Fund Seeks Reinstatement Of Mississippi Children Who Wore Freedom Buttons

Jackson, Miss.—The NAACP Legal Defense Fund this week asked the Federal Court here to order the reinstatement of about 300 Negro students who were suspended from their Issaquena County schools two months ago for wearing freedom buttons.

The buttons were allegedly "disturbing the school."

In the same suit, the Legal Defense Fund sought desegregation of all schools in Issaquena and Sharkey Counties, which share certain facilities.

Largest

The suit was filed on behalf of the largest number of children—198—ever to join in such an action.

This large number reflects a rapidly growing concern on the part of Mississippi Negroes for integrated education. According to local observers, the freedom button issue awakened many parents to the need for remedying the injustices of the present situation.

The students began wearing freedom buttons Jan. 29. After two days of warnings, the suspensions began. Despite repeated meetings with school officials, efforts by parents to have their children readmitted ended in failure.

No Disturbance

Legal Defense Fund lawyers pointed out that at no time was any evidence offered that the freedom buttons actually caused any disturbance. The suit asks that the court order the children readmitted with permission to wear the buttons.

The case is reminiscent of the suspension of about 3000 Negro pupils by Birmingham school officials in 1963, following racial demonstrations there. Legal Defense Fund efforts secured their prompt reinstatement.

Reveal 'Back to School' Plans for Sub-8th Graders

By Frances E. Hawthorne

Des Moines residents who either dropped or had their elementary schooling interrupted for one reason or other soon will have a chance to enroll in classes and bring their level of education up to the eighth grade level.

The classes to be conducted through the Adult Education department will be held in either mornings or evenings in community centers and settlement houses in Des Moines, including Willkie House, Jewish Community Center, Bidwell-Riverside, Roadside Settlement, YWCA, Salvation Army Corp No. 1 and the Salvation Army Community Center. Date has not been set yet for the start of the classes which will be taught by retired school principles and teachers plus some teachers who are currently employed by the Des Moines Public School system. Flexible time schedules will be arranged.

Co-ordinator

James D. Pierson, formerly a teacher at Clarkson school, has been named co-ordinator of the Adult Basic Education project, a newly created position made possible under the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964.

3 Rs

In an interview he explained to those participating will have an opportunity to learn reading, writing and arithmetic over a period of time to bring them up to the 8th grade level. The amount of time necessary depends largely upon the grade level when the persons dropped out of school, but an estimated 150 hours spent in classes will be required for each grade. There will be no fees or costs for materials, if necessary.

Purpose

Purpose of the program, Pierson explained, is to step up the ability of adults 18 and over in reading, writing and arithmetic, so as to improve their ability to gain new or retain old employment and to increase their ability to meet daily adult responsibilities.

Pierson disclosed that the program expects to gain participation through its door-to-door interviews, social agencies, drugstores, churches, ministers, news media, and settlement houses.

Anyone interested should call the Department of Adult Education and ask for Mr. Pierson, 288-9511, Ext. 261.

According to the 1960 census there were about 31,000 persons in Des Moines 25 years and over who had only an 8th grade education or less.

He was charged with breaking into Glazer's Food Market, 1226 University ave., about 2 a.m. Wednesday. Webster was arrested near the store by Detective Raymond Steiner, who said Webster had a cut on his left hand and $37.61 in change in his pockets.

Clergymen Meet With Councilmen to Seek Rights Funds Here

Letter to Gov. Hughes Protesting 'Harrassment' Turned Over to Rights Com.

The Governor's Commission on Human Rights is investigating a complaint made by a Des Moines druggist that the Iowa welfare officials are practicing discrimination in a program that provides free medicines for people receiving welfare benefits.

The complaint was made by Druggist Marion Williams, of Williams Pharmacy, 1103 University Avenue, in a letter to Governor Harold E. Hughes. The complaint grew out of a case involving two Negro doctors, Dr. Stanley Griffin and Dr. Eustace Ware. In mid-January Williams received a letter from Leland Ahern, director of the Polk County Welfare department advising Williams that "upon receipt of this letter you are to accept no telephoned prescriptions from Dr. Eustace Ware or Dr. Stanley Griffin for patients receiving public assistance."

