Charge Ottumwa Man in Slaying Chicago Gambler Dies; $750,000 Cash in Room

S. Side Policymaker Called a 'Tightwad'; Gov. Slap Liens

Chicago, Ill.—A policy bet-maker who died of a heart attack at his home last week was described by police as one of the biggest tightwads on Chicago's southside when they discovered over $750,000 in his home following a raid on the place.

Lawrence Wakefield, who operated a big policy (numbers game) operation on the southside, had let his business dwindle to a small-time operation before his death because he refused to pay his runners enough to keep them from joining smaller competitors. He reportedly lost some of his best customers when he lost his best runners.

Locked Room

The money was found in a locked first-floor back bedroom, stashed in sacks, pillow cases, cubby holes and some just scattered around loosely.

Recently Wakefield was using a lot of housewives, according to police, paying them a couple of dollars for handling a few policy customers apiece.

$750,000 a Month

Still, Wakefield as a minor leaguer took in an estimated $7,500 a month. He had six full-time employees at the time of his death. He paid the six a total of $395 a week.

He hired a certified public accountant to keep his books and prepare tax returns. Income tax forms found in the house indicated he systematically paid $3,000 a month to the Internal Revenue Service as income tax, and paid withholding tax for his employees.

Wakefield had lived quietly for 13 years with his white common-law wife, Mrs. Rose Kennedy, 65, in their brown brick home with barred windows on a dead-end street.

The money, ranging from pennies to $100 bills, was transferred to the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. after police spent nearly 12 hours last week counting it.

James L. O'Keefe, Cook County public administrator who was named administrator of Wakefield's estate, said the bank will recount the money, then his employees will count it again to check the bank's figures.

Mrs. Kennedy, who said she lived with Wakefield since 1937, indicated she will attempt to recover the fortune during probate proceedings.

The internal revenue service has filed a $102,000 lien on the money for back taxes.

Attempts to Harass Mrs. Evers Charged

Jackson, Miss.—Carloads of white men have been observed recently parked near, or driving slowly past the home of Mrs. Medgar W. Evers after midnight.

The widow of the slain NAACP Mississippi state leader has also received threatening telephone calls.

These actions have been interpreted here as attempts to harass and intimidate Mrs. Evers whose children are among nine for whom suit has been filed in the United States District Court to desegregate the city's public schools.

Newspaper

Newspaper accounts of the suit, now again before District Judge Sidney Mize, rarely refer to the other plaintiffs in the case.

Charles Evers, who succeeded his brother as NAACP field secretary for Mississippi, commenting on what he observed one night, said: "We don't know who they were after, but the cars had no business there. When we came up they took off. We patrolled the area until 2 a.m. One car came back and the driver blew his horn in front of a residence near Mrs. Evers."

Grocer Robbed of $400 at Knife Point; Bandit Still at Large

A man described as Negro, about 5 feet 8 inches tall, and wearing a dark one-inch brimmed hat robbed Max Gordon, 49, owner of Shoprite Grocer at 1101 University avenue, of over $400 at knife point Friday night. The bandit escaped and police were continuing the hunt for him Wednesday morning.

Gordon said he had closed his store and started to get into his car, parked on 11th street just north of University, when a man entered his car, held a knife at his throat and demanded, "Give me your money."

Gordon said he grappled with the bandit, on the ground outside the car before the robber grabbed Gordon's billfold in his hip pocket tearing the

Accused of Stabbing Nude Women 8 Times After A Two-Day Drinking Party

Ottumwa, Ia.—Donald Lee Simpson, 24, of Ottumwa was charged early Saturday with the first-degree murder in the slaying of a woman whose nearly nude body, stabbed several times, was found Friday, Feb. 21 in her blood smeared home.

Monday morning Simpson waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the Wapello County grand jury. He was held in jail on $25,000 bond. In most murder cases the accused is held without bond.

Stabbed 8 Times

Police identified the victim as Mrs. Lola Curry, 49, one of whose legs was in a cast from the foot to above the knee because of a fracture several days before her violent death.

Police said that Mrs. Curry had been stabbed four times in the chest and four times in the back and that her jugular vein was severed. She had been dead four or five hours before authorities were called by a neighbor. Officers said the house was littered with beer cans.

Drinking Party

Police said the slaying apparently was the outgrowth of a drinking party that started Thursday night, Feb. 20 and continued most of the following day. Police said Simpson admitted being at the Curry home Friday but denied killing Mrs. Curry.

Police quoted Mrs. Curry's husband Clifford as saying he had been asleep in his car most of the afternoon and found his wife's body after he awakened Friday evening. He was charged with intoxication.

