Ia. Minister Reviews Summer Civil Rights Work in South

Sioux City—A man who dodged threats and insults last summer said "the lid was blown off Mississippi this summer and it will never be the same." He spent 10 days there working in the civil rights movement.

The Rev. Donald A. Gall was the main speaker of a Freedom Fund dinner sponsored by the Sioux City Chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People Saturday night at Sanford Center. He is pastor of the First Congregational Church at Whiting, Iowa.

Speaking before a group of 100 Negroes and whites, the Rev. Mr. Gall said he first became involved in the movement while on a trip to Atlanta, Ga., in 1963, when he participated in an anti-segregation picket march.

"Personal Answers"

"The question of civil rights is—needless to say—a question that not all agree on. It is not that we don't know what the real issue is, but that we don't want to know. So we have a vast myriad of personal answers to this question," he said.

10 Days in Miss.

With two other Iowa ministers, he spent 10 days in Indianola, Miss., "deep in the Delta country. There was a Freedom School there and active campaigning to enlist persons in the new Freedom Democratic party and to get Negroes to register to vote.

At the dinner, Mrs. Etta D. Grider of Sioux City was honored with a life membership in the NAACP, for contributing $500 to its work. A plaque was presented to her by Louis Garland, president of the Iowa State Conference of NAACP and the Sioux City Chapter.

Tribute to J. F. K.

Rabbi Albert A. Gordon of Mount Sinai Temple gave a memorial speech in honor of the late John F. Kennedy, in commemoration of its first anniversary of his death Nov. 22. Rabbi Gordon is a former president of the Sioux City NAACP and is president of the Human Rights Commission here.

Miss Prunella Howard, a Briar Cliff College student, was introduced as Iowa president of the youth division of the NAACP.

National Church Leaders in Des Moines for 2 Day Meet

The churches' future role in the struggle for racial justice, in the nation's anti-poverty program, and in helping feed hungry millions in an increasingly crowded world are among major topics scheduled for consideration by the General Board of the National Council of Churches, meeting at the Kirkwood Hotel here, today and Friday.

state, branches have been reorganized in Randolph County, Bullock County, Anniston, Montgomery, Birmingham and Russell County. A chapter has also been set up at Talladega College.

Meeting Tonight

Church concern for issues of world peace will be in focus during the two days of crowded business when Dr. Andrew Cordier addresses the churchmen tonight at 7 o'clock on "New Developments in World Outlook." Dr. Cordier, for 15 years the number two man at the United Nations, is dean of Columbia University graduate school of international affairs.

Paul J. Morrison Dies in Chicago

Paul J. Morrison, who formerly lived in 1545 Maple street in Des Moines, died in Chicago, Ill., on Nov. 24. Funeral services and burial services were held there.

He is survived by his widow, Ethel, his two sons, Paul J., Jr., and Cleo and six grandchildren.

Des Moines NAACP Will Elect Officers in Meeting at Bishops

The Des Moines branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, will hold its annual meeting on Tuesday, Dec. 15 at downtown Bishop's Cafeteria in the South American room. Officers will be elected. The meeting will begin promptly at 5:30 p.m.

The membership at large may attend. All board members are urged to be present. Everyone is asked to go through the line and meet the group in The South American room. The December meeting (only) has been changed to the third Tuesday.

Seek to Collect

Judgment Against Congressman Powell

New York—Representative Adam Clayton Powell (Dem., N. Y.) was named in a new misdemeanor warrant in New York City, in connection with a $46,500 libel judgment against him. Any arrest was postponed pending ruling on a related matter. Esther James, a Harlem widow won a libel suit against Powell in April, 1963, after he called her a bag woman, or graft collector for the police department. She has been trying ever since to collect. A previous arrest warrant was voided when Powell went into federal courts to test its legality.

U. S. Says Louis Armstrong Owes $174,000 Back Taxes

Washington, D. C.—Trumpeter Louis Armstrong, Singers Rosemary Clooney and Vic Damone were dunned for back taxes by the United States Internal Revenue.

According to United States Tax Court records, the government has claims against the three, along with theatrical producers Joshua Logan and Leland Hayward, television emcee Bill Cullen and the estate of abstract artist Jackson Pollack totaling more than $1,450,000.

The claim against Armstrong and his wife, Lucille, of New York, N. Y., was for $174,744 for 1959. The government disallowed expenses for travel, hotel, arranging, materials, entertaining and promotion.