WILLIAMS

New Policy

"Each prescription for medication prescribed by either must be personally written and signed by the doctor and given to the patient to be taken to the pharmacy of his choice. Any medication prescribed must be indicated on the Doctor's statement of billing and be substantiated by an appropriate diagnosis."

Exception

The letter further advised Williams that the only exception made to this new procedure of receiving prescriptions would be in the case of disabled patients. "In such cases Dr. Griffin or Dr. Ware may mail the prescriptions to the pharmacy the patient chooses, indicating on it the circumstances requiring an exception to policy," the letter went on.

Letter to Hughes

In his letter of complaint to Gov. Hughes, Druggist Williams wrote:

"Please find enclosed a letter from the Polk County Welfare Dept. This letter is being referred to you to illustrate the type and kind of harassment and discriminatory practices that have been carried on for the last three years by the Polk County Welfare Dept., specifically by a Mrs. Roberta McClure, medical supervisor."

"This letter not only amounts to racial discrimination, as the three people involved are all Negroes, but also discriminates against two prac-tioners, and one drug vendor in that they are attempting to limit the manner in which we practice our professions with public assistance cases as opposed to all the other vendors in the entire state.

"One would think that if a situation exists where such a radical departure from the accepted procedure is necessary, then maybe suspension of the parties involved would be in order. I would appreciate it very much if you would investigate this matter as this arbitrary attempt at economic strangulation could jeopardize the entire State Welfare program."

To Rights Group

Governor Hughes turned Williams letter over to the Governor's Commission on Human Rights. Donald Boles, of Ames, commission chairman, said the complaint is being investigated.

At first Williams was the only druggist notified of the restrictions on the two physicians. After Williams complained to the State Welfare department, all pharmacies in Polk County were notified.

Osteopaths

In its letter to Williams the State Board of Social Welfare informed him that the new policy action involving the two doctors was taken on the "basis of recommendations made by the Polk County Osteo-

Alabama Racial Tensions Shift to Camden; Dr. M.L. King Prepares for Boycott

Camden, Alabama—Tensions from racial demonstrations had eased somewhat in Alabama this week but the focal point of civil rights activities had shifted from Selma and Montgomery, to Camden, about 40 miles from Selma.

Smoke Bomb

Late last week city officials had used smoke bombs to disperse a group of youthful civil rights marchers last Wednesday who were protesting a local Negro high school help defray food, hospital and other expenses of the Selma to Montgomery march.

The Rev. Kenneth McNeil of Burns Methodist Church, who took part in the march, said contributions could be sent to the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, Box 518, Des Moines.

principal who would not permit students to take part in civil rights demonstrations.

With the explosion of the smoke bomb, about 120 marchers fled to a nearby church before regrouping. The county where Camden is located has only Negro voter although about 70 per cent of the population is Negro.

Suspended in Selma

Meanwhile demonstrations in Selma were suspended after announcement of the 'go-ahead' on a proposed boycott of Alabama products, by the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. A staff member of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference which Dr. King heads, said the statewide boycott of downtown merchants in Alabama is being mobilized. He said civil rights workers in all Ala-

Seek Recruiter for Woman Job Corps

Plans got underway this week for the physical establishment of the Women Job Corps center in Des Moines. The center to aid job training for the disadvantaged and underprivileged youth will be operated for young women 16 through 22 years of age. Provision for the centers have been made possible under the economic opportunity act of 1964.

Recruiter Needed

Mrs. Erma Carr, 1219 15th place, was contacted to serve as one of four and the only Negro, liaison personnel. She is president of the Des Moines Association of Club Women.

Mrs. Carr told the Bystander that immediate plans are for a full time recruiter to serve, when office space is secured, to screen applicants. Later interviewers will be named to help in screening of job corps applicants. Possible applicants will have to send a card to the national office in Washington, D.C. before being accepted on the local level.

Allowance

For those who will be accepted and participate in Job Corps, they will be given a living allowance of $30 a month, room, board, clothing, and medical and dental care. A readjustment allowance of $50 a month will be set aside for them for every month of satisfactory service spent in the Job Corps, to be paid upon termination of enrollment, which is set at one to two years.

No Guarantee

The Job Corps cannot guarantee a job but participation will greatly improve employment chances, according to the brochure.

