Dentist Wins Case With Federal Decree

Atlanta—A U.S. Federal Court has said, for the first time, that professional associations, which participate in selection of state officials, may not discriminate against Negroes.

Judge Frank A. Hooper ruled this week that Georgia's Northern District Dental Society must accept membership of Dr. Roy Bell, Atlanta dentist.

Dr. Bell was represented by attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund who successfully argued that the all-white Society is "significantly involved with government."

Denied

By being denied membership in the Northern District Dental Society, Dr. Bell was automatically denied membership in Georgia Dental Association and thereby automatically denied membership in the National Dental Association. Thus, he and other Negro dentists in his area, were denied opportunities for post graduate seminars, conferences, literature and professional association necessary to keep abreast of new trends in dentistry. Ironically, Negro dentists from other parts of Georgia belong to the Dental Societies of their regions.

NAACP Legal Defense Fund Attorneys Donald Hollowell and Horace T. Ward of Atlanta and Michael Meltsner of New York City, who appeared in court, and pointed out the Dental Association had the right to:

Nominations

- nominate dentists to be appointed by the Governor to the Georgia Board of Dental Examiners
 - nominate dentists to be appointed by the Governor to the State Board of Health
 - appoint members of the Georgia State Hospital Advisory Committee.
- This, they contended, represented "state action" which brought the issue within jurisdiction of the U. S. Constitution.

The Northern District Dental Society and the Georgia Dental Association plan an appeal.

Jack Greenberg, director-counsel of the Fund and James M. Nabrit, III, assistant counsel, were of counsel.

