Carter: NAACP Has Best Year Ever!

Reports Membership, Financial Increases

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People had its greatest year ever.

This was the report made Tuesday evening by Leonard Carter, Kansas City, Kansas, Region IV executive secretary, in a speech before the annual meeting of the Des Moines branch of NAACP at Willkie House, 900 17th street.

Carter noted that the direction of the NAACP had changed considerably due to spectacular tactics of other civil rights organizations which drew the public away from the NAACP.

Lost Ground

"The NAACP began to lose ground," he said, adding that the incidents in the south, particularly in Jackson, Miss., and the assassination of that state's NAACP leader, Medgar Evers, and the resulting voter drives, the NAACP had regained lost ground.

Legal Work

Carter also disclosed that the NAACP not only does the legal work for its own organization but also for the other civil rights groups who do not have any.

Carter also noted that despite the public's interest in backing the civil rights bill and the march on Washington, D.C., Congressmen seem "not impressed" by the urgent necessity for such a bill.

Dinah Washington, Well Known Singer, Dies in Detroit Home

Detroit, Mich.—Well-known blues singer, Dinah Washington, 37, was found dead in her home Saturday from what police believe was from an overdose of sleeping pills.

The death of Miss Washington, 37, came as she and her new husband, professional football star Dick (Night Train) Lane, had been preparing for a family Christmas celebration.

Miss Washington's two sons by former marriages, George Jenkins, 18, and Robert Grayson, 15, had arrived home Friday night.

Detroit Lions

Lane a star halfback of the National Football League's Detroit Lions, and Miss Washington were married last July.

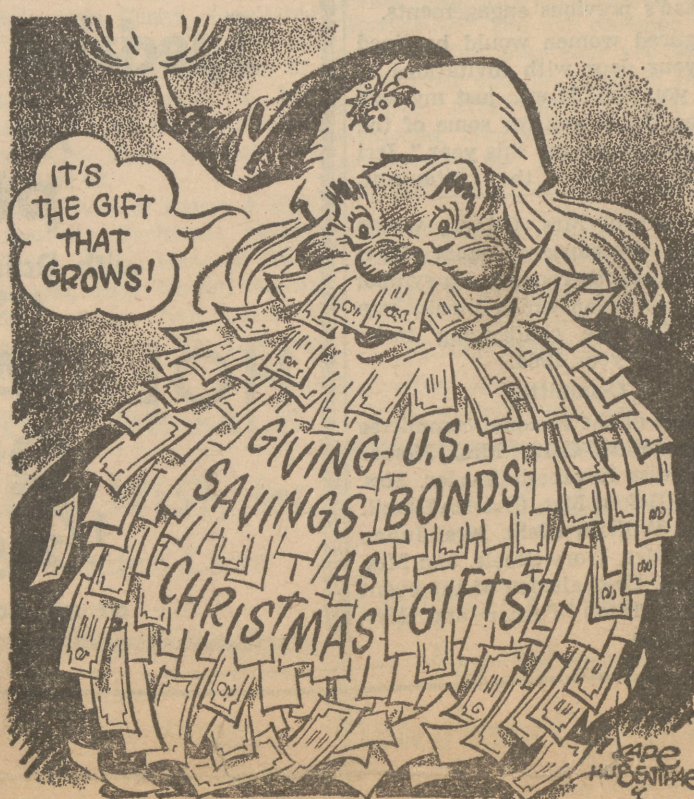

Because of his wife's death, Lane did not play in Sunday's game at Chicago between the Lions and the Chicago Bears, which helped settle the league's Western Division championship.

Miss Washington, who reportedly earned as much as $150,000 a year, grew up in Chicago and started her singing career as a girl, under her given name, Ruth Jones. She achieved prominence in the late 1930's.

Burial

The body of Miss Washington was flown to Chicago following a service Monday at a Detroit church. Sunday more than 700 mourners, many of them professional entertainers just finishing nightclub appearances, waited in near zero weather outside to pay their last respects. Additional services and burial were held in Chicago Wednesday, her native hometown.

Agreement Provides for Reduction of Work Hour, Wages, Other Benefits

Washington, D.C.—On the eve of an impending strike of some 3,000 railway and sleeping car porters, A. Phillip Randolph, president of the union and vice president of AFL-CIO announced that the union and management had come to agreement on a contract. He said the agreement reached included gradual reduction of work hours, increase in wages and more job protection. The strike had been originally set for Friday, Dec. 20 after a reported breakdown of negotiations, during the past several weeks.