Screening will involve interviewing and counseling applicants, collecting documents, collecting background data, administering tests, arranging for medical exams and other duties.

pathy Advisory committee which were approved by the State Department of Social Welfare."

Mrs. Irene Smith, chairman of the State Welfare Board, said race had nothing to do with the restrictions against telephoned prescriptions from the physicians.

The action was taken because of repeated failure to follow Welfare Department procedures in keeping prescription records for welfare payment, Mrs. Smith said.

Large Volume

Welfare officials said the large volume of welfare prescriptions handled by Williams, Dr. Ware and Dr. Griffin requires a great deal of record-keeping.

Still, they must keep the same detailed records required of those with only a few welfare cases, the officials said.

Dr. Griffin said his attorney has "demanded a bill of particulars" from welfare officials but has not been allowed to see the records and reports on which the welfare action was based.

To Federal Agency

Williams sent copies of both letters to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare of the Welfare Administration in Washington, D.C. That department acknowledged receipt of the letter but refused comment on the Iowa State board action pleading lack of information.

Referred to Regional

The federal agency informed Williams "We are referring your letter and the attached correspondence to the Regional Representative of the Bureau of Family Services in the regional office in Kansas City, Mo., for consideration with the Iowa State Board of Social Welfare."

When asked for comment, Dr. Griffin supported the druggist's complaint, but Dr. Ware did not.

Ware Statement

Dr. Ware made the following statement:

"It is my belief, after having met with welfare officials and the Polk County Osteopathic Advisory Committee, that there are no ulterior motives on behalf of the Board of Social Welfare in placing restrictions on my method of prescribing medicines.

Pres. Johnson Fetes African Chief of State

Washington, D. C.—President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson were hosts last Monday at a brilliant state dinner at the White House honoring the President of Upper Volta and Mrs. Maurice Yameogo.

The Yameogos were the first heads of African states to be received by the Chief Executive since he took his oath of office last January for a full term. The affair was resplendent with all the trappings of formality, starting with a 21-gun salute upon the arrival of the visitors by helicopter on the White House lawn. American Indians performed tribal dances in the East Room for the 121 guests following the state dinner Monday evening.

Attending

Among those attending the affair were: the Director of the United States Information Agency and Mrs. Carl Rowan; Federal District Court Judge and Mrs. Spottswood Robinson; Mr. and Mrs. Ulric Haynes, (he is with the National Security Council); the Director of the American Negro Leadership Conference on Africa and Mrs. Theodore Brown; the President of the American Society of African Culture and Mrs. John A. Davis; and CORE Director and Mrs. James Farmer.

West Loses in Primary Election in Detroit

Detroit, Michigan—Former Democratic State Representative Daniel W. West, 54, who was denied his seat in the Michigan House because he masqueraded on the reputation of another man, Monday lost his primary election bid to that legislative body.

James Del Rio, civil rights worker and Detroit real estate man, won the 24th District Democratic nomination in a special election. West, who formerly lived in Des Moines ran 15th in a field of 20. West is under federal and state indictments for alleged income tax and vote frauds.

Atty. General

Montgomery, Ala.—Attorney General Richmond Folwers of Alabama said Saturday his state apparently stands alone in a hopeless defiance of racial change and must face up to the end of segregation.

Gone Now

"Segregation as we know it is gone," said Flowers in an interview. "Somehow, some way we have got to face it and adjust to it."

Flowers, who has pushed for racial moderation in opposition to Gov. George C. Wallace for two years, said Mississippi and Louisiana were profiting "from Alabama's mistakes—Alabama apparently stands alone in this hopeless defiance."

Distribute Pamphlets On Federal Program For Health Services

Washington, D. C.—The U. S. Commission on Civil Rights today began distributing a publication explaining Federal antidiscrimination policies affecting health services. The 11-page pamphlet is entitled "Equal Opportunity in Hospitals and Health Facilities: Civil Rights Policies Under the Hill-Burton Program."

The publication details the history and objectives of the Hill-Burton Hospital Survey and Construction Act, and defines the rights and responsibilities of individuals and institutions under current civil rights regulations.

