Discovery of Mutilated Negroes Spurs NAACP Call for New Federal Inquiry

Clarksdale, Miss.—The discovery of two more brutally murdered and mutilated bodies of Negro citizens of this terror-ridden stronghold of racists has prompted new calls for federal investigations by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Dr. Aaron E. Henry, Mississippi State NAACP president, Tuesday, July 14, called upon Attorney General Kennedy to find out who killed Charles Moore, 20 and Henry Dees, 21, and cut their bodies in two. The lower halves of both bodies were found in the Old River swamp near Tallulah, La., Sunday and Monday, July 12 and 13.

Search

The mutilated bodies were discovered during the continuing search for Michael Schwerner, 24, and Andrew Goodman, 20, both of New York, and James Chaney, 22, of Meridian, Miss., who disappeared near Philadelphia, Miss., last June 22.

In another move, in Jackson, Charles Evers, NAACP field secretary, sent a letter to Mississippi Governor Paul Johnson, Monday, July 13, requesting that he call upon the state lawmakers to enact special legislation to guarantee the safety of Mississippi Negro citizens. Mr. Evers' letter also asked for an early meeting with the State Executive to discuss the rising tide of anti-Negro violence.

Sniper

Since his brother was shot in the back by a sniper outside of his home in Jackson, June 12, 1963, Mr. Evers said 14 Negroes have disappeared, been slain, or have died mysteriously in rural Mississippi.

Dr. Henry said this fate has befallen nine Negroes in the Delta in the past seven months and in none of the cases have arrests been made.

"Most of these murders were committed by local police officers," Mr.

Evers asserted. Also pointing to the fact that no arrest has been made, the NAACP field secretary questioned the role of the FBI in Mississippi. He said, "The FBI hasn't been able to get enough evidence to put anyone in jail. You really begin to wonder, 'what good are they? What are they doing here?'"

Shock

In a letter to FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, also mailed Monday, Evers expressed extreme shock at a recent statement of the law officer in which he is quoted as saying "lawlessness in the South is no worse than lawlessness in the North."

"We must feel," declared Mr. Evers, "that when the national director of the FBI can make statements such as this, the lunatics who would deliberately destroy human life or property are encouraged."

14 Cases

Dr. Henry cited a half dozen of the 14 cases to the White House last March in an effort to get the federal government to investigate the increased anti-Negro terrorism and violence in Mississippi.

Iowa Negroes Express Unhappiness Over Goldwater

Iowa Negro leaders expressed disappointment Friday over the Republican presidential nomination of Senator Barry Goldwater.

"I think it is unfortunate for the cause of civil rights," said the Rev. I. V. Tolbert, pastor of Payne Memorial A. M. E. Church in Waterloo. "I am not a Republican but I would not vote for him if I were."

Mrs. Tyler Stuart of Mason City, active in Republican politics in Cerro Gordo County, said, "I will vote against him positively. You will find the same thing from any thinking Negro."

Virgil Warren of Mason City said that although "anyone else would have been better," he plans to vote for Goldwater. "I'm a dyed-in-the-wool Republican," he said.

George Cooper, Council Bluffs Republican and former president of the Iowa chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said: "The new Negro votes for or against candidates or issues that he is most directly

President Johnson Calls on FBI to Investigate; Over 100 Injured; Mayor Returns

New York, N.Y.—President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered the F.B.I. to investigate the three day rioting that erupted in the nation's tensest racial area in the north, Harlem, that was precipitated when a 15-year-old youth was shot and killed by an off duty policeman.

The rioting, which began over last weekend, raged each day without a break, causing the death of one and injury to over 100, many of them serious. The Negro youth who was killed was identified as James Powell of The Bronx. Lt. Thomas Gilligan, who shot him, said the youth drew a knife on him. Immediately after the shooting a group of 200 teenagers most of them Negroes, gathered across the street, and threw books, rocks and beer cans at police posted out the building, where the shooting took place.

Height

At the height of the rioting, large groups of Negroes gathered on street corners in Harlem and heckled or attacked passing motorists, as police moved in to quell the disturbances. The officers were met with a rain of bottles and debris from tenement rooftops. Police answered with hundreds of warning shots in the air, and in some cases, used billy clubs to subdue many who attacked the officers, with their fists. Many were arrested. But each night the disturbances continued, as reserve officers from nearby precincts came in to help.

Harlem, regarded as one of the tensest racial hot spots in the nation, is predominately Negro.

Mayor

Meanwhile, Mayor Robert Wagner, who had been vacationing in Europe, cut short his trip, and returned to the city. His return has been looked upon as sort of a victory for the demonstrators who have been demanding that he come back to attempt to completely settle the disturbances. The mayor's arrival came only hours after President Johnson directed the FBI to conduct a full investigation of the violence.