The musician said he had to pay cash for traveling expenses and to pay performers at the end of each engagement. He said he owed only $2,668 tax.

Citizenship Class

A new citizenship class will begin on Monday, Dec. 7, at 7 p.m. at Slinker School, 1440 Center Street. It is designed to help persons prepare for the citizenship test required by the Immigration and Naturalization Service before citizenship can be granted. Enrollees must be able to

NEWS In A Nutshell

Columbia, S. C.—South Carolina Baptists, meeting in annual convention, refused to accept a recommendation by its general board to integrate four Baptist schools in the state.

Lovejoy, Ill.—Carl Patton, a four-year veteran on the local police force, found himself catapulted to the top rung of law enforcement in this town last week when he was appointed the new chief of police.

New York—The Harlem Unity Steering committee, formed after last summer's race riots has pledged full support to the Freedom National Bank of New York, scheduled to open next month. The new bank is backed more than a thousand stockholders, of which more than 95 percent are Negro. Its officers and directors are bi-racial.

Gary, Ind.—For over 100 years one of the most venerable maxims in Lake County (Indiana) politics has been that a Negro could not win a county-wide elective office. But Dr. Alexander S. Williams made the first break with tradition by winning both the Democratic nomination and the election to the post of county coroner.

Baltimore, Md.—Pvt. Angel Reyes, a 28-year-old paratrooper, turned away from the high glass window outside the hospital's maternity ward where his four spanking new babies squalled lustily on Nov. 23 and said "I quit." Until Nov. 23 he and his wife had four children; now they have eight. The Reyes quads were the second set of quads born to Negro parents in less than a week. The first set were born in Maury City, Tenn., on Nov. 19.

Seattle, Wash. — Negro Atty. Charles Z. Smith, 37, was sworn in last week to the position of municipal court judge, to fill the vacancy created by Judge Walter McGovern who won election to the King county Superior court bench.

Wilberforce, Ohio — Dr. Charles Wesley, 72-year-old president, Central State College, has announced that he is retiring next June 30 after having completed 22 years as president. Dr. Wesley, who has written 32 books, says he intends to do some more writing.

Trenton, N. J.—A 86-year-old bar patron was killed when he exploded a hand grenade outside a bar. A policeman and bystander were also killed in the blast, which occurred after John Christy, was ejected from the Oak Cafe for playing with the grenade at the bar.

Youngest, First of His Race To Hold Presidency; Says 'Tribute to Darker Races'

United Nations, N.Y.—The illustrious body representing world government—the United Nations General Assembly—opened Tuesday by setting a precedent. It elected as its president by acclamation an African Negro.

Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana bought two distinctions to the UN position. He is the youngest ever to be elected president and he is the first African Negro. He has been head of Ghana's U.N. delegation since mid-1959.

Inaugural

In his inaugural address he declared that "Africa is discovering its ancient glory and pride in a brave new world."

The Assembly's "unanimous decision" to make him president, he said, was "a tribute to Africa and to Ghana in particular, and above all to millions of people of African descent everywhere."

Though African born Quaison-Sackey reflects two cultures—the European, also, which educated him, and helped to mold his philosophy.

Read Law

He studied at Oxford University and read law at Lincoln's Inn in London. His English is good. He wears tailored Western clothes by day, but he sometimes puts on a toga of brightly checked West African kente cloth for Ghanaian receptions at night.

Quaison-Sackey was born in Winneba, 40 miles west of Accra on the Gulf of Guinea. His homeland was then the British colony of the Gold Coast.

Quaison-Sackey studied in Cape Coast at Achimota College, both in Ghana. He got into the independence movement as president of the political youth organization in his hometown in 1948.

Dr. King-What the Nobel Prize Means to Me; Will Get Award in Oslo Next Week

BY

DR. MARTIN LUTHER KING, JR.

Atlanta, Ga. (ANPI)—In recent days, many friends, members of my congregation, staff members of The Southern Christian Leadership Conference—and just people whom I meet in various cities have been asking me the same question.

"How does it feel to win the Nobel Peace Prize, the world's most coveted award? What does it mean to you?"

Humbly Grateful

I feel so humbly grateful to have been selected for this distinguished honor that it has been hard to form in my mind a lucid manner of expressing "what it means to me."

Sitting in my church study the other night, plunged into one of those rare periods of solitude and contemplation, I found the answer.

