Plan Equal Job Conference In Chicago on May 22

Chicago, Ill.—More than 1,500 community leaders have been invited to attend a Regional Conference on Equal Employment Opportunity to be held at the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel in Chicago on May 22.

Announcement of the conference was made today by Hobart Taylor, Jr., Executive Vice Chairman of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

The one-day conference is being sponsored by the President's Committee, of which President Lyndon B. Johnson has served as Chairman since its creation in March, 1961.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Vice Chairman of the Committee, will give the keynote address at the conference.

The purpose of the regional meeting is to foster cooperation between minority group leaders and public officials, educators, employers and unions in the development of equal opportunity.

Invitations to the one-day conference have been mailed to key community leaders in five states—Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, and Wisconsin.

The President's Committee is charged with insuring equal opportunity in employment by the Federal Government, by government contractors and on federally assisted construction projects.

United States District Court Judge James B. Parsons will serve as chairman of a Chicago Citizens Host Arrangements Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

Chas. Toney Resigns from Davenport Rights Group

Davenport — Charles W. Toney, Davenport civil rights leader, today, resigned his post on the city's human relations commission.

This action came in the wake of a determination by Mayor Ray O'Brien and the city council not to consider "any action to amend the city human relations ordinance or to adopt proposed 'fair housing' legislation."

Failure

In a letter to Mayor O'Brien, Toney stated that his decision to resign was prompted by "the failure of the council to consider any of the six amendments to make this commission more effective."

The human relations commission also came in for criticism when Toney noted that "the lack of leadership on the commission itself has reduced this body to the status of window dressing."

6 Amendments

As president of the Davenport Catholic Interracial Council, Toney has been active in urging the strengthening of the commission's enabling legislation. The six amendments proposed to the city council by the Catholic Interracial Council, in February, include an annual budget as well as a full-time executive secretary or director, an increase in the number of commissioners with provision for women members, subpoena power, and a penal clause.

Toney was one of the original appointments to the commission after it was created by the Human Relations Ordinance of July 5, 1962. He has served as the group's secretary from the beginning.

WHITE HOUSE INVITATION

Davenport — A Davenport civil rights leader, Charles W. Toney, has received an invitation from the White House to participate in a one-day conference on equal employment opportunity, it was disclosed recently.

The conference, sponsored by the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity, will be held at the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel, on Friday, May 22.

President Johnson Appoints "Highest" Negro Woman

Washington, D. C. — President Johnson has promoted Charlotte Motion Hubbard to what was described May 7 as the highest ranking permanent federal post to be held by a Negro woman.

Mr. Johnson announced the appointment Wednesday, May 6, of Mrs. Hubbard as a deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs, noting that her father—Dr. Robert R. Motion—had been a successor to Booker T. Washington as president of Tuskegee Institute.

Speaking at a news conference, President Johnson added that Mrs. Hubbard has built "a distinguished reputation in civic affairs, education and government." Mrs. Hubbard, 51, devoted nearly three decades to educational and public relations work before joining the State Department last year to help handle the department's relations with communities around the country.

Another former deputy assistant secretary of state for public affairs is Carl T. Rowan, also a Negro, who now heads the U. S. Information Agency.

NAACP Televised Program Slated Nationwide Tonight; At KRNT Theater Here

Sammy Davis, Jr., appears on the NAACP's "Freedom Spectacular" on Closed Circuit Television, tonight (Thurs.) at 8:30 p.m., CDT, at the KRNT Theater here.

Sammy Davis, Jr., was born into show business in New York on Dec. 12, 1926, the son of vaudeville hoofers, and has known no other life. Sammy quickly demonstrated talent as an entertainer. Barely out of infancy, he so impressed Bill (Bojangles) Robinson with his dancing that the late tap king offered to teach the lad and help him develop his style.

Garry Moore appears also on the NAACP's "Freedom Spectacular." Moore, the amiable host and emcee of "The Garry Moore Show," now in its sixth season on the CBS Television Network, and "I've Got a Secret," popular panel show now in its twelfth year on the same network, is a man noted for his grass roots type of humor.

Mayor Chas. Iles Proposes Compromise, No Penalty Clause, 'Stronger' Law

The Des Moines City Council is expected to consider a proposed compromise-housing ordinance that would carry no-penalties clauses at its meeting Monday, May 18.