The president's statement said in part, "in the preservation of law and order there can be no compromise. It must be made clear once and for all that violence and lawlessness cannot, must not and will not be tolerated. American citizens have a right to protection of life and limb—whether driving along a highway in Georgia, a road in Mississippi or a street in New York City."

Sen. Goldwater's Nomination Draws Pickets Inside Hall; Negroes Plan Own Group

San Francisco, Calif.—What had been so apparent with each passing hour at the Republican National convention became a reality in the late hours on July 16 when Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona became the GOP nominee by an overwhelming vote, 883-214. The convention made the nomination unanimous on a motion by Gov. William W. Scranton, Governor of Pennsylvania.

The following day the convention elected Representative William E. Miller of New York to vice president for Goldwater's running mate.

No Walkout

The election of Conservative Goldwater, did not precipitate a walkout by the Negro delegates to the convention, although many in interviews over the television networks, avowed they would neither vote for Goldwater or actively help his campaign.

The Iowa delegation split on the GOP nominees with 14 voting for Goldwater and 10 casting their ballots for Scranton.

Own Group

Later, on Friday a group of Negro delegates and alternate delegates to the GOP convention announced that they are forming their own group within the Republican party.

George G. Fleming, an alternate delegate from New Jersey, was named temporary chairman of the group. Fleming walked out of the convention Wednesday night just as South Carolina was casting the votes that gave Senator Barry Goldwater a first-ballot nomination.

Demonstrations

Fleming said the new organization would support Republican candidates for state and local office, including Negroes, who demonstrate continued allegiance to the fight for civil rights. He said they would also seek increased representation by Negro delegates in future Republican conventions.

However, some 250 CORE demonstrators, protesting the nomination of Barry Goldwater, staged a sit-down in the street in front of the Cow Palace, but police made no arrests. The demonstrators had marched from the Cow Palace parking lot, after bottling up traffic there.

Mock Funeral

The sit-downers rose after 10 minutes and continued their parade away from the convention area on walkie-talkie direction from CORE. The demonstration had included a mock funeral complete with coffin for the Republican Party, born 1856 died 1964.

200 Infiltrate Hall

Yesterday 200 demonstrators infiltrated the convention and the guards and police were kept busy clearing them from the hall. Police quietly rushed reinforcements into the galleries and onto the convention floor. Within two hours, Captain Gene Stewart said that a "substantial number" of uninvited guests had been ushered out of the Cow Palace.

St. Louis NAACP in Registration Drive

St. Louis—A 60-day campaign to enlarge the number of Negro voters in this city was announced this week by Miss Evelyn Roberts, president of the St. Louis NAACP Branch. The campaign will be under the direction of Dewey Creighton, chairman of the branch's political action committee. The effort will be concentrated in Ward 5 in which a large housing development is located.

Yours truly had planned to take a week's vacation during their visit but were unable to do so, because the time bumped heads with previous plans of another staff member and his family who are spending this week in Missouri visiting relatives and friends.

IOWA'S NEW METHODIST BISHOP

Bishop James E. Thomas has been assigned to the Methodist Conferences in Iowa, the second of his race to preside over predominantly white churches. On his first official visit to Iowa this week, he was well received and his tenure here bids fair to a success.

Ironically, the first Negro bishop consecrated by the Methodist church took place in Des Moines at the general conference in 1920. Little did most people realize that some day a Negro bishop would be presiding over predominantly white congregations.

For years, Negro churches were concentrated in the central district where Negroes constituted the chief officers of the conferences. Some were opposed to abolishing the central district fearing that Negroes, who heretofore had held high places with the church, would be deprived of these positions.

But the Methodist church like many other denominations has not only talked about integration but has done something tangible about it. In the assignment of Bishop Thomas to Iowa the denomination practices what it preaches.

Bishop Thomas, who succeeds Bishop Ensley whose views on the rights of men are of the highest, will reside in Des Moines. His qualifications fit him admirably for the post. Undoubtedly he will be a worthy successor to Bishop Ensley.

MISGUIDED GROUPS
HURT RIGHTS CAUSE

The American people have been awakened to the denial of Civil Rights for the Negro during the last few years to the extent that tremendous progress has been made in all fields of the problem. Organizations and individuals, federal, state and city governments have responded to the swell in sentiment for civil rights moving far ahead of what might have been expected twenty years ago.

No nation, no people can gain the right to life, liberty and happiness and keep it with outside help alone. Those for whom assistance is accorded must do for themselves everything possible looking to the outside for some of the things they cannot do for themselves.

Efforts to correct injustices and make progress are fraught with misguided action by those who need help. Labor, the farmer and industry have their unscrupulous elements which get out of hand at times and do far more damage with their mode of operation than good.

This is illustrated by the unfortunate riots in New York. True, Harlem has been a potential powder keg for years brought on, to a great extent, by poor economic conditions which have produced less jobs, poorer housing, schools and other injustices which make for lawlessness.

