Indict 3 in Selma Slaying of Rev. Reeb

Charged with Murder In Fatal Beating Of Boston Minister

Selma, Ala.—After pointed instructions by the presiding judge to ignore the 'national notoriety' of the case a grand jury indicted three white men in connection with the fatal beating of the Rev. James Reeb of Boston, Mass., who was killed during racial demonstrations in Selma. The three were arrested a short time later by the Dallas County sheriff's department.

They are O'Neal Hoggle, 30; his brother, William Hoggle, 36; and Elmer Cook, 41. All live in Selma. A fourth man, R. B. Kelly, was not indicted.

Post Bond

The Hoggles and Cook posted bond of $10,000 each. Circuit Solicitor (prosecutor) Blanchard McLeod said the trial would be placed on the docket of the regular session of Dallas County criminal court beginning May 10. A court official said it probably would be October before they are tried because there is a heavy criminal court docket for May.

Federal Charges

The three and Kelly also have been charged in federal warrants with violation of the Rev. Mr. Reeb's civil rights. The men had been free under city and federal bonds of $10,000 each.

Female Job Corps Opens Office, Tell Detailed Plans

The female Job Corps in Des Moines got underway this week with the acquisition of office space at Room 404, Security Building and revelation of further detailed plans. Mrs. F. Capper, 4333 N.W. Beaver drive, one of four liaison woman volunteers, returned from Denver, Colo., where she attended a training conference.

Screening

She reported that recruiting and screening of female applicants from 16 to 22 years would be held during the next three months in Des Moines in a search for 20 girls, representative of all races. The applications first go to Washington, D.C. before being returned to Des Moines.

Requirements

Applicants must have been out of school three months to be eligible and will be put into one of three classifications: A—those who will be accepted immediately; B—those who will be placed on a waiting list and C—those who will be used if there are not enough applicants to fill the program.

To Centers

Job Corps is a federal anti-poverty

program set up to help youths who cannot find suitable jobs because of lack of training and education. If after screening and passing a physical exam given by the government applicants will be flown, transportation furnished by the government, to out-of-state training centers in either Florida, West Virginia, California or Ohio.

Each girl will be provided with three outfits—three blouses, three skirts, pajamas, wrapper, raincoat, two pairs of dress shoes and a pair of tennis shoes.

Allowance

In addition to free room and board each trainee will be paid $30 a month and the government will hold back $50 a month for each month before completion of training at the end of 10 months.

Mrs. Edward Shintine, 905 Forest Goode drive, is projects director, assisted by Beverly Radcliffe. Other liaison women are Mrs. Virgil Carr, 1219 15th place, president of the Des Moines Association of Club Women; Mrs. Bryon Kunzman, 6023 S.E. 26th place, United Church Women; and Mrs. Sylvan Orloff, 1 S.W. 51st, National Council of Jewish Women.

Wms. Pharmacy Sues Welfare Officials for $7,000 in Bills

Marion Williams, operator of Williams Pharmacy of 1103 University avenue, filed suit in Polk County District court on Apr. 7 against the Polk County welfare officials whom he accuse of delaying payment for welfare patients' drugs.

In his petition Williams contends that $7,000 worth of drug bills from his pharmacy are now being held back by county officials who have "maliciously and capriciously" withheld certification of his bills.

Defendants

The petition names as defendants County Welfare Director Leland Ahern and Mrs. Roberta McClure, supervisor of the medical section of the County Welfare Department.

Bills for prescription drugs for welfare patients must be certified by Mrs. McClure's section before being submitted to the State Welfare Department for payment.

Delayed

Williams contends that some of his bills have been delayed as long as six or seven months, despite a directive from the State Welfare Department to either certify or disallow them within one month.

The petition asks the court to order prompt certification of the bills and also asks that the pharmacy be paid damages for financial losses caused by delayed payment.

The Governor's Commission on Human Rights has under investigation an earlier complaint by Williams that welfare officials practice racial discrimination against him and two Negro physicians in the welfare drug program. Welfare officials have denied that allegation.

No charge of racial discrimination was made by Williams in the District Court petition.

Pledged to Fraternity at Stanford University

Stanford, Calif. Kenneth M. Washington, Jr., grandson of Atty. and Mrs. James B. Morris, Sr., Monday night became the first Negro ever pledged by Sigma Chi social fraternity.

