Race Violence Explodes in Jersey City, N.J.

2 Shot, Scores Injured In Day-Night Clashes

Jersey City, N. J.—Racial violence continued to plague U.S. cities, shifting scenes as previous ones in Rochester and Harlem were brought under control by police and national guardsmen. The latest eruption occurred in Jersey City, as other cities hastened to prevent threatened eruptions.

On Monday night Negroes surged into the streets, battled police, hurling gasoline bombs, bricks and rocks leaving scores injured, including two Negroes shot by police, and many jailed. This marked the second night in a row that racial violence had reigned in Jersey City streets, near the predominantly Negro district. The disturbances continued into daylight hours on Tuesday.

The two Negroes who were shot were identified as Louis Mitchell, in his early 20s, and John Dudley, 21. Both were reported in satisfactory condition at Jersey City Medical Center, Mitchell with a wound of the neck and shoulder and Dudley with a flesh wound on his forearm.

Blood soaked Mitchell's shirt and his trousers as he was carried from the steps of a housing project and placed on the sidewalk. At first it appeared he was mortally wounded and observers called for a Catholic priest.

Negro Summit Meeting

Asks 'Moratorium' on All Demonstrations Until Nov.

New York (Negro Press International)—Eight Negro leaders, meeting in an unprecedented summit session here Wednesday, issued a call for a "moratorium" on mass marches, picketing and other demonstrations, until after the presidential elections next Nov. 3.

Leaders

The "summit" session, held at the offices of the NAACP, brought together the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., president, Southern Christian Leadership conference; A. Phillip Randolph, chairman, Negro American Labor council and president, Brotherhood of Sleeping Car porters, AFL-CIO; James Farmer, national director, Congress of Racial Equality; John Lewis, chairman, Student Nonviolent Coordinating committee; Whitney M. Young, executive director, National Urban League; and Bayard M. Rustin, deputy director, Washington Freedom March.

Wilkins

The meeting was presided over by Roy Wilkins, NAACP executive president. Also sitting in was Jack Greenberg, NAACP general counsel.

After a two-hour discussion, the leaders issued a statement, read by Wilkins, which noted "in our view, the election campaign which is shaping up is a more imperative reason for a moratorium on demonstrations than any local or state condition that has confronted our forces heretofore.

"see the whole climate of liberal democracy in the United States threatened, the climate in which government has been brought properly into the service and protection of the people.

In asking a cessation to the demonstrations which have in the past weeks broken out in New York, Massachusetts, and Iowa, and which are threatening in Ohio, the statement said:

Farmer Signs

New York, N. Y.—Following a top civil rights leadership conference here on July 29th, CORE National Director James Farmer joined with four other leaders in signing a statement "strongly opposing looting, vandalism or any type of criminal activities" but declined to join them in signing a statement urging "a broad curtailment, if not total moratorium of mass demonstrations until after Election Day."

The four other signers were Martin Luther King of SCLC, Roy Wilkins of NAACP, Whitney Young of Urban League and A. Phillip Randolph of NALC. John Lewis of SNCC declined to sign either statement.

While expressing "our serious concern with the recent riots which have taken place in several urban areas," the anti-riot statement made clear: "We wish to draw a sharp distinction between the above-named activity and legitimate protest effort by denied and desperate citizens seeking relief."

Suspect Bodies May Be Civil Rights Workers Who Vanished 2 Months Ago

Jackson, Miss.—BULLETIN—Three bodies found in a grave near a dam six miles southwest of Philadelphia, Miss., were identified Wednesday morning as those of three missing civil rights workers who vanished on the night of June 21. Upon hearing the FBI report Gov. Paul Johnson of Mississippi pledged that "Everything would be done to bring to justice the person who 'committed the murders.'"

(Earlier Story)

Washington, D.C.—Three bodies in graves were found at the site of a dam about 6 miles southwest of Philadelphia, Miss., where three missing civil rights workers were last seen, was reported by the F.B.I. Tuesday night.

The three rights workers, Andrew Goodman, James Earl Chaney and Michael Henry Schwerner, vanished six weeks ago and were last seen on the night of June 21, a few hours after they had been released from a Philadelphia jail on a speeding charge.

