650 Citizens Rip Racial Violence

Aaron Henry Addresses 300 in Des Moines

Mississippian Speaks At Meeting Saluting la. Rights Volunteers

"Freedom is not just the absence of turmoil," Aaron Henry, Mississippi civil rights leader said here last Friday night in his initial visit to Iowa. "Peace is the presence of love and justice."

Henry, Mississippi state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, addressed his remarks to more than 300 persons who filled Grace Methodist church at a meeting saluting Iowa volunteers who did civil rights work last summer in Mississippi.

The program was sponsored by the Des Moines chapters of N. A. A. C. P. and the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and by the Iowa Civil Liberties Union.

"It is a hard job to convince a Negro that he should love white men when white men are the source of most of his troubles," he said.

The love that civil rights workers speak of he continued, separates man from his actions; you can hate his actions, yet love the man.

Not Love, but Life

"I don't think the civil rights law is going to make the white man love me," Henry said, "but I do think it will stop him from lynching me, and I think that's important."

Henry recalled the June night in Jackson, Miss., last year when his field secretary Medgar Evers, left an N. A. A. C. P. meeting, drove home and was killed in his driveway, shot in the back by a killer who had waited in the bushes with a high-powered rifle.

Negro Americans have died in other countries, fighting to make men free, he said, and they must be willing to die in this country, if necessary, to gain their own freedom.

Fears Explosion

There is danger of a "real explosion" in race relations in this country, he said, but civil rights leaders "are doing all we can to see that the methods we use to gain our freedom will avoid an explosion."

Henry said he is returning to Mississippi, after spending several months on Democratic campaign assignments, to carry on the work of Medgar Evers.

"Mississippi, with all its imperfections, is my home," he said.

60 Iowans

Mrs. Stanley Griffin, Des Moines CORE chairman, said more than 40 Iowa ministers and 20 Iowa students have served as civil rights volunteers in Mississippi. A few of them were in the audience, and four of the student volunteers spoke briefly.

The program ended with the audience—more than 300 persons, in a variety of races, creeds, and ages—joining hands and singing, "We Shall Overcome."

Acclaimed in Broadway Hit—"Golden Boy"

Vandals Wreck Connecticut Church

New York—Six members of the New England Regional Volunteers, (NERV), an area youth group of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, have been directed to investigate the vandalism of a Negro church in New London, Conn., which has been headquarters for NAACP voter registration activities.

IT TOOK ONLY 10c, FROM THE PURSE OF A NEGRO SEAMSTRESS, TO SHAKE AMERICA

Mrs. Rosa Parks, the Negro woman who refused to give her seat to a white man on a Montgomery, Ala. bus nine years ago this December, is the subject of a four-page illustrated article in the current issue of Esquire Magazine.

The article is titled "10c That Shook America." The "10c" in the title refers, of course, to Mrs. Parks' bus fare.

Against a series of drawings depicting the Montgomery bus boycott in 1955, Mrs. Parks records her memories of what came to be the first gesture in today's civil-rights movement.

Description

In Esquire, Mrs. Parks describes the incident on the bus in the following way: "... A white man got on, and the driver said, 'Let me save those seats.' It didn't seem logical, particularly for a woman to give way to a man. I had paid the same fare. I stayed where I was. I don't remember being frightened. I didn't feel anything except maybe being awfully tired. Two policemen came out and the driver pointed me out, said he wanted the seat and I wouldn't stand up. Then I said, 'Why do you push us around?' 'I don't know,' the policeman said, 'but the law is the law and you're under arrest.'

Miss. Negro Freed On Charge of Owning Two Cans of Beer

New York—Jack Greenberg, director counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund today announced that Clyde Harvey, Mississippi Civil Rights supporter, has been freed from jail.

Harvey had served two months of a 90-day term for possession of two cans of beer. Mississippi is a "dry" state.

Pending decision of the case, Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the U. S. Court of Appeals for the 5th Circuit ordered Harvey's release on bail. Federal District Judge Sidney Mize had denied Legal Defense Fund motions on Harvey's behalf on Oct. 14.

Names, Statement Are Published in Newspaper Asking for Equal Rights

McComb, Miss.—Many Negroes and civil rights leaders have long maintained that there are good people in the south who have helped in the struggle for equal rights and have dared to go against the expected idea of acquiescence of going with the crowd. These Negroes have maintained that these good people can be found in all states, even the segregation stronghold of states-rightists Mississippi.