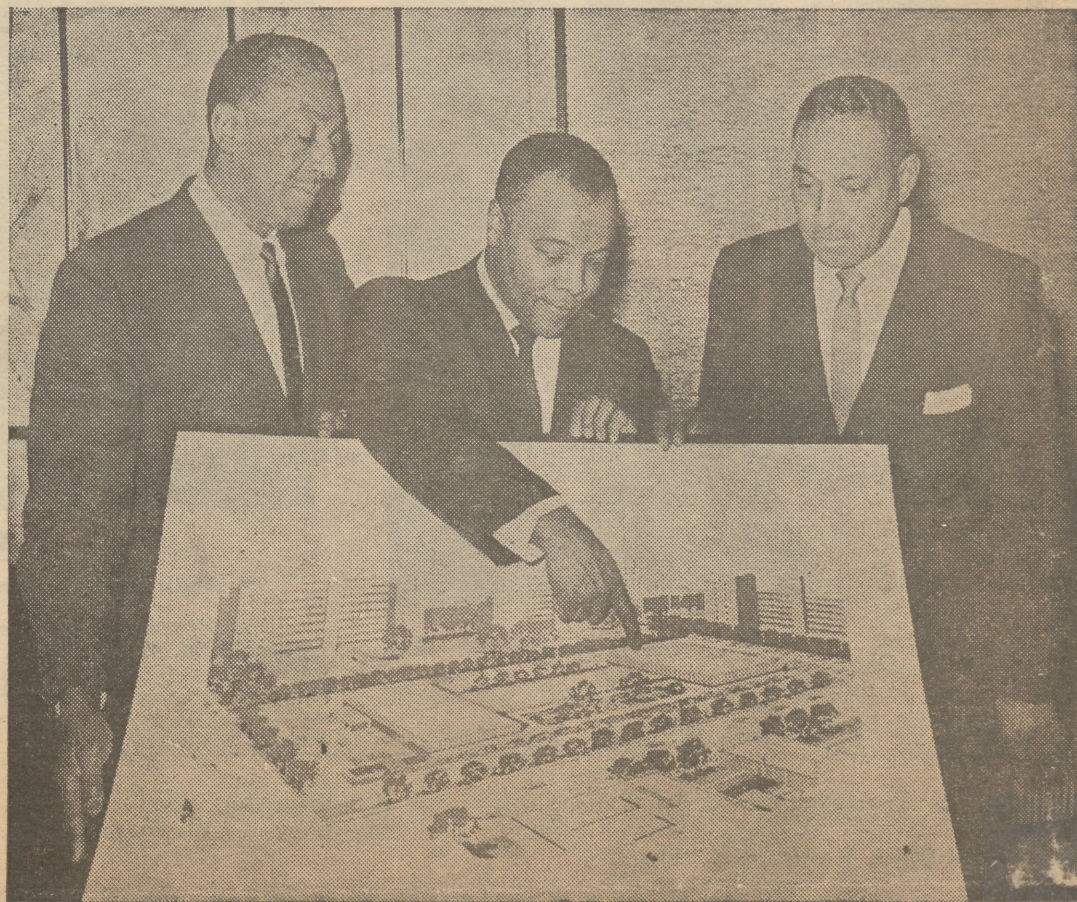

LATE BULLETINS

Cleveland, Ohio—Negroes won a major school fight here when the Cleveland Board of Education agreed Tuesday night to complete integration of all schools as soon as possible in an effort to solve the crisis over transportation of Negro pupils from an overcrowded school. Complete segregation of a Negro class transferred to a previously all-white school last week set off demonstrations.

Tuskegee, Alabama—Gov. George Wallace sent 135 state troopers to two rural schools at Natusulga and Shorter to meet a threat of demonstrations but there was none when 12 Negro teenagers ordered enrolled at the two schools failed to show up in an atmosphere of high tensions.

Washington, D.C.—The public accommodations portion of the proposed civil rights bill weathered its first test Tuesday when passed by the House by a vote of 165 to 93 defeated an amendment that would have limited the ban on discrimination in hotels and motels to those that "predominantly" serve "inter-state travelers."

BREAKTHROUGH

Approval by the Chicago City Council of the sale of 163,800 square feet of land to the predominantly Negro South Central Medical Building, Inc., marks the first time that Negroes have won the right to develop a shopping center on an urban renewal site. The development which will include a medical center will cost $1,500,000. Instrumental in negotiating the winning bid were, left to right, Alderman Ralph H. Metcalfe, Dr. William P. Quinn, President of South Central Medical Buildings, Inc., the developer; and Robert E. Landrum, only Negro member of the Chicago Urban Renewal Board.

D.M. NAACP Urges Carlisle Lions Club To Cancel Minstrel

The Carlisle Lions Club—located in the town of Carlisle, 10 miles south of Des Moines—has been advised against sponsoring a minstrel show. The warning was issued last week in a letter to the group from the Des Moines branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

In the letter, signed by the branch president, Robert A. Wright, hope was expressed that the civic group would abandon its plans for the show tentatively set for March.

Wright went on to remind the organization of the national attention "recently focused upon the 'Mummers Parade' in Philadelphia," and suggested that the group "consider promoting a variety program which would not be objectionable to the minority citizens of Iowa and America."

The Lions Club has not replied to the NAACP letter.

Atty. Robert A. Wright, president of the Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, appointed four committee chairmen at the January meeting. The Region IV leadership conference will be held in St. Louis, Mo., on Apr. 24-26, at Hotel Coronado. The 55th annual national NAACP convention will be held June 22-27 at the Statler Hilton hotel in Washington, D. C.

A special executive board meeting will be held on Tuesday, Feb. 11 at 7:30 p.m. at Willkie House, 900 17th street.

Pickets Focus Attention on 'Ghetto' Classroom in U.S. Largest Public Schools

New York, N.Y. — Nearly half a-million school pupils participated in the one-day boycott Monday of New York's 860 schools to focus attention on total racial integration. The boycott of the nation's largest public schools was called a success by civil rights leaders who claimed that the new "tool" in demonstration will be used in all major big cities in the land. New York school officials disagreed however. They term the boycott a "fizzle."

Absentees

Absentees from school, mostly Negroes and Puerto Ricans and some whites were estimated as 464,000. Bayard Rustin, Negro main planner for the citywide committee for school integration described the boycott as 95 percent effective in the 165 "ghetto schools" which have almost total enrollments of Negroes or Puerto Ricans.

297 Schools

All schools remained open but some schools had such small attendance that no classes were held. Some teachers joined the picket lines set up outside 297 of the 863 schools. Pickets did not attempt to dissuade pupils from entering the schools and no violence was reported throughout the day.

Freedom Schools

Police had stationed 2,000 patrolmen at the schools and had 6,000 in reserve. School officials said they would stick by their three-year integration plan, which rights leaders have denounced as insufficient.

The city-wide integration committee set up "freedom schools" in churches throughout the city to keep the pupils off the streets. Dick Gregory, comedian, flew from Atlanta and told one of the freedom school classes of his experience in the racial movement in the south.

