United Airlines Seek Negro Employees in Iowa

Stewardesses, Mech., Persons in Electronic Training High on List

Representatives of United Airlines are considering job opportunities of minorities with their company. The company has made known its desire to add to their employment rolls, Negro stewardesses as well as other classes of employees.

Leonard H. Carter, Kansas City, Kans., Region IV executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, plans to recruit workers throughout the 10 midwestern states, with the assistance of local branches.

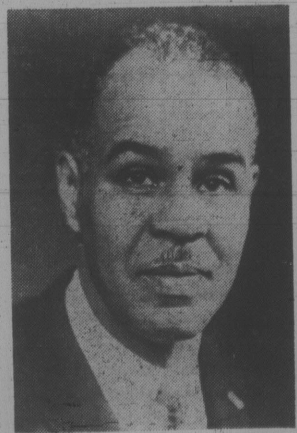

To be qualified for stewardess applicants must be from 20 to 27 years old, high school graduate, height in proportion to weight up to 5 feet 8 inches tall and must not be married. Emphasis is placed on personality, stability, background and education. All applicants accepted must undergo a 4½ week training course in Chicago, Ill. Salary is $325 a month and can exceed $400 in average earnings.

Other positions open to applications with United Airlines are mechanic, and for persons with electronics experience or training.

Police Guard Wilkins After Death Threats

New York—Within half an hour after word came that President Kennedy had been slain by an assassin in Dallas, telephone calls began coming into the NAACP national office threatening the life of Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins.

The first message warned: "You're next!" Others similarly threatened violence against the NAACP leader.

including bombing of the Association's national headquarters.

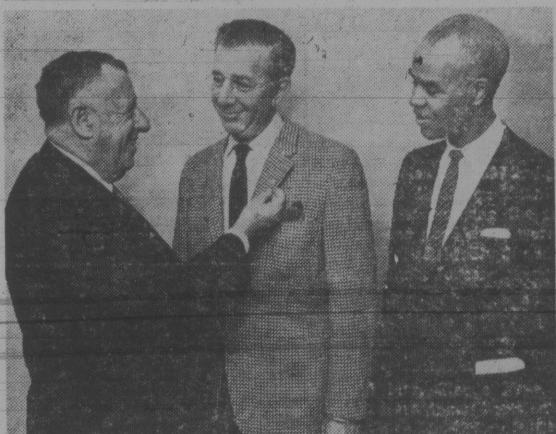

New York police, informed of the threats, insisted on providing around-the-clock protection over Wilkins' protests. A uniformed officer was placed in front of his Queens home and he was accompanied everywhere he went by detectives—to his office, to meals, business appointments and back home.

Upon Wilkins' insistence the guards were withdrawn on Wednesday afternoon, Nov. 27, after having covered him since the afternoon of Nov. 22.

Henry Ford, Dr. Carver Had Friendship, Great Respect For Each Other Genius

By Albert Dunmore
Associate Editor—Michigan Chronicle

"The mutual respect that Henry Ford and George Washington Carver held for one another has had far-reaching effects not only on the Negro students at Tuskegee Institute and the Ford Motor Company, but also on the Negro in America."

This relationship between these two great geniuses also had a definite effect on the United Negro College Fund.

Negro Colleges

Henry Ford was long a target for Negro college presidents seeking financial support for their schools. Among those who had audience with him was Major R. R. Moton, successor to Booker T. Washington, founder of Tuskegee, one of the truly great educational fund raisers of the early Twentieth Century.

Dr. Carver

Ford, however, was attracted to Tuskegee by the genius of Dr. George Washington Carver whose experimental work with the soybean had gained international repute. When Ford heard of this great scientific mind, he felt that something could be gained to help in the development of his great industrial empire. He recalled Major Moton's invitation to visit Tuskegee and arranged a trip there while in the Southland in Mar., 1938. This was one of several meetings between the two men, two of which were on campus.

Impact on Students

Several Detroiters, now in positions of prominence in Detroit, recall this visit to the Tuskegee campus and the impact it had on the student body.

