Voters Drive Rivals Campaigns

27 Civil Rights Workers Arrested in Mississippi

Nine Remain in Jail After 'Freedom' Day Voter Demonstrations

Magnolia, Miss. — Twenty-seven civil rights workers were arrested and jailed here Monday after the group staged a voter drive demonstration at the Pike county courthouse.

The sheriff's office said the arrests came as the group, which included seven out-of-state ministers, formed at the courthouse Monday in a "Freedom Day" voter drive in a southwest Mississippi community. The sheriff said registration was closed.

Bonds

The Council of Federated Organizations (COFO) said the others gained freedom under bond Monday night on money raised within the McComb Negro community.

Bond was set at $100 each. All were charged with trespassing after refusing to leave the Courthouse grounds.

Jesse Harris, COFO McComb project director, arrested and later released on bond, said: "Some don't want to get out of jail until the federal government does something about it."

Cites Warning

Sheriff R. R. Warren maintained that the group had been warned earlier that the circuit clerk would be away from his office during court sessions.

Most circuit clerks, who also serve as voter registrars, shut down their Elizabeth, N. J.—The United Fund of Eastern Union county has received the largest gift in its history, a property valued at $780,000. It will provide a much needed new home for a number of Fund agencies.

Tuskegee, Ala.—A minister and a college professor took seats on the Tuskegee City Council last week. Seating of the two Negroes climaxed a long struggle for Negro voting rights in the area. The Rev. K. L. Buford and Stanley Hugh Smith are the first of their race elected to an integrated city or county governing body in Alabama since Reconstruction.

United Nations—Ralph Bunche, first U.S. Negro to win the Nobel Peace prize last week hailed Dr. Martin L. King's selection for the 1964 prize. The award, Bunche said, is "international recognition of the cause and struggle of the American Negro for full equality in the American society and for participation in the mainstream of American life."

New Orleans, La.—Edith Parker, a school teacher who made medical history by surviving for nine months with a transplanted chimpanzee kidney, died Oct. 11.

Los Angeles, Calif.—Declaring that his blindness is due to the neglect of federal authorities during his prison term, Henry Winston, a leading Negro Communist party figure in the U.S., disclosed last week he had received permission to sue the U.S. government for negligence.

Minneapolis, Minn.—The appointment of Manly J. Rhodes, Jr., as first Minnesota Negro U.S. Marshall was expected to be announced by Ray Hemmenway, U.S. Marshal for Minnesota.

faced corrugated fiberboard. Fragile items should be surrounded by tightly packed cushioning materials such as excelsior or shredded paper. Matches, lighter fluid and similar flammable items are prohibited. Tobacco products and coffee may not be sent to many APO's.

Predicts 7,000,000 New Negroes Will Cast Their Ballots on Next Tuesday

Less than a week from now the curtains will ring down on the last act of one of America's greatest pageants, revived every four years for a nine-month run or so. Along about midnight or before next Tuesday Americans will know who they have elected to the Presidency, Congressional seats, state, and various county offices.

Rivaling the intensive campaigning, speeches, travels and public appearances of the numerous candidates has been an equally intensive drive to get out voter registrations. This has been noticeable with various civil rights organizations to get out the Negro vote.

Potential

It has been estimated that the potential Negro vote is some 12,000,000, including some nearly 6,000,000 new registrations this fall.

A significant portion of this potential lives in Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and other southern states where Negro registration is kept low through systematic programs of repression, reprisal, trickery and intimidation.

Of this number Iowa has a reported 12,000 eligible Negro voters.

Heaviest

The heaviest Negro registration is reported for such pivotal and big electoral college vote states as California, Illinois, Michigan, New York and Texas, in each of which the present estimate is about 300,000. There has also been a significant increase in Negro registration in key southern states—Florida, Georgia, North and South Carolina, and Virginia.

In announcing these figures Miss Althea T. L. Simmons, coordinator of the NAACP nationwide voter registration drive, pointed out that registration is continuing into the early part of the month in 13 of these states. She also noted that no reports had been received at NAACP headquarters from 16 states, most of them with Negro populations. Moreover, final reports are yet to be received from most of the 34 states represented in the present survey.