Washington—A. Phillip Randolph, AFL-CIO vice president and President of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, AFL-CIO, announced Friday that Dec. 20 has been set as a strike deadline following the breakdown in negotiations with railroad management.

The strike deadline was established following the union's inability to obtain agreement on a 173-hour work month, the equivalent of a 40-hour week.

40-Hour Week

Affected would be all of the nation's railroads which utilize the Pullman company's equipment as well as those railroads having their own sleeping cars.

"We seek only what 95 per cent of the other railroad workers in America already have—the 40 hour week, and we want it now," Randolph declared.

"The cost to the companies for the 3,000 men involved is so minuscule that we must believe that there is some motive other than monetary which prevents agreement," he said.

Randolph estimated the cost of the union's proposals at 1/500th of 1 per cent of the operating costs of the railroads. The union also seeks a wage increase and job security provisions.

Negotiations

The breakdown in negotiations came after more than a month of meetings which followed issuance of the report by Emergency Board No. 155 on the dispute.

In a telegram to the Pullman company, the railroads and the National Mediation Board, Randolph stated that the men of the union "will withhold their services beginning at 12:01 a.m. Friday, December 20, until a satisfactory agreement has been reached."

180 Hours

"America is moving toward a 35-hour week," Randolph stated, "yet we are being told we must now work 205 hours a month, and over a two-and-one-half year period reduce that to 180 hours, which is still at 42 1/2 hour week."

"Ninety-five per cent of American railroad workers have had a 40 hour work week since 1918 and the bulk of the nation's work force has had the same for nearly 30 years. We believe we are entitled to the same," he said.

Prisoner's Rehabilitation Serv. Realizes Dream; Open Half Way House After 10 Years

By Frances E. Hawthorne

"We took nothing and made something out of it."

These simple words succinctly describe the evolution of Friendship City, the new state-wide half-way house and rehabilitation center at 925 9th street, which will hold open house Friday, Dec. 20 from 3 to 7 p.m.

Behind the Words

The words do not tell the story behind the words—the hours of physical, backbreaking labor, the miles of speaking tours over the state in search of moral and financial support, the trips to taverns and business men with collection plates, the donations of time and labor by many church friends.

Outside

The Center stands in its fresh new coat of paint, white as the new fallen snow outside, its Greek column pillars soaring skyward, symbolically representing the hope and faith for which the center stands for to the refugees from jails.

Friendship City, is a realization of a 10-year dream come true for Prisoner's Rehabilitation Service, Inc., and its director, Rev. Mrs. Orzealya Roberson and staff members, and board of directors.

Inside

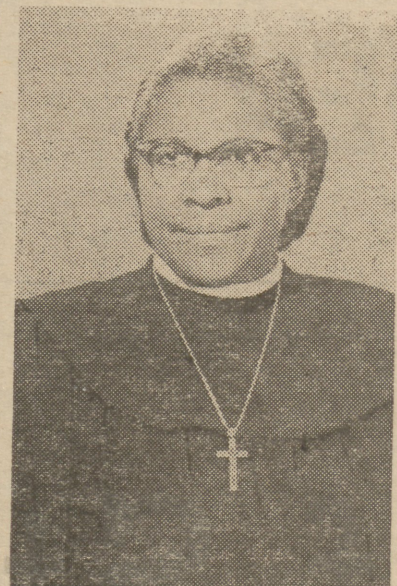

Inside the center the spacious rooms have long sparkling Victorian windows which let in the warm sunlight. What strikes you most as you go from room to room—is the cleanliness. The first glance notes the almost sparse furnishings. But you also note that care—that priceless item of human giving—has not been spared—if it was humanly possible to give.

Chapel

Downstairs there is a chapel where a song book is opened to an ageless hymn on the piano, an office with desk, file and literature rack, a cafeteria, a bathroom and kitchen in the rear, with its donated refrigerator and gas range.

Dormitories

Upstairs are five dormitories, with bunk beds that can sleep 11. Mrs. Roberson and her staff secretary, Mrs. Della Hull, share one of the dorms because they spend so much time, many times overnight, at the center. Another permanent guest occupies another.

Many of the furnishings, the carpets, beds, chairs, linoleum, and repairs and work on the building reflect the generosity of individuals who donated labor and time and merchants who gave supplies and materials.

