D.M. NAACP Will Sponsor Telecast to KRNT Theater Honoring School Decision

The Des Moines Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, in conjunction with the National Office, will observe the 10th anniversary of the U.S. Supreme Court's historic ruling on school segregation with a nationwide closed-circuit TV spectacular, May 14, featuring top names from Broadway and Hollywood. Steve Allen of TV fame and the inimitable Lena Horne will serve as co-chairmen of the West Coast portion of the show. Ed Sullivan and Sammy Davis, Jr., star of stage, screen and TV will serve in similar capacities for the East Coast segment of the telecast.

C. Frank Franklin, Des Moines chairman of the Publicity Committee, assisted by Robert Ardren, co-chairman.

The Des Moines telecast will be seen at KRNT Theatre beginning at 8:30 p.m. daylight savings time. (For ticket information, call KRNT Theatre, the New Utica or the Des Moines Branch of the N.A.A.C.P.)

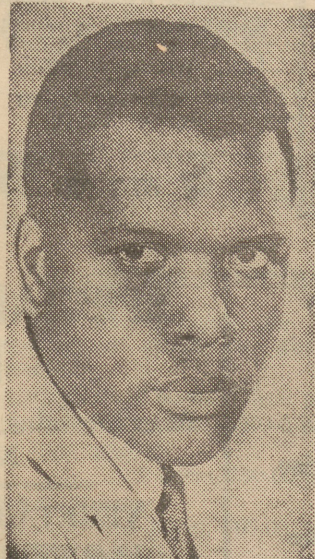

Sidney Poitier, winner of the 1963 Best Actor Oscar for his role in "Lilies of the Field," will be one of the featured attractions on the NAACP's "Freedom Spectacular."

Poitier was born in Miami, Fla., on Feb. 4, 1927, but was raised in Nassau. At 18 he joined the U. S. Army and was trained as a physiotherapist in a mental hospital. When he got his discharge, he decided to stay in New York and do "something constructive" with his life.

Broadway

Spotting a newspaper story that the American Negro Theater was looking for actors, Sidney decided to make application. He worked as a janitor in exchange for acting lessons. As his theatrical education progressed, he advanced to bit parts in weekly productions, and one night New York director James Light noted the young actor's talent. Through Light, Poitier won a Broadway bit that attracted favorable attention and went on to prominent roles in "Lysistrata," "Freight" and "Anna Lucasta."

Film Feats

In 1949, Poitier made his film bow in "No Way Out", and his performance led to his selection for the long and difficult role of Reverend Msinangu in "Cry the Beloved Country." Then came the part that brought him high critical praise and an international reputation—Miller in "The Blackboard Jungle." Poitier's latest starring role, in "Lilies of the Field," displays a little-known side of the many-faceted young actor's talent.

Mrs. Broadus who told the Bystander that "she was looking forward to the job" previously worked as a floorwalker in a local department store; her latest job was as a sales clerk and department head at Katz drugstore.

Her appointment came after weeks of consultations of various civil rights and church groups with the city officials urging that a qualified Negro be named.

Mrs. Broadus is the mother of two children.

Charles Gray, 25, Arrested by F.B.I. For Chicago Murders

Arrested at Work

Gray, who gave his Des Moines address as 1246 Fifteenth st., was arrested Apr. 21 while at work at Vic's Tally-Ho Restaurant, 5601 Douglas ave., by FBI agents. The agents, who said Gray is wanted in Chicago for two murders arrested him on a warrant charging flight to avoid prosecution for murder.

Gray had been working as a bus boy in the restaurant since January. Agents said he apparently came here in late November and has been living here with his wife and mother.

He is being held in the Polk County jail in lieu of a $25,000 bond set by U. S. Commissioner F. E. Van Alstine.

Several Hundred to Walk Around City Hall, Then to State Capitol in Protest

The Des Moines Citizens for Fair Housing, cooperating with other peace, civil rights, and church groups, will conduct a fair housing demonstration Saturday afternoon, May 2nd from 1-3 P.M. Several hundred demonstrators are expected to assemble in front of City Hall, E. 1st & Locust Streets, at 1 P.M., at which time there will be folk singing led by Paul Clark, a Drake University student, and a brief address and instructions to the participants by the leader of the demonstration, Rev. Joseph Gaines, Pastor of St. John's Baptist Church.