On the basis of the reports and the continuing stepped-up drive to enroll every eligible Negro, Miss Simmons ventured to estimate a registration of about 6,500,000 by Election Day, Nov. 3. "The figure may well approach 7,000,000," she added.

Tells Impressions As Iowa Paid Last Tribute to Mr. Hoover at West Branch Sun.

Among the thousands of Iowans and world dignitaries who paid their last tributes to former President Herbert Hoover at the burial services in his birthplace hometown, West Branch, Ia. Sunday afternoon were Bystander Publisher-Editor James B. Morris, Sr., Mrs. Gwendolyn Fowler, Mrs. J. A. Bailey and daughter of Des Moines.

Negroes in Military

Negroes were much in evidence in the various military processions. There were seven Negroes in the Army band which played Mr. Hoover's lifetime favorite song and others. There was a Negro navy man and an Army man who were in the color guard, flanking the serviceman carrying the flag. In addition there was a Negro in the six-man body guard carriers who stood erectly at attention, holding the flag tautly over the coffin during the burial services.

Smith, Bromwell, Schwengel and Kyl Have 100% Rights Voting Record in 1964

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has compiled a valuable handbook setting out the voting record of members of Congress on the civil rights bill and the cloture rule to cut off the debate.

The record disclosed Neal Smith, Schwengel, Kyl and Bromwell had a perfect score in favor of the bill while Gross and Jensen a perfect score against it.

In the senate, Miller scored 80 per cent for civil rights vote in 1963 and 100 per cent in 1964. Hickenlooper 80 per cent unfavorable in 1963 and 100 per cent unfavorable in 1964.

The record discloses further that Senator Goldwater voted against civil rights measures in 1963 and 1964, while President Johnson was favorable as Vice President and President.

The booklet does not attempt to tell its readers how to vote but simply sets out the record serving as a guide as you vote for your candidates.

Marian Anderson Begins Farewell Concert Tour

Washington—Marian Anderson began a windup of her 40-year singing career here Saturday night, Oct. 24, when she appeared at Constitution Hall.

Her long-time accompanist, Franz Rupp, was at the piano in a program beginning with Tutta Raccolta Acor by Handel and ending with a rendition of Negro spirituals.

Debut

Miss Anderson, who now lives in Danbury, Conn., began her memorable career in 1925, when she received the nod over 300 contestants to appear with the New York Philharmonic orchestra in Lewisohn stadium.

It was four years later, in late 1929, before she attempted another major appearance, this time with a debut at Carnegie Hall. Following this successful concert, she remained in relative obscurity until she toured Europe where she was "discovered" by impresario Sol Hurok.

Voice in 100 Years

In Europe, she became famous for what Arturo Toscanini called "the voice that comes once in a hundred years."

Miss Anderson returned to the United States toward the end of 1935 and continued to sing under the direction of Mr. Hurok, who is presenting her as her career comes to a close.

Hunters, Beware The Line You Save May Be Your Own

Hunters, please be careful not to shoot telephone cables, the line you save may be your own.

This plea comes from Northwestern Bell Telephone Company, whose overhead cables, wires and insulators are bombarded each fall along with wild game, deer or whatever hunters are after.

Last year, as an example, the company recorded 220 instances of cables damaged by gunshot, resulting in many telephone circuits out of order.

The contralto announced her farewell world concert tour last December, shortly after she received the Freedom Medal from President Johnson in a White House ceremony.

"Hunters may not stop to think that a careless shot may deprive someone of service in time of emergency—possibly their own family. Or, perhaps a line needed for defense is disrupted," said Manager for Northwestern Bell here.

Hoover

On Front Row

It so happened that I stood in the front row where sat one of Hoover's boyhood friends, now 92 years old, who whispered some of the experiences they had in the old swimming hole during their boyhood days.

