Mitchell Urged "Stay With Proven Friends"

Praises 3 Ia. GOPs at Waterloo Conference; Garland Named Pres.

Waterloo, Ia.—A top national official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People urged Negroes to "stay with our friends of proven quality" when they vote in the Nov. 3 general Election.

Mitchell

Clarence Mitchell, director of the Washington, D. C. bureau of the NAACP, referred directly to Iowa congressional leaders, Congressman James Brown, and Fred Schwenkel and Senator Jack Miller. He made his recommendation in an address Saturday night before the Fighting Fund for Freedom banquet which highlighted the 24th annual session of the Iowa Conference of Branches here at the Knights of Columbus hall.

Tower

Mr. Mitchell pointed out that the legislative support of Brown, who was on the House Judicial committee and Swengel was of "inestimable value" when the Civil Rights bill was before the house of representatives. He emphasized that it was Swengel who had help keep the controversial FEP portion in the house bill.

"Senator Jack Miller was a tower of strength" in the Senate which he demonstrated, Mitchell said, by voting first for cloture and later for final passage of the bill.

High Praise

Mitchell, who was high in his praise for all three congressional legislators, is known in most circles as "Mr. Civil Rights." He is said to know more about the Senate than some of the members of that august body. Mitchell, along with many other civil rights leaders of the country, spent hours around the clock, watching the progress of the Civil Rights bill through the house and senate.

GARLAND

Waterloo, Ia.—Louis A. Garland of Sioux City, Saturday was elected president of the Iowa State Conference of Branches of the NAACP at its 24th annual session here Friday through Sunday. He succeeds Russell Nash of Cedar Rapids, who served two years.

Other Officers

The conference, holding its annual meeting at Hotel President here, also elected the Rev. Eugene Williams, Waterloo, and George Reed, Cedar Rapids, vice-presidents; Mrs. Helen Burke, Waterloo, recording secretary; Mrs. Ruth B. Toomes, Keokuk, corresponding secretary; William Bell, Des Moines, treasurer and Miss Virginia Harper, Fort Madison, state youth adviser.

Youth

The Iowa State Youth Conference of the N. A. A. C. P. elected these officers: Priscilla Howard, Sioux City, president; Linda Wilson, Ottumwa Heights, and Pamela Nash, Cedar Rapids, vice-presidents; George Reed, Cedar Rapids, secretary, and Nancy Mortimer, Ottumwa, treasurer.

The conference decided to have its 1965 meeting in Des Moines and its 1966 meeting in Sioux City. Fort Madison, for the second year in a row, won the Ike Smalls traveling trophy, given annually for the most increase in memberships.

Bombing Continue in Miss., Despite 13 Arrests by FBI

McComb, Miss.—The arrest by FBI agents of 13 white men here in connection with 14 night-time explosions aimed at Negroes has not halted the chain of more than 30 bombings reported throughout the state in the past three months.

The most recent came October 4 in Vicksburg when a two-story house used by the Council of Federated Organizations was wrecked by a blast.

All those jailed here face charges of illegal use of explosives. Conviction could mean a death sentence. Other recent McComb bombings include the destruction by dynamite of the Society Hill Baptist Church September 20 and the injury of two children the same day when a bomb exploded at the home of Mrs. Aylene Quinn, a local civil-rights leader. Mrs. Quinn later protested personally to President Johnson.

Jesse Harris, director of the SNCC vote drive here, has asked Justice Department Civil Rights Chief Burke Marshall for federal protection for Pike County Negroes.

Following the latest bombings, local police jailed 24 Negroes on a charge of "criminal syndicalism," a

U.S., World Pay Homage; Morris, Sr. Among Invited To West Branch Burial

World leaders, eminent citizens and men and women from the common walks of life will pay their last homage Sunday to Herbert Clark Hoover, Iowa-born 31st president of the United States, who died Tuesday at the ripe age of 90 years and two months.

Following a series of memorial services in New York and later in Washington, D.C., where his body will lie in state in the capitol rotunda for two days, his last remains will be flown to Cedar Rapids, Ia., and later to West Branch, Ia., where he will be interred in a tree-shaded plot overlooking his Iowa birthplace.