Tuesday this belief and declaration was born out when 650 white citizens of the McComb area signed a statement calling for an end to racial violence and for equal treatment under the law for all citizens.

Names Published

Both the statement and the names of those signing it were published Tuesday in the McComb Enterprise-Journal. McComb has a population of about 12,000.

About 20 business and civic leaders drew up the statement after the Enterprise-Journal published a series of editorials condemning the more than 30 racial crimes in the McComb area in recent months.

Terrorism

"Acts of terrorism have been committed numerous times against citizens, both Negro and white," the statement said.

"We believe the time has come for responsible people to speak out for what is right and against what is wrong. For too long we have let the extremists on both sides bring our community close to chaos."

"There is only one responsible stance we can take and that is for the equal treatment under the law for all citizens regardless of race, creed, position or wealth," the statement continued, "for keeping our protests within the framework of the law; and for obeying the laws of the land regardless of our personal feelings."

Lawful Arrests

As a first step in re-establishing law and order, the statement said, "all officers should make only lawful arrests. Harassment arrests no matter what the provocation are not

Civil Rights Act Gets First Test in North Carolina

New Bern—North Carolina received its first test of the 1964 Civil Rights Act Nov. 10 in U.S. District Court here.

NAACP Legal Defense Fund attorneys asked for injunctions to end discrimination at Moore's Barbecue in New Bern and at the Villa Vicki Hotel Court and Restaurant in Elizabeth City.

Title II

The two suits ask the Court to enforce Title II of the new law, which is currently under review in the U.S. Supreme Court. Legal Defense Fund lawyers charged in their complaints that North Carolina supports the discriminatory policy of these establishments by state action and that operators of the restaurants affect Interstate Commerce.

Barbecue

Negro plaintiffs represented by the Legal Defense Fund sought and were denied service at Moore's Barbecue on July 13, and at the Villa Vicki on Aug. 12, Oct. 2, and Oct. 21.

The owners of these establishments turned them away, saying that Negroes would not be served.

The Legal Defense Fund complaints make clear that both places of public accommodation are located on interstate highways and that the food served there moved in interstate commerce.

Plan Community 'Self-Help' Clinics in Churches in U.S.

New York—A project designed to enlist predominantly Negro church groups in a massive "Community Self-Help" program was launched this week by the Church Department of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Rights Act

Rev. Edward J. Odom, Jr., NAACP secretary for church affairs, said the program is designed to help Negroes make the best use of gains afforded by passage of the 1964 Civil Rights Act, government anti-poverty program, community concern for culturally disadvantaged youth and the positive climate resulting from the recent national election.

600 Locals

In a letter sent out this week, Rev. Odom has urged more than 600 local NAACP church committees to help mobilize religious groups behind the project which he said "is a logical phase in the implementation of civil rights goals."

Recruitment

The "Community Self-Help" program includes recruitment of volunteers for tutorial tasks; organized campaigns against school dropouts; adult and youth counseling and study programs as an aid to strengthening Negro family life; dissemination of information about opportunities afforded by government and volunteer agency training programs; and a direct confrontation with delinquency problems at the grass-roots level, said Rev. Odom.

The 1964 NAACP convention called for such NAACP-church cooperative endeavors, he added.

POLICEMAN

Brooklyn, N.Y.—A CORE picket demonstration planned for the 92nd precinct resulted in the reassignment of Lieutenant Thomas Gilligan "to an undisclosed post."

On "sick leave" since July 16 when he fatally shot 15-year-old James Powell and thus set off the Harlem riots, Gilligan had been scheduled for assignment to the 92nd precinct. The assignment followed his exoneration by a county grand jury and by a police departmental review board.

Regarding the departmental review board's action, Major Owens, chairman of Brooklyn CORE, asserted that it "re-emphasizes the need for a civilian review board in cases of police brutality. He added that "this is the real issue—not Gilligan." He deplored the fact "that the police department has refused to consider the moral issues of Gilligan's callous attitude toward human life."

HEALTH FOR ALL

HOME FOR CHRISTMAS

Remember last summer when the temperature stayed stubbornly high for several sweltering weeks?

Karen Anne does. She felt especially hot, tired, and listless almost all summer, even on the occasional days when the rest of us were enjoying a breather of relief.

