NEWS In A Nutshell

Philadelphia, Pa.—Fisticuffs erupted at the embezzlement trial of suspended A.M.E. Bishop D. Ward Nichols here last week. The fistic battle, started when a man later identified as Dr. Charles Parlin, president of the World Council of Churches, attempted to deliver a note to the bishop.

Hollywood, Calif.—Internationally famous entertainer Sammy Davis, Jr., last week laughed off a reported rumor that he and his blonde Swedish actress-wife, Mai Britt, were headed for the divorce court, and insisted that they were still happily married.

Washington, D. C.—Although Mrs. Esther James has not been able to collect a penny of $46,500 awarded her in a libel suit against Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, the New York widow is pressing her bid for an even larger amount. Last Wednesday she filed another suit against the Harlem Congressman-minister, this one for $250,000. She charged that Powell was "maliciously conspiring to transfer property worth $85,000 to his wife's aunt and uncle.

St. Louis, Mo.—The St. Louis Commission on Equal Opportunity reported last week that 130 firms in the city had hired more than 1,300 Negroes for jobs not previously held by Negroes.

Linden, N. J.—Scientist and Civic leader Dr. Richard F. Neblett, the first Negro ever to serve on the Plainfield (N. J.) Board of Education is also one of the oil industry's foremost authority on petroleum additives.

Longview, Tex.—A half million dollar nursing home, the first Negro establishment in East Texas, is being constructed in Longview, Tex.

NONVIOLENT ACTION HITS TULSA

Tulsa, Okla.—Nonviolent action came to Tulsa for the first time recently in the form of a Freedom March across town followed by two weeks of sit-ins at two eating places in which 87 demonstrators were arrested.

Doubts Accused Assassin Of Medgar Evers Will Be Prosecuted Again

Jackson, Miss.—The second trial for accused assassin Byron De La Beckwith ended when an all-white jury deadlocked Friday and the Mississippi self-styled segregationist was released on bond and returned to his hometown.

After conferring with attorneys, Judge Hendrick set $10,000 bond for Beckwith, who has been held in jail without bond since his arrest last June in the slaying of Negro rights leader Medgar Evers.

This marked the end of the state's second effort to convict Beckwith, a dedicated segregationist, of the murder of Evers.

The jurors reportedly were divided eight for acquittal and four for conviction, sources close to the jury said. The deadlock came after 10 hours of deliberation.

Beckwith's first trial ended Feb. 7, with that jury reportedly split 6 to 6. He was accused of the June 22 ambush shooting of Evers, who had spearheaded mass desegregation demonstrations and boycotts here.

as to whether they thought there was any chance of a verdict.

The replies ranged from, "It doesn't look too good" to, "I wouldn't think so" and, "No sir."

The judge said the case would be continued to the May term of court.

Denial

Beckwith, a 43-year-old fertilizer salesman from Greenwood, has been in custody since last June 27 and has testified that he did not kill Evers.

Evers, 37, was state secretary of the Mississippi chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. An ambush sniper fatally shot him in the back with a rifle as he was returning home at night.

After Beckwith was returned to jail Friday, his attorney, Harvey Lott, immediately left for the sheriff's office to see if he could make arrangements for bond.

Polling

At 11:30 a.m. Friday, Judge Hendrick called the jurors into the courtroom and polled each of them

TUSKEGEE INSTITUTE, HOWARD U. SCIENTISTS GET HEART STUDY GRANTS

Washington, D. C. — Scientists from Tuskegee (Ala.) Institute and Howard University of Washington, D. C. have announced the receipt of a research grant of $469,000 from the National Institutes of Health in support of a seven-year study designed to provide new knowledge of the functioning of the heart.

The study is titled "Movements of the Mitral Valve." Co-directors of the research are Dr. Walter C. Bowie, professor and head of the Department of Physiology and Pharmacology, School of Veterinary Medicine, Tuskegee, and Dr. Edward W. Hawthorne, professor and head of the Department of Physiology, College of Medicine at Howard.

New Research Center

Under the terms of the grant, a new research center will be established at Tuskegee. The center will house a cardiovascular laboratory, where experimental animals will be tested and observed. For the purposes of the study, the scientists will work with horses.

According to the investigators, their research will involve a study of the functioning of the heart of intact, awake horses and the application of their findings to the functioning of the human heart. Both organs are constructed alike and function similarly, Drs. Bowie and Hawthorne said.

