Malcom X Gunned Down in Harlem Ballroom

New York, N.Y.—Malcolm X was a man—"marked for death"—and he knew it. The 38-year-old fiery race extremist leader and formerly No. 2 man of the Black Muslim Sect, had heard many warnings that his life was in danger. These warnings had come in the last several months since his ouster from the Muslims shortly after the assassination of the late President Kennedy.

Sunday, Malcolm X came to a dingy ballroom at 166th street and Broadway, to address a meeting of his followers, the Afro-American Union. His purported plans were to disclose the names of his alleged executioners. The names remained sealed forever behind his lips.

Seconds after he mounted the rostrum he was felled by gunfire. The words "My brothers and sisters..." were his last. He died instantly. Thus marked the violent end of man—who had exhorted that white racial violence be matched by black racial violence. Like many leaders his goals were just and sincere but his means fanatical.

Pandemonium

The ballroom of 500 persons was thrown into pandemonium with the gunshots—believed to have been fired from at least three firearms, including a sawed off shotgun. Police quickly quelled the riot and rescued a 22-year-old Negro, Thomas Hagan, who was being beaten and pummeled by Malcolm X's followers.

Hagan, shot in the leg in the melee that followed the killing, was taken into custody, and charged with firing the fatal shot. He was being held under police guard at a New York hospital.

His Wife

In the audience at the time of the assassination of Malcolm X was his wife, Betty, who ran through the ballroom screaming hysterically, "They are killing my husband." Then she turned back to the stage and bent over him and began to give artificial respiration. Malcolm was taken to the nearby Vanderbilt Clinic of the Columbia Presbyterian Medical center, where doctors tried emergency heart massage in a vain effort to revive him.

Gasoline Bombs

Only the week before, also on a Sunday, three gasoline bombs were thrown in Malcolm's home in Queens, but he, his wife and four children, escaped without injury.

Malcolm's violent death was expected to precipitate a reign of terror and revenge on both white and black citizens especially in New York and perhaps in Chicago, Ill., where Elijah Muhammad, head of the Black Muslims lives in his palatial home. (See separate story).

At the time of the bombing Malcolm had said, "It doesn't frighten me. It doesn't quiet me down in any way or shut me up."

Suspension

Malcolm's ouster from the Black Muslims came when Elijah Muhammad suspended Malcolm as his heir apparent in the Black Muslims late in 1963 for statements he made regarding the assassination of President Kennedy. Malcolm had said it was a case of "the chickens coming home to roost."

Malcolm was born in Omaha, Neb.

Fear Vendetta Wave;
Headquarters of Black
Muslims Burned in N.Y.

In the wake of the assassination of Afro-American Nationalist leader Malcolm X, a wave of violence was being predicted by some and speculated by others, of authority to know.

A cordon of heavy police guard was thrown around the three-story palatial home of Elijah Muhammad, Black Muslim Prophet in Chicago, Ill. In addition dozens of his followers patrolled the spacious grounds of his home inside a six-foot mesh wire fence circling his property. Marked and unmarked squad cars circled the block in a continuous procession.

Headquarters

Two nights after the gun slaying of Malcolm X the police-guarded Black Muslim headquarters in Harlem was demolished in a three-alarm fire that law officers said "looked suspicious."

And televised interviews of men in the street, have disclosed voices saying, "this isn't the end of it. There will be something else."

Elijah Muhammad

In Chicago, Ill., heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay, rumored to be marked for a revenge death for Malcolm X, told reporters, "I am not afraid. I don't believe there is nothing to it. It is just something the press is trying to get started about black people killing one another."

The headquarters of the Black Muslims in New York was a huge building owned by the sect, in which many shops were located and the Mosque No. 7, where Malcolm X had preached before his ouster, was on the top floor.

First Local YMCA
Sued for Racial Bias
In Charlotte, N.C.

