Pastor Reports on 'War of Nerves' in Selma

Recalls Experiences
Of His Five Days There;
Seek Funds To Aid

BY FRANCES HAWTHORNE
"This civil rights non-violent movement must not die now. We must do all we can to help it!"

This is the strong belief of the Rev. Kenneth McNeil, pastor of Burns Methodist church, who spent five days in Selma, Ala., at the height of demonstrations and tensions following the now infamous Black Sunday. He returned with a deep conviction to give his greatest contribution—the helping to raise funds so the movement would not die.

Rev. McNeil who was among others dining in the same cafe at the same time that the Rev. James Reeb, of Boston, Mass., had eaten shortly before his fatal beating, lost no time in enlisting the aid of fellow religious leaders and ministers in Des Moines after his return.

Committee

With the aid of Rabbi Edward Zerlin, Rev. Norman R. Olphin, Rev. George Parrish, Rev. Louis Valbracht, Bishop James S. Thomas, and Rev. Leonard Tinker, they have organized an unofficial committee to raise money for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, headed by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., the organization which epitomizes the non-violent movement.

"Few people realize the awful expense of this movement. They have car pools to meet demonstrators at the airports and train and bus stations. There is food, bedding, first aid care and supplies and many other incidentals for demonstrators," Rev. McNeil said.

Alabama Fund

"That's why we have organized the Alabama Fund. Anyone wishing to contribute should make the check out to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. This is very important because we have no secretary help and there would be no need to countersign checks. We can just put them in envelopes and send them on to Selma," he continued.

Rev. McNeil noted that anyone sending five dollars or more would get a brochure of SCLC which includes pictures of its leaders and depicts the movement from its start to the present day.

Responses

Since his return from Selma, Rev. McNeil has made several public appearances for the fund-raising effort. He appeared last Friday on Mary Jane Chinn's show on KENT-TV. "We have had a good response

Hails LBJ's Voting Message As Historic; Cautions Against

New York — Executive Director Roy Wilkins of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People hailed President Johnson's voting rights address as an "eloquent and history-making message."

In a telegram to the President thanking him for his speech which was delivered before a joint session of Congress and the nation via television and radio Monday night, Mar. 15, Wilkins said the address "was a plea to your fellow Americans to vindicate their personal and their country's ideals," and added:

Summit

"It will rank as a moment in the life of our nation and in the interpretation by a President of our high national purpose."

The NAACP head said: "We salute your reiterated pledge to use your chance as President to eradicate the condition pictured in your warm and moving lines: 'And somehow you never forget what poverty and hatred can do when you see its scars on the hopeful face of a young child.'"

Wilkins added: "The NAACP continues its dedication to the task of making those scars but a haunting memory and offers its full support to the President in this endeavor."

Continued Praise

In a press conference at NAACP headquarters, Tuesday, Mar. 16, Wilkins continued to heap praise on the President for his voting rights message. Wilkins said he believed Mr. Johnson was sincere and would press for passage of a bill guaranteeing all Americans the right to vote.

When asked if he thought demonstrations should cease during Congressional debate on the voting rights bill, Wilkins said he would not suggest that all protests be called off.

Referring particularly to the recent demonstrations in Selma and Montgomery, Ala., which are being directed by Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., the NAACP leader called them "a magnificent stimulus" to the voting bill. He said he anticipated that they would continue there as long as Dr. King and his co-workers thought them necessary.

Caution

Wilkins, however, said he would caution those "people in Des Moines, Chicago, New York and other places who get happy all of a sudden and say 'let's demonstrate,' just for the sake of demonstrating," to consider what possible effect on the legislation their protest would have.

Wilkins said further that he did not think attempts at filibustering would "weigh very heavy" on Congress, pointing out that the proposed voting rights measure has support from both political parties.

In acknowledgement and praise of that bipartisan support, Wilkins disclosed the text of a telegram which the NAACP had sent to Senators Paul H. Douglas (D., Ill.) and Clifford Case (R., N.J.) who have introduced a voting rights bill.

Open Letter Praises Iowans

DEAR EDITOR:

May we be permitted a moment of pride in our city, our state and in one another for the responses to Dr. Martin Luther King's appeal to the nation!

Our 24-hour vigil at the postoffice brought out people who had not taken part in public witness before. We especially rejoice in the number of Negroes from all walks of life and who joined us all during the day.

We appreciate the added support of the Rev. R. D. Smith of Bethel A.M.E. Church, postoffice workers, the white ministers who picketed for freedom at home before leaving for Alabama.

Everyone enjoyed the special delegation of Church women, the legislators and page boys. It was easier to face the chilly dawn Mar. 12 after the governor and the attorney-general of Iowa answered Dr. King's appeal.

