Ga. Jury Acquits 2 of Lemuel Penn Murder

Were Charged with Violating Rights Act

Danielsville, Ga.—After deliberating three hours and 15 minutes an all-white jury acquitted two white men Friday night of murder charges in the death of Lemuel Penn, 49, a Washington, D.C. Negro educator and Army reserve colonel.

Defendants

The defendants, Joseph Howard Sims, 41, and Cecil William Myers, 28, showed no emotion as the clerk of court read the verdict handed to him by the jury foreman. A brief gasp and murmur of approval was heard from the area where the defendants' families were sitting but the judge rapped for order.

Sims, Myers and two other men, James S. Lackey, 28, and Herbert Guest, 3, all of Athens, Ga., are under federal charges of conspiring to threaten, injure, oppress, intimidate and kill Negroes in order to keep them from exercising their civil rights.

Rights Act

This charge is a violation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. If convicted the four men could each receive a maximum penalty of $5,000 fine and 10 years imprisonment.

Lackey is also charged in the murder and will be tried later. Guest was named in the murder warrant, but the charge was dropped during the trial.

Repudiates Statement

Lackey implicated himself and Sims and Myers in the murder but repudiated the statement while in prison.

They are under $25,000 federal bond, and Defense Attorney James Hudson said the men would try to post bond Monday.

Sims, a machinist, and Myers, a yam picker and laborer, were identified by the FBI as Ku Klux Klansmen.

Judge Carey Skelton committed the trial to the jury at 4:40 p.m. after the prosecution had asked for the death penalty and the defense had pleaded for acquittal.

United Church Women Plan Workshop Mon.

The afternoon unit of United Church Women will conduct a School of Missions at Westminster United Presbyterian Church on Monday (Sept. 14) from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. Coffee and dessert will be provided for the sack lunch.

Mrs. A. A. Augustine is chairman of the day with Mrs. Ralph Hitz and Mrs. Robert Rowat in charge of the Leadership Education segment.

Workshop sessions will be held in the morning on the missionary themes of the year—"Spanish Americans" and "The Church's Mission Among New Nations."

In the afternoon, reports and methods of presentation worked out in other workshops will be discussed.

Miss Helen Larsen, religious education director at Westminster United Presbyterian Church, will give devotions.

Bishop's Family Unpacks Silver at New Residence

Bishop James S. Thomas, Iowa's New Methodist bishop, joins his wife and three daughters as they unpack some of the family's silver, as they settle in their new official residence at 3500 Kingman boulevard.

Iowa's New Methodist Bishop Views His Appointment As...An Opening Door

BY FRANCES E. HAWTHORNE

A Methodist minister and teacher who has spent most of his life in the south, on Sept. 29th with his wife and two of their four daughters, will receive his official welcome as the new spiritual leader of Iowa's 300,000 Methodists in an induction ceremony and reception. It will be attended by Methodist officials and leaders from over the state.

Interview

Bishop and Mrs. James Thomas, in an hour-long interview Saturday afternoon in their beautiful, official residence at 3500 Kingman boulevard, looked back on the past several weeks which have been crowded with all the chores and duties attendant with getting settled in a new home. In addition there was a trip to Washington, D. C. and taking up the reins of official duties of his new position.

Appointed in July

When Dr. Thomas was appointed last July he was the second Negro in the nation's history to be named to the bishopric and to lead a predominantly white area. The move has been a long range campaign of the Methodist church for complete integration.

Warm Reception

"Our reception has been very warm and generous on the part of officials," both enthused.

Pointing to a painter who was putting last minute refurbishing touches on the palatial home, Mrs. Thomas said, "They did all the redecorating; we chose the colors but the work was done by them. As you see they are not quite finished yet."

Hundreds of Letters

"We have received hundreds of letters from people all over the state, expressing their appreciation at my husband's appointment," she added. "They pledged their support and expressed their gracious joy. Some referred to his appointment as 'My prayer has been answered.'"

Bishop Thomas whose youthful ambition was to "remain in the south and work for improvements" of his native land says the significance of his appointment "Indicates the intent of the Methodist church to rise above distinctions based on race and choose and use leadership based on merit."

Opening Door

"My appointment is an opening door, a growing acceptance of the person, rather than the idea," he emphasized.

Bishop Thomas anticipates that the "only change his move North will make is perhaps a fuller participation in activities."

He disclosed that each of the 14 superintendents in Iowa have arranged for him to attend "churchmanship rallies" and receptions at which Bishop Thomas will speak.

Wife's Role

When questioned about her role as the wife of Iowa's new episcopal leader, Mrs. Thomas (whose fluent speech reflects her teaching background) stated firmly, "First of all I will be a wife to my husband, no matter what he does, and give him the same moral support as I always have done."