Hospital

Now most of us are buttoning up against December's chilly winds, but Karen is looking out her window with excitement and anticipation. It's a hospital window, and Karen doesn't need to "button up" against the chill. Her skimpy hospital gown is all she needs—right now.

But she's been promised she'll be home for Christmas.

Back with her family. Snug in the nest.

All the good year-long remembered smells. Evergreens, spicy cookies from the oven, the fine heady odor of fruit cake, and soon, the fragrant and crackling reminder that the turkey is "coming along nice", as her mother always says.

Home

She'll be home for Christmas—and the memories of last summer—truly a long hot one for Karen, will be wished away in the snowy crispness of December, the holiday season. It is a "holiday" indeed for this particular little girl. Her TB, diagnosed last summer when her symptoms persisted longer than the heat might account for, is now under control.

With continued care, she will see—and enjoy—a full life of Christmases-to-come.

Your Christmas Seal Campaign starts now. You will receive your stamps sometime this week. Support for this campaign insures happy holidays for many others.

Des Moines Links Were Hosts to Intriguing, Imaginative "Table Hopping" World Tour Here

By Frances E. Hawthorne
The Des Moines chapter of Links, Inc., were hostess to a unique but colorful and imaginative table hopping "world tour" here on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 8. For those who made the trip, there was authentic, colorful scenery and atmosphere, relics from the various countries or areas visited at one time or another by the members of the host organization, and favorite dishes or tidbits of the countries to tease and delight the gourmet palate.

Greenwich Village

So come, go with us as we take you on a verbal, pictorial tour of that afternoon. We will go by train, or jet airliner or magic carpet if you wish first to Greenwich Village, New York where Mesdames Bonnie Herndon and James Bowman were hostesses at the Herndon home, 723 28th street. Patrons were served pizza, assorted pickles and coffee from red-checked cloth covered tables. An artist picture rested on an easel nearby and those assisting the hostess were attired as artists.

New England States

From there we take a short jaunt to the New England States where Mesdames James E. Morris, Sr., and Mary Ritchey were hostesses at the Morris home 955 17th street, at a beach scene in Martha's Vineyard in Massachusetts. The atmosphere was cleverly created with a huge wall mural painted by C. Frank Planklin. In the mural a boat was anchored just off shore and a lighthouse could be seen in the distance. The hostesses served New England clam chowder and cranberry juice.

To Europe

Flying across the Atlantic Ocean we take a tour of Europe, then back to Mexico and the Bahamas at the home of Mrs. John Estes, Jr., where she displayed many relics and souvenirs of her travels. Her dining table was covered with an Italian cloth with a United Nations flag extending the full length. She served a gourmet dish that Switzerland is most famous for—Swiss-cheese fondue, served hot, which is eaten by dipping bread cubes in it and accompanied with a liquid—wine or kirsche.

Caribbean Cruise

Now we will jet-hop over to the Caribbean cruise with Mesdames A. A. Alexander and William Brooks as hostesses at the Alexander home, 2200 Chautauqua parkway. The table was resplendent with the Links ritual setting—white roses flanked by white candles in silver holders, the Link chain and white satin Bible and white linen cloth. Relics and art souvenirs from the Virgin Islands, Jerusalem, England and Italy, depicted the Alexanders early travels. The hostesses served meatballs and consume with little wafers, a favorite dish from the Virgin Islands.

Tropical Cruise

Extending in to a Tropical (South America, Caribbean and Hawaii) cruise lets go to 3541 27th street, where Mrs. John Estes, Sr., was hostess in a beautiful formal Hawaiian gown with her helpers attired in muu-muus. With a background of tropical plans and flowers and soft Hawaiian music, you can enjoy simple but "oh so good" things to eat like hot spice pineapple punch, cold pineapple juice, pick food to dip in coconut, meatballs in choy sauce served from a chafing dish. Her centerpiece was Hawaiian, an array of fruit and vegetable surrounding the state's most beautiful flower, Bird of Paradise. Numerous art items and treasures of bamboo, ceramic and straw were featured from Jamaica.

China

Our tour would not be complete without a stop in China where Mesdames J. W. Mitchell and Nevin Bruce were hostesses assisted by Mrs. Glenda Russell, at the Mitchell home, 1127 11th street. They were beautifully attired in Chinese mandarin and served Oriental tea, Chinese chews (cookies) from Chinese brass teapot and coffee pot. Chinese figurines and candles completed the atmospheric setting for the travelers. Mrs. John Estes, Jr., is president of the Des Moines chapter and Mrs. John Estes, Sr., was tour chairman. Mrs. Bonnie Herndon was publicity chairman.