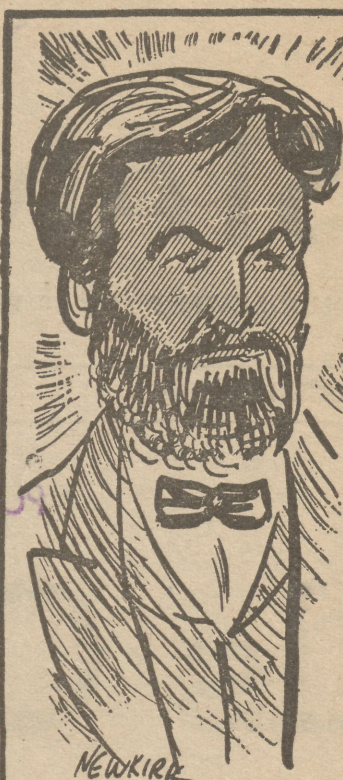

Dr. Trueblood reminded the listeners that most critics of Mr. Hoover were more embarrassed later than Hoover himself who ignored the clamor of the ignorant, the politician who criticize for votes rather than that Hoover was wrong or that the plans for recovery made during his administration were used by succeeding administrators to put the country on its feet again.

5th Army

A detachment from the U. S. Fifth Army headquarters including the band was in charge of the service. They were simple, plain but in view of many leading citizens who came thousands of miles to attend and thousands of just home folks who waited for hours to pay their last respects to a boy who had become a great citizen of the world and a humanitarian the like of few whom they had known over the years.

Simple Meal for Saturdays!

WE'RE FOR WORKING WIVES who, when Saturday rolls around, like to forget about work... and have fun! However, we like good food, and we don't choose to deny ourselves that pleasure... so we plan ahead to make Saturday's meals EASY and QUICK. Here's one menu we'd like to share: Meat loaf... mix it the night before and refrigerate; bake it on Saturday while you play! Poppy seed rolls... wrap in foil and pop into the oven during the last few minutes of baking the meat. A big green salad... wash greens and leave them in crisper during day; add dressing at the last minute. And for a delectable dessert—these maple peaches, that can be baked with the meat loaf, too, and served warm. If you like, pass a pitcher of thick cream to top the fruit.

NAACP Announces Recent Changes In Membership Operation

New York—Responsibility for program and planning for both regular and life memberships in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has been centralized under a newly-designated position, Secretary for Memberships, Executive Director Roy Wilkins announced this week. Named to head that department was Miss Lucille Black, who formerly held the title of Membership Secretary.

The move was a further step in the NAACP reorganization plan adopted earlier this year by the NAACP Board of Directors and announced September 15. The plan followed an eight-month study and was initiated in response to resolutions of the 1962 and 1963 annual conventions calling for analysis of the NAACP structure and procedures with a view toward their improvement.

The NAACP official also disclosed that plans are being worked out for the IBM computer operation which will be used to process all NAACP memberships from $3.50 and up. He said a new and separate system is likewise being devised to handle the $2.00 minimum NAACP memberships.

Whenever four generations of the family get together—it's picture time!

Don't Put Family Snapshots Off Until Tomorrow

TOMORROW is definitely too late for picturing people as they are today. There are some varieties of family snapshots that you definitely shouldn't put off taking.

Among these are the family groups, the four generation snapshots. Sometimes in our concentration on picturing the small fry and how they grow, we tend to forget about the grown-ups in the family. They belong in the family picture record, too.

Picturing the oldsters and the youngsters together is something that can be fun, and at the same time produce snapshots that will become family treasures.

Of course, when it comes to picturing a family group, it is always important to have a center of interest—something that all of your subjects can focus their attention on and not look at the camera.

In taking the three or four generation pictures that should be a part of every family record, the representative of the youngest generation makes an excellent center of interest.

Group the adults in a comfortable manner and let them be admiring the baby. Nothing could be more natural—and because of that it ought to be a sure-fire means of getting good expressions on the faces.

When you have a group like that together, don't take just one picture—the subject is too important to take any chances. Shoot several and you are bound to have at least one exceptionally good picture, and you'll probably have a whole series.

LIFE ON WHEELS

Wheeee! Isn't it fun to go scooting down the lane on a bicycle or on roller skates, or a motor scooter—or in a wheelchair? Well, it is—and it isn't!

