F.B.I. Arrests Mississippi Sheriff and Deputy

Arrests Climax Law Enforcement Even in Three Dixie Cities

Events involving federal law enforcement officers exploded in three separate cities in Mississippi over the weekend, climaxed with the arrest of Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and his deputy, Cecil Price of Neshoba county.

Meridian, Miss. — Sheriff Rainey and his deputy and three other men were arrested here by F.B.I. and charged with violating the rights of Negroes.

All were released on $1,000 bonds after about three hours in custody.

Separate Cars

Rainey, 41, and Price, 26, were picked up at the courthouse in Philadelphia, about 40 miles from here, by FBI agents. They were brought here in separate cars for a hearing before the U.S. commissioner.

Others seized were former Sheriff Ethel Barnett, 42, and two Philadelphia city policemen, Richard Andrew Willis, 40, and Neal Otha Burkes, 71.

Penalty

The charges, which carry a maximum penalty of a $1,000 fine and one year imprisonment, have no connection with the detention and slaying of three civil rights workers last summer.

The men were accused of subjecting a Negro, Sam H. Germany, to "deprivation of rights by arresting, incarcerating and detaining" and "striking, beating and whipping him . . ."

The accusation said four other Mississippi Negroes were deprived of their rights by the same men.

Second Indictment

A second indictment charges Price and Rainey with subjecting Kirk Kulberson, a Philadelphia Negro, to "deprivation of rights secured by the

D.M. NAACP Launches 'Fall Drive' to Reach 1200

The Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, began its fall membership campaign under the leadership of Silas S. Ewing, chairman.

It is not customary for the branch to come before the community with a fall drive but with many important obligations for the national office to fulfill, it has somewhat delayed the drive. The quota is 1,200.

The chairman, executive board and members desire to reach this goal. They cannot do so without community support for the association and the branch.

Members at large are urged to attend them. Your attendance helps and this gives you the opportunity to present suggestions on program planning, how to stop violence and civil disorder.

500 Needed

The Des Moines branch needs

nearly 500 members. Won't you please mail your membership to the secretary, Mrs. B. Foster, 403 Teach-out building or call 244-8523, Mrs. B. Greene or A. P. Trotter, 233-2528 or Mrs. T. Clark, 244-0029 or Silas S. Ewing 243-7076, or Mrs. G. C. Morris. These persons will gladly pick up your membership.

The branch's Four F quota is $1,000 for 1964. A small contribution for the Four F program would be appreciated. Co-operation is asked from ministers and all churches.

Fund

NAACP funds are used for the continuing struggle for first class citizenship, to help finance court cases and civil rights cases.

Let us see you at the branch meetings every fourth Tuesday of the month at 8 p.m. at Willie House, 900 17th street. For detailed information call the branch president, Robert A. Wright, 288-8752.

F.B.I. Reports on Summer Riots Stir Mixed Reactions

New York—The report of the Federal Bureau of Investigation on the rioting in nine cities this summer was received with mixed reaction by civil rights leaders.

On the one hand, they approved the FBI findings that the riots were in no way connected with the civil rights movement and that the disturbances were no part of an organized effort. On the other hand, they deplored the FBI assertion that civilian review boards in Rochester, N. Y., and Philadelphia imposed restraint on the police "so great that effective action against the rioters appeared to be impossible."

Investigation

The FBI report, made public on Sept. 26, was the result of an order by President Lyndon B. Johnson for such an investigation. The President issued his order on Sept. 9, following a request for an FBI probe of the rioting by Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, on Aug. 30.

Difference

Commenting on the FBI contention that civilian review boards impede police action against rioters, the NAACP leader asked: "Who is going to measure the difference between restraint and too much restraint? When a riot occurs, the Negro community as well as the rest of the city wants it quelled. In every city where a riot broke out, Negroes asked for effective action to stop it. They did not say to police 'Be gentle or we'll tell the board.'"

"I still believe a civilian complaint board has a helpful effect in building better community relations. Nobody said it would prevent a riot."