Among this group is Joseph Williams, a top civic leader and an employee of the Michigan Employment Securities Commission; R. Conrad Vaughn, president of the Booker T. Washington Trade Association and A. W. Curtis, president of the A. W. Curtis Laboratories.

Williams and Vaughn were student leaders at the time and Curtis was assistant to Dr. Carver.

Vaughn recalls that he was officer-of-the-day on the first visit to the campus.

Miss Lyghtner attended Lincoln University in Jefferson City, Mo.

MISS LYGHTNER

and Howard University in Washington, D.C., before completing her studies at I.S.U. She served as Student body president of Lincoln U. and at I.S.U. she was a member of the editorial staff of the Homemaker.

She is a member of Delta Sigma Theta sorority and of Who's Who in American Colleges.

Late President JFK Honors Memory of Commodore Hendricks

Among the various executive acts, performed by the late President John F. Kennedy during his presidency was the dispatching of certificates bearing his signature to closest relatives of men who died serving their country.

Mrs. Victoria Hendricks, 1700 Crocker street, received such a certificate which read:

The United States of America honors the memory of Commodore Hendricks. This certificate is awarded by a grateful nation in recognition of devoted and selfless conservation to the service of our country in the Armed Forces of the United States.

NEWS In A Nutshell

Little Rock, Ark.—A $24,288 civil rights suit that Negro James Owens, Jr., 23, filed in federal District Court against a former Negro deputy sheriff of Jefferson county was settled and dismissed last week. Neither side would disclose the amount of the settlement.

Washington, D.C.—Ambassador Habib Bourguiba, Jr., and his glamorous wife, gave their farewells to Washington officialdom here recently and returned home to Tunisia. The ambassador is to assume a new position as aide to his father, President Habib Bourguiba, who is up for reelection in 1964.

AFL-CIO Lauds Pres. Johnson Speech

Chicago, Ill.—AFL-CIO President George Meany today issued the following comment on President Johnson's speech to the joint session of the Congress:

The President's message was excellent. He has launched his Administration with words of strength and urgency. We trust the Congress will speedily heed his advice and act in a spirit of national unity.

Urges Enactment of Civil Rights Bill As Memorial to Martyred John F. Kennedy

Washington, D.C.—President Lyndon B. Johnson who took over the helm of the nation's top job at the precipitous assassination of his late predecessor, President John F. Kennedy, warmed and strengthened the hearts of a mourning nation as he made an address to a joint session of Congress on the day before Thanksgiving.

Portions of his message which dealt with domestic problems brought particularly courage and faith to a tenth of the nation's population—the Negroes—who felt they had lost a "dear friend and champion at the death of Mr. Kennedy."

No. 1 Issue

The following are excerpts from Mr. Johnson's speech that pertains to this nation's No. 1 domestic issue—civil rights and first class citizenship for Negroes.

"Today in this moment of new resolve, I would say to my fellow Americans: Let us continue."

PRESIDENT'S TEXT HAILED BY WILKINS

New York—President Lyndon B. Johnson's first message to the Congress was hailed by Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, as a "rallying cry against bigotry and hate and violence."

The full text of Mr. Wilkins' comment, issued on Nov. 27, follows:

Millions will agree with President Johnson that early passage of the civil rights bill would be a fitting memorial to President Kennedy. Certainly the message of our new President left no doubt as to his recognition of the urgency of the civil rights issue or of his commitment to full support for the cause of equal rights for all Americans.

He was straight-forward on all the Challenge

"This is our challenge—not to hesitate, not to pause, not to turn about and linger over this evil moment but to continue on our course so that we may fulfill the destiny history has set for us. Our most immediate tasks are here on this hill."

First, no memorial oration or eulogy could more eloquently honor President Kennedy's memory than the earliest possible passage of the civil rights bill for which he fought.

We have talked long enough in this country about equal rights. We have talked for 100 years or more. Yes, it is time now to write the next chapter—and to write it in books of law."

All Tracks

I urge you again, as I did in 1957, and again in 1960, to enact a civil rights law so that we can move forward to eliminate from this nation every trace of discrimination and oppression based on race or color. There could be no greater source of strength to this nation both at home and abroad."