Charlotte, N.C.—In the first legal action against a YMCA, the NAACP Legal Defense Fund moved against what it alleges to be "discrimination" in the policies and practices of the Charlotte Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA).

The complaint was filed with the U.S. District Court for the Western District of North Carolina, on Feb. 19.

Unusual

The litigation is of an unusual nature. In spite of its generally favorable national reputation, a local branch of the YMCA is having charges of racial discrimination leveled against its operation for the first time.

Also, the complaint seeks to bring the public and private facilities of a membership organization under the control of the public accommodations section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The Legal Defense Fund is acting on a complaint by Thomas Lassiter, of Kansas City, Mo., and Dr. Reginald A. Hawkins, Sr. and his son, Reginald, Jr., of Charlotte.

Widespread In South

Contacted in New York, a source at the YMCA's National Council, who asked not to be quoted by name, confirmed the fact that there is widespread discrimination in the South's network of YMCA branches.

Hundreds Attend Rites for
N. Cole; Plan L.A. Memorial

Hollywood, Calif.—Many notables in entertainment and civic circles paid their last respects to the famed singer, Nat King Cole, who lost his valiant bout with lung cancer on Feb. 15.

Chief among the tributes was the announcement in Los Angeles for a memorial to be erected in the new multi-million-dollar Los Angeles Music Center Cole had helped found. The County Board of Supervisors approved the memorial the day after his death.

Pallbearers

Among the 40 mourners who crowded St. James Episcopal Church in Los Angeles, where last rites were held Feb. 18, were such figures as George Jessell, Jack Benny, Dany Thomas, Eddie (Rochester) Aderson, Dorothy Dandridge, Johnny Mercer and Stan Kenton. California Gov. Edmund G. Brown and U. S. Senator Robert Kennedy, brother of the late President Kennedy, were among honorary pallbearers.

Unchanged

During his singing career, Nat Cole had recordings had sold over 50 million, many of them gold records. However, the riches he gained during his career, left him unchanged. He was ever ready to give his time and his talent to charitable causes. He never had a harsh word for anyone—even when he was the object of racial discrimination in his early days.

During his life-time he received many honors. His last was a trophy awarded just last Friday night by the Los Angeles chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America. He was named "Manager of the Year" in recognition of his work with a baseball team made up of Hollywood stars who performed at Charity events.

Brooke Tells Young GOPs
Selfish Interests Lost Election

Washington, D.C.—A group of 500 Young Republicans heard Attorney General Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts charge that the Republican party suffered its crushing defeat in last November's election because the man that headed the G.O.P. ticket, Senator Barry Goldwater of Arizona, tried to create a "white backlash" which never erupted in the racial-political issues.

Dissenting Murmurs

Brooke drew murmurs of dissent when he charged Republicans turned their back on civil rights in 1964 in a gamble for white backlash votes, but the audience rose and applauded him when he said the party must attract the votes of Negroes and other minorities to win future elections.

"We have not only got to take down the sign, 'Outsiders Not Wanted,' but we have got to put up a sign, 'All Are Welcome in the Republican Party,'" he said.

The Young Republicans, here for "leadership training schools," ended a four-day session Saturday afternoon.

Apparently anticipating a cool reception, Brooke said at the outset that he had rejected advice to "leave

Rights Commission
Bill Introduced

A bill to establish a Civil Rights Commission in Iowa with power to investigate complaints of discrimination in employment or public accommodations was introduced in the Iowa House last week by 54 Democratic representatives. The bill would establish a seven-member bi-partisan commission representing, as far as possible, all geographic areas of the state.

The life of a five-year-old girl was snuffed out last Friday, Feb. 19 when she was struck by an auto when she was on her way home from kindergarten school. The accident, happened on E. University avenue near E. 21st street, less than two blocks from her home, at 1249 E. 21st street.

The victim was Gayla Hayes, daughter of Airman First Class and Mrs. Alonzo Hayes. She was pronounced dead on arrival at Broadlawn Polk County hospital.