The students, professor and clergy who joined the following day . . . The Iowans who are going into Alabama each week, all of these actions put Iowa a little closer to the practices of democracy.

President Johnson Orders 3,000 Troops To Protect After U.S. Judge Ruling

Selma, Ala.—A 50-mile "Freedom March" from this demonstration beleaguered city of 30,000 neared its destination—Montgomery—the seat of the birth of the U.S. non-violent civil rights movement.

The march which began shortly after high noon Sunday with some 8,000 persons of all races and creeds and religions was led by the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., head of the non-violent movement, who has envisioned the idea of the famed Indian protagonist of the non-violent protest and passive resistance, Mahatma Gandhi.

In Rain

Tuesday, three days later the march neared its end, the state capitol of Alabama, where the group will be joined by thousands of college students and others around the country who will join the last leg of the march. Tuesday the group of some 300 marchers walked in the rain. It was still raining at the day's end. But as the marchers prepared to make camp in the rain, and muddy fields with the aid of straw and tents, their spirit remained high as they continued to clap and sing Freedom songs, that now have become a legend.

Tuesday's march was also made with out the leadership of its beloved Dr. King, who had to leave the ranks and keep a previous appointment in Cleveland, Ohio. He is expected to return to Montgomery sometime today.

Replaced King

Notables Join Selma Montgomery March

Selma, Ala.—Among notables who joined the civil rights march here was Dr. Ralph Bunche, United Nations mediator. Others included Comedian Dick Gregory, Film Star Gary Merrill, Mrs. Constance Baker

Leading the march was Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., who like Dr. Bunche, is a Nobel Peace Prize winner. He was flanked by his top assistant, Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy and Phyllis Edwards, of San Francisco, Calif., a deaconess of the Episcopal Church.

Washington, D. C.—Following his voting rights speech to Congress and the nation—described by some as a 'president's finest hour'—President Lyndon B. Johnson continued to throw the weight of the federal government behind the nation's civil rights movement.

3,000 Men

President Johnson ordered some 3,000 men some of them federal troops, to Alabama, to protect the Freedom Marchers on their route to the Alabama state capitol after U. S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson, Jr., ruled Wednesday, Mar. 17 that the march could be held. The nation's chief executive made his move for federal protection of marchers after waiting in vain for a similar move by Alabama Governor George C. Wallace.

Heaped Scorn

Simultaneous with his announcement Saturday, President Johnson read a telegram in which he heaped scorn on Wallace's call for federal help in policing the Selma-Montgomery civil rights march that began Sunday.

Telling Wallace that preservation of law and order properly rests with state and local governments, Mr. Johnson said he had thought the governor felt strongly about this. But he told the assembled newsmen, he was heeding Wallace's appeal for federal help though "it is not a welcome duty to assume a state's solemn responsibility."

National Guard

In response to a question, the President gave this accounting of the forces he has mustered for police duty:

Nearly 1,900 Alabama National Guardsmen called into federal service before dawn, 100 agents of the FBI, close to 100 U. S. marshals with more en route to Alabama, and more than 1,000 regular Army troops about evenly divided between bivouacs in Selma and Montgomery.

In addition, Mr. Johnson said, a reinforced Army battalion of about 1,000 men has been alerted for possible duty. And he reported, the military will have available a full

Iowa Fund Drive For Rights School

Indianola, Ia.—Residents here expect to wind up a fund drive here this week to help replace equipment lost in a fire that destroyed a civil rights school in the Iowa community's namesake of Indianola, Miss.

2,000 Volumes

A freedom school and library containing nearly 2,000 volumes for use of Negroes in Indianola, Miss., was burned earlier this month.

The local drive is designed to raise enough money to replace the mimeograph and several typewriters that were lost in the fire. About $200 has been raised in local contributions so far. The new equipment is slated to be taken to Indianola, Miss., this weekend.

Voted $50

The Simpson College Civil Rights Committee, a student group, is co-operating in the drive with local church groups and other Indianola citizens. The Simpson College student government unit voted $50 to the project.

Demonstrations in Review

Selma, Ala.—Police arrested 36 ministers—two of them women—as they with picket signs, marched on the Mayor's house after they had marched on the Dallas County Courthouse in the rain. Police loaded the marchers into a yellow school bus and took them to jail where they were charged with parading without a permit. Bond was set at $200 each.

Montgomery, Ala.—U. S. District Judge Frank M. Johnson, Jr., issued a stern order for state and county officials to permit a 50-mile civil rights march after granting an injunction asked by rights leaders banning any interference with the march.