Recalled Jet

I recalled that, some years ago, I was seated in a huge jet at O'Hare Field in Chicago. In matter of moments, the mighty plane was to take off for Los Angeles. From the speaker we heard the announcement that there would be a delay in departure. There was some mechanical difficulty which would be repaired within a brief time. Looking out of the windows, I saw half a dozen men approaching the plane. They were dressed in dirty, greasy overalls. They assembled around the plane and began to work. Someone told me that this was the ground crew.

Awesome Climb

Half an hour later, our jet taxied down the runway. Its wheels left the ground and we began that awesome climb up into the heavens. We soared up among the clouds to an unbelievable height and, like some gigantic bird, that airplane winged its way through space.

Hours later, we were settling down smoothly in an airport of that beautiful city of Los Angeles.

Many Pilots

There are many wonderful pilots today, charting the sometimes rocky, sometimes smooth course of human progress; pilots like Roy Wilkins and Whitney Young and A. Philip Randolph. And yet, if it were not for the ground crew, the struggle for human dignity and social justice would not now be in orbit.

Rev. Martin Luther King

50,000 in Alabama

That is why I like to think of this Nobel Peace Prize as a prize, a reward for the ground crew. I am speaking about the ground crew of 50,000 Negro people in Montgomery, Ala., who came to discover that it is better to walk in dignity than to ride in busses where they are fellow-passengers with humiliation. I am thinking of the ground crew—the students all over this nation who, in sitting down in restaurants and department stores were actually standing up for the true American Dream.

In Oslo Dec. 10

On Dec. 10, in Oslo, I will receive—for the ground crew—a significant symbol which is not for me really. I think Alfred Nobel would know what I mean when I say that I shall accept this award in the spirit of a curator of some precious heirloom which he holds in trust for its true owners—all those to whom beauty is truth, truth beauty—and in whose eyes the beauty and truth of genuine brotherhood is more precious than diamonds or silver or gold.

The 3,265,000-member United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. will report Thursday afternoon on recent activities of the Council's emergency Commission on Religion and Race. He will be joined by the Rev. Dr. Robert W. Spike, commission director, in outlining proposed activities of the commission in the months ahead.

Since being established by the Board in the spring of 1963, the commission has spearheaded both education and action projects of the churches in the field of civil rights.

Special Luncheon

Midway on the first day, Board members will join with church and civic leaders of Des Moines for a special luncheon to be held at the Veterans Memorial Auditorium, at 12 Noon. The gathering of 500 will hear an address by Bishop Reuben H. Mueller, president of the National Council of Churches. The Rev. Raymond Lingwall, president of the Iowa Council of Churches will preside. The Rev. Clarence A. Leslie, president of the Des Moines Area Council of Churches, will offer the invocation.

The Rev. Dr. Paul O. Madsen, Valley Forge, Pa., secretary of the American Baptist Division of Church Missions and chairman of the N.C.C. Division of Home Missions, will also announce blueprints for a proposed related program designed to be launched in 1965 in the largely Negro districts of the city of Chicago. will be a LP recording of the famous St. Joseph Academy Glee Club in a Christmas Cantata. The record features the choral group in Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus," the Mass in D, and a selection of Christmas hymns.

Iowa Paintings in NWB Calendar

A university art teacher, a housewife and a commercial artist are the three Iowans whose paintings are re-produced in Northwestern Bell's 1965 Appointment Calendar. Paintings from the other four states of the company's territory are on the other monthly pages.

More than a quarter-million copies of the company's calendar are distributed each year by the company's business offices, service men and other employees.

Area Artists

Artists of the area were invited to enter paintings of "people, places, events or activities"—historical or contemporary—to illustrate the 12 pages of the 1965 calendar. A total of 89 Iowans offered 244 transparencies of their paintings for consideration. There were more than 500 from the five states from which the company's calendar group could select but 12—one for each month of the year.

The Iowans whose works were selected are Mrs. Bertha Jewett, Wendell Mohr and Bob Bowers, all of Des Moines.

Gov. Hughes Proclaims Alcoholism Info. Week

Governor Harold E. Hughes has proclaimed the week of Nov. 29 through Dec. 5 as Alcoholism Information Week, noting that alcoholism "has been recognized as a disease which ranks among the four major health threats, along with cancer, mental illness and heart disease."

Governor Hughes' proclamation pointed out that 5,000,000 Americans are afflicted by alcoholism.

Moines. "Winter Fishing Shacks," the February painting by Mrs. Jewett, has Lake Okoboji as its locale. The March scene is Mohr's "County Seat"—an unusual view of the Polk County Court House. Bowers' "Covered Bridge" of the Winterset area is used with May.