Citizenship Class

The Department of Adult Education of the Des Moines Public Schools announces a new class in Citizenship for the Foreign Born will open on Thursday evening Dec. 19 at 7 p.m. at Sinker School, 1440 Center Street. All those planning to attend the twelve week course should be present that evening to register. The class is designed to help foreign born prepare for their examination for citizenship. The fee is $5.00.

major domestic and international problems facing the nation and was ringing in his rallying cry against bigotry and hate and violence.

The whole message had a strong tone affirming basic Americanism. It cannot but assure all our citizens that our country will move forward and that President Johnson is ready to lead the Congress and the people in any action in the national interest.

Drake Tells Campus Groups--No Bias or "Cease the Exist" Set Deadline for Sept. 1965

Drake university has told all campus organizations to set their house in order regarding biased memberships or "cease to exist." Deadline for groups to conform with the new tough policy is Sept. 1, 1965.

Announcement

Announcement of the new rules which includes sororities and fraternities came Wednesday, Nov. 27 from the University Senate composed of Drake faculty and administration members.

Dr. Henry G. Harmon, Drake president, said the intent of the new university policy is to ensure that campus groups are free to accept anyone they desire as members.

The new regulations, Dr. Harmon added, were adopted by the University Senate, a group composed of Drake faculty and administration members.

Official Policy

Dr. Harmon explained that the Senate's approval establishes the anti-discrimination regulations as official Drake policy.

The Senate acted on recommendations sent to it last spring by the Drake Student-Faculty Council, an advisory body that operates as the student government on campus.

Dr. Paul A. Bloland, Drake dean of students, said Wednesday the Senate made one significant change from the policy proposed last spring.

The Student-Faculty Council recommendations submitted called for local campus groups to sign statements pledging the absence of any "local discriminatory policy."

Step Further

However, the official Drake policy, as finally adopted last week goes one step further, Dr. Bloland said.

It requires that national organizations with branches on the Drake campus also certify that their membership policies are free from discrimination, he explained.

The purpose of this added provision, Dr. Bloland said, is to make sure that the anti-discrimination pledge of a campus group here reflects the attitude of its parent body.

Get Applications for Medical Assistance for the Aged at County Welfare Offices.

Applications for medical assistance for the aged (M.A.A.) are being taken by county departments of social welfare and began Monday, Dec. 2, according to the State Board of Social Welfare.

65 Years or Over

This new program of public assistance is available to individuals 65 years and over who are not currently receiving Old Age Assistance, but do have limited income and resources. It covers a wide range of medical services, hospitalization, drugs, and nursing services. The program is administered by the State Department of Social Welfare through its 99 county offices, and is financed jointly by state and federal funds.

The state board emphasizes that applications for medical assistance for the aged are taken only at the county offices of the department of social welfare, and that county workers have the responsibility of determining the eligibility of applicants to receive medical assistance.

Eligibility

To be eligible for M.A.A., a person must meet the following requirements:

1. Is 65 years of age or over and is not receiving old age assistance.
2. Is a resident of the State of Iowa (includes residents temporarily absent from the state).
3. Is not a patient in any institution as a result of tuberculosis or mental disease.
4. Is not an inmate of a public institution except as a patient in a licensed hospital.
5. Is in need of medical services available under this program as determined by a licensed practitioner.

$50 Deductible

6. Has incurred medical expenses in the amount of $50 or more during the 12 months immediately preceding the date of application. This $50 deductible is applied only once each 12 months; it is not deducted for each illness a person may have during the 12 months.

7. Does not have annual income over $1500 if unmarried, or if married and living with spouse, they do not have combined annual income of more than $2000. Income in excess of the allowable exemption must be applied to the costs of medical care received by the applicant and his spouse.

Other Resources

8. Does not have resources with a net market value in excess of $2,000, or if married and living with spouse, does not have resources together with that of spouse with a net market value over $3000. The following are exempted, however, in making the determination of total property: (1) real property occupied as a home, (2) household goods and furnishings, (3) an automobile, (4) personal effects and tools necessary for the pursuit of a trade, occupation, or profession, and (5) the cash surrender value of insurance.