President Johnson Meets Publishers; Vows War on Nation's Prejudice, Poverty

Washington—President Lyndon B. Johnson told a group of Negro publishers who called on him at the White House Thursday that his Administration has "declared total war on prejudice and poverty which are part of the traditional goals of the Negro press."

In an unprecedented Cabinet Room conference that lasted an hour and twenty minutes, the Chief Executive asked to be judged on his record and not the place of his birth. "I helped to formulate the policies of the Kennedy Administration," he said, "civil rights included. I am committed to the achieving of those policies. My methods may vary but my goals are the same," he assured the delegation from the National Newspaper Publishers Association.

Lauds Role

"These goals," he continued, "will be expanded until equal opportunity, equal treatment and equal justice are the prevailing codes of this nation."

The President lauded the role of the Negro press as an "instrument of education and an organ of protest against injustice." He said the need for education was doubly important today when we are on the threshold of a new era in race relations, and he asked the publishers to take on a "greater responsibility for urging young people to prepare themselves and for directing them into the channels that lead to the openings being created."

Jobs

The President said that the Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity which he has headed for nearly three years would soon have more than 200 major American corporations participating in its voluntary program of integration in hiring and upgrading. At present there are 141 companies who have signed up.

High Praise

He said he would announce shortly the formulation of an Advisory Council of leading labor officials to make a parallel effort in the labor movement.

Following the meeting, the delegation had high praise for President Johnson. E. Washington Rhodes, president of the NNPA which held its Mid-Winter Workshop in Washington, told representatives of the daily press that the publishers would do all they could to support the President's program and to help avoid a filibuster on the civil rights bill.

The display, which will attempt to depict highlights of Negroes in national and Iowa history, will include books written by Negro authors loaned by the Des Moines library, photographs, news clippings, pamphlets, magazines, trophies and special issues of the Bystander since it began publication in June 1894. The Bystander will celebrate its 70th year in June 1964.

Included in the display of books by Negro authors will be the first book, "Maddening Scar" by Des Moines' own Dorothy Clinton and the special Emancipation edition of Ebony magazine.

"Here you sit drinking beer!" Jeri assailed Wide-mouth who sat minding his own business in the O-Be-Joyful tavern.

"Good evening, Carrie Nation! Will you kindly remove your hatchet from my back so I can stand up and help you be seated?" Wide-mouth growled in outrage.

"Hatchet?" Jeri asked innocently. "That pain you feel between your shoulder blades is from your Iowa congressmen voting with the Dixiecrats first thing Monday." Wide-mouth covered his worry with a casual question, "What else is new? Didn't I tell you about them Republican congressmen last August?"

"And I told you about that weak-kneed democrat, You might as well know that the word is—Neal Smith was nowhere in sight Monday when the battle against weakening the civil rights legislation began!" Jeri shot back.

Knot-head commented to the plate glass mirror facing him, "Neal Smith was home pressing his pants."

"You weren't there, Knot-head!" The man had engine trouble," Wide-mouth explained in pretended authority.

Expands Efforts to Minority Businesses

Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges today announced the Department was expanding its efforts to open up more employment and business opportunities for members of minority groups in private business and industry in the United States.

Two Areas

He has established a Department-wide Task Force with Under Secretary Franklin Delano Roosevelt, Jr., as Chairman, and asked it to come up with programs in two areas:

(1) To improve employment opportunities including recruitment, training and promotions for members of minority groups in U.S. Commerce and industry.

(2) To improve prospects for businesses owned and operated by members of minority groups, including techniques for improving management, sources of financing and the like.

UC President

Luther L. Hill, Jr., associate general council Equitable of Iowa, was elected president of United Community Services Monday at a meeting of the board of directors. Hill replaces Harry I. Prugh, production director of the Des Moines Register & Tribune Company, who has served as president for the past two years.

NAACP Mourns Death Of Detroit Leader

The passing of Edward M. Turner, a member of the Board of Directors of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, deprives the civil rights movement of a leader "sorely needed in this period of militant upsurge," NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins said in a telegram of condolence to Mrs. Turner.

Active in the Detroit NAACP branch for 20 years, and its president for the past 14 years, Mr. Turner, a lawyer, died in the Sumbly Hospital in River Rouge, Mich., Jan. 30. He was 57 years old. The funeral was held Monday, Feb. 3, at the Peoples Community Church in Detroit.