Search Party

The F.B.I. said a search party of FBI agents turned up the bodies late Tuesday afternoon while digging in thick woods and underbrush several hundred yards off Route 21. When the area was first searched, officials said, what appeared to be a fresh dam thrown up to catch water in a low area was found. Later, it was noticed that the dam had collected no water despite several showers in the area. An investigation of the dam was ordered and the excavation uncovered the bodies in the fill of the dam.

The bodies were being removed to Jackson, Miss., where laboratory tests will be made to identify them and determine the cause of death.

Certain

Roy Moore, chief of the FBI office in the Mississippi capital, said his agency is "fairly certain" the bodies are those of the missing workers. The FBI search for the missing workers began June 22. The next day their 1963 station wagon was found abandoned and burned on a dirt road off Route 21 and 13 miles northeast of Philadelphia.

The three civil rights workers include a 21-year-old Negro, Chaney, from Meridian, Miss., and two white New Yorkers, Goodman, 20, and Schwerner, 24. They left Meridian late in the morning of June 21 for the purpose, they said, of investigating the June 16 burning of a Negro church in the Philadelphia area.

9th Negro Church Fire

Brandon, Miss.—Flames destroyed a rural Negro church west of here during the night of July 30, bringing to nine the number of Negro churches that have burned in Mississippi in seven weeks.

The highway patrol said the Pleasant Grove Baptist Missionary Church at Brandon—some 10 miles east of the capital at Jackson—burned to the ground around midnight.

A spokesman for the Student Nonviolent Co-ordinating Committee quoted a deacon as saying there had been no civil rights activity at the church. Cause of the fire was not immediately known.

Richmond, Calif.—Atty. George D. Carroll, a member of the city's council only since 1961, last week became its head and the first Negro mayor of a major American City.

Mrs. Esther Myers

Credited with Saving Life of 2-Year-Old

Mrs. Esther Myers, 1419 Forest avenue, was credited with saving the life of a 2-year-old neighbor child here Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Myers, who is trained in the art of mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, was returning from a nearby grocery store when Mrs. Elmer (Delores) Gravitt, 1417 Forest avenue, ran out carrying her child, Sandra, 2, unconscious in her arms.

"Please help me! Please help my baby," she cried to Mrs. Myers.

Mrs. Myers calmly began to revive the child until Fire rescue men arrived. Mrs. Gravitt said the child was found face down in about four inches of water in the bathtub. She was taken to Broadlawn Polk County hospital where she was still listed in critical condition Wednesday.

Mrs. Myers, who is a physical therapist, is also well known in Iowa for her athletic abilities. She was 1963 defending women's singles tennis champion.

Federal Charge in Armed Holdup Here

A federal charge of armed robbery of a post office was filed here Tuesday against Curtis Wilson, 37, 1223 78th street, who is accused of robbing Waveland Super Valu market at 4808 University at gunpoint Monday night.

Wilson was arrested at 28th and Woodland avenue after a running gun battle with police shortly after the holdup. He had been taken to the scene of the robbery by a cab driver, who was forced to go inside with Wilson during the holdup.

The federal charge carries a mandatory 25-year sentence upon conviction. Bond was set at $10,000 upon his arraignment. Wilson got about $2,000 in the robbery, part of it in supermarket funds and $550 in postoffice funds.

State 50,000 Beauticians Will Aid Vote Drive

New York City—Dr. Katie E. Whickam, President of the National Beauty Culturists' League, Inc., now in their 45th Annual Session at the Sheraton-Atlantic Hotel, stated that the 50,000 beauticians connected with the organization would use their influence with their customers to stimulate registration to vote. She said that the organization felt this to be the best method for protecting the rights and privileges of the new Civil Rights Law.

She also stated that the beauticians would advise against promiscuous demonstrations but at the same time insisting upon receiving all of the rights and privileges given by the new legislation. In this manner the organization feels it should be able to directly touch and advise nearly two million Negro women over the nation. The organization is now in session until Aug. 6.