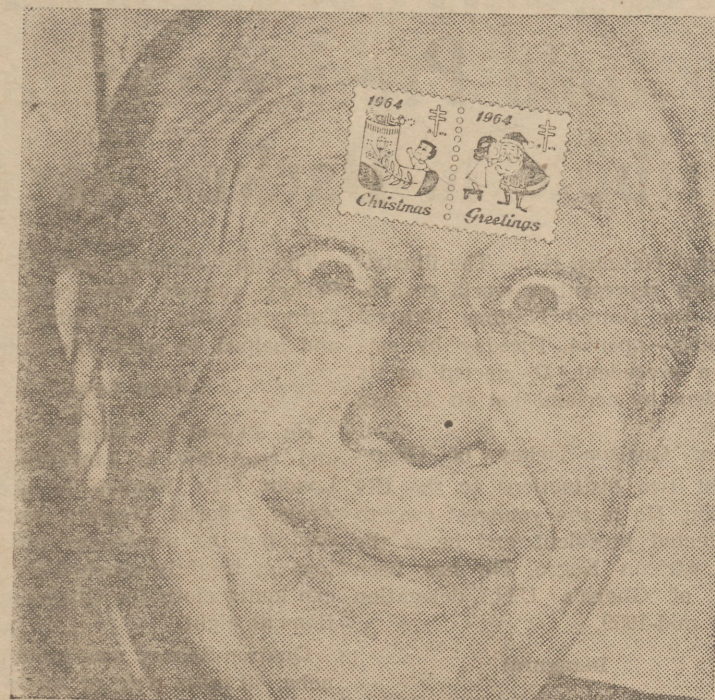

5 States

The calendar features inch-square spaces for appointments for each day. Previous years calendars have used photographs, principally landscapes and community celebrations of the five states in which Northwestern Bell operates—Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota.

Drama Workshop to Present Plays

The Drama Workshop will present Arena Three, a program of one-act plays which won the Workshop's playwriting contest last year, Dec. 10-13th. The plays are "The Exhibit" by Joseph Golden directed by Freda Nahas, "Please, No Flowers" by Joel Ensana, directed by Robert Burr, and "Dyer Day" by Jackson Burgess, directed by Carla Lucas.

The casts include Mary Burr, Rae Weick, Larry McKeever, Allan Downey, George Knoke, Mary Brubaker, Virginia Meeks, William Zima, Valerie Pugh, Susan Groos, George Tibbets and Marilyn Harvey. Performances in the Arena will be nightly at 8:30 at First Unitarian Church. Tickets are $1.50 for adults, $1.00 for students.

Labor Officer

He studied philosophy, politics and economics at Oxford's Exeter College from 1949 to 1952. Then he went back home for two years. He was a labor officer, organizing trade unions, and also lectured on economics and government for the Ghana People's Education Association.

He returned to England in 1954 to read law. He represented his government that year at the Cambridge Conference on African Administration. Later he was named a foreign service officer and studied international law at the London School of Economics.

Author

After the Gold Coast became independent Ghana on Mar. 6, 1957, he was assigned to the Ghana high commissioner's office in London. He was on Ghana's delegation to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT) in Geneva that same year and remained with the office until 1959, when he was sent to the United Nations.

Quaison-Sackey also has written a book called "Africa Unbound: Reflections of an African Diplomat."

Chairman

He was elected chairman of the U.N. Committee on Information from non-self-governing territories in 1960, served on the U.N. Congo Conciliation Commission in 1961 and was named a vice-president of the General Assembly that year. He represented Ghana on the Security Council in 1962-63.

He lives with his wife and five children in a commodious house with a large garden in suburban New Rochelle.

Churches united for Thanksgiving Service — Antioch Baptist, Union Baptist and Payne A.M.E. held union Thanksgiving service on Thursday a.m. at Payne A.M.E. Church. The respective churches furnished music; Rev. L. J. Jordan, pastor of Union Baptist delivered the message. The offering was presented to the NAA-CP to be used for "Freedom Fund" contribution; and was acknowledged by Dr. Warren A. Nash, president of the local branch.