Ever's School Integration Case Moving in Mississippi

Jackson, Miss.—School integration came one step closer here this week. The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit directed the

Davenport Completes Pre-Flight Training

Davenport, Ia.—Warrant Officer Candidate Jerry P. Clark, has successfully completed the "Pre-Flight" phase of fixed-wing flight training

Segregationists had argued that Mississippi schools are voluntarily segregated, thereby infringing no constitutional rights.

Separate

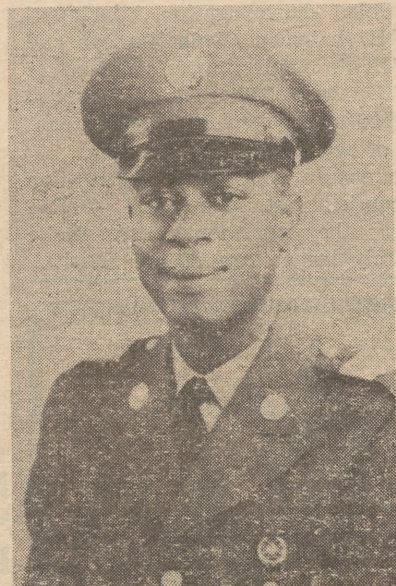

However, the Appeals Court pointed out that "the Mississippi Constitution requires maintenance of separate schools for white and colored children.

"And it is precisely because of this state-enforced segregation of schools under Mississippi law," the Court added, "that the District Court (Mississippi) erred in dismissing the complaint."

Derrick Bell, Legal Defense Fund assistant counsel who is arguing the case, said that 63 Negro children are involved from Jackson, Biloxi and Leake County.

JERRY CLARK

Toney, Davenport, Honored As 'Fair Housing' Champion

Davenport, Ia.—Charles W. Toney has been designated "Champion of Fair Housing" by the United Citizens' Committee for Freedom of Residence of Mid-America, it was learned here today.

Toney, Negro attorney, who is president of the Davenport Catholic Inter-racial Council, was largely responsible for arranging the informal Jan. 26 meeting of Davenport realtors and civil rights leaders.

The citation with its accompanying Merit Award was made at the special Mid-American conference of F.O.R., at the Leland Hotel, Springfield, Ill., Friday and Saturday, Feb. 14-15. According to the text of the Merit

Award, Toney was designated recipient "for outstanding and courageous work in advancing the concept of equality of opportunity in housing for all citizens regardless of race, creed or color and for being an inspiring example to his particular community and to the world."

In accepting the award, the president of the Davenport C.I.C. disclaimed any personal accomplishment. "I accept this in behalf of all the race and religious leaders who have worked so hard for this cause," Toney noted. "And also, in behalf of the realtors who cooperated by appearing at our meeting. This cooperation was necessary to establish a dialogue."

Sojourner Truth

"I wish I were a horse."
"Why, Jerri?"
"I'd jump up and down and stomp all four feet now that Brotherhood Week is over and done with for 1964."
"Woman, I'll never understand you! A man can't have a glass of beer and play a few cards that you don't get upon the table, shout 'Freedom Now' and pass the hat, Gus, the bartender grumbled. "What have you got against Brotherhood Week? CORE didn't invent it."
"Shut your mouth and listen to my sad tale of woe," Jerri snapped at Gus. Her beer remained untouched.
"A certain white teacher during Brotherhood Week told her English Class to write a theme on any topic in class. A few days later a certain very brilliant Negro member of her class was called to the office. There seated before her was the principle, the girl's advisor, and a Negro expert on what the Negro ought to think—especially during Brotherhood Week."

"The English teacher was all shook up because the young student had written a paper making great fun of token integration at her school. "Now, Gus, we are making progress and the one thing we can't stand in the North is any jokes about it—especially during Brotherhood Week. To make a sad story short, Gus, the adults had to find out why she was unhappy with token integration. Neither the teacher, the principal nor the Girl's Advisor could possibly figure out why the young scholar wasn't impressed with their efforts. Just to be sure no whisper of discrimination might be heard, the Negro expert was left to ask the questions about her social life.
Among the four adults, no one remembered the teacher had said you may choose your subject. It didn't occur to anybody—or did it the young lady understood it isn't wise to write what you really think unless you love to be in the principle's office."

WILKINS STRESSES VOTING AND JOBS IN MAGAZINE ARTICLES

New York—NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins has recently participated with other civil rights leaders in two magazine symposia on civil rights plans for 1964.

The first article was published in the January issue of NEGRO DIGEST and the second in U.S. NEWS AND WORLD REPORT, Feb. 24.

Stressed

In both his contributions, Wilkins stressed the need for a stepped-up program of political action in this presidential election year. This, he pointed out, requires an intensive voter registration campaign in every state of the Union, beginning with the New Year and continuing until the registration rolls are closed.

