Methodists Appoint Negro Bishop for Iowa

Will Replace Bishop Ensley As Spiritual Leader for 300,000

Cleveland, Ohio—Iowa's 300,000 Methodists have a new bishop, Dr. James S. Thomas, Jr., of Nashville, Tenn. He is the first Negro and the youngest bishop in the Methodist church. He will replace Bishop F. Gerald Ensley, who has been the spiritual and administrative leader for the North and South Iowa conferences for the last 12 years.

Second Negro

The second Negro bishop to head a predominantly white area, Dr. Thomas has been associate director of the department of educational institutions of the Methodist Board of Education in Nashville since July 1, 1953.

He was named bishop last month in Daytona Beach, Fla., by the Central Jurisdiction, a nine-state area including Iowa. Four Negro churches in Iowa are affected by the move. They are Burns Methodist, pastored by Rev. Kenneth McNeil of Des Moines; and three others in Marshalltown, Mason City and Fort Madison.

No Date

No date has been set for Bishop Thomas' move to Des Moines, where he will have his headquarters, or the transfer of Bishop Ensley. Bishop Thomas, for the past three years, has been chairman of the Central Jurisdiction study committee which has worked on proposals for integration within the church. After being elected bishop last month, he was assigned to Chicago, Ill., to supervise the Lexington conference and await assignment. (Iowa's four Negro churches are in the Lexington conference.) Bishop Thomas is a native of Orangeburg, S. C., and the son of a Methodist minister, the Rev. James S. Thomas, sr.

Holds Doctorate

Iowa's new bishop was educated at Claflin College in Orangeburg, Gammon Theological Seminary in Atlanta, Ga., Drew University, Madison, N. J., and Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Women's International League to Sponsor Nationwide Vigil Sat.

Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, founded 50 years ago by Jane Addams, will sponsor a nation-wide vigil this Saturday, July 18th. Civil rights groups will join with WILPF, at the Federal Post Office at noon and march to the Federal Court House. The vigil will last from 12 (noon) till one o'clock. WILPF asks all groups and every individual interested in freedom to join in the march.

On July 18th members will wear black sashes and black arm bands. (The men wear arm bands. Men and women participate in WILPF and are bona fide members.) The Black Sashes were first used in South Africa when protesting apartheid. Sashes are worn diagonally from shoulder to waist. We will bring a big supply of sashes and arm bands. Help us make our Government act as there is urgent need to protest the civil rights of workers in the South, indeed and in the North. Alas, alas!

For further information contact Miss Marjorie E. W. Smith, 4023 Cottage Grove, BL 5-8237. Mrs. Gienna Johnson, Chairman Des Moines Chapter WILPF.

Mrs. Schwerner in CORE Center

Mrs. Rita Schwerner, now a widow, reads to a group of children at CORE's community center in Meridian, Miss. Her husband, Michael Schwerner, co-director of the community center, was one of the three civil rights workers who vanished on June 21 and are believed to be dead. The other two are James Chaney and Andrew Goodman.

Masonic Convention Re-elects Peguese to 3rd Term as Leader

Waterloo, Ia.—Charles W. Peguese of Des Moines was elected to his third term as the Most Worshipful Grand Master of the Prince Hall Masonic Grand Lodge of Iowa, at its 77th annual grand communication here Saturday.

Other grand officers elected are Russell Burt, Waterloo, Ia., senior warden; William Sharp, Des Moines, junior warden; Carl M. Mays, Des Moines, treasurer; Jake L. Nelson, Burlington, secretary; and Joseph Jones, Sioux City, lecturer.

PEGUESE

The lodge is named for Prince Hall who founded Free Masonry for Negroes in the United States. A free Negro, born in the British West Indies, he came to Boston, Mass., as a leather worker in 1765. He was the first Negro to be initiated into the Mason order in America. He died in 1807.

D.C. Negro Educator Killed From Ambush in Georgia; Another Shot at, Also

Colbert, Ga.—A Negro educator and Lieutenant Colonel in the Army was fatally ambushed here early Sunday morning and less than 24 hours earlier another was shot at here near this otherwise quiet Georgia town.

Victim

Dead was Lemuel A. Penn, 49, director of the five vocational high schools in Washington, D. C., who had been taking his reserve training at Fort Benning, Ga. He was mysteriously shot in the head as he drove through rural North Georgia. Authorities were not sure that the shooting had racial overtones.

Swift Action

The killing brought swift action in Washington and Atlanta, the state capital. President Johnson called Gov. Carl E. Sanders to seek federal-state co-operation in the hunt for the killer. And the Justice Department announced that Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy had ordered the FBI into the case.