In addition to being president of the branch, Mr. Turner also served the NAACP as president of its Michigan State Conference for 12 years.

APPEALS COURT JAILS 15, FREES 4 IN BANK CONTEMPT CASE

St. Louis, Mo. — Fifteen leaders of St. Louis CORE's fair employment campaign at the Jefferson Bank & Trust Co. have been jailed following a decision by the St. Louis Court of Appeals upholding their contempt convictions. Four others were freed.

The court placed the 15 in custody of the sheriff and quashed their writs for habeas corpus. Their prison sentences range from 60 days to a year. An appeal to the Missouri Supreme Court is planned.

Patronize Advertisers Whose Bystander Ads Attract Business

A wide variety of advertisers are using the columns of the Bystander to acquaint the public with what they have to sell. They are looking for business and believe that this medium is a good avenue to carry their message.

"Engine trouble—heart trouble—his grandmother's step-nephew died—the point is our congressman laid down in the first round of the civil rights battle," Gus muttered as he collected empty glasses on the counter.

Knot-head spied Jessie Mae and Carole as they entered to meet Jeri. He took a long sip of beer, offered his seat at the bar and a familiar phrase to Jessie Mae.

"Seems to me I heard somewhere, 'Towa is not Dixie,'" Knot-head quoted Jess just to stir up an argument.

"It sure isn't," Jess shot back. "The Negro is not sitting on his 'can' in Dixie waiting for progress." She passed by the offered stool and joined Carole and Jeri at a table. Knot-head tilted his hat low over his eyes. Perhaps no one would notice him—caught in his own carefully baited trap.

Gus made his way to Jeri's table with three glasses of beer. Jess suddenly remembered that Gus was from Mississippi as she looked at his troubled face, unchanged by all the guffaws and uproars of laughter at Knot-head's expense.

Republican Dinner

The two United States Senators from Iowa will join Senator John J. Williams of Delaware on the program for a Republican dinner at Veterans Auditorium in Des Moines on Feb. 12. Details of the program were announced this week by E. A. Hayes of Mount Pleasant, Republican State Finance Chairman.

Senator Jack Miller will introduce Senator Williams, the principal speaker. Others scheduled on the program are Senator B. B. Hickenlooper, Iowa Attorney General Evan Hultman and Republican State Chairman Robert D. Day.

Members of Iowa's congressional delegation who will attend are Representatives Fred Schwengel, James E. Bromwell, and John Kyl. Former Republican governors of Iowa and former Republican state chairmen have been invited as special guests.

Tickets to the $25-a-plate dinner are now on sale in every county in Iowa. The Polk County Republican Finance Chairman is Lloyd Bock of Des Moines.

Alabama Governor Picketed by NAACP

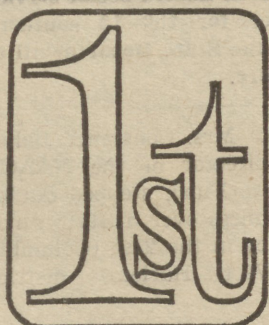

Columbus, O.—NAACP pickets met Alabama Gov. George Wallace on his arrival here last week to file for the Democratic primary in Ohio.

Braving 10 degrees weather, the pickets carried a variety of signs challenging Gov. Wallace's statement that civil rights should be left up to the states. Included were statements alluding to the murder of William Moore, Medgar Evers, Mack Charles Parker and the bombing of the Birmingham children.

Columbus NAACP president, Rev. Phale D. Hale, explained, "We do not challenge Governor Wallace's right to enter the Ohio presidential primary and to come to Ohio to speak, but we do feel it our duty to point out to the citizens of Ohio the segregationist stand of Gov. Wallace."

A. Lincoln

• The Emancipator • Sixteenth President of the U.S.

During Lincoln's early manhood, he made a trip down the Mississippi river on a flat bottom boat where he gained his first contact with slavery. So incensed over what he saw that in one of his memorable statements he said "If I ever get a chance to hit that thing, I will hit it hard."

The upsurge for civil rights and equality of opportunity in every corner of the nation is a fulfillment of the admonition Lincoln gave at Gettysburg that the living should finish the work started by the dead who were buried in the cemetery.