Gayla's father, who is serving with the Air Force in Alaska, arrived home Sunday night to attend funeral services which were held Tuesday at 1 p.m. at L. Fowler and Son Funeral Home.

Father in Alaska

Gayla was enroute home about noon from her kindergarten class at Brooks elementary school when she was struck. She and her brothers and sisters had come with their parents to Des Moines from Bangor, Maine about a year ago. Airman Hayes a career serviceman of 12 years, went to Fairbanks, Alaska to his new station last March. His family, remaining in Des Moines, planned to join him later.

Truck Blocking

Police said she was struck by a car driven by Edward Milinsky, 25, of 2110 Beaver ave.

A truck belonging to Addington Poultry Co. and driven by Ray Miller, 1530 Illinois, had been parked in an alley beside the A & P Food Store on the E. Twenty-first street corner and its front end was protruding about 2½ feet onto the sidewalk on the south side of University, according to accident investigator Albert Knight.

Ran Into Street

He said the girl ran into the street from between the truck and the building.

Miller was given a traffic court summons charging illegal parking by blocking a sidewalk.

Gayla also is survived by three sisters, Carla and Carlotta, 4-year-old twins, and Quinta, 3; two brothers, LeMar, 10, and Alonzo, Jr., seven months; and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Hayes of Canton, Mo., and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Terrill of Des Moines.

First Complaint Filed Under
Title 6 of Civil Rights Act

Washington—Announcement of the first complaint under Title VI of the new Civil Rights Act, against 12 hospitals in seven southern states was made here today.

In a joint action, the NAACP and the NAACP Legal Defense Fund listed the racial discriminatory hospitals, six of which are in Arkansas, in a letter to Anthony J. Celebrezze, Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

An immediate investigation has been requested.

Investigation

Jack Greenberg, director-counsel of the NAACP Legal Defense Fund and J. Francis Pohlhaus, counsel for the NAACP Washington Bureau, brought the complaint.

The hospitals in question all receive federal funds for public assistance or hospital construction programs, all administered by HEW.

"This discrimination," Messers Greenberg and Pohlhaus say "takes the form of segregation of Negro patients and staff members in rooms, wards, restrooms, waiting rooms, cafeterias and other facilities..."

New Born

Some of the hospitals segregate new born babies.

Negroes are often given inferior facilities and in some cases, there have been attempts by hospital personnel to dissuade Negroes from requesting or using desegregated facilities.

"We are informed," Messers Greenberg and Pohlhaus add, "that in some cases these practices continue despite the assurance of non-discrimination given by the hospitals"

Pearl Bailey Back in Hospital

Singer Pearl Bailey, 46, entered a hospital in Los Angeles for treatment of what was described as "extreme nervous shock" as the result in question to agencies of the Department of HEW."

Under Title VI, HEW is expected to take affirmative measures to end racial discrimination in southern hospitals.

Federal Funds

However, if the hospitals refuse to comply, Title VI authorizes "the termination of federal financial assistance."

Michael Meltsner, Legal Defense Fund assistant counsel indicated that one of the hospitals, the King's Daughters Hospital in Canton, Miss., had refused to permit a Negro to visit a white patient.

At the Huntsville Memorial Hospital in Huntsville, Tex., all Negro patients, male and female, must share a single washroom. When the Negro section of the hospital is full, additional Negro patients are placed in the halls, even if there are empty beds in the white section.

Wilkins Says Nat
"King" Cole Was Dedicated to Freedom

New York — Executive Director Roy Wilkins of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People called the late Nat "King" Cole "a consummate artist" who was "dedicated to the ideals of individual freedom and equality." Mr. Wilkins' remarks were made in a telegram to Mrs. Cole expressing the "profound sympathy" of the Association.

"For millions of Americans," the telegram said, "his music was the hallmark of entertainment."

"In addition to being a Life Member of the NAACP," declared Wilkins, "he gave much of his time and talents to the cause of civil rights for which we will ever be grateful."