Washington, D. C. — President Johnson's voting rights bill was sent to Congress last Wednesday. Even though he expects a tough fight in the senate he remained confident that a strong bill will be passed from individuals but the churches have not responded yet. Several churches, particularly Negro churches were wonderful in responding so promptly to the fund to help me on my return trip to Des Moines. What we are asking for now is not the same. This is a fund to send funds direct to SCLC to help Dr. King and his workers," he explained. Rev. McNeil will appear on WOI radio station in Ames, Ia., on Friday, Mar. 26 at 3:30 p.m. when he will make another appeal for funds for the demonstrations workers in Alabama.

Met At Airport

Recalling his days in Selma, Rev. McNeil said he and five other clergymen from Washington, D.C., were met at the Montgomery airport by one of the carpool drivers, after they notified the rights workers in Selma by phone of their impending arrival. It's a 70 minute drive from there to Selma.

"When we got there we thought we were going to march, of course. But we didn't that day although Dr. King had led a group to the bridge. The young people of SNCC were disappointed because he didn't break through the lines and we were told later that they had tried to rush the police lines but were prevented by a barricade of clergy. If that had happened more blood would have been shed.

Foreboding

"That night a friend of mine, a minister from Texas, and I had dined in the little cafe at the same time the Rev. Reeb and his group were eating. The cafe was full. In fact there were more white people than Negroes.

"This friend and I left to go to the bus station to pick up a schedule because he planned to leave that night. A city bus went by and none of the people looked at us. I had a foreboding and told my friend to turn back and phone in for the information.

"Hardly ten minutes had passed before the time we left the restaurant and the time we got back at the demonstration area near Brown Chapel A.M.E., when we heard the news of the beating of Rev. Mr. Reeb.

staff of doctors and nurses, backed up by a fleet of rescue helicopters and other aircraft to man a 250-bed hospital in Montgomery and a 75-bed installation at Selma.

Federal Injunction

Judge Johnson's preliminary injunction barred Gov. George C. Wallace, State Police Commander Col. Albert J. Lingo and Dallas County Sheriff James G. Clark from "failing to provide police protection."

Judge Johnson turned down a petition by the Justice Department for a more sweeping order to prohibit interference with civil rights demonstrations in addition to the Selma-Montgomery march.

The Justice Department joined in the suit by civil rights leaders for the no-interference order.

Courthouse March

Judge Johnson's decision came as hundreds of demonstrators massed in front of the county courthouse here after a street march led by King.

Selma, Ala.—Civil Rights officials continue to stockpile food in two Negro churches here in preparation for the 50-mile march to Montgomery, Ala. All medical and physical precautions and preparations were being checked.

Birmingham, Ala.—A sixth home-made dynamite bomb has been found in the Negro community as the planned Selma-Montgomery march made ready to get underway. The latest bomb was found beneath a panel truck in the parking lot of a Negro funeral home, Poole Funeral Chapel.

Selma, Ala.—Frances Duncan, of Birmingham, Ala., was stabbed in the hip on a Selma street Sunday shortly after the civil rights marchers walked out of town. A white construction worker, Allen Harris Dykes, 58, is being held, charged with assault and battery and with carrying a concealed weapon.

No Fear

"The reaction was typical of people who expect to face violence daily. There was sympathy, of course. Each speaker who talked that night in the church referred to the beating. But there was no fear. They have been beaten so many times that it is just a part of living, like washing your face.

24 Hours A Day

Rev. McNeil noted that after the beating the decision came from the leadership to demonstrate 24 hours a day. We had complete freedom of movement within the two-block area cordoned off by police and people arrived every day and at least 500 to 800 stayed on the lines all the time.

"We were brought coffee and sandwiches and we could leave the lines for hot soup inside the church. The first night was rough but after that it became routine, almost like going to work.

War of Nerves

After Tuesday night it became a war of nerves. The 24-hour demonstrations with new people arriving, was an ever greater strain on the Sheriff Clark and his posse than the demonstrators, for it meant that the police had to be on duty with little or no sleep.

"Two people had been hit that night by high-powered pellets from snipers. That was our greatest fear. On Wednesday the police put up the rope as a barrier, they claim to keep back demonstrators but in fact it was to rest themselves.

Non-Violent

"You see, the non-violent movement does not create violence; it breaks no laws. Violence must come to them. They would not have crossed the rope.

"I left the demonstration area on Thursday for four hours to sleep and when I returned I felt as if the world had passed me by. For there were entire new faces, very few of the people who were there when I first arrived.

Casualties

"There are more casualties from exhaustion than anything. Everyone in SCLC and SNCC does what he can as long as he can day and night. There are some in SNCC who are only paid $10 a week and this is their yearly occupation. So you see, the dedication!

"The movement must not die!" he reiterated.