Strongest Statement

In Atlanta Sanders quickly issued

one of the strongest statements he has made since taking office. "I am ashamed for myself and for the responsible citizens of Georgia that this occurrence took place in our state," he said.

Gov. Carl E. Sanders said the Penn shooting was the result of "the inflammatory reaction of a person with a demented mind."

Army Training

Penn was shot as he drove from Ft. Benning, Ga., to Washington. He, and two companions traveling with him, had completed a two-week refresher course at the Army base. The others—Maj. Charles E. Brown, 44, and Lt. Col. John D. Howard, 42, both of Washington, D. C.—were not hurt. Both are Negroes.

Clarence Ellington, 48, a Negro insurance agent of Fort Pierce, Fla., reported after Sunday's shooting that he and his family were fired upon about 24 hours before Penn was killed. Ellington said his automobile was fired on in the vicinity of where Penn was slain.

State Advisory Rights Group Finds 'Massive' Bias in Iowa Urban Renewal Housing

"Many Iowans don't believe it, but there is massive discrimination in housing in the state," said Donald E. Boles of Ames, chairman of the Iowa State Advisory committee.

Boles' comment came Saturday at a press conference at the statehouse, when the Iowa Advisory committee to the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights released its official report, on relocation housing available to minorities in urban renewal areas.

The 23-page report is based on open meetings held by the Advisory group in Des Moines, Waterloo and Sioux City—localities in which federal

Goldwater Forces Defeat Scranton's Efforts; Iowas Against Rights Amending

San Francisco, Calif.—One of America's two political panoramas—the Republican National Convention—began here Monday at the famed Cow Palace. All of the expected fanfare, infighting and political jobs and maneuvers were evident from the start as the forces of conservatism, front running Barry Goldwater, Arizona senator, fended off all the minor skirmishes of his weaker opponent, moderate Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania.

Negro Delegates

Negro delegates and TV and radio spectators at home followed the proceedings with more than avid interest. On the opening day the Goldwater forces rebuffed the Scranton delegations by defeating them on three issues of civil rights. The main one came when a former veteran convention delegate, Lt. George I. Washington Lee of Tennessee, charged that he had not been given a seat on the Tennessee delegation because of race. He was defeated in a voice vote by the temporary rules committee and later by the official credentials committee.

Charges

Lee, along with several other Negro delegates also charged that some Republican delegates were trying to push them out of the party. At first rumor was rampant that the Negroes, numbering only about 23—would walk out of the convention—in case the civil rights plank was not amended or if Goldwater won the nomination as it became more evident that he would do so.

However, on the second day the Negroes after a Monday evening meeting with Republican leader Jackie Robinson, former baseball great, the Negroes changed their strategy saying in part, "We will not leave; we have to stay in and help our friends after the Republican party is defeated in the fall."

The friends were referred to as Sen. Everett Dirksen of Illinois, Sen. Paul B. Keating of New York, and others.

Sonny Thompson, Orchestra To Headline President's Ball

Des Moines will have an opportunity to participate in a lovely mid-summer social event and at the same time attend a return engagement of musical-renowned Sonny Thompson and his orchestra of New York City, when they attend the President's Ball on Friday, July 24 from 7 to 11 p.m. at the Val Air Ballroom.

Sponsor

At the event all federated and non-federated clubs in Des Moines will present their presidents, who will be beautifully gowned and coiffured for the occasion. The Ball will be sponsored by the Des Moines Association of Club Women of which Mrs. Dorothy B. Bush is out-going president and Mrs. Erma Carr, is incoming president. The event is being given as a special effort for Mrs. Edward Frazier, who is past president of the Iowa Association of Club Women and for Mrs. Bush. Plans for the ball began while both were in office.

Each club president attending will be presented with a large, lovely corsage. The social event is one that is similar to those given annually in Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn.

Band

Back to Sonny Thompson, again. He has been in Des Moines before and to all reports Des Moines dance fans—both spectators and active—were delighted with him and his group. Mrs. Helen Wilson, who is chairman for the event, says he promises to "bring a lot of new stuff to his patrons" next Friday night.

Housing

erally-assisted urban renewal projects have "reached an advanced stage of development."

In Des Moines the meetings dealt with three urban renewal areas—River Hills, Cleveland Heights and Oakridge. The hearings were also held and reports sent to Washington, D. C., before the passage of Des Moines Fair Housing ordinance.

Through their discussions with social work agencies, minority group spokesmen, labor unions, realtors, lending agencies, city officials and representatives of the Urban Renewal agency, the Committee found that "massive racial discrimination in housing" exists in Iowa.