Another major problem, pointed out by the NAACP leader, is employment. The excessively high rate of unemployment among Negroes must be halted, he said.

Elimination of segregation in public education, both North and South, is also a pressing issue requiring prompt attention and positive action to get rid of present educational inequities, Wilkins asserted.

Others participating in the DIGEST symposium include Whitney Young, Jr., executive director, National Urban League; the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., president, Southern Christian Leadership Conference; James Farmer, executive director, Congress of Racial Equality; and John Lewis, president, Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee.

ARREST 84 PICKETS PROTESTING JOHNSON'S VISIT IN ST. LOUIS

St. Louis, Mo.—Eighty-four St. Louis CORE pickets protesting President Johnson's presence at the city's 200th anniversary celebration were arrested on February 14 as they neared the hotel where the President spoke.

Petitions

Several thousand persons have signed petitions urging the President to shun the St. Louis anniversary because of the present racial climate and the failure of city officials to help resolve the failure to hire Negroes at the Jefferson Bank & Trust Company. This has resulted in hundreds of arrests and prison sentences ranging from 60 days to a year for 15 local CORE leaders. The fifteen have spent more than 40 days in jail.

DESEGREGATION OF TB HOSPITAL

Cincinnati, Ohio—On the eve of a scheduled demonstration, Cincinnati CORE chairman Clyde Vinegar and Dr. H. J. Nimitz, superintendent of the Dunham Tuberculosis Hospital reached an agreement for desegregation of bed-patient assignments.

To ensure that the desegregation is carried out, Cincinnati CORE, under the agreement, can make monthly inspections of the hospital.

Eddie Collier Pleads Innocent

Eddie D. Collier, 33, who gave his address as 955 18th street pleaded innocent Friday when arraigned before Municipal Judge Ray Harrison on a charge of robbery.

Collier was ordered held in jail in lieu of $3,000 bond pending a hearing Mar. 6.

Collier was charged with taking $19 from Ardell Luverne Turner, 37, of 1605 Pleasant street, during an argument between the two in the Turner woman's apartment early Friday.

the Camera Guild

Mother snaps a picture that will keep her memory ever fresh of the little girl starting off on that big adventure—the first day of school.

It's School Time!

For the past few days we've been hearing bells ringing in our ears—and you know what kind, don't you? That's right—school bells! Practically everywhere across the country summer vacation is drawing to a close, and very soon now hordes of youngsters will be reluctantly setting forth for their annual battle with the 3R's.

School is a word that covers many activities and people. At your house, school days may mean a well-scrubbed, neatly combed six-year-old who's entering Class 1-A. Or it may refer to a daughter who's on her way back to high school or a son setting off to college. And to a teacher—if there's one in your family—it will mean readying the classroom for a new group of youngsters.

But no matter what new activities school days bring to your home, one thing is certain: It's no time to put away your camera just because vacation has ended. The school year brings with it many moments when you'll be awfully glad you had a camera handy. And remember, something as simple as a shot of the children poring over their homework projects or perhaps dressing up for the school pageant may turn out to be the most cherished picture of your collection in years to come. The opening of school spells "camera" in another important way, too. It marks a time when junior members of the family especially appreciate having a camera of their own. Friends and classmates, school activities and events belong in any youngster's pictorial record—and he'll enjoy taking those snapshots himself, recording his own impressions just as he wants to remember them.

It won't require expensive equipment, either for a simple box-type camera is all that's necessary. With a flash attachment and a supply of flash bulbs, Junior can take pictures under almost any conditions—indoors, day or night, in clear weather or cloudy, in early morning or after the sun goes down. In fact, don't be surprised if he's named official photographer for his class in school as well as for his Scout troop!

PLAN TO EXPEL STUDENTS BACKFIRES

Quincy, Fla.—A school supervisor's plan to expel students who had attended a CORE workshop backfired because, as it turned out, the total number attending was in the hundreds.

"After the workshop, the principal made an announcement asking all students who had attended to see him," reports CORE Field Secretary Patricia Stephens Due. "From reports we had received, he expected only a few to show up at his office and he had been instructed by the supervisor to expel them.

"Several hundred came, however, and sang freedom songs each time he tried to discourage them from future involvement with CORE. Finally, nobody was expelled because, as he said: 'there were too many.'"

Lamb Curry Is Glamorized With Pineapple Tidbits in Rice Ring

Salted almonds and coconut are delicious accompaniments.

Impart an Oriental touch to left-over lamb with a dash of curry powder. Remove meat from the bones, cut it into fairly large-sized pieces and combine with curry sauce, surrounded with a ring of rice, glamorized with pineapple tidbits.