Applicants for or recipients of medical assistance for the aged do have the right of appeal to the State Board of Social Welfare, if they are dissatisfied with any action or failure to act on requests for assistance.

SEE FRONT PAGE Second Visit

Ford visited the campus a second time to visit Dr. Carver with Mrs. Ford. "The campus was jammed with visitors, among them many white persons who had never set foot on a Negro college campus previously," Vaughn recalls. "They had come because it had been announced that Mr. Ford was visiting the campus. When the great man arrived, driving a mud covered Ford, and not one of his latest models, with his chauffeur seated beside him, we who had envisioned this legendary figure arriving in something elaborate like a gold covered, specifically built automobile, were disappointed."

School Praised

This disappointment soon vanished, however, when we students, later in the chapel, heard our school, Booker T. Washington and particularly Dr. Carver extolled by this great man.

"We heard also that he would give students an opportunity to get on-the-job training in his plant in Detroit during the summer. This was an incentive to all of us. We felt that this blessing was an ultimate recognition of Tuskegee."

Inspiration

"Later when we saw these two men, Dr. Carver and Henry Ford, walking about the campus we all felt we had come in contact with men who had reached their destination with greatness. This inspiration, alone, served many of us through

Sojourner Truth

Jessie Mae walked into the south wing of University Hospitals and upset the crisp blue and white striped pink-faced student nurse with a simple declaration of intention.

"I have come to see Miss South Texas of 1949."

Miss Student Nurse of 1963 covered her irritation under the cold, correct, receptionist tone. "We have no one by that name here. Are you sure you are in the right department?"

Jessie Mae hinted gently, a bit hesitantly. "Maybe if you turned to the Ts like in Tinker, she might be in this very wing?"

"Why didn't you say so in the first place?" Miss 1963 inquired wearily. "Sorry, ma'am, Jessie Mae contritely resolved to stop playing games with receptionists—especially strange ones. 'I'm new in this country,' she lied promptly.

"Room 832," the receptionist dismissed the dark-skinned visitor. Jess nearly diverted uneasy misgivings about her south Texas friend with silent groans each step taken in high heels down the long corridor. As Jess neared 832, she bristled at the possibility of running into crepe hangers. They're supposed to sit at your bedside to find out how you are. What do they do? They help plan your wardrobe for burial and tell you, 'Get well soon.' The number, 829 alerted the visitor to the end of her journey.

Members of the Masonic fraternities and of the Order of Eastern Star celebrated with a Thanksgiving service on Sunday, Nov. 24 at Payne A.M.E. Church. Mr. Bishop Burt and Mr. Russell Burt spoke briefly on the Christian aspect of the orders. Sermon delivered by Rev. I. V. Tolbert was entitled "There Go the Ships." Music was furnished by Payne Choir. Tea followed with Mmes. Mary Jackson and Valette Fields as hostesses. Mrs. Marlys Austin, Worthy Matron of Palestine Chapter #28 presided at the service.

Mr. and Mrs. I. V. Williams, 1639 Newell, entertained guests from Cleveland, Ohio during the pheasant hunting season. The Huntsman's Club members and the wives of some of them spent one week. They were Mr. and Mrs. Penrose Hodo, Mr. and Mrs. B. Baldwin, James Green, Jimmy Taylor and Odell Oliver. While here they made a tour of the Rath Packing Plant.

A Victory Banquet by the Citizens' Committee honoring Judges elect W. W. Parker and Ben Howery, and retiring Judge George Sager was held at Payne Memorial A.M.E. Church on Nov. 23. Mayor Robert Johnson of Cedar Rapids was guest speaker. Mr. James Jackson served as master of ceremonies. The recently elected members of the board of directors of the committee were introduced. Chairman of the board is Mr. Russell Lowe, vice Chairman—Mrs. Roy Baker; Secretary, Mrs. Warren Nash; treasurer, Mrs. Joseph Williams. Other board members are Mr. Mack Butler, Mr. Lindbergh Whitis, Mr. James Jackson, Mr. Ernest Merriweather, Mr. Daniel Oliver, and Mrs. Cuba Tredwell.