Survey Found 97 Negroes Hired by City in 10 Depts.; No Minorities in 19 Others

"There is still much to be accomplished before we can be fully confident equal employment opportunity is, in fact, a reality in Des Moines City Government."

This is the statement made in a report on employment in local city government by the Des Moines Commission on Human Rights at the request of City Manager Tom Chenoweth.

"Much has been done in this area," the report said. "The R.E.P. ordinance and subsequent policy statements by the City Council and City manager, plus the establishments of a Human Rights Commission with staff, has helped in the implementation of merit employment in city government as well as private business and industry in Des Moines."

Changes

"While hiring procedures followed by the City are not inherently discriminatory," the report continued, "certain recommended changes should be made to assure that equal employment opportunity is a reality."

The report noted that "relatively few minority group people apply for positions with the city, particularly in administrative, professional, technical and clerical areas or in the Police and Fire departments."

Communication

The report attributed this lag in minority applicants "because the city has not communicated the availability of employment opportunity to qualified applicants in the minority community."

The report also noted that "the number of minority workers are relatively few, and those employed generally are not in public view."

Recommendations

"To set a positive tone of ethics for the community," the commission recommends that application forms be revised so as to exclude any item which could be used for discriminatory purposes and that (1) only one standard application form be used by all agencies, departments and commissions.

The commission also recommended that "announcements of acceptance of applications should be made public" for temporary employees, such as casual employees during the summer and winter months in recreation, parks and public services.

Oral Exams

The commission recommended that certain specific points be developed for an impartial rating of persons given oral interviews. These could include appearance, manner, voice and expression, experience, reactions, intelligence, interest, etc.)

The commission also recommended that such a report (as this) be undertaken every six months so that city officials may keep abreast of

Departments

In a departmental breakdown, 29 city departments hire a total of 2,138 employees, including 97 Negroes. This is based on the employment status in July 1964, at the time the survey ended. This also includes casual (summer) employees.

The 97 Negroes employed fulltime by the city included one each in city Engineering, Municipal court, and Urban Renewal; three in the health department including the assistant public health director; two in the Human Rights including the Executive secretary; 10 in the public library including a librarian and a librarian assistant 21 in the park department; nine in the police department including one police sergeant and four police detectives; 33 in public services (mostly temporary); 13 in recreation department and three in traffic department.

No Negroes

There are no Negroes employed fulltime in the following departments: city clerk, bailiff, building inspection, city license, city manager, civil defense, civil service, finance department, fire department, law department, motor vehicle, personnel division, plan and zoning, public safety, purchasing department, treasurer's department, Veteran auditorium and zoning enforcement. Five Negroes were employed parttime as custodians at Veterans Auditorium at the time of the survey.

Omaha Drummer Arrested Here; Charged with Murder

A 20-year-old Omaha drummer was arrested in a local club here Friday afternoon while he practiced the drums, by Des Moines and Omaha detectives. He is Wardell Nelson Smith, who was charged with murder in the death of a Council Bluffs man in Omaha. Smith waived extradition and returned to Omaha with the Omaha officers.

cially-segregated school system."

Pioneering Suit

This pioneering suit, which eventually seeks to speed up the lagging pace of school integration across the south, marks the first time the Legal Defense Fund has sued an entire state school system.

The Legal Defense Fund told the court that the "enjoining of the use of funds to perpetuate racially-segregated school system is the approach and purpose of this action."

NAACP Youth Council Elects New Officers

The Youth Council of the Des Moines NAACP met Feb. 18 at Willkie House, 900 17th street and elected officers, who are Jackie Taylor, president; Bobbette Elliston, vice president; Charmayne Wright, secretary and Darrell Carter, treasurer.

The Steering committee was also appointed by the president. The committee includes Paula Walker, Susie Hogan, Deborah Rogers, Geraldine compained the Omaha officers when they arrested Smith, at the 790 Vets Club near 12th and Center streets.