Ia. Children's Home Society Finds Real Family for Joe

What child doesn't love a party—especially a big family party. Two weeks ago, Iowa Children's Home Society had a very big "punch and cookie" party for its family of Foster Parents and children at the agency's new administration building, 1101 Walnut Street. Every child had on his Sunday best. Michele, who is 1 month old, was wearing her best bonnet; Dan, who is 15 years old, even agreed willingly to wear a tie and his best Sunday manners for the occasion; and Joe, who is 8, was trying very hard not to scuff his new shoes. In the ICHS family, no one can tell which children were born to their parents or adopted by them and which are foster children. All are loved and cared for in the same way.

Foster Child

Joe is a foster child. He came to the agency because his mother could not control him and had asked the Juvenile Court to put him in an institution. Joe's mother is white; she had been a Yearbook Beauty Queen in high school. Joe's father is Negro; he had been a team Captain. The Court placed Joe at the Juvenile Home; it was here that the worker from ICHS first visited him. In that first visit, Joe was untrusting of the worker but in following visits Joe grew warm and friendly to the worker and then he agreed with the worker that his parents had problems.

Problem

But what about Joe's problems? Why was he a bad boy—or so he thought of himself? Why did he throw himself in front of bikes, incurring self-injury, or destroy household equipment and his own toys and behave in such a way that his mother could not control him? The worker from ICHS knew from medical and intelligence tests which she had arranged to be given to Joe that he was in good health and had an alert, inquisitive mind. His destructive behavior was the desperate bid for affection and love by a little boy who knew no other way to express his urgent appeal for love.

Attention

Joe's cries for attention were answered by ICHS which placed him in a foster home. Here his foster mother with the assistance of the caseworker understands his needs for affection and firm discipline and gives these to him. His foster father gives him male companionship—you can always find them after supper tinkering with the car making some repair or adjustment. And there are three other children in the home—an older foster sister and very young twins born 17 months ago to Joe's foster parents. This is a real family for Joe.

There are so many little Joes who need foster families. Unfortunately, ICHS does not have enough families to help these children grow in a healthy loving environment.

Plans for October NAACP Conference in Waterloo

"Forward with Civil Rights," is the theme of the 24th annual meeting of the Iowa State Conference of Branches of the N.A.A.C.P., scheduled for Oct. 17, at the Clayton House Motel in Waterloo.

"This means we must vigorously oppose the Presidential and Vice Presidential candidacies of Sen. Barry Goldwater and New York Rep. William E. Miller," Russell W. Nash, State N.A.A.C.P. President announced.

"I urge the members of the Conference to consider the example of Jackie Robinson," Nash declared.

office of Dr. E. J. Meetings are held at the offices of the employers in a rotating schedule. Next meeting will be held at the office of Dr. Griffin on Aug. 6. Meetings are held on the first and third Thursdays of each month.

"We should work hard to register, speak out and vote for the friends of Civil Rights at all levels: national, state and local. We must support civil rights at the polls. Instead of relaxing our efforts, now is the time to intensify them."

Workshop participation by delegates, alternates and visitors is expected at this year's State Conference. "We look for maximum sharing of experiences, plans and problems from the full range of Iowa Branches, Youth chapters and communities," Nash explained.

What is electricity? AN EXTRA HELPER (OR TWO)

Electricity is the free time that a dishwasher gives you away from the kitchen. (And it can attract "volunteer" help, besides.) Electricity is the fun of a movie projector, the many stitches of a sewing machine. Electricity is probably 30 to 40 household servants right in your own home... five or six times as many as you had just a generation ago. With electricity doing so much for you, it stands to reason that your bill is higher today. But the actual cost of a kilowatt-hour of electricity is a full 30% lower than it was a generation ago.

Yes, electricity is many everyday wonders. At today's low rates, it's your biggest household bargain. Faithfully yours, from IOWA POWER AND LIGHT COMPANY and the 1300 people serving you.

Doric Lodge Cancels August Meeting

Doric Lodge No. 30, F. & A.M., canceled their regular August meeting due to the intense heat. The next meeting will be as scheduled in September. William Sharp is Worshipful Master.