Although she does not expect to be able to participate in civic duties and activities her first year in Iowa, Mrs. Thomas reflected, "I have always been active in church work on the local level and am interested in children and good family life."

Framework

"During most of our married life," Mrs. Thomas explained, "My husband's work has required a great deal of travel. But we have always talked frankly about any problems and we understand our goals as a family. There have been times when a problem arose that I have wished he were with me; but, I have always been secure in the knowledge that I have a general framework from which to make decisions, whether we have been together or separate."

Children

As she finished she turned to her husband who was scanning an issue of this newspaper, and asked, "Am I right?" He laughed easily, a contrast to his deliberate but articulate way of speaking, and agreed, "Yes, you are."

Both faces light up with pride as they speak of their children, Claudia, 18, who is a sophomore at Bennett College; Gloria, 17, who wanted to finish her high school senior year with her class in Nashville, Tenn.; and Margaret, 10 and Patricia, 6, who are in fifth and second grades

NEWS In A Nutshell

New York—The National Urban League announced last week the appointment of Frank L. Stanley, Jr., to the newly created post of special assistant in the department of public relations effective Sept. 1.

Kansas City, Mo.—Mrs. Susan Mulkey celebrated her 100th birthday on Aug. 25 in a quiet manner, but she enjoyed the distinction of receiving greetings from many of the country's distinguished persons, including President Lyndon Johnson.

Miami, Fla.—Negroes, should begin pushing for equality through business, as well as law and education, Rodman Rockefeller, son of New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller, told a convention of Elks. "If there are Negro-owned restaurants, hotels, businesses then there is independence," Rockefeller said.

Birmingham, Ala.—The old church building used to reverberate with "Freedom Songs." They were silenced by a fatal dynamite blast and now only hymns are heard inside. A quarter of the 675 members of the 16th Street Baptist church attended re-dedication services Sunday, Aug. 30. They marked the church's official rebirth after last September's dynamite blast that killed four young Negro girls.

Dallas, Tex.—A syndicated report through the Los Angeles-Times-Washington Post news services said that many of the nation's big firms are heavy contributors to the Goldwater campaign. Some Texas Negro leaders feel that a nationwide boycott against these firms should be instituted, similar to the one proposed by the NAACP against General Motors.

Atlantic City, N. J.—An attractive assistant professor of law at Howard university was one of the persons seconding the nomination of President Johnson at the Democratic convention.

Kansas City, Mo.—Donald Cheadle is employed at the University of Missouri at Kansas City as Academic Counselor to students. He began his duties the first of August. His duties are to advise new and continuing students as to the course requirements of the college they must complete in order to graduate.

Dr. Hylan Lewis Appointed Director

Washington, D. C.—Howard University President James M. Nabrit, Jr., today announced the appointment of Dr. Hylan G. Lewis to the newly created position of Coordinator and director of Special Community-Oriented Research Projects. Dr. Lewis, who will also serve as a professor of sociology, will join the University staff immediately.

In the new post, Dr. Lewis will supervise the activities of three of Howard's community projects: the Center for Youth and Community Studies, the Community Service Project, and the University-Neighborhoods Council.

Enroute from Waterloo Car Hits Bridge Abutment 7 Miles Northeast of City

A young Des Moines married couple, practically newlyweds, who were returning home after house hunting in Waterloo, Ia., perished in a flaming death late Sunday night when their car crashed into a bridge abutment on Highway 64 about seven miles northeast of the city.

Killed were James Monroe, 25, of 950 16th street and his wife, Mary Lou, 23. Their bodies were burned beyond recognition. Identification was made by tracing the car license plates. Passing Motorists had attempted to rescue the couple but were driven back by the intense flames.

The couple, who were married just last June, were returning from Waterloo, where they had made plans to purchase a house. Since their marriage, Mrs. Monroe had continued to work as a typist at Equitable of Iowa insurance company. Her husband was employed at John Deere Tractor Works in Waterloo.

Purchased Home

After purchasing the home Saturday the couple had plans for Mrs. Monroe to leave her Des Moines job and live in Waterloo. Their plans ended in death, which sent Iowa's Labor day weekend traffic deaths to 12 on Sunday and to record of 554 for the year, compared to 450 a year ago at that date.

Highway Patrolman Don Bergeon said the Monroe car smashed squarely into the north end of the bridge on the west side of the highway. There were no witnesses to the accident.

Mrs. Monroe Rites

Services for Mrs. Mary Lou Brewer Monroe, 23, of 940 Sixteenth st., were at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Maple Street Baptist Church. Burial was at Glendale Cemetery.

Mrs. Monroe, born and raised in Des Moines, was a typist at Equitable of Iowa insurance company. She had attended North High School and American Institute of Business and was a member of Maple Street Baptist Church.