The proposed ordinance was distributed to fellow councilmen by Mayor Charles F. Iles last Monday.

Give the staff of the city's Human Rights Commission the duty of receiving complaints about alleged discrimination in housing sales and rentals.

Authorize the staff to investigate the complaints and make a confidential finding of fact to the commission.

Give the commission the power, if facts in a case indicate discrimination to work out a conciliation.

Give the commission the right to conduct a public hearing on a case if the conciliation effort fails.

The mayor's proposal carries no penalty clause.

The Human Rights Commission has recommended an ordinance to outlaw racial discrimination in housing transactions and make violations punishable by a $100 fine and 30 days in jail.

Under the ordinance proposal recommended by the commission, the commission first would attempt to mediate and would take a case to court only if negotiations broke down.

Councilmen have been split on the ordinance proposed by the Human Rights Commission: Jens Grothe, George C. Whitmer and Wallace E. Buss against it, primarily because of the penalty clause; Iles and George J. Nahas for it.

All five councilmen have indicated support of Iles' compromise.

The compromise is actually an ordinance amendment adding to the powers of the Human Rights Commission, which has been limited to fair employment practices enforcement.

Hearings

The compromise provides that all proceedings of the commission will be confidential except for the public hearing.

In the case of a public hearing, it says:

"Upon the completion of a hearing, the commission shall forthwith poll its membership and announce (its) finding as to whether, in fact, a discriminatory act or practice has been committed."

"In any case, where discrimination or a discriminatory practice is found to exist, all files, records and reports in such cases shall thereupon become available for public inspection."

In a case where conciliation apparently settles a case, but one side then backs out on its agreement, the compromise ordinance provides that the commission files be made public.

Sojourner Truth

"Am I in the right house?" Jeri asked in exaggerated amazement. "Shut your mouth, Child. I'm having photographs made of our clean living room and kitchen. For goodness sake, don't open any closet doors or I'll have to rent a geiger counter to find you under the avalanches." Jessie Mae matched wits on the way downstairs with her friend. "Cut the coffee cake," Jeri urged. "I'll pour the coffee." Both settled down face to face at the dining room table.

"How'd the picket line go at the councilman's home last Saturday?" Jeri asked. "I'm really sorry you couldn't make it because you won't be able to believe what happened. I can hardly believe it myself and I was there," Jessie Mae answered wistfully gazing into her cup of coffee. She continued, "It was a beautiful, peaceful neighborhood, the sun . . .". Jeri interrupted, "Never mind the weather. What happened?"

The councilman arrived home after we started picketing. He stopped at the entrance to his driveway. "Guess what he said, Jeri." "Some pious platitudes, no doubt," she prodded Jess along with the story. "No, the councilman decided to be real clever. He wanted to know, 'Why didn't you come an hour earlier? You could have helped me pick up the broken branches on my yard.'"

"And what did you say?" Jeri leaned forward.

"I explained that we didn't come to help with his yard work. We came, I said, to help him with his council work."

"Now Jess, be reasonable. What else could colored folks be doing in a lily-white neighborhood?" Jeri attempted to fan away her friend's gloomy mood and failed. Jessie Mae had not been listening.

"There we were, Jeri, walking up and down with the councilman, benevolent — Christian — white and untouched by the past ten years," Jessie Mae marvelled as she recalled the scene.

"An ugly and angry neighbor came by and stopped to ask our councilman why he tolerated us in front of his home. The reply was 'They are such nice people.' A long silence settled between the friends."

"I really tried, Jeri." I complimented the councilman on his beautiful neighborhood — pointed out to him that I couldn't buy a home there."

"What did he say to that?"

"He assured me it was a modest neighborhood. I suggested that my people would consider it rather special. At this point the councilman changed the subject. He assured me he is opposed to Open Occupancy ordinance with teeth in it but when he decides how he will vote, it will be from his heart."

"Jeri, I wonder what it would take to help such a man really understand and face finding a solution to racial discrimination just in housing?"

"A strong stomach and steady nerves, my friend. Have another cup of coffee," Jeri replied promptly.

S.C.I. President Leads 800 In Silent March for Civil Rights Mail-in Monday

Cedar Falls, Ia.—About 800 students and faculty members led by the president of the State College of Iowa, J. W. Mauchker marched silently Monday afternoon from the S.C.I. campus to the Cedar Falls Post Office to mail demands for passage of the civil rights bill.