Douglas County Attorney Donald Knowles of Omaha said Smith and another Omaha man, Richard Lindsey (Pork Chop) Lampkin, 19, are charged with first-degree murder. Lampkin was arrested in Peoria, Ill., where he has been working as a waiter in a private club.

The slain man was Carl France, 35, of Council Bluffs. He was struck in the chest by a bullet in an Omaha alley last Aug. 31.

Omaha police said Smith admitted that he and Lampkin were robbing France and that Lampkin was holding the gun when it went off accidentally.

Parents

His mother was a West Indian whose father was white. From this "white devil" grandfather Malcolm X got his reddish-brown complexion and reddish-brown hair. "I hate every drop of that white rapist's blood that is in me," Malcolm once wrote.

The family, including 11 children, moved to Lansing, Mich. Malcolm's earliest vivid memory was seeing, at the age of 4, his house being burned to the ground by white racists. When he was 6 his father was killed under the wheels of a street car. Malcolm always believed his father had been murdered—first bludgeoned and then laid across the tracks.

Ran Away

Malcolm ran away from home at age 11, and entered the Harlem underworld. There he sold marijuana cigarettes. Later, he went to Boston where he was arrested as part of a burglary gang.

Sentenced to 8 to 10 years in prison, Malcolm converted to the Black Muslims. He shed his last name, which was Little, and became Malcolm X. He gave up alcohol, cigarettes, and dope, prayed daily, strove to meet the Muslim mandate of "a clean body, a clean mind, clean speech and a clean home."

Many Tributes to Nat Cole

Hollywood—The death from cancer Monday of Nat King Cole, in the prime of his life and at the height of his fame, brought the following reaction from various parts of the country:

COMEDIAN JACK BENNY—"Songs have lost one of the best friends they ever had and so have I."

ACTOR RICARDO MONTALBAN—"I am deeply shocked by his untimely death. He spread sunshine. I was with him to the last. He never complained."

COLUMBIAN HEDDA HOPPER—"I am saddened. (John) Wayne and (Arthur) Godfrey managed to beat it (cancer) with checkups. How tragic Nat Cole couldn't."

ARMY ARCHERD, Hollywood correspondent for the Daily Variety—"It is a loss to everyone the world over. His face will be missed at Dodger stadium, too. Cole was a big baseball fan."

ANTONIO MORELLI, orchestra leader of the Sands hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., where Cole appeared frequently—"He was undoubtedly the tenderest, most thoughtful person in the business. There was never a moment or time that the singer was temperamental and not courteous. He was easy to work with. We have been friends for 14 years and have worked together at the hotel for nine years. We were expecting him in March and the vacancy left by him will be very hard to fill."

IKE COLE, the singer's youngest brother—"Nat was real obedient, everything a parent would expect. It's hard to believe he's dead. Everything was going real nice. I guess complications set in and that was it."

Fire Ruins Home of NAACP Branch Head

Benton Harbor, Mich.—The suspicion of possible arson hangs over the ruins of the home of Will Branscomb, NAACP branch president here.

The fire, which completely gutted the house on Feb. 11, came after a year of repeated anonymous threats against the militant NAACP leader.

Preliminary investigations by the Benton Harbor Fire Department have established that it was not caused by any heating equipment. Branscomb does not smoke.

Sidney Finley, NAACP field director, who is also investigating the fire, stated that he had notified the FBI requesting immediate attention.

Sues For $200,000 On Real Estate Deal

John Haskins, former manager of Basin Street West at 1308 Keosauqua Way and Granger Construction company, 2801 30th street, and Robert A. Wright, Des Moines Attorney, were sued in Polk County District court for $200,000 by Mrs. Gertrude I. Hall, 56-year-old widow, now living at 1223 15th place.

In the petition which requests a jury trial, Mrs. Hall accuses the defendants of "false and fraudulent representation in the transfer of property."