Marching

They will march around City Hall to demonstrate their desire to live in a city where housing is rented and sold on a just basis rather than on a color basis, and also to demonstrate their belief that the City Council has some responsibility for establishing justice. They will then march over Locust Street to the State Capitol. Marching around the State Capitol will demonstrate their belief that the State Government also has some responsibility for establishing justice in this area. The demonstration will end with a brief meeting on the Capitol steps, which will include folk songs and announcements of future demonstrations.

A "LAWYERS' PEACE CORPS" MOVES TO MISSISSIPPI

Detroit, Mich.—The National Lawyers Guild launched its summer Mississippi Project at a luncheon meeting, Thursday, April 23, at Detroit's Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel.

The Project calls for lawyers to participate in a Peace Corps-type operation in Mississippi, defending, without fee, persons who would otherwise be without defense.

A letter has been sent to every member of the Guild urging them to donate from a week to three months of their time to the Mississippi Project.

"Law Day, U.S.A." will be celebrated on May 1st, said Ernest Goodman, Detroit attorney and Guild national president.

"It is appropriate to add a new

Rights, Fair Housing Interest Group in Ames, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Interdenominational Ministers' Alliance, and Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Dr. William Eckhardt is chairman of the committee on Demonstrations and a member of the Des Moines Citizens for Fair Housing.

Equal Justice

"One situation which cries out for a remedy exists in Mississippi. Of two million people living in that State, 900,000 are Negro; yet, only 3 Mississippi lawyers (all Negro) will handle civil rights cases," Goodman said.

"Our purpose in going to Mississippi is to help bring into reality one of the principles of Law Day—equal justice under the law. As far as I know, the 'Lawyers Peace Corps' is the first project of its kind."

Reporter Tells of Concerns of Questioners Participating in Interracial Visits Exchange

By Frances E. Hawthorne

My husband and I were among the more than 500 Negro and white persons who participated in the second annual "Exercise in Understanding" here Sunday afternoon. We were visitors.

When the letter came from the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights (one of the sponsoring groups and the headquarters for planning) we were thanked for "agreeing to participate" and our attention was directed to some suggested questions. Our hosts would be Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Riley, 3819 Lincoln Place drive. A follow-up letter informed us (due to the shortage of Negro visitors) we would be the only Negro couple at the Rileys.

Previous Calls

Sunday came and we were on our way. Previously I had called Mrs.

Riley to tell her "we were looking forward to the visit" and she warmly voiced the same sentiment. Earlier Sunday afternoon Mr. Riley called to confirm if we knew how to get to their address and we assured him we did.

Six Couples

When we arrived another couple and man were there already and as we exchanged introductions, another couple came up the walk. Before the discussion got underway there were six couples, a priest and the gentleman.

Range

The questions and discussions ranged far and wide over the racial issues and ramifications and yet remained pertinent mostly to Des Moines. There is no attempt here to

Sojourner Truth

The Crucifixion—Modern Style
The Beloved Leader relaxed in an overstuffed green leather chair in his church study as he marvelled that the tense, earnest white acquaintance who sat facing him had been chosen King Herold's Official Representative.

"My organization addresses itself to problems in the South, as you know," the Beloved Leader had answered in reply to a startling question.

Herold's Representative leaned forward quite unconsciously in his effort to control his impatience with this calm, inscrutable Negro leader. The Official Representative of the C.R. movement though, "Surely this man knows King Herold has been expecting a public statement from him as to his attitude toward these stall-in extremists!"

The Representative made a fresh start, "You are a man of national influence. People listen to you, B.L. King Herold is expecting a word of caution from you to your people," the Official urged. "You know we are on your side," he pleaded.

"My advice was not asked concerning the stall-in. I feel no need to express a personal opinion in a disagreement outside my organization," B. L. explained patiently.

King Herold's Official Representative was feeling naked in the placid dark eyes of his host, Panic loosened his controlled frustration into pointed suggestions of stupidity. "I'm trying to tell you, B.L. that Herold is under pressure. THE WORD is there are communist agitators taking over the Civil Rights movement. How can we help you if you don't co-operate?" the Representative asked plaintively.

"Am I in need of help," our Beloved Leader asked quite surprised. "It is reported that there is a communist right next to you," the official Representative of King Herold had not intended the real reason for his visit to be revealed in so crude and bald a fashion. Thoughts of himself dissolved in surprise at the Beloved Leader's response. Complete and concentrated silence gathered between the two men.