Severely Limited

Officials in Des Moines and Waterloo reported that relocated nonwhite families had not been restricted to particular neighborhoods, but representatives of social work agencies in both cities contended that the housing choices offered to relocatees were severely limited by race.

No Public Housing

None of the three cities has public housing facilities for low-income families and all relocation is channeled through the private housing market. (Although Des Moines recently approved a fair housing measure, there were no open occupancy laws operative in the three cities during the study).

Lack of Communication

The report also noted that the relocation program was hampered by the lack of communication between the Urban Renewal staff and families affected by the projects. Families in the Des Moines renewal areas, according to the report, were not informed of the development and timing of the programs and their uneasiness resulted in hasty and ill advised moves. In Sioux City, however, the Committee found that public officials and citizens, as a result of the problems encountered in two completed projects, endeavored to meet Federal standards in implementing a third program.

Responsibility

"Although final responsibility for the solution of these problems rests within the Federal Government," noted the Committee, "local governments must assume their own responsibilities in the matter within their communities."

The Iowa Advisory group recommended that:

- (1)—Local governments "realistically and accurately" met the Federal requirement for nondiscrimination in their determination of a relocation area.
- (2)—Local governments accept for relocation only those vacancies that are available on a nondiscriminatory basis.
- (3)—"greater efforts be made toward communication" between the Urban Renewal staff and prospective relocatees, utilizing Negro staff members when possible.
- (4)—If necessary, the Federal government require these policies to be enforced.

Committee

Other committee members include: Reverend William T. O'Connor of Davenport, Carl Hamilton of Ames, Burn Bannister of Ottumwa, Professor Robert Michaelsen of Iowa City, William W. Parker of Waterloo, and Dr. St. John Williamson, Jr. of Des Moines.

New York, N. Y.—College was impossible for Barbara. She is seventeen, bright and pretty. There are four other young children, the family income is only $2,800 a year . . . and Barbara is a Negro. She graduated from a high school nobody ever heard of, in a small and sleepy Alabama town.

But Barbara is going to college this fall. She and 113 other young Negroes in 29 States and the District of Columbia will enter 75 interracial colleges through the effort of the National Scholarship Service and Fund for Negro Students.

Nat'l Beauty Culturist League to Convene

New York—The 45th annual convention of the National Beauty Culturists' League, scheduled for New York City July 26 through Aug. 5, bids fair to be the largest ever from a standpoint of attendance.

Dr. Katie E. Whickam, president, says that "FAIR" is the magic word. Always favored with a large attendance, the World's Fair has given the convention added attraction that is enabling it to draw to its sessions almost double the number usually in attendance.

Headquarters will be at the Sheraton Atlantic Hotel in the heart of downtown New York. A memorial service will be held in Abyssinian Baptist Church, pastored by Congressman Adam Clayton Powell.

Conducted tours will be arranged for so that the beauticians may see the World's Fair. Sight-seeing trips around New York and vicinity have also been arranged.

Watson added, however, that the association and the industry will abide by the new law. He spoke at the 55th annual convention of the Iowa Hotel and Motor Inn Association, which ended Sunday.

Roy Wilkins Urges Selective Test Cases Of New Rights Law

New York—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People fully supports President Johnson's proposal for cooperative effort "to promote greater understanding of the (Civil Rights) law and to achieve a spirit of compliance."

NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins made this announcement at a news conference here, July 3, on his return from Washington where he had witnessed the signing of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and attended an after-ceremony conference with the President.

The President's proposal, the NAACP leader pointed out, is in line with a resolution on implementing the new bill passed at the Association's 55th annual convention in Washington, June 22-27. The resolution calls upon branches of the Association to move for immediate implementation of the various provisions of the law, to confer with local officials and businessmen, and to launch an educational program designed to win wide community acceptance of the law.

The NAACP, Wilkins told the newsmen, will test the law. However, he called for "carefully selected" legal tests. "Not just any case should be filed for court action," Wilkins warned. He indicated that court action should be based on cases where the facts and evidence are substantial and irrefutable, the issue clear and the situation favorable.

RIGHTS ACT

Atlanta, Ga.—Federal District Judge Frank A. Hooper here has named Friday, July 17th as the day on which the new civil rights act will be tested.

NAACP Legal Defense Fund attorneys secured an order to have segregationist restaurant owner Lester Maddox "show cause" why Negro citizens should not be served. The suit, filed by Legal Defense Fund Cooperating Attorney William Alexander, is in behalf of three Atlanta clergymen.

It is the nation's first suit to enforce Title Two of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. It is also the first suit of a series of suits to be filed in hard core southern states, according to Constance Baker Motley, associate counsel of the Fund.