Tightest Security Ever For U.S. Leader Enforced; Bystander Along Route

BY FRANCES E. HAWTHORNE

President Lyndon B. Johnson touched down in Des Moines late Wednesday morning for a half-hour fast paced motorcade and a 30-minute major farm talk at the statehouse, and by doing so, placed Iowa's capitol on the news tips of newsmen the nation over. More than 150,000 persons lined the parade route, heard him at the capitol or saw him at the airport.

Tightest Security

The U.S. top executive visit elicited the tightest security ever enforced for a President. It was speculated that the increased protective measures surrounding Mr. Johnson had been precipitated by last week's public release of the findings of the Warren Commission report into the investigation of last November's assassination of President Kennedy in Dallas, Tex.

Iowa Bystander

Since the Iowa Bystander was located along the presidential parade route, its employees and others in the building located at 223 1/2 Locust street had a commanding view of the President, in his newly remodeled custom-built, bullet proof limousine and the cars of U.S. security agents guarding him.

Buildings Checked

Last Friday a member of the advance vanguard of security officers who had invaded the city, came to the Bystander office, met with its publisher, Atty James B. Morris, Sr., and talked over procedure and personnel of the office as well as other occupants of the building. Mr. Morris was advised not to have any windows open when the presidential motorcade passed along Locust street. This was the same procedure with every firm, office and building along the parade route.

Onlookers

Some of the thousands of onlookers who lined Fleur drive and Locust street, to get a first hand view of the President were rewarded beyond their wildest dreams—they were among the fortunate few who got a chance to shake hands with the President when he stopped the motorcade to mingle briefly with the admiring crowds. The whole atmosphere had an excited holiday air.

Students

In these crowds were thousands of school students who took advantage of permissive school officials and parents and saw history in the making. For all of them it was their first look at a U.S. president in the flesh. That statement stands for most of the adults in the crowds, too.

Official Greeters

Heading the delegation of dignitaries who greeted Mr. Johnson when he stepped from Air Force 1, the president's jet plane, at the north end of the Municipal Airport, were Gov. and Mrs. Harold Hughes and Mayor Charles Iles.

After his speech at the statehouse, delivered from a specially constructed platform, Mr. Johnson was driven back to the airport by the same route. Most of the crowds had remained to get a second glimpse of the President as he departed.

Law Officers

Reinforcing the dozens of U.S. security agents were nearly 200 highway patrolmen, sheriff deputies, over two dozen policemen and Iowa State security agents, whose main duties were to be stationed atop buildings, on the levels of the Younkers Parkade, and along the streets of the parade route and to keep a close observance of the audience during Mr. Johnson's speech.

This has been rather a momentous week in Des Moines with a visit from the President of the United States Wednesday morning. Youngsters all over the city looked forward to the occasion and ours were no exception. In fact their excitement had a two pronged direction. Some, depending on their age, were more attracted by the prospect of seeing one of the nation's biggest jet airliners land and takeoff at the airport; others, trying to simulate a maturity beyond their young years and scoffed lightly at the fact younger ones could not get more excited at the idea of seeing the president of the United States in person, even if at a distance.

There is really a lot of quiet, advance preparation by aides and secret service men, when the President comes to town. For instance here most of the buildings lining the parade route on Fleur drive and Locust street, were checked out by secret service men last week. For instance one came to the Bystander, inquired about tenants of the building as well as employees. He also asked that no windows be open when the President passes in his motorcade.

We puzzled quite a few with the statement about daylight savings time on Saturday evening. We mentioned that we had stayed up until 1 a.m. but had gone to bed at midnight. Of course this was possible with the setting back of clocks—one hour—as the city went off daylight savings time.

We stopped by the Register and Tribune Monday morning and were met by the wide smile of Mrs. Celeste Horn, in the engraving office. Seems she is a brand new grandmother. Her only child—a son and his wife, became parents of their first child—also a son.