Horse

They have selected the horse for experimentation because of the size of its heart, six to eight times larger than the human heart. By use of horses, he scientists will be able to attach instruments to various parts of the heart and measure such things as the flow of blood in the coronary vessels, movement of the mitral valve, changes in the size and shape of the heart, and pressures developed within the heart. These factors cannot be measured simultaneously in smaller, more commonly used experimental animals, according to the investigators, because the measuring instruments are too large and cumbersome.

Areas

The research grant has been made to the School of Veterinary Medicine at Tuskegee, where the major studies on horses are to be conducted. Related studies will be made in the cardiovascular laboratory at Howard. Collaborating with Drs. Bowie and Hawthorne in the studies will be Dr. Gerhard A. Brecher of Emory University, Atlanta, Ga., and other scientists at Emory, Tuskegee, Howard and the Veterans Administration Hospital in Tuskegee, Ala.

Work on the research project will begin immediately.

Seeks $1,000,000 from TV Benefit Honoring School Case

New York—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is seeking to raise $1,000,000 in what Roy Wilkins, the Association's executive secretary, described as the largest single fund-raising project in the civil rights movement.

Wilkins revealed this goal at a place at Borden's Cafeteria in the Northland Shopping Center immediately following a mass rally which ended the Freedom March.

The star-studded two-hour program will originate in New York City and in Los Angeles. Sixteen of Special ceremonies meeting of Zeit Temple No. 90, A.E.A.O.N.M.S., will be held on Saturday, Apr. 25 at 6 p.m. at the Masonic Temple, 11th and Center streets. All local and visiting nobles are urged to attend. Lewis A. James is illustrious Potentate.

John H. Holmes Dies; Last NAACP Founder

New York—Dr. John Haynes Holmes, the last of the 60 eminent Americans who signed the call in 1909 leading to the founding of the NAACP, died here April 3. He was 84 years old.

In a telegram to Dr. Holmes' daughter, Mrs. Morris Brown, Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive secretary, expressed the Association's grief at the death of Dr. Holmes, whose "passing deprived the civil rights movement of a stalwart, courageous and uncompromising champion."

One of First

Dr. Holmes was one of the first members of the NAACP Board of Directors, a vice president and "effective worker in various other capacities for more than half a century.

Dr. Holmes was pastor of the Community Church of New York from 1907 until his retirement in 1949. In addition to his activity with the NAACP, Dr. Holmes was also a founder of the American Civil Liberties Union and of the India League of America.

President Picks Mich. Woman for High Post

Washington, D. C.—President Lyndon B. Johnson last week named Mrs. Ester LaMarr of Detroit, Michigan to the $16,000 a year post of Assistant for Inter-Group Relations in the Office of the Administrator for Veteran's Affairs, John S. Gleason Jr.

Mrs. LaMarr's appointment is in line with the President's program for promoting more women to high policy positions in the Federal Government.

NAACP to Court Again In Preston Cobb Case

Atlanta—The NAACP has made another attempt to save the life of Preston Cobb, convicted in 1961 at the age of 15 for the slaying of a 70-year-old white farmer. In a brief filed March 26 in the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit the NAACP has asked, through a writ of habeas corpus, that his original conviction be voided.

Denied Fair Trial

NAACP attorneys contend that Cobb was denied a fair trial as Negroes were excluded from the grand and petit juries that indicted and convicted him; that a confession was forced from him; and that the original court-appointed white lawyer failed to raise the constitutional issues which were basic to the case and thus deprived him of the right to counsel.

After Cobb was convicted by the all-white jury and sentenced to electrocution, the NAACP entered the case at the request of his mother. The case was fought through the courts of Georgia and ultimately appealed to the U. S. Supreme Court by NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter and NAACP Atlanta Attorney, Donald L. Hollowell.

New Trial

When the U. S. Supreme Court denied the motion for a new trial, the NAACP filed for a writ of habeas corpus in the U. S. District Court in Georgia. The U. S. District Court denied the writ.

The present brief filed in the U. S. Court of Appeals is an appeal from this judgment. In the brief, NAACP lawyers point to four specific errors of the lower court, based on violations of the Fourteenth Amendment.

World-Wide Concern

Because of Cobb's youth, the death sentence aroused world-wide concern. Numerous petitions were circulated asking for clemency and a Dutch delegation came to this country to plead with the Governor of Georgia on his behalf.