Atty. and Mrs. Henry T. McKnight of Des Moines were seen at this affair. On Saturday afternoon in the gold room of Clayton House, Mr. and Mrs.

After careful calculation, Jess went tipping into 832 with the ever-offending Sunday shoes in hand. This was done to scatter any and all hangers of crepe who might linger within.

Jess spotted her friend in the 3-bed ward without visitors, welcomed or otherwise. Lana turned over at the sound of an old friend's voice. "I can see why the wards are at the end of this hall. Visitors who walk the whole mile can be admitted as patients," Jess complained.

"Hi! How'd you get here?" Lana thought aloud in pleasure and surprise.

"Knot-head" volunteered—after I twisted his arm a little—to drive to Iowa City," Jess explained.

"Why didn't you bring him in?" "Can't you see, Knot-head sitting in the Women's Ward visiting a south Texan?" Jess teased Lana slyly. "—especially after spending two hours on the road with me arguing the race problem?"

"Tell him I said thanks for bringing you." "I think Knot-head gave me a message for you while we were arguing. If he just had to trust one white person just once, you'd be the one!" "Just think of it. If I had been in an airplane accident over Texas before I met you, I would have jumped out over north Texas," Jess Mae shook her head solemnly. Well, I guess I'd better stroll along. It would really hurt my feelings and my feet to walk to Des Moines.

Al Wilson entertained in honor of Judge and Mrs. W. W. Parker.

Other guests who enjoyed the turkey dinner were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wagner, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Magee, Mrs. Marion Davis, Mr. Clayton Baker, Mrs. Anabelle Bachman, Mr. and Mrs. James Benjamin, Mr. Robert Robinson, Mrs. Valette Fields, Mrs. Walter Willis of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Griggs Woods, Mr. and Mrs. J. Otis Coney, Mrs. Amanda Murrell and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Harris.

Dr. and Mrs. William N. London and Mr. Herman Brooks of Chicago and Mrs. Walter Willis of Detroit were over Thanksgiving guests at the home of Mrs. Valette Fields.

Kendall Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vivret Norman, 719 Beech Street, was home from I.S.U., Ames, where he is a student of mechanical engineering.

Mr. James Taner was tenor soloist for the "Messiah" presented by Waterloo Choral Society and accompanied by members of Waterloo Symphony Orchestra at West High on Sunday afternoon.

Student of the Week

BY FRANCES E. HAWTHORNE

This series is open to junior and senior high school students in Iowa who are in good standing with their school and community.

(Fifth in a Series)

Ray Johnson, senior at Des Moines Technical High school, was the only member of his race to make the first team of the All-City football team this fall. Playing end on his team he made four touchdowns for the Engineers, the only one against East, and one each against North, Roosevelt and Dowling teams.

Ray also made the third team on the All-State team. Both the All-City and All-State teams were picked by Register and Tribune sportswriters.

Banquets

As a result Ray attended the All-City honor banquet held at Hotel Savery on Nov. 27 at which Coach Jerry Burns of the State University of Iowa, was guest speaker. A group picture was taken of the first All-City team. Ray was presented with a second certificate at the banquet held in October at the Hotel Commodore.

Co-op Job

During the football season Ray was named once as "Prep of the Week." He owns two letters in football and employed in Chicago.

Mrs. Nila Beal of Kansas City, Mo. has been visiting Mrs. Ozella Nolan and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Franklin of 610 Glenwood.

Mr. Arthur Carter and Mr. Frederick Carter were called to Amory, Miss. because of the death of their father Mr. George Carter. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Sykes accompanied them. Mr. Carter had been ill for a long while.

Mr. Reginald Anderson of St. Paul came for dinner to the home of his Aunt, Mrs. Harvey Fullilove. He was accompanied by a friend, Mr. Frank Borea.

is a member of the Lettersman club and Kiwanis club at school. He is concentrating in the pre-medical Core area at Tech and works at a co-op jobs afternoons at Northwestern Bell Telephone company.

Following graduation next June he plans to enter Drake university to major in liberal art courses. He has decided definitely yet but he is thinking about being a physical education teacher.