Quick-To-Make Holiday Favorites

When every hour means so much during the pre-holiday season—make these wonderful Chocolate Crisps with no fuss or effort.

Homemade Christmas candy brings a great deal of pleasure to all—young and old alike. However, candy-making is sometimes a tedious process which can take up many precious hours of your pre-holiday time. Well, now you won't have that problem to face—nor a messy clean-up job either—when you make these speedy simple candies. Chocolate Crisps are prepared so quickly and easily that even the youngsters can turn out several batches in one afternoon. And you need only two ingredients—candy-making chocolate and candy-coated puffed wheat—to make three dozen crispy candies.

French Cocoa Balls, also quick and easy, are a soft, fudgy type of candy made with a new sweet cocoa mix. They can be rolled into various shapes with many attractive variations such as chopped walnuts, ground pistachio nuts, toasted coconut, etc. Economical, too, when every batch makes three to four dozen French-type chocolates.

CHOCOLATE CRISPS

1/4 package (4 squares) candy-making chocolate
2 cups candy-coated puffed wheat

Heat chocolate over boiling water until partly melted. Remove from water and stir rapidly until entirely melted. Add candy-coated puffed wheat and mix well. Drop from teaspoon on waxed paper or press into greased 8x8x2-inch square pan. Cool until firm. Makes 3 dozen clusters or squares.

FRENCH COCOA BALLS

1/4 cup 4-in-1 sweet cocoa mix
4 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons milk

Combine cocoa mix, butter, and milk in saucepan. Place over low heat only until butter is melted and cocoa mix is dissolved, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add 1 cup of the sugar and the vanilla, mixing well. Blend in

2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar (about)
1/4 teaspoon vanilla

remaining sugar gradually until mixture is stiff enough to knead with fingers. Knead for 2 or 3 minutes. Shape mixture in 40 small balls, and roll in breakfast cocoa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Bates To Be Feted on 50th Anniversary in Keokuk

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Bates, 1218 Franklin Street in Keokuk, Iowa will observe their 50th wedding anniversary, on Nov. 25th. Their daughter, Alberta Bates of Des Moines and son, Melvin Bates of Minneapolis, Minn. will give an Open House in their parents honor on Sunday, Nov. 29th, from 3:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the Keokuk residence.

We come to that week that marks two significant dates in history. The first of course is the loss of a young American president by assassination a year ago this coming Sunday. The second of course is the annual Thanksgiving day. Hence forward, the two will always be remembered and linked together in our minds.

A year ago today we were in a state of gloom—the whole nation as one—the like of which we probably will never again be in our life span. We were wondering how and where would we go from here. But painful as the dark days and weeks were—they have passed. And we have come to this day—another year hence. Looking back it hardly seems a month. We have not forgotten but the pain is less. The revival of published pictures, features and stories, prods the sorrowful memories and in some cases, we hesitate perhaps to look and read, but we can do it now. We have lived through it and we shall continue to do so.

And just think, it is hardly less than a couple of weeks since we have come through the "great national" election campaign, when many of us thought if the whole country was going a little off base. Like one writer said, it's a shame we can't have shorter election campaigns in this country. Perhaps a semblance of control and common courtesy would remain, and any picking up and unifying the country or

GOOD CITIZENS WORK FOR BETTER RACE RELATIONS

Those people who lament the bad news that comes out of the South, feeling that things are getting worse, don't realize that there are many white people throughout the area who are working—some openly, some quietly—to improve conditions. They realize that business and industry are taking race relations into consideration when choosing locations.

An excellent example of this may be found in the text of an address by Governor John Connally of Texas before the Southern Newspaper Publishers Association meeting at Boca Raton, Florida, in which he said that the South must adjust to the inevitable changes brought about by the enactment of the civil rights law and redouble efforts to establish reasonable relationships among men. He said, "the civil rights act is law and that any president bound by his constitutional oath is going to enforce the law."

Using the philosophy often expressed by the late Booker T. Washington that you can't keep a man down in the ditch without staying down with him, Gov. Connally said "We could make no greater error than to devote our resources to a course leading up a blind alley, to the neglect of work in behalf of growth and development so essential to the south. The greatest enemy of states' rights is the person who uses that doctrine as a shield against sensible progress."