During an interview Mrs. Roberson reminisced over the past few months and years.

Condemned

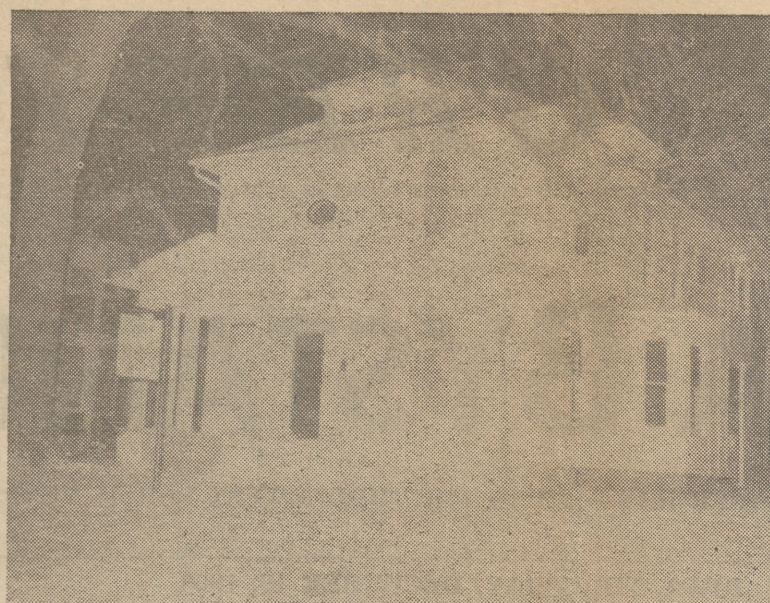

"When we bought this place it was boarded up and condemned. There were huge holes and cracks in the plaster, every pipe in the place was busted and it cost $1,000 to get them fixed.

"The floors had big warped places which three contractors looked at and immediately announced nothing could be done for them. Bro. Homer Moten, a carpenter and member of Kyles Temple A.M.E. church, took them out almost effortlessly. Men from the Bethel Mission put plaster board on the ceiling and most of the renovation of the building was done by members from Mrs. Roberson's church, First Full Gospel Methodist Church For All People, at 846 15th street.

Donors

Des Moines merchants furnished white paint which was tinted by Mrs. Roberson and much of the linoleum for the floors. Most of the plastering, papering, sanding, refinishing and staining floors after old paint was scraped from them was done by Mrs. Roberson and Mrs. Hull.

And during the nine months of renovating the building Mrs. Roberson and Mrs. Hull collected donations. The largest individual donation was $100 five years ago. Since then there have been several of $50 but the usual gifts ran from $1 to $10. The majority of the donations came in coins from thousands of persons in Iowa during the past 10 years.

"It has been comforting to know that the largest number of sponsors have been in Des Moines. It is important for the people to know that business men here are largely responsible for the opening of this door, Mrs. Roberson said." Chief among these are Mrs. E. T. Meredith Jr., and A. A. Garner."

Encouragement

"Down through the years we have received much helpful cooperation and encouragement from Russell W. Bobzin, director of the Iowa State Board of Parole, and from Fred Thiel, parole agent," Mrs. Roberson said. "We also received much support from Sheriff Wilbur T. Hildreth, the Police department and all of the local welfare agencies, and particularly from Leland Ahern, director of Polk County Welfare department.

People Laughed

Those seeking help at the center come sometimes of their own accord, others are referred by welfare agencies, the police department or sheriff's office.

"Many people thought we would never make it," Mrs. Roberson smiled reminiscently. "They laughed at us but that is only human."

As we go into the Christmas season there are those who know Friendship City will always be more than a half-way house for refugees from jail. It is and always will be a monument to those who kept the faith—and believed that almost anything is possible.

an inter-racial and inter-faith fellowship. A member of the by-laws and constitution committee of the Cedar Rapids and Marion Area Council of Human Relations, she was elected as its first treasurer and served on the Executive committee for two years.

Church

In her church, Mrs. Gibson has been District President of Missions, Superintendent of Sunday School, and Church Clerk. A popular speaker, she has addressed many organizations and churches as a speaker for the Human Relations Council, the Cedar Rapids Chamber of Commerce, and the NAACP. She has also served as Treasurer and Executive member of the Brotherhood Week Committee, and is a member of the Peace Inquiry and Action Group of Cedar Rapids.