Survivors

Surviving are her mother, Mrs. Ruth Archibald; step-father, Charles Archibald; three sisters, Mrs. Jacqueline Daniel, Mrs. Wilma Bradley and Mrs. Carole Humphrey, all of Des Moines; grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Stevens, Chicago, Ill.; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Lewis, Des Moines.

Mr. Monroe Rites

Services for Mr. Monroe were at 2 p.m. Thursday at Antioch Baptist Church in Waterloo.

Relatives of Mr. Monroe resided in Waterloo. Clifton Monroe, his father lives at 319 Manson as do his sisters Ginger and Charlotte and a brother Marvin. Another sister Mrs. La Vonna Anderson lives at 500 Southview St. His mother preceded him in death. Other relatives here are an aunt, Mrs. Theo Monroe-Penn and uncles Mr. Marvin and Forest Monroe. Raymond Monroe an Uncle resides in Des Moines.

After Five Years Prince Edwards County (Va.) Public Schools Reopened

Farmville, Va.—After five drought educational years, when public schools were closed to insure maintenance of segregated classrooms, public education returned to Prince Edwards county Tuesday.

Although the reopened public schools technically are integrated there were only seven white children among the approximately 1400 Negroes who answered the bell on opening day.

The rest of the county's white school-age children, 1200 of them, remained at their desks in the private segregated system set up when the public schools closed.

LBJ Proclaims Women Voters Week

President Lyndon B. Johnson has designated Sept. 13 to 19 "Women Voters Week" as part of a campaign to urge women to register and vote.

The nationwide drive, sponsored by the National League of Women Voters, was prompted by the report of the President's Commission on Voting and Registration which pointed up women's comparatively poor voting record.

Both the Republican and Democratic national committees have endorsed the plan to see that more women go to the polls.

New Experience

For many youngsters it was a new, eager experience, to see the inside of the public schools. For others, whose education had been abruptly cut-off five years ago, it was both eager and yet frustration. Many, 18 and 19-year-olds, who were placed in the 10th grade would have been graduated from high school and perhaps entered college or finished a trade school.

Elsewhere

Meanwhile, around other school areas, where integration first came to them at last week's school opening the situation remained calm with no trouble spots. These were mainly in Montgomery, Albany, Gadsden, Ala., and some in Georgia.

Princess Zorah Chapter No. 10 Meets

Refreshments were served. The chapter is giving a skating party on Sept. 17 at the Terrace Roller rink. Next meeting will be Oct. 6.

Iowa Students Are Off to College Campuses...

It is that annual time of year when young minds return to books, perhaps sometimes, reluctantly, and at others, eagerly. For many it will be their first trip off to a college campus. For many of the hundreds who graduated from high school last June, that time has come...

Among Iowa students who are college bound are the five scholarship winners who appear elsewhere in this issue. Among other Des Moines students are Jack Carter and Clyde Duncan, who are shown at right boarding a train Sunday in Des Moines on their way to enroll at Texas Southern University. Carter was one of the best hurdlers in the state and Duncan was the best prep sprinter in recent years.

Lois Walden will continue her studies at Grand View College and Janice Wolkskill, June graduate will enter Drake university. Scheduled to enter the State University of Iowa next week is Jessie Collyier.

If your daughter or son is going to college for the first time or are returning to college call us and let us report it, won't you?

Breakfast Club Hears Sen. Candidate

Speaking Tuesday morning to members of the Des Moines Breakfast Club at the East Des Moines Club, Robert E. Dreher, Republican candidate for 4 years Senate term from Polk County, told the group that the time had come to restore confidence and respect which was once placed in the Polk County contingent of the state legislature.

"The problems confronting our county must be presented in an atmosphere of mutual confidence and respect," Dreher said. "This atmosphere has been conspicuous by its absence in the past decade."

Dreher reminded his audience of the statewide misunderstanding of the problems of Polk County, "the problems we face are not new; they are old unsolved ones and they are numerous," he said.

"Taxes bear heavily on our thinking," he reminded the group, "the county treasurer's office has estimated it costs Polk City $9.50 to send out a tax bill."

Fable: Boy With Sticks

A FABLE about a boy with a bundle of sticks he wanted to break has its meaning for today's home craftsman. Unable to bend the bundle, he asked for advice. His father told him to break each stick separately.

The beginning home handyman too often feels he should buy numerous tools and much material. Doing so often is frustrating, so the experts advise him to "take it easy," buying just essential tools and materials and learning their use and application in simple projects.