The Emancipation Proclamation

(JANUARY 1, 1863)

Whereas, on (September 22, 1862), a proclamation was issued by the President of the United States, containing, among other things, the following, to wit:

"That on (January 1, 1863), all persons held as slaves within any state or designated part of a state, the people whereof shall then be in rebellion against the United States, shall be then, thenceforward, and forever free; and the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authority thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of such persons, and will do no act or acts to repress such persons, or any of them, in any efforts they may make for their actual freedom.

"That the Executive will, on the first day of January aforesaid, by proclamation, designate the states and parts of states, if any, in which the people thereof, respectively, shall then be in rebellion against the United States, by members chosen thereto at elections wherein a majority of the qualified voters of such states shall have participated, shall in the absence of strong countervailing testimony, be deemed conclusive evidence that such state, and the people thereof, are not then in rebellion against the United States."

Now, therefore, I, Abraham Lincoln, President of the United States, by virtue of the power in me vested as commander-in-chief of the army and navy of the United States, in time of actual armed rebellion against the authority and Government of the United States, and as a fit and necessary war measure for suppressing said rebellion, do, on this first day of January, . . . (1863) . . . and in accordance with my purpose so to do, publicly proclaimed for the full period of one hundred days from the day first above mentioned, order and designate as the states and parts of states wherein the people thereof, respectively, are this day in rebellion against the United States, the following, to wit:

Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana (except the parishes of St. Bernard, Plaquemines, Jefferson, St. John, St. Charles, St. James, Ascension, Assumption, Terre Bonne, Lafourche, St. Mary, St. Martin, and Orleans, including the city of New Orleans,) Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, George, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Virginia, (except the forty-eight counties designated as West Virginia, and also the counties of Berkeley, Accomac, Northampton, Elizabeth City, York, Princess Ann, and Norfolk, including the cities of Norfolk and Portsmouth,) and which excepted parts are for the present left precisely as if this proclamation were not issued.

And by virtue of the power and for the purpose aforesaid, I do order and declare that all persons held as slaves within said designated states and parts of states, are, and henceforward shall be, free; and that the Executive Government of the United States, including the military and naval authorities thereof, will recognize and maintain the freedom of said persons.

And I hereby enjoin upon the people so declared to be free to abstain from all violence, unless in necessary self-defense; and I recommend to them that, in all cases when allowed, they labor faithfully for reasonable wages.

And I further declare and make known that such persons, of suitable condition, will be received into the armed service of the United States to garrison forts, positions, stations, and other places, and to man vessels of all sorts in said service.

And upon this act, sincerely believed to be an act of justice, warranted by the Constitution upon military necessity, I invoke the considerate judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"SEAL" Done at the City of Washington, this first day of January, A. D. 1863, and of the Independence of the United States of American the eighty-seventh.

Base Head to Probe
NAACP Bias Charges

Dallas, Tex.—Only a week after the base commander at Cannon Air Force Base here had publicly denied NAACP charges of racial discrimination at the base, he agreed to investigate the complaints.

Following a lengthy conference with Clarence Laws, NAACP regional secretary, Col. Peter J. Markham stated he would conduct a complete investigation into the charges and submit a report of findings to the NAACP.

The NAACP based its complaint upon a number of sworn statements alleging discrimination in employment at the base. According to Mr. Laws, "only one Negro out of 52 employees at the Post Exchange Complex held anything other than a menial job" and that "out of 22 persons at the commissary none were Negroes."

Mrs. Albert Brewer is chairman of Founder's Day, Mrs. Arzania Williams, president.

If Old Man Groundhog came up on his miserably looking day, Feb. 2 and hung around for another 24 hours he probably beheld the springlike days to come. Despite the undecided question of what the weather will be in the next six weeks, spring had surely arrived last weekend, literally on Saturday when it was actually sweater or shirt sleeve days (and we saw quite a few harder physical specimen) when Des Moines played host to more than 1,000 Foreign students during the 9th annual weekend for this special occasion.

With three of our children we made our way through nearly 100 colorful booths and pressed through the crowds of smiling students from as many lands, many of them attired in their native costumes, and of course through the hundreds of Des Moines hosts who smiled graciously in return. It is quite a rewarding experience for anyone who go through the display booths. Our Brownie Scout daughter collected quite a bit of literature and autographs from mostly Asiatic countrymen and a drawing from a pretty Indian lass and had her own name written in Chinese by a native of that country. These all are being hoarded for Brownie meetings.