The more condiments the merrier at a curry dinner. Chutney is considered indispensable in curry-eating circles. Other suggested condiments are shredded coconut, salted pecans, or salted peanuts, and diced bananas.

PINEAPPLE LAMB CURRY

2 lbs. lean lamb shoulder
2 tbsp. shortening
1 tsp. salt
1 bay leaf
4 whole black peppers
2 small onions, sliced
1 tsp. chopped parsley
1/4 cup flour
1 sp. curry powder
2 tbsps. cold water
1 can (No. 2) pineapple tidbits
5 cups hot cooked rice
1/4 cup melted butter or margarine

Cut meat into small cubes and brown in hot shortening. Add enough boiling water to cover meat; add seasonings, onion and parsley. Cover and cook slowly for 2 hours, or until meat is tender. Strain stock; reserve 2 cups. Mix flour and curry powder with cold water and stir into lamb stock. Cook until thickened and add meat. Heat pineapple tidbits in syrup until boiling and drain. Lightly mix rice with melted butter and pack into a well-greased ring mold about 7 inches in diameter; allow to stand a few minutes. Unmold rice onto a large platter and pour curried meat into center. Arrange pineapple tidbits in a ring, separating meat and rice. Serves 6.

Jumbo Cereal Flake Hamburgers
Hearty Fare for After-Game Buffet

Entertaining at a buffet supper after a football game is easy when the main course features Jumbo Cereal Flake Hamburgers. All ages enjoy juicy hamburgers served hot from a table grill in a toasted bun with favorite garnishes.

Cereal flakes are so quick to use in making hamburgers. They are easy to crush, thus eliminating the tedious job of crumbling bread. Juiciness and flavor are improved by the addition of cereal flakes. Main dishes are but one of the many ingredients used of breakfast cereals. Cookies, confections, muffins, breads, and pies take on new flavors and textures by the addition of breakfast cereals. Cereals make important nutritional contributions of high-quality protein, essential B vitamins and minerals, in addition to food energy.

Hostesses who enjoy entertaining try to do as much advanced preparation as possible. Jumbo Cereal Flake Hamburgers can be prepared and shaped early in the day. A mold helps to make uniform-size hamburgers. For easy handling, place squares of waxed paper between each patty and refrigerate until time to grill. This recipe adapts itself to freezing. Simply prepare the individual patties, wrap in a moistureproof freezer paper and freeze.

The buffet table can be set before the game. Relishes can be prepared early in the day. After the game, heat the grill, cook the hamburgers, place potato chips and relishes in serving dishes, prepare a tray with mugs of instant cocoa and chilled milk and presto, supper is ready!

For a quick and easy dessert roll balls of ice cream in pre-sweetened rice cereal and serve with fruit or chocolate sauce.

Jumbo Cereal Flake Hamburgers

2 cups corn flakes, slightly crushed 1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 1/2 pounds ground beef 1/2 cup milk, water, or
1/2 cup chopped onion tomato juice
2 teaspoons salt 2 tablespoons fat

Mix ingredients together thoroughly. Gently shape and flatten 8 patties. Heat 2 tablespoons fat in skillet or on griddle. Cook patties to the doneness desired, 3 to 8 minutes over medium heat, turning once. If preferred, broil until done on a rack 6 to 8 inches from a bed of glowing coals, turning once. Yield: 8 hamburgers.

Cooking Thermometer Shelf

THERE is a growing trend in American kitchens to keep many utensils out in the open where they are easy to reach. This is particularly valuable in the case of often-used instruments and those which are apt to be damaged if left to roll around in a drawer with a lot of other tools. For instance, if you have a fine set of cooking thermometers, as so many good cooks do today, it is a very simple matter to construct a small, handy shelf to display them and protect them.

First take a rectangular piece of one-inch board and two rectangular pieces of Masonite Preswood. This is a particularly versatile material which can be used for innumerable jobs around the home. The dimensions of these pieces are up to you, depending on the available space and the number of cooking thermometers you wish to display.

These two pieces will actually make two shelves. Into the piece to be used for the top, drill two small holes, into which you can insert the stainless steel stems of your roast meat thermometer and your candy-jelly-deep fat frying thermometer. The round, clock-like faces of the thermometers will prevent them from slipping through the holes, and the thermometers will be always within easy reach if you attach your shelf to the wall or cabinet near the range.

In charge of the group were Mesdames Dorothy Jones and Peter Hawthorne, Jr.

Seems this is the week to say a Happy Birthday to all of you out there in subscription land. Of course we could not begin until we wish one of Des Moines centurians, Mrs. Melinda Thomas, a very happy birthday, on her 100th year Feb. 20 which she celebrated with relatives and friends last Sunday afternoon. She had a party and birthday cake, complete with 100 candles, baked by one of her daughters, Mrs. James (Mae) Stubblerfield, 70, 1625 Buchanan, with whom she makes her home.