The suspended fraternity, located on the campus of Stanford university, earlier had accused the national headquarters of de facto discrimination. In other action Monday night it voted for an all-out effort to lift the suspension.

Young Washington is the son of Dr. and Mrs. G. K. Washington of Denver, Colo., where Dr. Washington is a practicing physician. The family formerly lived in Gary, Ind. Mrs. Washington is the former Jean Mary Morris of Des Moines.

Compile Scholarship Data in Willkie House Service to Meet Negro Student Needs

By Frances E. Hawthorne
American colleges and universities have scholarships to burn—and particularly for the Negro students. Richly endowed foundations, labor unions and business, religious, fraternal, military and civic organizations, just to categorize a few, are pouring millions of dollars into school treasuries, much of it specifically earmarked for qualified Negro student who needs financial assistance during college days, or do post graduate work. Even the federal government has gotten into the act.

Average Students

Many Negro students and their parents are familiar with the scholarship for the academically or athletically talented. But there are tens of thousands of scholarships available for the average student, who has to work a little harder to get through college. But the Negro students, many colleges complain are not taking advantages of the numerous scholarships. There are also scholarships for the handicapped or war orphaned students.

Ford Foundation to Spark Multi-Million Dollar Ad Campaign for Minorities

Washington, D. C.—The Ford Foundation has announced a $250,000 grant that will spark a multi-million dollar advertising campaign to help minorities with the growing number of job opportunities open to them.

The grant, announced Monday in New York, was made to the Advertising Council, which will conduct the advertising campaign in cooperation with the Plans for Progress program of the President's Committee on Equal Employment Opportunity.

Plans for Progress is a cooperative program in which more than 300 major corporations, employing more than 8,500,000 persons, have joined together to provide leadership in developing equal opportunity for minorities.

President Johnson, in advocating the advertising project, termed the Plans for Progress program "one of the best examples of full cooperation between the Federal Government and American industry, (whose) successful efforts should be communicated to every American."

Creative Talent

The Ford Foundation grant will be used to pay for production and research costs.

Continues Fight to Save Preston Cobb; Convicted 2nd Time

Atlanta, Ga.—The NAACP fight to obtain justice for Preston Cobb, condemned for the alleged murder of a white man over three years ago, still continues as his attorney filed a motion for a new trial.

The youth was convicted for the second time on Apr. 3 for the slaying of his 71-year-old employer, Frank Coleman Dumas, and was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Original Conviction

The original conviction drew a death sentence when the boy was only 15 years old. The case, which drew worldwide attention because of his youth, has been fought by the NAACP through several state courts including an appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court.

At the time of his conviction Georgia law permitted execution of children as young as 10 years. The law was subsequently revised and the minimum age set at 16.

Sentenced to Life

Donald Hollowell, NAACP attorney in the long, hard-fought case, was able to overturn the original conviction on the grounds that Negroes had been systematically excluded from juries in Jasper County where the youth was first tried.

The second trial, also by an all-white jury, found him guilty and he was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The Negro youth has spent the last three-and-a-half years on death row at Reidsville State Prison while the NAACP successfully won a stay of execution four times.

6 Major Denominations Vote To Plan Protestant Merger

Lexington, Ky.—Talks of unification were mobilized into action here last week when six major church denominations set up a commission to start drafting a plan for a united church coupled with a "heartily welcome of invitation to Negro churches" and others who wish to enter.

Representatives of the six denominations, participants in a "consultation on church union" decided unanimously to move ahead to the planning stage.

Denominations

Denominations involved are The Episcopal Church, the Methodist church, the United Church of Christ (a recent merger including Congregationalists), the Christian (Disciples) churches, the United Presbyterian church and the Evangelical United Brethren church.

Major Step

"A major step forward," said Episcopal Bishop Robert F. Gibson, Jr., of Richmond, Va., presiding chairman at the meeting. Other churchmen also hailed the decision.

"We receive it with joy . . . and a lively expectation," said Methodist Bishop James K. Matthews of Boston, head of his church's delegation.

At the same time, leaders of three large Negro denominations, here as observers, said they expect their churches to join the unification effort.

"It appears that we will," said the Rev. Dr. John H. Satterwhite, an African Methodist Episcopal Church theologian of Wesley Seminary at Washington, D. C.