Our youngest son who likes to keep up with current events and tie them in with current lessons in Civics and history, displayed his knowledge on various countries represented. And of course the youngest just tagged along as big as you please, taking in the sights.

At the beginning we referred to three of our children. Our oldest son, along with 11 other members of the Twixt-Teen group of Jack and Jill, following a business meeting earlier in the afternoon, had toured the event in a group, accompanied by Mmes. Woodrow Lewis and James Morrow.

Among the booths that offered refreshments as well as gracious hospitality to those who toured the booths at Veterans auditorium, were the Vogueettes Club, Winthrop Club, and Delta Sigma Theta sorority, with members taking turns as hostesses. The Deltas were hostessed by members of their pledge club, the Pyramids.

Add to your list of new neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Cushingberry and family who have moved to their new home at 827 E. 24th street.

Noted in last week's Kansas City Call that Marie Ross, formerly with the Bystander, had written a long interview article on the Negro astronaut trainee, Capt. Richard Dwight of Topeka, Kans. Quite a feather in anyone's cap to get such an interview.

Can't Go South? Try Ham Tropical!

NOW THAT THE COLD WEATHER IS HERE, we yearn for warmer climes. But not all of us can pick up stakes and trek for the yellow sands. However, we can create an illusion of sun and color on our dining room table in the foods that we serve and the ways that we serve them. For instance, what could be more gay or provocative than a slice of pink succulent ham, garnished with golden pineapple, yellow bananas and crunchy white coconut? Try this for Sunday dinner next week, and banish thoughts of the cold outdoors!

BROILED HAM TROPIC STYLE

- 1 slice smoked ready-to-eat ham, 1" thick
- 2 green tipped bananas
- 8 slices canned pineapple
- ¼ cup melted butter
- ¼ cup New Orleans molasses
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- ¼ cup pineapple juice (from canned fruit)

Cut fat on ham and stick with cloves. Place in center of broiling pan and surround with bananas cut in sections and pineapple slices. Brush all with melted butter. Combine real New Orleans molasses, mustard and pineapple juice. Spoon molasses mixture over ham and fruit. Place in pre-heated broiler and broil ham 4-5 minutes. Turn ham and pineapple slices, spread with more molasses mixture and broil another 4-5 minutes. Remove banana sections and pineapple rings to warm plate as soon as they appear done. Serve ham surrounded with fruit. Makes 4 servings. (ANS)

LINCOLN EARLY CHAMPION OF RACIAL JUSTICE

February is observed as Brotherhood Month. In the month comes the birthday of Abraham Lincoln, the patriot who dared to do something tangible about slavery.

In the early years immediately following emancipation, Congress passed the 13, 14 and 15th amendments, and a series of civil rights measures. The Supreme Court held the civil rights measures unconstitutional.

Thousands of men and women from the North came South to teach Negroes how to read and write. Some of the early beginnings formed a nucleus out of which grew many excellent Negro schools. Most of these teachers were sponsored by various religious denominations. However, the church gave little attention to the civil rights of the Negro fearing reprisals by some members of the congregations.

At the close of the 19th and the beginning of the 20th century, southern states passed numerous laws restricting the rights of the Negro and lynching became a national disgrace. It was in protest of these things that the NAACP was organized; the race relations department of the Council of Churches—the former a militant group, the latter operating a peaceful penetration program. Both methods of attack are useful, for without support from the people, it is difficult to make a program work. And this is what the council proposed to do. The Jewish organization geared along these lines have done much to provide favorable sentiment for racial justice.

The combined efforts of these groups has brought much progress in spite of the die hards—North and South—who wish to continue the old order. The great upsurge for civil rights is a fulfillment of Lincoln's charge that the living finish the work started by the soldiers who had died on the battle fields.

VIOLENT DEMONSTRATIONS OF QUESTIONABLE VALUE

The tempo of demonstrations for civil rights has reached a rather dangerous proportion. Most people will agree that every citizen has a right to protest to his government, but when those protests reach the point where violence takes place, it tends to alienate the support of some who honestly want a better day for the Negro in America.

Undoubtedly, the leaders in the civil rights movement are opposed to violence. Most people agree. But occasionally some persons let their enthusiasm get out of hand and do things which embarrass the very movement they claim to support.