Their letters and postcards addressed to Iowa Senators Bourke B. Hickel and Jack Miller, both Republicans, and Attorney General Robert Kennedy and President Johnson, filled two mail sacks set on the post office steps.

Mauckner in Front

The marching group, with president Mauckner in the front ranks and Dean of the College William C. Lang toward the rear, included about 75 faculty members. It also included 72 students and teachers from the State College High School.

Marchers formed near Bartlett Hall on the campus and walked four abreast on the 30-block trek to the post office. Four city policemen provided an escort and stopped traffic at intersections.

The front rank of marchers carried a mock-up of an envelope, 10 feet long and 4 feet high. On the white paper were black letters urging people to write to the Iowa senators on civil rights legislation.

About 100 smaller placards with messages of similar import or words like "Freedom Now" and "Write for Rights," were carried by marchers.

"Silent March"

The demonstration, advertised as a "Silent March" and carried out as such, was organized by the Civil Liberties Co-ordination Committee of the Student League Board, student governing body.

David Nagle of Toledo, president-elect of the Student League Board, told the group over an amplified mounted on a truck:

"We have awaited taking a stand on civil rights until now. This demonstration, long-delayed, is an expression of conviction from the State College of Iowa students and faculty members."

day were Mrs. Maize Harris, and Jerome Stewart and Gladys Williams was restored after being in Denver, Colo., for six months visiting cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bailey.

Visiting worshippers were Mrs. H. Byrd, Mrs. D. Brown, Mrs. M. Wheaton, Mrs. J. Stewart, Mrs. A. Rivers, Mr. R. Harris, Robert Whithers and Rev. F. Jackson.

South Africa Viewed As Threat To Peace

New York — The United States "has a major responsibility to take the lead in invoking economic sanctions against the Union of South Africa," Gloster B. Current, director of branches of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said here this week upon return from an international conference in London.

Current represented the Association at the London Conference on Economic Sanctions Against South Africa, April 14-17. The conference was attended by delegates and observers from 40 countries throughout the world, including the major powers as well as the Iron Curtain countries.

Current reported to NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins that the conference had demonstrated the tragic consequences of apartheid in South Africa and that "unless action is taken in the near future by the United Nations Security Council to impose economic sanctions on the country, there is a grave danger of war."

ALDEN B. HOWLAND, DECEASED

NOTICE OF PETITION OF EXECUTOR
TO SELL THE FOLLOWING DESCRIBED

REAL ESTATE SITUATED IN POLK COUNTY, IOWA, TO WIT: East Fifty-two and three tenths (52.3) Feet of Lots One (1) and Two (2) in Block Three (3) of Marquardt's Addition to North Des Moines, now included in and forming a part of the City of Des Moines, Iowa; locally known as 1712 Clark Street, Des Moines, Iowa.

TO: Ward S. Allen, Jr., Almy S. Howland, Frederick L. Howland, Robert C. Howland, Hester Scott, Pardon V. C. Gladys, E. G. Gladys, Clara L. Wilken, Edward Coggeshall, Richard Remington, Holden Remington, Helen Forgel Sonner, Margaret Benner, George A. Kirby, Ruth Lydia Kirby, William F. Kirby, Dorothy Kane Ewing, and the heirs of the above named Alden B. Howland, deceased, who claim an interest in and to said property as heirs of Alden B. Howland, Bertha Howland, and all heirs, devisees and beneficiaries of each and all the persons named above.

You and each of you are hereby notified that a duly verified petition of Bankers Trust Company, executor in the above entitled matter is now on file in the office of the Clerk of the District Court in and for Polk County, Iowa and which said petition seeks to have the said real estate owned by the decedent and described above sold to satisfy the claims of the persons named above and all the persons named above.

Said petition alleges that the petitioner is the executor of the estate of Alden B. Howland, deceased, that the said Howland died seized of the real estate described in the caption and that said real estate was not of the homestead of the decedent, and that the said Howland, deceased, was a class of persons who claim or may claim an interest in and to said property and with respect to the relief prayed by the petitioner, such members of such class have a common interest and that the unknown persons who may be members of such class are fairly and virtually represented by the persons named above and that all the rights and interests of such class and its known and unknown members should be bound by any judgment or decree rendered in the premises.