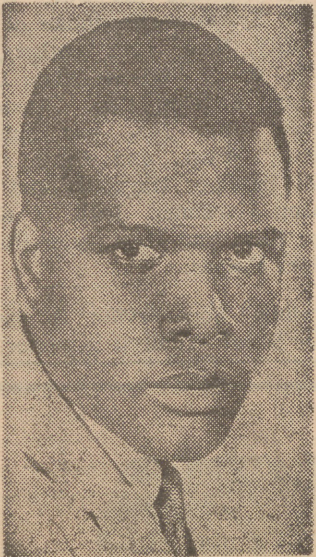

Have you ever thought how you would take it if you were faced with the sudden crises—after a traffic accident, or an accident at work, or in diving, or from disease—that meant spending the rest of your life in a wheelchair? It's not a pleasant thought. You may well think you wouldn't be able to bear it. You'd prefer getting killed outright, perhaps.

Healthy

Yet thousands of people do bear it. Thousands every year—healthy, normal, happy individuals—meet with the tragic accidents and illnesses that overnight may put them in a wheelchair from which there is no escape. And they take it. They

SOCIETY

It is only a matter of days now before Americans will go to the polls and participate in one of the greatest freedoms the world, particularly democratic nations have ever known. By this time next week, we will know who has been elected to the top office in the land and to various other congressional, legislative and state and county political offices. We urge you no matter what your choice, to vote and vote intelligently. Because as one potential voter said, "I want to do my part to help the candidates of my choice get elected. You see he does not plan to stay at home and leave the voting to others. It ought to be of particularly significance to Americans, especially with the recent political fiasco in Soviet Russia, that we the people, have a chance to choose our leaders, and not wake up one morning and find that mysteriously, they have been spirited away and replaced by the choice of a dictatorial committee. SO VOTE, on Tuesday, Nov. 3.

REMEMBER TO VOTE!!

You who answered our call to send birthday cards to Mrs. Bertie Harris, 1227 10th street, on her 90th birthday, helped to make her birthday one of the best ever. We went over late Friday afternoon with a tray of fresh fruit and a bouquet of fresh mums from our yard, and she and her granddaughter, Mrs. Darlene Simons greeted us with happy smiles. Mrs. Harris had received loads of cards, many of them from out of town and from people she did not know. But she did not mind. They all had been sent to make her birthday a special day.

Mrs. Harris, happily smiling, asked us to write something nice to thank everyone for remembering her birthday but I don't think I can top the words she told me which were, "Thank everybody for me won't you. Tell them it has been a wonderful birthday and may God Bless them for doing such a kind thing."

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE!

Friends and acquaintances who know and recall the former Murlean Taylor, of Des Moines, who is now Mrs. Murlean Estes of Minneapolis, Minn., were glad to see how well she has advanced in her profession. Always a wonderful hair stylist she has since added exquisite, imported, quality wigs to her Estes House of Beauty.

She contacted the Bystander and made arrangements to place an ad so her friends and former customers would know. By the way she actually makes an annual trip to Des Moines during the Iowa beautician clinic at Crescent Beauty School, and we are sure she will be here Nov. 8-10th for this year's event.

VOTE! VOTE! VOTE!

We have another youngster who got to shake hands with the President when he was here. He is Marvin Allen, Jr., son of Mrs. Betty Frazier, 924 28th street and Marvin Allen, Sr.

Miss Virginia Stewart, 1243 13th street, is convalescing at home after spending four weeks in the Mercy hospital.

VOTE NEXT TUESDAY

If a child happens to dislike a certain food that he is allergic to, the problem for his parents is virtually nil. But if the child, because of a congenital condition, cannot eat certain kinds of things, the problem is monumental for him and his parents. We know of such a case where the child because of a stomach condition that was partially alleviated by surgery shortly after birth, cannot eat rich foods, particularly items like homemade ice cream, butter and any other rich foods. Recently the youngsters was offered some homemade ice cream at a neighbor's home and though he knew it was forbidden food he accepted, and thus began the nightmare for the neighboring parents, for himself and his own parents. You see his stomach reacts to such foods—in vomiting, which seems endless. The neighbor, not knowing about his forbidden foods, was frantic. Finally the family doctor was called, the youngsters was taken to the hospital where his stomach was pumped.