Combined choirs of Payne will present a Christmas Cantata "Love Transcendent" on Sunday evening, Dec. 13, at 7:30. Mrs. Dorothy Sallis is directing, Miss Sandra Harvey at the organ, and Mrs. Jacqueline Ellis at the piano. Mr. Clifford Smith will be narrator and Mr. James Tanner will be tenor soloist. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Mr. Paul Haughton of Camden, N.J. spent Thanksgiving with his mother, Mrs. Estella Bell and other relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Benjamin of Detroit, Mich. were here for Thanksgiving. They visited Mr. and Mrs. James Benjamin and other brothers and relatives.

Mr. Robert Bordeaux of Salt Lake City, Utah has been visiting his cousin, Herb Cox and his Aunt, Mrs. Daisy Roberts. Prior to coming here he attended a family reunion in Fort Dodge, Mr. Bordeaux formerly lived in Waterloo. He is now Pullman Conductor with the Union Pacific Railroad.

Antioch Baptist church observed their annual Men's Day on Sunday, Nov. 29. Dr. Charles E. Boddie, president of The American Theological Seminary, Nashville, Tenn. was speaker. Rev. Eugene Williams is pastor.

Paul and Kendall Norman were home to spend Thanksgiving with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vivert Norman, 719 Beech Street. Paul is now employed with the 3M Company in Minneapolis, where he is an accountant. This company manufactures scotch tape and is one of the largest companies in the business.

Homemaker's Budget Helper

Flavorful ham chowder made with instant nonfat dry milk is a real stick-to-the-ribs mealtime suggestion and one that is so good it positively calls for seconds. And once homemakers try instant nonfat dry milk, they call for it again and again for it provides high nutrition at low cost.

Instant nonfat dry milk is rich in protein, calcium and riboflavin, the important nutrients of regular top-quality pasteurized milk, needed for good health. Only the fat and water are removed. Yet instant nonfat dry milk is so inexpensive. A family-size package makes 12 quarts (three gallons) of nonfat milk for as little as seven cents a quart. It comes in two other sizes also—a one-pound package which makes five quarts and a pre-measured package with three individual envelopes, each making one quart of nonfat milk.

Instant nonfat dry milk mixes immediately, even in ice water. Just takes a jiffy to have nonfat milk for drinking, baking or for cooking as in our Ham Chowder recipe:

Ham Chowder

(Makes 8 servings)

4 tablespoons butter
2 medium size onions, chopped
2 cups cubed, cooked ham
4 cups diced potatoes
1 cup water
½ cup flour
¼ teaspoon pepper
Salt to taste
1 quart liquefied instant Starlac nonfat dry milk

Melt butter in 4-quart saucepan. Add onions and ham; sauté until onions are tender and lightly browned. Add potatoes and water. Cover; cook over medium heat, stirring occasionally, until potatoes are tender, about 10 minutes. Sprinkle flour, pepper and salt over liquefied instant Starlac nonfat dry milk. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Add to ham mixture; cook over very low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened.

Prince and Princess of Christmas to Be Crowned at 11th Annual Doll Show Dec. 13

The Prince and Princess of Christmas will be crowned at the 11th annual Doll Show of the Parliamentary Law and Culture club on Sunday, Dec. 13 at Willkie House, 900 17th street, from 4 to 6 p.m.

An unusual and interesting program will precede the coronation which will include the Bell Ringers of First Methodist church; violin solo by Robert Parker, clarinet solo by Penny Rhodes, interpretative dances by Yolaine Archer and Michele Parker and piano selections by Kenneth Parkey. There will be group singing also by the Parker children. Mrs. E. A. Galters is general chairman of the Doll Show, Mrs. William Robinson is chairman of hostesses among whom will be presidents of the federated clubs headed by the president of the Des Moines Association of Clubs, Mrs. Virgil Carr. Mesdames Edward Frazier, Oradell Henry, and Henry Robinson have responsibilities as chairmen of committees for the Doll show. Members of the program committee are Mesdames Joseph Wimberly, chairman, William Robinson, Edward Frazier, Marshall Smith, Sr., and Gertrude Harris.

Contestants are Eddie Daniels, Anthony Bates, Jan Archer, and Darwin Henderson, Trena Ward, Sharon Galbraith, Kathy Green, and Candy Joan Parker.

Well, it not only feels like winter, it now looks like winter, what with the arrival of some sleet and the white ground cover—snow. It was a long time coming and we certainly basked in the beautiful, mild, fall weather but our number ran out when November for 1964 bowed out but not before she delivered a bone-chilling back handed slap at the city and rest of the Midwest.