In the Atlanta suit, George S. Willis Jr., Woodrow T. Lewis and Albert L. Dunn, all clergymen and students at the Interdenominational Theological Center here, asked the S. S. District Court for an injunction against discriminatory practices of Maddox and the Pickrick Restaurant.

The plaintiffs, acting on behalf of themselves and other Negro citizens of Atlanta, were "denied and deprived" service at the Pickrick on Friday, July 3rd.

Maddox, on that day, confronted the neatly dressed Negro clergymen with a drawn pistol. He called for Pickrick customers to grab ax handles (which he keeps in a box at the door) and charge the Negroes.

Mr. Barber was released from the navy on July 8 after serving four years. He enlisted in July 1960. He is a 1959 graduate of Des Moines Tech and worked as an orderly at Iowa Methodist hospital before entering the service.

The couple plans to make their home in Compton.

The summer is flitting along. In the words of one mother, "where has it gone to?" But we do have almost six weeks yet before the annual parade back to the classrooms. We are enjoying ours so far, doing something quite different than usual, playing tennis at least three to four times a week as we have wanted to for years. Another mother we know, who some years back, used to play a lot of golf with a group of club members told us that her children are "putting all over the green" of the family yard. Others are just relaxing lazily and enjoying the nice breezy hours. Others are enjoying the air-conditioned bowling sessions. Others are just sitting back and trying to "root home their favorite son" in Little League baseball games. Others are enjoying America's favorite sports, with a box seat in front of the television.

Several families and residents have just returned from various island cruises and tours and their accounts of the trips will be reported in forthcoming issues.

Mr. and Mrs. William Pickett and family of 1221 19th street, were scheduled to leave for a month's vacation in the north woods of Canada. The Picketts make their annual trip there camping along the many wonderful lakes and camping areas in our northern neighbor-country.

Michael Clinton, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Clinton, 1190 10th street, is away this week at Y-camp. He and his brother made a trip to California earlier this summer with their mother and then to Missouri.

We neglected to report the new address of Mrs. Mary White Spencer who now lives at 1330 18th street, in the home of Mrs. James Childers. She was released a little over two weeks ago after spending five weeks in Broadlawn Polk County hospital.

She is looking forward to visits from her friends and cards and telephone calls.

The Bystander is having its share of woes this week what with both secretaries away because of illness. Mrs. Gloria Tentemie is in University hospital in Iowa City, Ia., and the other, Shirley Fulbright is ill at home.

Our neighbors across the street, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Grant and children of 1214 10th street, returned Monday from a week's vacation in Dallas, Tex., visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. James B. Morris, Sr., wife of the Bystander publisher is expected to arrive home soon after a wonderful vacation in the east and south.

Had a note from Mrs. Barbara Williams, 1189 10th street, who wrote, "I thought that the friends of the former Joyce W. Banks, who was a voice major at Drake university and played and sang for many organizations here in our city might like to know that she was married to L. M. Ellis of Clarksville, Tenn., who also attended Drake university and was a member of Drake's basketball team.

"My husband, Arzania, and I were best man and matron of honor at their lovely wedding in Council Bluffs, Ia., on June 13. I received an ecstatic letter from Joyce a few days ago saying that they have set up housekeeping in a new government project home in Clarksville, Tenn."

You Can Make Meringue Cookies

By Betty Barclay

"MAKE 'EM Yourself!" You can. These glamorous meringue cookies that you used to have to buy from a fancy now make yourself in less than half an hour! Three dozen of them, too; enough to serve with elegance at an evening card party.

Chocolate Meringue Cookies
1 cup chocolate chips; 3 egg whites; 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; 1/4 cup saltine cracker crumbs; 1/4 cup chopped pecans; 1 teaspoon vanilla. Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until blended. Then fold in cracker crumbs, nuts, vanilla, and melted chips. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and spread slightly. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen 2-inch cookies. Store in tightly covered container.

LABOR BOARD HOLDS RACE BIAS

UNFAIR LABOR PRACTICE

When the labor relations board was created under this new deal, the law gave unions almost complete control of hiring employees. It is like the old railway labor act, which was an ally of those who ousted Negro firemen and brakemen from railroad jobs. In spite of the almost total exclusion of Negroes from apprenticeship training and journeyman status, the labor board has given little attention to almost total discrimination Negroes have suffered at the hands of unions.

A recent case involving unions at the Hughes Tool Co. in Texas ended in a historic decision. There are two unions in the plant, one white and one Negro. The white union is the bargaining unit of the plant and supposedly represents the Negro union.