If you are vitally interested in the mental health problems of the nation and the city of Des Moines you will have an opportunity to learn more by hearing a panel discuss the problem on Wednesday, Oct. 14 at 8 p.m. at Willkie House. This is the first time that this particular panel will be presented before a predominantly Negro group. It will be sponsored by the Des Moines chapter of Jack and Jill of America, Inc.

LAWLESSNESS IS BAD
IN AND OFF THE STREET

Much is being said today about lawlessness in the streets. As much as any decent citizen deplores it, those people who are so much disturbed about it never think of lawlessness in other places.

Take the bombing of Negro churches and homes at night by cowards in Mississippi. Nobody has been punished so far.

Or the student mobs in New Hampshire, Florida and at Berkeley, Calif. last week.

Or the National Farmers Organization whose members cut the tires, fences, injured property of non-complying members and two men were killed. Nobody gets punished.

Or the labor unions which deliberately ignore a court order by refusing to obey it rather than taking the orderly method of challenging it in court.

All these are instances of disregard to law and order with none so innocent that the perpetrators should be allowed to escape. It is a sad commentary in the history of our country.

We are suspicious of these people who are concerned about "lawlessness in the streets" and overlook others who do the same and which are equally damaging to the morals of our people.

Apparently the critics don't have the courage to oppose lawlessness wherever and among whomever found.

FAST CAMPAIGN TRIPS
ADVANTAGE TO ALL

President Johnson spoke in North Carolina Tuesday and Wednesday was in Des Moines where he spoke to a large crowd on the statehouse ground as well as was viewed by thousands on his motorcade from the airport and back.

In years gone by, presidential candidates had time for visits to few states and were able to touch just a scattering of people. Now, a speech is made in one state and in another a thousands miles away the next.

These visits enable a candidate to gain a personal touch with many more people, more opportunity for children to view that portion of a campaign which they will remember in years to come.

DES MOINES LOSES
TWO FINE CITIZENS

During the past week, Des Moines has lost two of its outstanding citizens: Dr. Henry G. Harmon, president of Drake University and A. L. Sarcone, longtime publisher of the American Citizen.

Dr. Harmon was president of Drake for many years and added much to the physical and educational facilities of the institution.

Mr. Sarcone, born in Italy, came to America soon after the turn of the century. For a while he published a paper in the Italian language later changing to English—the American Citizen. For years he served as a city health officer. He was a member of the Interracial Commission during its existence.

Both men were associated with many projects rendering service to the religious, civic and education groups. Their death is a distinct loss to the community.

Vote Drive Speeded
As Election Nears

New York—Reports received from local suits of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People across the country indicate that more Negroes will be registered to vote in the Presidential election on Nov. 3 than ever before. Miss Althea T. L. Simmons, coordinator of the nationwide NAACP voter registration drive, said here Friday, Oct. 2.

The pace-setting NAACP drive continues to add thousands of new names to registration rolls in all sections of the country. In the 30 states where registration books are still open NAACP branches are giving top priority to the task of substantially increasing the number of registered Negro voters in compliance with a resolution adopted at the Association's annual convention in Washington last June.

St. Louis Cardinals Shock Veteran New York Yankees, 9-5, in World Series Opener

St. Louis, Mo.—The St. Louis Cardinals, who wrested the National League pennant from opposing teams on the last day of the season, were scheduled to meet the New York Yankees, who won the American League flag the day before, at Busch Stadium here.

It marked the first time since 1946 that the team in this 106 year-old city, had come out on top. Jim Gibson, Negro fireballer, went most of the way for the game winning clincher in a game with the New York Mets on last Sunday afternoon while the Philadelphia Phillies eliminated themselves as well as another league contender, the Cincinnati Reds, from the race.

Pitchers

Other Negroes on the Cardinals team, who are credited with doing a lot to help the Redbirds into the World Series as well as insuring their young manager, John Keane, with keeping his job, are Lou Brouk, shortstop and third baseman; Curt

Flood, centerfielder; and Bill White, Yankee Veteran Whitey Ford and young Red Bird pitcher, Ray Sadecki, were scheduled to take on pitching duties in the opener, Wednesday.