One question after another rose to haunt the thoughts of the Official Representative. "Is he angry? I didn't say he was a communist. Can't he understand we are trying to help?"

Our Beloved Leader's thoughts were filled with the faces, the personalities, the unwavering trust and loyalty to the movement of civil rights leaders, young and old. The terrible question, "Which one?" struck like a bolt of lightning and thrust the presence of the Official Representative to his attention.

"You may tell King Herold what I have said," our Beloved Leader extended his hand as both men stood. "As to the communist, there are two questions which I must answer before I ask his name. Tell King Herold I thank him for his concern" the Leader added.

The door of the study closed behind the visitor. The Beloved Leader sat down at his desk. He bowed his head in prayer which began with the ancient question, "Why ME, O, Lord?"

Race Bias Fosters Stall-in Wilkins Tells Californians

Pasadena, Calif.—The continuing opposition to extension of full civil rights to Negroes in the West and North as well as in the South contributes to the development of such "faulty and ill-chosen" tactics as the stall-in at the World's Fair in New York City, NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins, charged in an address before the students of the California Institute of Technology here, April 22.

Wilkins was on the campus as a guest of the Caltech YMCA for the Y's "Leaders of America" program which annually presents an outstanding citizen in a major address and a series of informal seminars and conferences with students during a two-day program.

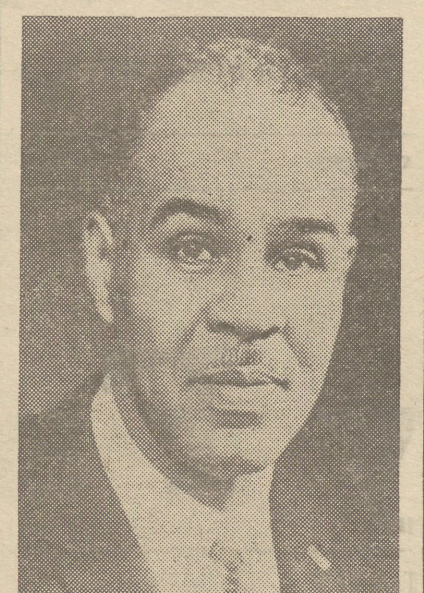

Referendum

In his address, the NAACP leader cited the upcoming California referendum for repeal of the state's fair housing law as the type of anti-civil rights that gives rise to extreme counter-action.

"Out here," he said, "your ideas are supposed to be fresh, different. Instead, the referendum on the fair housing law is old and mean with racial animosity. Your California referendum is one cause of the automobile stall-in at the World's Fair in New York City. The stall-in is a smash at the America ghetto of housing discrimination, of employment discrimination, of school discrimination, of voting discrimination—at all the bars that hem the Negro in."

Continuing, Wilkins said: "Your referendum is telling your fellow Negro Americans that organized government will not tolerate a law that gives him a chance to break the color line. The Senators opposing the civil rights bill are telling them the same story.

"So the frustrated ones strike at government and at the people in a senseless but understandable, blow at everyone. The lesson is that if we don't have more sense on one side, we are going to have more senselessness on the other."

Others who contribute to fostering stall-in type of reaction include, Mr. Wilkins said, the John Birch Society which "has just called officially for the defeat of the civil rights bill";

Governor George C. Wallace of Alabama; the so-called Coordinating Committee for Fundamental American Freedoms "to which the State of Mississippi has forwarded $260,000"; and the defenders of the states' rights system.

BURLINGTON

Mrs. E. T. Hicks represented the Senior branch with the president.

Union Baptist church Missionary Society held its annual spring style revue at the Hitching Post. Mrs. Lola Williams, president, headed the affair. Her artistic decorations carried out an April Shower with soft pastel colors of pink apple blossoms, beautiful tulip bows on tables, with goblets filled with glittering tulip and miniature umbrellas and bows. The ceiling was sprinkled with tiny umbrellas and bows. The models were beautiful and the styles were fabulous. Mrs. Geraldine Brown was narrator of the style show.

The sick of Burlington are Mrs. Wealtha Bowles, Mrs. Andrew Thompson at home, Mrs. Hazel Drewings in Burlington hospital. Little Allen Crossen, 6, was struck by a car and was in the hospital for a few days. He is at home after suffering bruises of both legs and his teeth were damaged.

report questions and statements verbatim since we were not there in a reporting capacity, but will give some of the general discussions, questions and impressions.