He later was returned home with an order to eat soups and soft foods for almost a week.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE

The season of hobgoblins and ghosts... Halloween... is here. Beggars night, or better known as Trick or Treat Night will be held Friday in Des Moines evening. The dentists and doctors have received notices to give youngsters sugarless treats. We think it is good idea for all. We always have followed the practice of giving fruit or popcorn. Cookies are not too bad either. We like many mothers cringe at the thought of all the candies our youngsters will haul back and hold our breath wondering if we will have to nurse a stomach ache in the next few days. Even though we hide some of the loot back somewhere for next week or make them stow some of it away, the suspense is still there.

VOTE YOUR CHOICE!!

One reader, who wishes to remain anonymous, reports that it is customary for her family to participate in a daily sports pool, kept within the family. The great aunt of a three year-old member told her that the little one was going to be put in the pool. The toddler replied, "I don't want to go in; it's too deep."

It turned out she was referring to Good park pool. Nevertheless her name was entered and she won two consecutive days for a total of $5.00. Now she goes around with the money in her purse, telling everyone, "I've got money."

And so she has!

We had an engaging and enlightening interview with Mrs. Helen Broadus, Des Moines' only Negro meter maid and her immediate boss Officer Tony Mihalovich. The interview is published elsewhere in this issue.

However, there were several aspects of the jobs of meter maids that was rather informative and which we had had some questions about. For instance, what is the policy when there are thousands of people down town for parades.

They said when Senator Barry Goldwater was in town last week no parking tickets were written that afternoon; the same procedure was followed when President Johnson was in the city. The reason being that during the parades, people usually arrive hours early to secure a place

Greet The Spooks On Their Own Terms

There's no better way to satisfy the "spirits" that roam on Halloween than with a piece of Devil's Food Cake. A family favorite it is, but one that prankish pumpkin faces can quickly transform into a spook's delight. In its dark, rich chocolatey depths lie powers of witchcraft to tempt young and old alike.

HALLOWEEN DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup shortening
1 1/2 cups sugar

*With butter, margarine, or lard, use 1 cup milk. With vegetable or any other shortening, use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add chocolate and blend. Then add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla; blend.

Fluffy Butter Cream Frosting
9 tablespoons butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla

Cream together butter, salt, and vanilla. Add sugar, alternately with egg whites, beating well after each addition. Add milk and makes 3 1/2 cups frosting.

2 eggs, unbeaten
3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1/2 cup milk (see below for amount)
1 teaspoon vanilla

Pour into three 8-inch layer pans, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) about 30 minutes, or until done.
Decorating: Spread Fluffy Butter Cream Frosting between layers and on top and sides of cake. Outline pumpkin faces on top of cake with a toothpick dipped in melted unsweetened chocolate.

3/4 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
3 egg whites, unbeaten
1 1/2 tablespoons milk (about)

THE CHOICE PRESIDENT

This week marks the close of the great political campaign of 1964. It was begun last year by the late President Kennedy, shifted somewhat when President Johnson succeeded to the head of government and became somewhat clarified following the national conventions and as the issues unfolded since.

The campaign has uncovered some strange bedfellows. It has come to the point where it is clear just about what candidates stand for.

Most voters are in favor of two strong political parties since the country is run by parties and not individuals. There had been talk of a clear choice between the two leading parties, but developments have not produced it. As a matter of fact it is a choice between extremists on one side and a more liberal approach on the other.

The Bystander has supported the Republican party even though some candidates, at times, have not championed the doctrine for which the party stands. In fact, in recent years, some national candidates have turned their backs on the G.O.P. and embraced the doctrine of those who oppose much of it, particularly that dealing with human rights.

As a result of these strange doctrines, many people have joined up with Senator Goldwater because they feel that he is the rallying forces of that group which opposes human rights. True, many support Goldwater on other grounds feeling that, in the final analysis, he will enforce the law and accord minorities equal consideration as any other group.

A man is known by the company he keeps. We doubt that with the leeches hanging on to Goldwater, should he be elected, it would be possible for him to desert those who elected him.