Bet you thought you would never make it through Iowa's sizzling frying pan heat wave over the weekend! Residents were forced to use all their ingenuity to get through the humid hours, particularly those who have no air-conditioning or air cooling systems in their homes.

Yours truly had a little additional trouble, with our two daughters, one ill from a bad chest cold and the other with an upset stomach. However, at this writing, Monday, they were much better and almost as bouncy as ever.

With our oldest son we took in a portion of the finals of the Hilltop tennis tournament at Goode park. Oh, yes in the 100 degree heat! But fortunately high up in the seating gallery with the cooled damp air of the swimming pool in the background, it was quite a relief with the brisk breeze.

We had quite a little chat with Mrs. Kizzie Strother, 815 E. 17th street, who had teamed with Cecil Brevton the day before in a mixed doubles match.

On that same day her son, Mark, 10, had suffered a minor injury and gave his mother a big scare when he dived in to the shallow end of the Goode park swimming pool and hit his head. However, like children, he was none the worse for his experience, and was back at the pool Sunday, swimming and diving to his heart content.

From all reports and our first hand views it seems the Hilltop Tennis club had its best tournament this year, from the standpoint of the large number of entries and excellent competitors.

Ours sons had accompanied us to Birdland park for a tennis workout on the opening day of the tournament last Thursday. We went early as usual, but a few minutes after we arrived the competitors for the junior division poured onto the courts. We noticed among them a good hand full of Negro youngsters and learned later that Robert Wright III and his friend, Charles Moore, had competed.

Back to tennis a moment, Mrs. Strother told us that Mrs. Esther Myers, who is president of the Hilltop Tennis club, and also 1963 women's champion of the tournament, is now living in Minneapolis, Minn. She and her husband, Marion, returned for the tournament. It also seems that Minneapolis is a town that has very little tennis consciousness, with only one Municipal court.

We will be on vacation next week so please do not call us for news but phone directly to the office, where it will be taken down for publication. So until the following week, this is good bye until then.

Among youngsters who are spending a part of their summer away from home is Phyllis Griffin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Stanley Griffin, 1608 44th street. Phyllis is attending a six-week youth work camp near Dayton, Ohio sponsored by the American Friends Service committee.

Mrs. Griffin and son, Stanley, Jr., attended the week-long sessions of the recent national convention of the Congress of Racial Equality. Mrs. Griffin is local chairman of the CORE.

It is always good to look around and see that Negroes, particularly youth, getting employment in areas or establishments, which heretofore did not employ members of their race.

HATS OFF TO YOUNG

CIVIL RIGHTS WORKERS

Following the Civil War, thousands of white school teachers went South to teach Negroes. These jobs were that of missionaries most of whom were sent by churches. Their services provided a great contribution for the states had made no provisions to educate the freed slaves and the federal government assistance was limited.

In later years, as many Negroes secured an education, enabling them to teach, the number of northern white teachers became less. Many southerners disliked the idea because the better educated the Negro became the more difficult the job keeping him down would become.

It has been interesting to watch the young white people who have gone South recently to help in voter registration and other civil rights tasks. Their minds seem clear what they hope to accomplish and have taken the consequences attendant to their jobs.

Some have criticized these youngsters claiming that they do more harm than good. This was true of the post Civil War teachers. Of course, public officials, in most instances, have been mean and vicious. This has not deterred them.

These critics never stop to think that America has thousands of troops scattered over the globe for the protection of its interest either by fighting themselves or showing others how to fight. With this, most people will agree. However, it is more important that we clean our own communities first, then go after the other fellow.

GREAT RESPONSIBILITY

ON THOSE WHO LEAD

Recognizing their responsibility to help quell the race riots already going on and desire that they not spread to other cities, Negro leaders of the great organizations working in the field of civil rights met at the call of Roy Wilkins, agreed that every effort should be put forth to put down lawlessness and issued the following statement:

"We wish to register our serious concern with the recent riots which have taken place in several urban areas. We would like to once again go on record as strongly opposing looting, vandalism or any type of criminal activities and urge the cooperation and support of local leaders toward the elimination of this type of activity which damages both the community and the civil rights movement."