Total of Nine

This would expand the project to nine denominations, with a total of more than 25 million members, and give it a more racially encompassing aspect.

The vote to begin drawing up a concrete plan came after three years of exploratory talks.

"We have achieved a great depth of understanding of one another," said the Rev. Dr. Paul A. Washburn of Dayton, Ohio, an Evangelical United Brethren scholar.

On Commission

Named to the commission to draw up the "outline of a possible plan for union" were:

The Rev. Dr. Beazley; the Rev.

Fund Sues to End Housing 'Conspiracy' Bias in Akron, Ohio

Cleveland, Ohio — Discriminatory practices of the 1,800 member Akron Area Board of Realtors were attacked in Federal District Court here today by attorneys of the NAACP Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc.

The First
In the first suit of its kind, Legal Defense Fund lawyers asked that the Board be "permanently enjoined and restrained" because its members are operating in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act and the Clayton Antitrust Act.

Conspiracy
Legal Defense Fund attorneys assert that the realtors "have engaged in an unlawful combination and conspiracy in restraint of interstate trade and commerce."

Purpose
This "combination and conspiracy has continuously had as its purpose and objective the prevention of Negro persons from owning real property in parts of Akron occupied solely or primarily by white persons."

Charges
To this end, the Realtors are charged with:
Refusing their services to Negroes desirous of living in areas the Realtors have delineated as "white" neighborhoods;
Quoting prices to Negroes far greater than those quoted to prospective white purchasers or renters of the same property;
Falsely informing Negroes that whites would not sell to them;
Declining to list property where the owner requests an "open" listing;

Refusing to show property to Negroes after purporting to accept it on an "open" basis;
Misrepresenting to Negroes the reasons for failure to consummate a sale;

Excluding Negro real estate brokers from the advantages and opportunities associated with membership in the Akron Area Board

The marriage ceremony was witnessed by the families of the two participants, members of the Winthrop Club of Des Moines and the TSTC club and wives.

Scholarships

amounts of scholarships available; and a huge 562-page edition of "You Can Win A Scholarship," which also includes within its pages, copies of the scholarship applications, a chapter on how to prepare for a scholarship exam and pages of examples of the exam that covers every school subject.

Other Information

Added to this vast information on scholarships are various booklets on individual fields, journalism music, engineering, nursing, military, electronics, and many others. Many of the scholarships are offered by various labor unions, vast companies like Procter-Gamble, Coca-Cola, by Elks and Masonic lodges, civic groups like Kiwanis or Lions. In addition Mr. Mapp has compiled school catalogs from most of the Iowa colleges and universities.

In addition there is the National Achievers Scholarship Program for outstanding Negro students who are recommended by school principals and school counselors due to the low motivation from parents.

Present Trend

"The trend nowadays is for colleges to accept not necessarily the top 10 but the top 50 for scholarship," Mr. Mapp explained.

Federal Aid

The federal government gives assistant through its National Defense Student loan where money is made available to many colleges for direct loans to students in need of financial assistance to pursue a fulltime course of study. These are not to exceed $5,000 for four years or $1,000 a year. In addition under the youth program of the Economic Opportunity act schools have received grants for work study programs where they may pursue parttime employment with non-profit organizations or institutions.

Newest

The latter is one of the newest student-aid programs. Two students attending Drake university, who are on the honor rolls, are currently working parttime at Willkie House on such grants. They are Mary Lynn Dixon, who is working with the preschool children and Octave Baker, Jr., who is working in the tutoring program. The catch to this type of grant is that the student must already be in school.

Miss Kennerly

Carole Kennerly, a graduate of the State University of Iowa, received her degree and is doing post-graduate work at Howard University in social work through a student scholarship from the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis. At least a dozen girls from Iowa are studying in universities as a result of the Rayburn-Webster scholarship administered by the scholarship committee board of Willkie House. Edward Harris is chairman of the committee. Miss Dixon is receiving funds from both a Rayburn-Webster and a Elks scholarship.

Iowa Colleges

Grinnell college participates in the Rockefeller foundation supported scholarships. Simpson college is among a dozen Iowa colleges and universities participating in the awards administered by the Nation Merit Scholarship Corporation. Both schools have expressed a desire to see more Negro students enroll in their institutions.