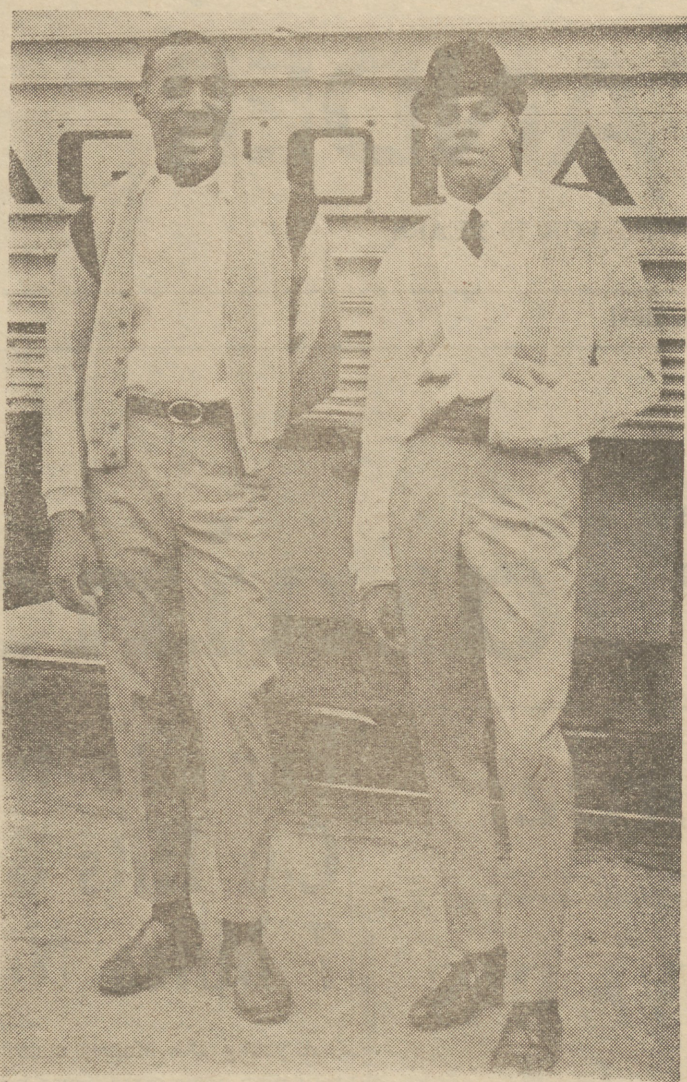

Lumber dealers are good sources of tools needed in the home workshop, and they can advise the beginner which ones he should obtain first. They can tell him also about basic materials to have on hand. Among these is Masonite Tempered Presdwood, an all-around panel that wears like iron, is free of splinters, knots and grain, and is low in cost.

Getting back to the fable, the handyman needn't buy even a 4 by 8-foot panel for his beginner's project, for his dealer usually has short lengths available, and their price usually is a bargain. Gaining confidence in the use of a few fundamental hand or power tools, the home craftsman can make a success of his initial undertakings and then branch out to build an under-stairs project, line the old coal bin, and build some basement or kitchen cabinets.

He'll do well to break just a single faggot at a time.

Dems Adopt Anti-Bias Rule Proposed by R. Wilkins

New York—The key recommendation of the credentials committee of the Democratic National Convention, calling for non-discrimination in the selection of all future state delegations to the convention, follows closely a proposal first made by NAACP Executive Secretary Roy Wilkins when he appeared before the convention platform committee in Washington, D. C., on Aug. 19.

Six days later, on Aug. 25, the credentials committee report called for a new policy, effective at the next national convention in 1968, requiring all state delegations to be open to qualified Democrats "regardless of race, color, creed or national origin."