CHECK HIGH

TAXES SOMEWHERE

Taxes in Des Moines are high, mostly due to added services which the city and school administrators require. In fact, each year the load gets heavier. There seems no end to the increases.

The city is in process of perfecting its budget for the current year. City employees are seeking a raise in wages which will add to the cost of government. Few people object to paying decent wages but when year after year taxes continue to increase, taxing bodies must resist some of the demands and think about the tax load the public continues to have heaped upon them.

NAACP EXEC. SEC'Y AT JOHNSON STATE DINNER

Washington — NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins and Clarence Mitchell, director of the NAACP Washington Bureau were among the guests at the first state dinner at the White House given by President and Mrs. Johnson.

Mrs. Wilkins and Mrs. Mitchell also attended the dinner given in honor of President Antonio Segni of Italy this week. Other notable guests at the dinner included Mr. and Mrs. Eustace Gay, Mr. and Mrs. William B. Harris, and Austin Norris.

Drake Downs Bradley for 7th Straight, Then Hits Stone Wall at Washington U.

Peoria, Ill.—Drake's Bulldogs came from behind to beat Bradley 63-61 for their seventh straight victory, but ran into a stone wall when they met Washington Monday night. They lost to the Bears, 75-68 thus failing to set a record for straight wins.

In Saturday's game the Bulldogs were trailing at one point, 20-6 but behind the magnificent effort of Herman Watson, came off the bench to fight the fuse with just over four minutes to go. Three times in two minutes the swift sophomore whipped in baskets. Gene Bogash chipped in with one and a once hopeless cause had been turned into a 58-52 Drake lead.

Washington U.

Monday night at Washington U. Drake trailed most of the game with the exception of two times when they led at halftime by a slim 35-33 and later caught up, 46-46. But the withering fire of the Bears, who missed only 5 of 21 field goals in the last half, was just too much.

The only consolation was, the game was non-conference. Drake still holds second in the Missouri Valley.

Robert McCurdy

Says Racing Is

Wide Open for Negroes

Chicago, Ill. — Racing's newest "Golden Boy", 22-year-old Robert McCurdy, declares in a detailed profile in the February issue of Ebony magazine that there is no racial prejudice in horse racing.

"The sport is wide open for Negroes now," the young jockey says in Ebony. "I've gotten all the shots I was entitled to, so far."

The 106-pound scrapper from Atlantic City, N. J., earned more than $60,000 last year as an apprentice. He becomes a journeyman jockey on Feb. 16.

Trainer George S. Howell says McCurdy is a "natural" who "can't miss stardom." Howell likens the youngster to famed Eddie Arcaro.

1st Mount

McCurdy is a likeable youngster, willing to listen and learn, the Ebony profile points out. He rode his first mount in August, 1962 at Atlantic City, finishing next to last atop Bell Fortuna. He got his first winner at Garden State that October but in December, went back to Howell for more training. There was lots to be learned about riding, McCurdy says.

He learned. Last year McCurdy won the jockey championship at Garden State with 27 wins. This year he was the first Negro jockey to ever ride at Miami's Tropical Park and booted home a winner in his first race—aboard Brenda's Gift.

Liston Promises Clay

Personal Gift Feb. 25

Las Vegas, Nev. — Heavyweight champion Sonny Liston threw a birthday party "for Cassius Clay" here last week, in anticipation of handing him a "personal" gift when they meet in their title showdown in Miami on Feb. 25.

Friday, Jan. 18, was Clay's 22nd birthday, and Liston held a party at his own training quarters here to mark the occasion.

He had a birthday cake and all the trimmings, and afterwards Sonny sent a telegram to Clay, reading:

"Dear Cassius: It's good you have your own birthday early. I'll get you for my birthday later. I have a gift for you, but I'll wait until Feb. 25 and give it to you personally. Don't celebrate too hard so you'll be there when I give it to you."

As one guy put it, the time is drawing near for the annihilation of Cassius Clay. The fellow ideas of human and such are in bad taste. So much so that quite a few people hope the champ knocks Clay's block off. But one just can't dismiss the challenger with a wave of the hand. He is big and fast and can punch. His liabilities are lack of infighting ability. And a left jab that is more of an annoyance than a weapon. He will need a powerful piston like left job, to keep Liston away and so far the youngster doesn't have it.