These sentiments have been expressed by such people as Ralph McGill of the Atlanta Constitution, Lillian Smith, and more lately former Governor Collins of Florida who, like President Johnson, has changed his mind about integration.

LIFE AT IOWA CITY
CHANGES

Some football fans were in Iowa City on November 14 attending the Iowa-Michigan football game. As one travels over the city, he is struck by the additions to existing and construction of new buildings essential to keep pace with the great surge in higher education.

Following some postgame festivities, they had occasion to take a freshman student to her dormitory. The place is beautiful, facilities for every need of a student and best of all, open to all students who meet the qualifications.

As they moved on toward Des Moines on Interstate Highway 80, they talked of the Iowa City they knew prior to World War II when there were no facilities for Negro students in spite of the fact that they were readily available to all foreign students.

We are forced to remember that someone did not like this archaic, anomalous and illogical arrangement and did something about it. And those somebodies were the white and Negro students (particularly those just back from the service), a nucleus of Negro citizens in Iowa City and Des Moines and a receptive administration tuned with the times that things had changed.

It is a pleasure to see that these changes have come and today one wonders why in God's name they did not come sooner.

Cassius Clay Rushed to Hospital for Hernia;
Rematch Bout with Sonny Liston Postponed

Boston, Mass.—The date was Friday the 13th. In this modern day and age it's not so significant. However, it marked three days before the scheduled rematch between Heavyweight Boxing champ Cassius Clay and Sonny Liston.

The date had to be postponed when one of the prime actors, Clay, had to be rushed to the hospital where he underwent a three-hour operation for a hernia. Afterwards his doctors reported him resting well, but tentatively placed his recuperation period at about three weeks.

There just wasn't much to argue about last weekend. Iowa simply lost to a better team and there was no doubt about it. That Michigan team was the hardest hitting, roughest outfit we have seen in quite a spell. Big Mel Anthony at fullback looked like a real pro prospect and Henderson at end was just about tops as a pass catcher.

Michigan

If Iowa fans hadn't been so busy watching Hawkeye Carl Noonan, they would have realized that this Michigan guy was one great pass grabber at least on that particular day. Iowa and followers of the Hawks are wondering why they fumble so much. Well, if they had seen Saturday's game they would have probably understood a little better. Nourse and Dalton Kimble, Iowa's two best running backs don't weigh over 170 although they are both hard runners. But when they go up the middle against those 200 and 230 and 240 pound linemen and line backs, the jar is liable to separate the two little fellows from the ball. In fact, we wondered if they were going to get up at times. But then this team will lose very few men next year and that should be their year.

Iowa State

Iowa State ends a long dreary season. They just couldn't win for losing as one guy put it if it were not for bad luck the Cyclones wouldn't have any luck at all. They had a rash of injuries to key men they couldn't afford to lose and just didn't have adequate replacements for them. Then it seemed that every judgment call went against the boys from Ames. So they can look forward to next year.

Drake may have a winning season, any maybe a better day yet. They beat a good team last week and have the makings of a well rounded squad next year.

New Coach

And now comes basketball and the football season ain't even over yet. Given a year or two in which to build, Iowa university's new coach could have his team as title contenders. Don't look for much this year.

We don't see how Drake can improve on their mark of last year. We look for them to finish third or fourth in the Valley. Maybe we are wrong.

Iowa State will likely have a better basketball mark than their football record. Don't know where they will finish.

Of course, the local high school situation boils down to one question. Who is going to beat Roosevelt?

Boxing

So the big fight was called off. To read the sportswriters one would almost think Cassius Clay's illness was planned that way. What kind of physical exams these boxing doctors give to be able to pronounce a man in fine shape and then cart him off to the hospital to be sliced up?

Hence the boxing month would of necessity, have to be postponed until later.

The unexpected turn of event, which came only hours after Clay and Liston had been examined and weighed by Boxing Commission doctors, almost threw the boxing world into a state of apoplexy. This state was engendered from acute pains in the pocket book.

It was estimated that nearly $250,000 would be lost by closed circuit television, along with other broadcasting media, and bettors.

Miami Will Honor
Olympic Medalist at
Sugar Bowl Game

Miami, Fla.—The City of Miami will honor Bob Hayes, winner of two Olympic Gold Medals and the "World's Fastest Human," in the Orange Bowl Dec. 5.