The petition said that Atty. Wright was hired by the plaintiff in early February 1961 to "investigate property at 1223 15th place allegedly owned by Haskins and his wife, Joyce L. Haskins.

Reasonable Value
The petition said that Mrs. Hall's "original property at 1308 Keosauqua way was represented by the defendants (Wright and Haskins) as being worth $16,000 and Haskins as $14,500.00 when "in fact the reasonable value of the plaintiff's property was approximately $50,000 and Haskins' worth $10,000."

Mrs. Hall in the petition accused the defendants of "fraudulent representation of recorders deed, without her consent," and "that at all times Granger Construction company was owner of the real estate property" allegedly owned by Haskins.

Nite Club
The petition states that after Mrs. Hall moved from 1308 Keosauqua the residence was torn down and a tavern and plush-nite club known as "Basin Street West, was built valued at $100,000."

The petition also said when Mrs. Hall demanded a deed and title to her new property at 1223 15th place, she was refused and that "the acts and conduct of the defendant, Robert A. Wright, were wilful, wanton and malicious."

The petition also states that Mrs. Hall was served notice of forfeiture of contract unless $800.00 was paid. The petition said Wright and Grandquist Construction company secretly accepted $500.00 for the contract.

Attorney for Mrs. Hall is Henry T. McKnight.

ELDERCARE ...better care than Medicare

Here's why the Herlong-Curtis Eldercare Bill, HR 3727, is the best answer to the health care needs of people over 65

MORE BENEFITS FOR THE ELDERLY

Eldercare would provide a wide range of hospital and medical services for the elderly—much more than Medicare.

	ELDERCARE	MEDICARE
Physicians' Care	YES	NO
Surgical Costs	YES	NO
Drugs—in and out of Hospital	YES	NO
Hospital & Nursing Home Charges	YES	YES

LESS COST TO THE TAXPAYERS

Eldercare offers more care for the elderly who need help, but would cost less because it does not provide benefits for the wealthy and well-to-do. Eldercare would not require a new payroll tax. It would be financed by federal-state funds through a program that already exists.

By contrast, the Medicare tax plan would increase payroll taxes to provide benefits for everyone over 65, the wealthy included. Furthermore, the Medicare tax would hit hardest those least able to pay. The $5,600-a-year worker would pay as much tax as the $56,000 executive.

Your doctors, who care for the elderly, support Eldercare because it also assures free choice of physician and hospital . . . provides for protection through Blue Cross, Blue Shield and health insurance policies . . . and lets people over 65 qualify for benefits before illness strikes—without a welfare type investigation.

The weekend and the past several days were a little hectic for the writer of this column, what with several children ill at home. Unfortunately we waited until the last minute to write this column and then unexpected circumstances prevented that writing. However, we beg your indulgences and ask you please accept our apologies. We hope to be back next week with renewed vigor.

However, we do want to make a correction (as we promised) and erase any wrong impression that may have occurred in a paragraph we wrote last week about the Foreign Student Weekend. We said that the Winthrop club did not have a booth, as in previous year. We were called on the point of "booths" as well as participation in the Foreign Student Week by the Winthrop club. The Winthrop club has given wholehearted support to the annual event for some six years. This year their money was there for coffee for students and guests.

We had it explained to us the difference between booths and coffee areas, which the Winthrop club and the Pyramid club of Delta Sigma Theta sorority and other church and civic and fraternal organizations have sponsored during the years. We were told these are not booths but coffee areas. We do apologize to the Winthrop club members and any other for any wrong impression we may have given. It was not intentional.

UNIONS IN PUBLIC JOBS ARE UNSOUND

A bill is pending in the Iowa legislature which would compel taxing bodies to bargain with labor unions on wages, working conditions and other benefits. The measure was introduced by two labor leaders.

While the Democrats control both houses by a safe majority, due, in part, to the election of labor supported candidates, labor seems to have taken their success at the polls as a mandate to pass all kinds of legislation favorable to its cause.