Urged Seating

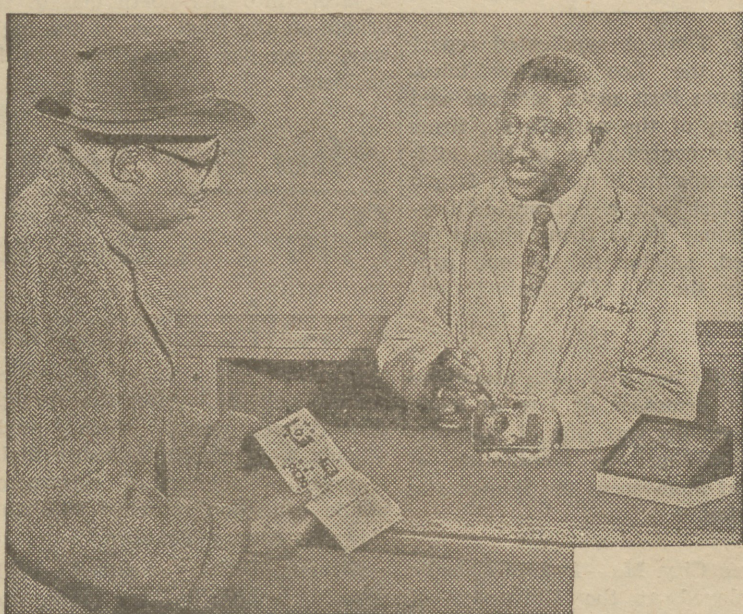

In his testimony before the platform committee, and later before the credentials committee, Wilkins urged the seating of the bi-racial Mississippi Freedom Democratic party delegation in preference to the lily-white "regular" delegation. The convention, however, adopted the credentials committee report which required a loyalty oath from all members of the "regular" delegation, gave Aaron Henry and the Rev. Edwin King, leaders of the Freedom party, full delegate status as delegates-at-large, and recommended the non-discrimination policy. This compromise was rejected both by the Freedom party and by the "regulars."

Roster Open

Wilkins, on Aug. 19, urged the convention "to apply to all states a rule that hereafter the roster of the Democratic party shall be open to all persons who subscribe to its principles and that no state whose denial of membership and participation in the party on account of race or color has been established before the appropriate convention authority shall have its delegates seated in this convention."

Your photo dealer will be glad to explain anything you don't understand about your camera's operation.

Cameras Respond to Good Treatment

TODAY'S column is one of advice—to new camera owners. But one we feel will also be of value to owners of not-so-new cameras.

When you took that new camera out of the box, there was an instruction book with it, we're sure. It tells you in detail how to operate your camera—and under varying circumstances. It's designed to help you get the best possible pictures. But, of course, it can't do a thing for you if you don't read it carefully. Do that before you take your first pictures. They'll be better pictures. Knowing how your camera operates—and what its limitations are—is a good way to avoid disappointment.

Since all new cameras are carefully inspected before packing, yours should work fine. However, if it is the exception to the rule and shows any inclination to stick, don't force it. Take it to your photo dealer, find out what is wrong and the proper remedy from someone who understands the mechanism involved.

These days cameras travel far and wide. Inevitably, they are going to suffer a certain number of bumps and shocks. On the whole they are rugged, and will take an amazing amount of punishment. However, it seems foolish to risk damaging a camera when a field case will protect it and are so low in price.

When traveling by car, you face the unfortunate problem of the most convenient places for carrying camera being the very places that aren't good for it—the glove compartment and the back window ledge. In both spots you find heat and dust, the worst enemies of cameras and film. You don't want to pack it away in a suitcase. So, the best idea is to put the camera in a field case and keep it on the seat beside you—ready for picture taking at all times.

File Rights Suit In Selma, Ala.

Mobile, Ala.—The U. S. Justice Department sued a group of Dallas County, Alabama, officials Sept. 2, charging them with using their positions to maintain racial segregation in public facilities and accommodations.

The government, in a separate suit, also requested that the court enjoin five restaurants and eight cafe owners and operators in Selma, the Dallas County seat, from refusing to serve Negroes.

The actions were taken under provisions of the new Civil Right Act.

Defendants

Defendants in one case were Dallas Sheriff James C. Clark, Circuit Solicitor (prosecutor) Blanchard McLeod, Circuit Judge James Hare and Probate Judge Bernard Reynolds.

Rioting

We directed the interview to some of the current national problems. On riots, Bishop Thomas maintained, "No city, north or south can say it won't happen here. There is enough bottled frustrations and enough vacuum for almost anything to happen."

"It should come as no surprise when there are so many Negroes out of work, living in rat infested apartments, the low educational level and exploitation by some merchants—it should not be surprising when the blowup comes."

"In the cities where riots have not happened, the responsible leadership, both Negro and white, ought to sit down and identify potential trouble spots; they should plan for better housing and jobs."

Political

Turning to the political scene Bishop Thomas stated that "1964 is likely to be a turning point. The November election will certainly be a major one, although many of the issues may not be resolved before 1968. I refer to the civil rights and the philosophy of extremists, which is a very dangerous philosophy."

Dignity

"We must preserve the dignity of all involved," he added. "Negroes must insist on that right and exercise it."

Bishop Thomas refers to his appointment as an opening door. But few can argue that just as 1964 will be a pivotal year nationally, the Methodist church has met courageously its turning point by taking a giant step which will perhaps point the way for human relations as well as religious denominations in the United States.

Tube Rack Keeps
Gardening Hose
Safe This Winter

Carrying your gardening equipment during the winter will keep it in tip-top shape, ready for use next spring. To store garden hoses, try this simple rack that keeps them neatly coiled, off the floor and out of the way.

Cut a 12" length of 2x4 to make the main support. Lay out the holes for the 1" Do-It-Yourself tubing and bore the holes at a slight (about 8°) angle to keep hose from sliding off. Drill 3/16" holes for the two screws that hold the 2x4 to the wall.