Said petition further alleges that none of the persons who claim any interest in said real estate other than the surviving spouse are residents of the State of Iowa, and that by order of court dated September 23, 1962 the petitioner took possession of said real estate and that continued possession of said property by the executor would be burdensome to the estate and that it would be in the best interests of the estate that the petitioner be authorized by the court to sell said property at private sale.

The petitioner prays as follows: That the court on hearing order the sale of the real estate described in the caption at private sale and further that the court by an appropriate order:

(a) Appoint an appraiser to appraise the said real property for purposes of sale with directions that the appraiser file a report of his appraisal herein.

(b) Authorize and direct your petitioner to enter into a real estate listing contract with a realtor in the City of Des Moines who is a member of the Multiple Exchange listing said real property for sale by the executor upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by this court.

(c) Authorize and direct your petitioner to sell said real property at private sale upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by the court.

(d) Direct your petitioner within thirty (30) days after entering into such sale to make a report of its proceedings to the court.

(e) Grant such other and future relief as is equitable in the premises.

For full particulars see the petition now on file.

You are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition shall be held in and for Polk County, Iowa on the 12th day of June, 1964 and unless you so appear and make defense thereto, your default will be entered and judgment and decree will be rendered against you for the relief demanded in the petition.

A Room for Two Children

When two youngsters occupy the same room, ordinarily they have little privacy. However, by using a bit of imagination and ingenuity, the fix-it-themselves family can create a room that has two of everything, plus built-in privacy.

First, the room is divided by means of an extra-wide divider desk and closets. This way, there'll be a separate study and clothes storage area for each child. The separation of the space is completed by a sliding door.

Other features may include a radiator enclosure, fluorescent lighting, spacious drawers in the desks and an attractive soffit. Use of Masonite hardboards for the closet walls, desks, soffit and as underlayment for the flexible floor covering makes such a room improvement both economical and easy. A large variety of hardboards for these purposes are available at lumber yards.

Hardboards made by Masonite Corporation, the pioneer producer, are made by exploding clean wood chips in huge guns and then compressing the fibers into thin, strong panels under extreme heat and pressure. Being all wood, these panels may be worked and finished like wood.

For a free plan detailing how to create a youth room for two, write the Home Service Bureau, Suite 2037, 111 West Washington St., Chicago 2, Ill., requesting plan No. AE-265.

Fresh Rhubarb Pie

Folks won't need to guess what this pie's all about, for tart, rosy rhubarb gets a chance to show its virtues with individual pastry wedges baked atop the pie.

"Pieplant" is an old name for rhubarb, but a very appropriate one. Crisp rhubarb stalks, rosy or cherry-colored, make a spring pie that is pleasantly tart and sparkling.

'Tis a pity to hide such an inviting filling, so cut five or six triangles of pastry to arrange on top the pie, one for each serving. Cut the wedges with a pastry wheel to get the pretty scalloped effect, and place pastry over filling before baking.

Since this is a juicy pie, the favorite crimped edge is the one to use to hold in the juices. Make this by pressing dough together between thumb and finger of left hand and forefinger of right hand.

Pie is a favorite dessert, and a satisfying one. That's reason enough to make fresh rhubarb pie a luncheon or dinner pastry treat often this spring.

RHUBARB PIE

1½ cups sifted enriched flour
½ teaspoon salt

Sift together flour and salt. Cut or rub in shortening. Add water gradually. Mix to a dry, crumbly dough. Toss out on lightly floured pastry cloth. Press dough together. Roll two-thirds of the dough to a circle one-eighth inch thick. Line nine-inch pie pan with pastry. Fill with rhubarb filling.