SLOAN FOUNDATION ANNOUNCES NEW SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM FOR NEGROES

New York, N.Y.—A new and experimental program of scholarship awards for Negro male students was announced today by Everett Case, President of the Alfred P. Sloan Foundation. The program, which provides for student grants to be known as Alfred P. Sloan Opportunity Awards, is designed to help certain of the leading Negro colleges extend the opportunity of a higher education to promising male applicants who could expect to qualify for college only with the benefit of both remedial and financial assistance.

10 Colleges

The Sloan Foundation has invited ten colleges to participate in the program. Each college will seek out potentially qualified candidates for a college education in those high schools from which it normally recruits its students. Half of the candidates the first year will be of junior-year standing in their schools and half will be seniors. The candidates thus selected will attend a remedial program at one of two centers in order to assure their full preparation for college level work and, if admitted by the college which selected them, will be awarded a scholarship, based on need, to carry them through the four-year course leading to the Bachelor's degree.

The ten colleges selected by the Sloan Foundation to receive scholarship grants are: Bethune-Cookman College in Daytona Beach, Fla.; Bishop College in Dallas, Texas; Dillard University in New Orleans, La.; Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.; Hampton Institute in Hampton, Va.; Knoxville College in Knoxville, Tenn.; Morehouse College in Atlanta, Ga.; Talladega College in Talladega, Ala.; Tougaloo College in Tougaloo, Miss.; and Tuskegee Institute in Tuskegee, Ala.

In addition to funds for tuition, room and board for scholarship recipients, the Foundation's grant to each participating college will include a supplementary cost-of-education allowance.

The remedial program, which will be handled as a special project by the United Negro College Fund, will consist of an eight-week summer session at two centers—Dillard University in New Orleans and Morehouse College in Atlanta, Ga.

Council Bluffs

PROTEST RACIAL STRIFE AT SELMA

More than 200 persons filled to overflowing Tabernacle Baptist Church here Sunday afternoon for a protest meeting against racial strife in Selma, Alabama.

The session was sponsored by the Council Bluffs Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

A memorial service for the Rev. James Reeb of Boston, Mass., was conducted by George J. Cooper, President of the Council Bluffs branch.

The Rev. Mr. Reeb died last week of injuries suffered in a beating at Selma, Alabama, scene of the violence.

OMAHAN SPEAKS

Principal speaker was Joseph N. Williams, an associate director of the Omaha Urban League.

"The Negroes are not going to be content with gradualism and tokenism," said Williams. Council Bluffs is a true picture of what I am talking about."

He urged area residents to become involved in more civil rights movements and to write their elected representatives in behalf of their cause. A Negro cannot get a decent house regardless of his social status said Williams.

Eye Council Resolution

The Rev. Mr. Hearn urged the City Council adopt a resolution protesting the Selma, Alabama race situation, and send to the officials of the southern town.

Mayor Eldon Evans told the assembly he would ask the Council to pass such a resolution next Monday night.

Clergymen participating in the rally, included the Rev. J. J. Brown, Rev. Wilber Wicklund, Rev. E. Rhodes, Dr. Everett Staats, and Patrick Best.

Tells of Gulf Oil Aid to Negro Stations

Washington, D. C.—Undersecretary of Commerce Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., recently praised the Gulf Oil Corporation before a Senate Anti-trust subcommittee for its dealings with Negro service station operators.

During hearings on franchise arrangements, Mr. Roosevelt told subcommittee Chairman Senator Philip Hart (D-Mich.) that the oil industry "was one of the first to make available national brand franchise opportunities to Negroes."

He gave details of a study conducted by Professor H. Naylor Fitzhugh of Howard University who reported that Gulf has 622 Negro-operated dealerships in this country.

A GOPHER FIRST

Archie Cairl, of Ecorse, Mich., was elected University of Minnesota basketball captain for the 65-66 season. Clark, a 23-year-old, 6-2, 175-pound, junior guard who averaged 14.3 points per game this season is the first Negro to be elected a varsity sports captain at Minnesota. Grambling Coach is Clinic Lecturer

Portland, Ore. (SPECIAL)—Fred Hobby, the successful Grambling College basketball coach who seems to improve with age, was one of 11 outstanding cage mentors forming the lecture staff for the convention clinic of the National Association of Basketball Coaches of the United States.

The three-day NABC clinic opened here Thursday and ran through Saturday.

Hobby discussed Grambling's interesting and imaginative attack.

The personable coach, superbly talented and supremely confident, has an incredible career won-loss record of 234 victories and 40 defeats in nine seasons at Grambling.

He has won one NAIA national title and five conference championships. His teams have won 20 or more games each season. Hobby was named college "Coach-of-the-Year" in 1963 by Basketball Writers of America.