Concern

Our questioners were concerned with—What is the most pressing problem for Negroes in Des Moines? What can be done? How do you explain to your children about racial problem? If we work around very few or no Negroes and live in an all-white area, how do we get to know Negroes and understand their problems? Is the Negro too sensitive and thus attribute any negative action (being turned down on jobs, etc.) as an affront to his race? If the races mingle more together will there be a lot of intermarriages? Are school boycotts and other demonstrations the answer to protesting the Negro problems?

No One Problem

Out of the discussion came the realization that there was no one particular problem as such, but they all dovetailed. The need for fair housing reflected a need also for equal opportunity for jobs; both led back to a need for educating people and making them understand the need for human dignity for all and the right to use and partake of all public facilities and opportunities without being rejected because of race and made to feel like a freak or a "nothing."

No Preferential Treatment

We emphasized that Negroes do not want preferential treatment but only to be accepted like another human if they happen to be the most qualified. We pointed out that the Negro parent having built a shell around himself, builds an arm of protection around his child and bring his child up as a normal human being and meet the question usually as incidents occur, when and if they do. We pointed out that this may not be right, but it is most Negroes' answer to his unique parental problem.

Children

We pointed out that thousands of Negro and white children go to school together, year after year, and even in states and cities where there is no law against it, there are very few intermarriages. Naturally some will occur. But what the Negro wants is not social acceptance by white persons, but just human acceptance, the right to live as people, and be judged so.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Gargling Notes

Medical and dental authorities have voiced a theory that may make a surprising splash in some circles. According to them, an all-out war to kill bacteria in the mouth may not be such a good idea.

Do you want to keep your mouth clear of food particles? Great! Go ahead . . . rinse and gargle, gargle and rinse. Use your favorite mouth-

Integrity

Our questioners emphasized the need for white persons to have the luxury of moral integrity—pointing out that for those who want to do the right thing, must often brave severe criticisms of neighbors, co-workers on the job, disagreeing relatives, and being called "odd balls." One lady said, "We odd balls are finding one another."

Another said, "Many white people reading about the current racial problems, are in fear that the Negro will get in power and take everything away (his job, home, etc.)"

Status Symbol

The group discussed how many white persons need the Negro as a status symbol, someone to look down on. "Some white people fear that Negroes want to drag them down to their level," one speaker said, "but we know that the Negro doesn't want to drag anyone down; he is trying to get up."

Beyond Time

The discussion went beyond the allotted time set by the sponsoring groups. No one was there for kicks. We all wanted to LEARN. We all agreed that education on the races was the key to better race relations. We all agreed that such exchanges of meetings and discussion as Sunday's were good meeting grounds.

wash if you like, or use fresh H₂O. The results will be about the same. Gargling is fine—but when it comes to keeping the teeth clean, there's no substitute for the toothbrush.

Looking for a nice refreshing taste, or a sprightly fragrant aroma? Good—use mouthwash. That's its real function. If you want to "save" your teeth or clear the bacteria from your mouth—again, water is just as good. Cleaning teeth is still the job of toothbrushing.

Anyone want to disguise mouth odor? This too is something a mouthwash may do. But remember, odor is usually a sign of something wrong. It can be disguised, but not corrected, with a mouthwash. If odor persists, it should be checked by your dentist or doctor.

Physicians warn that clearing the mouth of all bacteria may not be desirable. Animals previously free of bacteria, when transferred to normal environments, have shown lower resistance than other, "ordinary" animals. They turned out highly prone to dental disorders. In the same way, people rid of all bacteria, including the kind capable of combating disease-producing organisms, might end up more susceptible to illness than others.

In the long run, your best bet for maintaining oral health is to ask your dentist what's right for you. It's his business to know, and he does.

the State of Iowa, in and for Polk County, Iowa, and that by order of court dated September 25, 1962 the petitioner took possession of said real property and that continued

A note accompanied a news item from Mrs. Mary Lou Johnson, of Lincoln, Neb., who recently visited in Des Moines. She wrote: "Being one of your subscribers I thought I would send a bit of news. I am a former resident but I still enjoy the Bystander very much."