Many relatives and friends from Maple Street Baptist church, where Mrs. Thomas regularly attends services, dropped in to congratulate and wish Mrs. Thomas many, many more happy years.

Mrs. Thomas has another daughter, Mrs. Lucille Long, 67, who lives at 1125 University avenue, and a son, Roscoe Thomas, 64, who lives at the Stubblerfield home.

Mrs. Thomas was born on a farm in Buchanan County, Missouri, and came to Des Moines 60 years ago with her husband, James, in a horse-drawn wagon. He preceded her in death in 1935.

Mrs. Thomas is in remarkable good health for her age. She does not wear glasses, and watches television regularly and especially enjoys news programs.

She helps her daughter wash the dishes but does no cooking. Even until last year she made quilts, a talent which requires both good sight and a fine touch.

We tried to borrow the picture of Mrs. Thomas used by the daily paper last week but alas we had no luck. It had been lost in the shuffle which occasionally happens to pictures on a big daily.

Mrs. Hurley Wyatt, 1323 Crocker street, also celebrated her birthday Feb. 20 on Sunday (she is not telling which one) on the same day as Mrs. Thomas. She had been over to the Stubblerfield home helping in the preparations and when she finally returned the house was full of guests who wished her "Happy Birthday."

Everything had been arranged by her daughter, Edna Mae, and it was such a complete surprise to Mrs. Wyatt that she took hours to recover from the "shock." A host of friends attended and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. Mrs. Wyatt was showered with many lovely gifts and money.

Her daughter, also recently was released from Mercy hospital where she had spent 10 days as a patient.

And while we are extending "Happy Birthdays" to all of you, we will make a tiny one to yours truly, who celebrated her nth birthday on Tuesday, Feb. 25. As our little 3-year-old says, "Happy Birthday to me."

We have been contacted from time to time about recommending a photographer who will take group pictures of special events, etc. Well, we have good news for you. There is a free lance photographer, whose ad is in this edition, who perhaps is just the answer to your problem.

When you contact him for pictures, we are sure you will find his rates reasonable and his workmanship commendable. There long has been a need in the community for such a person.

Mrs. Clara Bayles called about the monthly dinner meeting that the travel group of the American Association of University Women, holds at Younkers Tearoom. As far as we know she is the only member of her race to serve as president of a Des Moines group. She was elected president last September and of course will preside over Tuesday's meeting whose program will be on "Hong Kong" with Mrs. Clifford Bloom as chairman. There are about 70 members in the travel group. Mrs. Bayles has previously served as secretary of the group. So has Mrs. Katherine Stewart.

This led us to try to single out Negro women who now are or have been members of the A.A.U.W. Please bear in mind that we are not saying that these are the only members who are or have been. We are just interested and would appreciate your calling in names of any we may leave out. Those we know of are Mrs. Catherine Atkinson Williams, Mrs. Joyce Fant, Mrs. Chrystal Peavy, Mrs. Irma Estes, Mrs. Gwendolyn Fowler, Mrs. Helen D. Wimberly, Mrs. Rose Johnson, Mrs. Charlotte

Three Purpose Club, Fetes Guests On Chinese New Year

The Three Purpose Club and their guests, the members of the Winthrop Club, made an imaginary trip to China on Feb. 19, to celebrate the Chinese New Year of 4662, the year of the Dragon. The celebration was held at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Wallace, 2724 Amick, where the recreation room was gaily decorated in Chinese motif with crepe paper streamers, lanterns, glass wind chimes, Buddhas and balloons, and the aroma of incense and sounds of Chinese music floated on the air.

Members and guests alike, attired in Chinese garb, were seated upon cushions around a long low table, where they were served a beverage from small sake cups. A brief history of China and a travelogue was given by Mrs. Bertha Wolder. Games of skill were played and prizes given for each. As the supper hour approached, the ceremony of washing the hands, with small towels dipped in warm rose water, was performed. The supper, complete with chopsticks, was an authentic Chinese meal, from the King Ying Low restaurant, including unsweetened native grown tea, and ending with fresh fruit, candied ginger and fortune cookies.

Guests attending the celebration were Mesdames Dorothy Lewis, Maxine Watkins, Ellen Robinson, Venita Wells, Dorothy Simms, Wilmetta Jones, Louise Ware, Thelma McCune, Gwen Semple and Idella Cushing-Berry.

The Three Purpose Club wishes to give special thanks to Mrs. Gwendolyn Fowler for her kind assistance in the arrangements and who so graciously allowed the use of some of the lovely pieces she had brought home from the far East.