Now that Thanksgiving is here and past we can go full steam ahead with Christmas plans. But according to many clerks, it seems that a greater number of people now do their shopping long before Thanksgiving arrived. At least we can say one thing for the sub-zero freezing cold day Monday—it was a wonderful day to Christmas shop—if you could stand getting out in the cold.

We had a good laugh with a friend of ours who is one of Des Moines leading civic participants. She had promised to mail us a courtesy ticket for an upcoming event. We sat back knowing she would be true to her word as she always has been. Sure enough the next day along came the envelope, addressed in the familiar handwriting. We turned it over to open it and noticed that the flap was opened. Our first thought was that the letter had been tampered with. Then we looked inside and there was nothing inside. Puzzled, we examined the envelope and then noticed that the flap's sealer showed indication it had never been "licked." We suspected what had happened. It was confirmed when a couple of hours later, our friend stopped by and asked did you get an empty envelope?" We told her yes, and she laughed, saying, "You know I started to dress to go out and there was this ticket on the table and I thought it was in the envelope I mailed you; but I knew it couldn't be there and on the table too!"

An interesting and amusing article came to our desk this week and we thought it might be of interest or worth a chuckle to you. Or perhaps it might bring up some fond memories of your own. If it does and you have time drop me a little line about some of the remedies you or your mother used to use for colds, won't you. We would like them for a follow-up article.

Perhaps some of you can remember those days of old when grandmother might have taken the outside of a hog's hoof, parched it in the oven beat it into powder, mixed it with strong spirits and then made you drink it to cure that nasty old chest cold.

It sounds crazy today when it is estimated that over $350 million will be spent during the next year by victims of the Big Sneeze to rid themselves of the common cold. People now depend on miracle capsules, powders and sprays to clear up cold symptoms, but there are millions who still remember the "do it yourself" medication of their childhood.

In a survey conducted among many well-known personalities by the Contac Cold Control Center of Menley & James Laboratories hundreds of old fashioned and quaint remedies were turned up.

Have a Party for the Tiny Tots

OF COURSE, IT'S ALWAYS A PARTY where there's ice cream and when you serve crunchy crisp molasses rings too, it's a ball. This ingenious mother has inserted a skewer into a rubber rabbit to hold the goodies. She drizzled real New Orleans molasses over the ice cream to give it that tart-sweet taste that children love and added chocolate milk to round out the festive feeling.

|----------------------------|---------------------------------------|
| 1 1/4 cups sifted flour | 1/2 cup real New Orleans molasses |
| 1/2 teaspoon baking soda | 1/4 cup shortening |
| 1/4 teaspoon baking powder | 1/2 teaspoon each cinnamon and ginger |

Sift together dry ingredients. Combine real New Orleans molasses and shortening in a small saucepan and bring to boil. Cool. Combine two mixtures and blend thoroughly. Chill. When dough is firm enough to handle, roll out about 1/8" thick on lightly floured surface. Cut with doughnut cutter, or large and small biscuit cutters, to make rings. Roll punchout pieces. Arrange on greased cookie tin and sprinkle with sugar. Bake in a moderately hot oven (375° F.) about 8 minutes, or until done. Makes approximately 3 dozen cookies, depending on size cut. (ANS)

INHUMANE MURDER
IN THE CONGO

It is not easy to conceive that men would be murdering men in such cruel manner as has occurred in the Congo recently; nor that people, who came to help them, should be the victims of savagery and butchery as has been carried on against the missionaries.

Keep in mind, of course, that this brutality was carried on by rebel forces seeking to secure control of the government which seemed powerless to stop them.

Unfortunate as these things are, evil has a way of returning even years after, and visiting its retribution upon succeeding generations. When Leopold was king of Belgium, which ruled the Congo, he caused to be visited upon the Congolese people the most cruel treatment. The natives were forced to work, produce diamonds, ivory and other valuable fruits of the country in quantities fixed by the powers that be. Failure to make quotas produced maimed ears, hands, feet and in some cases tongues were cut, all with such cruelty that shocked the world at the time.

Belgium taught the Congolese how to be cruel and naturally this cruelty built an enmity not only against the Belgians, but also white people generally. Thus, it is surprising that Belgians were in the rescue picture at all for their presence made efforts to reach a peaceful settlement more difficult.

The people of the Congo were never given a chance by their power rulers—Belgium. And to make the situation more painful, while calling their efforts a humanitarian act by freeing them, failed miserably to prepare them for freedom.