This was a statesmanlike move for the action demonstrated that law and order were the backbone of the enforcement, observance and enjoyment of civil rights. It also emphasized that the conduct carried on in these riots had damaged the campaign for civil rights considerably tearing down good will faster than they could build it up.

As a follow up the NAACP has alerted its branches to take steps to head off the conduct of those irresponsible people who have no regard for themselves or anyone else. They are in every community, among both whites and Negroes. They are those who display their hate and look for trouble.

The Bystander believes that the churches have a great responsibility to lend their moral forces in a lessening of tensions; that ministers, many of whom have great influence in the community, may well assume a full share of responsibility. Just as the men suggested that there be a moratorium on parades and demonstrations, so might the churches focus most of their attention on this problem, rather than those about which they can do very little.

CAGE STAR INJURED IN CAR MISHAP

San Francisco—(Negro Press International)—Wayne Hightower, 6-8 forward for the San Francisco Warriors of the National Basketball Association was hospitalized briefly here last week after he was injured in a traffic accident.

Hightower was treated for cuts and bruises at Mt. Zion hospital, after his car collided with a municipal bus.

Hilltop Tennis Has Biggest Tourney

The 16th annual Hilltop Open tennis meet closed out on the hottest day of the year at Good park. It was probably the biggest and smoothest run of the meets. Just about everything went off like clockwork with not ever too many minor things to hold us up.

The Men's singles was won by a guy who wasn't too keen about coming but who after he got here enjoyed himself and was glad he came. Said he would have been glad even if he hadn't won. He was Alan Wigg, an Australian who is attending the Palmer School of Chiropractic at Davenport. Then later this Wigg fellow teamed up with Richard Stokstad, brother of the defending men's singles title and won the men's doubles. The runner up in men's singles was a University of Iowa sophomore, Frank Callison.

Arden Stokstad, defending men's singles champ was stricken with buritis in his right wrist and could barely play out his first round match which he lost.

Esther Myers, the defending women's singles titleholder had to sit on the sidelines and watch Louisa McCollum win her crown. Esther had a bad back and couldn't play at all.

But the juniors and kids had the most fun. A girl from Grundy Center won the 14 and under girls singles and finished second in the 16 and under. Then she went out and collected a couple of doubles titles.

Rick Stokstad won the junior boys singles and added the boys doubles honor to his collection. A group from Roosevelt figured in the rest of the boys events. The Rompf brothers, John and Bill met for the 16 and under honor with the big brother winning. John then beat a friend, Chris Johnson, for the 14 and under boys singles. But Chris and Bill gathered in the boys doubles titles.

ment urged that Negroes shift their emphasis to voter registration and political activity to defeat opponents of first class citizenship at the polls.

Rioting

In Harlem, the rioting was in protest to the fatal shooting of a Negro youth by a white police lieutenant. In Rochester, already fired up by the Harlem incident, a wholesale rampage of a 50-block area of the city began when police attempted to arrest a Negro on disorderly charges at a street dance. The resulting riot caused Gov. Rockefeller to send in the national guard to assist local police and state troopers in maintaining order. Meanwhile, Davenport (Iowa) had a flare-up between whites and Negroes, which was quickly quelled by city police, and in Medford, Mass., police from five communities descended upon the Bally-A-Roue Roller Skating Rink to quash a racial outbreak at a teenage rock 'n' roll dance. The trouble supposedly began when a Negro attempted to cut in on a white couple.

Officials moved quickly to prevent trouble breaking out in two other cities—Cleveland, O., and Syracuse, N. Y.

Shocked by Star's Death, Farrington's Wife Loses Baby

BY LLOYD C. A. WELLS

Houston (NPT)—Fans and friends of the late John "Bo" Farrington, Chicago Bears football star, were further saddened here last week, when it was learned that Farrington's wife of four months, Vivian, a per Houston school teacher, was so distraught at the tragic news of the auto accident which took her husband's life, that she lost her baby.