1½ cups fresh rhubarb
1¼ cups sugar

Cut cleaned rhubarb into half-inch lengths. Add sugar, flour

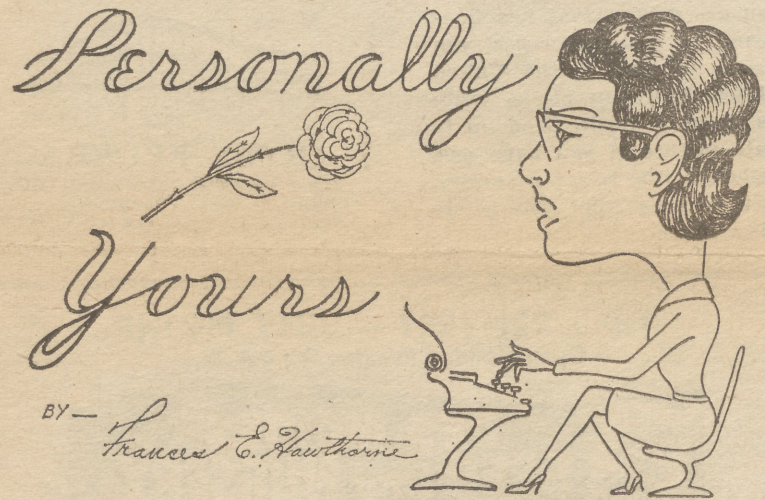

½ cup shortening
2 to 3 tablespoons cold water

Roll out remaining pastry to circle one-eighth inch thick. Cut into five or six triangular wedges. Arrange evenly over rhubarb filling. Bake in hot oven (450 degrees F.) 10 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees F.) and continue baking 45 minutes.

Rhubarb Filling

½ cup enriched flour
¼ teaspoon salt and salt to rhubarb and mix well.

Hello again!

I am back after resting up from our redecorating stint that just about had the whole family pooped. However, if you will excuse me, I would like to take my hat off to my husband, who did the major portion of the job and even had to help us to finish ours.

And of course, Mother's day helped us tremendously to bounce back. Our four youngsters took over in the kitchen unassisted by their father for the first time. Victor, 12, turned out crisp bacon and scrambled eggs that would make any cook set up and take notice; Vance, 11, prepared golden brown toast, Venita, 8, washed dishes and supervised Valerie's, 3, who set a mean table. And of course, Venita, who is a Brownie Girl scout, getting ready for "fly-up" ceremonies with four other young ladies of Troop 397, was very amenable to our smallest wish.

Nine members of the Troop who attended last Thursday's meeting announced what they would do for their mothers as a "working gift" on Mother's days. These "working gifts" ranged all the way from serving breakfast in bed, cleaning up the house, sweeping and dusting, making beds, going to the store, washing dishes and even to preparing dinner.

We would like to take our hat off to another working mother, Mrs. Frank Kaiser, 680 27th street. She is chairman of the 2 to 4 year-old group of Jack and Jill. Saturday she took three hours off of her busy schedule to take six little youngsters around a driving trip over the city. As she picked each up, she had a pretty Mother's Day card and a plant which she helped each youngster to "present" to his or her mother. Afterwards she stopped in at a drive in for lunch. Mrs. Kaiser, who has a special penchant for small children, plans to do this each Saturday, ending with a park picnic in June.

When Mrs. Rufus (Edythe) Spates, 1244 13th street, was preparing to entertain her sister who came to Des Moines for the Drake Relays from Indianapolis, Ind., it caught her on her busy days, when she works at her beauty profession. She was wondering what to serve that would be quick and at the same time delicious. Her husband, surprising her, solved the problem. He prepared one of his specialties, Louisiana gumbo. All Spates had to do was to prepare rice and dessert.

Afterwards she sent her daughter, Peggy Marie over with a big dish for our husband. We had told her how he being from Texas, loves shrimp gumbo. According to our husband it was delicious. And that coming from a man is quite a compliment, we think.

One of the nicest things about end-of-the-year meeting of the Des Moines P.T.A. Council last week was the renditions of the Mothers Singing group. It was simply beautiful and very relaxing in the middle of a very busy day. The lone Negro member participating was Mrs. Harry (Dorothy Bush) Taylor of Logan P.T.A. She lives at 1320 E. 18th street.

No sooner had we finished with most of our redecorating than disaster in the form of a huge falling tree limb during the height of Friday's windstorm, hit the house. It happened about 5:30 p.m. and was blown from the rear of a neighbor's yard hitting the back porch, which is used as a summer eating area; Several beams were broken or cracked, the gutters are a total loss, one part of the limb went through the roof in the boys bedroom and another through the roof of the eating porch. There are several other holes above the kitchen.

With the exception of hoping that it wouldn't rain and add to our troubles, our immediate plight wasn't quite as bad as that of residents in the 2700 block on Amick avenue. A tree fell across wires cutting both lights and telephone wires. Consequently, just about all the neighbors, who have electric cooking stoves, trekked to the home of Mrs. Herman Wallace, 2724 Amick avenue to cook Saturday and Sunday breakfasts. Mrs. Wallace also had the problem of cooking up meat in the freezer to prevent spoilage.