The next meeting of the club will be Mar. 4, at the home of Mrs. Edith Webb.

URBAN RENEWAL DRIFTS, PROPERTY OWNERS SUFFER

The status of the Des Moines Urban Renewal program continues in the realm of uncertainty due, in part, to the disapproval by the federal urban renewal authority of some of its proposals.

One of the proposals under consideration is the rehabilitation of properties north and south of the freeway from Harding Road east. The federal authorities won't go along with this because of the large number of properties in it, many being far past anything but to be torn down.

Owners have been asked to make no improvement on their property in the area contending that it would make no difference in the sale price should they be condemned. In the meantime, these people are losing money; their property further deteriorating with no foreseeable prospect of doing anything about the matter.

Possibly, the hardest area hit are business places on Center Street and the few remaining residence properties. Business on that street has dwindled to a trickle, while certain interests are waiting to buy the properties for nothing.

This is just another of the costly errors of the whole urban renewal program brought on by dilatory action and an unwillingness to take the whole package rather than a few items the authorities liked.

THE BEATLES

The Beatles from England are making a big sweep in America. Young girls go wild at their appearance indicating a lack of self control and decorum that gets really disgusting.

The behavior of these help to explain why mental illness is on the increase.

UNFAIR COMPARISON OF LINCOLN AND KENNEDY

Simon Booker, writing in Ebony magazine, tells his reason why John F. Kennedy surpassed Abraham Lincoln in their program for integration.

Without denying that Kennedy was a great man, the article is unfair to Lincoln in many ways.

First and foremost is the times in which each lived. Booker cites that appointment of Negroes to important posts, entertaining them in the White House and carrying on a fight for equality of Negroes both in and out of government.

Look what Lincoln had to work with, a race with no education, no money and no vote. Negroes assured Kennedy's election; very few were permitted to vote for Lincoln.

In measuring the greatness of a man, it must be considered from how low down on the pole he came as well as how far he goes. Kennedy had everything to work with, Lincoln had practically nothing.

Some people merely laud the last person who helps them rather than those who carried the load from the beginning and on to a successful conclusion. Booker seems to be the type of person today who shows little appreciation for Abraham Lincoln and what he accomplished for the Negro and his country while heading a divided nation.

Maps Anti-Bias Campaign in Maryland

New York—An intensive campaign to eliminate segregation and discrimination throughout Maryland will be launched shortly, Gloucester B. Current, NAACP director of branches, announced this week.

The six-month campaign will be coordinated by Colin Cromwell, NAACP field secretary. Mr. Cromwell will be based in Baltimore working with Mrs. Juanita Jackson Mitchell, president of the NAACP Maryland State Conference.

The campaign will concentrate on the elimination of segregation in public accommodations, increased voter registration and problems of acute discrimination in Eastern Shore counties.

Cromwell has been on the NAACP staff since 1958.

Cassius, 'The Greatest' Stuns Unbelieving Boxing World; Snatches Heavyweight Crown

Staff Writer

Miami, Fla.—Thar was gold in that thar mouth and iron in them thar fact was rammed home to a stunned and unbelieving boxing world Tuesday night as Cassius Clay defiantly defied predictions and snatched the World Heavyweight boxing crown at the age of 22.

The seventh round T.K.O. of Champion Sonny Liston was only a numbing climax to other shocking realities that a contemptuous sports world had been forced to witness by a brash young man they had negligently referred to as "Louisville the Lip."

Small Gate

More than 8,000 fans, a relative small gate compared to the seating capacity of the Arena, plus thousands of fans who filled closed-circuit TV theaters throughout the country, had gathered almost like gleeful carriages for what they almost unanimously predicted to be the moment of truth—the hour to pick over the silent, flattened bones of Cassius Clay. Now, was the hour—when Cassius would sing no more, or if he was able to get his voice, would only croak like a broken record. But this was not to be true.

Boxing Writers

In taking the World title, Cassius made liars out of thousands of boxing writers, and sports predictors. Cassius, who was fined $2,500 for a loud-mouthed demonstration at the weigh-in Tuesday morning, lasted longer than the first round, demonstrated he is a cool, brave man, showed he can box, and when an opponent crowds him, is able to fend him off with his gloves.

Bicycle

From the moment of the first gong in the first round, Cassius jumped on his bicycle and rode it to the crown, at times accelerating backwards at breakneck speed, at other moments slowing down to a cruise, to batter Liston as he did in the third and sixth rounds.

The T.K.O. was announced as Liston failed to answer the bell at the seventh round. As usual, bright-eyed watchful Clay, was the first to notice, and jumped up, with arms outstretched proclaiming, "I am the greatest," and "I am the Champ."