On the ailing list last week was Mrs. Woodrow Lewis of 1710 Carpenter street; she was bedridden for several days but had the cheerful assistance of her family and neighbors and friends. She is retiring president of Washington Irving P.T.A., and when we checked with her earlier about another matter she reminded us about the "Get Acquainted" coffee for parents in the area who have children in 6th grade in the vicinity. The Coffee was held following the regular meeting Tuesday when 1964-65 officers were installed also.

Seems as if Moulten P.T.A. has been plagued with many minor incidents that have interfered with the attendance of several loyal members and officers. The latest happened to our new president-elect, Mrs. Norma Fox, 1524 who fell early Friday morning and fractured an ankle. The incident prevented her attending the Spring District VIII conference at Westminster Presbyterian Church on Monday.

The current accelerated civil rights activities are inspiring all kinds of slogans and repartees. The latest we heard goes like this. One guy volunteering to go on coffee break and bring back cups for his co-workers, asks, "How do you want it? Black or integrated?"

Which reminds us of a sign we saw on a car in the neighborhood which said, "Wife has gun; Must travel."

Mrs. Josephine Warren, 1110 8th street, was able to get her four-month-old son from Still hospital Sunday where he had been confined for over a week with pneumonia.

We are pleased at some of the response we have had about various features and articles for the 70th anniversary edition. However, we would like to have more. Particularly about longtime subscribers and graduates of 15 to 20 years. We are also looking to hear from prospective graduates from Des Moines parochial and public high schools. We also will take pictures and writeups on college graduates. Just call us for additional information.

BOYCOTT LEVER BROS.
PRODUCTS IN ST. LOUIS

The NAACP in St. Louis is conducting a boycott against Lever Brothers. Stores selling their products are the objects of the campaign. St. Louis has a large Negro population. Much of it is concentrated in definite areas. Thus, stores located in these areas are receiving much of the trade from Negroes may feel the pinch.

Other communities have tried the project. In some instances, they are known as selective buying. Campaigns in areas sparsely occupied by Negroes can do little other than call attention to the unfairness of some stores.

When Negroes first began to clamor for jobs as clerks, anticipated objections were that white people did not wish to be served by them. Of course, this myth has been exploded.

There are stores in Des Moines with large Negro trade that hire no Negroes even though they maintain many employees. In many instances many of these injustices could be adjusted if efforts were made to come together and furnish prospects from which to select.

A newspaper depends upon advertising for much of its income. Many business establishments do little or no advertising in the By-stander. All kinds of reasons are given as an excuse.

Improvements in each of these instances would come if customers called the injustices to the attention of stores because in these days few establishments wish to be labeled unfair in returning to their customers some of the income in the form of employees and advertising in a Negro newspaper.

SENATE CONDUCTS SERIOUS STALL-IN

Roy Wilkins of the NAACP suggested that senators conducting the filibuster against the civil rights bill are engaged in a grand stall in which blocks an opportunity for a majority to vote on the merits of the measure.

Of course, these senators are carrying on the stall at their place of work. But it makes no difference for friends of civil rights conduct all of the sit-downs, sit-ins and stall-ins on property to which people have been invited to spend their money.

Men realize that violent demonstrations hurt the cause for which they are staged. They are carried on by extremists. Such groups may be found in any segment of the population and yet the people who complain about them so bitterly forget that for years others have done the same thing; some are doing them now. Yet, it is the civil rights group which gets the criticism.

No doubt many senators have never thought of filibuster tactics in this light.

DRAKE UNIVERSITY HAS BEST RELAYS

Drake University conducted one of its most successful relays last week. These things helped to make it so: good athletes, good attendance, good weather.

For the past few years, the people of Des Moines have not supported the relays as they should. Poor attendance helped Des Moines lose its baseball team; it has caused Iowa State to break off football schedules with Drake.

There are towns in this area which maintain a baseball team. It is ridiculous that Des Moines does not. But as long as the people fail to patronize athletic events they will get less each year.

The officials at Drake do a good job with these relays. They are popular over the country. This is evidenced by the schools at long distances from which these athletes come to compete and the large number of out of town people seen at the events. These events must be kept up and one of the best means of assuring this is good attendance by the people.

55th Drake Relays Best Ever -- Yet! 22 Records Falls; Hopkins Stars; Duncan "Burns" the Track

By Staff Writer

Blessed with fair skies and stalwart athletes this 55th annual Drake Relays spectacle turned out to be the best in its history.