Invitations

Two years ago after his miraculous recovery from a severe cancerous attack, his family helped him compile a list of the great, near-great and friends who would attend his burial services. The list was filed with Western Union in Des Moines. The list totaled nearly 400 and on that list was the name of Iowa By-stander publisher-editor, Atty. James B. Morris, Sr. His telegraphed invitation arrived Tuesday afternoon. He will be among the throng at the West Branch funeral services and burial site Sunday afternoon.

In 192

Back in 1928 when Mr. Hoover was nominated as the Republican presidential candidate after heretofore unheard-of acclaim from the people, a reception was held for Iowa's most eminent citizen in Cedar Rapids. Mr. Morris, who had been publisher of the By-stander less than 10 years, was among those invited. He later was presented to Mr. Hoover and got to shake his hand.

President Johnson

President Johnson will attend a family funeral service for former President Herbert Hoover in New York, N.Y., (today) Thursday.

The brief memorial service will be at 4:30 p.m. in St. Bartholomew's Episcopal Church. Admittance will be by invitation only.

The White House said Mr. Johnson also will be at Union Station here to greet the body of the one-time Republican president when it arrives by train from New York about 2 p.m. Friday.

Mourning

Mr. Johnson issued a statement praising Mr. Hoover and proclaiming a 30-day period of mourning for him. Governor Harold E. Hughes of Iowa also issued a statement proclaiming a 30-day mourning period.

The staunch old statesman, whose life spanned a varied career of engineering, high office and humanitarian service, had kept busy almost to the last.

QUOTE of the WEEK

Atlanta, Ga.—After learning he had been named 1964 Nobel Peace Prize winner, Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., said:

I do not consider this merely an honor to me personally, but a tribute to the discipline, wise restraint and majestic courage of the millions of gallant Negroes and white persons of good will who have followed a non-violent course in seeking to establish a reign of justice and a rule of love across this nation of ours. This is an extremely moving moment in my life."

The Nobel honor carries a cash prize of $54,000, most of which Dr. King said will go to aid the civil rights movement.

New law passed by the state legislature a few weeks before the Mississippi Summer Project began.

HOOVER

Sons There

His two sons—Herbert C., Jr., and Allan H.—were at his bedside when death came quietly at his apartment at the Waldorf Towers, which he described as his "comfortable monastery."

Repeatedly, and sometimes almost miraculously in his latter years, the Republican former president had fought off serious ailments.

Wide Affection

As president when the "great depression" hit the nation in 1929, Mr. Hoover endured much abuse, but he lived to regain the wide affection and esteem as a wise, humane elder statesman.

He was sought out for counsel by Democratic officeholders as well as Republicans. Countless friends and admirers came to love him as a man of immense sympathies and gentle wit.

Says Helen Broadus Doing 'Bang Up' Meter Maid Job

BY FRANCES E. HAWTHORNE

Mrs. Helen Broadus, Des Moines first and only Negro meter maid, is doing a "bang up" job.

These are the words of praise of Officer A. J. (Tony) Mihalovich, supervisor of the Des Moines meter maid force, which has boasted members of every nationality and according to him, ranks with the best in the nation. He made the statements in an interview with him and Mrs. Broadus, who has been a meter maid six months.

Mrs. Broadus

"I believe in talking about what is good," Officer Mihalovich said, trying to lower his warm, booming voice. "I am very glad and very proud of Helen. She is clean-cut, forthright, and honest—and comes from the same kind of family."

Responsibility

"When she began her training period I told her she was shouldering a big responsibility," he continued. "People would be watching her. But she has come through. I have faith and confidence in her."

Mrs. Broadus, who was the first Negro store detective and salesgirl at Katz drugstore before taking on her present position, agreed that she had had no trouble on or with the job.

Accepted

"The girls I work with are real nice and accept me as one of them," she said. "And Tony is a real nice boss, very thoughtful and understanding. I consider him my friend as well as a boss."

Public Relations

It was Officer Mihalovich who was asked six years ago by former City Manager Elder Gunter to set up the meter maid program. From the start Officer Mihalovich, who has been cited for his civic activities

Gets Letter from President Johnson

Missionary Mary Ewing of New Jerusalem Church of God in Christ, much to her surprise, received a letter last week from President Lyndon B. Johnson, expressing appreciation for her setting aside one day of the week for prayer (Tuesdays—9 a.m. to 3 p.m.) and fasting for World peace.