Community

Ray sets an example of wholesome youth activities in the community as well as at school, too. He is a member of Willkie House, YMCA and attended Y camp in younger days. He is active in the Sunday school class at

RAY JOHNSON

Corinthian Baptist church.

He was unable to go out for another sport he likes very much—basketball—because of a trick knee which developed during the last four football games. Under doctor's care the knee is much "better but not the same," he says.

Praises Parents

Ray, who almost made the honor roll at one time, praised his parents roll at one time, praised his parents success to my mother and father because they pushed me."

He is the oldest of five sisters and one brother. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, Jr., 1162 12th street.

Santa Claus Needs Help at SUI Hospitals

Iowa City-Iowa—In past years organizations and individuals throughout Iowa have contributed to the gifts-for-patients program at University Hospitals making Christmas a happy event for hospital patients.

Gifts will be needed for children and adults. Suggested items include toys, handkerchiefs, stationery with stamps, pipes, tobacco, fancy hand-work, hose, scarves, books, shawls, toilet articles, gloves, leather kits, billfolds, and knitting materials.

Cash gifts, which are used to buy presents for certain categories of patients for which not enough gifts were donated are, also welcomed. Checks or money orders should be made payable to the University Hospitals Christmas Committee.

Reigning Queen of Iowa Beauticians

Miss Jessie Collier, student at Des Moines Technical High school, is shown above as she was crowned "Miss Cosmetiste 1963-64" at the benefit Beautician Ball which highlighted the 12th annual educational clinic held in Des Moines late last month.

Miss Collier was a representative of Doris' Beauty Salon, 1301 11th street and won out over three other contestants for the coveted title. She is being crowned by Demetrius Watkins, Detroit, Mich., guest artist, who served as master of ceremonies for the Ball.

The sponsoring shop has been owned and operated 10 years by Mrs. Doris Wade, who is also active at Corinthian Baptist church.

Miss Collier is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Collier, of 759 S.E. 27th court.

Personally Yours by Frances Hawthorne.

The second to the last of the two big holidays of 1963 is now history and Iowans, particularly winterized children, are looking skyward for the big soft snowflakes that will make it seem more like winter to them. Our personal domain which was somewhat dimmed over the Thanksgiving holiday by the absence of our youngest, hospitalized at Iowa Lutheran, took on its usual bright and hectic note Monday when she was released after two weeks and two days.

There is to be a follow-up soon in pictures and additional notes on the story of a former Des Moines resident who is seemingly climbing the ladder to success in modeling as well as movie bits out on the California coast.

Mrs. Lavonia Craddock, 1618 Gillette street, reports that her daughter, Mrs. Eva Laura Lyghtner, formerly Eva Dixon, reports she is doing very well, in her letters.

Mrs. Craddock also has a son, John Strother who is doing good in his third year at William Penn college. He wants to teach and is studying at the college on an academic scholarship. He is proctor at the boys dormitory and works parttime as a clerk in Oskaloosa, site of the college.

Poems by Mrs. Mary Hitt will be appearing in the Bystander now and then, as she submitted some selections of her work to the paper several weeks ago. Her first appeared last week, of course, and was used as a tribute to the late President John F. Kennedy.

In her covering letter of Nov. 4 Mrs. Hitt said that Paula Perkins, a student of hers for many years at Smouse Opportunity school, and her brother, Maurice Perkins, children of Paul Perkins, were to be her guests at the Younkers hospital Fall festival on the third floor of the all purpose room for a Halloween carnival.

It is rather odd how you can work with someone and for years don't realize you have an acquaintance in

Ebony Fashion Fair Injects Lovely Note in Sombre Week

By Frances E. Hawthorne
The 1963 edition of Ebony Fashion Fair Americana came to town last week and injected a lovely note into an otherwise sombre week for over 500 fashion lovers at Hotel Fort Des Moines, Tuesday, Nov. 26.

Models
Fabulous Terri Springer, who has been with the show several years, led an entourage of lovely models, including one handsome male, Allen Barrett, and revealed what is high fashion on the European continent particularly among Italian and Parisian designers. The second half included designers' costumes from American fashion houses including a leading Negro designer, Barin Felder of Tuskegee Institute.