Commission on Human Rights; and Norman Houston a Los Angeles officer of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Most of the marchers—nearly 280 of them—are Negroes from this general area of Alabama. Mainly they are persons who have been beaten or arrested during the voting rights drive that began in mid-January.

The rest are white persons, all from other states.

Accompanying the marchers are federalized National Guardsmen and Army troops.

Blistered feet are the main trouble the marchers have encountered so far. But the people who help prepare the nightly camp grounds and put up and take down the four huge tents have troubles, too—muscle strains. Prominent among these workers are ministers, priests and rabbis.

Dr. J. Lackner of San Jose, Calif., one of 20 doctors available to the marchers along with a mobile clinic, explained: "Many seminarians are not used to this type of work. Therefore they end up with sprained muscles."

Hails N.Y. Court Ruling On School Segregation

New York—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People highly praised the decision March 18, of the New York State Court of Appeals ordering the Malverne School Board to eliminate racial imbalance as "a vital decision which resolves the question as to whether such schools can be maintained in this state."

Appeal

The case, which has been in the courts since September, 1962, stemmed from NAACP efforts to have the School Board in Malverne, L.I., follow the directive of Dr. James E. Allen, New York State Commissioner of Education, to eradicate predominantly Negro schools in the Union Free School District No. 12 of the Town of Hempstead.

A favorable ruling by a lower state court was appealed by a group of white parents. Today's ruling upheld that decision on the grounds that the School Board had a constitutional duty to end racial imbalance. It held that the order by the State Commissioner of Education was fully reasonable and therefore not subject to judicial review.

All Schools

NAACP General Counsel Robert L. Carter, who argued the case, stated that "all school boards in the State of New York are now under an obligation to formulate and put into effect plans to integrate their systems immediately, irrespective of the causes of segregation. If a Board refuses to take such action, the State Commissioner may now compel it to institute a specific plan of his own choosing which he deems effective," he said.

beginning in Montgomery, site of the bus boycott a few years ago, which also was led by Dr. King. During the years it has grown, in its official organization, SCLC, Southern Christian Leadership Conference, buttressed by the student generation organization, SNCC, Student Non-Violent Christian Conference.

8 Weeks Ago

Eight weeks ago the organizations centered their activities in the vote drive in this ancient southern city. They envisioned a march to Montgomery. They were thwarted by beatings and intimidations climaxed by the Black Sunday of March 5. Last week a federal judge ruled the march could be held. And Sunday they began.

Plea in Montgomery

In Montgomery, meanwhile, Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan urged citizens to keep away from the marchers when they move into that city Thursday.

Sullivan said at a news conference that the trek from Selma was a "propaganda march and we are fighting a propaganda war."

"The eyes of the world will be focused on the State of Alabama and the City of Montgomery during the next few days to witness a march that is without parallel or precedent in our history," Sullivan said.

Pineapple Cereal Cheese Cake

Pineapple Cheese Cake with Crunchy Cereal Crust solves the dilemma of the hostess who wants a dessert for evening refreshments that is filling, satisfying, but not too sweet. The crisp texture of the wheat and barley kernels makes a pleasing combination with the soft, pineapple-flavored filling. Breakfast cereals are excellent for ingredient use in recipes, because they are inexpensive, add flavor and texture, and make important nutritional contributions of protein, the B-complex vitamins, minerals.

Sweet 'N Sour Pork Chops

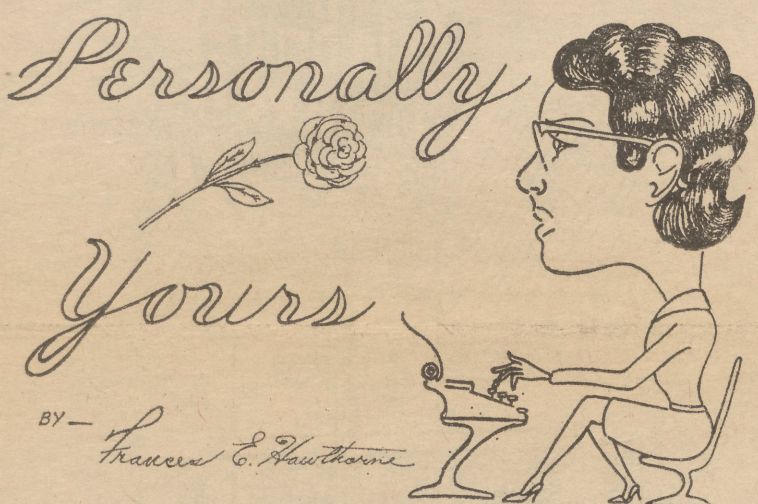

"THIS LITTLE PIG WENT TO MARKET"—and to add to the old rhyme we might say that lots of little pigs are going to market right now. This is good news for those of us who enjoy pork chops and other pork cuts. From the test kitchens of Minute Maid-Snow Crop Fresh-Frozen Orange Juice comes a timely recipe for Sweet 'N Sour Pork Chops. This is a delicious way of serving this popular meat—and an easy way, too, since all the cooking is done on top of the range to save fuel.