Of course need and qualification determine the winners of scholarship and colleges resolve that determination. However, whatever the interest

The Lenten season climaxed by Holy Week draws to an end with Easter Sunday only a few days away. Schools, because of their recent week-long holiday for pupils, had planned only to dismiss children at 2:30 p.m. on Good Friday, bowed to the pressure of telephone calls, revered their plans and will dismiss at 12 noon. Thus they will have opportunity, for those who plan it, to attend the many Good Friday services that will be observed around the city.

Easter, is the first big holiday after Christmas, though the intervening days are interspersed by various holidays, particularly in February. And Easter is by far the most significant.

Easter also heralds in spring, and around the nation especially in New York City, where the idea originated, there will be daylong parades, with residents and visitors promenading in their new Easter bonnets and colorful attire.

Last week we dropped in on the YWCA women's bowling league and had quite a nice visit plus a fairly good game of our own. The league entertained a visitor, Mariam Varik, director of the YWCA in Valou, India. Miss Varik, who appeared recently on Gordon Gammack's TV Sunday night show, is in this country to study various YWCA in the U.S. on a World Fellowship grant, sponsored by U.S. Ys.

She is among 47 India YWCA personnel from 30 countries.

Several members of the league tried to induce Miss Varik, who was attired in a beautiful rose sari, to try her hand at bowling but she gracefully refused.

Miss Varik was introduced to the bowling enthusiasts by a league member, Mrs. Marva Wotorsen, YWCA health and physical education director.

In her brief talk Miss Varik explained that the YWCAs in India are mainly hostels (resident-types) catering to the low-income groups. However, there is a new trend as envisaged by the YWCA she directs, that it serves as a food center for a large hospital, cooking, serving and managing the kitchen for 200 people daily. It also serves as a recreation center for patients, providing visitors who make the rounds in the hospitals and providing programs and quiet entertainment.

Besides being aids to hospitals the Ys in India also provide nurseries, youth projects, camping, and conducting fund raising campaigns.

The sixth grade class of Miss Margaret Cannon at Moulton school, after being invited by Representative Willie S. Glanton, made a trip to the legislature last Friday morning. Some of the pupils who went, enjoyed pointing to a certain news story in that day's evening paper and said, "We heard them discuss that."

While city employees and volunteer workers battled the rising flood waters around North high school, parents of band music students (Senior and junior high and some elementary schools) enjoyed a concert given by their offsprings. From our news source we learned there were dozens of Negro boys participating but only two Negro girls, Gail Bowman of Warren Harding junior high and Peggy Spates, of Irving Junior high.

As we listened to guest speaker at the installation banquet for the Local 44 of United Federation of Postal Clerks, we were impressed not only with his apparent knowledge of problems and achievement of the postal clerks but with his farsightedness on future facilities. For instance in his reference to electronics and impulses he raised the conjecture that perhaps 20 years from now we no longer will have

EQUAL PROTECTION OF THE LAW THE ISSUE

The Bystander has been a staunch supporter of law observance and the close adherence to the constitution of the United States. In fact, it has insisted that if the laws and the constitution were obeyed, there would be no need for any laws that are being put on the statute books to secure for any citizens his rights.

We have had the constitution for almost two hundred years and laws to implement it. We have had a provision in the constitution directing congress to cut representation in congress if a state denied its citizens a right to vote. And in spite of the denial of Negroes the right to vote in many states and the practice of counting them in determining the representation of those states in congress, no good faith effort has been made by any congress to enforce this provision of the constitution.

Speaking before the student body of Vanderbilt University last week Roy Wilkins said that the government had failed to provide equal protection of the law to the Negro, that the courts, while going a long way to correct evils that existed in our segregated system, yet were too slow for the modern Negro who wants his rights now rather than ten, twenty or fifty years from now.

This was the strain of the speech of the Rev. Isom, pastor of the Unitarian church in Des Moines before the Des Moines NAACP. He said this thinking was in the minds of those people in the south who heretofore had been passive, but now care little what happens to their physical being as long as their rights are being denied.

Too long, many of our so called friends have used the constitution to curtail the rights of the Negro rather than enhance them. And that includes the states righters who refuse to abide by what the constitution says and means.

Of course, like any other social change, some rough spots are bound to erupt here and there. The civil rights change is no different from any other. People must be fair to so judge it.