A member of the Negro union applied for an apprenticeship job and was turned down by the company on the ground that only certain jobs were available to Negroes. The bargaining unit refused to represent the applicant. The refusal brought a charge of unfair labor practices.

The trial examiner, following the hearing, found the union guilty of unfair labor practice and denied it the facilities of the labor board.

If upheld, and undoubtedly it will, the decision will go a long way toward equalizing opportunities for all groups.

This unfair labor practice cloaked in government authority, has gone on a long time. Its demise is a partial result of the general upheaval because of the denial of civil and political rights in all parts of the country.

SENATOR GOLDWATER AT THE HELM

Senator Goldwater got the Republican nomination and the platform he wanted. This was expected.

Asked if he would walk out of the Republican party should Goldwater be nominated, Governor Rockefeller of New York said no. He was not running away from the fight to regain control of the party by liberal forces.

We are fully in accord with this view and have long since decided to follow it.

Undoubtedly, the rank and file of the Republican party favored Governor Scranton. The polls show it by overwhelming odds. Why the Goldwater sweep?

Goldwater began campaigning for the nomination prior to the 1960 convention and has worked at it since. On the other hand the liberal wing of the party has been indecisive thinking of who could beat President Johnson while failing to see the danger lurking in the Goldwater drive for control.

As one watched the convention proceeding on television, it was easy to detect strong right wing tactics being pursued by the delegates. Speakers opposed to their side were either booed or chanting for "Barry" made it difficult for them to speak.

The Bystander believes that there is a lot of good in the Republican party yet. But like the German people who succumbed to the tactics of Hitler, had to be almost destroyed to bring them back to the family of nations.

This is not the first time the Republican party has been split over broad principles of the party. The Democrat party has done likewise. It will be the task of well thinking people to reassert the fundamentals of the Republican party and wrest control of its leadership from those whose selfish ends will surely make it a minority party for years to come.

The Bystander congratulates Robert Ray, state chairman, Ben Webster and Harold Goldman, Polk County chairman for standing by the principles of the Republican party and refusing to be swept away by tactics such as prevail in the convention.

Final Touches for Soap Box Derby

Final touches are being applied to approximately 80 boy-built coasting cars in anticipation of the sixth annual Des Moines Soap Box Derby race to be run Sunday afternoon July 19.

Those boys who have their cars completed can be seen coasting down hills on trial runs in various parts of Des Moines. Other boys spend hours in the basements or garages of their homes spinning the wheels to keep them in running shape, or checking over the construction to make sure every thing is in readiness for race day.

As a final check, for safety reasons, all boys are required to have their cars examined on Inspection Day, July 18, 8 a.m. through 3 p.m. at Veterans Auditorium. Here, teams of the sponsoring Jaycees will give cars thorough examinations to see that each conforms to standards so

Is House Number Legible?

IS YOUR house number doing its work? If it isn't visible, day or night, you're due for a change!

You can make a distinctive set of house numbers easily. The only materials needed are some Masonite Tempered Presdwood and a key-hole saw, which cuts curves.

First, design the letters so they are of the correct size in proportion to the house and entrance—but large enough to be visible from the street. Transfer the design to the tempered hardboard, 1/4" thick, and start cutting.

Sand down any rough edges. The numerals may be mounted directly on the siding, using waterproof glue or finishing nails, or placed on a piece of shaped hardwood.

Paint the Tempered Presdwood on both sides, for weatherproofing reasons, before putting the numbers up. For a reflective surface, obtain from your hardware dealer tiny glass beads or a special tape.

Some families, particularly in outlying areas, like to identify their homes with nameplates. These may be similarly made and mounted on a board, which is fastened to a tree out in front or hung from a post. An even easier method, suitable for the summer cottage, is painting the name directly on a piece of primed Tempered Presdwood, either free-hand or with stencils.

Still another method is to mount decalcomanias on hardboard, using individual letters or numerals. Two or three coats of waterproof varnish or shellac will safeguard the nameplate and number for years.

Laugh Lines

The sports car owner was giving a friend his first ride in one of the low-slung models. The friend appeared to be puzzled so the driver asked what was wrong.

"I can't figure out what that long wall is which we've been passing." "That's no wall," snapped the driver, "it's the curb."

S. Savings Bond, and a free trip to Akron, Ohio, for he and his parents, where he will represent Des Moines in the All American Soap Box Derby, August 15.

All boys will be feted at an awards banquet to be held the evening of July 22 in the Elks Lodge dining room. Speaker at the dinner will be Governor Harold E. Hughes. Each boy who was entered in the race will receive some merchandise awards, depending upon how many races he has won.