Cut four 8" lengths of the 1" tubing and force tubes into the bored holes. Drill holes from top edge of 2x4 into each tube end and drive in lock nail.

Screw the rack to the wall with two #10x2 1/2" screws. To keep dirt from getting into the tubes, snap 1" aluminum tubing end plugs into the outer ends of tubing hangers.

Reynolds Do-It-Yourself aluminum is available in local hardware and building supply stores.

Tea With Meals For Family Good Will

When planning a family meal, most women think in terms of the likes and dislikes of the members of their family. They strive for good nutrition first, which is essential in rearing a healthy family. But meals serve a purpose other than gustatory revelation... it's also a time of day to encourage esprit de corps among family members. One of the elements so basic in encouraging family oneness is relaxation. In this connection we'd like to recommend a hot beverage—tea—as the ambassador of good will in the family unit.

Tea not only aids digestion but relaxes the body, relieves nervous tension and provides a pick-up which most folks need—especially parents after a busy day.

To make a good, full-bodied pot of tea for the family meal, it's important to follow the Four Golden Rules—just as it's important to follow a cake recipe precisely. The rules are simple—(1) always use a teapot (2) use 1 teaspoonful of tea or 1 tea bag per cup (3) bring fresh water to a full-rolling boil and (4) brew 3-5 minutes.

A surprise main dish, sure to please the family is Duck Hawaiian.

DUCK HAWAIIAN (Makes 4 to 6 servings.)

Cut 1 5-6 lb. Long Island duckling, dressed weight, into serving pieces. Remove skin; place duck pieces in mixing bowl. Combine 2 tablespoons kitchen bouquet, ½ cup lemon juice, 1 clove garlic finely minced; pour over duck. Marinate 45 minutes turning occasionally. Melt 2 tablespoons duck fat in heavy frying pan. Brown pieces of duck on all sides. Add 1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice and any left-over marinade. Cover tightly; simmer until duck is tender—about 45 minutes. Add 2 green peppers cut into ½ inch cubes. Cover and cook 15 minutes longer. Blend together 2 tablespoons corn starch, liquid from 1-3 ounce can of mushroom crowns and ½ cup sugar. Add to duck stirring constantly until thickened. Add 4 slices unsweetened pineapple cut in quarters, 4 medium sized carrots quartered and cooked and fresh water to a full-rolling boil and (4) brew 3-5 minutes.

Labor day is behind and the last of the red hot barbecuers performed their choice outdoor culinary stunts over the weekend. Of course, some brave souls will have some more of the outdoor events if the weather holds, but Labor day usually signals the hour for the outdoor cooking equipment to be put away until another year. It was a beautiful weekend except for a few showers, that did nothing to add to the discomfort.

We had quite a stimulating conversation and reunion visit with Miss Charlene Wharton, dean of women at Atlanta University, Atlanta, Ga., who was in the city for five Boulder, Colo., to visit her alma mater, the University of Colorado. From Colorado she came, Miss Wharton, who is usually a hay fever victim, was suffering uncomfortably over the weekend with the ailment, which is the annual scourge of millions in certain areas of the U. S.

Mrs. Bertha Harris, has moved back with her granddaughter and great-grandchildren, Mrs. Darlene Simon and children. Through a diabetic condition she has lost both legs just below the knees and is confined to a wheel chair. But you would hardly know she has any disabilities at all—when you behold her smiling countenance. She is just as cheerful as can be and never any complaints about anything. She is interested in everyone, children and adults alike. And she makes a joking matter of having to follow a limited diet and to take certain medicines daily, but she does it in a wonderful philosophical manner.

She is known to old and young alike as "Granny," and is the most well thought of person I know. In the knowledge of living we all can gain much from her.

Mrs. William (Ellaree) Clinton, 1189 10th street, who received her B.S. degree from Iowa State University last June, began her job as social caseworker for the Iowa Children's Home Society on Monday, Aug. 31.

On Labor day she and her husband and two sons spent most of the day at Indianola, Ia., fishing and relaxing.

Mrs. Zoe Mitchell, Chicago dress designer, was in town recently and reported that her showing of her dress fashions at the Waldorf Astoria went over big last July. So much so, that some were selected to be shown at the World's Fair.

Des Moines has much to be proud of in its native daughter's talents and abilities.

Among teaching faces missing at Moulton Elementary school is that of Mrs. James (Billie Jean) Morrow, special education, who transferred to Mitchell school this fall.

Are you planning to buy a new car on credit? Before you rush into installment buying, ask yourself, "Do I really need a new car immediately?" Then consider saving until you have enough money to pay cash.

Borrowing is an expensive business these days. For example, say you had $800 on hand and wanted to buy a $2,400 car. You'd have to borrow $1,600. If the interest rate were only 5%, the loan would cost you $120 over 18 months. The car would actually cost you $2,520, and you'd have payments of $95.55 a month.