True, a Negro youngster was killed by a white policeman. The facts have not been brought out fully. But whatever the cause, there is no excuse for Negroes to take the law into their own hands rather than let due process of law take its course. We have criticized some communities for practicing this very thing on Negroes. To emulate them follows bad examples.

Much of the ills troubling Harlem is due to the political bosses, the leaders and the churches which have used these people as a pawn to control votes, get rich and at the same time do little to help raise the status of the community inhabited by thousands of unfortunate people many of whom came there to escape the ravages of the south.

This week the Bystander received a news release heralding Adam Clayton Powell day in Harlem next month. The committee in charge seeks donations from other cities in order to make the program a success. Just how a group in this strife torn community can appeal for a day to honor Powell in the light of his public career when that energy and money should be spent helping the people in Harlem who really need it is more than we can see.

Lawlessness helps nobody. Conduct such as is going on in

It is just about that time of the year for our Hilltop Open tennis meet. The thing gets underway July 30 and ends Sunday, Aug. 1 at Good park. Several people here asked us why we don't run the entire meet at Birdland. That would be fine except that we like to see the residents of and the people who frequent the park area to get a look at some good tennis.

The Hilltop tennis club used to sponsor exhibition matches featuring the best players in the city, against the best we could muster. We knew we didn't have two much of a chance but the people who attended the matches always saw some nice tennis and sometimes one of us who were supposed to be doormats would rise up and force the visitor to play his very best. We always figured an opponent could pay you no greater compliment than doing his level best against you.

Well, when we brought our integrated Hilltop open we insisted that the finals along with some other matches be played at Good. We thought that would stimulate the younger players at the park and they would want to play in the finals up there. We did develop a few finalists in the boys and junior boys division but never could quite put over a winner. We had one finalist in the men's singles and a finalist doubles team one year. But neither could come through as a winner.

Some of our junior players had the potential as did a couple of girls, to go on to better tennis. But they got side tracked, jobs or other interests kept them from going on while their opponents went on to play on college teams and on to bigger meets.

Our best performer is Esther Myers and she may be nearing the end of her reign. She has been in the top ten in Iowa women tennis players for a number of years. And was ranked first at least once although she deserved it more. But it is the same old story after Mrs. Myers, who? Maybe this 16th Hilltop open will encoir a prospect. We shall wait and see.

PAIR OF TENN.
STATE LASSIES
WIN BERTHS

Hanford, Calif.—Four sprinters equalled a meet record of 11.5 seconds in the finals of the women's 100 meter dash at the Nation AAU track and field meet Saturday, but a pair of Tennessee State girls finished 1-2 and won the positions on the U. S. team against Russia.

Wyomia Tyus came roaring home in front in a blanket finish followed by Edith McGuire and they will stay here to train for the next ten days for the big meet against the USSR in Los Angeles July 25-26.

The two girls finishing third and fourth and also clocked in 11.5 were Rosie Bonds of Pasadena, Calif. and Willye White, Chicago.

New York hurts the cause of the Negro helping provide proof of the charge of irresponsibility and creating doubt in the minds of many well wishers that the Negro should be treated as a first class citizen. Leaders in the civil rights movement should turn some attention to the misgivings of that group which has done much to tear down what has been accomplished.

In Iowa...
after a swim, beer is a natural

On a hot summer day, a dip in a cool stream can be wonderfully refreshing. Equally refreshing when you're relaxing afterwards with friends is a hearty glass of beer. There's hardly another beverage around that suits what you do for fun as much as beer. Camping, hiking, or just lounging on a lawn chair—beer brings to each just the right touch of extra good living.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom — and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Iowa...beer goes with fun, with relaxation all the people. Many Negroes have been benefitted by the liberal legislation that he has supported."

"Can't Stay Loyal"
The Rev. C. C. Sanford, pastor of Mt. Zion A. M. E. Church, of Ottumwa, said the "consensus among our people is that even though the majority of us have voted for the Republicans in the national elections, we can not see our way now to stay loyal to the party."

James B. Morris, sr., Des Moines attorney, said: "I expect to stay in the Republican Party and fight it out with the element now in control."

Morris said he would not campaign for Goldwater, and added he thinks the G. O. P. could conceivably lose Iowa with the Arizona senator.

Morris' son, also a Des Moines attorney, said he would not campaign for Goldwater.

"Trigger Happy"
Des Moines Municipal Judge Luther T. Glanton, a Democrat, said many of his Republican friends say they will not vote for Goldwater "because they feel he is trigger-happy."

"Really I am frightened at his getting the nomination. Not so much because of his stand on civil rights as because I feel he is trigger-happy. The Negro vote in Iowa has not been ardently sought by political candidates since less than one per cent of the state's 2.7 million population is non-white."