School Children

Mrs. Gibson has pioneered in encouraging children to stay in school, and prepare for worthwhile careers. As a member of the Tyler School P.T.A. she assisted in introducing Negro history into the elementary curriculum at the school, and was instrumental in starting an adult Negro history course which was sponsored by the Cedar Rapids Community School district in co-operation with the NAACP and the Tyler school P.T.A. and will be continued as a regular adult education course.

Sojourner Truth

Knot-head spotted Jeri in a booth of the Warm Over Lightly restaurant. He sat down uninvited across the table from her. "What in the world is wrong with you, Jeri?"

"Nothing. I was just thinking about Christmas," his friend replied.

"Do you always look that ugly when you're thinking?" Knot-head pretended gravest anxiety for Jeri's welfare. Jeri by-passed the invitation to an argument, looked at Knot-head as if seeing him for the first time.

"Gee, I'm glad you dropped by. How about coming to our house for Christmas dinner? No whoopin', holierin' or foot stompin' for civil rights until 1964! O.K.?" Knot-head concealed pleasure at the invitation. Knot-head concealed pleasure and surprise beneath a quarrelsome question to avoid a simple reply.

"What would I be doin' at your house with all them fancy friends of yours?" Knot-head demanded fiercely. The shocked expression on Jeri's face caused him to suddenly start playing the clown.

"Anyway, what would all my pretty women do who have invited me to dinner?" Knot-head flicked imaginary ashes on the floor from an imaginary cigar. Jeri, embarrassed by the cold appraisal and brazen stare of an old friend posing as God's gift to womankind, suddenly thought of Knot-head's previous engagements.

"I figured women would be lined up at your door with invitations to dinner, you Rat! It was just my way of saying thank you for some of the things you have done this year." Jeri stood up to leave the restaurant.

on the part of Mrs. Gibson, whose service to the cause of equal rights and human brotherhood are a symbol and an inspiration which should help prepare for the challenging tasks ahead in the year 1964.

Committee

Members of the Banquet committee are Mrs. Earl Carr, Mrs. Homer Walker, Miss Elizabeth Bender, Mrs. Laurence Baker, Mrs. Charles Hamilton, Mrs. William Elam, Mrs. Julian Carleton, Mrs. Ivory Steele, and Mrs. W. Yourex. Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. Milton Turner and Mrs. Russell Nash.

Student of the Week

BY FRANCES E. HAWTHORNE

This series is open to junior and senior high school students in Iowa who are in good standing with their school and community.

(Eighth in a Series)

We present this week a pretty 12-year-old lass who was the youngest member this year in the "Messiah" presented by Drake University chorus and members of the Des Moines Symphony Orchestra at KRNT Theater.

She is Blanche Johnson, seventh grade student at Meredith Junior high school. Very inclined to the musical arts, Blanche has been taking lessons in the clarinet, has taken ballet lessons for six years and has also studied the modern jazz dance.

Last June she was among nine young sub debbs who were presented in the 1963 Potential Debutantes Recital, the first of its kind here in Des Moines, at Hotel Fort Des Moines.

She is a member of Highland Park Christian church where she is active in Chi Rho, and is a member of the YWCA and attends summer Y camp.

Her hobbies are mainly outdoor sports, horseback riding, archery, tennis and swimming.

Although it is early yet Blanche already has her mind made up about her future profession. She wants to follow in the footsteps of her doctor-father.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Robert M. Johnson, of 3838 40th street. She has a younger sister and two older brothers.

Editor's Note: If you have or know of candidates who are eligible for this column we would appreciate a call or letter from you. Thank you.

We would like to take this opportunity to extend to each and every one of you, season's greeting for holiday festive days ahead, that is if the words don't freeze in mid-air before we get them off to you. We hope for you and yours, a better world of peace and human kindness and love and of course all the prosperity that is headed your way in the future. Our past few days in deep freeze bring back quite vividly our 17 straight days of sub-zero weather at the beginning of 1963. Anyway, a cheery Merry Christmas to all of you.

Following in the steps of many huge department stores around the nation, one department store in Des Moines has followed suit, and literally rolled out the red carpet for Des Moines customers. Even if you are as stiff and cold as an icicle, just a look at that bright warm red carpeting, and somehow you feel just a little warmer.