At the time of the conviction Georgia law permitted execution of children as young as 10 years old. Since that time the minimum age has been raised to 16.

Alaska's Negro Citizens 'Forgotten' by Outside World

Anchorage—Although millions of words have been written on the Good Friday earthquake which rocked Alaska, little attention was given in the press to the approximately 7,000 Negroes who reside in the 49th state, Alaska has a total population of 175,000.

The task of telling the story of Alaska's Negro minority over the years has been left primarily to the Alaska Spotlight, a 12-year-old weekly newspaper published by George C. Anderson, a former Chicago resident.

Anderson points out that almost 5,000 of the state's 7,000 Negro residents live in Anchorage.

According to Anderson, there are 70 or more places of business operated by Negroes in Anchorage, Fairbanks, Juneau, Soldotna and Kodiak. There are 33 Negro public school teachers, a Negro lawyer and a Negro dentist who is a member of the Dental Examining Board.

Anderson said Alaska has the most comprehensive civil rights statutes of any state. The executive director of its FEPC Commission is a Negro. In Anchorage, the publisher declared, the business agent of the Painter's Union is a Negro.

Sojourner Truth

"Something Of Worth In Every Man."

Carole looked with displeasure at tired little lines of fatigue and discouragement reflected in the mirror as she quickly combed her hair. She decided to remove the Freedom Now button from her suit. The question why presented itself before her.

"Are you ashamed of it?" she asked herself.

"Just tired, I guess. I'm a poor representative today." Carole's thoughts were interrupted by a rude voice.

"If you plan to leave today, come on," her husband was demanding. Carole rushed about collecting last minute items and dashed out to the car with her suitcase.

The porter at the airport confused her by not accepting a tip. Carole hurried to pick up a ticket without ever deciding whether to accept the gesture as one of friendship or approval of The Button still in evidence. It came to her that porters often choose to reveal themselves as people while carrying baggage.

"DADDY!" the joy and affection of a two-year-old at the sight of his father in the enclosed battle-gray of the airport. Carole resisted the impulse to turn in search of a happy child's face. She chose instead to remember only the sound of love expressed in one word. Curiosity prompted Carole to see which man had inspired such adoration in a little boy. A man and woman at Gate 4 looked in surprised admiration toward the runway entrance.

Richard L. Rick Is GOP Polk Candidate

Richard L. Rick, 35, an attorney, has announced as a Republican candidate for state representative from Polk County.

Rick said the single significant factor in his decision to seek election is the "irresponsible attitude evidenced by the majority of the General Assembly in the recent special session on reapportionment."

Reapportionment

"Achievement of a fair reapportionment program must come from the strength of the Republican party through responsible leadership," he said.

Rick said he would also work for less state government in business, specifically pointing out that there is no need or justification for Iowa to be in the retail liquor business.

He recommends "the state get out of the liquor business, charge a tax on liquor at the wholesale level, earmark such tax for use as present liquor profits are now used, transfer tax collections and enforcement to the tax commission, and eliminate present duplication created by the liquor tax collection force."

He said his platform will also include recommendation of annual sessions of the General Assembly, and the combining of counties to work toward efficiency and economy in local government.

Rick attended grade schools in Cedar Rapids, Iowa State College and the State University of Iowa, where he received his Juris Doctor degree in 1953.

In unspoken agreement they retraced their steps.

The eyes of passing strangers rejoiced in the magic moment of love expressed by one little boy for Daddy.

Both in Chicago and Dayton, The Button kindled lighted interest and silent approval among the Negro porters. Carole's self-confidence was restored by the time she joined her Quaker friend from Iowa for the last lap of the journey to the committee meeting in Richmond, Ind.

"You are here!", Eva exclaimed as if to convince herself.

"I made it and don't ask me how," Carole exclaimed good-naturedly as she secretly considered their friendship one of the wonders of the Freedom Movement. "Two more unlikely people have ever passed the time of day," she thought.

Eva guided the car skillfully from the parking lot to the highway. In response to a complaint about lack of correspondence, Carole looked at her good friend and commented with a sly grin, "Who can keep up with you traipsing across the country!"

Gaudineer, Jr. Files As Democratic Repres.

Lee H. Gaudineer Jr., assistant city attorney, has filed nomination papers as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for state representative from Polk County.