We had a surprise visit from Mrs.

SPREADING HATE THROUGHOUT THE NORTH

Gov. Wallace of Alabama continues to campaign in the north seeking support for his opposition to human rights. He made a surprising showing in Wisconsin; it was not as good in Indiana. He is campaigning in Maryland, where he is seeking to embarrass the democrats by rolling up a big vote.

Wallace is following the trail of his predecessors who traveled the Chautauqua circuits in the north soon after the turn of the century spreading hate and desecration between the races. The late Senators Cole Blease of South Carolina and James K. Vardaman of Mississippi did much of this campaigning.

The governor conducts a different campaign. He stands on his well known record as a race hater so he does not need to discuss this in his speeches. He directs his spleen on the civil rights bill making outrageous interpretations on certain phases of the bill which do not exist. In this way, he keeps up a running fight on the Negro.

Of course, there are many in the north who think as he does. There are those who were on the fence but have joined the opposition to the Negro because they see him moving up the ladder of progress or simply want somebody to hate.

Freedom of speech is a precious right but fraught with danger in many instances. Propaganda such as is carried on by Wallace and his ilk is just as dangerous as guns and bullets; just as dangerous as Communism—a doctrine which these very race haters pretend to hate.

Contrast the Wallace campaign in the north with that of President Johnson who has dared go to the south and tell the people to disregard past racial hate, disregard the extremists and settle the matter with justice and equality without regard to race, creed or color. No President has ever made such a bold statement in the south. Or compare Wallace's speeches with those made here in Des Moines by Brooks Hayes, assistant to President Johnson and former congressman from Arkansas. Strong support of these two leading southerners provides backing and strength to those who dare stand up for the right in spite of scurrilous action by race haters.

NEGROES MUST CARRY THEIR RESPONSIBILITY

James Farmer, national president of the Congress for Racial Equality (CORE) appeared on the TV program "Meet the Press" last Sunday. Farmer handled himself very well demonstrating his ability as a thinker and leader.

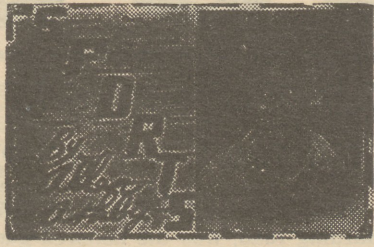

Farmer was asked if he thought the Negro was doing enough himself to solve the knotty problem of racial discrimination. The reply was evasive; Farmer knows that they are not. This is why he staddled the fence.

Most of the things Negroes do were taught them by the white people including the bad as well as good. There are all kinds of worthless people in every race. There are white people who will do anything to accomplish their ends; there are Negroes the same way.

The Negro race as such cannot be responsible for the shortcomings of every individual Negro. But the group does have the responsibility of making every effort to encourage and teach them to carry their civic, religious and business responsibility as a part of their civil rights.

Some of this irresponsibility is due to a lack of education, failure of moral and social leaders to do a responsible job in their field; some with an attitude that they have "arrived" and tend to look down on the fellow below.

Failure to exercise good citizenship is proof that a person is unworthy of it. Good citizenship wins friends and proves that races are just about the same differing individually due to training, ability and opportunity.

Then there was the bout that a lot of people thought Joe Louis lost to Jersey Joe Walcott. There are so many of them that we could spin tales forever about fights that the wrong fellow won. But we would have to rate as among the top the fight in the theaters out on the coast. We can't think who the fighters were but the referee slipped out a side door and telephoned back his verdict. And don't you think that one didn't touch off a storm of indignation.

We guess that just about any Negro boxer who ever fought has had bouts taken away from him. That becomes just another fight and just another unlucky night. Maybe we have gone about it wrong. Let Congress intervene and reverse a few of these decisions. They aren't doing too much right now so they have plenty of time.

But if I were Sugar Ramos, Ghana would not be on my list of places to visit for quite a while.

We would like to hear about the soft ball clubs. Are they getting ready or what? They better get to gitting because the season is here.

The latest storm to hit boxing comes from one of the new countries, Ghana. Government officials stepped in and reversed a split decision in favor of their man, Floyd Robertson, against the Cuban holder of the World's featherweight crown.

Most of the writers present agreed that the verdict was a bit raw, but they didn't think reversing it was the answer.