Shoulder Injured

Liston's handlers said the defeated champion had suffered an injured left shoulder in the first round, which numbed his arm from shoulder to hand and in a post-game interview said the shoulder had been injured in training. Liston was taken to a Miami hospital where he was examined by eight doctors, who Wednesday morning confirmed that Liston had sustained a shoulder injury which would prevent his continuing the fight. The Miami Boxing Commission also announced that Liston's share of the gate receipts, $400,000 (which also was the gate's total receipts) would

Savings Bond Drive Opened

Akron, Ohio—The biggest Payroll Savings Bond drive since the War opened this month under the leadership of a volunteer committee of 29 top industrialists.

The 1964 drive was launched by a personalized appeal from this committee to the presidents of 13,000 companies with some 22 million employees in 50 states. Serving on the volunteer committee and heading the rubber industry drive is Raymond C. Firestone, president of The Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

Cincinnati Slaps Drake into Conference Tie with Wichita

Cincinnati, Ohio—The high-flying Drake University Bulldogs who had won five straight Missouri Valley Conference games, mostly by last minute squeaking, were flipped from their exclusive throne here Saturday when they met the Cincinnati Bearcats in the second of two contests.

Drake took a commanding 10-point lead in the first quarter and though it was shaved to within a few points, they still led at the half even if by only a point. However, the second half was a bearcat of another color. Ron Krick, a substitute, who had sat out most of this year's games on the bench behind the shining starlight of Ron Bonham, who left the game for a long while with four fouls. However, he was hardly missed as Krick, caught fire like a windblown house, and stuffed in 20 points before the contest was over to the delight of wild Cincinnati fans.

Drake's Captain Billy Foster, and teammates played one of their best games, yet it could not beat Cincinnati who shot a hot 53 per cent for the night. Foster also had 20 points but Drake had no second man to equal Cincinnati's George Wilson who garnered 18 points.

Drake returned tied for the conference lead with Wichita. Both have two remaining games. Drake plays be held up until an examination by doctors and an investigation. Liston reportedly will earn $1.3 million from the fights, most of this from television receipts.

A wide variety of advertisers are using the columns of the Bystander to acquaint the public with what they have to sell. They are looking for business and believe that this medium is a good avenue to carry their message.

Tulsa tonight (Thurs.) at Tulsa and plays St. Louis at Veterans auditorium Saturday. If the two teams end the conference season in a tie, there will be a play-off game on a neutral court to determine who will represent the conference at the N.C.A.A. tournament.

How did you like the fight results? If you didn't predict the winner you are the first person who didn't guess right after the brawl was over.

Our local representatives in the Louisville Golden Gloves didn't do too well but that wasn't any surprise. Amateur boxing is a year around sport and our guys have to realize that. Maybe, we will come up with a new breed of amateur who likes to train and someone will go places.

We have been reading a lot about the poor showing of our athletes in the winter Olympics and the possibility that we might have tough going next summer at Tokyo. But our guys seldom get a chance to reach their peak in any sport or amateur. There is so much money to be made as a professional that the young athletes turn pro as soon as they win a title or two in any sport. Then they retire at what should be their peak age in their sport and a new crop comes along. Count the number of athletes between 25 and 30 years old that are in an American athletic team in these international games.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Look, Mom, No Bacilli!

"What I want to know is this. If TB's an adult disease, why do they want us to have our children tested once a year?"

The speaker was Mrs. Ella Rogers, a Pennsylvania mother. She asked her question during a local telephone-interview radio show. The announcer, a parent himself, didn't know the answer. It's a safe guess that the majority of American parents were in the same boat.

Battlefront

In such a situation, why not seek an answer from the horse's mouth—or, in this case, from the Christmas Seal Association that has fought TB on a national battlefront for 60 years? That's exactly what's been done; and here is the authoritative answer to Mrs. Rogers given by a spokesman for the National Tuberculosis Association:

Rapid Killer

"Your question is a sound and timely one. Tuberculin tests are important in childhood because, for one thing, the TB germ can be thoroughly

These are the years then an athlete should be at his best. Some say from 25 to about 32 or 33. But by that time most of our athletes are ex pros or old retired amateurs talking about how good they used to be.

We don't pretend to understand how these things are done in other countries but we would like to see some of our finest athletes, kept in their sport as amateurs until they reach their physical peak. The results might surprise some of the boys who wept about our dismal showing at Innsbruck, Austria. The facts are that our athletes did well when one considered their youth and immaturity in the games.

Bob Parks ... another of our nice- to-know folks at Des Moines Savings

Bob is a very important part of our modern and highly technical Data Processing Center.

In fact, Bob has had special training in preparing wiring boards required for the various types of processing in our electronic equipment. He acquired this "know how" at the IBM training center in Des Moines before coming with us at Des Moines Savings.