Gaudineer, 32, of 2901 E. 40th St. Ct., has been a member of the city legal department since 1952. Prior to this appointment he served as assistant Polk County Attorney.

GAUDINEER, JR.

A native of Des Moines, Gaudineer was graduated from Lincoln High School. He received his bachelor of arts degree from Grinnell College, his law degree from Drake University School of Law, and has completed a year of graduate law study at the University of Missouri, Kansas City Division.

Gaudineer, a Korean War Veteran, served three years as a paratrooper with the U. S. Army.

He favors a critical analysis and revision of existing legislation on property taxes; increased state aid to schools; legislation enabling Iowa to qualify for its maximum allotment of federal public welfare funds; home rule for cities and towns; and more equitable distribution to urban areas of the road use tax.

Centurians Wanted!

We are seeking persons who are eligible for membership in the 100 clubs. Main qualifications are that they must be 100 years or older and reside in Iowa. We also want a brief history of each. We would like pictures, but they aren't necessary. We plan to publish these in the 70th anniversary edition. Please let us hear from you before May 15.

A VOTE FOR WALLACE IS VOTE FOR TERROR, WILKINS WARNS

Indianapolis—Indiana voters preparing to cast their ballots in the presidential primary, May 5, were reminded by NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins that one of the candidates is "the head of the Child Murder State."

Addressing 1,000 delegates and friends at a dinner meeting here during the two-day Midwest regional NAACP conference, April 10-11, Mr. Wilkins recalled the killing in Birmingham last September of four young Negro girls at Sunday school, a crime for which no one has been apprehended. He also cited the seven-month jail sentences imposed upon two white youths convicted of killing a 13-year-old Negro boy on the same day in that city.

He branded the State of Alabama, "the Child Murder State" and pointed out that the governor of the state is George Wallace, now seeking votes in Indiana for the Democratic presidential nomination.

"If Indiana citizens want to endorse his [Gov. Wallace's] government of terror and death for children because they happen not to be white, if they want this kind of man for President of the United States, then they should vote for Wallace May 5."

SUI Sets Exchange Program With Southern Schools

Iowa City, Iowa—A trial student exchange between The State University of Iowa and predominantly Negro schools in the South may be conducted next fall.

The trial program will involve not more than 10 students each semester from a maximum of three accredited schools on a person-for-person exchange basis. Students will pay the tuition of their home schools.

The Student Association for Racial Equality at SUI will seek to raise funds for scholarships, travel and housing. SARE has been active in efforts to improve race relations, and was instrumental in planning the student exchange in cooperation with University officials.

So far, three southern schools have expressed interest in the exchange program. They are Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.; Grambling, La., College and Talladega, Ala., College.

Bethlehem Steel Training Negroes For Top Posts

Wilmington, Del.—Edmund F. Martin, who took over Tuesday as Bethlehem Steel Corp.'s board chairman, told the annual stockholders meeting "we would like to employ Negroes in top jobs, but we can't get them."

Martin said the men in all Bethlehem Steel is providing such opportunities for Negroes. One of the chief questioners was Lewis Gilbert of New York.

Martin said the men in all Bethlehem Steel's top jobs have degrees in mechanical engineering, and that that requirement limits for the time being the number of Negroes who might be considered for such positions.

"Not many are graduates of engineering schools," he said. "The only way to do more, to get Negroes in these jobs," Martin continued, "is to train them within the organization, and this we are trying to do."

He said the company has always had a policy of non-discrimination.

Are you planning to buy a new car on credit? Before you rush into installment buying, ask yourself, "Do I really need a new car immediately?" Then consider saving until you have enough money to pay cash.

Borrowing is an expensive business these days. For example, say you had $800 on hand and wanted to buy a $2,400 car. You'd have to borrow $1,600. If the interest rate were only 5%, the loan would cost you $120 over 18 months. The car would actually cost you $2,520, and you'd have payments of $95.55 a month.

On the other hand, if you put your $800 in a savings account, and added a deposit of $95.55 each month, at the end of 18 months, you'd have the $2,400 cash you need for the new car, plus over $220 in accumulated interest.

If you can, put off buying that car until you can pay cash.
You'll be money ahead.

FORT DODGE

BY MRS. THERESA SIMMONS
526 4th Avenue South

Negro students who will graduate in the June classes in Fort Dodge high schools may have their pictures and writeups published in the 70th anniversary edition "Graduate Page" in June. If you are interested contact the news correspondent (above) for further details. Thank you.