FLOOD

Dodgers Announce Junior Gilliam As Coach; 1st Negro

Los Angeles, Calif.—On the eve of the close of the baseball season the Los Angeles Dodgers front office announced that Jim Gilliam will fill in one of the vacant coaching positions on the team. It will mark the first time that a Negro will be named to the managerial area of organized baseball.

It was the Dodgers, while they were in Brooklyn, N. Y., who also paved the way for Negro to break the color bar as team players. Since hundreds have and still are contributing their talents to the game.

Gilliam, veteran third baseman, has long been touted by baseball announcers for his diplomatic demeanor and team hustle, so necessary in a coach.

Underdog Hawkeyes Upset Washington, 28-18
Greenlee, Former D.M. Boy, on Huskie Team

Iowa City, Iowa—The Iowa Hawkeyes rated as pre-season cellar-dwellers in the Big Ten and as underdogs last Saturday, upset 10th ranked Washington before 48,000 thrilled fans, 28-18.

In the fast start and even faster-paced finish, the Hawkeyes led by Quarterback Gary Snook, who passed for 215 yards, all but annihilated the Huskies.

Greenlee

On the Washington team was Tom Greenlee, former Des Moines boy who now lives on the west coast with his parents, Atty. and Mrs. Archie Greenlee.

Dalton Kimball, left halfback, scored Iowa's second touchdown; right halfback Karl Ryan, second string quarterback, did not complete either of two attempted passes.

Dialing

Also effective with this issue, Des Moines telephone users will be able to dial to Mitchellville and Runnells without a long distance charge. These two cities will be an addition to the ten cities which are already a part of Des Moines' local calling area.

Iowa Map

The cover of the phone book this year shows a pictorial map of Iowa. Some of Iowa's history, scenic and recreational areas and other points of interest are illustrated.

Smith said the purpose of the cover is to instill interest among Iowans and visitors in the many places to go and the many things to see and do in Iowa.

This Land, America

Where else can one live and love
See the rivers and the snow white dove

To work and have all you need Only here, "This Land America, indeed.

To fish and hunt in your favorite spot
When you are tired and very hot.

To own a home and all that's in it
And have a special place to sit
These things can happen in this land of free.

Let's make it a fact for the world to see
To say we are equal in this land so great

Doesn't really apply in every state
Now we have a law of the land
One that will give rights to every man

"This Land, America," with its cities
so full
If we all stick together we will have pull

How many men have lived and cried?
Never know why some died.

To keep "This Land, America" rich and strong

Help combat that what's wrong
No other country can compare

To this land supposedly fair
Let's all stand up and be sincere
Have a country without fear

The greatest battles ever fought
Were won by those who were taught
Ignorance, hate for your fellowman
Make's this a fairy land
One that practices not what it preaches
"This Land, America," with all this mess
May Peace ring forever, and the Good Lord Bless.

If you answer yes to all of these questions...

You should!

Want to save work? A dryer saves lifting over two tons of wet clothes per year for the average family.

Want to save time? As much as 20 work days a year? 4 minutes in an automatic dryer is like 60 on the clothes line!

Want your clothes to last longer? With a dryer, you can select the right heat for the fabric. And a dryer's tumbling action (unlike whipping wind and brittle ice) is extra gentle on your clothes.

Want to dry any time? An automatic dryer does! You don't have to wait for the "right" weather.

Want cleaner clothes? With an automatic dryer, your clothes aren't soiled by children's hands, pets or street dust.

Want easier ironing? Clothes are softer, wrinkles fewer with a dryer. Beats drip-drying for crease-resistant clothes, too.

Want to keep colors colorful? Strong rays of sunlight quickly fade bright colors; a dryer never will.

Want fluffy things fluffier? Towels come out of an automatic dryer 50% fluffier—all your washables dry soft and fresh-smelling.