The runners literally flew like the wind and jumper like the kangaroo thereby toppling 22 records; one of which had lasted nearly 30 years.

18,000 Fans

A capacity crowd of 18,000 fans at their hot dogs, sat back and thrilled to the colorful musical spectacle of the massed bands of 3,000 play John Phillip Souza's "The Thunderer." This was Saturday.

Friday's winged footed Clyde Duncan of North really showed his stuff as he scooted down the cinder track like a frightened deer running the 100 yard dash in an amazing time of 9.3 seconds. But the wind at six miles an hour was a little too breezy and the marvelous feat will not go into the record books.

Duncan's Relays Feats

Earlier, he tied the Drake Relays record in the 100-yard dash, running into the wind, in 9.7 seconds. This marked his third consecutive triumph in the Relays. Clyde continued to run merrily on his way anchoring his team to victories in the half-mile and the mile relays. In our book Clyde was the top performer of the two-day meet.

Gayle Hopkins

Duncan will, however, have to share honors with jumping ace Gayle Hopkins of Arizona (Formerly of Davenport) who severed the mighty Jesse Owens' broad jump record that had stood since 1935 when he leaped 26 feet 2 inches erasing Owens record of 26 feet 1 1/2 inches. He performed this feat Friday. He came back Saturday "jumpier" than ever. In the top-skip-and-jump event he traveled 51 feet 8 inches through the air breaking his record of 50 ft. two and one-half inches he had set on his previous effort. The old Drake Relays record set by Jack Smyth of Houston in 1958 was 49 ft. 9 in. Hopkins missed the American Collegiate record of 51 Southern California in 1961 by only ft. 9 1/2 in. set by Luther Hayes of 1 1/2 inches.

Texas Southern

Texas Southern Relay team from Houston, Tex., talented, crowd pleasers, set two marks in the sprint medley and half-mile relays. They were pushed hard however, by the boys from La Mar Tech. Lincoln University of Missouri came in second in the half mile relay. They beat the Texas Southern boys, however, in the quarter mile relays. Trenton Jackson of Illinois won the popular 100-yard dash in :09.5. Arizona State's Henry Carr in a special 220 yard spring event Friday beat Omaha's Roger Sayers, in :21.0 seconds.

With a super-human effort at the tape Anthony Watson of Oklahoma nipped Southern Methodist John Roderick in the 440 relays in :40.6 seconds. The supreme effort cost Watson a terrific spill and a pulled muscle and he lay on the track in pain.

Pole Vault

Across the way in the pole vault arena Missouri's Bill Younger catapulted 15 feet 9 1/2 inches to break the old record of 15 feet 7 1/2 inches set by Fred Hanson of Rice university last year.

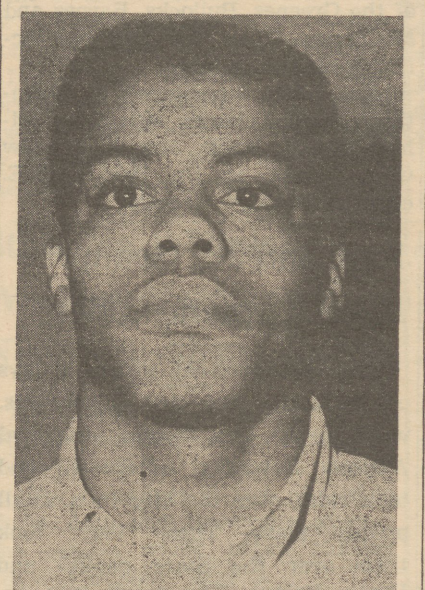

In the shot put event Texas A&M Randy Matson, with a mighty heave, ho hurtled the 22-pound ball 64 feet one inch, for a new Drake Relays record, in the invitational. In the University-college shot put event

Lakers To Exercise
Territorial Rights and
Sign UCLA's Hazzard

Los Angeles — The Los Angeles Lakers of the Western Division of the National Basketball Assn., last week was reported to be hot on the trail of UCLA's great All-American and playmaker, Walt Hazzard.

The Lakers were reported ready to exercise their territorial rights to Hazzard, who this past season led the Bruins to the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. championship.

Frank Mazza of Baylor broke the old Drake Relays record with a 59 feet 10 1/2 inches.