On the other hand, if you put your $800 in a savings account, and added a deposit of $95.55 each month, at the end of 18 months, you'd have the $2,400 cash you need for the new car, plus over $220 in accumulated interest.

If you can, put off buying that car until you can pay cash. You'll be money ahead.

THOSE WHO HELPED HIM SUCCEED

Forest Evashevski, athletic director at Iowa University, was a delegate to the Democratic National Convention in Atlantic City. He was one of the Iowa delegates who favored seating the Freedom Democratic delegates as a matter of moral conviction; he was also in favor of seating them out of deference to the fine aggregation of Negro football players who, while football coach, helped him send two teams to the Rose Bowl and to be rated one of the better football coaches in the country.

Iowa had great teams during Evashevski's tenure as coach and looking at his attitude at the convention one can understand why. His job was that of a coach, the success of which required that he win games. He won them because that goal was kept in mind refusing to allow side issues to enter his decision to play or not to play a boy in a spot. He played the best man regardless of what the public thought. And they liked it because he usually won.

Athletic competition is one place where, given an opportunity to compete, the best man wins. This has been the cause of the success of Negro players in organized baseball, football and college athletics. Most successful teams include some outstanding Negro players who have made substantial contributions to winning games. Few managers or coaches are foolish enough to use any other yardstick as long as the participant meets other qualifications required of all players.

Iowa has not had a good season since Evashevski left the coaching job to become athletic director. It would be well to pass the word down to the present coach how he managed to become such a success. Maybe his attitude at Atlantic City is the difference.

GEORGIA JUSTICE IN THE JURY BOX

The two Klu Klux Klan members in the Georgia slaying of Lt. Col. Lemuel Penn have been freed by an all-white jury after deliberating three hours. The victim was slain by a gun blast at night as he and another companion were returning from a tour of duty at Ft. Benning, Georgia.

The FBI did an excellent job by bringing the men to justice with enough evidence for the grand jury to vote an indictment. Court officials tried desperately to convict the men as an example for other cowards who, under the cover of darkness, kill and bomb innocent people.