"Incredible" and "excellent" were adjectives used freely to describe the performance of the 55-member Des Moines YMCA Boys Chorus and Bell
Ringers group which presented a 90-minute program at the First Methodist Church here Sunday afternoon.

More than 200 attended the unusual performance sponsored by the Fort Dodge Interracial Commission.
Profits will go into the commission's scholarship fund.

The boys, 8 to 15, sang popular, novelty, sacred and spiritual and patriotic numbers to warm applause.
But it was their skill in using a variety of bells ranging from cricket bells to triple octave organ chimes and sleigh bells which really captivated the audience.

Robert White, Jr., was in the hospital with a virus for several days
but he is doing nicely now.

Mable Mosley spent several days visiting her mother and father. She makes her home in Chicago, Ill., and is a government employee. Miss Dar-line Lewis also made the trip with Mable. Darline is making her home in Chicago now. Several parties were given for the girls while they were here.

College of Nursing

One of the three faculty of the Fort Dodge Community College of Nursing is Miss Margie N. Johnson.
The first class in nursing will be graduated from the college in January 1965. Among student nurses is Carol Holmes.

The concert was especially enjoyable for Mrs. Lettie Thompson, 618 Twelfth avenue southwest, vice president of the Interracial Commission.
Three of her grandsons, children of her daughter, Mrs. Maryalice Brown of Des Moines, were in the chorus.
They are Dart, 14, Kevin, 12, and Don, 10. Dart appeared in several of the novelty groups as well as with the chorus and bell ringers.

readers) to show it. Help make this a big one.

Because there are over 100 graduates in the Des Moines high schools this year it will be impossible to get individual letters to all of them so we are sending no letters. We will be available to give information to those who are interested. Please call or write before May 25.

Recently we heard about the cruel, est prank joke that anyone can think of. Lynda Walker, who stood in for our babysitter a couple of weeks ago, said that she and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Warfield, 1131 9th street, had been bothered by prank calls, in which no one would say anything, but just keep ringing the phone. Finally whoever was ringing the phone told Mrs. Warfield some weird tale about their daughter, which Mrs. Warfield knew was a fib, to put it blandly. The climax came one morning when soon after Mrs. Warfield arrived at work. Someone called her, told her daughter had been in a car wreck and was at Broadlawn Polk County hospital. Mrs. Warfield checked Grand View college where Lynda attends, and as luck would have it, Lynda had missed her bus, and of course, was late arriving. When Mrs. Warfield learned her daughter was not at school, she prepared to go to the hospital, with the sympathetic aid of fellow workers. When she arrived at the hospital and checked, she found it had all been a hoax.

When Mr. Warfield learned of the incident and subsequent harrowing experience, he had the phone company discontinue service.

We are fast zooming onto May the month of flowers, and after the wonderful, earth quenching showers we have had the past weekend, we will have equally wonderful flowers in profusion. Perhaps the past weekend showers are getting out of the way of the Drake Relays. If you are a fan, don't count on it! We have no guarantee from the weatherman.

We have several more to add to our list of persons who are with the help of friends and courageous patience, are convalescing from serious or not too serious illness.

One is Mr. Calvin Pruitt, who lives in the 700 block on Hull avenue. He suffered a stroke on Christmas eve and since has been steadily but slowly fighting an uphill convalescing battle. He is social master of the Elks organization, in which he has long been active.

Also on the convalescing list is Mrs. Mollie Beverly, 1441 E. 19th street, who is recovering from rib injuries suffered when the car she was driving went out of control on Harding road about two weeks ago and hit a tree. Mrs. Beverly said she was taken to a hospital, treated, and told to go home and take "very good care of herself until she mended completely."

We hope that you weren't too inconvenienced by our telephone service last week. Those of you who might have tried to get us at home Tuesday or early Wednesday morning, might not have been able to get us. According to telephone repairmen they had not seen any case like it. It turned out to be the freakish thing you could dream up.

First the phone went dead. No one could get us or we could not call out. When the phone rang, we picked up the receiver and it kept on ringing, which must have been very frustrating to anyone trying to contact us.

The repairman came and said we needed a new phone which they proceeded to install.