Hayes will receive a plaque from Miami Mayor Robert King High before the kickoff of the 32nd Orange Blossom Classic in which the athlete will perform as a member of the Florida A&M football team.

Track Fame

Low Price, Miami-Metro publicity director, said, "It is only proper that this outstanding athlete be acclaimed in the area where his rise to track fame began."

It was during the old Coast AAU meet at the University of Miami Feb. 17, 1962 that Hayes broke the existing 100-yard dash record with a 9.2 second performance. The record was disallowed because the wrong caliber starting gun was used.

Last year in a St. Louis AAU meet, Hayes ran the 100 in 9.1 and was dubbed the "World's Fastest Human."

No Racial Bars
For Sugar Teams

New Orleans — No racial factor will be involved in the choice of teams for the New Year's Day Sugar Bowl Football Game, officials said late last week.

"All eligible teams are being considered whether or not they have colored players," said Theo Maumus president of the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association.

Maumus said unbeaten Notre Dame, which has three tan players, ranks high on the list of potential teams.

In addition, the association will send representatives Saturday to the Texas-Southern Methodist Nebraska-Missouri and Duke-Georgia Tech games. Nebraska has tan players.

The only Sugar Bowl team previously with a colored player was Pittsburgh in 1956.

Six Months

Dr. William McDermott said Clay can resume "fairly normal physical activity in about a month," but is not expected to be able to fight for six months.

Asked about heavy training, Dr. McDermott said "we usually would have him lay off about three months from any heavy labor."

Dr. McDermott termed it an "easy" operation. He added it was an incarcerated groin hernia with a congenital defect in the abdominal wall.

You Can Make
Meringue Cookies

By Betty Barclay

"MAKE 'EM YOURSELF!" You can. These glamorous meringue cookies that you used to have to buy from a fancy bakery, you can now make yourself in less than half an hour! Three dozen of them, too; enough to serve with elegance at an evening card party.

Chocolate Meringue Cookies
1 cup chocolate chips; 3 egg whites; 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar; 1/2 cup saltine cracker crumbs; 1/2 cup chopped pecans; 1 teaspoon vanilla. Melt chocolate over hot water. Cool. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add sugar gradually, beating after each addition until blended. Then fold in cracker crumbs, nuts, vanilla, and melted chips. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet and spread slightly. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen 2-inch cookies. Store in tightly covered container.

TRAGIC 63

(The following is published in memory to the late President John Fitzgerald Kennedy who was assassinated one year ago in Dallas.)
The sad year was '63

For all, who were here to see.
We lost a friend and fellow man
I'm sure we all understand,
His tragic death I can't forget
Even though we never met.
Life goes on out for him is spent
Surely he was Heaven sent.
For us to go a little further in the right way

To be reward for it someday.
To stand so tall, and be so firm of mind
Was JFKs solid find.
His family lives with love still strong
For the man who helped conquered wrong.

As years go by we'll never see
A tragic time like '63.

Rugs and carpets probably take more of a beating than any of your other home furnishings. However, there are several things you can do to make your carpets stay beautiful and last years longer—and save yourself the money it would cost to replace them.

Use an inexpensive carpet sweeper every day to pick up lint, crumbs and dirt from the surface of your carpet. A few minutes a day will keep dirt from being ground deeply into the carpet. Use a vacuum cleaner once a week. A good vacuum cleaner removes deep-down dirt, as well as surface material. When the carpet begins to look dull, use a rug shampoo to get rid of dirt that your vacuum cleaner can't get to. Modern rug shampoos require little work and are well worth the effort to keep your rugs and carpets beautiful. Once a year is the minimum for shampooing every carpet in the house.

"This Is The No. 1 Job!"

In Iowa...
after bowling, beer is a natural

After you've bowled a game or two, or when you're winding up the evening at the neighborhood bowling center, it's good to relax with friends and compare scores. What better way to add to the sport and the sociableness than with a refreshing glass of beer? However you take your fun—skiing, skating, or at your ease in the game room—beer always makes a welcome addition to the party.

Your familiar glass of beer is also a pleasurable reminder that we live in a land of personal freedom — and that our right to enjoy beer and ale, if we so desire, is just one, but an important one, of those personal freedoms.

In Iowa...beer goes with fun, with relaxation