Evidence has been uncovered linking Red China with the rebel forces. Valuable help has come from somewhere. On the other hand, the United States has tried to help the established government in the Congo realizing that peace in that country strengthens peace on the whole continent. And like its experience in behalf of other governments, its help has been rebuffed and criticized both in and out of the country.

Peace has not come in the Congo yet. Lives of people are being snuffed out. It is hoped that the government in power can control the situation themselves soon which will go a long way toward peace between the warring factions.

POLK REPUBLICANS

ASK REMOVAL OF
DEAN BURCH

Political sentiment is generated from the grass roots as best illustrated by the precinct caucuses, county and state conventions with delegates elected from the latter to nominate a candidate for president.

Last week, at a meeting of the Polk County Central Committee, a resolution was adopted calling for the resignation of Dean Burch as chairman of the Republican National Committee. The motion was adopted by a vote of 24 to 14 but not after spirited debate.

Some opposed the resolution arguing that it was premature; some that it had no place before the meeting. Of course, resolutions will be passed on to the national committeeman and woman. Such sentiment will be expressed by other committees and will have weight when the national committee meets.

The Goldwater followers refuse to concede that the Republican party cannot win an election with the men and ideas at its head which are opposed to the fundamental principles of the party and run contrary to the thinking of most people today.

The Republican party must change the image Goldwater and his followers forced upon it if independent and liberal voters are encouraged to support its candidates. This will not be easy for the ruthless tactics exhibited by the right-wing group will be a drag on attempts at reorganization.

Philly Third Baseman Named
National 'Rookie of Year'

Philadelphia, Penn.—Richie Allen, young third baseman for the Philadelphia Phillies Monday was voted "Rookie of the Year" by National League Baseball writers association.

"Honest, it's a surprise," said the hard-hitting native of Wampum, Penn., who is selling cars in Philadelphia during the off season.

"I figured my setting a strike-out record for the league, and the errors I made in the last half of the season would hurt my chances of being Rookie of the Year."

Something Special

But apparently, the writers' committee figured that any youngster who could hit .318 with 29 home runs and 91 runs batted in for a pennant embattled team had to be something special. He got 201 hits despite striking out 138 times.

Most major league observers admit that although Allen had a low fielding percentage among National League third basemen, he made many spectacular stops, got to a lot of balls most third sackers might have missed.

Finished Fifth

Allen finished fifth in the batting race and his 126 runs scored led the league.

Allen says he's forgotten the bitter final 12 days of the season when the Phillies blew a 6½ game lead and the pennant.

Cleveland Williams, Boxer
Shot by Texas Patrolman

Houston, Tex.—Cleveland Williams was in critical condition Sunday after undergoing surgery for 5½ hours for a bullet wound in the stomach when he was shot Saturday night in a scuffle with a state highway patrolman.

The surgery involved removal of a small section of intestine. The surgeon, Dr. D. L. Bricker, said that Williams would live "to fight again" even though he will need additional surgery.

"He will live to fight again," said Dr. D. L. Bricker. "I've never seen a man with such a constitution. He lost enough blood to kill a half-dozen men."

Left Side

Dr. R. L. Angel, chief of surgery, said the bullet struck Williams in the left side and moved across the body just above the hip.

Only last week the World Boxing Association scheduled for early 1965 a world heavyweight title match between Williams and Ernest Terrell of Chicago.

The W. B. A. does not recognize the title claimed by Cassius Clay nor the No. 1 challenger status of Sonny Liston.

Magnum Pistol

The 215-pound Williams, 31, was struck by a bullet from the .357 Magnum pistol carried by Patrolman Dale Witten, 36.

Whitten, a 155-pounder, said the scuffle developed as he was taking Williams to jail at Tomball, northwest of Houston, after arresting the boxer on suspicion of driving while intoxicated.

Hugh Benbow, manager and co-owner of Williams' contract, said he will demand a full investigation.

Forced Car

Witten said Williams and a friend, Ned Warner Nedd, Jr., 33, were arrested after his patrol car was nearly forced off a state highway near Tomball by a speeding automobile driven by the boxer.

The patrolman said he placed Williams in the front seat of the patrol car and Warner in the rear and began the short trip to Tomball only to see Williams trying to open the car door.

Witten quoted Williams as saying: "I can't afford to go to jail. I'd rather jump and break my neck."

Stopped Car

"I stopped the car and turned on the dome light," Witten said. "Williams drew back his fist and hit me on the face. I don't know how many times he hit me. I tried to get my pistol but he grabbed it with both hands and it went off."