If it will be of any comfort to the Ghanians we have had some decisions in this country that ought to have been reversed. There never was in all the history of boxing a decision like the one that took away the world's middleweight crown from Tiger Flowers in favor of some guy now, we think his name was Turner. Flowers literally beat the pants off the fellow and lost a close split decision. The thing caught the fight sportscasters by surprise. He had just finished saying that there was no doubt about Flowers winning and then came the decision. The surprised

HEALTH FOR ALL

The year 1904, dawning hopefully and happily as a new year should, nevertheless brought some harsh problems with it. In the field of health there was the problem of tuberculosis—first among all causes of death in the land, killing on an average of nearly two out of every thousand Americans.

Sixty years later that figure has been cut down to .054 or thousand—a tiny fraction (about one-thirty-fifth) of what it was in 1904.

Those sixty years embrace the life and times to date of the National Tuberculosis Association, founded in the early years of the century by a group of dedicated doctors and some laymen. In those days the tools and forces at hand were pitifully inadequate to the vast challenge posed by TB. But there was plenty of determination to fight back against the scourge with every weapon that could be begged, borrowed, or developed from the ground up.

For the spectacular results since then, the Christmas Seal Association lays no claim to exclusive credit. Many segments of society played a notable part: health officials, educators, doctors, nurses, improved drugs and other forms of medical treatment. And literally millions of plain citizens.

Today tuberculosis is considered reasonable well controlled. But nearly 10,000 deaths and more than 50,000 new cases yearly in the United States add up to a very real problem still. And TB isn't the sole enemy by a long shot. The whole range of respiratory diseases, which includes TB, is under heavy attack by the 60-year-old National Tuberculosis Association and its 2,000 affiliates throughout the country. The assorted illnesses of breathing now affect more than 12,000,000 Americans. But if history is any guide they're going to be cut down drastically in the same manner as was TB.

New Book on AFRICA Probes The Way Ahead

"Can the new African nations take the socialist path of development?"—is the question posed in AFRICA: THE WAY AHEAD by Jack Woddie, to be released late this month by International Publishers.

The author centers attention on problems which arise once political independence is attained. Uppermost in Africa today, the author holds, is the need to overcome the great economic lag, to resolve the conflict between democracy and tribalism, to find party systems that suit the new nations, and to employ methods of social planning in accordance with their needs. He finds that imperialism remains deeply entrenched and is the greatest stumbling block to African advance.

DEAR EDITOR:

In Des Moines this month, Senator Jack Miller asserted that most Iowa voters are opposed to the House-passed Civil Rights Bill. I would like to express my astonished and disagreement with this opinion of Senator Miller's.

According to Louis Harris's April poll, 70 percent of the American people are in favor of the Johnson-Kennedy Rights Act. The State College of Iowa is putting on Iowa's first All-college Civil Rights demonstration this week. Other colleges have taken similar action. Representative James Bromwell said during the House debate on the Bill that over 9,000 well-written, sincere letters came to his office, almost all in favor of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. None of this support was for any of Senator Dirksen's crippling amendments to the Public Accommodation and Equal Employment Opportunity sections. Our NAACP "Civil Rights Bill Rally" in Des Moines last July. In October, the Conference marched for a strong Civil Rights Bill in Burlington. The Fort Madison Branch of the NAACP had a similar demonstration in November.

Senator Miller should not forget. In February, a day before the House passed H. R. 7152 with strong Republican and Democratic majorities, Cedar Rapids had a "Mail-In" of 1000 cards and letters favoring the Bill. The Des Moines and Keokuk NAACP Branches had March "Mail-Ins" yielding 1800 messages in favor of the Bill which had now passed the House.

In April over 1300 Iowa Citizens sent our Senators a telegram petition supporting the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Recently, some 2,000 Cedar Rapids citizens have been working on a petition urging Senate passage of the Bill passed by the House.

In view of this strong sentiment, I call upon Senator Miller and Senator Hickenlooper to vote for cloture on the entire Civil Rights Bill, as passed by the House of Representatives. Their votes on the proposed Morton and Talmadge amendments will not convince the many Iowa voters for equal rights of their complete dedication to Constitutional principles for all Americans. Nevertheless, sufficient time apparently remains for our Senators to demonstrate their alert responsibility in this basic moral area. May they do so soon!