Rice is plentiful now, too, so we suggest a large bowl of fluffy, boiled rice to serve alongside the pork chops. Use the delicious orange-flavored sauce to pour over the rice as well as the meat. A package of Snow Crop Frozen Green Beans, cooked in a small amount of boiling water, following the package directions, and served with your meat and rice will add up to an extra good meal, for the family as well as guests.

- | | |
|---------------------|--|
| 6 loin pork chops | 2 tablespoons shortening |
| 6 cloves | 1 can (6 oz.) Snow Crop Fresh-Frozen Orange Juice—thawed and undiluted |
| 1 teaspoon salt | 1 tablespoon brown sugar |
| 1 teaspoon paprika | |
| 1/4 teaspoon pepper | 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon |

Insert one clove in the center of each pork chop. Blend salt, paprika and pepper and rub mixture well into both sides of chops. Melt shortening in heavy skillet or Dutch oven, and when hot, place chops in pan and brown on both sides over medium heat (do not crowd in pan, it is better to brown 3 at a time). Combine thawed and undiluted fresh-frozen orange juice with brown sugar and cinnamon and pour over chops. Cover and simmer about 30 minutes or until tender (Serves 4-6). DID-YOU KNOW When braising meat on top of range, a piece of wax paper placed under the pan cover will reduce the loss of liquid which sometimes condenses on the lid and trickles out of the pan.

Here we go again. This is getting to be a regular refrain but we had typewriter troubles again as we were winding up our writing assignments for the week's issue. And as it happened again, we had saved our column to the last among other last minute stories and to meet the deadline we had to forego writing what we had intended and save it for next week. So until then. Thanks for bearing with us.

FUND SUES 8 VIRGINIA COUNTIES IN SCHOOL INTEGRATION EFFORT

Richmond, Va.—A massive statewide campaign to end racial discrimination in Virginia's public schools got underway here this week as the NAACP Legal Defense Fund brought actions against eight counties.

Seek Injunctions

In the state where "massive resistance" to the 1954 Supreme Court ruling has been both slogan and reality, Legal Defense Fund lawyers sought sweeping injunctions that would require the adoption and implementation of desegregation plans in Amelia, New Kent, Greenville, Charles City, Middlesex, Gloucester, Hanover and Brunswick Counties.

The last named county is the home of Governor Albertis S. Harrison, Jr., a staunch foe of integration attempts. Two other counties and three Virginia cities have begun desegregation under court edicts secured by Legal Defense Fund suits.

8 Counties

School boards in the eight counties were petitioned last year by scores of Negro citizens to end public school segregation. When the petitions went unheeded, the court actions were undertaken.

HEALTH FOR ALL

GIRTH OF A NATION

Lovely young Linda never consumes much food, but she qualifies as a heavy eater. All 167 pounds of her.

Her friend Ruthie, on the other hand, likes to stow away the calories and does so with a yo-heave-ho. But you could call her a light trencherwoman—she weighs in at something under 115.

Connection

Just a gag? Not at all. There is certainly an important connection between food intake and obesity—that's why doctors often prescribe diets for weight reduction. But it isn't the whole story.

The fact is that there are some marathon eaters who just never seem to get fat. Conversely, there are abstemious souls whose figures hardly respond to the most rigorous dieting. These are undoubtedly the exceptions—but they're the folks who spark the more unusual medical theories about nutrition and weight.

Family Tree

What are some of these theories?

Well, there are doctors who maintain that heredity plays an important part in the individual's weight. For the answer to why you are stout, say these authorities, you need not only count your calories but check your family tree—maybe the genes from one of your food-infatuated ancestors are the cause of your trouble.

Glands

There is also the gland theory, which few uphold as the sole answer to obesity but some would include as a factor. There are weighty health experts too who insist that exercise plays a potent part.

The great majority of medical opinion continues to hold that too-heavy calorie intake in proportion to energy expended is what really causes obesity. Undoubtedly so. But the one sure answer is that there isn't just one sure answer, but a combination of factors that accounts for the problem.

Allen may enlist in the National Guard unit and is expected to be accepted. If he does not enlist in the National Guard, he will be mandatorily assigned to Company B, 327th Medical Battalion which is 35 miles of his residence.