The past weekend was a treasure to behold and enjoy, like none other we have had this fall, or seldom had in years past—especially with so many wonderfully perfect days in a row. And the autumnal scenery was breath-taking. It did one a lot of good just to take a few hours just to roam the country side and just drink in nature's beauty. It won't be long before all this panaromic natural beauty is gone and the trees and grounds will be bare of apparent life and everything will be dormant and cold looking for the next few months. The unexpected snow flakes which fell Monday morning attested to the fact that winter and all its paraphanelia is just a few weeks hence.

After publishing our list of youngsters who got a chance to shake the President's hand, we had calls reporting several more; They are Angie Bibbens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert L. Bibbens, 1039 10th street; Pamela Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wallace, 2724 Amick avenue; and Beverly Ann Taylor, one of twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Taylor, 1320 E. 18th street. Angie is a sixth grade student at Moulton school; Pamela, a seventh grader at Meredith Junior high and Beverly, a seventh grader at Amos Hiatt junior high.

Vance Hawthorne, our youngest son, has been selected among Des Moines students to attend special Saturday science classes for exceptional students. He will attend the classes at Warren Harding Junior high. He is a sixth grader at Moulton school.

We owe apologies to Norman thur McCune, 842 16th street. Last and work with children, the aged and unfortunates of the city, envisioned a force of high standards and yet one that would establish warm relations with the public, on behalf of the city.

High Standards

Speaking of Des Moines meter maids, Officer Mihalovich emphasized, "We don't want to be put on the spot in anyway. We write tickets right up and down the line. There is not favoritism."

"Our meter maids are girls of high standards, who take pride in their talk, dress, conduct and community. They must be good because we want to be a success."

Officer Mihalovich pointed out that one of his credos is that "meter maids must not take their personal or family problems out on their jobs."

Extra Touches

He also pointed out some of the public relations touches of meter maids, such a staying a moment beside a car while the parent goes to a nearby store for parking meter change or a small errand, sending cards to people they know who are in the hospital, courtesy tickets to out-of-town drivers.

or 10 Miles

Mrs. Broadus, who like all meter maids walks an average of 8 or 10 miles a day, recalled that just last week she had waited beside a car with two tiny tots inside, while the mother went for change. And also that cards had been sent to Atty. H. T. McKnight whole he was in the hospital.

Superiors

Officer Mihalovich stated that his policy of public relations had had encouragement from his immediate superiors, Herman Batts, traffic engineer in charge of the meter maid department and Robert Grubb, his assistant.

"They are wonderful and have given us free rein in public relations for the city."

He also had praise for Delores Heath, office worker who takes care of most of the scheduling and tickets for the meter maids. "She, too, does a "bang up" job."

HERBERT HOOVER

Herbert Hoover, 31st president of the United States and the only Iowan to receive that honor, died in New York Tuesday. Rising from a modest home in Cedar County, Hoover went west where he was graduated from Stanford University as an engineer.

He went abroad to head an engineering project where he not only succeeded in the task he undertook but also became a very rich man. Thus, a poor farm boy rises to become President and live in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

Hoover performed many tasks for humanity before and since he became President—always in a methodical fashion.

A striking example of how his mind worked involved Howard University in Washington, D.C. which is supported by the federal government. Prior to Hoover's election there was no law specifically authorizing it and each year school officials found themselves buttonholing congressmen and others to get the appropriation allowed. President Hoover objected to this urging that if the appropriation was desirable Congress should pass a law specifically authorizing it. Congress followed his suggestion and now the only question is what is needed to operate the institution like any other part of the government.

In other words, Hoover did not believe in slip shod methods of performing a task. That's why his advice and help were sought after over the years.

Mr. Hoover had a long life which Iowa in particular and the world generally will remember.

RED CHINA AND THE ATOM BOMB

Communist China has never been allowed to become a member of the United Nations—greatly because the United States has supported Nationalist China. However, in recent years, many nations have felt that China should be allowed membership since more can be done creating better relations by having them in than out.

As a matter of fact, many countries have looked upon Communist China as a backward nation. They saw little chance for her to perfect an atom bomb and they have not been invited to become a member of the test band treaty organization.

A few days ago, Communist China did explode an atom bomb. And while some have belittled it, the fact remains that we too began with a bomb far less powerful than we have today.

In his speech to the people Sunday night, President Johnson asked China to join the test band treaty group and help spare the reckless use of an instrument which has grave possibilities of destroying the world.