Before we get into our pot-pourri of personal tidbits to you, we want to remind you that for the next two issues, there will be early deadlines, for the Christmas, Dec. 26th and New Year's issue, Jan. 2nd. The deadlines for these two issues will be on Monday, Dec. 23 at 2 p.m. and Monday, Dec. 30 at 2 p.m. To make sure that your news is published in these issues, mail, phone or bring in your news before the deadlines. If you should have news before either deadline, be sure and get it in without waiting. This will be appreciated by the Bystander staff and me.

Several Des Moines couples have gone to warmer climates for the next several months. Just before the deep freeze hit Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Davis, Sr., of 1115 11th street, left the city to spend the winter in Florida. This will make their second consecutive winter to the land of sunshine.

Seeking warmer temperatures coupled with the warmth of being with close relatives at the same time, are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wimberly, 2720 Amick avenue, who left the city last week for Compton, Calif., to visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. Hutchison Beshears.

Usually as the Christmas season nears and shoppers get caught up in the feverish pace of gift buying, the hue and cry goes up that the Christmas season is getting too commercial and that Christ should be put change paper expressed some views of readers on the subject, the consensus of opinion being that it was up to individual parents, but many felt that the time of believing in Santa Clause was one of the wonderful warm memories of childhood like fairy tales. Another group says what can you tell an unfortunate child, who gets little or nothing for Christmas in the way of toys and gifts, while another gets piles and piles. Several families have solved this from the beginning by stressing that the toys Santa brings must be paid for by Father. You have to admit that there is a lot of logic to this and yet does not take away from the belief in Santa Claus.

Then there are others who solve the problem by telling their young ones that though there is no real "Santa Clause, you can see, he is there in the hearts of their parents and loved ones, and helps them to make a merry Christmas which is also a beautiful thought. Most thoughts have some merit. It is up to the individual.

The freezer of Atty. and Mrs. James Morris, Jr., 1600 Hickman road, will be a merry full one, because of the marksmanship and luck of Atty. Morris. He went hunting for deer for the first time and came back with the bounty, a 300-pound-plus buck which is a lot of venison in anyone's language.

Don't forget the early deadlines for the next two issues. Get your news in on time so it will be published in the right issue.

NAACP SHIFT
IN EMPHASIS

The NAACP has made voter registration, both in the South and North, one of its main objectives for immediate action. And the organization has moved in this direction because Congress, many state legislatures and law enforcing offices, who owe their tenure in office to the vote of the people, have failed to respond to the desire of most people that every American is entitled to and should have what the constitution and laws provide for their citizens.

If more Negroes vote in the South, helping to develop a two party system, it will not be easy for such men as Senators Eastland of Mississippi or Russell from Georgia to be reelected year in and out, such men as Gov. Barnett of Mississippi and Wallace from Alabama. Men of their ilk hold great sway with the segregationists and thus find it a convenient issue upon which to ride.

It will do little good for the cause of human rights to elect Republicans from those or any other areas who attempt to out-segregate those who are already in office.

Such a campaign will force northern members of Congress, coming from districts with large Negro populations, to cease hiding behind the other fellow for their failure to carry out campaign pledges — pledges they planned to break at the time they were made.

Undoubtedly passage of any civil rights bill by Congress rests squarely upon Speaker McCormack of the House and Senator Mansfield of Montana. They are leaders of the majority—and it is heavy — of their respective houses. Senator Mansfield hails from Montana where the Negro vote is small while Representative McCormack of Massachusetts is from a district with a sizeable Negro vote.

And even though neither might be defeated, his position in Congress depends upon keeping a majority in Congress democratic.

Old timers are still unconvinced that Negroes and their friends want action on Civil Rights in Congress NOW. If the present Congress fails in 1964, we should see many new faces in that body in 1965, who not only believe in but also practice justice and democracy for all men and are willing to do something about them.

The NAACP has succeeded in making sure the Negroes' legal rights. It is now on the job of securing those rights that with assurance they may enjoy them. Both President Johnson and former President Eisenhower have said that if the Negro is free to and does vote, much of his civil rights can be solved without undue disturbance. It is good advice and the NAACP argues well when it goes out for such a program.

GIVING — THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

Christmas is upon us again—the season most loved; the season of giving. Fortunately Americans are blessed with much of the world's goods, and thus everybody gives.