STATES RIGHTS AND
VOTING RIGHTS

Some constitutional lawyer-columnists have criticized the use of the armed forces to enforce court decisions, howling that they are there without the consent of the legislature or governor of the southern states.

Well, Governor Wallace relieved them of making this complaint when he told President Johnson that his state could not afford to pay the bill for the state guard to accompany the freedom marchers and asked that he provide it. Of course, the president obliged him.

Negro soldiers have gone overseas with white troops to make citizens free in other countries. American soldiers, white and black, are fighting in southeast Asia to keep the Communists in the north from spreading further south. Some are getting killed, and yet when federal government moves to protect Negroes in their rights as American citizens, the obstructionists cry out that states rights are being invaded. Too long, states rights has been a smoke screen for denying Negroes their rights. It no longer has a punch.

Senator Goldwater continues to be a part of those obstructionists who lost their shirt in the election last year. They refuse to admit that a majority of the Americans do not relish their idea of how this country should be run and said so in no uncertain terms.

Of course there are many white people in the south who want to see the Negro enjoy his rights as an American citizen; that there are many in the north who think otherwise. But in the final analysis, the American people come up with the right answer. They will do so as the marches subside and more get down to a peaceful solution of the matter.

The Bystander cannot say too strongly that Negroes themselves must do their part as workers in the fight for victory by taking his part as a good citizen. If they do, those who have sacrificed to help both in and out of the terrible areas will feel that their participation was not in vain.

IOWA HIGH

SCHOOL ATHLETES

The Iowa high school boys and girls basketball tournaments have been completed in Des Moines. These, undoubtedly, were two of the better tournaments in recent years. Some very fine teams competed, the competition was terrific, the interest high and above all, it was clean sport.

These tournaments come at the end of the season of athletic competition which provides good wholesome recreation, sportsmanlike conduct and fair competition between teams and individuals.

Athletic teams build esprit de corps among the members, an opportunity to get acquainted with each other and opposing teams. There is no substitute for it. And as long as the youngsters keep their grades up, they do better for having competed in athletics.

Many of the participants came from small communities where they have met few people and seen little of what goes on in large centers of population. As these youngsters parade the streets and shuffle in and out of stores and places of accommodation an amusement, apparently they have fun. All of which broadens the horizon of their education.

Overflow Crowd Thrill to Boys 54th Cage
Meet; Roosevelt Wins Crown, 83-51

BY STAFF WRITER

It's nine o'clock Saturday night here at Veteran's Memorial Auditorium in Des Moines and I can't hear my ears. Pandemonium has broken loose. Yells of victorious delight emanate from a thrilled Roosevelt coach, basketball players and a throng of fans alike and infiltrate the chilly, snowy night air again and again.

All Natural

However, it's really all quite natural. Des Moines Roosevelt High school has just won its first state basketball championship in 33 years, by defeating Clinton's St. Mary's, 83-51. (Not since 1932 when they beat Sioux City Central have they won . . . and never for Coach Al Comito have they won). So you see the yelling and jubilation and celebrating is all quite natural.

Game Thriller

This win was a convincing, action-packed thriller all the way over a good team with a good, big man, six-foot nine-inch Joe Bergman of St. Mary's.

Coach Comito, players and fans were apprehensive about Bergman who just last night pumped in 40 points in an 81-70 victory over hot shooting Grinnell. They wondered about stopping this big man with the big moves. But stopping him they did.

Pressing Defense

Utilizing a pressing, hawking defense the Roughriders held Big Joe to a mere 15 points. This defense coupled with balanced scoring turned the trick for them and netted a honey-sweet victory.

Nip and Tuck

The first quarter of this championship contest was nip and tuck with Roosevelt on top by 19-16. In the waning seconds of the second quarter the Riders struck quickly and devastatingly, like a tornado, and in 15 seconds had four buckets and a 36-25 half-time bulge that they steadily increased. It was a team effort. Tricky, pesky guard Bob Peterson stole the ball for easy lay-ups and passes to his teammates against a generally harassed and befuddled St. Mary's five. Center Tom Kreamer continued his fine shooting (totaled 24 points) as did Forward Tom Schulze with 20. Guard Roger Lovejoy played a fine floor game and bucketed 16 points.

Reserve Whitney

Reserve guard Ken Whitney came in near the end and showed his razzle-dazzle on the court scoring two field goals and two free throws spelling doom for St. Mary's and made them settle for a second place.