The Department of Health, Education and Welfare has developed regulations under Title VI of the 1964 Civil Rights Act which bar Federal financial assistance to facilities that discriminate in admission policies, access to facilities and professional staff privileges. As of February 28, 1965 the Department of HEW had approved a total of 7,544 projects under the Hill-Burton Act. The total Federal share allocated for these projects came to $2,234,753,000.

Services Held for Mrs. Mayme Hoskins

Services for Mrs. Mayme Hoskins, 75, of 1133 10th street, were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday at Hammett-Robinson Funeral home with burial in Glendale cemetery. She died of cancer on Apr. 3 at University hospitals at Iowa City, Ia., after a three-month illness.

Born in Pueblo, Colo., Mrs. Hoskins had lived in Des Moines for 45 years.

Continued, "but they are sparing their states what Alabama is going through."

The attorney general readily conceded that he is risking his political future by taking issue publicly with a governor whose popularity in Alabama must be recognized.

Mrs. Kate Crockett, 223 1/2 Sumner, observed her 89th birthday on April 3. She spent the day quietly at home reading the many cards which she had received. She used to make flowers, crochet and embroider, but now she says that is a bit strenuous for her eyes. A daughter, Mrs. Clifford Smith, Sr. resides in the city and a son, Mr. Harry Crockett, lives in Los Angeles, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Harris, 1000 Beech, were called to Gary, Ind. last week because of the death of his niece, Mrs. Eugene Gibbs (Ruth).

Rev. C. H. Copeland of Sioux City, Ia. stopped over in Waterloo enroute home from Chicago-Milwaukee District Conference which was held in Rock Island, Ill. He told of spending one week and a half in McComb and Hattiesburg, Miss. under the program of the National Council of Churches, with headquarters in New York. The project is known as the Delta Ministry Project. He, with a Unitarian minister, a Rabbi and a Methodist minister drove from Sioux City to the delta.

Of some of the needs of the people he said that children's clothing and shoes were vitally needed.

Dr. and Mrs. Warren A. Nash, Mrs. Hellen Burke and Mrs. Paula Schwarz attended the state executive committee meeting in Des Moines on Saturday. They were all representatives of Black Hawk County Branch NAACP.

Cedar Rapids—A resolution opposing charging tuition fees for public summer school was adopted by the Cedar Rapids Branch of the N.A.A.C.P. on Sunday, April 4th. During the discussion it was pointed out that the tuition planned in Cedar Rapids is high and can prohibit many children from middle and low income families, and large families, from taking advantage of the summer school program.

The summer school resolution followed a program or equal opportunity in employment planned especially for Negro youth which featured Everett Mays of the Des Moines N.W. Bell Telephone Company.

The meeting drew a record attendance at a regular N.A.A.C.P. meeting. It was held at Mount Zion Baptist Church of Cedar Rapids. Dr. Percy Harris, branch president, called for a membership and freedom fund drive which will be conducted throughout April.

Whenever four generations of the family get together—it's picture time!

Don't Put Family Snapshots Off Until Tomorrow

TOMORROW is definitely too late for picturing people as they are today. There are some varieties of family snapshots that you definitely shouldn't put off taking.

Among these are the family groups, the four generation snapshots. Sometimes in our concentration on picturing the small fry and how they grow, we tend to forget about the grown-ups in the family. They belong in the family picture record, too.

Picturing the oldsters and the youngsters together is something that can be fun, and at the same time produce snapshots that will become family treasures.

Of course, when it comes to picturing a family group, it is always important to have a center of interest—something that all of your subjects can focus their attention on and not look at the camera.

In taking the three or four generation pictures that should be a part of every family record, the representative of the youngest generation makes an excellent center of interest.

Group the adults in a comfortable manner and let them be admiring the baby. Nothing could be more natural—and because of that it ought to be a sure-fire means of getting good expressions on the faces.

When you have a group like that together, don't take just one picture—the subject is too important to take any chances. Shoot several and you are bound to have at least one exceptionally good picture, and you'll probably have a whole series.

A Fine Treat For After School Appetites

After school appetites often turn out to be real "corkers." Usually though, Mom doesn't have too much time to plan for this hour of the day. Nevertheless, she can give her youngsters a real treat in practically no time at all... that is, of course, if she has plenty of milk on hand along with a supply of "Children's Delight" which can be prepared before they arrive.