Those nations which have refused to associate with China in the past, are not in a very good position to ask them to join in curbing reckless testing atom bombs. It is hoped that China will join in for by so doing they help their chance of becoming a member of the United Nations.

DR. KING GETS A NOBEL PEACE PRIZE

Dr. Martin Luther King, one of the younger civil rights leaders has been awarded the Nobel Prize for his consistent pursuit of non-violence in the struggle for peace. He is the second American Negro to be so honored. The first was Dr. Ralph Bunche; a South African Albert Luthull, the second.

It is interesting that in spite of the turmoil that has gone on since Dr. King began his campaign for civil rights, he has held carefully to his program of non-violent action and he has not attempted to undercut those groups which have waged an intelligent fight employing militant means, and it is for this close adherence to non-violent methods that won him the coveted honor.

Of course, recent gains and losses in race relations in America have not come although by the methods of Dr. King, the NAACP, CORE, the churches and many unnamed groups and movements but by combination all working together for a just cause that must be solved if this country is to remain great.

Dr. King deserves congratulation on his recent honor and the Nobel Peace committee also. Such recognition encourages others in the field who may not win a prize but gain satisfaction knowing that others believe they are headed in the right direction.

This is a tough year for sports. Davis Cup tennis, World Series, the Olympics and football. A body needs two heads and four pairs of eyes to take in everything. Just about everybody except the Yankee bettors were glad to see the Cardinals win. Most of us were pulling for Bob Gibson to make it through that last one.

In the Olympics we were surprised at the win of Bob Hayes, Henry Carr, Hayes Jones and our girl sprinters. We were surprised at the defeat of Ralph Boston and Gayle Hopkins in the broad jump at distances they both had beaten. Maybe there is something to the pressure in those games.

Football

Well, it was nice while it lasted. Just when we thought Iowa's Hawkeyes might be headed for some upset wins, they run into a Wisconsin lamb suddenly turned tiger. We listened to Coach Burns explanation that the defense just didn't hold and we had to agree with him. If those guys can find a way to keep the other team from scoring too much, they will be rough. They will score points on anybody if they can get the ball. But what good does it do to score 20 points if your opponents score 30? All it does is give spectators and coaches heart attacks from excitement. Now comes the rough part of the schedule.

Iowa State seems to be headed for a long sad year. Yet, the Cyclones seem to have a better than average ball club that just can't seem to get unstuck. They may shock someone yet. But they had better hurry. Time is on the other side. Wonder if Tom Vaughn will make all American. He really should but it will be hard with a losing team.

Drake has the same problem, Iowa U has it would seem. How to move enough points to catch up with the other fellows. They may get the job done yet.

Here at home East high continues to look pretty good. The Lee Townships called in a couple of fellows off the bench and rolled right over a good Fort Dodge team. We really thought they were going to lose that one because of injuries. Maybe, the Big Six high school conference is like the Big Ten college league. Any team may rise up and beat your hairs out.

The East-Tech game ought to be a good one. Even if Tech has lost a couple of games they figured to win.

North High

North High is having troubles; they seem to have left out something over there and the Polar Bears blow hot and then cold. They have some kids coming up who will bear watching. One of them is James Kirby, who ran off with dash honors in the junior high state meet last spring. Maybe the time he gets ready there will be a supporting cast to go with the guy.

Oma. Fans Greet Bob Gibson, Clinched World Series Flag

Omaha, Nebr.—Bob Gibson, who pitched his way to World Series fame by breaking the old and setting a new total strikeout record of 31 strikeouts, received a hero's welcome Friday when he and his wife stepped from a private plane.

Gibson, pitched three games, losing the first and winning his last two, including the game in which he clinched the World championship flag for the St. Louis Cardinals. It was Gibson, former Creighton University baseball star, who also pitched the game clinching National League pennant for the Cardinals, which they won on the last day of the season.

When they arrived here Gibson and his wife were greeted by Mayor James Dworak, Creighton University officials and several hundred fans. His two daughters and other members of his family also were present.

Gibson was also voted the Series most outstanding player.

In Iowa... at a picnic, beer is a natural

When you're relaxing at your favorite outdoor beauty spot with friends or family, and your thirst's whetted by fresh air and exercise—that's the ideal time for a cool, refreshing glass of beer. In fact, you can name your recreation—swimming, hiking, or just watching TV—and chances are nothing in the world fits it quite as well as beer.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom — and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Iowa...beer goes with fun, with relaxation