WE ARE SUSPICIOUS OF THIS

Last week, the Bystander reported a controversy between a Des Moines druggist and the board of social welfare. It grew out of a letter of instruction directing that he fill no prescriptions in the future from two doctors that are placed by phone. The letter applied to this drug store and these two doctors only.

The druggist brought suit alleging racial discrimination. The board claims that the instruction was given so that better records could be kept of the large number of prescriptions involved with these particular people.

Interestingly enough, the Sunday Register reported the amount spent for medical care for the indigent by Polk County during 1963 and 1964. This druggist received the greatest volume of any store; the doctors the largest sum for fees in the entire list.

The board pleads that no racial discrimination was involved in the instruction. But when that amount of funds received by the doctors and druggist are examined, it looks a bit like they are getting too big a chunk of the pie to suit these officials.

If no discrimination was involved then the board was badly advised and used poor judgment in issuing such instructions. The officials know that it is the practice of doctors to phone in prescriptions and later confirm them in writing. Why should these doctors and the druggist be singled out to practice their profession any different from that of other doctors and druggists. If their practice has not been carried on as it should be then say so and not resort to unfair tactics to cover up what they do not say in the open.

SHOW YOUR APPRECIATION

Pay Your Bystander Subscription When Due. It speaks louder than words.

We were so busy watching the floods that we let the outdoor sports season slip up on us. Baseball got away to a good start except that the Yankees lost their opener to the Minnesota Twins. Maybe they will be collared this year. But they are still the defending American league champions and they still have three of the most dangerous long ball hitters and the best catcher. So you're gonna have to beat them.

Over in the other league the Cardinals have an eight year mark going against them. It has been that long since the National league pennant winner repeated the following year. And as if that were not enough, the Dodgers, boasting probably the finest pitching trio in baseball, have begun acting as if they want to get some runs for those pitchers. If they do, look out! Should be a great season.

This could be one year when there will not be any Negroes playing high school tennis. East may turn up with someone. Maybe North will but we haven't heard of any yet. We had a good look at the Birdland play area last Sunday. Everything, pool, baseball and softball grounds, as well as the tennis courts was under water. Maybe they will dry out by June. Games on those fields are postponed because of wet grounds.

Boxing

They just won't let the heavy-weight title fight between Cassius Clay, the champ and Sonny Liston alone. Now it is being investigated for the 93rd time because of Liston's past record. Now we don't claim to be defending the former champion who has made his own record but we would like to see the guys who write about him be fair about the whole thing. The last big scrape involving a pistol and other violations went to court after a coast to coast story about the ex-champion. Well a jury acquitted the fellow and if you didn't search for the story you might miss it. The story was buried on an inside page in very small print in a lot of papers.

Then the guy has an argument with a policeman about parking his car and it comes out labeled 'police trouble.' One had to read a whole story to find out what happened. Why not get off Sonny's back? The guy is no angel. Doesn't claim to be one and why not measure him by his conduct now instead of in 1950?

Local

We had our record of never having seen the Valley relays intact after Saturday. Looks as if Jim Kentry of North and East High's Bob Grant will try to fill Clyde Duncan's shoes. Kirby is a sophomore who is sure to be heard from during the next two years. He acts like a veteran even now so you know he will be tough in a couple of years.

Billiards

The new champion at Wells billiard hall will be crowned by the time you read this. At this writing there were four players left. Wilbur Lewis who is regarded as an upstart. Bob Wince, Sonny Mitchell, who is as cheery as he is good, and Del Baldrige a former double champ.

Hayes' '63 Century Dash Mark Now An Official IAAF Record

London—Bob Hayes' 9.1 clocking in the 100-yard dash was ratified Thursday as the world record by the International Amateur Athletic Federation IAAF.

Hayes set the standard June 21, 1963, at St. Louis breaking the mark of 9.2 held by fellow American Frank Budd, and Canada's Harry Jerome.

An IAAF official explained that Hayes' 100-yard rating was relayed because of discussions on the composition of the track at St. Louis.

The IAAF said that Abebe Bikila's 2:12.11.2 for the marathon at the Tokyo Olympics was the "best performance" in an event where no world record is recognized.