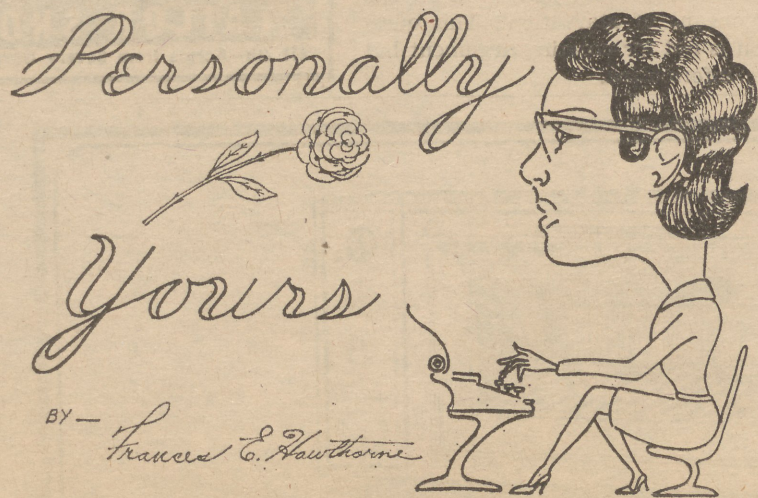

"Children's Delight" is a real youngsters' treat, made with the same cereal that is such an outstanding "hit" at breakfast served with milk... Toasties Corn Flakes.

To make this "delightful" snack, only one bowl and one baking pan is necessary, promising Mom much ease and speed.

CHILDREN'S DELIGHT

1 cup finely crushed Post Toasties Corn Flakes
3 tablespoons flour
1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
5 tablespoons butter, melted
1/2 cup raspberry or strawberry jam

Combine cereal, flour, sugar, and melted butter. Pack half of mixture firmly in bottom of greased 8x8x2-inch pan. Then spread with the jam and top with remaining cereal mixture. Press down lightly. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) 15 minutes. Cool. Cut in squares. Makes 36 pieces.

March went out like the proverbial lamb but April almost drowned us in its showery rains from its darkened skies before the sunny spring-like warmth showed through. As we prepare to go into the final days before Easter it looks more like what spring ought to look.

When you reflect you will discover we in actuality have had a mild winter. We had little to complain about until March came along and then wow! Its 31 turbulent days made us think it would never end.

In case you don't notice it, this week we have a very interesting letter to the editor, that gives a lot of food for thought. Perhaps it voices some of the private thoughts of some of us. We, like millions of others who admire the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King and other civil rights leaders, are hoping too, that he doesn't blunder. Read the letter for yourself and come to your own conclusion.

Our youngest son, Vance who is sandwiched in between an older brother and two younger sisters, turned 12 years old last Sunday. And though it remained a family affair it was quite an occasion and one he had been counting the days for a month. A sixth-grader he will enter Irving Junior high next fall. He was doubly pleased when he got the gift of his choice and the love of his heart—a basketball.

The Willkie House Dramateers are beginning to make theatre lovers sit up and take notice in Des Moines. Under the direction of James Dunn they are presenting plays and playlets with the aplomb and talent of old hands.

You will have your chance to see them again or for the first time this week with their production of "Waiting for Lefty," by Clifford Odets. You will be glad you went.

Mrs. Patricia Jackson, Bystander receptionist and secretary, was wearing such a pretty Holly green sweater with an unusual crocheted patterned that we yielded to feminine curiosity and asked where she had gotten it. We learned it had been a gift of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Elsie Jackson of Seattle, Wash., who had hand crocheted it especially for her.

Speeds Atlanta Desegregation

Atlanta, Ga.—A federal judge says Atlanta's entire public school system must be desegregated by the fall of 1968.

To accomplish this, U. S. District Judge Frank A. Hooper said Thursday, desegregation must be speeded up to two grades a year, starting with kindergarten and first grade this fall.

No Bias in Plan

The judge said he found no discrimination in the plan now operated by the Atlanta Board of Education, a plan calling for desegregation to be completed in the fall of 1972, but that recent court decisions "clearly indicate the Atlanta plan must be accelerated."