Then what happened for us after the repairman left, was more nightmarish than the first time. People could get us but we couldn't get them. We could get the phone company and a supervisor, or someone in charge of repair department, told us it must be something in the switch mechanism in the office and should clear up later that evening. It didn't. Nor did it the next morning.

Well, what proceeded for the next several hours, almost ended up making us feel as if the phone company thought we were a little stupid or something. They had a way to watch and check while you dial to test your phone. Anyway to make a long story short, when we dialed, it never recorded the first two numbers and by the time you got halfway through, it sounded like a bunch of bees in the mouthpiece. The man on the other end in the phone office kept insisting we were dialing wrong. By the time we reached the boiling point, they agreed to another house check. That took another hour as the repair expert was just bound that he would not be baffled by the mechanism of a mere telephone dial. Before he finally decided to put in a new phone, he too was mumbled strange sounding words to himself. Anyway the third phone is working perfectly.

Negro students who will be graduating from the Des Moines public and parochial schools in June, are asked to call the Bystander and ask for News editor if they are interested in having their picture and writeup in the 70th anniversary in June. If you have a son or daughter in the graduating classes, it will be wonderful if you could see that they arrange it or do it yourself as a graduating gift for them. The 70th anniversary will be the biggest and best edition in point of pictures, features, stories and anniversary greetings and advertising, that the Bystander has ever had. It will be a copy that you will want to keep for posterity. When you think of it 70 years is a long time for any newspaper to publish, and particularly a Negro newspaper, that has to battle more financial and physical odds. The Bystander has been the only Negro paper to remain steadfast and publish consistently in Iowa and currently is the only one in the state. We have been told many times how readers enjoy the Bystander, which is always welcome music to the ears. However, now is your chance, (the

GROTHE HITS COUNCIL
LAG ON EMPLOYMENT

Speaking in opposition to a proposal to pass a fair housing ordinance in Des Moines, Jens Grothe, a member of the city council, said that fair employment should be given first consideration.

He called attention to the fact that racial discrimination existed in the fire, engineering and clerk departments and these matters should be cleared up first.

All these departments deny that any discrimination exists but the mere fact that no Negroes serve on the fire department, the largest department in the city and likewise in the clerk's office bare the statement out. One Negro is now serving in the drafting department.

In spite of the fact that Des Moines has had some type of fair employment measure for years, city officials—the creator of the body—has taken the position by their action that they were not subject to the ordinance and even though they state that employees are hired on the merit only, some devices have been used to hire whom they choose.

Frankly, the council itself, which is charged with making the policies of the city, has never given the matter of equal employment serious consideration. Substantial proof of discrimination has been brought to the council on numerous occasions, but the protests have gone without action, without investigation.

After all, it is important that a man makes money. If he has none, he cannot purchase the home he desires or provide other things that make for good homes and good families.

Since Grothe has raised this question and knows whereof he speaks, it is hoped that he can persuade the council to correct some of the injustices that lie under its doorsteps and about which it has a clear opportunity, duty and right to do something about it.

FOOLISH REPLIES TO UNEQUAL DISTRIBUTION OF FEDERAL FUNDS

Senator Proxmire of Wisconsin, speaking in support of the civil rights bill said it would help correct the unequal distribution of federal funds practiced by some states.

Senator Eastland of Mississippi challenged the charge, that no such practices prevailed in his state and that he know of no economic discrimination being practiced in his state against Negroes.

In reply to this, Senator Proxmire cited figures taken from the department of agriculture:

"In 1960-61, in the Greenwood area, average daily attendance of 4,943, the white percentage was 57 percent, and the Negro percentage was 43 percent. The white percentage of the free lunches was 79 percent and the Negroes 21 percent.

"In 1961-62, the average daily attendance was 5,130. The white percentage was 57 percent—the same, and the Negro percentage was 43 percent. The white percentage of the free lunches was 80 percent and the Negro percentage was 20 percent."

But in spite of this statement, Senator Eastland said no such discrimination was being practiced, that the agriculture department survey was incorrect.

The practice of unequal distribution of public funds exists in many states. Senator Eastland knows it but passes the matter on without any proof other than that his word is good. Situations like these simply add up to the necessity of the passage of the civil rights bill.

We Are Modest, But

For 70 years we have been known for our modesty, but we aren't so modest that we will refuse your anniversary ads or greetings for the 70th anniversary edition in June. We hope to make this a unique and comprehensive edition that every reader will want to keep for posterity. But we need your help! We don't want to brag but 70 years is a long time to serve you.