This one was to be expected but complete organization of public employees goes a long way. And while the labor leaders have given personal pledges that there would be no strikes, history has shown that once the power is available, unions often disregard such pledges.

Examples of this are the teacher and welfare workers strikes in New York and the walk out at missile bases in Florida. In each case, strikes placed personal gain above public welfare.

And once Iowa passes such a law, there will be strikes by teachers and public employees to enforce their demands. Nothing their leaders in the legislature say now will bind future action where organizations press their demands sometimes far beyond rhyme or reason.

Today, every segment of the economy is organized for what generally turns out to be pressing demands for bigger advantages. And the organization which earns the biggest demands are the better organized or better regulated to make their service more necessary to the welfare of the most people.

We had hoped that Iowa would be spared the ridiculous strikes of public officials but if the compulsory arbitration law is passed, teachers and others in public fields will be striking against their communities and also themselves.

YOUNG REPUBLICANS
GET THE MESSAGE

The Young Republicans conducted a program in Washington where they met officially licking their wounds caused by the defeat November 3, 1964.

Several Republican leaders appeared before the meeting, some telling them what they wanted to hear, some what they did not want to hear.

Prior to the big conservative campaign last year, young people, particularly college students had been counted up as the liberal progressive wing of the party. But somehow the Goldwater forces carried them in another direction leading to paths of conservative ideals.

Edward Brook, Republican attorney general of Massachusetts who was elected by 500 thousand majority votes in spite of the fact that President Johnson carried the state by a million votes was one of the speakers. He told the youngsters that Negro voters opposed Goldwater because he gambled that the white back lash in the North and the codding of race haters in the South would add up to the majority of the voters.

This was not what some wished to hear. Some audibly expressed their disapproval. But what he said was not only true, but if the Republican party follows the program of the Goldwater forces, it will remain a minority party for a long time.

In fact, the strategic location of Negroes in thickly populated areas is such that in most elections the candidates who get their support will carry the election.

At least the young Republicans had before them a man who had succeeded in getting elected by the stand he took. After all they met to find out how to do a good job. Certainly one whose medicine has worked is in a good position to give advice to the patient.

THE BOY

Today, I see a little chap as he was years ago.

I've watched him twenty summers
now since he began to grow;

I always thought I'd like to be his counselor and guide—

A haven for his confidence where he might safely hide,

With power enough to hold him
though the boy heart seem to break

'Till patient love revealed to him
'twas done for love's sake—

For I've always held a fancy till now
it's real to me,

I want to be the kind of Dad I want
my boy to be.

I long have watched the other dads
who never seem to care

That boys should need a confidant who might their problems share;

I've seen them give ungrudgingly to clothe the outer man

Then leave him learning how to live whatever way he can—

Without the time to play the game
to win the boyish heart,

And then they sigh and wonder why they too should drift apart—

But I've always held a fancy 'till
now it's real to me,

I want to be the kind of Dad I want
my boy to be.

Now when he comes and sits beside me and tells me of his plan,

I'm proud to listen while he talks,
my boy who nears the man;

I know no finer heritage than life may bring to be,

Than that which links his confidence and holds his trust in me—

And I should count it failure grim if I should cause to dim,

The honor due a father by the way
I'd dealt with him—

For I've always held a fancy 'till
now it's real to me

I want to be the kind of Dad I want
my boy to be.

were stalking through the jungle.
Suddenly there was a roar in the

for protection.

"It's all right," said the mother.

"It's an airplane."

"What's that?" asked the boy.

"Well, it's a little like a lobster.

said $200,000 in federal money was

terms of degree-days:

- January, 1965, was 27.9 per cent colder than January, 1964.

Your automatic gas furnace has been working longer, harder, using more gas this cold winter. And, thus, your gas bills have been running higher.

But, it's great to know that, no matter what the weather outside, natural gas, the lowest cost automatic heat, continues to KEEP YOU WARM INSIDE!