Details
Details that set this year's fashions apart are suits with fitted fronts and buttoned down the back; slash pockets, high pockets, huge buttons, high collars, and two and three piece ensembles in both daytime and cocktail wear.

Fabrics range from the usual soft wools, nubby tweed, corded, flannels, crepes, whipsy chiffons to the elegant in fragile white lace, rich, beautiful velvets, brocades, silks and satins. There were some unusual materials such as suede prints, and velvet prints.

Colors
Trimings in a splash of rhinestones, sequins, beads, fringe, mink, chinchilla and fox fur, added an exciting tone to high fashion costumes. The colors were basic earth tones, and black and white, enhanced with brilliant colors, including deep midnight blue, geranium red, oranges, pinks and greens.

Hats
The hats worn by the models are looked forward to with almost as much anticipation as the basic costumes. This year the leather helmet hats, pert little Robin Hood hats and the monkey hats are the vogue.

Sponsors
During intermission a spray bouquet of American Beauty roses was

MOST TOWNS WILL FACE UP WITH NEGRO NEIGHBORS

Most Iowa towns and cities are bidding for the location of new industries. Many of these towns have depended upon surrounding farm people for support, of their commercial facilities but with the loss of population, that support no longer exists. Consequently, they too are losing population.

New industries bring new problems as is evidenced by the location of a plant in Hubbard, a small north central town in Hardin County. As reported in the Des Moines Sunday Register, a Negro employee is among the core of employees which will be brought in. No Negroes ever lived there before and thus the question has arisen where shall he live, where shall he eat and where shall he get a haircut?

The survey made among towns people indicates that by far the new comer will fare well. And except for one woman, who said she would not want her children to attend school with a Negro, the barber, the restaurant owner and landlady said he would be accorded fair treatment. The barber and restaurant owner made a most interesting statement: "The colored guy's $1.25 is as good as anybody else's," Jacobs said. "The barber is just the doctor. He ain't supposed to turn down anybody. I'm here to serve the public."

Jacobs also operates an eating establishment.

"I'll feed him if he comes in," Jacobs said. "He is going to eat."

It takes a guy with courage to set a community right rather than allow the narrow prejudiced to be the spokesman.

Many towns over the state have had one or two Negro families in their midst and invariably they have made excellent members of the community. This has gone on since the Civil War some having returned with Iowa soldiers from southern communities. While there are other instances, in Rockwell City the Peters family and Algona the Boldridge family have been distinct assets to their communities and are highly respected.

Negroes will be moving into northern communities more and more, communities which heretofore have, in many instances, supported Negro schools and churches in the South. The new comers will provide an opportunity for these people to make a practical application of their Christianity at home as well as applied in some other state.

PRESIDENT JOHNSON PUSHES FOR RIGHTS MEASURE

President Johnson has made it clear that he wants a Civil Rights bill passed promptly because such a law is necessary to the well-being of the country and as a tribute to the late President Kennedy who worked so hard in the whole field of Civil Rights.

Undoubtedly there are enough favorable votes in Congress to pass the bill. Much will depend upon the skill of the congressional leaders. Opponents are old skillful tacticians schooled in filibusters. They have blocked such measures successfully in the past much because the favorable forces have been lukewarm in their support.

The Civil Rights march on Washington did much to demonstrate that Civil Rights legislation had widespread support among many people. Some almost unheard of clamor for favorable action by Congress. Certainly the death of Mr. Kennedy dramatized the need for the measure and the good people should not shirk their responsibility.

CITIES SINK THE SHAFF PLAN

The votes of Iowa gave an answer in the election Tuesday in no uncertain terms that the Shaff plan of reapportionment was not acceptable. In a fair-sized vote, the measure was defeated by more than 80 thousand votes.

The success of the opposition was the hard drive conducted by labor unions in the larger counties where in many instances, labor quit their jobs for the day. Thus in the larger counties the vote was as much as 5 to 1 against the plan.