Witten said Williams then pulled him out of the car on the passenger side, still clinging to the pistol.

"I managed to pull the pistol free just as Williams fainted," he said.

PREDICTS JIM BROWN MAY BE FIRST
NEGRO PRO FOOTBALL COACH

Cleveland—Marvelous Jim Brown, who potentially engages in the process of rewriting league's history every time he takes the field with the Cleveland Browns, will be named coach of the Browns upon retirement and thus become the first Negro to coach in the National Football League, Bobby Mitchell, his ex-teammate and roommate predicted here last week.

In making the prediction, Mitchell, who now stars for the Washington Redskins, said:

"I know (owner Art) Modell will give Jim a chance to coach if he wants it. He thinks an awful lot of Jim."

"Jim is the Negro most qualified to be a coach and I think he would be a good one."

Brown has been the NFL leading ground gainer every year for more than eight years. Last season he set the league's all-time ground gaining record when he amassed more than 8,000 yards and recently made history anew when he passed the 10,000 mark.

Mitchell said last week he believes Brown would get the Browns coaching job if he wanted it. But, he pointed out, Jim has several other talents, including that of a movie actor, which he might want to utilize. He added Brown could stay on as

This year of football will go down as the year of gripes about officiating. We can't recall when we have heard so many judgment calls blamed for the loss of games. People who saw the Iowa-Minnesota game swear the Hawks were robbed although the Gophers fans felt different about it. Notre Dame lost its last game of the season on a holding penalty that nullified what would have been the winning score. There are just some prime examples. We could cite more but why? We can't say if the officials are right or wrong, but the game is getting to be so violent now that officials have to really be on their toes. Time was when there was just a referee and a head linesman who called all penalties. Now five judges and referees sometimes aren't enough.

Old Football

We would say that the emphasis on passing has created the need for more officials, down field. The old football was made and designed primarily for kicking. The one they use now is designed for passing and since most teams now pass as much as they used to run it is easy to see why there must be more officials. And then one of them might call one wrong. Maybe football is becoming like basketball where in the officials can make or break a team for one game. But we don't think there ever will be the reaction against basketball officials. Football creates emotions and high feeling among the players. Basketball spectators to the players work on the emotions of the former.

Criticism

As we look back at Iowa University season we hear a lot of things. Coach Jerry Burns didn't handle the boys right; he was too prejudiced; There were some of the things we heard all season. We can't argue with the strategy of a man who makes his living at coaching a game. We would say that regardless of what one might think of Burns, he did the best he could with what he had. Given a big hard running full-back which Iowa didn't have and the record may well have been 4-5 or 5-4.

Negroes

We don't claim to know how the coach feels about Negroes but there were at least two in his offensive lineup and four in his defensive lineup every game. We would guess the coach wanted to win as much as anybody but he couldn't keep the boys from fumbling the ball at critical times. Sometimes the fellow like Dalton Kimble and Nourse were knocked loose from the ball by big line backers. That may not have happened to a bigger back. So we think the man did what he could with what he had.

more fights. "They'll be the biggest ones, and I want to retire undefeated. If I lose I'll have to leave the country."

And he said he hopes to retire "with a million dollars."

Prayer

To grow a little wiser day by day,
To school my mind and body to obey,
To keep my inner life both clean and strong,
To free my lips from guile, my hands from wrong,
To shut the door on hate and scorn and pride
To open up to love the windows wide,
To meet with cheerful heart what come to me,
To turn life's discords into harmony,
To share some tired worker's heavy load,
To point some straying comrade to the road,
To know that what I have is not my own,
To feel that I am never quite alone.

—Anon.

This would I pray
From day to day,
For then I know
My life shall flow
In peace until
It be God's will
I go.

—Anon.

Laugh Lines

A teacher, trying to encourage creative thinking in her class, posed this problem to a ten-year-old student:

"Albert, you are being followed by a ferocious lion. He has your scent and is gaining on you. What do you do?"

Without hesitation, Albert replied, "I'd hide behind a rock."

"Suppose there's no rock," probed the teacher.

"Then I'd climb a tree," countered the boy.

"There is no tree, Albert."

"Well, in that case, I'd jump in the river and keep my nose above water so he couldn't see me."

"That's pretty good," the teacher replied. "But suppose there's no river."

The youngster was really stymied, but finally replied with a disgusted look, "Whose side are you on?" Mine or the lion's?" Catholic Digest