After Clay will likely come Doug Jones if he can get by Floyd Patterson who wants another shot at Liston. Maybe that last punch did scramble Patterson's brains enough to make him think he wants another shot at the champ.

Basketball

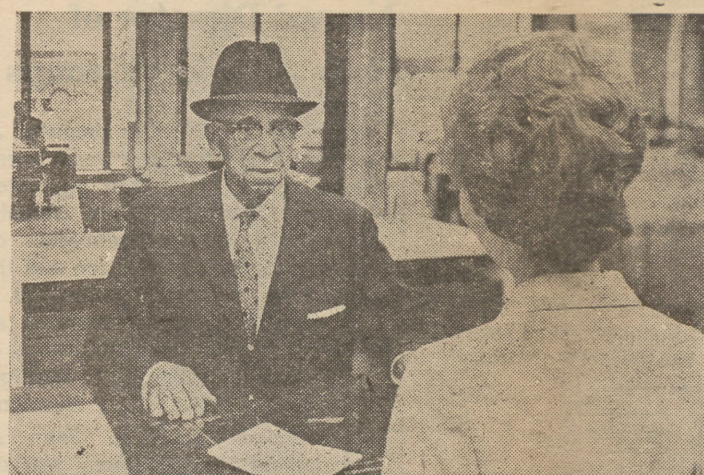

The current cage season is getting hotter by the week. Each conference has a race going on that is so close that any one of a half dozen teams could win. Drake has an outside chance at the Missouri Valley crown. Michigan with its three Negro starters has the lead in the Big Ten and could hold it. Among the independents Loyola is having its ups and downs and we think the national title is up for grabs.

Cincinnati's George Wilson is finally learning what it feels like to play on a losing team. His Marshall High of Chicago teams dominated Illinois basketball like the Russians dominate the winter Olympics. Then his college team lost so seldom that when they won it was only local news.

Olympics

But now all the teams the boys beat are coming out swinging for revenge. And while the Bearcats have a really good team the other teams are sky high when they meet and so they are having rough sledding.

If United States wants to get back into the swing of things they had

Detroit Lion Rookie

Dies of Uremia

Detroit, Mich.—Lucien Reeberg, a 6-foot 4-inch 265-pound rookie tackle with the Detroit Lions died Friday in a Detroit hospital of uremic poisoning.

Reeberg, a graduate of Hampton (Va.) Institute, played offensive tackle in the Lions' final 10 games last season.

A 21-year-old native of New York City Reeberg was apparently in good health except for symptoms of uremia when he entered the hospital for a physical checkup early last week.

15th Pin of Season

Floyd Shade registered his fifteenth pin of the year and 145-pounder Dennis Lyall posted his sixteenth straight victory as Tech's wrestlers crushed North, 33-13, Friday.

CITY AUDITORIUM

Washington — The U. S. Supreme Court ruled this week that New Orleans must allow Negroes to utilize its municipal auditorium.

The victory was won by attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, A. P. Tureaud and Ernest Morial, both of New Orleans.

Trouble arose when Horace C. Bynum of the local NAACP chapter attempted to secure the auditorium for a meeting.

He was denied despite the fact that the White Citizens' Councils had been permitted to use the facilities.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Disappearing Act

People keep on asking, "Why all the talk about tuberculosis when everybody knows it's disappearing fast?"

The answer is that there's a crucial difference between real disappearance and a "disappearing act." The alleged disappearance of TB is more apparent than real.

Tuberculosis staged a dramatic up-surge in the first six months of 1963 in New York City, for example, with the health commissioner reporting a sharp rise in the case rate—the first increase in 10 years. Chicago, despite a moderate decrease, reported a continuing TB situation that made necessary an all-out struggle on the part of health forces.

Effective

True, there has been some basis for the general notion that TB is "on the way out." Since the introduction of highly effective "wonder drugs" in tuberculosis treatment, beginning with streptomycin in the mid-forties, there has been a gratifying decline in the rate of new cases and deaths throughout the United States. Only in recent years have these "wonder drugs" given rise to "wonder germs" —strains of the tubercle bacilli that have learned to adapt themselves to the action of the drugs and to withstand their effects.

Gradual

Determined research is now going on in various quarters to develop further improved drugs that will overcome the new resistance. This is a slow, gradual business. Meanwhile the vigorous case detection and prevention campaigns carried on against TB by your Christmas Seal organization continue the year round. And