In most countries, peace and goodwill prevail among men. In others, there is strife, war and dissension. Our record of strife and dissension is not too good. There is too much of a disposition to allow the rabble to speak for our communities. Congress does not seem to have the courage to help make hate and dissension unpopular.

We must strive to eliminate the roots of evil which keep us in turmoil; which develop and grow hate. This is the season of the year when we take stock in these all important matters.

Des Moines is a town of charities, of giving to help the other fellow. But somehow too many organizations are begging the public for the same cause. Once overseer of the poor and churches did this job, then the family social service, then social welfare and of course the Red Cross and service organizations have done an excellent job to the point where nobody suffers at Christmas time.

With the active participation by numerous organizations working in this field, it does seem that the streets could do without the ringing of bells and almost assault methods used to collect money downtown at Christmas time.

The cage season promises to be a jim dandy. Loyola of Chicago, Ill., would like to retain their national title but they probably won't meet Cincinnati in the finals. In fact, the team that seems to have a lease on the Missouri Valley cage title may not win that this year. If we had to pick a team it would be Bradley or Wichita. Bradley gets a lot of Negroes from Chicago where good Negro basketball players are found in every square block. The Big Ten gets a few and a couple of the best, George Wilson and Yates found their way to Cincinnati.

Big Ten

The Big Ten race could be a wide open affair and so could the Big Eight. Drake may cause a stir in the Valley. If the Hawkeyes at Iowa University continue to hustle as they are doing now, they won't finish last in the Big Ten. We don't know where Iowa State will end up in their conference. They seem to have what coaches call a rebuilding process, going on. That means you don't have the stuff for a winning team.

Wrestling

Our high school situation is about the same as usual with Roosevelt the team to beat for city honors. Been some time since any other team but the Riders went any place in the state meets.

A lot of Negroes are getting into high school wrestling now. Floyd Shade of Tech may win a state crown this year. We hear Jim Singleton of East is awfully tough as is Mike Hawkins of North.

Golden Gloves

Mel Barber is getting his Golden Gloves show lined up. Of course, we know it will be billed as Dave Fidler show but don't forget that without Barber's amateur boxing would have gone down the drain in this city. The little bald guy is now in charge of amateur boxing in the state A.A.U. program. Well he earned it because he carried the show when it couldn't carry itself. He says there will be more Negro referees this year if he can get the qualified fellows he wants.

This year's meet will be held in Louisville, Ky. It won't seem the same without the familiar Chicago Stadium background.

Highlighting the half-time show is the renowned Peg Leg Bates, plus four other internationally famous acts, including the table tennis duo of Bergmann and DaCosta; equilibrist trio, The Farias; trampolinists, Mike and Carol Pickering; and bicyclists, the Lemands.

No Room For Jesus

The Son of God who came to earth
To cleanse the world from all sin,
Was born in a manger because
There was no room for Him in the Inn.

Since that very Holy night,
Which in the Scriptures we read about,
Many centuries have come and gone
But men are still crowding Jesus out.

Men often discuss politics
And traveling in outer space;
They discuss business and pleasure
But for Jesus they find no place.
While discussing world conditions
Men very often confess,
"World conditions are really bad—
The world is in an awful mess."
If men would make room for Jesus
And in all things give Him first place,
This earth would become a Paradise—
There would be hope for the Human Race.

The Christmas Spirit

It is the season of the singing heart,
In which the hopes of the ages have drawn near;
The melody of love does not depart,
While caroling its messages of cheer.
It is a climate where all good things grow,
Where kindness is not crowded nor distressed;
With faith well strengthened like a springtime glow,
And beauty roundabout, a welcome
guest.
Christmas is a time of ringing bells
Of joy; a time to plead the cause of peace
In Prayer—a brotherhood where love excels—
That universal hate and conflicts cease.

Humanity creates its sun-path, when
The Christmas Spirit dwells in the hearts of men.

Bob is a very important part of our modern and highly technical Data Processing Center.

In fact, Bob has had special training in preparing wiring boards required for the various types of processing in our electronic equipment. He acquired this "know how" at the IBM training center in Des Moines before coming with us at Des Moines Savings.

When you take a tour through our newly modernized and expanded offices, you'll probably meet Bob. (And, by the way, group tours are always welcome with advance arrangements made through Ron Hallock's office).

We're mighty proud to have Bob Parks on our staff. He's a great addition to our really nice-to-know folks.
