people back home took a new look at the whole struggle for human rights and let their representatives in Congress know about it.

Members of Congress just don't ignore their constituents for they must depend upon them to help them in Washington.

The march on Washington will go down in history as a spontaneous outburst among Negroes and white people seeking the elimination in America.

VOTE FOR CITY

MANAGER QUESTIONABLE

Citizens of Des Moines go to the polls September 9th to vote whether to continue the manager-council plan of government or return to the commission form. The campaign has been interesting for what is has not produced: A clear evaluation of both systems of government and what each has produced.

Like the Negro vote generally, the Bystander is caught up between forces who generally have favored the low cost housing, urban renewal and other phases of equal opportunity for Negroes on one side and those who oppose these things most of whom would be segregationists if the opportunity presented itself.

But most of the opposition to the commission form of government has been against those who oppose it while against the council-manager form has been leveled at what they have not done.

The Bystander believes that every Negro must be an American first and a Negro afterwards. But that rule does not apply that he is a citizen of Iowa first and a Negro afterwards. The Bystander favored the manager-council plan in the beginning but it must be admitted that the system has failed to take the lead in bettering the lot of Negroes in Des Moines. Like most efficiency experts brought in plants to do a job, generally the first one at hand is to fire the Negro workers. The manager-council plan has done just that for there are less Negroes proportionately working for the city of Des Moines today than during the past forty years.

And this in spite of the promise to improve conditions. A person dislikes to be mistreated by his friends and more by his enemies. Thus Negro voters are placed in the position of choosing between two evils. Not evils of the systems but evils of the forces that back them.

The Bystander has consistently advised its readers to vote their sentiments in any election. It is important that they vote. It is important that they vote for their best interest. Most of its readers are Negroes. Their best interest is to rid the city of a system which has promised but has refused or failed to give them a fair share of the tax dollar they pay.

The school board election presents a different proposition for no issues have been debated by the candidates. There are 12 candidates for the 6 year term; two for the two year term. So it is a matter of choice among people you and your friends know.

In any event, in both election, citizens should cast their vote and exercise their right to choose officials who run the affairs of the school board and city business.

The baseball season is pulling away and football has already been on the stage. Here at home our local high schools are hard at it. Again we have to go with that bunch of tall big boys from Roosevelt. The East boys don't look too big from what we could see. Haven't seen North yet, but we'll see them this weekend along with Tech.

Coach Burns

Most of the people who were rabid Iowa university fans are thinking that this is the year of decisions for coach Jerry Burns. That, if he fails to come up with a good one this year there might be a new head coach. The fellow has put on a campaign to recruit Iowa high school boys and play down boys from other states. It remains to be seen how well this works out.

As we look at the schedule and from what we have been hearing about the squad we can't say much from the Hawkeyes chances for a winner. If the boys start out losing fans won't have any trouble getting tickets to the rest of the games, except possibly the homecoming game.

Cyclones

At Iowa State the Cyclones are getting ready for a big year. They hope to finish in the first division of the Big Eight. With a little luck they might do it. Those boys have a rough schedule and it seems to us that their main concern should be keeping the

Benning Named Head Wrestling
Coach At Omaha University

Omaha, Neb. — Don Benning's new job is a dream come true.

The former Omaha university athlete returned to his alma mater as head wrestling coach, assistant in football and counselor for athletics.

"We promised Don first chance at any athletic department opening after he obtained his master's degree," Dr. Milo Bail, Omaha university president, said after the regents confirmed Benning's appointment. The promise was made in 1961.

Like other coaches, Benning also will have teaching assignments. Benning is believed to be the first Negro to hold a head coaching job in Nebraska. He is married and has one child.

The Omaha U. two-sport athlete will replace Caniglia as wrestling coach.

Benning is expected to assist line coach Don Watchorn in football and serve as head scout. Coach Caniglia is on vacation and could not be reached for comment.

Benning was named the most valuable wrestler at Omaha university in his senior year of 1958.

The new coach is a native of Omaha where he graduated from North High school. He has been the athletic director at the Near North Side YMCA.

Baseball

We were surprised at the number of Negroes playing on the Des Moines team that competed in the Connie Mack league world series. We haven't played up little league or junior league games because the daily papers do that and we don't like to have our news come out as second hand stories. Maybe that is one reason why we seldom give more than a comment in sports events that happen on weekends. The details are already familiar in the minds of sports followers in the next day's papers.

Now as we write the pennant races we think that is a real dog fight in the American league. The fight is for second place. We read with interest the nice story about what a great manager Ralph Houk of the Yankees is. But, so were Casey Stengel, Joe McCarthy, and the rest of the pennant winning managers. We always argued that the team simply takes the manager with them on its road to glory or to the cellar.

If the Los Angeles Dodgers scored as many runs this year as they had last year they would be as far out in front as the Yankees. Not only that but they would probably have a couple of 20 game winners. But, maybe they will come through all right. At least it looks as if they might.

FULL JUSTICE, EQUALITY and LIBERTY.

That's why I want my milk and honey now!

For One Hundred long bitter years I've shed my blood, sweat and tears.

Now I want AMERICA to show me
that it cares,

By giving me my milk and honey
now!

I don't mean tomorrow, next year,
some day, or perhaps "SOON."

NO! I mean now, Today, in fact, by this Afternoon.

I want my MILK and HONEY NOW,
NOW, NOW.