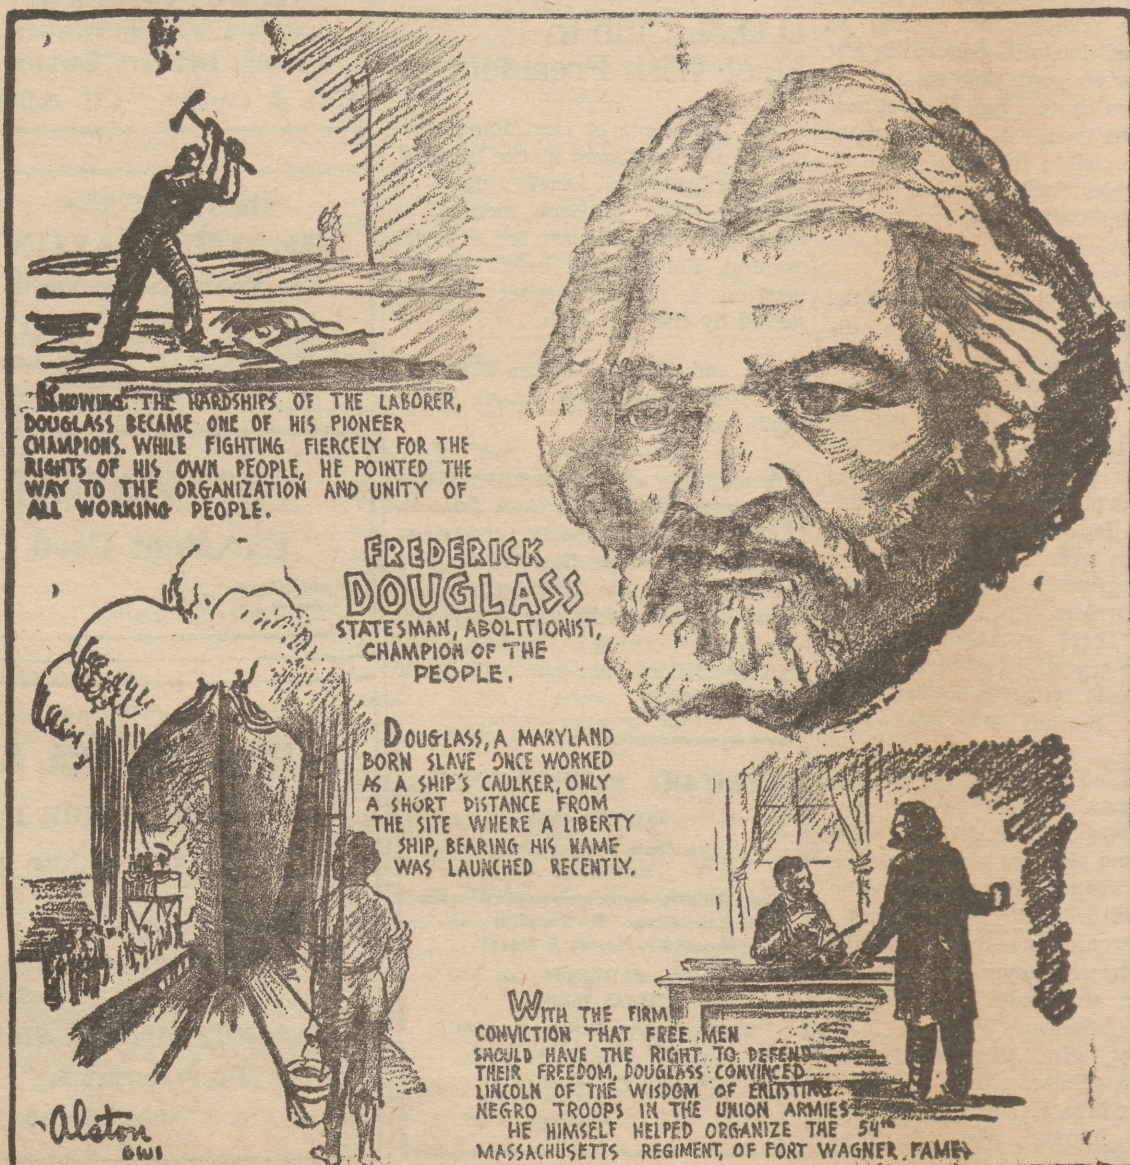

When you take a tour through our newly modernized and expanded offices, you'll probably meet Bob. (And, by the way, group tours are always welcome with advance arrangements made through Ron Hallock's office).

We're mighty proud to have Bob Parks on our staff. He's a great addition to our really nice-to-know folks.