Aside from his position on many other issues with which we disagree, Senator Goldwater's record on human rights is such that we will not support him at the polls on November 3.

We will support the state and local Republican ticket.

EQUAL JUSTICE BECAUSE SOMEONE DID HER DUTY

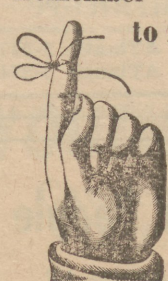

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the FBI, has leveled criticism at the tendency of the public to refuse to cooperate with law enforcing officials in the enforcement of the law. As a result, many unsavory things have occurred which might have been averted with just a bit of cooperation.

A striking example of just the opposite occurred on a railway train passing through Iowa when a couple of white drunks made themselves obnoxious by insulting Negro passengers without cause. And in spite of fact that the train conductor was called to the scene, he failed to perform his duty to keep order on the train with the result that one of the drunks was stabbed.

The Negro passenger was arrested and charged with a serious offense. Fortunately, a white woman passenger had the courage to call upon the conductor to stop the fracas. She appeared as a witness at the preliminary hearing and testified as to just what happened with no racial tones involved. Her testimony impressed the judge who reduced the bond to the point that indicated he was not sold on the persecution.

The woman deserves congratulations while the conductor a sentence for he failed miserably in his duty to his law-abiding passengers.

It was a disappointed homecoming crowd at Iowa. Most of the people thought the Hawks played well enough to have won if they could have hung onto the blasted ball. Dalton Kimble must be awfully strong. On one touchdown he ran right over a Purdue defender and on the other he carried a tackler on his back over the goal line. He really hits into that line like a pint sized fullback. A couple of times he really got away.

About the only sure tackler Iowa had were Ivory McDowell who scored two touchdowns by timely interceptions of good hard passes and a fellow named Miller. Those two were about half of the running game defense that Iowa offered. Those fellows will probably shock someone yet. Ohio State comes next. And do you know that the Hawks have lost to the Buckeyes at Iowa only once in the last half dozen games? Maybe, come this Saturday we could see another upset.

Iowa State has little but Tom Vaughn to show last weekend. That fellow should be an All-American if he isn't. The hardest thing in football is to stand out week after week on a losing team.

Drake finally got back on the winning track. Now, maybe they can stay there.

High School

Injuries wrecked what started out to be East High finest season in years. So now they have come down to where they really have just another ball club. They haven't beaten Roosevelt in four years. Seems that the Riders have a jinx on the East side that they can't break. Part of it may be due to playing always in Roosevelt's backyard. Maybe if the game were played at East...

Tech

Tech has its hands full against East next. They are getting tougher as is North. The Tech-East game should be a real jim dandy. North has moved several of its sophomores up for the rest of the year we guess. Now that their season is over. Some of those kids will bear watching.

Baseball

We looked over the All-Star baseball teams and we couldn't see them trading Joe Torres of Milwaukee for Elston Howard; also, we couldn't see Mickey Mantle on one leg over several healthy ones older. We could name. This team was evidently picked just about the time of the all-Star game which is a little early. We think.

Boxing

So Sonny Liston is getting mean and rough again. Maybe he means it this time. Cassius Clay better watch out... Come Nov. 16.

SIX NEGRO BALLPLAYERS HONORED

New York, New York—Six Negroes were among the ballplayers honored Oct. 22nd at the annual Topps awards luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City. The election and luncheon are sponsored by Topps Chewing Gum who initiated the event in 1959.

Bob Chance of the Cleveland Indians; Richie Allen of the Philadelphia Phillies; Bert Campaneris of the Kansas City Athletics; Tony Oliva of the Minnesota Twins; and Rico Carty of the Milwaukee Braves were among the ten outstanding first-year ballplayers elected to the 1964 Topps All-Star Rookie Team.

Also honored was Luis Tiant the winner of the 1964 "Topps Minor League Player of the Year" award. Tiant won 15 games for the Portland Beavers in the Pacific Coast League before being called up to the Cleveland Indians in July.