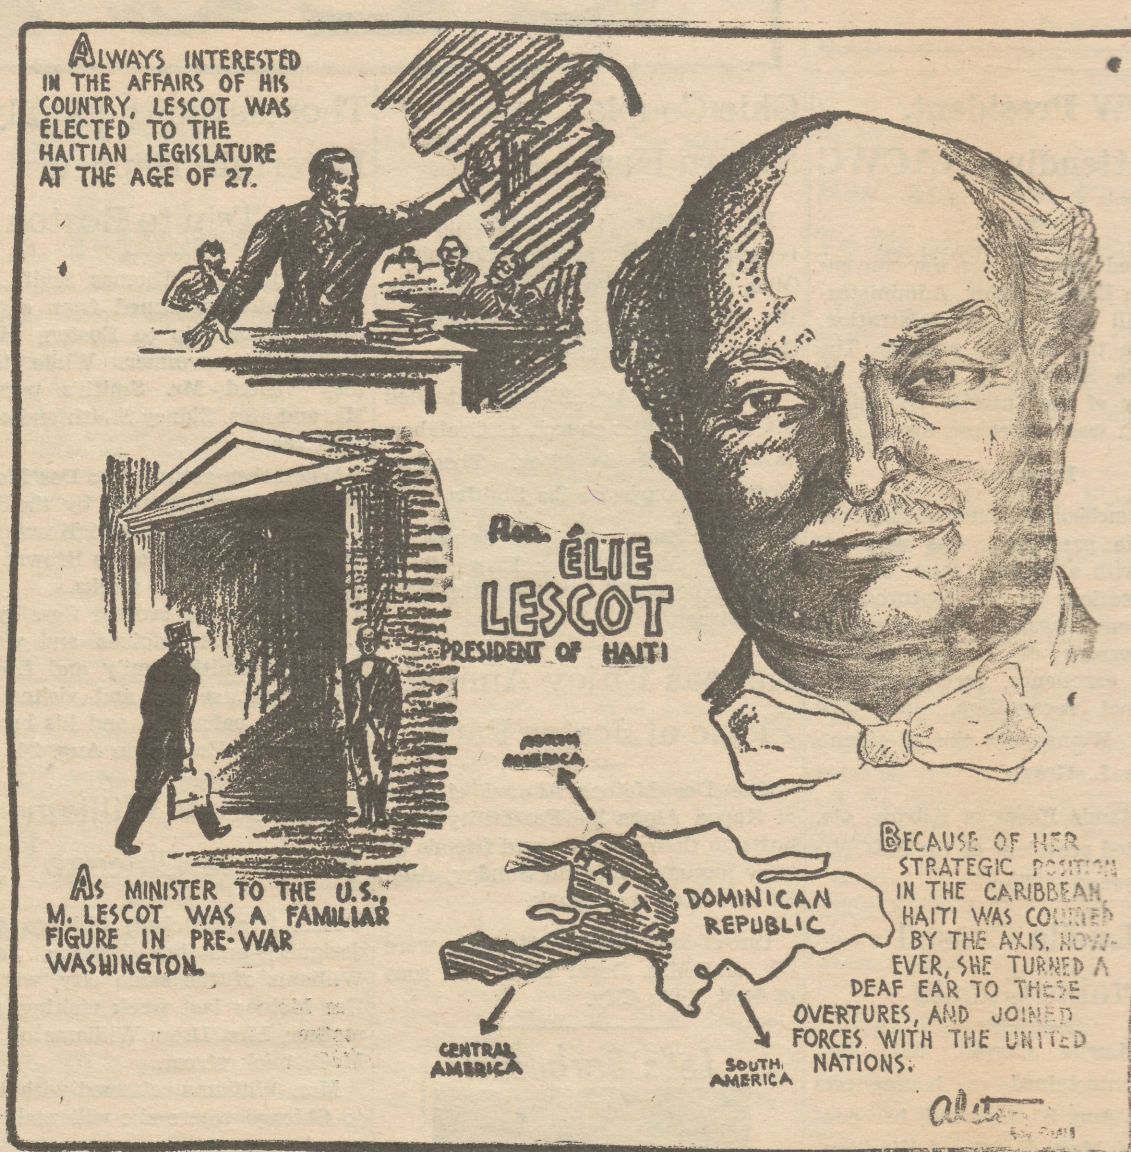

Trial by jury is one of the pillars of old English law. Early Americans insisted that it be incorporated in the laws governing the colonies believing a defendant should be judged by a jury of his peers.

During the debate in Congress over the Civil Rights law, opponents of the measure insisted that trials for its violation should be before a jury.

By all the rules of fair play, judges of the guilt of a defendant by his neighbors is desirable. And yet, men's minds have become so warped that other issues rather than the evidence admitted in the court record, decide how they should vote.

The Des Moines NAACP proved this to be true with the Iowa Civil Rights bill prior to 1925 when both grand and petit jurors threw out cases when the evidence was overwhelming against the defendant simply because the job of perpetuating racial discrimination could be upheld in the locked jury room. The law was changed and so has enforcement of civil rights changed.

The Georgia Klansmen are scheduled to be tried again for violating the civil rights of Lemuel Penn. Undoubtedly it will meet the same fate for backwoods southerners don't want any white man punished for mistreating a Negro.

HEALTH FOR ALL

Public Enemy

Gesundheit! Watch that sneeze, Buster! It's anything but a blessing, old folklore notwithstanding.

As a matter of fact, sneezes are real, live public enemies. And so are coughs.

We can't send out a dragnet, corner them with drawn guns, and put them on trial. But we can incarcerate them—with tissues, that is.

Spreading

Cover your coughs and sneezes! Don't let these public enemies loose to spread their germs to others.

And germs there are, floating free in the air, every time you cough or sneeze. They are tiny but they pack a mighty wallop in sickness and disease when they are inhaled by others.

So don't let a single droplet of spray—a single germ or virus—escape into the air.

Answer?

What's the answer? Just be quick on the draw, when you reach for the tissues.

And if you have a cold, why don't you stay home for a few days? It won't hurt you—might even make you feel better. And it certainly will be better for others.

The same advice goes for the small fry at school. No teacher is going to welcome Johnny with a dripping nose and a cough like a steam engine.

If the cold hangs on, see your doctor. It might be just a cold, but there's always the possibility, it could be something worse. So take care—says your Christmas Seal Organization—of yourself and others. Information Service of Polk County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Forecast

The 42-year-old athletic commissioner for the Canadian province of Ontario, forecast the stripping of Clay's title when asked how WBA ban against the contracted November Clay-Liston return title fight could be enforced.

Not Specific

Although that contract did not specifically mention Liston, the WBA ruled it was "designed to serve as a forbidden return-bout contract" and the WBA banned the fight with a landslide 27-2 vote, which later was made unanimous.

To Lubricate a Lock

If A LOCK becomes stiff and hard to operate, a temporary cure is available in any home in the form of a soft lead pencil. Simply rub the key until it is heavily coated with the graphite, and then turn it in the lock a few times. This treatment should make the lock work like new. Of course, you can use powdered graphite, which is available in most hardware stores. This lubricant is blown into the lock through the keyhole by squeezing the tube. The illustration appeared in The Home Craftsman.