DUNCAN

Records fell hard and heavy at this 55th Relays as athletes seem to get better and he crowds bigger.

Soap Box Derby

A general discussion on car construction will take place at the fifth of six instructional clinics for Soap Box Derby boys Saturday. The clinic will be from 10 a.m. until noon in the Hobby Room of Y. M. C. A.

Soap Box Derby officials always are on hand at instructional clinics to advise boys on construction problems and racing rules.

Registration for the July 19 Derby continues at the three Des Moines Chevrolet dealers.

Criticized at Home,
Cassius to Get Hero's
Welcome in Ghana

Accra, Ghana—With controversies and criticisms in America behind him, world heavyweight champion Cassius Clay will receive a hero's welcome when he arrives here on May 1 to start an extended "get acquainted" African tour.

The state-owned radio Ghana said in a broadcast last week that Accra is going all out to give Clay a tremendous welcome when he arrives.

President

It was not known whether Clay would meet President Kwame Nkrumah, but while in Accra, Cassius will witness the world featherweight title fight between champion Sugar Ramos of Cuba and challenger Floyd Robertson, the Ghanaian title holder.

Dramatization Slated
At Maple St. Sunday

A dramatization, "Twelve Keys to God's Resources," will be presented at Maple Street Baptist church on Sunday, May 3 at 7:45 p.m. Sponsored by the Senior choir.

We believe there is anybody around who hasn't heard of the feats performed by the Drake Relays athletes. Who hasn't heard of Clyde Duncan's 9.3 hundred and Gayle Hopkins' two record breaking jumps. The track jump mark was just about the oldest on the books.

Several fellows came near it, among them Mack Robinson and Jerome Biffle. Then there was this fellow Boston, but Hopkins got the height that Jesse Owens always said one must have to jump that far and that was it. The guy figures to go for the triple jump in the Olympics and we guess if he can stay around 51 feet he will make the team and maybe win the jump at Tokyo.

College 100

We didn't figure Anthony Watson to crowd Trenton Jackson in the 100 but the long guy from Oklahoma nearly beat Jackson. Watson and Jackson were buy men until Watson pulled a muscle in helping his team win the quarter mile relay. We were all disappointed at not seeing the Arizona State boys in the mile relay. We wanted to see Henry Carr and Ullius Williams run when they had to. Carr had coasted to a 21 flat 220 in beating Omaha's Roger Sayers in a special race Friday.

The Texas Southern team made the other fellow know who was boss in a couple of races winning the sprint medley and half mile relay setting records in both events. Lincoln ran second in the half mile, but beat the Texans in the quarter mile.

Integration

This integration squabble had a hand in the relays. La Mar Tech's Joe LeBlanc, a Negro anchored his team and both times he was nipped at the tape by a Texas Southern runner in the spring medley and the mile relays. Some guy in the press box said "If La Blanc had been in the Southern team the races wouldn't have been close."

er.

Black Muslim

Nicknamed "The Lip" because of his constant boasting about himself, Clay ran into a storm of criticism from fellow Americans after winning the title from Sonny Liston in one of the ring's biggest upsets on Feb. 25. Most of the criticism seems to stem from the fact that he has embraced the "Black" Muslim religion of "The Honorable" Elijah Muhammad. Muhammad preaches, among other things, the separation of the Negro and white races.

LET ME BE A LITTLE KINDER

Let me be a little kinder to the faults of those about me;
Let me praise a little more,
Let me be when I am weary, just a little bit more cheery,
Let me serve a little better—those that I am striving for,
Let me be a little braver, when temptation bids me waver;
Let me strive a little more to be all that I should be;
Let me be a little meeker with the brother that is weaker;

Let me think more of my neighbor and a little less of me.
Don't look for the flowers as you go through life;
And even when you find them, it is wise and kind to be somewhat blind
And look for the virtues behind them.
—Anon, from Worthwhile Poems

AFTER ALL

We take our share of fretting,
Of grieving and forgetting,
The paths are often rough and steep

And heedless feet may fall,
But yet the days are cheery,
And night brings rest when weary,
And somehow this old planet is a Good world after all.
Though sharp may be our trouble,
The joys are more than double,
The brave surpass the cowards, and
The lean are like a wall,
To guard their dearest ever,
To fail the feeblest never;
And somehow this old earth remains
A bright world after all.