It's Drake Relay Time Again

By Staff Writer

It is that time again! This weekend will mark the 54th Drake Relays, the last of the midwest track meets each year. Records and near-records will fall. Disappointments and victorious happiness will walk alongside each other as the various events are held. The grandstand will be colorful with the many school band and tracksters colors. And of course, all Drake fans, hope the total will be emblazoned with sunshine.

Among the teams from all-Negro colleges scheduled to make appearances will be Texas Southern, Tennessee A. T. and Lincoln University of Missouri. Negroes who will dominate some of their school teams will be the Taylor brothers (from Des Moines) from Northeast Missouri State Teachers college, Arizona State.

Bill Dogget Is Coming

To Des Moines July 10

Well it is here again—the series of mad scramble around a cinder path called the Drake Relays is here for the umpteenth time. As is the case every four years a lot of events that might be run in the Olympics are added so you will be seeing the first mid-western series of Olympic trials. Certainly the two fastest 220 men in the country will hook up in a special event whoever else they get in that race will be running for themselves only. Then Ules Williams probably the fastest quarter miler in the country will be out there. Oh, there will be a lot of guys in what could be the greatest of all the Drake Relays.

There will be a host of Negro schools and they won't be coming just for the ride. Texas Southern, Florida A. & M., Prairie View, Lincoln University of Missouri and a few others are after their share of gold watches and medals.

We always think of the first few times we saw Negro schools in the relays. They had no idea of how stiff the competition was and as if that weren't just about froze the poor fellows out. We were glad when their race was over and a little angry at the polite applause the boys got for finishing eighth in a six team race. But now people wonder where all their running Negroes come from. We think we know. Here at home we will be watching Clyde Duncan of North. If the guy can get a quarter mile in around 48 seconds we would give him a chance to at least make the Olympics tryout finals. Maybe running just a quarter mile he can. Then he will have his hands full listening to offers from Negro colleges who would like to have him on their track team. Of course, Duncan isn't the whole show out there but without him North High would be in trouble.

One of the events we never get tired of watching is that scramble called the grade school shuttle race. Some of those kids run in that and then in junior high, senior high and comeback as college runners. So one never knows when these flying kids will turn up some day.

Hayes' :09.1 Ties
World 100 Mark

Orangeburg, S. C. — Robert Hayes of Florida A. and M. equalled his world record of 9.1 seconds in the 100-yard dash Saturday in the South Carolina Invitational track and field meet for Negro colleges.

Hayes set the record in June last year during the Amateur Athletic Union championships at St. Louis.

Hayes also won the 220-yard dash in 21.5.

Clyde Duncan Speeds
On; Breaks 3 of His Own Records Saturday

Marshalltown, Ia. — With an apparent eye to his life's aspirations—to run in the Olympics—Clyde Duncan broke three of his own records Saturday in the Bobcat Invitational track meet here.

Duncan, lowering three marks he set a year ago, ran the 100-yard dash in 9.7 seconds, the 220 in :21.8 and the 440 in :49. He clipped one-tenth of a second off each and won all three handily.

DUNCAN

Three other records were set, also. Ames, which took the meet for the 10th straight time, hacked 8 more seconds off the record set by Roosevelt in 1961. Jack Baker of Roosevelt of Des Moines high jumped 6 feet three inches for a record and Ames' Jim Handley set the other record with a 1:58.5 in the 880.

Should be some show. Hope to see you out there. It will be the 46th time for us.

TRUTH NEVER DIES

Truth never dies. The ages come and go.

The mountains wear away, the stars retire.

Destruction lays earth's mighty cities low;

And empires, states and dynasties expire;

But caught and handed onward by the wise,
Truth never dies.

Though unrequited and scoffed at through the years;

Though made the butt of ridicule and jest;

Though held aloft for mockery and jeers,

Denied by those of transient power possessed,

Insulted by the insolence of lies,
Truth never dies.

It answers not. It does not take offense.

But with might bides its time;
As some great cliff that braves the elements

And lifts through all the storms

its head sublime,
It ever stands, uplifted by the wise;
And never dies.

As rests the Sphinx amid the Egyptian sands;
As looms on high the snowy peak and crest;

As firm and patient as Gibraltar stands,
So truth, unwearied, waits the era blest

When men shall turn to it with great surprise.
Truth never dies.