Tells Henry Aaron Not To Worry

Atlanta, Ga.—State Senator Leroy R. Johnson, the only Negro legislator in the South, said Friday he was writing baseball star Hank Aaron of Milwaukee that he need have no fears of racial problems in Atlanta.

Johnson, a native of Atlanta, said he decided to write Aaron after the Negro player had voiced concern over alleged racial prejudice here because the Milwaukee Braves want to move their franchise to this southern city.

Johnson's reaction to Aaron's statements in Milwaukee came amid a wave of consternation in Atlanta, where racial integration has been moving smoothly for several years.

In Milwaukee, Aaron had said he did not like the idea of playing in Atlanta and had no intention of bringing his family here. He was quoted: "I don't want to go on the road and find out one day that some Ku Klux Klan group has exploded a bomb in the area where my family is living."

Mrs. Lampkin Stricken In NAACP Drive

Camden, N. J.—Mrs. Daisy Lampkin, a longtime leader as staff and Board member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, was reported improving but still in critical condition Friday, following a stroke here on Tuesday night, Oct. 6.

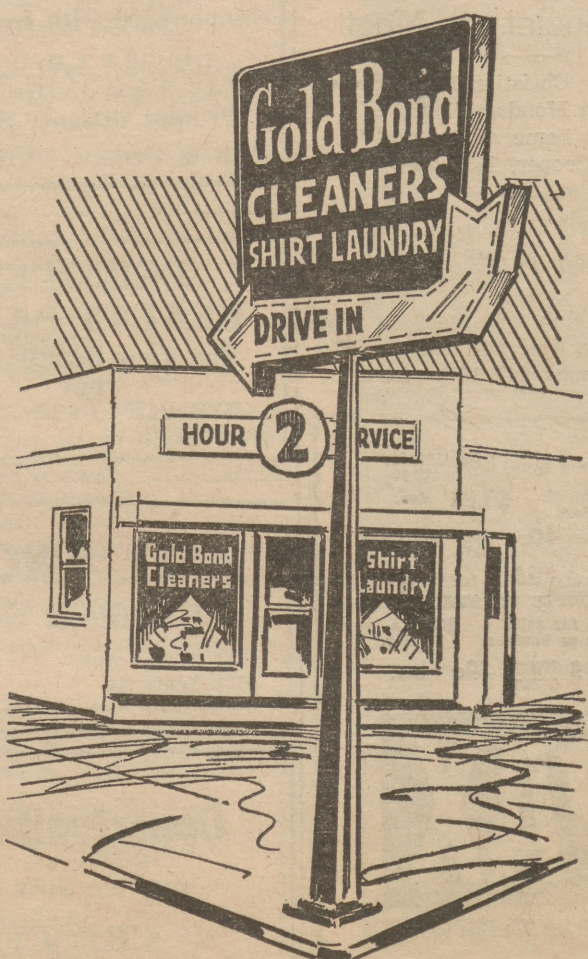

Mrs. Lampkin, a member of the NAACP Board of Directors since 1949, was in Camden conducting the membership campaign for the branch of which Dr. U. S. Wiggins is president. As she concluded addressing the opening meeting of the drive, she sat down and suddenly slumped in her chair. She was hurried to the Cooper Hospital where she soon lapsed into unconsciousness.

TIDES OF AUTUMN

The day ends and evening spills
Its gusty twilight from the eastern hills
On farmers in great creaking wains
Who trundle home through dusk-swathed lanes
To darkened barnyards, there to stare
Into the sky and sniff the air.
And watch, perhaps, a black fustoon
Of geese strung out across the moon,
Hearing in their far echoing cry
The tides of autumn washing by!

What would we give her hand to clasp
Her patient face to see;
To hear her voice, to see her smile,
As in the days that used to be?
But some sweet day we'll meet again,
Beyond the toil and strife;
And clasp each other's hand once more,
In Heaven—that happy life.

We cannot, Lord, Thy purpose see
But all is well, that's done by Thee
I know there are no errors
In the great eternal plan
And all things work together for the final good of man
And I know when her soul speeds onward
In the great Eternal Quest
She shall say as she looks backward
Whatever is—is for the best!