The present court-ordered plan started in 1961 in the junior and senior classes of high school and has since worked down at the rate of a grade a year. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said this plan was not fast enough and asked its amendment.

ALABAMA BOYCOTT IS DANGEROUS, IMPRACTICAL

Dr. Martin Luther King has accomplished a marvelous task as leader of the civil rights movement in the south. In so doing, he has gained the admiration and respect of men here and abroad greater than could have been anticipated.

He now contemplates a boycott against Alabama. Some heads of the civil rights movement fear such a course for 1) it would lose friends for the movement (the Johnson administration is not for it), 2) it is difficult of enforcement, 3) it would penalize people who need help most, 4) it could not be supported to the extent that Alabama would suffer.

The Bystander believes that a boycott, however we wish to keep the pressure on Alabama, is not the strategy the rights movement needs today. It must not be envoked.

DISGRACEFUL ABUSE OF ACADEMIC FREEDOM

It is difficult to understand just what contribution the University of Iowa expected to bring to the student body with the appearance of former Gov. Ross Barnett of Alabama.

Here was a guest speaker who had failed and refused to protect the civil rights of many of the people he proposed to govern—a poor example for students to go by.

Sure, he is high in his position as violator of the law: so are the Klan, Al Capone's followers and those who make their living as he did.

The Bystander does not have the text of his lecture, but the press reported that he said few Negroes were kept from voting in his state; that race relations were good in his state until outsiders headed by Communists moved in.

The students to whom he spoke need to know that it was the "outsiders" in the 1870's and until this very day who went into Alabama and taught Negroes how to read and write and now the highest university subjects.

Since 1910 the NAACP, by orderly court fashion, forced Alabama to 1) permit Negroes to serve on juries, 2) grant equal pay for white and Negro teachers with the same training and experience 3) to provide equal education for both races, 4) to provide graduate training within the borders of Alabama, 5) accord Negroes equal enjoyment of accommodations, 6) abandon de-franchisement of Negroes at the polls due to tricky provisions in the law.

They all have rights and privileges which would not have been enjoyed in Alabama for a hundred years. If this is Communist inspired then most Americans are for it as evidenced by the Goldwater defeat in 1964.

There are many fine white people in the south who don't subscribe to Governor Barnett's idea of morality. Many don't speak out for fear of reprisal. Certainly, the views of Governor Barnett are well known and have been discredited by a majority of the American people. Iowa students would have heard much better off to have heard from some of these white people in the south whose views square more nearly with the American theory of equality of all men before the law; the dignity of man.

Governor Barnett, like a lot of people, thinks that Negroes have been satisfied in Alabama because they did not raise hell for their rights. This is history. And the Selma marchers composed of Protestants, Catholics and Jews, whites and blacks, North and South proved that Barnett and his group are doomed.

The professor, who invited Governor Barnett to speak at Iowa, will not be invited to the University of Alabama to tell how well Negroes get along on the campus or in the state. And they won't ask Governor Hughes to come down to Alabama and tell why he asked Governor Wallace to protect the lives of American citizens during the Selma voter registration march.

Do the hosts of Governor Barnetts wish to keep alive a way of life which has been fully discredited even by some of his own people.

Iowa has had enough of this and coming from a tax-supported school, it is most disgusting and an abuse of academic freedom.

In this day of records in sports we claim one. We had quite a few assists which also may have set a record. You recall last week when we gave the name of the ill basketball player being cared for by fellow player Jack Twyman as Walter Dukes. Well, it was Maurice Stokes. That was in fact had to be an all time mark for honors.

And we had 27 telephone calls and 44 people who stopped us to pass on our mental capacity. That was a record. But then our goof had its bright side. We never knew we had that many readers. Thanks fellows. Think like that make the scribbling and we mean scribbling of this column worthwhile.

Billard Tourney

And meanwhile back at the pool hall, the Wells pocket billiard tournament rolls on. First round winners were Charles Singleton over L. H. Woods, Bobo Wince over John Tolson, James Gross over Terry Spence and Wilbur Lewis over Don Tate. The guy who finally wins the thing will have his choice of a fine line of shoes. So he won't walk around on his bare feet this summer.