Coach Comito had his Roughriders keyed to a fever pitch and hungry indeed for a long awaited taste of victory and the crown. They played

3-Day Boys Cage
Tourney Thrilled
Overflow Crowd

BY STAFF WRITER

For three days, Mar. 18-20, this 54th annual Iowa State Boys Athletic Association Boys basketball championship featured over flow crowds who thrilled to the fine play of fine basketball players, delighted in their styles and their gallantry and desire and warmed to their enthusiasts. Eight teams came. Only four teams received trophies. But they all played like the champions they were. Roosevelt, of course, finished in the money. St. Mary's of Clinton was runner-up; Keokuk, third and Grinnell, fourth.

Tourney Favorite

East Waterloo, the tournament favorite in the beginning sported a fine player in 6-ft. 7-in. Don Ross, who scored 32 points in a losing cause as hot shooting Grinnell sent them tumbling and became the Cinderella team of the meet until St. Mary's sent them reeling.

Keokuk with big 6-ft. 8-in. Greg Douglas and pepper-pot guard Larry Holton gave a very creditable account of themselves in the tournament, with victories over Atlantic and Grinnell. They lost to the Roughriders.

Douglas scored 36 points in routing Grinnell in the consolation game. Douglas was second highest scorer in the tournament with 83. Joe Bergman of St. Mary's was high with 84, a new tournament record.

Negroes on Boys
Tournament Teams

At least three of the eight teams playing in the Iowa Boys' State Basketball tournament at Veteran's auditorium last week had Negro members.

Kenneth Whitney, a sophomore for the title winning Roosevelt Roughriders, saw action in the first and last games for his team. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Whitney, 913 24th street. His six points in the title game helped Roosevelt record for team scoring.

The Keokuk Chiefs, who came in third, had two Negroes, star center, Greg Douglas, 6 feet 8 inches and weighing 240 pounds. He is a junior. Larry Holton, a vital playmaker, delighted basketball admirers with his amazing dribbling and ball control.

East Waterloo who was knocked out of the tournament in the stunning quarterfinal upset by Grinnell had four other Negro players besides its highly touted star center, Don Ross. Others on the team were Jimmie Jones, Bill Houghton, George Ross, and Ron Green. Besides Don Ross only George Ross and Green saw action.

to win. They won! They are champs of the entire state!! And all Des Moines is happy.

Eliminated in 3rd Round in U.S. Meet

HENRY T. MCKNIGHT JR.

Henry T. McKnight, 925 Laurel street, was eliminated in the third round of the National Junior Singles Table Tennis meet by the holder of the Michigan, Canadian and U.S.

Champion, Ralph Childs. Henry was accompanied to Detroit, Mich., site of the tournament Friday through Sunday, by his parents, Atty. and Mrs. Henry T. McKnight.

The basketball tournament season came and went, leaving in its wake a lot of good records and victims of so-called upsets . . . the claim that anytime any team battles its way to the last round of eight or 16 teams it is capable of beating the rest of the final field.

Here at home we witnessed the efforts of one man team to overcome a well balanced even scoring team and it just isn't done very often. Don Ross of East Waterloo couldn't get his team past Grinnell although he gave it a mighty try.

Big Greg Douglas of Keokuk kept his team in the battle with Roosevelt the champion but he couldn't quite get them past the Riders. However, in the final game for third place, the big fellow literally carried his team on for the third spot, making over half his team's points . . . And he will be around another year, maybe bigger, stronger and more agile.

The big man of St. Mary's of Clinton got lost in the final game with the even scoring Roosevelt boys who played like men possessed and were no doubt the best team in the meet.

Be interesting to see how the all state teams look. And speaking of all state teams there isn't any excuse that could be given for completely ignoring Colleen Bowser of Valley. Maybe the fact that she is a non resident was against her but we can't see how that could make a difference.

We think her presence on any of the selections would strengthen the club. We shall spend next week listening to reasons why she didn't make it.

Local

So some guy didn't like the story about Bob Hayes, the Olympic sprinter, being a parolee. Can't blame him much for one of the oversights that have come to light in certain parts of the country. The person who started that story on its way should have taken time to learn all the details before he rushed into print. We realize that anything athletes of Hayes caliber does is news, but we also think it ought to pass both sides.

Here in our own locality, we have Willie Wells trying to stage a pool tournament. It is really surprising how many fellows we were telling the world how good they are at that game suddenly become blind and nervous. They all want a big enough handicap to insure their winning the meet. Now since there can be only one winner how would you go about it? Don't know how Willie is going to come up with the answer.

Now we clear the decks for indoor tracks and softball. We would still like to see Colleen Bowser on a tennis court.

"Now friends I want
You to understand
That we slaved for
This freedom land."

They brought us
From across the sea
By force—yet we
So unwillingly
Not knowing what
The end may be.

But now the Lord
Is on our side
For we can travel
Far and wide
Walk the streets
And fly or ride

Now my Lord
We kneel to thee
Regardless what
The future might be
Spare us the agony
So we could be free.