Tom Vaughn of ISU Among Four Negroes Named On Look's All-American Squad

New York—Four Negro football players—Michigan State's Sherman Lewis, Iowa State's Tom Vaughn, Minnesota's Carl Eller and Nebraska's Bob Brown—have been named to the 1963 Look Magazine All-American team.

The 22-man All America squad, picked by the Football Writers Association, was announced today in Look Magazine.

Lewis, "the nation's most talented all-around halfback, was a 154-pound, 5-foot-9 hydrogen bomb," declared Look. "From scrimmage, with a pass, or returning a kick, Sherman was a constant game-breaker, and just as tough when the Spartans needed short yardage on vital third downs."

Among Nation's Best

Vaughn, a fullback, is "one of those performers old-timers will appreciate because he can go 50 minutes," the magazine said. "Although a marked man—opponents like to key both line-backers on him—Vaughn rushes with the nation's best and combines such speed with his power that he could play halfback as well as fullback."

Eller, who almost made it in 1962, came on strong in the latter half of the 1963 season to nail down an All America berth, Look noted.

Brown, called the nation's leading guard, was runner-up to Texas tackle Scott Appleton in the balloting for the Outland Trophy, awarded annually by the Football Writers to the season's outstanding interior line-man (guard or tackle).

Eliminated

Top Negro players eliminated from All America consideration because of injuries, which sidelined them for all or part of the season or prevented them from operating at full effectiveness, were fullback Junior Coffey of Washington and halfbacks Marv Woodson of Indiana and Mel Renfro of Oregon.

Halfbacks Gale Sayers of Kansas and Willie Brown of Southern California narrowly missed All America honors, stated Look.

Although the election was non-partisan, Republican and Democrat politicians were in the fight on both sides. The opposition led by Governor Hughes put on a most effective campaign. On the other hand, the proponents did little to match the strong opposition to cut down the majority in the larger counties.

As the situation stands, the apportionment is about where it started before the original Shaff plan was passed by the legislature.

However, a lawsuit is pending in the federal courts which may have some bearing on the future course the matter will take.

In the meantime, Governor Hughes should call a special session of the legislature so as to get the wheels turning for a new measure. It takes a long time to get the job done. And recognizing that it does take a long time to amend the constitution, the legislature and executive branches of the government should work out a reasonably acceptable program in the beginning so that whatever measure is passed will have some chance of being approved by the voters.

Wonder where the wrecked football schedules are going to try to pick up some of the pieces that was brought on by the assassination of our president, Mr. John F. Kennedy? The crowds that attended the games that were played that weekend weren't said to be too enthusiastic about the play. Of course, the players didn't have too many problems once the game started. When one is busy trying to stay in one piece, one doesn't have time to worry about much else.

Three Negro Stars Win Berths on 74th All-America Team

New York—Three Negro stars won slots today on the 74th annual All-America team picked by the 567 members of the American Football Coaches Association.

Tapped for football immortality were Carl Eller, Minnesota tackle, and Bob Brown, Nebraska guard. The No. 1 team was announced in the current issue (Nov. 30) of TV Guide magazine. It was selected by the coaches' group, headed by Ohio State mentor Woody Hayes, on the basis of on-field observations, scouting reports and careful examination of 1,000 game films supplied by Eastman Kodak.

Bob Parks ... another of our nice-to-know folks at Des Moines Savings

Bob is a very important part of our modern and highly technical Data Processing Center.

In fact, Bob has had special training in preparing wiring boards required for the various types of processing in our electronic equipment. He acquired this "know how" at the IBM training center in Des Moines before coming with us at Des Moines Savings.

When you take a tour through our newly modernized and expanded offices, you'll probably meet Bob. (And, by the way, group tours are always welcome with advance arrangements made through Ron Hallock's office).

We're mighty proud to have Bob Parks on our staff. He's a great addition to our really nice-to-know folks.

Just A Thought For The Week

Just supposing we started this very day
To live our lives in a different way;
Just supposing we vowed and constantly tried
To live those in trouble on life's wayside;
If we showed by our doings a hint of His love.
Wouldn't Earth be a bit more like Heaven above?