Grambling Sprinters Enter Drake Relays

America's fastest sprint relay team has joined the Drake Relays field. Grambling College of Louisiana earned that "fastest" title a year ago when it twice tied the American record of 40 seconds flat in the 440-yard relay.

Coach Tom Williams' forces have no intention of relinquishing their No. 1 position. They top the nation with early season marks of :40.3 in the 440 and 1:23.5 in the 880 relay, both well below Drake records.

Three of last year's team return, including Olympic gold medal winner Richard Stebbins. He ran on the United States 440-meter relay team which established a world record of :39.1 at Tokyo.

80-Acre Farmer Markets 800 Pigs a Yr.

Washington, D. C.—One example of how small farmers can make a good living is being set by Dell Flowers, a Negro farmer of Jones, Mich., who grosses more than $11,000 a year raising feeder pigs and poultry on his 80-acre farm.

Mr. Flowers keeps from 45 to 60 broods sows that produce 800 to 900 pigs a year that are sold as feeder stock. And depending upon market conditions, he raises broilers, turkeys, or layer pullets in his 10,000-capacity poultry house.

Negro Prep Guest Of Kentucky's Rupp

Lexington, Ky.—Butch Beard, the first Negro to visit the Kentucky campus on an athletic recruiting trip, was a guest Wednesday of Kentucky basketball Coach Adolph Rupp.

He was given a tour of the campus and was introduced to university President Dr. John W. Oswald and Gov. Edward T. Breathitt, who was at spring football practice.

NAACP Fla. Officials Meet With Governor

Tallahassee—In a meeting which drew little publicity because of the smoothness of its operation, NAACP leaders from throughout the state held what may prove to be one of the most significant civil rights conferences with a governor of a southern state. The group met with Florida Governor Haydon Burns and members of his cabinet here in an hour-long session on March 30.

Rutledge Pearson, president of the NAACP Florida State Conference; Robert W. Saunders, NAACP Florida field director, and approximately 20 other NAACP Florida officials presented a list of grievances to the state officials and called on the gov-trolled by eliminating sugar from the diet."

"That pills are available which will cause weight loss without the necessity of reducing the food intake."

And so on ad lib. Dr. Steine declared that many patients come in the doctor's office to tell him, rather than ask him, what is wrong with them. Quoting an acutely ungrammatical observation by Mark Twain, he says, "It isn't a man's ignorance that matters so much; it's the number of things he knows that ain't so!"

Your Christmas Seal association suggests that getting yourself to a doctor's office, when trouble brews, is only one important half of the battle. Letting him do the talking is the other half.

HEALTH FOR ALL

IT WASN'T JUST GRANDMA

They're always good for a laugh—those old-time superstitions about the body's ills, by which Grandma and Aunt Sophronisa set so much store. But what we sometimes overlook is that the superstition didn't shut down with the bustle factories.

Today, in our own time and with our own contemporaries, quite a few health superstitions are in vogue—concerning some ailments of which Granny and Aunt were only vaguely aware. If you find this idea a little startling, just look at some of the bizarre notions listed by Dr. Lyon Steine, a Long Island physician, as not infrequently encountered in his patients:

Notions

"That overweight is the result of some gland trouble."

"That summer sunshine is good for the skin, and the more exposure the better."

"That fresh air is very dangerous to a person with a fever."

"That diabetes results from eating too much sugar, and can be con-

Late Vagrant

Oh, Lord, you were so tangible today,
I felt the healing imprint of your hands,
Your sandaled footsteps were not years away
But here beside me pacing the brown sands.

Tomorrow, Peter-like, I may forget
These moments of your comradeship and grace,
And, in my urgent waywardness, might let

Some dark and impious escort take your place.
Yet always I'll remember that you keep
Your door of understanding long ajar,

(While all your soul-safe household lies asleep),
For one late vagrant groping for a star.

—Mary McKenna

Laugh Lines

An usher noticed a commotion halfway down on the center aisle. Investigating, he found a man with a dog sitting in the seat beside him—causing unrest among the playgoers in nearby seats. He was about to eject the pair when he noticed that the dog was following the stage dialogue very closely.

So he stood back and watched until the curtain went down. Then, as man and pooch were leaving, he stopped them and said: "It was really amazing, the way your dog seemed to be enjoying the play."

"Yet, it was," the man admitted. "He didn't like the book at all."