Colleen Bowser

We can't recall if the former Miss Dolores Brown, now Mrs. Bill Boyd played with any other team after she graduated from Ankeny. But Colleen Bowser will have a chance to play in the advanced class when she plays with Look magazine team for at least one game. Tennessee State used to field girls basketball teams that were among the nation's top 10 women's club. Wonder if they still do?

No Novelty

There was a time when people who were supposed to know were saying that Negroes couldn't wrestle for a lot of silly reasons. A Negro wrestler was regarded as a sort of a novelty. But now they are moving into wrestling just as they have into other sports and at all levels from high schools to the A.A.U. meets. We have national champs, one at Iowa State for instance. That doesn't mean that nature has given Negroes any special equipment for wrestling. It just means that with proper teaching and training no sport is out of range of any group.

Baseball

Now the cry of "Play ball!" will soon be heard throughout the land. Will Bob Gibson be able to have another fine year for the Cardinals? What will Al Downing do for the Yankees? Will Lou Brock steal the base stealing crown now held by Maury Wills? Tune in in September and get all your answers.

Track

The boys in short pants are chasing each other around the cinder paths again. They will soon put on their show here in a few weeks. It will be billed as the Drake Relays and will feature a lot of national greats. But a lot of us will be watching the duels between Lincoln university of Missouri and Texas Southern. Then there is always some upstart who may break into the charmed circle.

College

It is getting so that most of the college section races at the relay meets are races between Negro schools. Now with various southern schools going out after Negro athletes we wonder what this will do to teams like the ones we have mentioned.

Track and basketball are two sports in which a Negro has a good chance to break in a large southern schools. Football is too rough on a prospective rookie. But some guy will make it.

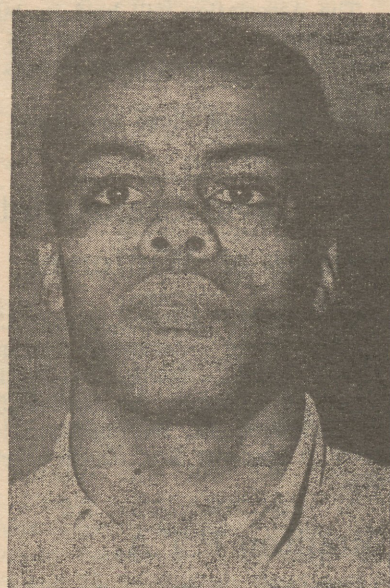

And, oh yes, are the Hotentots going to have a softball team this year?

Duncan Will Run In Mexico Relays

Austin, Tex.—Clyde Duncan, of Texas Southern, former Des Moines high school sprinter, will run on the mile relay team for Texas Southern in the international meet in Mexico City on Apr. 16-17.

Texas Southern won the mile relay at the Texas relays last Saturday in 3 minutes 7.8 seconds, and Coach Stan Wright said his team needs just a little more effort to hit the record of 3:04.5 set by Arizona State in 1963.

Grambling Cage Star To U.S. Squad

Grambling, La. (Special)—Wilbur Frazier of Grambling College, a familiar face on most 1965 ALL-AMERICAN basketball teams, has been selected on a 26-man U. S. squad from which a team will be picked for a series with Russia.

The American team will play the Soviets at Las Vegas, Nev., April 19 in the first of five games.

Other games are scheduled in Seattle on April 21, San Francisco April 23, Los Angeles April 25, St.

Cicero Murphy Wins 1st Match In World Billiards

New York—A 29 year old Negro, Cicero Murphy from Brooklyn, New York competing in the 1965 World Pocket Billiard Championship during the week of 22-28 made his debut a memorable one according to Frank M. Blunk of the New York Times.

The first of his race invited to compete, Murphy impressed the near-capacity crowd in the Windsor ballroom of the Commodore hotel with his fine skill in winning his first match 105-32.

Writer Blunk says "Murphy is a deliberate, careful player, one who strives for absolutely perfect cueball position."

Signs of the Times

There is blue in the sky,
And there's balm in the air,
And a mystical charm
Seems to lurk everywhere!

The south wind has melted
The last drift of snow,
And the grass in the fields
Is beginning to show.

The booklet is babbling
A secret, I think,
To the willows that gracefully
Bend on its brink.