Mrs. Farrington, upon receiving the news via long distance telephone from Bears' Coach George Halas went into a frenzy and had to be confined to a local hospital where, as an expectant mother, she lost her baby, Tuesday, July 28.

One of the largest funerals in Houston history was held for Farrington Sunday at Jerusalem Baptist church. Burial was in Houston Memorial Gardens.

Integrate Tampa's Bowling Alleys

Tampa, Fla. (NPT)—Tampa's 10 previously all-white bowling alleys were integrated July 11 without incident, thus ending a year of negotiations between Negro leaders, the Bowling Proprietors association (owners and managers) and the Tampa Bowling association (league bowlers).

Most of the kids from out of town left planning to come back next year. Mrs. Myers does a thorough job of preparing for the meet so it isn't owing to any one else but her because things ran off so well. We were all around to pick up the loose ends but there weren't too many of them to be picked up. The weather, after a bad start was on our side so we just had to have a good meet.

U. of Houston Gets Football Great

San Antonio—The University of Houston had on paper the sweetest words any college football coach could want for miles around—the "I will play" promise from Brackenridge of San Antonio's great half-back Warren McVea.

The Brackenridge High School standout signed up with the University of Houston as his mother looked on and Houston coach Bill Yeoman beamed approval.

Seventy-four other colleges wanted McVea, the breakaway runner whose 5-10, 170 pound frame grounded out 315 points in 11 games last fall and gained 1,332 yards rushing.

The powerfully built Negro player had scored 128 points as a sophomore at Brackenridge (in Class AAAA Texas High School football) and 148 points as a junior even though he did not play four of the early games that year.

Scott Listed Among U. S. Stock Drivers

New York—Among the professional stock car drivers of the nation, is Wendell Scott of Danville, Va., leading Negro driver.

Scott, a racing driver since 1961, drove in 47 stock car events last year and finished in the top ten on 15 occasions. His 1963 winnings totaled $9,085.

This year he got off to an excellent start, winning a 10 mile event at Jacksonville, Fla., to become the first Negro ever to win a Major U. S. auto race.

Sources of Contentment

Let's reap contentment from the things The gracious Lord provides: The summer bird that sweetly sings While with us he abides The garden with its blossoms gay, The friendly people near, The children romping at their play Should banish doubt and fear.

Why yearn we so for luxury And long so much for gold? There's endless joy for you and me That's neither bought nor sold. We've but to turn to see The skies, the trees, the flowers; Wherever we may chance to be All nature's charms are ours. And when the wind blows black and cold Until the winter ends, We still have treasures we can hold So long as we have friends.

Let's reap contentment from the joys The gracious Lord bestows: The peaceful home, our girls and boys

And everything that grows. We need but little after all For laughter and for song. Since all the glories of the fall Each year to us belong. Let's lend our eyes to lovely scenes Our ears to all things true And find within our humble means Some good on earth to do.

—Edgar A. Guest

DEAR EDITOR:

"Am I not my brother's keeper? He that loveth me and hateth his brother is a liar who has not seen his father's face in Heaven." As Christians, what is our task?

Why make such mockery and tomfoolery over civil rights issues? Can a man be half-slave and half-free? Negroes do not want to integrate, as some think. Give us our proper status and you eliminate the problem.

Tells Negro History

Read the histories of the Negro's historical contributions to America. In 1619 he landed at what is now Jamestown, Va., one year before the Pilgrims. He has fought in every major battle that was ever fought to protect these beautiful shores and is still doing it.

When they passed the Lindbergh law against kidnapping, a mandatory death penalty was added. Kidnaping has virtually ceased. Then why don't we, in a similarly severe way move to stop this senseless bloodshed in the Southland that has made the American the shame of the world?

Pay Indemnity?

I think if legislation were passed where a state must pay an amount like $75,000 indemnity to the families of each Negro killed in the South, this would solve the problem.

"We all must live together and love one another." This is a mandate from God. "We live in a house by the side of the road, where the races of men go by, the races of men as good and bad as I. I would not sit in the scorner's seat nor hurl the cynic's band. Let me live in a house by the side of the road and be a friend to man." This I have tried to do.