The robin is singing
His merriest trill,
In the top of an elm
On the brow of the hill.

The maple is swinging
Her tassels so light;
The dogwood is gowned,
Like a bride, all in white.

The maiden hair fern
Shyly peeps through the mold,
And the woodsydies are bright
With the buttercup's gold.

The bluebird is eagerly
Searching in quest
Of a snug little site
For her snug little nest;

And by these same tokens
I'll venture to say,
That springtime is coming,
And coming to stay!

HEALTH FOR ALL

UNWEALTHY, UNHEALTHY

The neighborhood sick list was growing longer; inferior food, poor housing, crowded conditions were taking their toll in the community.

What community? It could have been anyone of a number—north, south, east, or west—in which social investigators have been reporting "pockets of poverty" amid the general national well-being.

Ill Effects

The ill effects of low income and slum housing on general health are no news to anyone. When it comes to an ailment like tuberculosis, poverty can play a vital part. The disease germ lodges in a victim's body and bides its time—perhaps for many years—until the general health level of the "host" was deteriorated to a point where active disease can gain a foothold.

Dr. James E. Perkins, managing director of the National Tuberculosis Association, said, "Progress will be slow in the battle against TB in the face of poverty and slum living conditions if we limit our efforts merely to the medical aspects". He was speaking in the context of a sobering TB case rate for 1963—showing an increase in 31 of America's largest cities after a decade of general decline.

That disease-breeding poverty is everybody's problem is now generally recognized; that's why so many public and private programs keep getting organized to fight against it. In Nevada the State Tuberculosis and Health Association applied for—and received—an Anti-Poverty Act grant to raise the standard of life in one of its hard-hit communities and thereby combat disease.

TB isn't exclusively a disease of the disadvantaged; nobody, rich or poor, can reckon himself completely safe. But the records show a much higher disease rate in slum areas; and there is a growing notion that the war on poverty and the war on disease are one and the same fight.

U of I To Get $50,000 Cancer Research Instrument

Iowa City, Ia.—A $50,000 neutron accelerator for use in cancer research will be purchased for The University of Iowa with a grant from the Iowa Division of the American Cancer Society.

The accelerator, a "baby sister" of the giant atom smashers used in nuclear research, will be used by the University's Radiation Research Laboratories to study chemical and biological specimens, to produce short-lived isotopes and neutrons, and will serve as a teaching device.

In announcing the grant from the Cancer Society, Dr. Robert C. Hardin, vice-president for medical services at the University and dean of the College of Medicine, said:

Hedlund is an aide in the governor's office.

Shriver said purposes for which the Iowa co-ordinator can use the federal funds are to:

1. Help local public and non-profit agencies set up an organization to develop, conduct, and administer anti-poverty drives.

2. Counsel local communities in preparation of applications for various kinds of federal aid.

Reader Questions Dr. King's Boycott

DEAR EDITOR:

Looking back, if carried too far, may be devastating. However, in evaluating progress it is necessary to look back—briefly.

One who has vivid recollections extending over several decades has looked back at race relations the United States at the turn of century and compared them with the situation today. The change is 'miraculous.'

Largest Following

Having seen scores of Negro leaders come and go many observers will agree that Dr. Martin Luther King has enlisted the largest following of both races. Being a gifted speaker with an appealing personality plus extensive education and the advantages of radio, television and plane he has reached into untouched areas of race relations.

Vulnerable

The high peak Dr. King now occupies is vulnerable. Only a few blunders and he can fall as far as Christian.

Much of the civil rights recent gain has been pushed forward by the Southern Christian Leadership Conference. It is assumed that anything bearing the word 'Christian' follows the pattern laid down by the founder of Christianity—Jesus. (As understood) to some extent this powerful organization has done this. But has anyone ever heard or read that Jesus attempted to impose his ideas of right and justice on anyone by means of starvation? This question is not for creating argument but for information.

Impressed

Years ago I was deeply impressed with the idea that if the world had accepted and followed the teachings of Jesus, we would be centuries ahead of where we are in social development. With this in mind I am at a loss to see how 'Operation Breadbasket' (as the boycott is called) can be associated with anything bearing the word 'Christian'! Any enlightenment, anyone?
